CITIZENSHIP

The files of the Massachusetts Division of Vital Statistics, Boston, Massachusetts, checked on December 18, 1957, reflect that RAYMOND PATRIARCA, as RAMONDO L. S. PATRIARCA, was born March 17, 1908, at Worcester, Massachusetts, the son of ELEUTERIO and VINCENZA (DE NUBILIA) PATRIARCA.

No information has been received or developed that PATRIARCA's status as a native born citizen of the United States has ever been changed.

POSSIBLE BASIS FOR FURTHER INQUIRY UNDER OATH

JHN:po'b

In connection with any exploratory investigations which may be undertaken by any Federal Grand Jury inquiring into the activities of RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, it is suggested that consideration be given to subpoenaing the following individuals for the reasons indicated:

JOSEPH ALIA, c/o Korner Spa, 115 Knight Street, Providence, Rhode Island. ALIA has known PATRIARCA for many years and has acknowledged this friendship. Providence, Rhode Island Police suspect that ALIA may serve from time to time in the capacity of "an errand boy" for PATRIARCA.

GENNARO ANGIULO, residence 240 Spring Street, Medford, Massachusetts. Business, Jay's Lounge, 255 Tremont Street, Boston, Massachusetts. GENNARO ANGIULO is one of five brothers from the North End Italian section of Boston who have amassed considerable wealth in gambling operations and usurious money lending. ANGIULO is friendly with PATRIARCA and is probably cognizant of many of PATRIARCA's undisclosed financial operations.

concerning PATRIARCA's private activities and may be in position to testify to PATRIARCA's operations.

SALVATORE CUFARI, 187 Chapin Street, Springfield, Massachusetts. CUFARI is the Number One gambling boss at Springfield, Massachusetts; is in frequent telephone contact with PATRIARCA and it is possible that PATRIARCA has some kind of revenue from CUFARI's gambling operations.

HELEN DE SANTIS, 31 Blandings Avenue, Warwick, Rhode Island. This woman is apparently a paramour of DAVID FRANK "DANNA" RICCI who is another part time chauffeur of RAYMOND PATRIARCA's. HELEN DE SANTIS accompanied Mrs. PATRIARCA on a winter vacation to Tucson, Arizona in February-March, 1961. Mrs. DE SANTIS claims to have no information concerning the PATRIARCA family. It is suggested that her position in relationship to Mrs. PATRIARCA and "DANNA" RICCI may put her in a position to provide assistance.

JHN:po'b

FRANK FERRARA, Prisoner, United States Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas. FERRARA has known RAYMOND PATRIARCA for many years. Prior to his latest incarceration, FERRARA was the boss of the race wire service around Boston. Although FERRARA denied it, it could be a possibility that PATRIARCA has some degree of control of race wire service and may derive revenue therefrom.

ATTORNEY SAUL FRIEDMAN, 816 Industrial Trust Building, Providence, Rhode Island. This individual has represented PATRIARCA on a number of legal-business matters. The suggestion has been offered that FRIEDMAN may be a "front" for PATRIARCA. He should be questioned generally about PATRIARCA's financial interests and, specifically, about PATRIARCA's position in the Millbridge Mining Company, Beddington, Maine (contained in this report).

JOSEPH MODICA, Clerk, American Finance Co.,
43 Hanover Street, Boston, Massachusetts.
JOSEPH is the father of VINCENT MODICA who is the nominal President of the corporation.
JOSEPH resides at 8 Summitt Street, Chelsea, Massachusetts. He should be in a position to make accurate disclosures concerning any interest which PATRIARCA may have in the American Finance Co.

FRANK "BUTSY" MORELLI, 217 Medway Street,
Providence, Rhode Island. At one time MORELLI was the big boss in Rhode Island, but he fell from his position and was succeeded by PATRIARCA.
MORELLI has taken to drinking and is in ill health. He should be well equipped with information about the history of PATRIARCA's progress in the Rhode Island underworld and may know something about PATRIARCA's business holdings.

JOHN F. NAZARIAN, 121 Spruce Street, Providence, Rhode Island. NAZARIAN has for many years had the reputation of being a kind of "enforcer" and "tough guy". In the past there was a suggestion that if PATRIARCA needed to get people in line to comply with his wishes, or to purchase his cigarette service, the threat of NAZARIAN in the background would be sufficient to influence people to take the prescribed course of action.
NAZARIAN may be in a good position to tell more about PATRIARCA.

JOSEPH FRANCIS PATRIARCA, 169 Sandringham, Providence, Rhode Island. He is a brother of RAYMOND's and has been very closely associated with him personally and in business for many years. JOSEPH PATRIARCA is in an ideal position to make disclosures concerning RAYMOND's confidential affairs.

JHN:po'b

DAVID FRANK RICCI, also known as "DANNA" RICCI, 76 Seneca Avenue, Pawtucket, Rhode Island. RICCI is an old time Providence hoodlum and gambler and probably a confidante of PATRIARCA. RICCI drives him sometimes from his residence to Coin-O-Matic. He disclaims any pertinent information. Under oath, RICCI may be persuaded to make available such information as he possesses concerning PATRIARCA.

Commander WALTER E. STONE, Providence, Rhode Island Police Department. Cmdr. STONE has been in close contact with criminal activities and gambling operations in Rhode Island for many years, both while in the Providence Police Department and as Colonel of the State Police. He should be able to pinpoint PATRIARCA's early beginnings and rise to a position of power. STONE is of the belief that PATRIARCA, et al, contributed funds to the NOTTE Campaign with the understanding that STONE would be relieved of his superintendency which, in fact, transpired.

LOUIS TAGLIANETTI, 48 Montgomery Street, Warwick, Rhode Island. This person has been a long-time associate of PATRIARCA and is presently employed by CARROZZA and PATRIARCA in the Coin-O-Matic premises as a salesman. TAGLIANETTI is in one of the best possible positions to make disclosures under oath concerning his knowledge of PATRIARCA.

HENRY TAMELEO, 48 Betsy Williams Drive, Providence, Rhode Island. TAMELEO is reputed to be very close to PATRIARCA, although there are recent indications that PATRIARCA has rebuked TAMELEO for his personal misconduct. TAMELEO is a gambler and could be helpful in any investigation on PATRIARCA, if he saw fit.

JOHN HARRY WILLIAMS, 162 Shore Drive, Winthrop, Massachusetts, or in care of Bostonian Hotel, Boston, Massachusetts. WILLIAMS and PATRIARCA were contemporaries in Massachusetts State Prison in the 1940 era. They have been close friends for years. WILLIAMS has been suspected of being "PATRIARCA's Lieutenant" in the gambling field in Boston. WILLIAMS is a very determined, taciturn person of Italian extraction and would not co-operate in any investigation. He may be persuaded under oath to make truthful disclosures.

ELORIO ZANNINO, also known as "LARRY" BAIONA, Prisoner, Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Walpole, Massachusetts. ZANNINO is a North End of Boston hoodlum and for a time following the death of ANTHONY SANTANIELLO, ZANNINO bragged that he was SANTANIELLO's successor, as PATRIARCA's representative in Boston. Informed sources felt that this would be untrue because PATRIARCA would not place much faith in an unstable individual like ZANNINO. Nevertheless, it is believed ZANNINO may be in a position to make disclosures if he so desired.

TESTIMONY OF PATRIARCA BEFORE SENATE COMMITTEE, FEBRUARY, 1959

Published transcript of PATRIARCA's testimony on February 10, 1959, before the United States Senate Rackets Committee disclosed that PATRIARCA related in connection with activities of his earlier years, that following graduation from school and in the early 1920's he worked as a bellboy at the Biltmore Hotel in Providence, Rhode Island and that thereafter, until the early 1930's he worked off and on selling merchandise from a car. Passing over the period from the early 1930's to 1944, PATRIARCA related that beginning in 1944 he went to work as a counterman in LOUIE's Restaurant on Atwells Avenue in Providence, for about a year and a half. He stated that from 1945 to 1950 he was engaged in playing the horses, in Providence, making $3,000 to $4,000 a year. He related that in 1950 he went into the Sherwood Manufacturing Company with VINCENT MELI, an acquaintance of many years. He identified this company as a manufacturer of sport jackets. He stated that he put $12,000 into this business at that time, which was part of $80,000 or $90,000 given to him by his mother before she died in 1944 and which he claims was kept in a box in the basement of his mother's home. He related that he had invested this money, a great portion of it, in a trust fund for his son. He claimed that the Internal Revenue Department took a greater part of this money during an investigation, but about three years ago, returned $60,000 to him. He further stated that he had used some of this money to buy real estate for investment purposes, during 1947 and 1948.

In answer to questions as to how much money he made playing the track after 1945, PATRIARCA furnished varying figures ranging from $6,000 to $12,000 a year. Questioned concerning the activities of his brother in the coin machine business, and an alleged payoff of $2,000 received by him to get out of the business, PATRIARCA at first disclaimed any knowledge of his brother's activities but subsequently admitted that his brother had been in the coin machine business, but had gotten out at the behest of his wife. He denied knowledge of any $2,000 payoff.

PATRIARCA said that since the latter part of 1956 or early 1957, he had been engaged with [redacted] Providence, [redacted] the National Cigarette Service, which presently has approximately 200 locations in Rhode Island. He stated that he [redacted] $9,000 into the business to start with.

PATRIARCA denied having any connection, directly or indirectly, with Coin-O-Matic Distributors, [redacted] by [redacted] and his family. PATRIARCA admitted to having an unspecified amount of money in a safe deposit box at an unspecified location, in the name of his wife.

In answer to further questions from the members of the Subcommittee, PATRIARCA admitted he had known FRANK IACONE for a long time, previous to his death. He denied having been in business with him or having had any financial relations with him. He denied having run any gambling establishments in Worcester, Massachusetts or having any other interests there. He denied knowing FRANK COSTELLO, or ever having met him. He furnished the same answer to questions concerning [redacted]. He admitted knowing [redacted] through the White City Park, in Worcester, Massachusetts, but denied having had any business dealings with him. He denied knowing ALBERT ANASTASIA. He admitted having known FRANK "BUSTY" MORELLI for forty or forty-five years, stating that he came from the same neighborhood. He denied any financial dealings with MORELLI. He admitted knowing JOHN NAZARIAN for four or five years, but denied that NAZARIAN was working for him or that he knew of any interests or contacts NAZARIAN had in Brooklyn, New York. He denied that NAZARIAN ever went around putting pressure on proprietors, to use his machines.

Questioned concerning the pardon, received in Massachusetts, by him, in 1938, on the application of [redacted] PATRIARCA denied knowing anything about the resulting investigation and impeachment, of [redacted] or any other circumstances surrounding the investigation relative to the pardon.

PATRIARCA admitted knowing FRANK CUCCHIARA, of Boston, Massachusetts, but denied any knowledge of CUCCHIARA's attendance at the Apalachin meeting. He further denied that he has been in touch with CUCCHIARA or had any business dealings with him.

PATRIARCA admitted having acquaintance with JACK WHITE, of the Operating Engineers, for thirty or forty years. He denied ever having had anything to do with organizers hired by Mr. WHITE or ever having had financial connections with him, or suggesting that anyone be taken into the union.

Re BS teletype, 8/1/61, and NH teletype, 8/2/61.

On 8/1/61, [redacted] was contacted at [redacted] Conn., by SA [redacted] at [redacted] request, and prior to receipt of BS retel. He said that he is able to give information as to the complete setup of subject's betting and gambling operations, including the location of the office, people who work there, how to get in, bookmaking and service connections with Florida and California tracks, as well as edge-off operation to Cleveland, Ohio and St. Louis, Missouri. He said that generally the office moves from place to place, but that he could obtain the exact street address within two days of his release from the FCI. [redacted] also said that he can identify a doctor in Rhode Island as a narcotics peddler, selling medicinal drugs illegally. He said he would give this information to the FBI provided the government secures his early freedom from the FCI. It was again explained to him that no promises, deals, or arrangements could be made with him, but that this particular request would be forwarded to Washington for consideration. [redacted] said he was interviewed for parole on 6/6/61 and he feels that his chances for making parole are not too good. He said he has not received actual word as to whether he will or will not be paroled.

[redacted] insisted that if his identity becomes known his life will be in great peril, and that he feels RAYMOND PATRIARCA and JOSEPH PATRIARCA will not hesitate to kill him "within hours" after his release, if they suspect that he has furnished information to the FBI on their activities.

On 8/2/61, upon receipt of reBStel, arrangements were made to re-interview [redacted]. In this connection his parole officer was contacted to ascertain the parole possibility of [redacted]. On 8/2/61, [redacted] Parole Office, FCI, [redacted] advised that he had that morning received word from the U. S. Board of Parole that [redacted] would be granted parole as of [redacted] which means that his term will be shortened by about six months, more or less. [redacted] said that it was his primary responsibility to advise [redacted] that the parole had been ordered and he expected to do so. b6 b7C b7D

On 8/2/61, [redacted] was again contacted by SA [redacted] at which time he said that he has now been told that he will be paroled [redacted] and that this has a bearing on the amount and type of information he is willing to give. [redacted] was questioned at some length concerning the data contained in reBStel. He stated that the bank he referred to is indeed the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Providence. He also said that this banking situation developed from social get togethers at the Hob Nob Restaurant, Providence. He verified that JOSEPH DI CARLO, of Providence, [redacted] in fact obtained a $20,000 loan from this branch bank, but he insisted that the $20,000 was not for the club, but for some other purpose that he declined to discuss. He also said that he knows JOSEPH PATRIARCA works for the Rossi Auto Body Shop and that ROSSI Auto Body had obtained a $50,000 loan from this branch bank. He said further that the [redacted] that he had previously described is in fact [redacted] of the Johnston Branch, Plantations Bank. He commented further that JOSEPH PATRIARCA owns the Hob Nob Restaurant but not in his own name. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] said that he was very friendly with [redacted]. He first met him socially in a legitimate manner, not connected with banking matters. [redacted] lives [redacted] near Providence and is single. [redacted] who [redacted] considers a "sharp operator", likes a good time and is interested in having girl friends. He said that JOSEPH PATRIARCA did not line up girls for [redacted] but rather PATRIARCA became friendly with [redacted] socially through meeting him at the Hob Nob originally. This friendship developed to the point where [redacted] and JOSEPH PATRIARCA would go out evenings together with girls, but not procured by b6 b7C b7D

PATRIARCA as straight out and out prostitutes. [redacted] declined to state who lined up the girls for [redacted] but said it was definitely not JOSEPH PATRIARCA. He was asked directly whether he, [redacted] obtained the girls for [redacted] and he would say nothing further than "I'm not a pimp", and shrugged the matter off in a laughing fashion. [redacted] may have had some involvement in obtaining girls for [redacted] however, he would not admit to this, nor would he discuss it at any greater length. b6 b7C b7D

At this point, he was told that there were facts that must be developed regarding the $20,000 loan by DI CARLO and the procuring of girls for [redacted] and he was asked point blank questions on these matters. He declined further information, remarking that he knows "the whole story", from beginning to end. b6 b7C

In regard to the banking scheme he previously described, [redacted] said that he can explain this whole matter entirely. He said that based on his knowledge JOSEPH PATRIARCA was the principal person making the arrangements for these loans from the branch bank and it was JOSEPH PATRIARCA who received the percentage of the loan, or kickback when loan made. He said that in each instance where such a loan was made JOSEPH PATRIARCA gave the OK, but that he feels that there must have been other loans made which were OK'd by RAYMOND PATRIARCA and presumably from which RAYMOND PATRIARCA obtained a percentage. He said that to the best of his knowledge [redacted] did not receive a percentage of the proceeds of the loan from the bank, at least in the instance where [redacted] made such a loan no payment was made to [redacted] in spite of the fact that [redacted] and [redacted] were very friendly at that time. The borrower in each loan would agree to pay the fact amount of the loan, for which he would sign his name on the note or other instrument. Then when the loan would become delinquent, [redacted] would contact JOSEPH or RAYMOND PATRIARCA, whoever made the OK, and ask that the borrower be made to pay up the loan. After several such calls on any one loan [redacted] would discontinue the efforts to collect the loan, and it was presumed that the loan would be cancelled off the bank's books. JOSEPH PATRIARCA, in [redacted] presence, was heard to receive several of these calls, and he would always answer "I'll take care of it", but he never seemed to do that, according to [redacted] The loan would then slide, and no more efforts would be made by [redacted] to collect. b6 b7C b7D

[] said that based on his knowledge of [] probably the first of these loans made with the OK of one of the PATRIARCA brothers or one of their "clique", was made in good faith by [] but after many of the same type of loans occurred and collections were absent, then [] became implicated to such an extent that he could do nothing but follow the instructions of the PATRIARCAS. At one point in the interview [] said that [] would do anything that one of the PATRIARCAS told him to do and that he acted as though RAYMOND PATRIARCA was a god. Other remarks in the interview indicated that [] apparently idolizes the PATRIARCAS in view of their great wealth and influence, as well as ability to obtain girls and the like. Nevertheless, according to [] there must have been an understanding at some point in the relationship between [] and the PATRIARCAS as to the manner in which loans would be made. He said that he had never paid a kickback to [] and had never heard of a kickback being paid to him.

b7D

He said that RAYMOND PATRIARCA has complete knowledge of this loan scheme and is involved in the scheme in this respect. He said that he has no firsthand personal knowledge that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had OK'd any loan, but on one occasion when [] was present with both RAYMOND and JOSEPH PATRIARCA, a matter involving a loan came up. RAYMOND PATRIARCA said to JOSEPH PATRIARCA, "that's your department," and it is this remark which [] took to mean that JOSEPH PATRIARCA is the principal person involved with this loan scheme. RAYMOND PATRIARCA knows [] well, but basically through JOSEPH PATRIARCA and RAYMOND goes to the Hob Nob Restaurant very infrequently.

b7D

[] said that there is much more to the story than what had been discussed as above. Part of the story involves RAYMOND PATRIARCA directly as a conspirator, including a case in which a borrower, whose name he would not give, refused to give a kickback after obtaining a loan. This borrower appeared at the place of business of the PATRIARCAS when []

b6
b7D

[] RAYMOND and JOSEPH PATRIARCA. RAYMOND PATRIARCA made a phone call to an unknown person, who verified that the borrower owed that man $1,000 and the unknown man then requested that PATRIARCA "lay off" the borrower by not demanding the kickback. There is also information, according to [redacted] pertaining to JOSEPH DI CARLO obtaining money from the Johnston Branch of Plantations Bank under false pretenses but he would give no further details. He insisted that all of this information is only a small part of the whole deal. He said he would give the names of at least two other people who had obtained loans and who are "weak enough" to give the full details up to the point of testimony.

He said that he would make the whole story known to the FBI only under the following conditions:

- (1) That efforts be made to reduce his sentence time, through legitimate channels keeping in mind that he now stands to be paroled on [redacted], in the regular course of business.
- (2) That he be removed to another institution to serve what remaining time there might be. In this regard he said that there are presently in the [redacted] about 40 persons who know the PATRIARCAS and a few persons who in fact know [redacted]. It is common knowledge at the [redacted] that the FBI has been contacting him, and he has been explaining this by stating that the FBI wants to know [redacted] and that the FBI wants him to sign a statement in this connection, but that thus far he has not furnished any pertinent information to the FBI. He said further that at least two persons who know PATRIARCA have been released in the normal course of business and no doubt have told JOSEPH PATRIARCA that the FBI has been talking to [redacted]. He said that he received one visitor about ten days ago, who delivered a message from JOSEPH PATRIARCA stating that [redacted] should "forget all about that banking deal", which indicated to him that JOSEPH PATRIARCA would be extremely sensitive to information indicating that [redacted] might have informed the FBI in this matter. [redacted] said that if JOSEPH PATRIARCA thinks he told the FBI about this deal, he would not hesitate to kill him and that protection of his identity means protection of his life.
- (3) Under no circumstances should his identity or the elements of the information furnished be made known to anyone outside the FBI, including withholding this data from United States

Attorney [] at Providence. [] said revelation of his identity outside the FBI in any respect would amount to exposure and this would mean he would probably be done away with. He said he had no specific allegation that the U. S. Attorney [] had any connection with PATRIARCA, and he is making no inference that such a situation exists. He said that he knows the PATRIARCAS have sources in many many places and that [] does not know all the sources who would report information to the PATRIARCAS; therefore, he insists that absolutely no one outside the FBI should have the knowledge of what he has told the FBI or his identity.

[] was then asked about the information furnished on the previous day, August 1, 1961, concerning the bookmaking operations of RAYMOND PATRIARCA. After a discussion of this matter, [] said he would provide information on the cases listed below for [] collect on delivery. He said this is a change from what he had previously considered in mentioning this to interviewing agent, August 1, 1961, and that he will make this offer up to and including three months after his release from the FCI. The same conditions concerning protection of his identity apply and the cases he says he can supply are as follows:

(1) Location of the office of RAYMOND PATRIARCA used for betting and gambling operations; the names of the people who work for PATRIARCA in that office; the method of getting into the office; the bookmaking and gambling operation generally including method of contacts, outside personnel, name of phone company employee who covers up for PATRIARCA, and so on. He said that although he can not provide the specific street address, he knows he can get the information within two days after his release, as the office moves from place to place to avoid detection. He said that investigation of this office will provide information on PATRIARCA's contacts in Florida and California with the race tracks and gambling personnel there, the identities of edge-off men in Cleveland, Ohio, and St. Louis, Missouri, with whom PATRIARCA places edge-off bets. He said that calls are made to Cleveland and St. Louis every two or three days for this purpose. Also, can name the betting operator in Maine responsible to PATRIARCA and describe his activities; further, PATRIARCA's activities at the Wonderland Dog Track, Revere, Massachusetts, and the betting operations there.

(2) He can furnish the name of a man in Providence who has possession of many thousands of dollars worth of stolen travelers checks, which were stolen in New Jersey quite some time ago.

(3) He said he can "break" a case involving the theft of travelers checks in Providence, Rhode Island; no further identifying information given.

(It is noted that [redacted] had previous reference to cases 2 and 3 above, as in previous NH airtels)

(4) He said he can furnish the name of [redacted] who is peddling narcotics, which are medicinal drugs obtained as [redacted] sold to narcotics users in Rhode Island.

(5) He can furnish [redacted] which he described as a case involving [redacted] of government property, including tractors, bulldozers, and heavy equipment. He said [redacted] but that there is a [redacted] who now [redacted] in Rhode Island.

He said that if it is decided that the government [redacted] arrangements can be worked out to provide this information at the time the payment is made, but that the offer he is making is not effective after three months following [redacted]

He said that even then, he may find after release that it might become impossible to give this information safely. He was [redacted]

August 9, 1961

Director, FBI

RAYMOND L. B. PATRIARCA

I am forwarding to Assistant Attorney General [redacted] a report containing a summary of information as to the background, associates, financial affairs and activities of Patriarca. Patriarca is reportedly the dominant figure in gambling operations in the entire New England area.

This report contains information developed during the "crash" investigation being conducted on Patriarca who has been selected as a special target for early prosecution. Investigation indicates that Patriarca allegedly controls all gambling operations in New England and whenever there is a dispute among any members of this element, he handles the arbitration of it.

John Candelero, North Scituate, Rhode Island, who has been credited with the murder of several of Patriarca's enemies is alleged to have called a meeting of gamblers in 1946. This meeting was allegedly held in Rhode Island and each of these individuals was notified that Patriarca would get from that time on a percentage of their gross income from gambling operations. This payment was to be for protection which Patriarca would furnish them. This protection included territorial assignments and absolute arbitration of all disputes.

In 1950 during an interview with Patriarca, he advised that Rhode Island, Massachusetts and the other New England states were highly organized as to gambling operations. He denied that he held any position of power or prominence in Rhode Island. He said that he and sixteen other individuals, whom he named, all received an equal share of the profits made from gambling. He said the profits did not come directly from individuals or gambling establishments but were received through the "syndicate." He did not elaborate or explain the term syndicate. He further advised he had between twenty-three and twenty-seven "bookie joints" that were his own. He said that each of the sixteen individuals named by him had his own group of bookie establishments and or other gambling operations.

Patriarca during an interview in 1961 advised he had divorced himself from all gambling operations and occupied himself completely with the ownership and operation of the National Cigarette Service Company in Providence, Rhode Island. This company is a cigarette vending machine business and is owned by Patriarca and one [redacted]. He said that since his heart attack in March, 1960, he has spent the majority of his time at this place of business and at his home. b6 b7c Patriarca's current investments consist of ownership of fifty per cent of the stock in the Sherwood Manufacturing Company, Providence, Rhode Island, and a $10,000 investment in the Stadium Trading Corporation at Woonsocket, Rhode Island. He also owns the Ace Dumping Company at Providence, Rhode Island. Patriarca's net worth is estimated to be $301,037.

ATTORNEY

NEW YORK, NEW YORK

RAYMOND L. S. PATRICK

Memorandum dated July 6, 1961, from Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Agent [redacted] to the Chief, Intelligence Division, Providence District, captioned "Stadium Trading Corporation, Woonsocket, Rhode Island" contains information to the effect that one [redacted] of Providence, Rhode Island, admitted on February 11, 1959, that [redacted] invested $50,000 each for himself and [redacted] in the Dunes Club, Las Vegas, Nevada. The IRS memorandum contained information that [redacted] stated in November, 1955, he contacted his attorney, [redacted] and through him arranged for a $20,000 loan from one [redacted] who was characterized in the memorandum as a noted [redacted]. The memorandum also mentions the name of [redacted] of Miami and mentioned that he had the [redacted] investment in the Dunes Club at Las Vegas. [redacted] was further characterized as a close acquaintance of [redacted].

With reference to [redacted] the files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation contain no information that [redacted] has represented hoodlum figures in financial transactions other than that [redacted] was associated with [redacted] and [redacted] in 1957 in negotiations to lease the casino at the Havana Hilton Hotel in Havana, Cuba.

With reference to [redacted] information was received in April, 1959, that [redacted] was residing at [redacted] and that he was the operator of the [redacted]. [redacted] was reported to be a Canadian, the owner of considerable real estate and closely associated with the gambling element. Allegedly at one time, [redacted] supplied a headquarters for American bookmakers. He was also said to have been the owner of a stable of horses which he raced in New Jersey and Florida in 1955. ORIGINAL FILE IN

The "Chicago Sun Times" of April 20, 1959, contained an article stating that IRS Agents had arrested eight men in a wire room at 6895 North Mannheim, Des Plaines, Illinois, and had charged them with operating a gambling place without the required $50 Federal gambling tax stamp. The article quoted the IRS Agent as stating that the gambling room was part of a nation-wide betting syndicate. Among the eight persons arrested was listed the name of [redacted]

The "Chicago Sun Times" of 5/18/59 reported that a Federal indictment against six of the eight persons previously arrested had been returned. The article named two who were not indicted and neither of these was [redacted] (62-75147-9-147)

Concerning [redacted] of Miami, the files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation contained no identifiable information.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

NOTE :

[redacted] memorandum of 7/13/61 requested information in Bureau files concerning [redacted] and [redacted] Information in this letterhead memorandum contains all pertinent information not previously furnished to the Department.

[redacted] is the subject of an Ascertain Financial Ability investigation. The investigation is predicated on the fact that [redacted] owes the U. S. Government $10,324.33 due to consent judgment dated 6/12/58 in U.S. District Court, Southern District of New York, as a result of an estate tax deficiency. The U.S. Attorney's Office, Southern District of New York, requested investigation to determine the financial ability of [redacted] so that a determination may be made to accept or reject a compromise offer. At the same time this memorandum is furnished to the Department, there will also be delivered a thermofax copy of report of SA [redacted] dated 6/6/59 at New York, New York, in the Ascertain Financial Ability case. Our analysis of the available intelligence information concerning Patriarca indicates that he has considerable influence among the racketeering element in Massachusetts. Although his contacts there have been limited in the past few years, it appears that [redacted] and Frank Cuccchiara are among the few Massachusetts racketeers who have ready access to Patriarca. Because of this situation we have requested the Internal Revenue Service to intensify the investigations of these two individuals. It is also requested that your Bureau, at least on a temporary basis, treat the [redacted] and Cuccchiara investigations as part of the main effort against Patriarca.

Enclosed is a letter to the Attorney General advising him of the submission of a prosecutive-type summary report setting forth comprehensive information concerning Patriarca. Patriarca is reputedly the dominant figure in gambling operations in the entire New England area.

This report contains information developed during the "crash" investigation being conducted on Patriarca who has been selected as a special target for early prosecution. Investigation indicates that Patriarca allegedly controls all gambling operations in New England and whenever there is a dispute among any members of this element, he handles the arbitration of it.

John Candelmo, North Scituate, Rhode Island, who has been credited with the murder of several of Patriarca's enemies is alleged to have called a meeting of gamblers in 1946. This meeting was allegedly held in Rhode Island and each of these individuals was notified that Patriarca would get from that time on a percentage of their gross income from gambling operations. This payment was to be for protection which Patriarca would furnish them. This protection included territorial assignments and absolute arbitration of all disputes.

In 1950 during an interview with Patriarca, he advised that Rhode Island, Massachusetts and the other New England states were highly organized as to gambling operations. He denied that he held any position of power or prominence in Rhode Island. He said that he and sixteen other individuals who he named, all received an equal share of the profits made from gambling. He said the profits did not come directly from individuals or gambling establishments but were received through the "syndicate." He did not elaborate or explain the term syndicate. He further advised he had between twenty-three and twenty-seven "bookie joints" that were his own. He said that each of the sixteen individuals named by him had their own group of booking establishments and or other gambling operations.

[redacted] a Providence bank. He said that this loan is not in his name and he declined to furnish information as to the name of the individual on this loan. He said that he had been in touch with JOSEPH PATRIARCA in this regard and the arrangements were that this third person would go to a bank in Providence, name not given, and obtain the loan, and then [redacted] upon receiving the proceeds of the loan, would pay half of these proceeds to JOSEPH PATRIARCA in exchange for which the loan would go through without any difficulty.

[redacted] said that he knew that this type of arrangement was available through either JOSEPH or RAYMOND PATRIARCA and he declined to identify the individuals who had told him such a method of obtaining a loan was possible. [redacted] said that in his opinion, RAYMOND and JOSEPH PATRIARCA obtained a considerable amount of money from this type of operation; that is, in collusion with a bank official, they arrange for a loan and the person who secures the loan is requested to pay approximately half of the loan to either RAYMOND or JOSEPH PATRIARCA, whichever one made the arrangements for the loan.

[redacted] said he declines specifically to identify the bank or the name of the bank official but he said that the bank is located in Providence. He said that he knows of two other individuals at least who have secured loans in this fashion by paying one of the PATRIARCA brothers half of the proceeds of the loan. [redacted] was questioned at considerable length concerning this matter in order to obtain specific details, however, he declined to further consider whether or not he should make available more information. He asked that the interviewing agent recontact him in two or three days for this purpose.

By teletype dated 8/2/61, the New Haven Office advised that [redacted] had been interviewed at the [redacted] on 8/1, 2/61 and had verified the name of the bank and identity of the bank and generally the banking scheme as described above. However, some points were not identical with the above information. At that time [redacted] stated he has considerable other information regarding operations of subject, which he is willing to provide under certain circumstances.

b6

By airtel dated 8/3/61, the New Haven Office advised as follows:

On 8/1/61, [redacted] was contacted at the [redacted] by SA [redacted] at [redacted] request, and prior to receipt of Reboitel of 8/1/61. He said that he is able to give information as to the complete setup of subject's betting and gambling operations, including the location of the office, people who work there, how to get in, bookmaking and service connections with Florida and California tracks, as well as edge-off operation to Cleveland, Ohio and St. Louis, Missouri. He said that generally the office moves from place to place, but that he could obtain the exact street address within two days of his release from the FCI. [redacted] also said that he can identify [redacted] in Rhode Island as a narcotics peddler, selling medicinal drugs illegally. He said he would give this information to the FBI provided [redacted] from the FCI. It was again explained to him that no promises or deals, or arrangements could be made with him, but that this particular request would be forwarded to Washington for consideration. [redacted] said he was interviewed for parole on 6/6/61 and he feels that his chances for making parole are not too good. He said he has not received actual word as to whether he will or will not be paroled.

b7D

[redacted] insisted that if his identity becomes known his life will be in great peril, and that he feels RAYMOND PATRIARCA and JOSEPH PATRIARCA will not hesitate to kill him "within hours" after his release, if they suspect that he has furnished information to the FBI on their activities.

On 8/2/61, upon receipt of rebostel, arrangements were made to reinterview [redacted] In this connection his parole officer was contacted to ascertain the parole possibility of [redacted] On 8/2/61 [redacted] Parole Office, [redacted] advised that he had that morning received word from the U. S. Board of Parole that [redacted] would be granted parole as of [redacted] which means that his term will be shortened by about six months, more or less. [redacted] said that it was his primary responsibility to advise [redacted] that the parole had been ordered and he expected to do so.

b7D

On 8/2/61, [redacted] was again contacted by SA [redacted] at which time he said that he has now been told that he will be paroled on [redacted] and that this has a bearing on the amount and type of information he was willing to give. [redacted] was questioned at some length concerning the data contained in rebostel (bostel 8/1/61). He stated that the bank he referred to is indeed the Johnston, R. I. branch of the Plantations Bank of Providence. He also said that this banking situation developed from social get-togethers at the Hob Nob Restaurant, Providence. He verified that JOSEPH DI CARLO of Providence, with [redacted] Club Baghdad, in fact obtained a [redacted] loan from this branch, bank, but he insisted that the [redacted] was not for the club, but for some other purpose that he declined to discuss. He also said that he knows JOSEPH PATRIARCA works for the Rossi Auto Body Shop and that ROSSI Auto Body had obtained a $50,000 loan from this branch bank. He said, further, that the [redacted] that he had previously described is in fact [redacted] the Johnston, R. I. branch, Plantations Bank. He commented further that JOSEPH PATRIARCA owns the Hob Nob Restaurant but not in his own name.

ADMINISTRATIVE (Continued)

[redacted] said that he was very friendly with [redacted]. He first met him socially in a legitimate manner, not connected with banking matters. [redacted] lives in [redacted] Providence and is single. [redacted] who [redacted] considers a "sharp operator," likes a good time and is interested in having girl friends. He said that JOSEPH PATRIARCA did not line up girls for [redacted] but rather PATRIARCA became friendly with [redacted] socially through meeting him at the Hob Nob originally. This friendship developed to the point where [redacted] and JOSEPH PATRIARCA would go out evenings together with girls, but not procured by PATRIARCA as straight out and out prostitutes. [redacted] declined to state who lined up the girls for [redacted] but said it was definitely not JOSEPH PATRIARCA. He was asked directly whether he, [redacted] obtained the girls for [redacted] and he would say nothing further than "I'm not a pimp," and shrugged the matter off in a laughing fashion. [redacted] may have had some involvement in obtaining girls for [redacted] however, he would not admit to this, nor would he discuss it at any greater length.

b7D

At this point, he was told that there were facts that must be developed regarding the $20,000 loan by DI CARLO and the procuring of girls for [redacted] and he was asked point blank questions on these matters. He declined further information remarking that he knows "the whole story," from beginning to end.

b6

In regard to the banking scheme he previously described, [redacted] said that he can explain this whole matter entirely. He said that based on his knowledge JOSEPH PATRIARCA was the principal person making the arrangements for these loans from the branch bank and it was JOSEPH PATRIARCA who received the percentage of the loan, or kickback when loan made. He said that in each instance where such a loan was made JOSEPH PATRIARCA gave the OK, but that he feels that there must have been other loans made which were okayed by RAYMOND PATRIARCA and presumably from which RAYMOND PATRIARCA obtained a percentage. He said that to the best of his knowledge

[] did not receive a percentage of the proceeds of the loan from the bank, at least in the instance where [] made such a loan no payment was made to [] in spite of the fact that [] and [] were very friendly at that time. The borrower in each loan would agree to pay the face amount of the loan, for which he would sign his name on the note or other instrument. Then when the loan would become delinquent [] would contact JOSEPH or RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

[] JOSEPH PATRIARCA, in [] presence, was heard to receive several of these calls, and he would always answer, "I'll take care of it." but he never seemed to do that, according to [] The loan would then slide, and no more efforts would be made by [] to collect.

[] said that based on his knowledge of [] probably the first of these loans made with the OK of one of the PATRIARCA brothers, or one of their "clique," was made in good faith by [] but after many of the same type of loans occurred and collections were absent, then [] became implicated to such an extent that he could do nothing but follow the instructions of the PATRIARCAS. At one point in the interview [] said that [] would do anything that one of the PATRIARCAS told him to do and that he acted as though RAYMOND PATRIARCA was a god. Other remarks in the interview indicated that [] apparently idolizes the PATRIARCAS in view of their great wealth and influence, as well as ability to obtain girls and the like. Nevertheless, according to [] there must have been an understanding at some point in the relationship between [] and the PATRIARCAS as to the manner in which loans would be made. He said that he had never paid a kickback to [] and had never heard of a kickback being paid to him.

ADMINISTRATIVE (Continued)

He said that RAYMOND PATRIARCA has complete knowledge of this loan scheme and is involved in the scheme in this respect. He said that he has no first hand personal knowledge that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had okayed any loan, but on one occasion when [redacted] both RAYMOND and JOSEPH PATRIARCA, a matter involving a loan came up. RAYMOND PATRIARCA said to JOSEPH PATRIARCA, "that's your department," and it is this remark which [redacted] took to mean that JOSEPH PATRIARCA is the principal person involved with this loan scheme. RAYMOND PATRIARCA knows [redacted] well, but basically through JOSEPH PATRIARCA, and RAYMOND goes to the Hob Nob Restaurant very infrequently.

b7D

[redacted] said that there is much more to the story, than what had been discussed as above. Part of the story involves RAYMOND PATRIARCA directly as a conspirator, including a case in which a borrower, whose name he would not give, refused to give a kickback after obtaining a loan. This borrower appeared at the place of business of the PATRIARCAS when [redacted]

[redacted] RAYMOND and JOSEPH PATRIARCA. RAYMOND PATRIARCA made a phone call to an unknown person, who verified that the borrower owed that man $1,000 and the unknown man then requested that PATRIARCA "lay off" the borrower by not demanding the kickback. There is also information, according to [redacted] pertaining to JOSEPH DI CARLO obtaining money from the Johnston Branch of Plantations Bank under false pretenses but he would give no further details. He insisted that all of this information is only a small part of the whole deal. He said he would give the names of at least two other people who had obtained loans and who are "weak enough" to give the full details up to the point of testimony.

b7D

He said that he would make the whole story known to the FBI only under the following conditions:

- (1) That efforts be made to reduce his sentence time, through legitimate channels keeping in mind that he now stands to be paroled on [redacted] in the regular course of business.

- (2) That he be removed to another institution to serve what remaining time there might be. In this regard he said that there are presently in the FCI at [redacted] about 40 persons who know the PATRIARCAS and a few persons who, in fact, know [redacted] It is common knowledge at the FCI that the FBI has been [redacted] the FBI wants him to sign a statement in this connection, but that thus far he has not furnished any pertinent information to the FBI. He said, further, that at least two persons who know PATRIARCA have been released in the normal course of business and no doubt have told JOSEPH PATRIARCA that the FBI has been talking to [redacted] He said that he received one visitor [redacted] who delivered a message from JOSEPH PATRIARCA stating that [redacted] should "forget all about that banking deal," which indicated to him that JOSEPH PATRIARCA would be extremely sensitive to information indicating that [redacted] might have informed the FBI in this matter. [redacted] said that if JOSEPH PATRIARCA thinks he told the FBI about this deal, he would not hesitate to kill him and that protection of his identity means protection of his life.

b7D

- (3) Under no circumstances should his identity or the elements of the information furnished be made known to anyone outside the FBI, including withholding this data from United States Attorney [redacted] at Providence. [redacted] said revelation of his identity outside the FBI in any respect would amount to exposure and this would mean he would probably be done away with. He said he had no specific allegation that the U. S. Attorney [redacted] had any connection with PATRIARCA, and he is making no inference that such a situation exists. He said that he knows the PATRIARCAS have sources in many, many places and that [redacted] does not know all the sources who would report information to the PATRIARCAS; therefore, he insists that absolutely no one outside the FBI should have the knowledge of what he has told the FBI or his identity.

After a discussion of this matter [redacted] said he would provide information on the cases listed below for [redacted] collect on delivery. He said this is a change from what he had previously considered in mentioning this to interviewing agent, 8/1/61, and that he will make this offer up to and including three months after his release from the FCI. The same conditions concerning protection of his identity apply and the cases he says he can supply are as follows:

He said that although he cannot provide the specific street address, he knows he can get the information within two days after his release, as the office moves from place to place to avoid detection. He said that investigation of this office will provide information on PATRIARCA's contacts in Florida and California with the race tracks and gambling personnel there, the identities of edge-off men in Cleveland, Ohio, and St. Louis, Mo. with whom PATRIARCA places edge-off bets. He said that calls are made to Cleveland and St. Louis every two or three days for this purpose; also, can name the betting operator in Maine responsible to PATRIARCA and describe his activities; further, PATRIARCA's activities at the Wonderland Dog Track, Revere, Mass. and the betting operations there.

RE: LOUIS TAGLIANETTI

On July 26, 1961, LOUIS TAGLIANETTI, 48 Montgomery Street, Warwick, Rhode Island, advised he has been a close friend of RAYMOND PATRIARCA's for several years and is presently employed for him as a salesman for National Cigarette Service, 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island. He said he receives a salary of $85 per week from this company and further supplements his income by playing the horses and usually wins about $4,000 to $5,000 a year by playing the horses.

He said that since PATRIARCA's release from prison in Massachusetts during the early 1940's PATRIARCA has not been in any kind of trouble and prior to 1940 PATRIARCA spent most of his time in the Boston, Massachusetts area.

He said he did not really become acquainted with PATRIARCA until the late 1940's and at that time PATRIARCA used to shoot dice and play a few horses, but he has not done this for several years. He said PATRIARCA has some interest in the Sherwood Manufacturing Company, Providence, Rhode Island but he does not know how much of an interest he has or how much money PATRIARCA has received from this business.

He said that PATRIARCA then went into the cigarette vending business [redacted] and that PATRIARCA spends all of his time at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, where he takes an interest in the National Cigarette Service.

He said PATRIARCA does not handle any booking activities; that there is no booking activity going on at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, and that PATRIARCA has no control or interest over any gambling activities.

He denied being a runner or errand boy for PATRIARCA and denied ever making any trips to Boston or New York for PATRIARCA, and he said he would not know of any outside connections or individuals who would know RAYMOND PATRIARCA, except a fellow named ANGIULO from Boston, Massachusetts.

BS 92-118

In regards to [] he said he knows that a person by that name has visited PATRIARCA at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, on one or two occasions, in the past, but he has no idea what their connection would be or the purpose of the visits.

He said he had no further information and had no information that PATRIARCA had violated any local, state or federal laws.

TAGLIANETTI said that during the evening of July 25, 1961 he had been in conversation with PATRIARCA and was told that PATRIARCA had received a subpoena from the MC CLELLAN Senate Investigating Committee and that PATRIARCA was to appear in Washington, D. C. on August 1, 1961. He said he had no further details concerning this subpoena.

RE: [REDACTED]

On July 26, 1961, [REDACTED] Cranston, Rhode Island, advised he has no idea where his [REDACTED] could be located as he has not seen or heard from her in over 10 years.

He said that he has not been in the [REDACTED] business since 1950; that one of the reasons for his leaving this business was due to the fact that [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] abreast of the bookmaking activities in the Providence, Rhode Island area and would have no information concerning this matter. He further stated that even though he has not kept abreast of these activities he felt certain that RAYMOND PATRIARCA is not involved in the bookmaking business and does not handle any bookmaking activities in or out of the state of Rhode Island.

He stated that prior to 1950 there were several large bookies in the Providence, Rhode Island area; that these bookies were not of Italian extraction, however, he felt that the Italian element became involved in the bookmaking business after 1950 or 1951 when the Federal Government made it mandatory that a person engaged in this type of business would have to apply for a $50 wagering tax stamp. He said that the individuals, other than the Italian element, were afraid of this tax stamp and, therefore, curtailed their bookmaking activities for fear of becoming involved with the federal law. He felt that when this curtailment took place some of the Italian element in the Providence, Rhode Island area were not fearful of this federal tax stamp and, therefore, entered the bookmaking business. He felt that this was one of the reasons that the bookmaking business may be predominantly controlled by the Italian element in Providence, Rhode Island.

[redacted] also said that a great majority of the population in Providence, Rhode Island are of Italian extraction and, for that reason, it is possible that there may be a greater percentage of bookies of Italian extraction in this area.

He stated that he has no information concerning any irregularities being conducted by RAYMOND PATRIARCA and has no information that he has violated any local, state or federal laws at any time.

3. REPORTED CONNECTIONS OF RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA WITH THE HOODLUM ELEMENT

On June 12, 1961, BS T-2 advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA is the arbiter of all disputes in the Boston, Massachusetts and Providence, Rhode Island areas among the criminal element. He also provides protection to individuals from harassment by the underworld.

In this connection, BS T-2 advised he has heard that JERRY ANGIULO, numbers operator from Boston, Massachusetts, pays PATRIARCA $15,000 a year for protection from local hoodlums, in that local hoodlums would borrow money from ANGIULO and then neglect to pay it back. Since he, ANGIULO, is reported as a friend of PATRIARCA's, he (ANGIULO) is no longer bothered in this manner, and if he does make a loan, it is paid back or the individual is summoned before PATRIARCA or his designated agent in Boston, Attorney [redacted] Boston. b6 b7C

An appearance before [redacted] has the same effect as going before PATRIARCA. b6 b7C

If the individuals involved in the dispute are of prominence, PATRIARCA personally settles the matter and his decision is final.

Informant said PATRIARCA is referred to as "The Man" or as "George."

[redacted] operator of [redacted] owes money to JOE MODICA, operator of the American Finance Co., Boston, Massachusetts, and when he fell behind in his payments, he, [redacted] was summoned before PATRIARCA. b6 b7C

BS 92-118

On June 8, 1961 and July 7, 1961, BS T-3 advised he cannot be certain but feels reasonably sure that RAYMOND PATRIARCA has business interests in the gambling setup in the Boston area, but PATRIARCA does not appear in the picture on a working level.

Informant said that in regard to PATRIARCA, he could not be specific, and cannot document his feelings in any way but feels that there is no question in his mind that PATRIARCA is probably the dominating influence among racketeers in the New England area.

On July 28, 1961, BS T-4 advised he had heard that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had been served with a subpoena to appear in Washington, D. C., however, he has not heard that PATRIARCA had made any comment concerning this subpoena.

Informant said PATRIARCA is not the talkative type and does not volunteer any information and no one would dare ask him what his reaction is to the receiving of this subpoena.

BS T-4 further said that he has unconfirmed information, the source he could not recall, that one [redacted] works for PATRIARCA and that [redacted] presently handles the crap games in [redacted] for PATRIARCA, place of games not known. [redacted] is reportedly there to protect PATRIARCA's interests, but informant had no idea what were PATRIARCA's interests or the amount of interest PATRIARCA would have in the game. This informant had no information as to the identity of the individuals operating this game.

Informant had no information that RAYMOND PATRIARCA has any connection with the numbers racket and does not think PATRIARCA would handle the numbers.

On August 4, 1961, BS T-4 advised that prior to 1953 WILLIAM RIDINGS of Pawtucket, Rhode Island was the "big man" in the dissemination of racing information and had control of this service throughout the Eastern Seaboard. After RIDINGS' death in 1953, SIDNEY MAC TAVISH, a well known gambler in Pawtucket, Rhode Island, took over a little of this service in the Pawtucket, Rhode Island area and at the same time ~~FRANK FERRARA~~ of Boston, Massachusetts, who is now in Federal Prison, started to take over this service in the Boston, Massachusetts area.

Both MAC TAVISH and FERRARA were operating on a small scale, but there was reportedly a struggle for power in this field and at that time RAYMOND PATRIARCA, who was reportedly a power among the criminal element, and a good friend of FERRARA's, interceded in this struggle for FERRARA, and it was reported that through this intercession by PATRIARCA, FERRARA was able to gain control of the wire service which would transmit racing information along the Eastern seaboard; which FERRARA still controls through Sports Day Weekly and Atlantic Carriers, 222 Summer Street, Boston, Massachusetts, which organization is presently being operated by [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] while FERRARA is in Federal Prison.

4. "MIEHLE FABRICS"

Possibly Sherwood Manufacturing Company -
[redacted]

b6
b7C

On June 30, 1961, BS T-5 advised his file relating to RAYMOND PATRIARCA consists only of one document in the nature of a summary memorandum setting forth basic dates concerning PATRIARCA, his criminal background, occupations and similar material. Under the heading "Occupations," there appears a statement that PATRIARCA appeared to own "Miehle Fabrics" at Providence, Rhode Island.

Informant said there was no documentation of any kind concerning "Miehle Fabrics" and there was no information available indicating the source of such information or its apparent accuracy.

On June 30, 1961, BS T-6 advised it would be impossible to determine the source of information concerning "Miehle Fabrics,"; that information came to him in all forms in the way of gossip, rumors and unverified information and that this information was correlated into a brief summary without knowing the extent of its accuracy because it had no value to informant or his organization, other than general data for the file.

On June 30, 1961, BS T-7 and BS T-8 advised they had no further information to report concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

It is to be noted that previous investigation reflects that PATRIARCA has an acknowledged income from the Sherwood Manufacturing Company at Providence, Rhode Island, and it has further been established that the operating head of that corporation is [redacted]. It may be presumed that the unverified information of BS T-5 and BS T-6 was phonetic in form and that instead of "Miehle Fabrics" it probably should be Fabrics Company [redacted].

b7C

On July 28, 1961, [redacted] Secretary of State's office, State House, Providence, Rhode Island, advised he had no record of any corporation being organized in the state of Rhode Island under the name "Miehle Fabrics."

b7C

5. TRI STATE FINANCE CO., INC.
Westerly, Rhode Island

On July 28, 1961, [redacted] Secretary of State's Office for the state of Rhode Island, State House, Providence, Rhode Island, advised that his records reflect that Tri State Finance Co., Inc. was incorporated on October 7, 1938 at 31 Broad Street, Westerly, Rhode Island under the Small Loans Act. He stated that the officers are listed as follows:

b6
b7c

He stated that he has no record of this organization being in operation in the vicinity of Providence, Rhode Island.

On August 7, 1961, [redacted] Deputy City Clerk, City Clerk's Office, Providence City Hall, Providence, Rhode Island, advised his office has no record of Tri State Finance Co., Inc. being in operation at the present time and he further stated he has no record of it being in operation in the past.

b7c

On August 7, 1961, [redacted] Police Officer, Rhode Island Police Department, advised his department has no record of [redacted] However, he said that [redacted] the Tri State Finance Co., Inc., 31 Broad Street, Westerly, Rhode Island and [redacted] Rhode Island; that this business has been in existence for [redacted] in this area and that about one month ago [redacted] Finance Company, also of Broad Street, Westerly, Rhode Island. [redacted] advised that he has known [redacted] for a number of years; that [redacted] is a reputable businessman in the community and there has never been any indication that [redacted] was or had ever been connected with any of the hoodlum element in Providence Rhode Island. He also stated that [redacted] has always operated a [redacted] finance business.

b7c

BS 92-118

On August 7, 1961, [redacted]
Finance Co., Inc., [redacted] Rhode Island, advised that this institution has been in business since [redacted] having its office at [redacted]
Rhode Island. He stated that [redacted]
[redacted]

b6
b7C

He said that this finance company was sold out on [redacted] and is now known as the [redacted] Company also of the same address.

b7C

He said he does not know RAYMOND PATRIARCA, has never had any business dealings with him and has never talked to him at any time.

He further stated that the majority of his loans were made to people in the Westerly, Rhode Island area and at no time, to his knowledge, has any loan been made to any bookie or individual who would be classed as a "local racketeer."

6. MISCELLANEOUS

On July 25, 1961, BS T-9, BS T-10 and BS T-11 advised they have not received or obtained any information that RAYMOND PATRIARCA has violated any state or federal laws, but in the event any information comes to their attention they will immediately report same to the FBI.

On July 26, 1961, Chief Deputy Marshal GEORGE DOUGLAS, United States Marshal's Office, Providence, Rhode Island, advised that his department on July 25, 1961 had served subpoenas on RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA and [redacted] of the Hill Road Publishing and News Company, 164 Gansett Avenue, Cranston, Rhode Island. These subpoenas were for these persons to appear before the MC CLELLAN Senate Investigating Committee, Washington, D. C. and that they were to appear there on August 1, 1961.

DOUGLAS advised that both individuals were instructed to telephonically contact [redacted] General Counsel, United States Senate Committee on Government Operations, Room 101, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C. to ascertain if they are needed on August 1, 1961 or a subsequent date.

b7c

On August 7, 1961, BS T-10 advised [redacted] Attorney for RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, Providence, Rhode Island, had stated that PATRIARCA is now scheduled to be in Washington, D. C. on August 23, 1961 to testify before the United States Senator MC CLELLAN's Senate Investigating Committee and [redacted] said that PATRIARCA intends to plead the fifth amendment as he is afraid that his testimony may conflict with his previous testimony before Senator MC CLELLAN in 1959.

b7c

On July 26, 1961, Colonel WALTER E. STONE (NA), Chief of the Providence, Rhode Island Police Department, advised he had been contacted by a [redacted] Counsel for the MC CLELLAN Senate Subcommittee and that both discussed the raid conducted by the Providence, Rhode Island Police over two years ago, at the Crown Hotel, Providence, Rhode Island, concerning the race wire service which was being operated at that time.

b6
b7c

Colonel STONE advised he had not received or obtained any information that RAYMOND PATRIARCA was part of this organization.

He said that [] reviewed the records of the police regarding this matter and at no time was there a discussion of general racket activities in the Rhode Island area.

Colonel STONE advised he has not been subpoenaed before this Committee at Washington, D. C. but he told [] he would appear if issued a subpoena, but, to date, he has not received one.

Colonel STONE advised that if he received a subpoena he would not have any information of an evidentiary nature concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA and that he has no evidence of a prosecutive nature concerning general racket activities in Rhode Island.

On July 26, 1961, [] also known as [] Warwick, Rhode Island, advised that in January, 1960 he was employed as [] in West Warwick, Rhode Island and during that period of time met [] of Coventry, Rhode Island.

Around March, 1960 [] took him to a store on Gansett Avenue, Cranston, Rhode Island and [] told him that he was going to set up his office here. At that time there were no phones in the place. About two or three weeks later about three telephones and a pay phone were installed in this place. When these phones were installed [] asked him if he would help out by answering the telephones and giving out race results.

He said that [] told him that he would not be able to be at this place for any length of time as he had other things to do, which things he did not explain to [] and at the same time [] assured him that the furnishing of race results was legal and that he [] would not be violating any laws. He said that he agreed to do this and about that time a [] cousin of [] and a []

b6

This place was known as the Hill Road Publishing and News Service, 164 Gansett Avenue, Cranston, Rhode Island.

He said that the magazine was not published, to his knowledge, at that time, but it was understood that the magazine would be distributed to news stands in the area; that it was also understood that a telephone number would be included so that people could call this number and obtain sporting information such as race results and other results of sporting events.

He said that when this business was operating there was not too much activity on the phones and he estimated that about only five people called him, but these five people would have called him more than once, as they were interested in all of the race results.

He said that [] and [] answered the phones and that either [] or [] would call some sports service in Boston, Massachusetts in order to obtain the race results. He said he did not know the name of this place as he had never made any calls there, but he did know that whenever a telephone call was made to this Boston establishment, it was always made on the pay phone which had been installed in this place.

He said that [] would come to this place around noontime, leave a quantity of change for the pay phone and would then tell them that if "AL," "JOHN," "JIM," "JOE," or the like called, it would be all right to give them race results; however [] never furnished them with the last names of these individuals and they had no idea who these people were.

He said that whenever anyone called and gave their first name and if they were on the list, furnished by [] he would furnish them with race results.

He said he never met any of the people that called in and had no idea what they did for a living.

He said that no bets were taken at this place, as [] was never there and he was never told to take any bets over the phone, and no one ever wanted to give a bet over the phone.

He said he never saw any records or books at the place, never saw [] pay anyone and never saw any bills coming into the place. He also said he had no idea where [] received his money or how much he was paying for his service from Boston, Massachusetts.

He said he never heard the name of RAYMOND PATRIARCA being mentioned by [] and never heard [] make any reference to PATRIARCA being connected with him in this operation.

He also said that it was his impression that [] was operating this business on his own.

He further stated that around May, 1960, about a month after the place was in operation, it was raided by the Rhode Island State Police and the phones were removed from the premises, which put the place out of business.

b7C

He said he was brought to the Rhode Island State Police Barracks where he was questioned and released. He said he has not worked for [] since that time and has no idea of working for him again. He said he is presently employed for [] Providence, Rhode Island.

On July 26, 1961, the "Providence Evening Bulletin," a daily newspaper in Providence, Rhode Island, carried a first page article captioned, "U. S. RACKET PROBERS WILL QUIZ R. I. PAIR."

This article said that the United States Senate Subcommittee on investigations has subpoenaed RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, reputed kingpin of Rhode Island rackets, and [redacted] Rhode Island, racing sheet publisher, to appear before it on August 1, 1961. b6 b7C

[redacted] was identified as [redacted] Hill Road Publishing and News Co., 164 Gansett Avenue, Cranston, Rhode Island. This article stated that this Committee is concerned, among other things, with the manner in which race results are disseminated throughout the country through media posing as legitimate news companies. b6 b7C

This article also said that "VIRGIL PETERSON, Director of the Chicago Crime Commission, had at one time called PATRIARCA 'King of the rackets in Providence, R. I.' and allegedly tied in with New York mobs.

On July 27, 1961, [redacted] Detective Division, Cranston, Rhode Island Police Department, advised that his department has been keeping a close watch on [redacted] Hill Road Publishing and News Co., 164 Gansett Avenue, Cranston, Rhode Island; that he has had his detectives in this establishment on a number of occasions and has been unable to prove that [redacted] is booking in this place of business. He said his men have observed and heard [redacted] giving out race results, but they are not able to identify the persons to whom he is furnishing these race results. b6 b7C

He said that [redacted] has told his men that he does not know the identity of the people calling, but gives out race results if the person calling can furnish the code phrase or code word from his magazine that he sells at news stands. b6 b7C

[redacted] also said that he has been unable to obtain any information that RAYMOND PATRIARCA would have, or has had, any interest in the Hill Road Publishing and News Co. b6 b7C

[redacted] said he has checked with the Attorney General's Department for the State of Rhode Island concerning [redacted] operation and they have been unable to locate any statute that he may be violating.

On July 27, 1961, BS T-12 advised he had heard information that the [redacted] EDWARD [redacted] [redacted] were told not to contact RAYMOND PATRIARCA unless it was urgent.

b6

On July 31, 1961, BS T-13 advised he has no information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

In view of PATRIARCA's past involvement in crimes of violence, he should be considered armed and dangerous.

RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA

Raymond Patriarca was born March 17, 1908, at Worcester, Massachusetts. On March 26, 1932, while in the eighth grade he left school to go to work and reportedly was then employed by the E. B. Helff Company, Inc., Providence, Rhode Island. On February 2, 1939, Patriarca married Helen G. Mandella who was also born at Worcester, Massachusetts. She was employed as a registered nurse prior to the marriage. Since prior to 1960 they have resided in a single home at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island. They have one son Raymond Patriarca, Jr.

Beginning in 1929 Patriarca was arrested and convicted twice for breaking and entering and once for violation of the White Slave Traffic Act.

Each weekday between about 3:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Patriarca reportedly spends his time at 165 Atwell Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island. This is the location of the National Cigarette Service Company which is allegedly owned by Patriarca and one [redacted]. It is a cigarette vending machine business. Louis Taglianetti also known as Louie the Fox is allegedly employed by this company as a salesman and he receives about $85 per week salary. Another vending machine company known as the Coin-O-Matic Distributors is said to be located at this address. [redacted] claims he is the sole owner of this company and Patriarca is said to have no interest in it.

Helen G. Patriarca reportedly owns fifty per cent of the stock in the Sherwood Manufacturing Company, 75 Eagle Street, Providence, Rhode Island, with one [redacted]. Patriarca allegedly is a sales manager for this company and is supposed to contact buyers and hustlers who want to buy sports sweaters which they can sell throughout the country. Up until about three years ago he spent some time at this company's offices. He has not spent much time there since then allegedly because he became quite ill from diabetes and was in the Diabetic Hospital, Boston, Massachusetts, for some period of time. Patriarca also suffers from a coronary condition.

Raymond L. S. Patriarca

About 1955 Helen Patriarca is said to have loaned Anthony Mele $7,000 in connection with the operation of the Stratford Manufacturing Company, Jersey City, New Jersey. Patriarca claims he was considered a partner after this loan was given to Mele and was receiving a salary of $125 per week and Mele was drawing the same salary. In 1957 business decreased and his salary was reduced to $100 per week. In June, 1957, due to the decrease in business Mele reportedly repaid the $7,000 loan to Patriarca and Patriarca's connection with the firm was then ended. Mele as of May, 1961, was operating the Import Distributing Company in New Jersey.

Some time ago Helen Patriarca reportedly invested $10,000 in the Stadium Trading Corporation, Woonsocket, Rhode Island. The $10,000 was considered a loan and Patriarca was given a note for this amount. He reportedly draws about $2,500 to $2,700 a year on this loan which money is paid by corporation check and is deposited in the bank under Helen Patriarca's name. He considers the amounts received each year to be dividends on this loan.

Patriarca allegedly owns the Ace Dumping Company, Providence, Rhode Island. Some time ago [redacted] D and H Building Wreckers, Inc., Providence, Rhode Island, wanted to borrow money to put into his business. Patriarca and his brother Joseph then purchased land from [redacted] which they felt would be valuable in the future because super-highways are being built in this area. The land was then rented to D and H Building Wreckers for the purpose of dumping debris. Other contractors also obtained dumping privileges from Patriarca's firm. One of these companies is the Rhode Island Wrecking Company. A fee of $2 is charged for each load dumped. Five thousand dollars was the original purchase price for the land and actually during 1960 D and H Building Wreckers reportedly paid $6,000 for dumping privileges.

Patriarca is said to have formed the R and P Realty Company at Providence, Rhode Island, seven or eight months ago and incorporated it. He and his wife allegedly invested between $11,000 and $20,000 in this corporation and its purpose was to build a building for D and H Wreckers, Inc. That company would pay rent to the realty company for the building. [redacted] of D and H Building Wreckers, Inc.,

reportedly purchased Patriarca's interest in the R and P Realty Company in June, 1961, for about $25,000.

Patriarca is reputedly the dominant figure in gambling operations in the entire New England area and on frequent occasions acts as the arbitrator in straightening out the difficulties which arise between the various individuals engaged in gambling within the New England area.

Patriarca's wife is apparently suffering from a chronic and acute asthma condition.

Rhode Island, advised as follows:

He is 34 years old, was born in Providence and brought up in the [redacted] of Providence. He completed the tenth grade of school. He was turned down for military service because [redacted]. He is married and has one child. He has been associated with the amusement business in fairs and parks for a long time.

[redacted] he came to know and become friendly with RAYMOND PATRIARCA. He has never been an associate of PATRIARCA's and has never worked for him.

In the spring of 1959, PATRIARCA called him in to ask him if he would be interested in a job as an [redacted] at the White City Amusement Park in Worcester, Massachusetts. He was introduced on this occasion to [redacted] of Worcester who had been talking with PATRIARCA about getting someone to work at the Park. He then went to Worcester where he talked with [redacted] son, [redacted] and concluded arrangements to take the job as [redacted] at the park under [redacted].

As [redacted] he had charge of the rides and the help. He rarely ever saw [redacted] and he saw [redacted] infrequently. As far as he knows the Park is owned by [redacted]. He has no knowledge as to the financial affairs of the Park or if any loans may have been made to the Park. The Park did not open up for the current season. He does not know the reasons for the decision for not reopening but has heard rumors that the Park is going to be sold and a super market is to be built. The Park, he stated, has not been a paying proposition.

[redacted] denied any knowledge of the financial interests or activities of [redacted]. He stated he knows of no financial interest of RAYMOND PATRIARCA in the Park and that PATRIARCA has never said anything to him to indicate he had any interest of any kind in the Park. He stated that other than asking him, on occasion, how he personally was making out at the Park, PATRIARCA never has mentioned the Park. He stated that now that he is no longer associated with the Park, he is attempting to build up his own business of booking amusement rides and the like for fairs.

He advised that he hangs out at the Coin-O-Matic Distributors on Atwell's Avenue, and that he sees PATRIARCA there but that he has no knowledge as to PATRIARCA's business interests or activities or contacts. He stated he didn't even know who worked for PATRIARCA in his cigarette vending machine business. He said he couldn't furnish any information about who comes and goes at Coin-O-Matic as he doesn't pay any attention to activity there and purposely minds his own business, and doesn't ask questions or talk to others or show any interest in what's going on. Because of this, he stated he has no idea of PATRIARCA's financial affairs or interests, his business interests, associates, or contacts or anything else about him. He stated, further, he had no knowledge of any activity of PATRIARCA's that would be a violation of any state or Federal law and that he knew nothing of any gambling or any racket activity on the part of PATRIARCA although he was aware, as the result of newspaper publicity, of PATRIARCA's past reputation. He stated he has heard nothing from PATRIARCA or anyone else at Coin-O-Matic relative to the fact that PATRIARCA's being subpoenaed before the McClellan Committee at Washington.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date August 22, 1961

[redacted] Sherwood Manufacturing Company, 75 Eagle Street, Providence, Rhode Island, furnished the following information:

This company was organized in the latter part of 1951 or the early part of 1952; [redacted] and they had three hundred shares of preferred stock outstanding at the time, with a par value of $140.00 per share.

This business was organized to sell sweaters to the retail trade; the sweaters were sold to hustlers who traveled throughout the country; orders for the sweaters were taken over the phone; and the merchandise was shipped Cash on Delivery.

Business did not flourish when the company first started; and sometime later, Mrs. HELEN G. PATRIARCA, wife of RAYMOND PATRIARCA, invested $14,000.00 into the business, making two separate payments of $9,000.00 and $5,000.00 which [redacted] thought were made by check, but he was not certain of this. At that time, Mrs. PATRIARCA received a one-third interest in the organization.

At that time, RAYMOND PATRIARCA was put on the payroll as an employee of the company; he was hired as an outside salesman handling about fifty per cent of the sales volume; and PATRIARCA received a salary on the amount of business handled by the organization.

RAYMOND PATRIARCA would come to the office and handle all telephone calls from the hustlers who called for orders; and it was PATRIARCA's job to see that they paid for the orders when they arrived on a Cash on Delivery basis.

[redacted] admitted that he needed PATRIARCA's services more than PATRIARCA needed [redacted] and he also admitted that PATRIARCA was known to a great many of the hustlers, and he knew that by obtaining the services of PATRIARCA, he would obtain more sales on his sweaters.

On 8/10/61 at Providence, Rhode Island File # 92-118
by SA [redacted] cap Date dictated 8/16/61

PATRIARCA would come to the office around 9:00 or 10:00 A.M., stay about one or two hours, and would either make telephone calls or receive orders for sweaters.

About five years ago [redacted] wanted to get out of the business, so he and HELEN G. PATRIARCA bought out the interests of [redacted] and both he and Mrs. PATRIARCA gave [redacted] $6,000.00 each, and the company was now owned fifty per cent by himself and fifty per cent by Mrs. PATRIARCA.

About two years ago, RAYMOND PATRIARCA suffered a severe heart attack; and since that occasion PATRIARCA has been inactive in the business; however, [redacted] pays him a salary of $200.00 per week for services rendered in the past; and these payments are still being made to PATRIARCA even though he is inactive in this business and has not been to the office in about two years.

Sherwood Manufacturing Company has never paid any type of dividend; he receives a salary of $200.00 per week, but Mrs. PATRIARCA has never received any salary and has never received any return on the money she has invested in this organization.

The net sales volume for the year May 1, 1960 to April 30, 1961 was $165,602.62; the gross profit for the same period was $27,924.55; and the net profit for the same period was $308.78.

Sherwood Manufacturing Company has one car registered to the corporation; the car registered to this corporation was always given to RAYMOND PATRIARCA; and at the present time, PATRIARCA has a 1960 Chevrolet, two-door which is registered to Sherwood Manufacturing Company, and which was purchased at Mulry Chevrolet, Providence, Rhode Island.

All of the car expenses, operated by PATRIARCA, are paid for by the Sherwood Manufacturing Company.

He made available the list of cars registered to Sherwood Manufacturing Company which were in the possession of PATRIARCA and for which expenses were paid for by the Sherwood Manufacturing Company.

1.) Trinity Auto Sales Inc., Providence, Rhode Island, bill of sale dated April 8, 1954 for a 1953 Buick, Motor Number V 1709937, Serial Number 77039686 - purchase price $2,100.00.

2.) Trinity Auto Sales, Inc. Providence, Rhode Island, bill of sale number 2085, dated February 14, 1956 for a 1956 Cadillac Coupe, Motor Number 5662-045214 purchased for $4,411.78.

3.) Trinity Auto Sales, Inc., Providence, Rhode Island, bill of sale number 10589, dated November 3, 1959 for a 1959 Cadillac Coupe De Ville, Motor Number 59J124479, paid by check number 13914.

4.) Duddle Motors, Cadillac City, 616 Park Avenue, Worcester, Massachusetts, dated February 5, 1959 for a 1959 T Bird, Motor Number H9YH103447, purchased for $3,300.00. This car was paid in full on February 5, 1959, and the salesman was listed as F. CARROZZA.

It being noted that [redacted] is the son of [redacted] Coin-O-Matic Distributors, Inc., 168 Atwell's Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island [redacted] RAYMOND PATRIARCA in the National Cigarette Service, also of 168 Atwell's Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island.

5.) Trinity Auto Sales, Inc., Providence, Rhode Island, vehicle contract, dated November 3, 1959 for a 1959 Cadillac Coupe De Ville, Motor Number 59J124479, purchased for $5,000.00. This invoice was marked "paid in full 11/8/59".

All of the above cars were purchased by Sherwood Manufacturing Company.

[redacted] said he drives a 1957 Cadillac which is registered to him; and his company does not pay any expenses for the operation and maintenance of this vehicle.

In this regard he had no explanation as to why his car is not registered to Sherwood Manufacturing Company and PATRIARCA's car is registered to the company, except that when PATRIARCA first came to work here, PATRIARCA proposed getting a car for him, and he, [redacted] went along with the idea, and it was agreed that PATRIARCA's car would be

Examination of the records of the Office of the Recorder of Deeds, City Hall, Providence, on August 16, 1961, disclosed conveyance dated March 24, 1961 from RAYMOND and HELEN PATRIARCA to [redacted] and wife, [redacted] of the land and buildings on the southeasterly corner of Broadway and Dean Streets, Providence. Federal Tax stamps in the amount of $33.00 were affixed to the Deed. These stamps reflect value in the amount of $1,000. for each $1.10 in stamps which in this instance would reflect a total value of $30,000.

The above records further reflected a mortgage deed running from the [redacted] to the PATRIARCA's dated March 24, 1961, to secure the payment of $7,500 to be paid in eight years with interest at 4%. This conveyance was self described as a second mortgage and subject to a first mortgage to the Proprietors of Swan Point Cemetery also dated March 24, 1961.

The records of the Tax Assessor's office, City Hall, reflect no personal property assessed to Subject or his wife.

Records of the office of the Tax Assessor, City Hall, Cranston, R.I., examined on August 16, 1961, by SA [redacted] reflect plot 7, lot 354, property at 304-306 Webster Avenue, Cranston, comprising land and three tenement dwelling, is assessed to HELEN G. and RAYMOND PATRIARCA of 165 Lancaster Street, Providence. Total assessed value is $12,560. Total tax is $421.16.

No record was located of any other property, real or personal being assessed to Subject or his wife in Cranston.

Records at the Registry of Deeds, City Hall, Cranston, examined on August 16, 1961, reflect in book 335, page 334, conveyance of the above property to HELEN G. and RAYMOND PATRIARCA from [redacted] by deed dated September 22, 1958. Federal tax stamps in the amount of $8.25 were affixed to the deed. Notary on the deed was [redacted]. The deed was recorded September 30, 1958. On August 11, 1961, BS T-3 advised an exhaustive investigation had been conducted in regard to the operation of the STADIUM TRADING CORPORATION, Woonsocket, R.I. and this investigation failed to show that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had any control over the operation or management of this business. The business is operated by [REDACTED] b3 b7c

A notation in the minutes book of the corporation, dated October 29, 1956, reveals that it was voted to accept $10,000.00 as a loan from HELEN G. PATRIARCA.

There has never been any money repaid on this loan, however, the corporation has paid to HELEN G. PATRIARCA, commissions on this loan.

The commissions are as follows:

December 13, 1956	$1,750.00
December 28, 1956	300.00
February 18, 1957	2,000.00
May 17, 1957	500.00

On January 21, 1960, RAYMOND PATRIARCA was interviewed along with his wife, HELEN G. PATRIARCA: that this interview was conducted at the office of [redacted] attorney for PATRIARCA and at that time HELEN G. PATRIARCA advised that she received checks from STADIUM TRADING CORPORATION but they actually belonged to her husband, RAYMOND PATRIARCA; that the checks received were made payable to her since her husband instructed [redacted] to do so. She said upon receipt of said checks she deposited same to their account at Old Colony Cooperative Bank, Providence, R.I.

RAYMOND PATRIARCA was asked the purpose for which STADIUM TRADING CORPORATION issued such checks to his wife. He said that the checks in question were made payable to his wife for the following reasons:

1. That he invested the $10,000 in STADIUM TRADING CORPORATION on the advice of [redacted] a lifelong friend.
2. That he reported the proceeds of such investment in his returns filed and taxes were paid thereon.
3. That although he received a note for the original investment ($10,000.00) such note was not necessary.
4. PATRIARCA said [redacted] insisted that he (PATRIARCA) be issued a note in case anything happened to [redacted]
5. That as far as he (PATRIARCA) was concerned, [redacted] did not have to issue any note because [redacted] is a reliable person.
6. That he (PATRIARCA) presumed he would receive such checks from STADIUM TRADING CORPORATION as long as that firm continued to earn any profit.
7. That he (PATRIARCA) is not certain whether or not he received the amount invested since the date of the original investment.
8. That he, (PATRIARCA) was informed that the investment he originally made was carried on the books of this firm as a loan from PATRIARCA.
9. That he (PATRIARCA) does not have any control over the bookkeeping methods employed by this firm.

BS 92-118

CAR:pha

10. That he (PATRIARCA) was asked if this $10,000.00 was a loan to the corporation and he stated "No." -- It was an investment or a joint venture.

11. That he (PATRIARCA) would have advanced [redacted] $30,000.00 or $40,000.00 if [redacted] had asked for it.

All of the preceeding information regarding STADIUM TRADING CORPORATION was provided by BS T-3 from his records.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Stadium Trading Inc., 64 East Street, Woonsocket, Rhode Island, residence 72 Upland Road, Woonsocket, Rhode Island, advised that this company was organized about five years ago, that it was organized to deal in waste and waste yarn; that $50,000.00 worth of stock was issued; that he bought $37,500.00 worth of stock and that [redacted] bought $12,500.00 worth of stock, no par value.

He said that [redacted] came into this business with him because both he and [redacted] have been friends for a number of years; that they hung around together in their younger days; that they have always been socially acquainted and hung around in the same bars.

He also said that [redacted] knew a great many people and he needed a man like [redacted] in order to make contacts for the purchase and sale of waste material and waste yarn.

He said that after the organization of his company, he wanted to borrow money from the bank and since he only had $50,000.00 invested in the business the bank would not loan him that same amount so he asked RAYMOND PATRIARCA and his wife HELEN PATRIARCA if they would loan his business some money, and they loaned him $10,000.00. Along with this loan he borrowed money from additional friends and when he had accumulated about $90,000.00 he applied for a $50,000.00 loan at the Industrial National Bank at Woonsocket, Rhode Island, which loan was given to him. He at that time furnished this book with the note he gave Mrs. PATRIARCA, for $10,000.00 as subordination for the loan.

On 8-22-61 at Woonsocket, Rhode Island File # 92-118
by SA [redacted] and [redacted] Date dictated 8-22-61

He said that the only reason he contacted Mr. and Mrs. PATRIARCA was due to the fact that he has been a friend of the PATRIARCA's for a number of years and he knew that if the PATRIARCA's had the money they would loan it to him.

He said the officers of this corporation are as follows:

He said that [redacted] sold out his interests in this corporation to his brother, [redacted] for $12,500.00, however, [redacted] is still an officer of the corporation and receives a weekly salary of $300.00 per week. He said [redacted] still receives this salary because of his numerous contacts and his know how in obtaining material and being able to make contacts to sell the material.

He also said that on October 29, 1956 his minute book records show that a loan of $10,000.00 would be accepted from HELEN G. PATRIARCA, which loan was made by Mrs. PATRIARCA.

He said he considers this to be a loan and that he has not repaid any part of the loan, but every year he returns to her, what he calls an investment on the loan of her money to this corporation.

He stated that even though he has been a good friend of Mr. and Mrs. PATRIARCA's he does not know too much about RAYMOND PATRIARCA's personal affairs, but did know he had some connection with a cigarette vending machine business in Providence, Rhode Island.

He said PATRIARCA leads a quiet life; that he does not go out during the evening hours and he would not have any information concerning PATRIARCA's activities.

He further stated that RAYMOND PATRIARCA has not interest or control in this corporation and had never been employed with this company.

CAR: fha

On August 16, 1961, Colonel WALTER E. STONE, Chief, Providence, Rhode Island Police Department, advised he has no information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA being involved in any violation of local, state or Federal laws.

On August 16, 1961, BS T-5 advised he has no information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA which would indicate he has violated any local, state or Federal laws.

On August 17, 1961, Colonel WALTER E. STONE, Chief, Providence, Rhode Island Police and [redacted] Rhode Island State Police Detectives Division, advised SA [redacted] that they will leave for Washington, D.C. August 21, 1961, to testify before the McLELLAN COMMITTEE.

[redacted] advised that on this date he received a telephone call from a member of the McLELLAN COMMITTEE relative to any information he possessed tying in RAYMOND PATRIARCA with [redacted] and race wire service activity. [redacted] advised he possessed no information substantiating such tie-in and so advised this Committee member:

On August 17, 1961, BS T-6 advised he has no information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA.

On August 21, 1961, BS T-7, BS T-8 and BS T-9 advised they had no information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA.

On August 18, 1961, BS T-10 advised that a vehicle bearing Florida Registration 6WW 3709 was observed parked in front of COIN-O-MATIC DISTRIBUTORS, Inc., 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, R.I., which is the hangout of RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date August 25, 1961

[redacted] also known as [redacted]
[redacted] of Worcester, Inc., used cars,
616 Park Avenue, furnished the following information:

In 1950 he started his present business entirely "on his own". He and his wife own all the stock in the company, and RAYMOND PATRIARCA of Providence has never owned any of the stock. PATRIARCA has no financial interest whatever in the corporation, and he never did have any financial interest in the corporation. [redacted] stated that when he was trying to get started in the business, he used to go to Providence and get cars on credit from [redacted] the largest used car dealer in Providence, who was a personal friend. [redacted] would allow him to take as many as fifteen cars, and pay for them after [redacted] sold them. [redacted] stated that he always paid [redacted] as agreed, and never had to return a single car to [redacted].

He stated that it was possible that competitors in Worcester, knowing that many of his cars were coming in from Providence, might have started spreading the rumor that PATRIARCA had an interest in Duddie's. He also said that another source of such a rumor could have been the fact that he employed one [redacted] as a salesman, and [redacted] is related to an individual by the same name who is associated in the cigarette vending machine business with PATRIARCA.

[redacted] also stated that several years ago he invested money in the White City Amusement Park in Shrewsbury, Massachusetts, and operated the park for a short time with [redacted] and [redacted]. He said that RAYMOND PATRIARCA never owned any interest in the WCAP. He said that he himself withdrew from active participation in the running of the WCAP after a year or two, because it was a financial failure. He said that he still "has money coming to him" from the WCAP, and said that it is presently being sold, and when it is sold he expects to be repaid some of his money. He said he does not actually know at this time how much of the property is mortgaged, but he said that the land is very valuable. He stated that he met [redacted] on several occasions at the WCAP but that the park was actually run by [redacted] son, [redacted].

[redacted] stated that he was born and raised in the Grafton Hill section of Worcester, and as a boy was well-acquainted with RAYMOND PATRIARCA, who lived in the same area. He was also well-acquainted with the MANDELLA family in the same area, one of whose daughters later married PATRIARCA. [redacted] stated that he has never borrowed money from PATRIARCA and he is not indebted to him for anything. However, he said that if PATRIARCA should ask him to do a favor "tomorrow morning", he would do it for him, if it was possible and not illegal, because he considers PATRIARCA to be a friend.

[redacted] stated that he has worked long hours, almost daily, to make a success of his used car business. He contracted himself to build his office and garage, and succeeded in building the entire plant for about $21,000.00. He presently draws $225.00 from the corporation weekly as his own salary. He stated that he is losing money for the current year and went $5,000 "in the hole" last month.

Date

[redacted] Tilli's Restaurant, 5 North Quinsigamond Avenue, Shrewsbury, Massachusetts, advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA of Providence, Rhode Island, never owned any financial interest, directly or indirectly, in the White City Amusement Park in Shrewsbury. He stated that several years ago his own cousin, [redacted] sold the WCAP to the [redacted] family. For the past several years it was operated by IRWIN [redacted] son of [redacted] and [redacted] worked as manager of the park. He said that about one and one-half years ago [redacted] of Providence was employed by him as his assistant manager. He said that [redacted] is now in Providence.

[redacted] stated that he was aware that there have been rumors to the effect that PATRIARCA had an interest in WCAP. He stated that there is absolutely no truth to such a story, and he said he is positive that PATRIARCA never had any money invested in WCAP.

Re your airtel 8-31-61. Authority is granted for your office to conduct an RFMT survey to determine the feasibility of establishing such coverage on Raymond L. S. Patriarca.

The results of your survey, when furnished to the Bureau, [redacted]

[redacted] We will also need to know [redacted]

This installation will require [redacted] of the aforementioned instrument.

You should give this matter continuous attention and furnish the results of your survey to the Bureau as soon as possible.

NOTE: Boston, by airtel 8-31-61, requested authority to conduct an RFMT survey in an effort to establish coverage on Patriarca. A previous survey has concluded there is no other known type of acceptable installation which can be utilized at Patriarca's place of business which is a vending machine company.

Re Bureau airtel, captioned as above, dated 8/11/61, concerning efforts to develop a highly confidential source who can and will furnish information of value regarding PATRIARCA. The Bureau has previous correspondence concerning our efforts in this matter.

The Coin-O-Matic premises, 168 Atwells Ave., Providence, R. I., have been under continuous survey to determine the possibility of affecting a misur installation there. Previous surveys by individuals acquainted with the area and this technique have found that the property is a one story building partitioned into three stores. The power and telephone lines are exposed overhead. The subject's premises has a glass front through which the interior is easily observed from the store and is lighted throughout the entire night. Coin-O-Matic is under the exclusive control of PATRIARCA and access under secure conditions is not possible. According to informed sources, because of the area it would constitute a hazard to attempt to gain access to the premises of Coin-O-Matic.

Consideration is continually being given to the possibility of establishing misur coverage on some of PATRIARCA's subordinates. It has been established that these include JOSEPH PATRIARCA, LOUIS TAGLIANETTI and DAVID RICCI. JOSEPH PATRIARCA resides with his family in a single house in a residential neighborhood which offers minimum security. TAGLIANETTI has a heart condition and spends a great deal of time at his residence with his wife. RICCI has an invalid wife who is not permitted to leave the home. Efforts will be continued in this field.

PCT [redacted] a friend of [redacted] son of [redacted] PATRIARCA's [redacted] is presently under development. He has advised that all exits except for the front door are locked and barred from the inside. He stated there is no established pattern of traffic to Coin-O-Matic, since emergency repairs require employees of that concern to visit the shop at any given time, including week ends.

b7D

Informants also have advised that a large sum of money in coins is maintained on the premises of Coin-O-Matic for which reason PATRIARCA and his associates are acutely conscious of breaking and entering. Public hearings and accompanying publicity have also heightened the consciousness of the possibility of someone gaining access to Coin-O-Matic.

An additional survey and fisurs were conducted during the period 8/21-29, at which time it was determined that the obstacles encountered in this installation remain and no security can be assured. This matter will be closely and continuously followed to determine if there is any change in the security aspect.

Since no security can be assured, it would be appreciated if the Bureau would authorize this office to conduct an RFMT survey to determine the feasibility of establishing such coverage. It is felt that the Boston office has exhausted all possibilities to affect misur coverage at Coin-O-Matic and it is the hope that should the Bureau authorize the RFMT survey and subsequent installation, this office could develop highly confidential information concerning PATRIARCA, his activities and associates.

ADMINISTRATIVE

Careful consideration has been given to the sources concealed and T symbols were utilized in those instances where the identities of the sources must be protected.

An extra copy of this report will be transmitted to the USA, [redacted] at Providence, R. I. within 10 days of this report, UACB, per Buairtel dated 8/3/61.

New York airtel to Bureau dated 8/14/61, captioned "JOSEPH GREGORY GALLO, aka AR," furnished information which was made available by [redacted] which, in part, made reference to RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA in that a person named [redacted] was having a general conversation with a person named [redacted] and a person named [redacted] regarding borrowing money from various unnamed shylocks in NYC, and that [redacted] apparently referred to the current business venture of GALLO and his brothers, The Direct Vending, Inc., 51 President Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. when [redacted] stated that they should be able to go to somebody and get money from them in order to build this business. [redacted] then mentioned the name RAYMOND PATRIARCA of Providence, R. I. stating that if someone wanted money and had a going business, they would be able to get money from him, referring to PATRIARCA.

This information is not being included in the details of this report, as the NYO has advised that "extreme care and caution should be used concerning information furnished by this informant" and if it is to be used, this valuable informant should not be compromised. Since these reports are disseminated, it is felt that this information should not appear in the details of this report.

On 8/25-31/61 fisurs were maintained at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, R. I., known hangout of subject, in an effort to survey the area in order to ascertain if a highly confidential source could be made available for this area. Results of this survey have been furnished the Bureau by separate communication.

On 8/29/61 a conference was had with NATHAN KATZ, Special Agent, Intelligence Unit, Internal Revenue Service (IRS), Elmwood Avenue, Providence, R. I., by SA [redacted] at which time he said his department had not developed any additional information concerning subject than that already known; that they were still conducting their investigation into tax matters of the subject and the person requested by [redacted]

Departmental Attorney [redacted] which names have already been reported. To date his department has not come up with anything of an evidentiary nature concerning subject or his associates, but his investigation will take some time to complete.

During this discussion the subject of the Fall River Stevedoring Co., Fall River, Mass. came up, wherein considerable investigation has been conducted by this office to determine if subject had an interest therein. However, in reading the U. S. Narcotics Bureau letter which started this investigation, it was noted that the informant in this matter made reference to the fact that [redacted]

In view of the fact that there may possibly be some ambiguity in connection with this statement of the informant, it is felt that inquiry should be made at the State Pier, Fall River, Mass. in an effort to determine if such a cement processing plant is in existence and, if so, will determine owners of this plant and interview them in order to determine if subject has, or had, any interest in this plant.

[redacted] but does not know if contemplated action of calling witnesses against subject, as a wedge for obtaining information re subject, will be used, as he received telephone call from Departmental Attorney [redacted] wherein [redacted] thought it should wait, as there may be possibility IRS [redacted] USA [redacted] unable to state if tax matter case against subject or subject's associates, as [redacted] not too communicative about matter over phone. [redacted] told USA [redacted] he would contact him before 9/11/61, at which time USA [redacted] will confidentially advise this office of contemplated action to be taken by Department.

On 8/31/61 [redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island Branch Plantation Bank of Rhode Island, interviewed concerning possible violation of Federal Reserve Act matter in connection with bank loans made to individuals who had been identified by bank officials as undesirable. [redacted] advised he first became acquainted with JOSEPH PATRIARCA, brother of subject, approximately three years ago through a mutual friend, [redacted] Johnston, R. I. At that time JOSEPH PATRIARCA was aware that the Johnston, R. I. branch had recently been opened for business and volunteered to [redacted] that he, JOSEPH PATRIARCA, would have his savings account transferred from another bank to help [redacted] build a new account record, which account, to date, JOSEPH PATRIARCA has not done. [redacted] said JOSEPH PATRIARCA subsequently did bring to his bank JOHN ROSSI, owner, Eastern Leasing Co., and Rossi Motor Sales, both North Providence, R. I., where ROSSI obtained both business and personal loans. JOSEPH PATRIARCA also brought to bank two or three other individuals who obtained loans and who have since repaid them.

[redacted] advised JOSEPH DI CARLO, former officer of the bankrupt "Club Baghdad, Inc.," was also a personal friend of JOSEPH PATRIARCA and obtained short term and personal loans in his own name and that of "Club Baghdad, Inc.," which loans have been rewritten several times and are presently in the hands of bank attorneys for collection. [redacted] advised he did not meet DI CARLO through JOSEPH PATRIARCA, but through conversation with DI CARLO and JOSEPH PATRIARCA, determined they were close friends. [redacted] said subsequently loans were made to individuals who were friends of DI CARLO and JOSEPH PATRIARCA. These individuals, according to [redacted] must have been "bookies" because of their relationship with JOSEPH PATRIARCA and DI CARLO. Also when these individuals applied for loans he usually called JOSEPH PATRIARCA to ascertain if JOSEPH PATRIARCA knew them and if they would pay loans back when due. On behalf of these recommendations, the loans were issued.

[redacted] stated he was trying to build up branch office statistics for new accounts and operate at a profit. He stated he made numerous loans to these individuals, the majority always paying off these notes promptly.

[redacted] advised there are presently 10 to 15 loans which have been unpaid and the majority of the loans were made to JOSEPH DI CARLO under his own name, his brother's name, his wife, and mother. When DI CARLO was unable to pay notes when due, he renewed the notes and at the same time DI CARLO brought other friends to bank who obtained loans, and the profits of these loans were usually used to reduce outstanding obligations of DI CARLO loans and loans made to others who had been referred by DI CARLO or JOSEPH PATRIARCA.

[redacted] said he never received any money from DI CARLO or JOSEPH PATRIARCA, or any of the individuals who obtained loans, as he was mainly interested in making a good record.

[redacted] said [redacted] moved from fifth place to second place for statistical accomplishments. He said he was not involved in any scheme or plan with JOSEPH PATRIARCA, subject, or anyone else. [redacted] said he knows subject and at no time did subject ever refer anyone to him for a loan, nor did subject ever attempt to obtain a loan for himself. [redacted] said he realizes now he has been "used" by JOSEPH PATRIARCA and others because there are presently $30,000 worth of loans outstanding and delinquent, and that almost every loan outstanding was made to DI CARLO and individuals whom DI CARLO referred to the bank.

[redacted] has no knowledge that JOSEPH PATRIARCA received any money or commission from individuals referred to this bank and PAGE was under the impression JOSEPH PATRIARCA was trying to help him build up this branch as a favor to [redacted] who is also a good friend of [redacted].

Since the interview with [redacted] did not develop any information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, the results of this interview is not being included in the details of this report but will be reported to the Bureau under Bosfile 29-879, entitled [redacted] a copy of which report will be made available to the Bureau in the near future.

During 8/61 and on 9/5/61 contacts have been maintained with PCI [redacted] in an effort to develop him as a source close to subject in order to penetrate the inner circle of subject's group at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, R. I., which is the hangout of subject.

ADMINISTRATIVE (Continued)

To date no information of value has been obtained, but efforts are being continued in this regard, and if any information is forthcoming, it will be immediately furnished the Bureau.

ANTI-RACKETEERING

Synopsis:

Informants advise PATRIARCA has not been active and that his wife is becoming highly emotional over the recent newspaper publicity concerning his appearance before Congressional Committee. This is causing PATRIARCA some concern over his wife's physical and mental condition. Another informant advised that in 1955 [redacted] East Boston, Mass., arranged to hire barn on property [redacted] near Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, R. I., which was then used for purposes of obtaining and transmitting racing results. Informant stated PATRIARCA did not make any contacts with [redacted] or anyone else to obtain rental of this barn. Investigation in 1955 by Rhode Island State Police verified fact telephone equipment was in this barn. [redacted] furnished signed statement to Rhode Island State Police, 4/1/55, in which he stated he was offered $50 per week for use of his house. Only identification he had for individuals who talked to him were the names [redacted] and [redacted] was unable to identify photographs of suspects at that time. Mrs. [redacted] interviewed by FBI, 9/1/61, and denied any knowledge her property had been used in 1955 to transmit race results. IN VIEW OF PATRIARCA'S PAST INVOLVEMENT IN CRIMES OF VIOLENCE, HE SHOULD BE CONSIDERED ARMED AND DANGEROUS.

BS 92-118

DETAILS:

1. BACKGROUND

On September 1, 1961, BS T-1 advised RAYMOND PATRIARCA has not been active; that he continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island; that PATRIARCA will not have anyone hang around at this place, as he wants no trouble with the law; and that PATRIARCA is not talking to many people as he is suspicious of anyone who talks to him.

On September 1, 1961, BS T-2 advised HELEN G. PATRIARCA, wife of RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, is becoming highly emotional over recent newspaper publicity concerning her husband's appearance before Senator McClellan's investigating committee, which is causing PATRIARCA some concern over his wife's physical and mental condition. Informant stated he has not been able to develop any additional information concerning PATRIARCA's desire to move to Arizona.

2. FRIENDS AND ASSOCIATES

On August 30, 1961, [redacted]

[redacted] advised he has no additional information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA and he had no information that PATRIARCA would be, or is, connected with any wire service operations.

He said he does not know [redacted] of Sports Day Weekly, Boston, Massachusetts; but does know FRANK FERRARA who is presently incarcerated in a federal prison. He said he does not know if PATRIARCA knows FRANK FERRARA and would not have any information that PATRIARCA and FERRARA would have any business interests.

3. MISCELLANEOUS

The following investigation was conducted to determine the identity of a vehicle parked in front of 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, bearing Florida license 6WW3709, on August 18, 1961.

On August 21, 1961 the Miami Office advised that Florida license 6WW3709 is issued to The Narragansett Lumber Company, 110 Dyfield Street, Providence, Rhode Island, for a 1960 Cadillac sedan, VID 60M101350.

The records of the Palm Beach County Credit Bureau and the Lumberman's Credit Association, West Palm Beach, Florida, were negative.

On August 22, 1961 a check of the Providence, Rhode Island City Directory reflects [redacted] the Narragansett Lumber Company, 110 Byfield Street, Providence, Rhode Island.

On August 23, 1961, [redacted] Narragansett Lumber Company, 110 Byfield Street, Providence, Rhode Island, advised he drives a 1960 Cadillac bearing Florida license 6WW3709; that this car is registered in the State of Florida because they have other business interests there and he lives there during the winter months.

He said he recalls parking this vehicle in front of 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, on August 18, 1961 in order to get a haircut at Al Pitoocco's Barber Shop, 172 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island. He said he has been a customer of PITOCCO's for many years; that PITOCCO had his shop on Union Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, and recently moved to 172 Atwells Avenue, Providence, when the previous barber at Atwells Avenue died and he, PITOCCO, rented the shop.

He said he does not know RAYMOND PATRIARCA and has never had any dealings with him.

On August 23, 1961 and September 5, 1961 BS T-1 advised he has not received any information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA and has been unable to develop any information of any illegal activities in which PATRIARCA may be involved.

On August 23, 1961, BS T-3 advised he has no information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

On August 23, 1961, BS T-4 advised that no pertinent activity was noted in the vicinity of 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island.

On August 24, 1961 a news item appearing in the "Providence Journal," a Providence, Rhode Island daily newspaper, captioned "TIES PATRIARCA TO LINCOLN TRACK SPOTTING," indicates a United States Senate gambling inquiry witness, [redacted] linked RAYMOND E. S. PATRIARCA to the 1955 installation of an observation post outside Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, Rhode Island, in order to relay racing results quickly to bookmakers. [redacted] said it was through PATRIARCA's intervention that the [redacted] family" was persuaded to permit use of the [redacted] premises adjacent to the track for a man with binoculars to view the progress and finish of horse races.

[redacted] further testified it took several visits to persuade [redacted] not further identified, to let his property be used for that purpose and that FRANK FERRARA got in touch with PATRIARCA, or PATRIARCA's office, and final arrangements then were made with [redacted]

On August 24, 1961, BS T-7 advised that in 1955 [redacted] also known as [redacted] of East Boston, Massachusetts and [redacted] the Sports Day Weekly, a wire service operating out of Boston, Massachusetts, had contacted [redacted] near Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, Rhode Island. This informant said that there was a barn located on this property; that the barn was located about 800 yards behind the [redacted] house, which barn [redacted] Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, Rhode Island.

Informant said that a peep hole was installed in the side of the barn near the roof; that a person named [redacted] and an employee of Sports Day Weekly, Boston, used binoculars to obtain racing results of the races at Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, Rhode Island, who, in turn, "kicked" the results to [redacted] at Boston, Massachusetts.

Informant said RAYMOND PATRIARCA did not make any contacts with [redacted] or anyone else to obtain the rental of this barn.

On page one of the "Providence Journal," a Providence, Rhode Island daily newspaper, dated August 25, 1961, appeared an item captioned, "PATRIARCA AND PICILLO NOT TO BE QUESTIONED."

This article stated, in substance, that the Senate's permanent investigations subcommittee, still midway through its probe of interstate gambling, last night dismissed without a hearing RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA and WARREN V. PICILLO. There was no direct mention of PATRIARCA or any alleged activities of PATRIARCA in this news item.

On August 28, 1961, [redacted] Detective Division, Rhode Island State Police, Scituate, Rhode Island, advised that his records show that on March 29, 1955 [redacted] of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, Providence, Rhode Island, had advised his department that he believed that a telephone from the house of [redacted] born [redacted] of [redacted] Lincoln, Rhode Island, was transmitting race results from the Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, Rhode Island.

Investigation by the telephone company and then [redacted] of the Rhode Island State Police, showed that a telephone line running out of [redacted] house was giving the last minute odds and then a running description of the race at this track.

Investigation was continued in this matter, and on March 31, 1955 [redacted] went to the [redacted] home and asked if they could check the telephone equipment, and said they were admitted by a person identifying himself as [redacted] of East Boston, Massachusetts. A check of the telephone equipment revealed an unauthorized 25-foot extension cord from the living room to the phone in the bedroom. Also found in this room was a bell telephone, storage batteries and a table model radio. The cellar wire was followed to the outside of the house, running underground for a distance and then laying on the ground which lead to the barn, which barn had a clear shot of the tote board at Lincoln Downs Race Track.

Seized in the raid were the following:

[redacted] born [redacted] of [redacted]
[redacted] East Boston, Massachusetts.

[redacted] born [redacted] of [redacted]
[redacted] East Boston, Massachusetts.

[redacted] born [redacted] of [redacted]
[redacted] Lincoln, Rhode Island.

[redacted] was interviewed on April 1, 1955 and a signed statement obtained wherein he said that a fellow named [redacted] not further identified, approached him at East Boston and wanted to know if he wanted to work, and when he replied in the affirmative, he was told he would be taken to the Lincoln Downs Race Track where he would work with another fellow getting race results of the races and giving the results back over the telephone. He was taken to the Lincoln Downs Race Track by [redacted] where he met [redacted] and was told he was to work in the [redacted] house, and that [redacted] would furnish him with race results and the running of the races. He was further told he would give them to [redacted] when [redacted] called him on the phone at the [redacted] house. He said [redacted] would ring him from the barn and that he would then hold his telephone open and [redacted] could listen to the race description which was being relayed by [redacted]. He said he had no additional data concerning this operation.

[redacted] was interviewed on April 1, 1955 and in a signed statement said he was approached by FRANK FERRARA about four weeks previously and was asked to go to work for the All News Publications, 206 Essex Street, Boston, Massachusetts; that he would be employed as a reporter for the publications; that he was to go to Rhode Island to the Lincoln Downs Race Track, which spot FERRARA explained to him, and that he was to work there sending in race information to the All News Publications. He said he would listen to the results of the races that would come over the loud speaker system and relay them to [redacted] house, and the person at this house would relay them to Boston, Massachusetts. He said he worked out of [redacted] barn.

On April 1, 1955 [redacted] Lincoln, Rhode Island, was interviewed and on the same date a signed statement was obtained where he said that in the last part of February, 1955, he was approached by two fellows who introduced themselves as [redacted] and the other fellow he could not recall. They asked him if he would allow them to use his telephone for the purpose of some kind of race information, which he refused them. About two or three days later, both individuals returned and again they asked to use his phone, which he refused, but about three or four days before the racing meet at Lincoln Downs Race Track these same two individuals returned and explained that they would not touch his telephone, and that they would give him $50 per week for the use of his house. At this time he agreed to the proposition and he gave them permission to put any equipment in that they wanted to, just as long as it did not interfere with his telephone service. On March 4, 1955 two young fellows came to his house identifying themselves as companions of this [redacted] and he allowed them to start the installation of the illegal equipment on the telephone. On Saturday, March 5, 1955, a fellow named [redacted] came to the house and told him he was going to use the phone. At that time there was another fellow with him, identity not known. He said that [redacted] wore a hearing aid.

[redacted] said this investigation by his department had not developed any information that RAYMOND L.S. PATRIARCA had any connection with this operation, and at no time had his department developed any information that PATRIARCA had any connection with the installation of this illegal telephone service to obtain racing information.

[redacted] further advised that on January 24, 1956 [redacted] Massachusetts State Police, and [redacted] Investigator for the Massachusetts Crime Commission, came to the Rhode Island State Police stating that they were interested in knowing if [redacted] could identify the photographs of two individuals suspected of installing and operating telephones and transmitting equipment in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts area.

The two individuals were [redacted] born [redacted] of [redacted] and [redacted] born [redacted] of [redacted] Massachusetts. Both of these individuals were going before the Massachusetts Crime Commission on Friday, January 26, 1956, for investigation into their alleged illegal activities and also relative to what their connection is with FRANK FERRARA of Boston, Massachusetts.

The object of this investigation in Rhode Island was to try to tie in [redacted] and FERRARA with the installation of the equipment at the [redacted] home.

[redacted] was contacted in the presence of the two above-mentioned individuals, along with then Corporal [redacted] of the Rhode Island State Police, and the photographs of [redacted] and [redacted] were shown to [redacted] and [redacted]. [redacted] was unable to identify the photograph of [redacted] but said that [redacted] appeared similar to the individual who supervised the installation at his house. [redacted] again said that the fellow named [redacted] (Last Name Unknown) contacted him and that [redacted] wore a hearing aid and that another fellow known to him only as [redacted] contacted him.

[redacted] said that no information was obtained on this occasion that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had been involved in this operation, and his department had never developed any information that PATRIARCA had been involved.

On September 1, 1961 [redacted] Lincoln, Rhode Island, wife of [redacted] advised both she and her husband formerly resided at [redacted] Lincoln, Rhode Island, having moved to this address about a month ago. She also said that her husband formerly worked at the [redacted] Louisquisset Pike, Lincoln, Rhode Island, and that they formerly owned a house close by this [redacted] that they also owned a barn which was located about [redacted]

She stated that she has read newspaper accounts concerning her husband's being involved in renting his barn so that results of races could be spotted from his barn, and that newspaper accounts had made reference to the fact that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had made the arrangements for the renting of this barn; however, she said she had no information concerning this matter and had no idea that her telephone was being used to transmit race results.

She stated that her husband is presently at Scarborough Downs Race Track, Scarborough, Massachusetts, and on September 4, 1961 he will be located at Berkshire Downs, Pittsfield, Massachusetts and that he will be employed as a [redacted]

BS-92-118

On August 29, 1961, BS T-5 advised his department has not developed any information of interest for the FBI in regard to RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA.

On August 29, 1961, [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island Police Department, advised he has not developed any information that RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA has violated any local, state or federal laws. He stated that if any information concerning PATRIARCA comes to his attention, he will immediately notify this office.

On September 5, 1961, [redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island Police Department, advised that he was present during the majority of the hearing conducted by the Rhode Island Public Utilities in regard to [redacted] in his request to obtain three additional telephones for [redacted] The Hill Road Publishing and News Co., Gansett Avenue, Cranston, Rhode Island, which, according to [redacted] is a wire service for race results. [redacted] stated that at no time during this hearing was the name of RAYMOND PATRIARCA brought into the hearing, and at no time was there any information or indication that PATRIARCA had any dealings or connections with [redacted] or the Hill Road Publishing and News Co., Cranston, Rhode Island.

On September 5, 1961, [redacted] Liquor Control Board, State of Rhode Island, stated that his liquor inspectors have never made any type of a report which would indicate that RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA is involved in the illegal sale or distribution of alcoholic beverages within, or out of, the state of Rhode Island.

On September 5, 1961, BS T-6 advised he has no information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA and has no information that he has or had violated any local, state or federal laws.

SUBJECT: RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA

ReBureau airtel 8/11/61.

A review of the Boston file shows that [redacted] for many years has been engaged in car thefts and in the interstate transportation of same. During [redacted] he was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury at Providence, Rhode Island, and was arrested on [redacted] on a charge of [redacted]

On [redacted] he appeared in the U. S. District Court, at Providence, Rhode Island, and was placed in the constant control of the Attorney General of the U. S. for a period of 60 days for treatment and supervision, and at the end of that period a final disposition was to be made. On [redacted] after receiving the results of this observation U. S. District Judge EDWARD W. DAY gave him a two-year probationary sentence on each of two indictments.

The files also show that during 1958 he was arrested by the Providence, Rhode Island Police Department after his name appeared on a registration certificate in Rhode Island on a car determined to have been stolen in Boston. He admitted receipt of the car [redacted]

He admitted selling this car to [redacted] Because his confession could not be corroborated, the U. S. Attorney at Providence declined prosecution in this case. The [redacted] sentence that the subject [redacted] was imposed upon him at the Federal District Court at Boston on [redacted] in a case in which he was involved with others in the theft and interstate transportation of a large number of cars. His actual sentence was on an indictment charging him with the interstate transportation of [redacted] motor vehicles from Rhode Island to Massachusetts.

SEP 15 1961

In January, 1953, a 137 case was opened by SA [redacted] who had in mind the possibility of developing this individual as an informant because of the agent's dealings with the subject during the course of an investigation of a case involving the theft of a car in [redacted] and its transportation to Providence, Rhode Island, by the subject in 1952. On 2/20/53, he advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA and [redacted] the bookmaking business in the Maine area and that they were associated in Portland, Maine, with [redacted]. He said that [redacted] was arrested in Maine for bookmaking and was told by PATRIARCA to cease operations but contrary to PATRIARCA's instructions remained there operating on his own. He said that about six months prior to 2/20/53, PATRIARCA had informed all of his agents to cease operations as he did not intend to back them any longer. He said some of the agents ceased operations and others began operating on their own with no connections with PATRIARCA. He also said that he had heard it mentioned that PATRIARCA owned two engineering firms in Rhode Island and that he thought he might own the engineering firm which was at that time building a wing on the Providence, Rhode Island Library. He also said that PATRIARCA had a good contact in the labor unions in Providence, Rhode Island.

b7c

Informant said that he [redacted] PATRIARCA [redacted] and that he became known to PATRIARCA through [redacted]. He said he had also heard that PATRIARCA was now betting on horses through a diner in Pawtucket, Rhode Island, and another location in Attleboro, Massachusetts.

b6

On 3/17/53, he reported information indicating that a stolen Cadillac car was concealed in a garage in Providence, Rhode Island. Subsequent investigation showed that this car was not stolen but was there for the purpose of having repairs made to it.

After the subject's arrest on 4/14/53, for the interstate transportation of stolen motor vehicle, his case was closed. It was reopened on 12/1/58, to see whether or not he could be developed to a point where he could give information of value to this office. On a contact made with him on 1/8/58, he advised SA [redacted] that he had no information to report and that he had no information in his possession that would be of value to this bureau. He said he had no desire to be contacted in the future and would not furnish any information to this bureau; consequently, his case was closed.

On August 24, and 25, 1961, [redacted] U. S. Probation Officer, Federal Building, Providence, Rhode Island, advised SA [redacted] that his records for [redacted] reflect a Federal Correctional Institution Report from [redacted] dated May 6, 1954, for [redacted] FBI No. [redacted]

b7C

[redacted] at that time was one of the principals in a [redacted] operating out of Providence, Rhode Island, for over a year.

b6
b7D

His relationship with his family does not mean a great deal to him as far as [redacted] is concerned. He has average intelligence when working with concrete mechanical problems but is quite dull verbally.

b6
b7C

The psychiatrist report prepared by [redacted] of the [redacted] is as follows:

b7C

"Basically [redacted] has a low I.Q., and his terrific need to succeed and his striving to do a good job well makes him appear to be functioning at a level higher than his real intelligence quotient. He is somewhat vague and withdrawn in certain fields so that the impression is he is very Schizoid and is in need of further guidance which could be done on a very superficial level, and it does not mean any type of intensive psychiatric therapy:.

b6

"It is felt he could make an adjustment if certain rules were followed, namely, have a definite job to go to, develop new companions, and a new environment as he does tend to be influenced and needs guidance and possibly even some type of group therapy situation in a Guidance Clinic to help him adjust.

"No definite psychotic process was found, and no abnormal sex drives were encountered. He tends to have a limited reasoning power which makes for his need for good supervision and guidance. There was found many traces of deeper underlying problems, but it was felt, in view of his adjustments, these difficulties were just as well ignored at this time and nothing could be gained by intensive psychiatric therapy of an uncovering nature.

"In verbal abstract area he is relatively dull. On Weschler-Bellevue Test he earned a scale I.Q. of 80, performance scale L.Q. 101 giving him a full scale average of 89.

"Basically he is a rather restricted personality type who perceives the world as a rather threatening aggressive place, and there is an underlying guardedness in his approach to people. He appears to be an easily led youth when offered the opportunity for "easy money"."

[redacted] also advised that a Parole Report Progress sheet of the Federal Correctional Institution, [redacted] Connecticut, dated 6/1/61, reflects that at the time [redacted] registered for the Selective Service Act of 1948 and was placed in classification 4-F.

A brief medical history attached to this report showed the following:

"Patient gives a history of Status Post Pilonidal Cystectomy performed in June, 1960, and states for past two years he has had dizzy spells."

BS 92-118

Neuropsychiatric - not evaluated.

His family is listed as follows:

Father:

Mother:

Sister:

Brother:

b7C

It is apparent from the above psychiatric record of [redacted] that his mental and emotional stability are questionable. It would appear from all the facts available that [redacted] feels that he can use this bureau to obtain his early release from prison. The file shows that he is to be paroled as of [redacted]. He has definitely set down as conditions of his furnishing information that this bureau make efforts to reduce his sentence: [redacted]

b6
b7D

He also said that even after the bureau met all of his proposed conditions, he may find after his release that it might become impossible to furnish to the bureau information with safety.

Obviously this bureau is not in a position to intercede on his behalf to have an early release or transfer. It is this office's recommendation that [redacted] continue to be contacted, and any specific information he has which it is felt to be of assistance to this bureau in any specific case or in the general criminal intelligence field be obtained from him on a C.O.D. basis.

BS 92-118

DETAILS:

I. BACKGROUND

On September 12, 1961, BS T-1 advised RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA continues to reside at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island; that he continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, where he will remain for the day and then return to his residence during the evening hours and where he will remain during the evening.

BS T-1 said PATRIARCA will not go anywhere; that he does not allow anyone to visit him at home, and that he does not visit anyone.

BS T-1 also said that PATRIARCA will not allow many people to hang around at Atwells Avenue as he used to do; that the only people that hang around or who can frequent this place are close friends or people who have business to conduct there either with PATRIARCA [REDACTED] PATRIARCA [REDACTED] [REDACTED] the cigarette vending machine business.

On September 15, 1961, BS T-2 advised that information was developed that PATRIARCA is becoming highly emotional; that it appears that he may be heading for a nervous breakdown; that he is suspicious of everyone and is quite concerned over his wife's condition, as she is becoming highly nervous over his recent publicity in the Providence newspaper. He also heard that subject has two men staying across the street from his place of business at 168 Atwells Avenue so that they can keep a watch of suspicious cars going through the area, and that they are also on the alert for any individuals in the area who are not known there.

2. FRIENDS AND ASSOCIATES

Date 9/7/61

ALBERT LEPORE, 371 Grotto Avenue, Pawtucket, Rhode Island, advised he has known RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA for many years, having grown up with him in Providence, Rhode Island.

LEPORE said he knows nothing about PATRIARCA's personal or business life; that he does not know anything about PATRIARCA, and further stated that he would not answer any questions concerning PATRIARCA, but would talk about himself.

In regard to himself, he said he is unemployed; that he earns his living by going to the race tracks in the New England area, and during the winter season he may go to Florida for his health where he plays the horses.

He said that during the latter part of January, 1961 he went to Miami Beach, Florida where he stayed about five or six weeks, staying at the Johnina Hotel, Collins Avenue. He denied going to Florida with RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA or PATRIARCA's son during the latter part of February, 1961 and denied seeing PATRIARCA, or PATRIARCA's son, in Florida during that time.

LEPORE is presently driving a 1961 Oldsmobile, color green, bearing Florida license 1W29806, which he states he has leased for a term of one year from the Interstate Acceptance Corporation, Miami, Florida and that he pays a rental fee of $100. a month for the renting of this car. The contract on this car expires in February, 1962.

He said he was formerly employed for Stadium Trading, Inc., Woonsocket, Rhode Island, which company is [redacted] [redacted] a [redacted] He said he was employed as a goodwill man in that he entertained customers of the company by taking them to the races and buying them food and alcoholic beverages in order to buy or sell waste material. He said he would realize a salary of about $4,000. to $5,000. per year, but he has been unemployed for the past year or year and a half due to the fact that the United States Internal Revenue has gone into this company and conducted an investigation and [redacted] does not know if he should retain his services, as there is some discussion over the expenses incurred by this company.

On 9/6/61 at Pawtucket, Rhode Island File # Boston 92-118

by SA [redacted] Date dictated 9/6/61

BS 92-118

LEPORE said he had no idea who the officers of Stadium Trading, Inc. were; that he had no information that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had invested any money into the organization, and further stated that he has known [redacted] and "GABE" D'AMICO for some time but had no idea of information that they were ever employed for Stadium Trading, Inc. b6 b7C

He said he does not own his house at 371 Grotto Avenue, Pawtucket, Rhode Island, but the Roger Williams Realty Company is the owner of the house, but he said the officers of this corporation are as follows: b6 b7C

[redacted]

President and Treasurer
[redacted]

He said this corporation was organized about 10 or 11 years ago for the purpose of building this house at 371 Grotto Avenue, Pawtucket, Rhode Island, and that the house was built by a private contractor.

He said he has no savings accounts but does maintain a small checking account at the Industrial National Bank, Charles Street Branch, Charles Street, Providence, Rhode Island.

LEPORE also stated that his brother, ERNEST LEPORE, who also knew RAYMOND PATRIARCA, has been deceased since January, 1961, having died from the effects of a heart attack.

On September 7, 1961, [redacted] Detective Division, Rhode Island State Police, Scituate, Rhode Island, advised JOHN F. NAZARIAN of 209 Webster Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, has been picked up by his department as a suspect in a hit and run accident in Johnston, Rhode Island; that both he and his detectives have questioned NAZARIAN about this incident along with other matters and have not been able to obtain any information from him.

[redacted] stated he was unable to elicit any information from NAZARIAN concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

Date 9/8/61

JOHN FRANCIS NAZARIAN, born May 3, 1926, of 209 Webster Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, was advised he did not have to make any statement; that any statement he did make could be used against him in a court of law, and he had the right to consult an attorney before making any statement.

He stated he first met RAYMOND PATRIARCA about seven or eight years ago and from that time on has only said "hello" to PATRIARCA and has never had any business dealings with PATRIARCA and has never discussed any business matters with PATRIARCA.

He said he has no information concerning PATRIARCA; that he has no idea what PATRIARCA does for a living, but he did know that PATRIARCA can always be found at the corner of Dean and Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island.

He said that in the last six or seven months he has seen PATRIARCA on about two occasions, and on those occasions he only said "hello" to PATRIARCA and never did have any discussion with PATRIARCA.

He said he has not been gainfully employed since 1953 and in 1952 he was employed for Gilbane Construction, Providence, Rhode Island, when he was injured on the job and received a salary of approximately $35 per week until 1953, when he went on City Welfare in the city of Providence, Rhode Island.

He said that on occasions he has sold what he described as "gaffer" watches, making a few dollars on this type of merchandise, but that he realized very little money from this.

He denied that he ever took orders from PATRIARCA and denied ever using strong-arm methods and further denied going out of state for PATRIARCA.

3. MISCELLANEOUS

On August 30, 1961, the Washington Field Office advised that [redacted] United States Senate Committee on Government Operations, Washington, D. C., had said that this committee does not intend to subpoena PATRIARCA in connection with the hearings being conducted.

BS T-3, on September 7, 1961, advised he had no information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA.

On September 7, 1961 BS T-4 advised he had no information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA.

Investigation was conducted at Fall River, Massachusetts in order to determine if there could be a cement processing plant at the State Pier and, if one existed, investigation was to be conducted in an effort to determine if RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA would have an interest in such an organization if one was located.

On September 7, 1961, [redacted] State Pier, Fall River, Massachusetts, advised that there is no cement processing plant located on this pier.

[redacted] explained that when the Fall River Stevedoring Co. had the contract for unloading ships for Forrester Coal Co. it not only unloaded and stored cement, but also rebagged broken cement bags and also outloaded cement in bags and bulk. This latter function was not a cement processing function and there was no separate corporation handling the rebagging and outloading operation.

[redacted] knows PATRIARCA only from newspaper reputation. He has never seen or talked with the subject to his knowledge, either on the State Pier or otherwise, and [redacted] knows of no interest which PATRIARCA might have in the Fall River Stevedoring Corp.

A quarter-page advertisement appeared in the "Providence Sunday Journal," September 11, 1961, and the "Providence Journal," and the "Providence Evening Bulletin," on September 12, 1961, a Providence, Rhode Island daily newspaper, which carried the following advertisement, which was in the form of a letter signed by RAYMOND PATRIARCA, entitled, "PATRIARCA ANSWERS THE PROVIDENCE JOURNAL." This advertisement is as follows:

"For many years past your newspapers have intermittently insinuated that I am the head of some vague underworld of crime. In your colored and slanted news columns, I have been gratuitously characterized by the most unsavory names.

"Prior to my appearance before the McClellan Committee in 1959, your newspapers carried descriptions of me which could only be calculated to hold me up to public scorn and contempt. Nevertheless, I answered every question propounded to me by that Committee, and no competent testimony was then adduced to connect me in any way with the subjects, then under its consideration.

"On July 24 last I received a subpoena which commanded my appearance again before that Committee on August 1 to testify concerning subject matters which it was then considering. A few days after my receipt of the subpoena, your newspapers again indulged in a studied policy of prejudicing and prejudging me by the use of degrading epithets. Therein I was designated as 'the reputed kingpin of rackets in Rhode Island.'

"After a few continuances I arrived in Washington for the purpose of answering such questions as the members of the Committee cared to ask me. After waiting its pleasure for two days, I was excused from testifying.

"Not an iota of competent testimony was there elicited to link me to any illegal enterprise or activity. Nevertheless The Providence Journal of August 24th flaunted on its front page the following headline: 'TIES PATRIARCA TO LINCOLN TRACK SPOTTING.' Below this glaring headline in small print it was stated that one 'Thomas McCardle, former counsel to the defunct Massachusetts Crime Commission testified that it was through Patriarca's intervention that a "Cimini Family" was persuaded to permit use of its premises adjacent to the track for a man with binoculars to view the progress and finish of horse races.'

"I was present and heard Mr. McArdle's testimony. He testified in referring to me and as reported by your newspaper, 'I have never seen him.' His testimony was based on the crassest hearsay without any identification of the source of his information.

"The next day Captain Arthur J. Newton of the Rhode Island State Police testified that he had participated in the raid 'on the Cimini Family premises.' Not once during his testimony was my name mentioned. If I were in any wise implicated in the alleged 'Cimini' affair, an honest and expert investigator, such as Captain Newton is, would have discovered that fact and disclosed it to the Committee. The failure of the police, who actually made the 'raid' and conducted the ensuing investigation, to connect me with that transaction is strong proof that I was not therein implicated. Furthermore, I do not know any 'Cimini Family' and explicitly deny that either I or any one for me ever approached any 'Cimini Family.'

"Since my release from prison in 1944 after completion of a sentence for crime committed in 1938 when I was thirty years of age, my time has been continuously and assiduously employed in honest endeavors. This is the result of my firm resolution made, while I was imprisoned, to amend my life. This resolution has been conscientiously and strictly maintained. I challenge you to prove by competent evidence that I have since, in any degree, deviated from that resolution by my engagement in any illegal or criminal enterprise or activity.

"By my adherence thereto, for the past seventeen years, I believe that I have brought some measure of happiness to the two people whom I love and with whose welfare I am primarily concerned. These are my dear wife and my sixteen year old son, who, I am confident, is now and will continue to be a respected citizen of this State. The good character of my son has been attained, in great part, by the loving guidance of his mother and, in some slight degree, by the example I humbly claim to be the result of my aforesaid resolution.

"The tranquility of my family has many times and oft been rudely disturbed by the rehashing of my criminal record in your news columns. I, more than you, deplore that record. How bitterly I realize the truth of a great poet's words 'The evil that men do lives after them; the good is often interred with their bones.' Your newspapers seem to take a fiendish delight in their unwarranted and unjustifiable characterizations of me which slyly infer that I am now and have always been engaged in illegal activities. These portrayals of me have caused great distress to my wife and son who are not responsible for my prior criminal record. My reaction to them has been for a long time one of smouldering resentment which finally has caused me to make this indignant but justifiable reply to you.

"I do not ask the charity of your silence nor do I expect any justice from an organization which uses its liberty of the press as a license to defame other human beings. What can I, with my criminal record, expect from a newspaper which often has paraded in its obituary columns the peccadillos of many former decent Rhode Island citizens.

"I seek nothing from you. However, I do expect fair play from the thousands of decent people who read your newspapers every day. They will decide whether I am to be vindicated or condemned in the councils of public opinion.

"On July 27th last a libel action was commenced by me against you by a writ issued out of the Superior Court of Providence County and returnable to that court on September 21st next. At that time my charges will be detailed in writing against you. Eventually this case will be tried to a jury at which time the good people of Rhode Island will have the opportunity to determine whether I am what you say I am or reputed to be.

"I challenge you to rest your defense on the truth of your publications concerning me and not to resort to a technical escape through the expedient of a 'qualified privilege.'

"I await the outcome with a clear conscience and implicit confidence in the impartial and objective judgment of the good people of Rhode Island.

"Yours sincerely.

"RAYMOND PATRIARCA"

On September 15, 1961, BS T-5 advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA will not allow anyone to hang out at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, because the majority of people who went there are on deferred sentences and PATRIARCA does not trust these individuals because he feels that they may want to curry the favor of the local police and furnish the police with some sort of information concerning him.

During interview on May 11, 1950, [redacted] admitted that he and four of his brothers operated a bookmaking establishment at 95 Prince Street, Boston, Massachusetts, directly across the street from a delicatessen-restaurant operated by his parents. He advised that there were no heavy money players in his area and that, since he and his brothers banked their own bets, they would not accept a large bet, particularly if the bet was on a longshot. He identified his brothers who operated the bookmaking establishment with him as GENNARO, also known as "GERRY"; DONATO, also known as "DAN"; [redacted] also known as [redacted] and MICHELE, also known as "MIKE." An informant advised during 1950 that the ANGIULO boys, who operated a bookmaking establishment at 95 Prince Street, Boston, Massachusetts, were probably the biggest bookies in the North End Section of Boston, and that to the best of his knowledge their illegal activity extended only to that field. The informant stated that he was familiar with most of the North End hoodlums and that none of them had ever associated with the ANGIULO brothers with any crimes or violence.

A source advised on August 27, 1951, that forty-five per cent of the lottery ticket called "The Local" had been purchased several months previously by the ANGIULO brothers, bookmakers on Prince Street in the North End of Boston.

On October 3, 1958, an informant described the ANGIULO brothers as the biggest money lenders in the City of Boston. He further described them as very large bookmakers.

An informant advised on May 16, 1960, that the ANGIULO brothers are still one of the largest group of bookies in the Boston area. The informant stated that the ANGIULOs are the only bookies who appear to be attempting to branch out because of the recent action by local and Federal authorities against bookmakers. The informant said that all of the other leading bookies are laying low but the ANGIULOs are contacting every Agent possible to get them to enter their employ. He believed this action would make them the leading bookmakers in the Massachusetts area in the near future. He stated that in addition to bookmaking the ANGIULOs were also very active in money lending.

The purpose of the interviews is to determine if a violation of the Federal Reserve Act Statute may be substantiated, and also for the purpose of interviewing those individuals who may be acquainted with both JOSEPH and RAYMOND PATRIARCA, keeping in mind that RAYMOND PATRIARCA is one of the top 40 hoodlums in the USA.

ADMINISTRATIVE:

On July 28, 1961, PCI [redacted] whose identity should be protected, and who has stated that should his identity become known, he would fear for his life, advised he knows [redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He said that [redacted] was single, and was romanced by the hoodlum element in Providence, Rhode Island. Also, [redacted] was a friend of JOSEPH PATRIARCA and other racket men in Rhode Island. He said that arrangements were made to have bookies and racket men go to [redacted] bank, and upon the recommendation of someone, possibly JOSEPH PATRIARCA, [redacted]

[redacted] PCI said that he had heard that JOSEPH PATRIARCA received a considerable amount of money through this racket with [redacted]

The New Haven Office, by communication dated [redacted] advised that [redacted] Connecticut, stated that should any information furnished by him become known to RAYMOND or JOSEPH PATRIARCA, he feels that his life would be in danger. [redacted] was interviewed on two separate occasions, [redacted] and in substance advised as follows:

[redacted] JOSEPH DI CARLO in a night club called the Club Baghdad, he [redacted] and refused to furnish information as to the name of the [redacted] individual on the loan. He said he had been in touch with JOSEPH PATRIARCA in this regard and the arrangements were made that a third party would go to the bank and obtain the loan and then [redacted] upon receiving the proceeds of the loan, would pay one half of the proceeds to JOSEPH PATRIARCA for seeing that the loan went through without any difficulty. [redacted] said he knew that this type of arrangement was available through either JOSEPH or RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

[redacted] when first interviewed, refused to identify the bank, the bank officer or the names that the loans went through under. When later interviewed and confronted with the information that the bank involved was the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, and [redacted] said he was very friendly with [redacted] and first met him socially in a legitimate matter in connection with banking matters. He said that [redacted] near Providence, Rhode Island, was single, liked a good time, and was interested in having girlfriends. He said that JOSEPH PATRIARCA became friendly with [redacted] socially through meetings at the Hob Nob Restaurant. The friendship developed to the point where [redacted] and JOSEPH PATRIARCA would go out evenings together with girls, but not procured by PATRIARCA as straight out and out prostitutes. [redacted] said that based on his knowledge, JOSEPH PATRIARCA was the principle person making the arrangements for these loans from [redacted] bank and it was JOSEPH PATRIARCA who received a percentage of the loan or a kickback when the loan was made. He said that in each instance where such a loan was made, JOSEPH PATRIARCA gave the okay.

[redacted] said that to the best of his knowledge, [redacted] did not receive a percentage of proceeds of the loan from the bank at least in the instance where [redacted] made [redacted] in spite of the fact that [redacted] and [redacted] were friendly at the time. [redacted] said that [redacted] loan would agree [redacted] would contact [redacted]

JOSEPH or RAYMOND PATRIARCA, whoever originally okayed the loan, and ask that the borrower be made to pay up the loan. [redacted] said that while being in JOSEPH PATRIARCA's presence, he heard PATRIARCA receive several of these calls and he would reply, "I'll take care of it", but he never seemed to do it.

[redacted] said, based on his knowledge of [redacted] possibly the first of these loans was made with the okay of one of the PATRIARCA brothers or one of their "clique" and was made in good faith by [redacted]. After many of the same type of loans occurred and collections were absent, then [redacted] became implicated to such an extent that he could do nothing but follow the instructions of the PATRIARCAS. At one point in the interview, [redacted] said that [redacted]

[redacted] PATRIARCAS [redacted] as though RAYMOND PATRIARCA was a god". According to [redacted] there must have been an understanding at some point in the relationship between [redacted] and the PATRIARCAS as to the manner in which such loans would be made. He said that he had never paid a kickback to [redacted] and had never heard of a kickback being made to [redacted].

[redacted] said that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had complete knowledge of this loan scheme and is involved in the scheme in this respect. He said that he had no first hand personal knowledge that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had okayed any loans, but on one occasion when [redacted] was present with both RAYMOND and JOSEPH PATRIARCA, a matter involving a loan came up. RAYMOND told JOSEPH "That is your department", and it is this remark which [redacted] took to mean that JOSEPH PATRIARCA is the principle person involved with this loan scheme. He said that RAYMOND PATRIARCA knows [redacted] well, but basically through JOSEPH PATRIARCA and RAYMOND PATRIARCA going to the Hob Nob Restaurant very infrequently.

[redacted] said that there was much more to the story than what had been discussed as above. Part of the story involves RAYMOND PATRIARCA directly as a conspirator, including a case in which a borrower, whose name he did not give, refused to give a kickback after obtaining a loan. This borrower appeared at the place of business of the PATRIARCAS when [redacted]

[redacted] RAYMOND and JOSEPH PATRIARCA. RAYMOND PATRIARCA made a phone call to an unknown person who verified that the borrower owed that man $1,000 and the unknown man then requested that PATRIARCA lay off the borrower by not demanding the kickback. There is also information, according to [redacted] pertaining to JOSEPH DI CARLO obtaining money from the Johnston Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island under false pretenses, but he would give no further detail. [redacted] said he would give the names of at least two other people who had obtained loans and who were "weak enough" to give the full details up to the point of testimony.

At this point, [redacted] set forth certain conditions under which he would furnish additional information, and these conditions had to do with the reduction of his sentence time at the FCI. The Boston Office made recommendations to the Bureau, suggesting that no concessions be made to [redacted] because of his unreliability. Also, investigation in this case to date has disclosed that [redacted] himself had obtained two $1,500 non secured loans under the names [redacted]

FEDERAL RESERVE ACT

Synopsis:

The Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, Johnston, Rhode Island Branch, is insured by the FDIC. Officials of the bank advise that [REDACTED] of the Branch, made personal and non secured loans to individuals whom they described as bookies and undesirable characters. A large number of the loans at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch are outstanding and a majority are delinquent. Some of the loans have been referred to the bank's attorneys for collection.

[REDACTED] interviewed and advised that the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank was open for business in approximately September, 1958, and that he made loans to individuals whom he knew to be respectable bookies. He said he always checked with JOSEPH PATRIARCA, brother of RAYMOND PATRIARCA, to ascertain if PATRIARCA knew the individual who wanted to borrow the money, and to determine if the individual would pay the loan when due. [REDACTED] said that he also became acquainted with JOSEPH DI CARLO brought who had opened a night club, the Club Baghdad, and he lent him and his friends money. [REDACTED] said that when DI CARLO's loans became due, and he was unable to pay them off, DI CARLO additional friends to the bank to obtain loans and some of the proceeds were used to reduce the principle amount of the DI CARLO loans. [REDACTED] denied being involved in any scheme with JOSEPH PATRIARCA, RAYMOND PATRIARCA, JOSEPH

DI CARLO or anyone else in connection with any loans made by him. [] said he never received "one cent" from anyone that he granted a loan. He stated that his purpose in making the loans was to establish a good record and have good statistics at his branch. [] said that when individuals wanted to make a loan at his branch, he always checked with JOSEPH PATRIARCA to determine if he knew the individual and if the individual would pay back the loan when due. He stated he never contacted RAYMOND PATRIARCA in connection with any loan. []

[] Providence, Rhode Island, advised that they signed notes for $1,500 loans at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch, the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, at the request of [] said that he received $25.00 for signing his name and [] said that he received nothing.

[redacted] Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, 61 Weybosset Street, Providence, Rhode Island, advised that [redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island Branch, had been relieved of his duties and was presently assigned to the main office of the bank.

[redacted] stated that an examination of the loans at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch disclosed that there was approximately $100,000.00 in loans which, in [redacted] opinion, were made to bookies and other undesirable characters. [redacted] said that a large number of the loans are still outstanding and a majority of them are delinquent. Also, [redacted] had extended more credit than allowed by the bank to these individuals.

[redacted] said that the notes appear to be legitimate inasmuch as the person signing the note is an actual person. However, [redacted] had made a loan of approximately $20,000.00 to one JOSEPH DI CARLO of Providence, Rhode Island and [redacted] had told bank officials that he would arrange a meeting with RAYMOND PATRIARCA and PATRIARCA would get in touch with DI CARLO to see if payments would be made on the loan. [redacted] said that [redacted] did not elaborate on this statement or furnish any additional information to bank officials.

[redacted] said that in checking out some of the delinquent loans co-signers on the notes were contacted and advised that they had been co-signers but the person taking the note had asked them to co-sign and they would be given $25.00 for the use of their names. [redacted] said that one of the co-signers said that if [redacted] was contacted he would be able to explain the whole matter. According to [redacted] has not explained the matter to the bank and was most uncooperative to the bank officials.

[redacted] also advised that [redacted] Company were both owned by [redacted] North Providence, Rhode Island, and these companies have loans outstanding with the bank of approximately $50,000.00. [redacted] said that he had learned that RAYMOND PATRIARCA's brother, JOSEPH PATRIARCA, was employed by both of these companies.

[redacted] said that he feels something is wrong at the branch and wanted to report this matter to the Federal Bureau of Investigation because of the amount of the delinquent loans. Furthermore, [redacted] said that JOSEPH DI CARLO was the former owner of the Club Bagdad, Johnston, Rhode Island, which is now bankrupt, and had obtained a $3,000.00 loan which has been charged off as uncollectible.

[redacted] Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, 61 Weybosset Street, Providence, Rhode Island, furnished the following information in the presence of [redacted] and [redacted] the bank.

[redacted] advised that the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island is a State bank, insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), as evidenced by Certificate No. 16199 dated September 21, 1950. The bank is not a member bank of the Federal Reserve System.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] has been employed by that bank since May 2, 1955 and was appointed [redacted] of the Johnston, Rhode Island branch in September, 1958. On July 6, 1961 [redacted] the bank's main office where he

[redacted] advised that around the end of April, 1961 his secretary received a telephone call inquiring for him. When the secretary informed him that he was not available the individual stated, "Tell him Johnston called". Subsequently the bank's [redacted] received two telephone calls at his residence and the individual did not identify himself but said that [redacted] the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch, was making loans to the wrong people. No further information was furnished.

[redacted] said that on Monday, May 1, 1961, [redacted] was on vacation and he went down to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch with the auditors and all of the bank's records were reviewed for any unusual activities and the most outstanding thing noted was the large number of delinquent loans and the majority of them had been to the same individual. Also, a number of the short term loans had been continuously renewed after their due date. When [redacted]

On 8/8/61 at Providence, Rhode Island File # BS 29-879

by SA(A) [redacted] and SA [redacted] gm Date dictated 8/9/61

[redacted] stated that subsequently he found out that the telephone calls made to himself and [redacted] were made by an individual by the name of [redacted] Rhode Island. He identified [redacted] as a respectable bookie and a friend of [redacted] said that he had made the telephone calls because he wanted to help [redacted] because he was afraid he would get in trouble making loans to the wrong individuals. [redacted] said that [redacted] has made a number of loans at the Johnston Branch through [redacted] and every one of the loans has always been repaid and he could be considered a good customer.

[redacted] stated that the bank's rule concerning loans is a $3,500.00 maximum for each customer. He said that there is no place in the bank's records setting forth this specific rule but it is known to all loan officers, [redacted]

[redacted] advised that as a result of his checking the loans at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch a list was prepared for all types of loans which were delinquent and the balance of all delinquent loans was $166,446.89 of which $75,113.53 was overdue as of July 31, 1961.

[redacted] pointed out that this did not mean that all of these loans were made to undesirables but a large percentage of them were made to respectable individuals who could be anywhere delinquent from thirty days to three months on their loans.

[redacted] said that the list did not include a bad loan which has been charged off as uncollectible by the bank. He said that this is a loan made to the Club Baghdad, Inc. of which [redacted] and [redacted] and both [redacted] and JOSEPH DI CARLO had signed as co-makers. [redacted] said that the Club Baghdad went into receivership. [redacted] said that in some way [redacted] of Providence, Rhode Island was associated with JOSEPH DI CARLO in the club and in November, 1960 [redacted]

[redacted] said that a number of the loans had been referred to the bank's attorney, [redacted] of the law firm [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island.

[] also made available a copy of the Loan Delinquency Report, as of July 31, 1961, for the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank. He pointed out that JOSEPH DI CARLO had four short term loans in his own name and in addition he was co-signer and/or co-maker on a number of other loans. Also, there were loans under the name of his [], and [] who he believed to be JOSEPH DI CARLO's []. He said Rossi Auto Body Company and Eastern Leasing Company had short term loans and in addition Eastern Leasing Company had approximately eight automobile loans. He pointed out that it would be necessary to review the Bad Loan Register maintained at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch to obtain the identities of those loans on which DI CARLO was the co-maker or co-signer on someone else's loan. He said that some instances where DI CARLO was the maker another individual, who was the co-maker or co-signer, would be the maker of a note under his own name and DI CARLO would either be co-maker or co-signer.

[] stated that the bank officials had discussed this matter and they were unable to explain why [] had made loans to these individuals unless it was to build up his business at the branch which has only been open for approximately two years. He said that he had no information that [] had received kickbacks from anyone on the loans made and in his own personal opinion he does not believe [] would do such a thing. He said that as far as he and the other bank officers were concerned, [] was just "stupid" in making these loans and not following them more closely.

[redacted] attorney, law firm of [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, advised his law firm represents the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, Providence, Rhode Island. He stated that over the past eight weeks numerous loans had been referred to him for collection and these loans were made, for the most part, at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank. He said that there is one loan for the Club Baghdad, Inc., Johnston, Rhode Island, in the amount of $3,000.00 and the club has gone into bankruptcy. He also said that [redacted] is presently in a [redacted] for violation of some Federal law. He said that JOSEPH DI CARLO and [redacted] were, in some way, associated with the Club Baghdad and there are numerous loans in their names or else they are co-makers or endorsers on loans for other individuals. He said that most of these loans are delinquent and have been referred to him for collection.

[redacted] said that he has attempted to make collection on several of the notes and to date he has uncovered the following information:

He said there is a loan in the name of [redacted] in the amount of $1,500.00 and on the application [redacted] indicated he was the owner of the [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island. He has determined that [redacted] does not own the Douglas Bar and furthermore does not work there. He said he spoke to [redacted] and [redacted] told him that he never received the money on the loan and an individual, whom he would only identify as [redacted] offered him money to sign the note. He said that he was not going to pay the loan and if he [redacted] reviewed the bank records he would note that some money had been paid off on the loan under his name and he knows that he has not made any payments. He told [redacted] he should determine from the bank officials who did make the payments and that would be the individual who received the original proceeds of the loan.

[redacted] said that [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, obtained a $1,500.00 loan and he spoke to [redacted] and the only thing [redacted] would say was, "Talk to the man at the bank - he knows all about it". [redacted] indicated that [redacted] was [redacted] in the Club Baghdad and that the money obtained from his loan went to [redacted] and JOSEPH DI CARLO.

He said that [redacted] and DI CARLO had offered him $25.00 to sign the note. He pointed out that he signed the note but was never paid the $25.00.

[redacted] said that he feels there is some tie-in between the [redacted] and [redacted] loan.

[redacted] said that [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, also has a loan of $3,300.00 at the bank on which no payments have been made. He said that he contacted [redacted]'s wife and she told him that her husband had never received the money and because of money problems they have separated. She said that he worked for [redacted] in Providence.

[redacted] said that [redacted] has a $2,000.00 loan with the bank which is delinquent and on his loan application he indicated that he worked for [redacted]. [redacted] said that he called the Manager of the market and he stated that [redacted] had not worked there for the past eight years since he has been [redacted].

[redacted] said that the majority of the individuals who had delinquent loans at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island were, in his opinion, undesirables and the majority of them were "bookies". He said that he knows [redacted] of the Branch, and he finds it hard to believe that [redacted] knew that the individuals were undesirables but must have made the loans on the "say so" of someone who knew both [redacted] and the borrower.

Date 8/22/61

ROSSI MOTOR SALES

Loan #ST 1913

Rossi Motor Sales presently has one short term loan outstanding which was obtained on April 25, 1961 in the amount of $1,000.00 due on May 19, 1961. On May 24, 1961 the note was renewed in the amount of $3,500.00 due on July 24, 1961 and was again renewed on July 27, 1961 in the amount of $3,000.00 due on August 23, 1961. On August 24, 1961 the loan was renewed in the amount of $2,500.00 due on September 22, 1961.

The loan application reflects that Rossi Motor Sales is located at 10 Humbert Street, North Providence, Rhode Island, and JOHN ROSSI is President. The application contains no other information.

The bank's loan ledger also shows that Rossi Motor Sales guarantees payment on fifteen automobile loans. On these loans Rossi Motor Sales was the dealer who sold the automobile to the customer. A review of these loans shows that all payments are current.

EASTERN LEASING COMPANY

Loan #ST 2266

The Liability card for Eastern Leasing Company, 10 Humbert Street, North Providence, Rhode Island, shows that there is one short term loan presently outstanding. This loan originated on December 30, 1960 in the amount of $4,300.00 due on February 28, 1961. On March 1, 1961 the loan was renewed in the amount of $4,300.00 and was due on April 28, 1961. On May 1, 1961 the loan was renewed in the amount of $4,300.00 and was due on May 26, 1961. On June 5, 1961 the loan was renewed in the amount of $3,800.00 due on June 26, 1961. On July 3, 1961 the loan was renewed in the amount of $3,300.00 due on July 26, 1961. On July 27, 1961 the loan was renewed in the amount of $2,800.00 due on August 25, 1961. On August 24, 1961 the loan was renewed in the amount of $2,300.00 due on September 25, 1961. The loan applications on file at the bank show that the Eastern Leasing Company is located at 10 Humbert Street, North Providence, Rhode Island, and the application was signed for the company by JOHN ROSSI.

The application for the above loan indicates the purpose of the loan was to finance a 1961 Cadillac automobile.

There are also twelve automobile loans in the name of Eastern Leasing Company, 10 Humbert Street, North Providence, Rhode Island, and the ledger card reflects that the monthly payments are current on all of these loans. The name of the dealer selling the automobile to Eastern Leasing Company on all of the automobile loans is Rossi Motor Sales.

Date September 8, 1961

[redacted] the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, was interviewed at the Providence, Rhode Island Resident Agency of the FBI. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statements made by him could be used against him in a court of law. He was also advised that he had the right to consult an attorney.

b6

[redacted] was advised that a complaint had been received concerning a possible violation of the Federal Reserve Act Statute in connection with loans made by him to various individuals while he was [redacted] of the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. [redacted] stated he had no objection to answering any questions concerning bank business transacted by him because at all times he has acted honestly in making all loans, although he now knows that he relied on false friends.

He explained that after he had returned from vacation in [redacted] he was relieved of his duties as [redacted] and was transferred back to the main office and assigned to [redacted] where his duties were to attempt [redacted] while at the Johnston Branch. [redacted] said that he had been furnished by the bank with a list of all the delinquent loans at the Johnston Branch as of July 31, 1961. This included personal loans, short term unsecured loans, mortgage loans, home improvement loans and automobile loans. He said that the total of all of the delinquent loans was shown on the list to be approximately $75,000.00 and one might get the impression that all of the loans were bad or uncollectible. He said that the majority of the loans were only delinquent because the borrowers were late in making their monthly payment, and most likely during the first part of August they would make a payment which would make their loan current. He said that at the end of August, 1961 the loans would no longer be shown as delinquent.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that this interview did not pertain to normal delinquent loans, but concerned loans such as the short term unsecured loan which he made to the Club Baghdad, Inc., Johnston, Rhode Island for $3,000.00 and which had been charged off by the bank as uncollectible. Also that JOSEPH DICARLO and [redacted] were co-makers on this loan and a review of the loans at the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the bank determined that [redacted] had two loans, one a short term unsecured loan and the other a personal loan, and both of them had been referred to the bank's attorney for collection. Also, DICARLO had four short term unsecured loans and one personal loan which were also referred to the bank's attorney for collection.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that DICARLO had been either a co-maker or endorser on at least thirteen short term unsecured loans or personal loans which had been referred to the bank's attorney for collection. [redacted] said that he was aware of this situation and he stated that all of these loans were made in good faith by him and he wished to explain his position from the beginning.

[redacted] said that the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the bank was opened for business in approximately September, 1958 and he was assigned there as the manager. Accordingly, he wanted to build up the branch and make a good name for himself because at the end of each month the bank prepares statistics on each branch showing their increase or decrease percentage-wise in new savings and checking accounts opened, loans made and monthly operating profit. Shortly after the branch was opened he became acquainted with [redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island whom he had heard rumors was a bookie. According to [redacted] was in every instance a perfect gentleman and if he was a bookie [redacted] was a "respectable bookie". He said that he made short term unsecured loans to [redacted] and [redacted] always paid the note off within the stated time with the exception of two or three occasions when the notes were renewed, but were subsequently paid off. [redacted] said there is nothing wrong with renewing a note when it is due because it is done every day in banking circles, and furthermore the customer always pays the interest charge on the loan when it is renewed. He said that this interest paid by the customer is profit to the bank.

[redacted] said that because of his banking transactions with [redacted] they became good friends. Approximately three years ago he was with [redacted] on a Saturday morning and they stopped at Rossi Motor Sales in North Providence, Rhode Island. [redacted] introduced him to JOSEPH PATRIARCA, the brother of RAYMOND PATRIARCA, who, according to the newspapers in Rhode Island, is the "King of the rackets." [redacted] said that JOSEPH PATRIARCA was employed by Rossi Motor Sales and in return he was introduced to JOHN ROSSI who owns Rossi Motor Sales and Eastern Leasing Corp. which is also located at the same address as Rossi Motor Sales.

JOSEPH PATRIARCA upon making his acquaintance said that he was aware that a new branch bank had been opened in Johnston, Rhode Island. [] said PATRIARCA volunteered the information that he had a savings account at another bank which he would transfer to [] branch knowing that it was good for [] to acquire new accounts. [] said that to date PATRIARCA has not transferred this account to his branch. [] said subsequently PATRIARCA did bring to his branch JOHN ROSSI and ROSSI obtained both a personal and business loan. ROSSI has also made a number of automobile loans in the name of Eastern Leasing Corp. He said all of the loans made to ROSSI are current and the monthly payments are made promptly. In fact [] said the loans made to ROSSI are the type every banker likes to make, that is, there is no difficulty in making collections.

[] said that ROSSI has two personal loans. One is a secured time loan whereby the full amount of the loan is secured by a savings account pass book. The other loan is a short term unsecured loan which has been renewed two or three times, but each time the loan was renewed ROSSI made a payment of principal and the renewed loan was for a lesser amount.

[] said that Eastern Leasing Corp. buys their cars from Rossi Motor Sales and these cars are financed under the name of Eastern Leasing Corp. as automobile loans at his branch. He said that all of the cars are secured by a chattel mortgage and Rossi Motor Sales repossesses the cars in the event the payments are not made by Eastern Leasing Corp. He said that all of the loans made to ROSSI or his company are good loans and are all current.

[] said that JOSEPH PATRIARCA also brought to his branch two or three other individuals who obtained short term unsecured loans and who repaid them when due. He said he could not recall the names of the individuals and it was not because he was trying to hide their identities.

[] said that in regard to JOSEPH DICARLO he knew him to be an officer in the Club Baghdad, Inc. which is presently bankrupt, and he also knew that DICARLO was a friend of JOSEPH PATRIARCA. PACE said that occasionally after work he would drop into the Club Baghdad for a drink and he became friendly with DICARLO and other individuals who frequented the club. He said that Johnston, Rhode Island is a small town and wherever he went he was known as a banker.

He said that as a result of becoming acquainted with DICARLO he made a $3,000.00 short term unsecured loan to the Club Baghdad, Inc. as the club was being renovated and he saw no reason as to why he should not make the loan. He said that subsequently the loan went "sour" as a result of the club going into bankruptcy, but at the time he made the loan he was not aware that this would be the situation. He again pointed out that he was trying to secure business for his branch and he had secured the checking account for the Club Baghdad, Inc. He said that he believed that the loan would be paid off when due as were all other loans he had previously made to other individuals. [redacted] pointed out that he did not meet DICARLO directly through JOSEPH PATRIARCA, but from conversations with DICARLO and PATRIARCA he determined that they knew one another and he believed that they were close friends.

[redacted] said that when the Club Baghdad was first opened JOSEPH DICARLO and [redacted] were the operators of the club. In November, 1960, [redacted] was sent to the Federal Penitentiary at Danbury, Connecticut and shortly thereafter [redacted] came into the bank and obtained a personal loan of $2,000.00, which money was deposited to the Club Baghdad account. At that time [redacted] became a partner with DICARLO. Subsequently one DENNIS RAIMONDI, who was a frequent visitor at the Club Baghdad, and a friend of DICARLO, tried to bring additional customers into the club so that it would show a profit. Also, RAIMONDI obtained a short term unsecured loan from his bank and this loan is presently unpaid.

[redacted] said that subsequently he made short term loans, unsecured, to individuals who were friends of both DICARLO and JOSEPH PATRIARCA. Also loans were made to individuals who were referred to him by DICARLO alone. [redacted] said that these individuals must have been "bookies" because of their relationship with DICARLO and PATRIARCA. He said that when these individuals applied for loans he usually called JOSEPH PATRIARCA to ascertain if he knew them and if they would repay the loans when due. He said that based on PATRIARCA's recommendation he would put these loans through.

[redacted] reiterated that all he was trying to do was to build up the branch office statistics for new accounts and show a good monthly operating profit. He said that a number of loans had been made to these individuals and the majority of them always paid off the notes when due.

[] pointed out it is well known throughout Rhode Island that there is a large number of bookies operating. He said the people he made loans to were, in his opinion, "honest and respectable bookies", that is, they ran a business and paid off their debts promptly. He said he took it for granted that if these bookies got "hit heavy" in any one day, it was necessary for them to obtain money to make the payoffs.

[] said that they all paid off their loans as did any regular businessman and if all of the banks in Rhode Island were checked as to the identity of the individuals making loans it would be seen that a number of the customers were these "honest bookies" and were considered good risks.

[] said that he had no proof nor did he ever place a bet with any of these individuals, but because of their association with one another he presumed they were bookies.

[] said that of all of the delinquent loans at the Johnston, Rhode Island branch there are only ten or fifteen remaining unpaid, and the majority were made to JOSEPH DICARLO under his own name, his brother, his wife, his mother and individuals he had brought to the bank.

[] stated that when DICARLO was unable to pay off notes when due they were renewed and at the same time DICARLO brought another friend to the bank who obtained an unsecured loan. Some of the proceeds of this new loan were usually applied to partially reduce the principal amount of the DICARLO loans which were renewed, and to the loans of other individuals who had been referred to him by DICARLO or JOSEPH PATRIARCA.

[] said that at no time did he have any conversation whatsoever with RAYMOND PATRIARCA concerning loans for himself or anyone else. He stated that all of his dealings were with JOSEPH PATRIARCA. He stated that he never received any money from either DICARLO or JOSEPH PATRIARCA or any of the individuals to whom he granted loans. He said he was primarily interested in making a good record and having good statistics. He said that his branch moved from fifth place to second place for statistical accomplishments.

[] said he was not involved in any scheme or plan with JOSEPH PATRIARCA, JOSEPH DICARLO or anyone else in connection with any loan made by him. He said that he never received "one cent" from anyone to whom he had granted a loan. He said that the nearest thing he ever received which was anything near a bribe was at the times when he dropped into the Club Baghdad, the Hob Nob Restaurant, Providence, Rhode Island or various other restaurants and individuals whom he had granted loans had bought him a drink. He said this was only a friendly gesture on their part, and furthermore a drink would not make him grant a loan to someone whom he thought would not be able to repay the loan.

[] said that he is divorced and resides in a motel. He said that he eats his meals out and it is only natural he should become acquainted with a number of individuals.

[] said that he now realizes that he was used by JOSEPH PATRIARCA, JOSEPH DICARLO and others because there are loans totaling approximately $30,000.00 which are delinquent and may not be collected. He said that these loans for the most part were made by DICARLO and individuals referred by him to the bank.

He stated he has no knowledge, nor has he ever heard that JOSEPH PATRIARCA or JOSEPH DICARLO received any money or commissions from individuals referred to his branch and who obtained loans. He said he was always under the impression that PATRIARCA was only trying to help him build up his branch business as a favor to [] a mutual friend.

It was pointed out to [] that on some of the delinquent loans which had been referred to the bank's attorney for collection, the applications contained false information as to the borrower's place of employment and other data. [] said the applications are in his own handwriting but the information contained in the applications was furnished to him by the borrowers, and the signatures on the applications are the borrowers'. [] said he never did a credit check on the individuals referred to him by DICARLO because he always called JOSEPH PATRIARCA to see if the individual was known to him and if it was "okay" to make a loan, and also, if the individual would pay off the loan when due. He said if PATRIARCA told him it was all right to make the loan he felt that a credit report was not as good as PATRIARCA's word. Also, he felt that if the individual did not pay the loan, PATRIARCA would get in contact with him and have him do so. [] said the only thing that he did wrong was trying to build up the branch business and he was "used" by DICARLO and JOSEPH PATRIARCA.

[redacted] said that he had a take home pay of $190.00 every two weeks, was divorced but did not have to pay alimony. He said he has a savings account at the Peoples Savings Bank, Providence, Rhode Island with $50.00. He maintains a checking account at the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co., Providence and has a balance of approximately $119.00. He said he owns two shares of stock in the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island which is worth approximately $40.00 a share and has 100 shares of stock in an electronics company known as CWS Wave Guide which are worth $1.50 a share. He said he does not have a safe deposit box and does not own any property. He said he owns a 1960 Thunderbird automobile which is paid off. His only indebtedness is a loan he has with the Citizens Savings Bank, Providence, Rhode Island on which he pays $42.00 a month. The loan was originally for $500.00 and the unpaid balance is around $200.00 or $300.00.

[redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island, was interviewed at the Providence Resident Agency of the FBI. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement, and any statements made by him could be used in a court of law. He was also advised that he had the right to consult an attorney.

[redacted] advised that approximately 2 weeks ago, [redacted] of the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, had contacted him and showed him a list of delinquent loans. Also, [redacted] told him that he had been interviewed by the FBI, and the FBI agents questioned him concerning the delinquent loans. At this point, [redacted] stated that approximately April, 1961, he had attempted to contact by telephone [redacted] the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, Providence, Rhode Island. He said that [redacted] was not available and he told [redacted] secretary that the bank should check the loans being made at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank. [redacted] said subsequently, on a Sunday, he called the [redacted]

[redacted] said the reason he did this was because he was a good friend of [redacted]. He explained that the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank was opened approximately 3 years ago, and [redacted] was assigned there as the manager. He said he approached [redacted] for a personal loan which he was granted. He said the loan was for approximately $300 and he paid this money off before the due date. Subsequently, he went back to the bank and borrowed a larger sum which he then paid off before the due date. He said he made numerous loans with [redacted] and they struck up a close friendship. Also, [redacted] said that he sent all of his friends to the bank to open savings and checking accounts, and also he brought a large number of individuals to make personal loans. He pointed out that most of the people he brought to the bank for personal loans were honest, but had poor credit ratings. He explained this to [redacted] and [redacted] was willing to make the loan as long as [redacted] signed as a co-maker on the loan. [redacted] said that he has sent literally a hundred people to [] for loans and everyone of these individuals has paid the loan off or was currently paying the loan off as agreed. He said something around April he received a telephone call from a friend of his, [] who said that his brother, whose name he could not recall, had obtained a $1,500 loan from [] said he became concerned and he checked with [] and he determined that this loan was paid off as agreed.

[] said at this point he became concerned because he had heard that all types of "characters" were borrowing money from [] and he knew somewhere along the line some of these "characters" would not pay off the loan and [] would be left holding the "bag".

[] said one day he introduced [] to JOSEPH PATRIARCA and he recalled PATRIARCA told [] that he had a savings account that he was going to transfer to his branch. [] stated that he knows JOSEPH PATRIARCA well and "hates his guts". He said he also knows RAYMOND PATRIARCA, but only as an individual who is reported by the Providence newspapers as head of all gambling in the State. He said that RAYMOND PATRIARCA may at one time have been engaged in booking operations, but for the last several years he has been engaged in a legitimate enterprise that has to do with cigarette vending machines. [] said that he had no knowledge that either [] or JOSEPH PATRIARCA were receiving kickback from individuals making loans. He said that he knows [] has no money and he has never seen him spending money lavishly. He stated that he has seen [] eating meals at the Hob Nob Restaurant in Providence, and he always bought the inexpensive meals.

[] said in his opinion, [] is an honest person, who had been sent to Johnston, Rhode Island to build up a new branch. He said that [] to friends of his who had a poor credit rating, that he would take a chance on other people that they were honest and would pay off a loan, although they had no credit rating. [redacted] said that he feels that because [redacted] had good luck in making loans to his friends, that he went a "little too far out on the limb" in making loans to other "characters". [redacted] said it would be hard to convince him that [redacted] had any kind of a scheme with individuals borrowing money because he always appeared honest to him and had ample opportunity to ask him for kickbacks on loans granted both to himself and his friends. He stated that he feels that [redacted] had been taken in by his false friends.

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statements made by him could be used in a court of law. He was also advised that he had the right to consult with an attorney.

[redacted] advised that sometime during the latter part of October, 1960, [redacted] JOSEPH DI CARLO, both of Providence, Rhode Island, opened up a night club known as the Club Baghdad. At that time both of these individuals approached [redacted] to see if they would lend their name for a loan at a bank. [redacted] said that [redacted] told him that he would pay him $25.00. Also, [redacted] drove [redacted] to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island where they spoke to a [redacted]. Prior to going into the bank, [redacted] told him that they would have to make out an application and told him what information to tell [redacted]. He said he recalls telling [redacted] that he was employed at the [redacted] receiving $100 a week, and also he received $1,500 a year from the sale of [redacted]. He said that he told [redacted] that the purpose of the loan was to go to New York and buy [redacted] for the forthcoming [redacted]. He said that [redacted] took down all of this information and he signed the application and they left. [redacted] said that later [redacted] approached him and had him sign a small blue piece of paper, this paper was in connection with the loan. Subsequently, he saw [redacted] again and inquired for his $25.00, and he was told that the loan did not go through. He said subsequently he determined from [redacted] that [redacted] did receive his $25.00.

PURPOSE

Radio Frequency Microphone Telephone

This memorandum is being submitted for approval to install an RFMT unit to cover the activities of Patriarca at his place of business, a cigarette vending machine company, in Providence, Rhode Island.

b7cDETAILS

Patriarca is one of the forty hoodlums selected as targets for early prosecution. A prosecutive-type summary report has been sent to the Department. He reportedly is a member of the "commission" which controls gambling activities throughout the United States. He is also alleged to control the entire New England area and receives a monetary share from illegal gambling activities in that area. In 1950, he admitted to Bureau Agents that he receives a share of all gambling in Rhode Island.

b2

Patriarca [REDACTED]
National Cigarette Service Company at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island.

In March, 1960, Patriarca suffered a heart attack and since then has spent most of his time at the vending machine company and at his home.

Patriarca offers excellent potential for a microphone surveillance. Boston has conducted a survey for such installation and has determined that an RFMT unit can be installed and operated with full security. Boston advises RFMT only possibility for coverage.

JERRY ANGIULLO

DOB 3/20/19 Boston, 1918

[REDACTED] The files of the FBI, Boston, Massachusetts reveal the following information in connection with the captioned individual:

During the period March 6 through June 8, 1950 SA [REDACTED] while conducting investigation in the Brink's robbery developed the following data:

BS T-1 advised that the ANGIULO boys were probably the biggest bookies in the North End of Boston. He indicated that their illegal activity was confined only to booking operations. This informant is familiar with the hoodlums in the North End section of Boston and stated that none of such hoodlums ever connected the ANGIULO brothers with any crimes of violence. He indicated the brothers operate their bookmaking establishment at 95 Prince St., Boston, Massachusetts.

[REDACTED] Massachusetts advised that he operates a variety store at this address and is familiar with the ANGIULO brothers who operate a variety store at 95 Prince St. [REDACTED] stated the variety store was merely a cover for the bookmaking operations of the ANGIULO brothers and that this cover is a very thin one inasmuch as the store never has any food for sale. [REDACTED] stated that the ANGIULO brothers are well known throughout the North End as bookies, and that apparently they do very well as most of them drive big cars.

The records of the Credit Bureau of Greater Boston, Inc., 11 Beacon St., Boston, Massachusetts, reflect that JERRY ANGIULO married [REDACTED] Boston, Massachusetts. [REDACTED] was a former model who worked in various stores in the Boston area.

The credit report reflected that on June 1, 1947 JERRY ANGIULO was caught bootlegging information from the Dighton dog track. JERRY in company with one [redacted]

[redacted] both Boston, and [redacted] of [redacted] Boston, rented a house near the Dighton dog track. A second floor window of this house commanded a view of the scoreboard of the Dighton dog track. By keeping field glasses trained on the scoreboard these individuals could get the results of races sooner than they could by any other means. The presumption was they were making bets on the dog races after the races had already been run but before the results had reached the off track bookies.

On May 19, 1950, JERRY ANGIULO was interviewed by SA [redacted] and SA [redacted]. At that time JERRY ANGIULO provided substantially the same information concerning bookmaking activities in the North End as previously furnished by DAN ANGIULO. JERRY indicated he operated a 1949 Oldsmobile sedan and that the car bore Massachusetts license number KLL-361. He stated that he and his brothers, except [redacted] over his bookmaking shop.

On April 3, 1950, SAs ERNEST W. SCHWOTZER and [redacted] visited the Corner Smoke Shop in view of the fact it appeared to be a hand book. [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, Richmond 2-2593 and [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts admitted being partners and operating a hand book at this address. The Corner Smoke Shop has a cigar store in front as a dummy business front. It has no wire service, and the only phone is a pay phone LA3-5793. They admitted the hand book was actually backed by [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts.

BS T-2 advised SA [redacted] on August 28, 1954 that he, the informant, had recently learned that [redacted] Massachusetts bookmaker, had arranged to sell out his booking interest to the ANGIULO brothers for $75,000.00 and go to California, however, [redacted] is reported to have contacted the ANGIULOS and told them to lay off.

BS T-3 advised SA [redacted] on May 11, 1956 that the ANGIULO brothers operated the Monte Christo Restaurant, Carver St., Boston, are bookmakers and "shylocks". BS T-3 also advised that a new club had been opened above the Club Sarah on Tremont St. in the South End section of Boston. This club is a gambling enterprise operated by JERRY ANGIULO, and [redacted]. He indicated ANGIULO is one of several brothers all of whom are reported to operate one of the largest bookmaking offices in the City of Boston. This informant indicated that to operate the club ANGIULO and [redacted] must have received the "OK" from some police authorities.

On May 11, 1956, SA [redacted] interviewed JERRY ANGIULO who was at that time at the Quincy, Massachusetts Police Department inasmuch as this department had picked up ANGIULO's brother, [redacted] as a result of an anonymous telephone call in connection with a bank robbery matter. JERRY ANGIULO was questioned concerning his association with a bank robbery suspect named [redacted] ANGIULO in acknowledging he knew this individual stated that [redacted] was a frequent visitor at the Monte Christo Restaurant, Carver St., Boston, Massachusetts which is owned and operated by JERRY ANGIULO and his brothers. He also stated that [redacted] interceded for his brother [redacted] in obtaining a bartender's job for [redacted] at the Riverway Cafe, South Huntington Ave., Boston, which is also owned and operated by the ANGIULO brothers and managed by [redacted]

BS T-4 advised in June, 1952 that the ANGIULO brothers are well known bookmakers who also distribute the lottery ticket known as "The Pilgrim" and which was previously known as "The Local."

On August 27, 1951, BS T-4 advised that [redacted] operator of a lottery ticket known as "The Local" had encountered financial difficulties and made a financial arrangement with the ANGIULOs, bookmakers on Prince St. in the North End of Boston. As a result the three ANGIULO brothers, one of whom is [redacted] own 45% of the ticket. [redacted] retained 50% interest and the other 5% was held by a [redacted]

BS T-5 in January, 1953 advised SA [redacted] that [redacted] Boston and Miami business man, formerly owned a yacht named [redacted] In the summer of 1952 [redacted] sold this yacht and in the course of the sale was contacted by [redacted]

The spokesman for this group was [redacted] and the latter displayed a great deal of interest in purchasing the yacht from [redacted] The selling price of the yacht was $12,500.00 which [redacted] paid in cash, pulling a number of bills from his pocket, each representing a $1,000.00 bundle. In the course of the sale [redacted] gave [redacted] the impression he had $60,000.00 on his person at the time. [redacted] did all the talking concerning the sale and indicated he was buying the yacht for himself but wanted it put in the names of the four individuals present. [redacted] cautioned [redacted] to the effect if he was ever questioned concerning the sale of the yacht he was to indicate all four purchased the same. [redacted] also instructed [redacted] to indicate that he, [redacted] received $5,000.00 as the selling price of the yacht. [redacted] identified [redacted] as reportedly running the Monte Christo Restaurant in Boston and allegedly one of the bookie kings in Boston.

On January 29, 1953, SA [redacted] reviewed the Yacht Registry records at the Marine Division, U. S. Coast Guard, U. S. Custom House, Boston, Massachusetts. It was determined that the [redacted] was sold July 24, 1952 by [redacted] and the yacht was registered as [redacted] with owners listed as [redacted] Boston. [redacted]

On February 12, 1953, SA [redacted] interviewed [redacted] at the Monte Christo Restaurant, Carver St., Boston, Massachusetts. [redacted] advised that [redacted] an insurance man in Boston and a patron of the Monte Christo, was a brother-in-law of [redacted] became acquainted with MICHAEL ANGIULO and invited MICHAEL and some of his friends to make a fishing trip on [redacted] yacht. As a result, the [redacted] brothers became interested in the yacht when [redacted] indicated that it was for sale. [redacted] stated he did not know the amount of money his brother had paid for the yacht, however, he believes the sale was strictly legitimate and everything was done "above board." [redacted] indicated they had purchased [redacted] in May, 1952 with two other individuals, [redacted]. In January, 1952 they bought out [redacted] and have operated the restaurant since that time. [redacted] is Assistant Manager of the restaurant and receives a salary as do his brothers, [redacted] and [redacted] indicated [redacted] is a close friend of his brother [redacted] and [redacted] is his brother-in-law.

[redacted] indicated they had recently been investigated by the Intelligence Division of Internal Revenue Service and accordingly was not too eager to discuss his income or that of his brothers.

The files of the Boston Office of the FBI reflect the following descriptive data regarding GENNARO J. ANGIULO:

Race:	White

Title: RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA

Character: ANTI RACKETEERING

Synopsis:

Informants advise RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA continues to reside at 165 Lancaster St., Providence, R.I., and continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Ave., Providence, R.I., and that subject will not allow anyone to hang out at his place of business. [REDACTED] interviewed and states subject had no connection in his renting his barn, in 1955, for race wire information. Records, Providence County Superior Courthouse, reflect Civil Action #162818 filed by subject against Providence Journal Company, Providence, R.I., writ of summons served 7/28/61, and returnable to Providence County Superior Court, 9/21/61, which writ and declaration filed 9/21/61, with assignment date of 11/4/61 for jury trial. Declaration has three counts in regard to trespass on the case for libel in amount of $1,000,000.00. Investigation at Westerly, R.I. negative in regard to subject. Colonel WALTER E. STONE, Providence Police, advised that in late 1940, JOSEPH A. SULLIVAN told him that subject given an interest in Howard Johnson's Restaurant and Sullivan's Steak House, North Main Street, Providence, R.I., but these establishments are no longer owned by SULLIVAN. Information received that PATRIARCA may have interest in floating crap game in North End Section of Boston, Mass. IN VIEW OF PATRIARCA'S PAST INVOLVEMENT IN CRIMES OF VIOLENCE, HE SHOULD BE CONSIDERED ARMED AND DANGEROUS.

BACKGROUND

On September 20, 1961, BS T-1 advised RAYMOND E. S. PATRIARCA continues to reside at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island and continues to hang at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, where he operates a cigarette vending machine business with [REDACTED]

Informant said PATRIARCA does not allow anyone to hang at 168 Atwells Avenue; that PATRIARCA does not discuss his problems with anyone, and that PATRIARCA is suspicious of anyone who frequents his place of business, especially anyone who comes there for the first time, or anyone who has not visited him at sometime, as he is aware of the fact that the FBI is investigating him.

Informant said that PATRIARCA is quite concerned about this investigation, and is very irritable, and that he is quite concerned over his wife's physical condition because of the recent publicity that he has received through the newspapers.

Informant said no information has been developed that PATRIARCA has violated any local, state or federal laws.

On September 26, 1961, BS T-2 advised RAYMOND PATRIARCA still lives at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island, and still hangs at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island.

Informant advised he has been unable to develop any information that PATRIARCA has violated any local, state or federal laws.

On September 26, 1961, BS T-3 advised no further information has been received concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA's contemplated plans of moving to Tucson, Arizona. Informant also said no information has been obtained that PATRIARCA has violated any local, state or federal laws.

MISCELLANEOUS

On September 14, 1961, [REDACTED] Langone Funeral Home, 58 Merrimac Street, Boston, advised the funeral of

BS 92-118

JOHN F. BUCCELLI, June 23, 1958, cost $1,236.00. The widow, ELIZABETH, 92 Dakota Street, Dorchester, paid for the same in cash, $236.00 on account at the outset, and the balance on interment. [redacted] stated he had no other knowledge regarding the details of payment as the matter was handled by his father, now deceased. b6 b7c

On September 20, 1961, [redacted]

[redacted] advised that she was BUCCELLI at the time of his death; that however, reconciliation was being effected and in fact the day before his death was in New York with him; that she had no money to pay for his funeral, and same was paid by BUCCELLI's mother, DOMINICA BUCCELLI, 6 Trent Street, Dorchester. The latter is in poor health and if details of where she got the money to pay the bill were absolutely necessary, it is suggested that [redacted] Dorchester, be contacted. [redacted] of BUCCELLI. It is felt further inquiry along this line is unnecessary.

[redacted] indicated that after JOHN was killed, she received a call from a man who posed as a racket friend of JOHN, and wanted to meet her. He refused to identify himself and [redacted] of the Boston Police Department instructed her not to make the meet. JOHN's mother received a similar call. b6 b7c

[redacted] after being told of the identity of the interviewing Agent, was advised he did not have to make any statement; that any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law; and that he had a right to consult an attorney before saying anything. He furnished the following information:

b7c

In 1955 he was approached by two or three different persons, whose identities he cannot recall, who wanted to [redacted] Lincoln Downs for the purpose of determining the unofficial results of the races. These men claimed to represent a race news publication house out of Boston, and said it was important for them to have the immediate results of the races in order to prevent "past posting". At first [redacted] was reluctant to permit them to [redacted] but they prevailed upon him incessantly and he finally agreed. He said he gave the entire story to the Rhode Island State Police who [redacted] in 1955, and that version is more accurate than his recollection now.

b7c

On 9/11/61 at Pittsfield, Massachusetts File # 92-118
by SA [redacted] /cap Date dictated 9/14/61

b6

The Providence Evening Bulletin, dated September 22, 1961, a Providence daily newspaper, carried a caption "Declaration filed - Patriarca suit accuses Journal Bulletin of Libel".

This article states a declaration was filed in Superior Court, Providence, Rhode Island in a million dollar libel suit commenced by RAYMOND PATRIARCA. In three courts, declaration alleges PATRIARCA was libelled on two instances in an article published in the Evening Bulletin of July 26, 1961, and in one instance in an article published in the Providence Journal, June 27, 1961. The articles, according to the declaration, concerned the matter of appearances, by PATRIARCA, before the U.S. Senate's Sub Committee on investigations.

PATRIARCA asserted he was a person of good repute and was engaged in the business of selling cigarettes under the firm name of National Cigarette Service. PATRIARCA alleged in each court that statements complained of in the newspaper articles brought him into "public scandal and disgrace" and resulted in his losing "the trade and business" of many people who were his customers. PATRIARCA requested a jury trial of the suit or declaration filed by his attorney CHARLES A. CURRAN of Curran & Friedman, Providence, Rhode Island.

On September 25, 1961, BS T-4 advised information had been developed that [redacted] also known as [redacted] Massachusetts, an operator of a coin machine business, and who supposedly has a post office box in Lynn, Massachusetts, is supposedly a friend of RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA and [redacted] of Boston, Massachusetts. Information was also furnished, by this informant, that [redacted] supposedly takes money to PATRIARCA at Providence, Rhode Island, but no definite information was furnished in this regard, and it is not known the reason for the delivery of this money, if delivery is being made.

On September 25, 1961, [redacted]
Providence County Courthouse, Benefit Street, Providence,

BS 92-118

Rhode Island, advised his records reflect that a Civil Action number 162818 was filed by RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, Plaintiff vs. the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL COMPANY, Providence, Rhode Island. A writ of summons was served on the Providence Journal Company on July 28, 1961, returnable to the Providence County Superior Court on September 21, 1961.

This writ and declaration was filed at the Providence County Superior Court on September 21, 1961, and an assignment date of November 4, 1961, was given to this matter with the notation "Jury trial".

The declaration was filed by CHARLES A. CURRAN of the law firm of Curran and Friedman, Providence, Rhode Island, in behalf of the plaintiff, RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, which reflects that there are three counts to this declaration in regard to trespass on the case for libel. Amount of the damages claimed was $1,000,000.00.

Count 1 stated that PATRIARCA was libelled by the Providence Journal Company, on July 26, 1961, for printing an article in the Evening Bulletin, captioned "The United States Sub Committee on Investigations has subpoenaed RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA reputed kingpin of Rhode Island rackets--- to appear before it on August 1st, it was disclosed today".

Count 2 stated that on July 26, 1961, the Providence Journal Company printed an article in the Evening Bulletin captioned "VIRGIL PETERSON, Director of the Chicago Crime Commission and a national authority on gangs at one time called PATRIARCA "King of the rackets in Providence and allegedly tied in with New York mobs".

Count 3 stated that on July 27, 1961, the Providence Journal Company printed an article captioned "RAYMOND L.S. PATRIARCA, 54, 145 Lancaster Street ---, reputed kingpin of rackets in Rhode Island has been invited to make a return appearance, on Aug. 1st before the U.S. Senate's sub committee on investigations".

The declaration stated that on the basis of the above articles, RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA has been greatly injured in his good name, credit and reputation, and brought into public scandal and disgrace and has suffered a great loss and damage to his business known as the National Cigarette Service in that he has lost the trade and business of many people who were his customers prior to and at the time of the above published articles.

PATRIARCA, through his attorney, requested a jury trial in this matter.

On September 27, 1961, investigation was conducted at Westerly, Rhode Island to determine if RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA could have any control or influence there as this area has a high population of people of Italian extraction.

Chief of Police [redacted] Officers [redacted] and [redacted] Westerly, Rhode Island Police Department, advised they have no record for RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA and have never received any information that PATRIARCA has been in this area or that he is known to anyone in this area.

They also advised they have no information PATRIARCA has any control or influence in this area.

They also advised that they have contacted their sources, known only to them, and that they were unable to obtain any information that PATRIARCA has any connections in Westerly, Rhode Island, or that he is known there.

On September 28, 1961, BS T-5 and BS T-6 advised they have not developed or received any information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA which would indicate, at this time, that he has violated any local, state or federal laws.

On September 25 and 30, 1961, Colonel WALTER E. STONE, Chief of the Providence, Rhode Island Police Department, advised that sometime during the late 1940's he was in conversation with JOSEPH A. SULLIVAN, 252 Summit Street, Providence, Rhode Island, and former owner of the Howard Johnson Restaurant and the Sullivan's Steak House, both adjacent to one another on North Main Street, Providence, Rhode Island. During this conversation, during the late 1940's, SULLIVAN told him that prior to this time he has had some trouble with a GUIDO CANDELMO, in that CANDELMO would come into the Steak House and cause a great deal of trouble. SULLIVAN told STONE, that he, SULLIVAN, knew that CANDELMO was known to RAYMOND PATRIARCA so he went to PATRIARCA to see if PATRIARCA would get CANDELMO to stop annoying him at the Steak House.

STONE said that SULLIVAN told him that when he went to see PATRIARCA, and told PATRIARCA about his trouble with CANDELMO, he, PATRIARCA, told SULLIVAN that he could straighten the matter out, and it ended up that PATRIARCA received a piece of the Steak House, but STONE said SULLIVAN did not tell him how much of a piece of the Steak House PATRIARCA received. He said that SULLIVAN never told him that PATRIARCA had received a ten percent interest in SULLIVAN's enterprises.

STONE further stated that SULLIVAN no longer owns the Howard Johnson Restaurant and Sullivan's Steak House, North Main Street, Providence, Rhode Island, as he sold these places several years ago and has no further interest in those establishments.

On October 4, 1961, BS T-7 advised that information had come to his attention, source not recalled, that FRANK FORTE and JOHN CAIRO of Boston, Massachusetts are operating a floating crap game in the North End section of Boston, Massachusetts, and that they are there to protect RAYMOND PATRIARCA's money, which he has invested in the running of this crap game. Informant said that the crap game is held at different places, but is centered in the general area of the Florentine Restaurant in the North End section of Boston. Informant said he has no first hand information that PATRIARCA has an interest in this crap game.

Informant also said that PATRIARCA does not do anything in the Rhode Island area; that if he has any interests in anything it would be in the Massachusetts area, especially in the North End Section of Boston, Massachusetts, as he is well known in that area and has many friends in this area.

Informant said that it is also rumored that the ANGIULO brothers of the Boston area are close friends of PATRIARCA and that PATRIARCA has invested a great deal of his money into some of ANGIULO enterprises.

In this regard, informant said that it is rumored that PATRIARCA is supposed to have money invested in the money lending business with the ANGIULOS in Boston, Massachusetts.

BS 92-118

Careful consideration has been given to all sources concealed and "T" symbols were utilized in those instances where the identity of the source must be protected.

An extra copy of this report will be transmitted to the USA, [redacted] Providence, R. I.; within 10 days, UACB, per Buairtel of 8/3/61. b6 b7C

The employee of the [redacted] Providence, R. I., as mentioned in the details of this report, is [redacted] contacted by SA [redacted] and who requested that her identity be protected. b6 b7C b7D

In regard to the information appearing in the details of this report concerning a review of the files of the Chicago Crime Commission, it is noted that no contact is being made at the "Providence Journal" Co., Providence, R.I. to determine the identity of the person making the affidavit as subject presently has on file at the Providence County Courthouse Civil Action #162818 with the "Providence Journal" Co. This Civil Action is in the amount of $1 million, with a jury trial scheduled for trespass on the case - libel. This contact is not being made as it may cause embarrassment to the Bureau and may alert this company that the Bureau is conducting an investigation into the activities of the subject.

On 10/5, 6, 19/61 investigation and spot checks were made in the vicinity of Broadway and Dean Streets and Atwells Ave, Providence, R. I. in an effort to penetrate the inner circle of subject by attempting to locate locations for highly confidential source.

On 10/6, 17/61 the following individuals were interviewed regarding Bosfile 29-879 entitled, [redacted] FRA," to determine if RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA could be implicated in the FRA matters with [redacted] b6 b7C

ADMINISTRATIVE (Continued)

The following individuals stated they had no information that RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, or his brother, JOSEPH PATRIARCA, had anything to do with their obtaining loans at the Johnston, R. I. branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island:

[REDACTED]

b6
b7C

On 10/10, 11, 20/61 contact was made with PCI [REDACTED] Lincoln, R. I. in an effort to develop him as a source close to subject. [REDACTED] stated he is making a concerted effort to get close to subject and, in this regard, [REDACTED] furnished the following data:

b6

He was at 168 Atwells Ave, Providence, R. I., hangout of subject, and spent some time there talking to subject, and during this time subject appeared amicable. He said he did not question subject about any specifics as he knows subject will not answer any specific questions and subject will become suspicious of anyone asking direct questions.

PATRIARCA told him that he (PATRIARCA) was suing the "Providence Journal," a daily Providence, R. I. newspaper, for $1 million, but he is worried over this suit as he does not think he will win it and further feels that publicity will do him a great deal of harm, both to himself and his wife's mental condition.

[REDACTED] also had a general discussion with subject concerning subject's appearance before the U. S. Senate Investigating Committee headed by SENATOR MC ILLAN in 8/61; that PATRIARCA told him he was not called to testify, but PATRIARCA had seen [REDACTED] Boston, Mass.; that [REDACTED] appeared before this committee and took the Fifth Amendment on all questions asked of him.

ADMINISTRATIVE (Continued)

[redacted] said PATRIARCA knows [redacted] quite well and [redacted] also knows PATRIARCA, and PATRIARCA while in Washington, D. C. had learned that [redacted] prior to his appearance in Washington, D. C. had talked freely about the wire service operations of [redacted] at Boston, Mass. and PATRIARCA was concerned over this matter because he was unable to determine if [redacted] had implicated him in [redacted].

b7D

PATRIARCA did not furnish any additional information concerning the above.

[redacted] also said that he gathered from PATRIARCA's conversation that PATRIARCA had since talked to [redacted] about his talking too freely, but he said PATRIARCA did not tell him this.

In view of [redacted] sensitive position and since attempts are being made to bring him into the inner circle of subject, this information is not being disseminated and being maintained in a confidential manner at the specific request of [redacted].

By letter dated 10/13/61, the NYO advised as follows:

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted] on 9/19/61:

b7C

[redacted] Westchester Credit & Collection Bureau, White Plains, N. Y. advised that one [redacted] Yonkers, N. Y. [redacted] RAYMOND L. SOLANO (born 1903); RAYMOND SOLANO is listed as self employed at the [redacted] Mt. Vernon. These records further reflect that [redacted] (born [redacted] and married) is also an employee of the [redacted] in that city.

Det. [redacted] of the Mt. Vernon PD and Detective [redacted] of the Yonkers PD checked their records for information concerning these persons and stated that no information regarding them could be located.

ADMINISTRATIVE (Continued)

This investigation was conducted as these individuals were identified as the registered owners of cars that were in attendance or in the vicinity of St. Pius Church, Providence, R. I. during the wedding ceremony of JOSEPH PATRIARCA's daughter.

Synopsis:

Informants advise RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA continues to live at 165 Lancaster St., Providence, R. I. and continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Ave, Providence, R. I. Review of files of Chicago Crime Commission set out. Records, Providence County Superior Court, Providence, R. I. under Civil Action No. 162818 set out. Interviews with acquaintances of subject negative. EST-6 advised that [redacted] JOHN BUCCELLI of Boston, Mass., advised [redacted] Caryville, Mass. filed suit against estate for $1,000, advising [redacted] that if judgment obtained, PATRIARCA would pay judgment, but [redacted] states judgment obtained in amount of $800 but does not know if judgment paid or by whom. Toll calls for telephones at 168 Atwells Ave and 165 Lancaster St., Providence, R. I., hangout of subject and residence of subject, set out. IN VIEW OF PATRIARCA'S PAST INVOLVEMENT IN CRIMES OF VIOLENCE, HE SHOULD BE CONSIDERED ARMED AND DANGEROUS.

DETAILS:

1. BACKGROUND

On October 6, 16, 23, 1961, BS T-1 advised he has not received any additional information that RAYMOND PATRIARCA is interested in moving to Tucson, Arizona, but he has heard that PATRIARCA's wife is still in a very nervous condition, which is somewhat affecting PATRIARCA's mental attitude, and that he is becoming highly emotional over his wife's condition and also over the recent publicity that he received in the Providence, Rhode Island newspaper.

Informant stated he was unable to obtain any type of information that PATRIARCA has violated any local, state or federal laws.

On October 16, 1961, BS T-2 advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA continues to hang out at Coin-O-Matic Distributors, 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island; that he continues to be a partner in the National Cigarette Service at this same address; [REDACTED].

BS T-2 said that PATRIARCA does not talk to many people as he is aware of the Government's investigation of him; that PATRIARCA will not go anywhere and will not contact anyone for fear that he is being watched.

BS T-2 said PATRIARCA continues to reside at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island and that he can always be found at his residence during the evening hours.

Date 10/18/61

[redacted] Massachusetts Correctional Institution [redacted] was seen at the office of the Assistant Superintendent at the Massachusetts Correctional Institution, Norfolk, Massachusetts, and he advised that he intended to answer no questions as he had the right to do.

He was specifically asked as to whether or not he would discuss his association with RAYMOND PATRIARCA of Providence and his own alleged part ownership of the American Finance Company on Hanover Street, Boston, and he advised he had no intention of answering any questions and that he desired to terminate the interview, which was done.

This individual was not hostile but, immediately upon entering the room, he politely advised that he knew what his rights were, and that he would not answer any questions.

On 10/9/61 at Norfolk, Mass. File # 92-118

by SA [redacted] :ner:po'b Date dictated 10/13/61

Date 10/18/61

[redacted] advised that she lives at [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, and has non-published telephone number HA 6-8529.

At the beginning of the interview, she was advised that she need not answer any questions, that she had a right to counsel, and that any answers which she did make might be used against her in a court of law. She knew the writer's official capacity from previous contacts with him. She voluntarily furnished the following information:

She had been friendly with ANTHONY SANTANIELLO for about ten years prior to his death, which occurred about one year ago. During her acquaintanceship with him, he told her nothing about his business and she knew of no business in which he was engaged, legal or otherwise, other than his ownership and operation of the Paddock Cafe on Tremont Street in Boston.

She was not acquainted with RAYMOND PATRIARCA and she only met him on one occasion. She described this meeting as a casual one which occurred about one and one-half years ago at the Paddock Cafe, Boston. At that time she was introduced to PATRIARCA by ANTHONY SANTANIELLO. At no time had ANTHONY SANTANIELLO ever discussed PATRIARCA with her and she knew nothing about PATRIARCA's business. She saw no indication during the period she was friendly with SANTANIELLO that SANTANIELLO and PATRIARCA were close friends or in any way associated in business.

She is also acquainted with [redacted] having met him frequently at the Paddock Cafe, and she knew him to be a close friend of SANTANIELLO's. She said she knew nothing about [redacted] business other than he owned and operated The [redacted] on Broadway, Boston. At no time had she ever received any information that ANTHONY SANTANIELLO, [redacted] or RAYMOND PATRIARCA were interested in any way in the American Finance Company, Hanover Street, Boston. She never heard this company discussed.

She denied knowing of any illegal activities on the part of RAYMOND PATRIARCA, [redacted] SANTANIELLO, or any of their associates.

3. MISCELLANEOUS

On September 28, 1961, the Chicago Office furnished the following information:

The files of the Chicago Crime Commission pertaining to RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA were reviewed by SA [redacted] on September 20, 1961. The files were made available by [redacted] Assistant to [redacted].

The newspaper clipping of DREW PEARSON's column which appeared on October 17, 1950 in the "Chicago Herald American" reflects that PEARSON included "RAY PATRIARCA of Providence, R. I." as a "Mafia Leader," a known associate of FRANK COSTELLO of New York and "King of the rackets in Rhode Island and surrounding territories."

A letter from C. H. ANDERSON, Chief of Police, Beverly Hills, California, dated September 19, 1949, pertained to an affidavit which Chief ANDERSON believed had been obtained by the "Providence Journal," Providence, Rhode Island, from an employee of PATRIARCA. Chief ANDERSON believed that this affidavit alleged that PATRIARCA was an associate of FRANK COSTELLO and their combined operations in Rhode Island netted an excess of $1 million per year. This letter indicated that PATRIARCA had been a partner of [redacted] and JAMES LETENDRE in the operation of the La Boheme Club in Hollywood, Florida.

Chief ANDERSON indicated that LETENDRE, who was shot and killed on April 22, 1946, had been Director of the Narragansett Race Track, Pawtucket, Rhode Island, and Police Commissioner of Woonsocket, Rhode Island.

In regard to previous information reported concerning ARTHUR GOODRIDGE of Lynn, Massachusetts being a friend of RAYMOND PATRIARCA and bringing money to PATRIARCA in Providence, Rhode Island, the following additional information was furnished concerning this matter:

On October 4, 1961, BS T-3 advised that on August 24, 1961 he received a telephone call from an anonymous caller who sounded half drunk; that the caller said he had done time with PATRIARCA and that he had the information that ARTHUR GOODRIDGE supposedly takes money to PATRIARCA at Providence, but this person was unable to furnish any additional information concerning this matter.

He said that this anonymous call was made about the time that PATRIARCA was to appear before the Crime Commission at Washington, D. C. during August, 1961.

BS T-3 said he had no additional data.

Date 10/9/61

On October 5, 1961 Special Agent [redacted] observed RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA standing on the corner of Atwells Avenue and Solar Street, Providence, Rhode Island, which location is at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, and at that time PATRIARCA was in conversation with [redacted] of North Providence, Rhode Island and formerly [redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island.

There was no further activity noted at this time.

BS 92-118

On October 10, 1961, [redacted]
[redacted] Providence County Superior Court, Benefit Street,
Providence, Rhode Island, advised that on September 29, 1961
Attorney CHARLES A. CURRAN, who represents RAYMOND PATRIARCA, came to this court and asked for additional time to file additional counts to the Civil Action #162818, filed with this court on September 21, 1961 in behalf of RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

On September 29, 1961, the attorney for the law firm of Edwards and Angell, Providence, Rhode Island, was present and agreed to the above if his law firm was also given additional time to file their pleas in response to the amended declaration.

Both attorneys agreed to the above and Mr. CURRAN's time was extended to October 10, 1961 and the law firm of Edwards and Angell's time was extended to November 1, 1961 to answer.

On October 20, 1961, [redacted] supra, advised that there have been no additional changes made to date in Civil Action #162818 filed on behalf of RAYMOND L. S.
PATRIARCA.

BS T-6 advised on October 4, 1961 that [redacted] Waltham, Massachusetts, advised that [redacted] of JOHN BUCCELLI he was contacted by [redacted] Caryville, Massachusetts. The latter told [redacted] that he had loaned BUCCELLI $1,000 in a barboot game and felt that if he obtained a judgment against the estate, RAYMOND PATRIARCA would pay it. Accordingly, [redacted] brought suit through the office of [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, and [redacted] obtained judgment for $800, but [redacted] does not know of any steps [redacted] may have taken to collect from PATRIARCA or why [redacted] feels that PATRIARCA would pay.

BS T-6 stated that [redacted] repeated previously submitted information to the effect that [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island attorney, is holding BUCCELLI's stock in the Millbridge Company for PATRIARCA.

Informant stated that [redacted] recalled that BUCCELLI once told him that he had an investment in Las Vegas and was getting $100,000 a year therefrom; that after BUCCELLI's death [redacted] of Boston City Hall and [redacted] of Providence, Rhode Island went to New Jersey to contact the Siciliano headquarters relative to the investments, as well as BUCCELLI's insurance. Informant stated the trip was fruitless and [redacted] had no more details thereon.

BS T-6 stated that [redacted] that [redacted] is getting $50 per week from PATRIARCA, [redacted] could give [redacted] no more details, and the latter had no information thereon advising that he has not been in touch with [redacted] for several months.

Informant stated [redacted] could furnish no further details regarding PATRIARCA.

BS 92-118

On September 21, and 26, 1961, and October 4, 1961
BS T-6 advised that [redacted]
[redacted] Roxbury
Massachusetts, telephone number WHehlands 5-0807, and [redacted]
[redacted]
Westfield, New Jersey.

On October 12, 1961, Commander [redacted]
Providence, Rhode Island Police Department, advised that nothing has come to his attention that would indicate RAYMOND PATRIARCA has violated any local, state or federal law.

On October 16, 1961, BS T-2 and BS T-4 advised that they have no information that RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA has violated any local, state or federal laws.

On October 16, 1961, BS T-5 advised he has not developed any information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA.

ReBuairtel 10-4-61, urairtel 10-11-61, and urlet 9-21-61, in captioned matter.

It is noted from urairtel 10-11-61, that you consider it inadvisable, from a security standpoint, to make the changes outlined in reBuairtel 10-4-61. You base this conclusion on information received from a highly placed telephone company employee that there are instances where installations are made through improper company channels and that Providence, Rhode Island, is the worst area. It is assumed that you are referring to unauthorized telephone installations being made by telephone company employees.

While the Bureau does not disagree with your conclusion in this matter, it is desirous of ascertaining what steps you have been taking to be certain that Bureau telephone service in the Providence area is not being compromised. You should afford this matter prompt attention.

NOTE: Boston letter 9-21-61, points out that there have been instances in the past where some telephone company records have been altered which had been marked for refusing individuals telephone service for various reasons including use of the service for gambling operations. According to the source there were also instances where installations were made through improper company channels. Informant advised that Providence, Rhode Island, was among the worst of the areas for this type of activity.
Boston does not feel that installation can be made in instant case with security because of this undesirable condition.

ADMINISTRATIVE

Careful consideration has been given to the sources concealed and "T" symbols were utilized in those instances where the identity of the source must be protected.

An extra copy of this report will be transmitted to USA [redacted] Providence, R. I. within 10 days, UACB, per Buairtel, 8/3/61.

On 10/23, 27/61 spot checks were made in the vicinity of Dean Street, Broadway, Atwells Ave, 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, R. I., residence of subject, and 169 Sandringham Ave, Providence, R. I., residence of subject's brother, JOSEPH PATRIARCA. These spot checks were conducted with negative results and no unusual activity was noted.

On 10/24, 26, 31/61 and 11/3/61 [redacted] advised he has continued his efforts to penetrate the inner circle of subject in an effort to get close to the subject and, in this regard, he furnished the following data:

He has made several visits to Coin-O-Matic on Atwells Ave, Providence, R. I., hangout of subject. He said that he has had general conversations with the subject, which would indicate that subject is not hostile towards him, but these conversations have not developed any information of value to this investigation. [redacted] said that when he has been at Coin-O-Matic he has noted that the only persons at the place are the subject and [redacted] in the cigarette vending machine business. He said that there has never been any unusual activity while he has been at this establishment and there has not been any telephone calls made to the place or out of this place. He also said he has been in the cellar of this establishment and only noted cartons of cigarettes there and that there was no gambling devices or other type of material there that would be a violation of any law.

In view of [redacted] sensitive position, and since attempts are being made to bring him closer to the subject in order to penetrate the inner circle of the subject, this information is not being included in the details of this report and is not being disseminated and is being maintained in a confidential manner at the specific request of [redacted]

By airtel dated 10/17/61 the New Haven Office advised as follows:

On 10/16/61 [redacted] inmate, Federal Correctional Institution, Danbury, Conn., was contacted in the regular course of business. [redacted] said that there are only about six weeks remaining before his being processed for release from prison. He said that under these circumstances he declines to furnish any information to this Bureau and, in fact, he terminated the interview, although not in a hostile manner.

No further contacts are contemplated with [redacted] prior to his release, which is anticipated for 11/26/61.

For the information of the Bureau, it is to be noted that the report of SA [redacted] dated 10/11/61 in captioned matter set out leads to conduct investigation concerning the connection between PATRIARCA and JERRY ANGIULO, Boston, Mass.

Bosfile 92-446 has since been opened entitled, "GENNARO J. ANGIULO; aka, AR," wherein investigation is to be conducted at Boston to determine if he can be involved in any illegal enterprises.

In view of this pending investigation concerning ANGIULO, the leads set forth in report of 10/11/61 in captioned matter will not be covered as leads, but will be included in the investigation of ANGIULO and, if any information is developed that ANGIULO has any connection with the subject of this case, the Bureau will be immediately advised.

BS 92-118

DETAILS:

1. BACKGROUND

On October 25, 30 and 31, 1961; and November 6, 1961, BS T-1 advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA continues to live at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island, and continues to hang out at Coin-O-Matic, Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island; that not too many people hang out at Coin-O-Matic any longer, and that PATRIARCA is [redacted] in the cigarette vending machine business.

BS T-1 said RAYMOND PATRIARCA is still inactive due to his heart condition and sugar diabetes.

On November 1, 1961, BS T-2 advised RAYMOND PATRIARCA is still not a well man as a result of the heart attack he suffered sometime ago. BS T-2 said PATRIARCA has been taking things very easy and spends most of his time hanging around Coin-O-Matic on Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island in the [redacted] in the cigarette vending machine business.

BS T-2 stated he has not observed any strangers in the vicinity of Coin-O-Matic and has not noted any unusual activity in this area.

BS T-2 said PATRIARCA continues to live at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island with his wife, HELEN, and his son. Informant stated he could furnish no information concerning any illegal activities on the part of RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

2. FRIENDS AND ASSOCIATES

On November 1, 2, 1961, [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, advised he is acquainted with RAYMOND PATRIARCA and his brother, JOSEPH PATRIARCA; that on occasions he has dropped in at Coin-O-Matic on Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island; that he has had general conversations with RAYMOND PATRIARCA. He said he does not know any of PATRIARCA's personal business, has never discussed this with PATRIARCA, and knows better than to ask PATRIARCA any personal questions.

He said he is fond of PATRIARCA and would not furnish any information concerning PATRIARCA.

DENNIS ALYTWYN, also known as DENNIS RAIMONDI, "DENNY," born July 19, 1923, at New York City, Crystal Tap, Canal Street, Providence, Rhode Island, advised he has known RAYMOND PATRIARCA and JOSEPH PATRIARCA about five or six years; that he has hung around Coin-O-Matic on Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island; that he would usually hang around for short periods of time and has bought RAYMOND PATRIARCA coffee and sandwiches.

He said he now seldom hangs out at Coin-O-Matic and that no one hangs around there now, but he did not furnish any reason why no one hangs around Coin-O-Matic.

He said he never discussed personal matters with RAYMOND PATRIARCA and he knows PATRIARCA would not discuss his personal affairs with him; and further, he was not interested in RAYMOND PATRIARCA's affairs.

He said he "loves PATRIARCA like a father and would rather cut off his right arm or serve 20 years in jail" before he would say anything about RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

3. WHITE CITY AMUSEMENT PARK
Worcester, Massachusetts

The "Providence Journal," a daily newspaper in Providence, Rhode Island, dated November 2, 1961, carried an article on page 19 captioned, "White City Park Auctioned to Providence Man." This article stated the White City Amusement Park, a Worcester landmark for more than 50 years, was sold at auction yesterday.

ALBERT SHORE of Providence bought the White City Amusement Center site for $385,000. Rides, games and other equipment were sold for an additional $45,000 to several bidders.

The finality of the sale was uncertain because two federal tax liens were filed by the Internal Revenue Department 90 minutes before the auction began. Papers were served on ERWIN KNOHL of Long Beach, New York, President and Treasurer of the White City Park.

Mr. SHORE did not say what he planned to do with the property if he gets it.

BS 92-118

4. MISCELLANEOUS

The Miami Office advised as follows on October 23, 1961:

BS T-3 advised that prior to World War II the La Bohoeme was owned by [redacted] and a man named (First Name Unknown) [redacted]. After World War II the La Bohoeme was operated by the LANSKY-COSTELLO combine under the latter proprietorship. RAYMOND PATRIARCA was employed at the La Bohoeme Club but is not known to have had a financial interest in the establishment.

[redacted] was described by the informant as the body guard of FRANK COSTELLO. [redacted] is believed to be dead.

BS T-3 said the name of [redacted] is unknown. He advised the La Bohoeme as a gambling casino went out of existence after the KEFAUVER Hearing in about 1950. [redacted] as a night club for a short period of time before it closed down for good.

On October 24, 31, 1961 and November 6, 1961 BS T-4 advised he had no information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA or that PATRIARCA had violated any local, state or federal laws.

On October 24, 31, 1961, BS T-5 advised he had no information that RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA had violated any local, state or federal laws.

On October 25, 1961, BS T-6 advised he had no information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA and none had come to his attention.

On October 25, 1961, BS T-7 advised he had no information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA and none had come to his attention.

On October 25, 30, 31, 1961, and November 1, 3, 6, 1961, BS T-1 advised he has been unable to develop any information that would indicate RAYMOND PATRIARCA has violated any local, state or federal laws.

BS 92-118

On October 25, 1961 and November 6, 1961, BS T-8 advised he has been unable to develop any information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA and was unable to furnish any information that PATRIARCA has violated any local, state or federal laws.

On October 26, 1961, Sergeant [redacted] Hope Valley Barracks, Rhode Island State Police, advised that ARTHUR J. MARTIN, Hopkinton, Rhode Island, is unknown to his department and that he has no record of this person at his barracks.

On October 26, 1961, Chief ROBERT BATON, Hopkinton, Rhode Island Police Department, advised that ARTHUR J. MARTIN and wife operated the Sal-Art Kennels dealing in German Shepard dogs; that both Mr. and Mrs. MARTIN are employed at Kenyon Piece Dye Works, Kenyon, Rhode Island and that they enjoy an excellent reputation in the area and that they have no record in this area.

On October 26, 1961, [redacted] Richmond, Rhode Island, advised he has known both Mr. and Mrs. ARTHUR J. MARTIN as residents in the Hopkinton, Rhode Island area since 1930 and that they are reliable people and enjoy good reputations in the area.

On October 26, 1961, ARTHUR J. MARTIN, Main Road, Hopkinton, Rhode Island, advised he operates Sal-Art dealing in the sale of German Shepard puppies. He said he received numerous calls inquiring about the price of puppies, and on many occasions the caller does not furnish his name. He said the name of RAYMOND or HELEN PATRIARCA was unknown to him and he had no dealings with them.

On October 27, 1961, Detectives [redacted] and [redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island Police Department, advised they investigate gambling and bookie activities in their city; that they have interviewed numerous suspected bookies, and at no time have they developed any information that RAYMOND PATRIARCA has any connection with the gambling element in their city.

BS T-9 advised on October 31, 1961, that RAYMOND PATRIARCA hangs out at Coin-O-Matic on Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island; that he does not have anyone hang around the place, and that he can always be found there in the cigarette vending machine business. BS T-9 said he is not able to furnish any information that PATRIARCA is involved in any illegal enterprises.

On November 3, 1961, BS T-10 advised he had no information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA and had received no information that PATRIARCA has violated any local, state or federal laws.

BS 92-118

BS 92-118

DETAILS:

1. BACKGROUND

On November 7, 9, 14, and 16, 1961, BS T-1 advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA can be located at Coin-O-Matic, 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island; that PATRIARCA is there during the daylight hours and then returns to his residence, 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island, where he will usually remain for the night.

On November 9 and 15, 1961, BS T-2 advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA still hangs at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island; that he is there every day of the week and that when he leaves this establishment he will go home to his residence, 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island, where he will usually remain for the rest of the evening.

2. MISCELLANEOUS

On October 26, 1961 the Los Angeles Division furnished the following information:

CLINTON H. ANDERSON, Chief of Police, Beverly Hills, California, advised on October 17, 1961 that his information concerning RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA was obtained from a newspaper article in the "Providence, R.I. Journal", exact date not known, but possibly in September, 1949. He said he had no other information concerning PATRIARCA and has never known the identity of the employee of PATRIARCA's who furnished the sworn affidavit referred to in the newspaper article.

ANDERSON said his only interest in this matter was the similarity in the modus operandi in the killing of "BUGSY SIEGAL" in Beverly Hills, California, on June 20, 1947, and the earlier killing of JAMES LETENDRE in Rhode Island. ANDERSON was unable to locate the letter dated September 19, 1949.

It is to be noted that the above investigation was conducted on the basis that the files of the Chicago Crime Commission made reference to a letter received from Chief C. H. ANDERSON, Beverly Hills, California Police, dated September 19, 1949, pertaining to an affidavit believed to be obtained by the "Providence Journal" from an employee of PATRIARCA alleging that PATRIARCA was an associate of FRANK COSTELLO and their combined operations in Rhode Island netted an excess of one million per year.

On October 31, 1961 the Las Vegas Division advised that several attempts have been made to contact [redacted] at the Dunes Hotel; however, he has been out of town and unavailable for reinterview. He will continue to be unavailable for several more days.

The Las Vegas file contains no information setting forth basis for belief that [redacted] and JOSEPH KRIKORIAN have an interest in the Dunes Hotel. Until recently the owners of record of the Dunes Hotel are MAJOR A. RIDDLE, 87.28% and [redacted]%. Another local group have recently purchased an interest in the hotel.

It is reported that it is a violation of local gaming regulations for anyone to represent an undisclosed interest in any gaming establishment.

On October 24, 1961 and November 3, 1961, Special Assistant to the Attorney General [redacted] advised SA [redacted] GREENE that [redacted]

Reference/Consult

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted] as information had been received that [redacted] Waltham, Massachusetts, [redacted] of JOHN BUCCELLI, had made the remark that [redacted] had obtained a judgment of $800.00 against the estate of BUCCELLI and that RAYMOND PATRIARCA did pay this judgement:

b6

On November 6, 1961, [redacted] residence [redacted] Northboro, Massachusetts, telephone EXeter 3-2824, was contacted at his place of employment, [redacted] Massachusetts. He may be contacted at work through telephone number [redacted] 8-2402, Extension 10.

[redacted] said that he was [redacted] and that while a youth growing up, came in contact with PATRIARCA and others in the bootleg trade. He said that he has not seen PATRIARCA since prior to 1951 when he was arrested on a Federal warrant charging him with a violation of [redacted] He said that at that time he approached PATRIARCA for some help in the form of money and was refused. He said that in connection with his judgment against the estate of BUCCELLI, approximately two and one-half years ago while employed on [redacted] vicinity of Waltham, he was in a barroom in Waltham and started a conversation with [redacted]

[] He said that during the conversation it came out that [] of BUCCELLI and [] told him that BUCCELLI was alleged to have a $50,000. investment in some gambling place in Las Vegas, Nevada.

[] said that as a result of his [] activities prior to 1951, he usually had considerable money and often attended dice games which were run at that time by the Providence crowd at the Hotels Somerset and Kenmore in Boston, Massachusetts. He said that at one of these games shortly before his arrest, BUCCELLI was also playing and borrowed $1,000. from him. He said that BUCCELLI offered to repay him at the conclusion of the dice game, but he thought the money would be safer with BUCCELLI and asked him to keep it for him.

[] was never able to obtain this money from BUCCELLI thereafter. He said that he never saw RAYMOND PATRIARCA regarding this money or had any thought to do so. He conjectured that the reason [] might have brought PATRIARCA's name into this debt was that he might have told him that the game where he loaned BUCCELLI the money was run by the PATRIARCA crowd from Providence. [] professed to have no current knowledge concerning PATRIARCA, his associates or his activities.

On November 7, 1961, [] Providence County Court House, Benefit Street, Providence, Rhode Island, advised that the following procedure has been completed in regards to Civil Action No. 162818, which was filed in his court on behalf of RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA:

That on November 1, 1961 the law firm of EDWARDS and ANGELL, Providence, Rhode Island, filed a demurrer, which in effect denied all of the allegations in the declaration filed by PATRIARCA by stating as follows:

- 1) Each count of the declaration does not state a cause of action
- 2) Plaintiff has failed in each count of the declaration to plead the entire article, but had singled out merely a portion thereof, out of context
- 3) The allegations of each count of the declaration is otherwise so involved and defective as not to form a basis for an action against the defendant (The Providence Journal Company)

BS 92-118

[] stated that the next step is to have the case assigned for a court hearing, on the demurrer, and if the demurrer is allowed the plaintiff will be required to file an amended declaration. He said that no other action has been taken in this matter.

On November 8, 1961, Deputy Chief [] Cranston, Rhode Island Police, advised his department has been checking the activities of [] at Hill Road Publishing and News Company, Gansett Avenue, Cranston, Rhode Island, but has been unable to develop any information that [] is selling his service to the bookies.

He also said he has been unable to develop any information that RAYMOND PATRIARCA has any connection or interest in Hill Road Publishing and News Company.

On November 9, 1961, BS T-2 advised that no information had been developed or obtained that RAYMOND PATRIARCA is engaged in any illegal activities.

On November 9, 1961, Sergeant [] Providence, Rhode Island Police Department, advised his division deals with gambling and other vices in the City of Providence, Rhode Island; that his men have investigated numerous complaints in these matters and at no time have they developed any information that RAYMOND PATRIARCA has any interest or control over any of these matters. He further stated he has no information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

On November 9, 1961, Commander [] Providence, Rhode Island Police Department, advised he has made inquiries among his sources and has not obtained any information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA or that PATRIARCA is engaged in any illegal activities. Commander [] stated that PATRIARCA can always be found at Coin-O-Matic on Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, and that he spends all of his time at this establishment.

On November 9, 1961, BS T-1 advised he has not obtained any information that RAYMOND PATRIARCA is involved in any illegal activities. Informant stated that PATRIARCA is always at Coin-O-Matic on Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, and that he does not allow anyone to hang at this establishment and that PATRIARCA is not the talkative type of person and does not discuss his personal affairs with anyone.

Date November 17, 1961

JOSEPH PATRIARCA, 169 Sandringham Avenue,
Providence, Rhode Island, advised he had no information concerning his brother RAYMOND PATRIARCA and did not care to discuss his brother.

She admitted being a close friend of [redacted] and further stated that she has rented the summer home of [redacted] Matunuck, Rhode Island; that she was there for the first week of July and the last two weeks of July, 1961 and also stated that there is a telephone at this summer home which is listed to her, but that [redacted] pays the telephone bill.

She said that she has been vacationing at this home during the summer months, for several years, but thought that a [redacted] previously owned this property, and she was unable to state when [redacted] purchased this property on [redacted] and was vague in her answers in regard to this summer home at [redacted] in Matunuck, Rhode Island,

She said that she knows of RAYMOND PATRIARCA; that she is not socially acquainted with him or any member of his family and that she met him about nine years ago but declined to state where she met him or through whom.

She also denied knowing any of RAYMOND PATRIARCA's associates and further stated that she does not know if [redacted] knows RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

She denied ever using the name of [redacted] but stated people have referred to her as [redacted] because she does know [redacted] and has been in his company on various occasions.

She also denied making any type of contact with PATRIARCA or his associates and also denied that anyone had contacted her in the recent past.

She also said that the summer home on [redacted] Matunuck, Rhode Island is closed, but in September she did go there for week ends, but cannot remember the dates.

Subject not known to have had any interest in Dunes Hotel, Las Vegas, Nevada. A reported associate, [redacted] did own a substantial interest; however, he lost a considerable amount of money on his investment. Other associates of subject not known to have had an interest in the Dunes Hotel; however, some of these individuals were in Las Vegas for a brief period when the Dunes Hotel first opened. PATRIARCA SHOULD BE CONSIDERED ARMED AND DANGEROUS.

- RUC -

DETAILS:

On November 21, 1961, [redacted] Investigator, Nevada Gaming Control Board, Las Vegas, Nevada, made available their file relating to the Dunes Hotel, Las Vegas, Nevada. This contained the following pertinent information relating to [redacted] who is from the Providence, Rhode Island area, and reportedly an associate of subject.

On May 13, 1955, a gaming license application was filed by the following applicants to operate a hotel and casino on the Los Angeles Highway South of Las Vegas:

LV 92-496

The above application was tentatively approved on May 12, 1954, subject to actual physical construction of a hotel facility, with work to be initiated by July 1, 1954 and construction to be carried on diligently and continuously until completion.

On March 8, 1955, [redacted] Dunes Hotel, Inc., listed current stockholders of the Dunes Hotel along with their percentages and amounts paid for stock. These are as follows:

Name	Percentage	Amount Paid For Stock	Loans	Total Investment
------	------------	--------------------------	-------	---------------------

------------	--	--	--	--

The above license was granted on May 13, 1955 to the above group to operate as the Dunes Hotel, a fifteen game operation.

This group operated to September of 1955, and during that period KIRK KERKORIAN was approved as an interest on the license for three per cent. KERKORIAN was identified as having lived in Los Angeles for 34 years. In 1941 - 1945, he was a pilot in the United States Army. In 1945, he formed the Los Angeles Air Service. He stated he had been coming to Las Vegas for several years and had met [redacted] who interested him in purchasing an interest in the hotel. He does not intend to take an active part in the business.

After a few months operation, the hotel was in financial difficulty and the lease of the casino was taken over by the Sands Hotel, Las Vegas. This group operated to January 16, 1956, at which time the hotel closed following further extensive losses.

In March, 1956, a lease was entered into between the M & R Investment Company, Inc. and the Dunes Hotel, Inc. M & R Corporation consisted of Major A. RIDDLE, 44.1 per cent; [redacted]%; and [redacted] per cent. Total investment of this group was $340,000.00 each for RIDDLE and [redacted] and $40,000.00 for [redacted]. The lease was written for ten years with payment of $30,000.00 per month rent until the license was approved and the casino could be opened; then it was to be increased to $50,000.00 per month. The lease also contained an option to purchase the real estate by M & R Corporation. The owners of the Dunes Hotel property at this time were [redacted] and [redacted].

In January, 1957, the purchase option was exercised and the property was sold to Major RIDDLE. Secretary-Treasurer of the operating company and [redacted]

On January 24, 1957, [redacted] was deleted from the license and his interest was purchased by RIDDLE for $145,000.00.

[redacted] has since purchased the interest of RIDDLE in the real estate and now owns 100 per cent of the hotel property.

Prior to September, 1961, RIDDLE owned 87.28 per cent of the lease and [redacted] per cent. On September 19, 1961, [redacted] was approved for six per cent; [redacted]

[redacted] per cent; and [redacted] for [redacted] per cent. All of the above, except [redacted] are from Las Vegas. [redacted] is from California. They purchased interest previously owned by RIDDLE.

There is a memo in the file dated September 1, 1955, which reflects that a confidential but reliable source of the Gaming Control Board had advised that [redacted] had undisclosed interests in the Dunes Hotel, which was represented by [redacted]

There is no information indicating subject or other individuals from the Providence area ever held an actual interest, disclosed or otherwise in the Dunes Hotel.

RI

On March 10, 1955, [redacted] who listed his address as [redacted] Las Vegas, completed a schedule of assets and liabilities, which he prepared in connection with his application for a gaming license. He also submitted a Statement of Financing of Investment. These are set forth as follows:

[redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statement made by him could be used in a court of law against him. He was advised he had the right to consult an attorney.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that he had two personal loans at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. At this point [redacted] obtained his payment books for the two loans and advised that loan [redacted] he obtained in June, 1961 for the purpose of buying a [redacted] automobile. He advised that loan [redacted] he obtained for the purpose of having ready cash available. He explained that as the owner of [redacted] it is necessary for him to have available cash in the event someone wants to sell [redacted]. He stated that you cannot make any money in the [redacted] business by buying [redacted] at a time and what you have to do is buy [redacted] at once and this requires that you have available cash.

In connection with loan [redacted] stated that [redacted] last name he could not recall, who owns [redacted] in Providence, Rhode Island, is a customer of his and he also has loans at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank. Accordingly, when [redacted] has been in his place of business he has indicated that he was going to Johnston to pay his loan and accordingly [redacted] said that he gave him some money to make payments on his loan. [redacted] said that his account was never credited with approximately $400. of funds that he gave to [redacted] told him that he had turned the money over to [redacted] who was [redacted] of the branch. [redacted] said that because he was behind in his payments the bank's attorneys have attached his home and he has now reached an agreement with the bank to pay a total of $200. a month on the two loans until they are both cleaned up. He said that he has called [redacted] concerning the discrepancy of $400. and [redacted] has not returned his call or come near his place of business.

NICHOLAS S. PARI, 375 Jastram Street, Providence, Rhode Island, was interviewed at the Providence, Rhode Island Resident Agency of the FBI. PARI was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statements made by him could be used against him in a court of law. He was also advised that he had the right to consult an attorney.

It was pointed out to PARI that the records of the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island indicate that he had a personal loan in the amount of $3,600.00 which was payable in 24 months; payments of $150.00, to commence on June 17, 1961, and the records show that he had made no payment of this loan. It was pointed out to PARI that the purpose of the interview was to determine the circumstances surrounding his obtaining of the loan, and the information appearing on the loan application.

PARI advised that at the time he obtained the loan, he owned a nightclub, known as the Bahamas Club, which was located in Johnston, Rhode Island. He explained that around August, 1961, he worked at the club with [redacted] and [redacted] the club, and subsequently [redacted] turned the nightclub over to him with the understanding that he pay him $50.00 a week and $500.00 when he received his settlement from his automobile accident case. PARI explained he had been in an automobile accident in September, 1960 and subsequently the case was settled for approximately $4,200 to $4,300. He explained that he was only receiving $50 to $60 a week from the club, and prior to New Years, 1961, he gave the club to a friend of his, [redacted]. From December to June, 1961 he was unemployed. It was pointed out to PARI that on the loan application which he signed on May 16, 1961, he indicated that he was self-employed as a salesman, earning $160.00 a week, and indicated that the purpose of the loan was for "inventory for sales - promised on orders". PARI said that he recalled furnishing this information to the bank's [redacted]. Also it was pointed out to PARI that [redacted] Street, Providence, Rhode Island, was a co-maker on the loan.

It was pointed out to PARI that it was unusual for a bank to make a loan of $3,600 to an individual who was unemployed, further it appeared unusual that the bank did not do a credit check before giving him the loan. It was also pointed out to PARI that [redacted] signed as a co-maker or endorser on numerous other loans at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. PARI was questioned as to how he spent this money and he replied "gambling".

PARI, upon being further questioned concerning the loan, stated that he might as well tell the true story because he now realizes that he had been used by [redacted] and furnished the following information:

Sometime in May, 1961, [redacted] whom he knew, approached him and requested that he obtain a loan under his own name at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He said he told [redacted] that with his credit rating he couldn't borrow a "dime". [redacted] told him not to worry about it because he could arrange the loan, the only thing he needed was for PARI to go to the bank, sign the application and the promissory note. PARI said he could not recall whether [redacted] and himself drove to the bank in his car or [redacted] car, but he does remember that on the way to the bank [redacted] told him to say that he was self-employed as a salesman, and the reason he wanted the loan was for business, that is buying merchandise for an inventory. He said that now that he thinks the whole matter over, it appears to him that the [redacted] was waiting for him to show up, and also he and [redacted] were very friendly. He stated that [redacted] made out the loan application and asked him various questions. He said he recalls when [redacted] asked him his name, address, date of birth, marital status, [redacted] had to wait until he replied to write the information on the application. He said that as far as the information pertaining to his employment and the reason he wanted the loan, he noted that [redacted] was writing the information before he could furnish the same, in other words [redacted] knew what he was supposed to say.

PARI said that after he signed the application he also signed a promissory note and [redacted] then went to the teller's cage where he obtained money which he recalls totaled less than $3,000.00. He said the money was in $100, $50 and $20 denominations. He said that he remembered that the amount of money he received was less than $3,000 and he thought that he was paying a high rate of interest for the loan. It was pointed out to PARI that on the loan application, it is indicated that the loan was to be in the amount of $2,400, but the promissory note he signed was for $3,600. At this point, PARI stated that he now recalls that originally he requested a $2,400 loan and signed a note for $2,400. He said that after he signed the note, [] told him that he had made a mistake on the note and had him sign a blank promissory note. He said that he believes that after he left the bank [] wrote the amount on the new promissory note as $3,600. He said the only reason he could say this was because he was well aware of the amount of money he received was less than $3,000.

PARI said that he and [] then left the bank and on their return trip to Providence he turned the money over to [] who in turn gave him a $100 bill for himself.

Upon questioning PARI further as to the amount of money he actually received from [] he said he believes that he received the proceeds from a $2,400 loan rather than from a $3,600 loan. Also all of his conversation with [] concerned a loan in the amount of $2,400 and not $3,600. PARI said that he had heard through various sources, which he did not wish to disclose, that a number of people had obtained loans from [] on which [] signed as either a co-maker or endorser. He also pointed out that it was possible that [] had some kind of scheme going, although he had no knowledge of this. PARI was asked the question if it was possible that [] had used some of his money to make payments on other loans on which [] was either a maker, co-maker or endorser. PARI was questioned as to whether he had any information concerning this and answered no. He stated this was just a thought that came into his mind.

Pari was requested to furnish a signed statement incorporating the above information, which he declined. He stated should it ever become necessary for him to testify he will do so.

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, advised that her husband, [redacted] was unemployed and she did not know his whereabouts. She stated that she is receiving welfare support for herself and eight children. She stated that whenever she wants to get in contact with her husband she mentions it to his friends who "hang around" Atwell's Avenue and subsequently he comes to her home. She requested the Agent to leave his name and telephone number and she would mention to her husband's friends that she had a very important message for him.

[redacted] wanted to know if her husband was going to be arrested and it was pointed out to her that the Agent desired to interview him concerning a loan under his name at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. She stated that she was aware that there is a loan under his name, but she is positive that he never received this money.

She stated that her husband has never worked with the exception of being [redacted] for the [redacted] Company, Providence, Rhode Island, and he held this job on an intermittent basis.

She also stated she could not understand how anyone could lend $3,300. to her husband when his credit "stinks". It was pointed out to [redacted] was a co-maker on the loan with her husband and she stated that [redacted] was a friend and associate of her husband. She stated that she does not believe that [redacted] works either and if there is such a loan at the bank most likely it is [redacted]. She pointed out that if her husband had received a loan, she knows he would have given her something for the support of the children.

He was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law. He was also advised he had the right to consult an attorney.

Upon being questioned as to his present residence he replied that it is at the same number Atwells Avenue as where his wife resides. He did not know the number but said it was next door to [redacted] where they formerly lived. He also advised that he is presently unemployed.

[redacted] was advised that the purpose of the investigation was to determine the circumstances surrounding his obtaining a personal loan in the amount of $3,300. from the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. It was also pointed out to [redacted]

[redacted] signed as the co-maker; also no payments had been made on this loan to date. [redacted] was a friend of his and he approached [redacted] to determine where he could borrow some money. He said that [redacted] brought him to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, where he introduced him to a tall, thin individual whose name he could not recall. He said he told the man he wanted to borrow $3,000. and he did not give him any reason as to why he wanted the loan other than the fact that he needed the money. He said he told this individual he was employed by [redacted] He said he was not working full-time, but actually was [redacted] one or two days a week.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that on the loan application he indicated that he was making $115. a week and he stated that he never told this to the bank official. [redacted] said he was making on an average of from $50. to $75. a week depending on how many days he worked. [redacted] said what information he gave to the bank official was incorporated on an application, which he signed.

Also, the same day he signed a promissory note and [redacted] signed as co-maker and the bank official gave him the $3,000. [redacted] denied giving any of the money to [redacted] or anyone else.

Upon being questioned as to how he expended this money, [redacted] replied that he had spent it on clothing for himself and his family, paid the gas and electric bills and bought some furniture. He said he could not recall how much money he spent for these items, but he does know that he spent about 80% of the $3,000 at the race track, which he lost.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that it appeared unusual that a bank would lend him $3,000, when he had such a poor credit rating. He replied he did not think it was unusual because [redacted] co-signed on the note.

[redacted] was requested to incorporate the above information in a signed statement which he stated he was willing to do.

The following unsigned statement was prepared which [redacted] read and said it was true and correct. He stated that prior to signing this statement he desired to call his attorney. [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, telephone number WT 1-3198, advised she is married to [redacted]. She stated that her husband was divorced from his first wife [redacted] approximately 6 years ago. She stated that she has both of her husband's two daughters residing with her.

[redacted] said that she has not seen her husband for the last 7 or 8 weeks. She said that he was a gambler and continually plays the horses. Also, he is a salesman selling [redacted]. She said that last time that she had heard of her husband's whereabouts he was "out West" and she had no way of getting in contact with him. She stated that she should be hearing from him any day because he is well aware that she has no money and the rent is past due. She said that when she hears from her husband she will have him get in contact with the interviewing agents. [redacted]

[redacted] wanted to know whether her husband was in trouble, and it was pointed out to her that the reason the agents wanted to interview her husband concerned a loan he had made at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. She stated that she was aware of this loan because several months ago she was visiting her husband's aunt, [redacted]

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, and there was a letter from the bank addressed to her husband at that address which enclosed a letter concerning a loan that he had at that bank. She stated she brought the letter home with her that evening, she and her husband got into a fight over the loan, and her husband told her that this was not his loan, but that it was [redacted]. Also he told her to go see [redacted] of the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank and he would tell her that it was not his loan, but [redacted]. She said subsequently she went down to the [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island where she met [redacted] and he told her that it was not his loan but her husband's. She stated that she believes this loan was made by her for [redacted]. [redacted] also signed on the loan with her husband. Furthermore, she pointed out that she could not understand how her husband could get a loan when he was unemployed and had a "lousy credit record". [redacted] also advised that she had [redacted] was interviewed at [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island. During the interview, [redacted] was present. [redacted] was advised that the purpose of the interview was to determine the circumstances surrounding a loan in her name at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. She was advised that she did not have to make a statement and any statements made by her could be used against her in a court of law. She was also advised that she had the right to consult with an attorney.

[redacted] stated that this loan in the name of [redacted] was her husband's and he should answer all questions concerning same. It was pointed out that [redacted] had signed an application and also a promissory note for the loan.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that on the application she indicated that she had a salary of $100 a week she received for board from her sons, and also that she was receiving a monthly pension of $100.00. She stated that she does not receive any room and board from her sons but does live with her son and daughter-in-law, [redacted]

[redacted] Also she stated that she does receive a Social Security monthly check in the amount of $40.50, which prior to September was in the amount of $37.88. She stated that she does not have any money of her own. At this point in the interview, [redacted] stated that she and her husband pay all the expenses for her mother-in-law, as well as supplying her with room and board. It was pointed out in the application that [redacted] said she received $100 a week in the sum of cash for board from her sons. To this [redacted] said it was not true and also the information pertaining to her pension was not true.

[redacted] was also questioned as to whether she signed the application and the promissory note for the loan at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island to which she answered negatively. She said she believed that her son, [redacted] brought the papers to their home where she signed them. At this point, [redacted] stated that her mother-in-law had gone to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank to sign the necessary papers in connection with the loan and [redacted] stated she had not signed any papers at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank.

The interview was terminated because [redacted] insisted that [redacted] be interviewed concerning his mother's loan.

Date October 11, 1961

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, was interviewed in a bureau automobile off Broadway, Pawtucket, Rhode Island. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement, and any statements made by him could be used against him in a court of law. He was also advised that he had the right to consult with an attorney.

[redacted] was questioned concerning a short term unsecured loan in his name at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

[redacted] advised sometime during January, 1961, the exact date he could not recall, he was in "tough shape" and needed money. He said that he contacted his brother, [redacted] and explained his problem, and his brother brought him to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, where he was introduced to a [redacted] who was [redacted] at the bank. At that time, [redacted] had him make out an application for the loan, and he also signed a promissory note. The amount of the loan was $1,500.00. He said he was unable to recall whether he received the money the same day he made the application and signed the note or whether he received the money on the following day.

[redacted] said all of the information he furnished on the loan application was true and correct. He said that he was employed as a salesman, selling [redacted]. He said these [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island. He said that at the time he made the application for the loan, he was making a salary of between $125.00 to $150.00 a week. He stated that subsequently he got transferred to the company's East Providence Office where he stayed approximately 2 months, instructing new salesmen. He said he was only receiving a salary of $30.00 a week, and he had difficulty with the Sales Manager [redacted] and subsequently quit his job. [redacted] explained that every time he sold [redacted] he made a $50.00 commission.

[redacted] stated that he received all of the money on the loan, and he did not give a kickback to [redacted] or anyone else. Also he denied that he had made the loan for his brother [redacted].

and turned the proceeds over to him. He pointed out that his brother [] did sign as an endorser on the note.

[] was questioned as to how many payments he had made on his loan, and also how many times he had renewed the note. He stated that he only signed the original note, and never made any payments. It was pointed out to [] that the records at the bank show that his original note was dated January 23, 1961 in the amount of $1,500.00, due on April 24, 1961.

On April 12, 1961, a $300.00 payment was made on the loan and the note was renewed for 60 days. [] said he was unable to explain who made this $300.00 payment and who renewed the note.

[] was questioned concerning his mother, [] and he advised that he does not support his mother, and she has lived with his brother [] for the past 5 or 6 years. He stated that he is in no financial position to give his mother money each week, but occasionally he does give her a "couple of dollars" so she can play Bingo. He said that she receives a small pension of around $30.00 a month, from what he believes is Social Security. It was also pointed out to [] that there is a loan under his mother's name at the bank, and this loan was originally in the amount of $2,000 and presently has an unpaid balance of $1,500.00. Also on the loan application, it shows his mother receiving $100.00 a week board from her sons, and also receiving $100.00 per month on a pension. He replied that his mother does not receive $100.00 a week board from her sons, but actually she lives with [] who has to support her because her pension is only around $30.00 a month. He said he knows nothing about his mother receiving $100.00 per month pension.

[] advised that his brother [] was a partner or owner in the [] Johnston, Rhode Island, and as a result of this business he became acquainted with [] of the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

Before we had gone into the bank [redacted] told me that I should give a good reason as to why I needed the money and also say I was employed. I recall telling this individual that I needed the money for wedding expenses and for furniture. Also, I said that I was employed at [redacted] Providence, R. I. as a meat cutter earning $135. week. Also, I may have said that I was receiving a monthly U.S. Government pension of $55.00 per month. I wish to state that the above information is false because as I have previously stated I wanted the money to pay [redacted] I was not employed and never received a U.S. Government pension. I recall that I received $1,970.00 in cash from this individual immediately after signing the loan application and the promissory note. I never gave any money to [redacted] or anyone else for obtaining this loan. I was of the opinion that I was granted the loan as a result of [redacted] good credit.

"After I had received the money from the bank I never received any communications from the bank concerning the loan. Also, I have never paid any money back to the bank."

[redacted] advised that he is presently employed by [redacted], Pawtucket, Rhode Island, as a Salesman.

[redacted] advised that sometime around the latter part of December, 1960, the exact date he was unable to recall, he was approached by [redacted] of Providence, Rhode Island, for the purpose of buying a half share in the [redacted], located in Johnston, Rhode Island. [redacted] advised that he was originally interested in going into the nightclub business and when [redacted] approached him it sounded like a good proposition. He stated that he bought into the [redacted] for $1,000, for which he was to receive 50 shares of the 100 share of stock outstanding in the club. He stated that [redacted] told him that his wife, [redacted] had the 100 shares in her name and that [redacted] had just been sentenced to the Federal Correctional Institution at Danbury, Connecticut. [redacted] said he was sold on the deal and began his employment with the club.

At that time he became acquainted with [redacted] who was [redacted] of the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He said that [redacted] came into the club on the average of a couple of times a week. One night while [redacted] was in the club [redacted] said that he asked him if he could borrow money as he had a 1960 Ford Convertible that he could put up for collateral. He stated that [redacted] was agreeable and as such he obtained a $2,000. loan and of this money he gave $1,000. to [redacted] to pay off a $1,000. loan that [redacted] had with the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank. It was pointed out to [] that on December 7, 1960 he received a short term loan in the amount of $2,000. which was payable in 90 days. He stated that this must have been the date that he had bought into the [] and he currently still owes this money to the bank. It was also pointed out to [] that the records at the bank show that he received another short term loan, No. [] in the amount of $1,000, under date of December 20, 1960 which was due on January 4, 1961 and this loan was paid off on January 5, 1961 and [] was an endorser on this loan. [] said he was unable to recall this loan although it is very possible that he made it.

It was pointed out to [] that under date of January 9, 1961 he was a co-maker on a loan made to [] Providence, Rhode Island, in the amount of $2,000. He advised that this loan was made in [] name, who is his brother-in-law, for the purpose of opening a restaurant to be known as []. He said he recalls that he was to make weekly payments of $40, until the loan was repaid. He said that the [] was never opened and he put this $2,000 into the [] which was in financially bad condition.

It was also pointed out to [] that he was a co-maker on a $3,000 short term loan made to the [] on which [] signed as President and he signed as Treasurer. Also, [] signed as endorser. [] advised that this was correct. The purpose of the loan was strictly for business and for no other reason. He pointed out that he has already conferred with the bank's attorney concerning the loan in the name of [] and his own $2,000 loan and is presently making $70 a week payments.

[] stated that at the time he made these loans there was no intention of defrauding the bank or anyone else, but it was strictly business on his behalf. He stated that he was the individual who put the [] into bankruptcy because he was unable to foresee a future for the club and all monies invested in the club had been expended. He stated that the loans that he had made to the [] as a creditor total $3,000, which amount also included the $1,000 he had lent to [].

[] advised that he had no information that [] was obtaining money from the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank by bringing individuals to make out false applications. He stated that he had heard around Federal Hill, Providence, Rhode Island, that [] had brought a number of characters to the bank and obtained loans. He said that he had no proof that this was so nor could he furnish the names of any of the "characters".

He also advised that he had no information that [] was receiving kickbacks from the borrowers or from []. Also, he advised that [] had no interest whatsoever in the [] although he frequented the club frequently. He stated that from his conversation with [] he was under the impression that [] was only looking for business for his bank and that was all.

[] was also questioned as to whether RAYMOND or JOSEPH PATRIARCA had ever frequented the []. He said that he was aware of these individuals because of the publicity they receive in the Providence, Rhode Island newspapers, but if they had frequented the club he was not able to recognize them because he does not know them personally.

[] advised that on October 2, 1961 he saw [] with [] outside the Crystal Tap, Providence, Rhode Island. He said that he told [] that he was earning $100. a week, but had to make $70. a week payments to the bank on the loans and he requested [] to assist him. He stated [] told him he was unemployed and "broke".

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, date of birth [redacted] was interviewed at the Providence, Rhode Island Resident Agency of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law. He was also advised he had the right to consult with an attorney.

[redacted] advised that his wife, [redacted] had informed him that the Agents were desirous of interviewing him concerning loans on which he was maker, co-maker and endorser at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

He advised that he had already spoken to his attorney and both he and his attorney had planned to be interviewed the previous day, October 5, 1961, but this was not possible because his attorney was tied up in court. He stated that he was here for interview on the advice of his attorney.

[redacted] advised that approximately one year ago last July or August he obtained a loan for himself in the amount of $1,500, or $2,000, from [redacted] of the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He stated at this time he was in trouble with gambling and needed the money. He said the proceeds from this loan were used to pay off gambling debts and the balance he used for living expenses and for his home.

He stated that he would pay off his loans and go back and obtain new loans. He stated that to date he has five or six loans under his own name which are still outstanding. It was pointed out to [redacted] that the bank records show that he has four short term, unsecured loans. The first was obtained on June 27, 1960 in the amount of $1,000, which is still outstanding. The second loan was obtained on July 1, 1960 in the amount of $1,500, and there remains $500, unpaid. The third loan was made on July 18, 1960 in the amount of $1,000, and there presently remains $400. unpaid and the fourth loan was made on August 8, 1960 in the amount of $3,000. and there remains unpaid $2,400. It was pointed out to [] that each loan was for originally 30 to 90 days and each time the note was due it was renewed. He said this was true, but the record would show that on some occasions when the note was renewed he made some payment on the principal amount.

It was also pointed out to [] that he was either the co-signer or endorser on a number of unsecured, short term loans and personal loans for individuals, which he stated was true.

[] stated that sometime in October, 1960 he started the [] in Johnston, Rhode Island, with a couple of thousand dollars that he borrowed from []. He stated that [] was never a partner in the club. Subsequently he did take in a partner, [] and the agreement was a 50-50 ownership in the club. He stated that [] put up from $2,000. to $4,000., exact amount he could not recall and subsequently the club was petitioned into bankruptcy by []. He stated that he personally owned the club originally and he used his wife's name, [] as Secretary of the corporation for a couple of weeks so as to be able to obtain a liquor license. He said that after [] bought into the club [] became the Secretary and Treasurer and he the President. [] said that [] buying into the club is a complete mixup, but [] attorney had all the papers to change the corporate record which he never did. He stated that his wife was nothing more than a name for the incorporation of the club.

It was pointed out to [] that he was either co-maker or endorser on the following loans for the following individuals:

DENNIS RAIMONDI was interviewed at the Providence, Rhode Island Resident Agency of the FBI. He was advised that he did not have to make a statement; that any statement he did make could be used against him in a court of law and that he had the right to consult with an attorney before making a statement. He furnished the following information:

Approximately seven or eight years ago, he changed his name from DENNIS LYTWYN.

He is currently employed at the Crystal Tap, 125 Canal Street, Providence, Rhode Island from 5:00 p.m. to 12:00 p.m., as a bartender. During the day, [redacted] works at that establishment also [redacted] and they are close, personal friends.

RAIMONDI was questioned concerning loans under his name at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He said that he has three or four loans at this branch and obtained all of them through the former [redacted]. He said the loans went delinquent and the bank referred them to their attorney, [redacted] and he is presently making $50.00 payments on these loans.

RAIMONDI stated that at the time he made his first loan with [redacted] he had heard the rumor throughout Federal Hill, Providence, Rhode Island that "everyone and his brother" was obtaining loans from [redacted] regardless of their credit standing. He decided to attempt to obtain a loan and went directly to see [redacted] not mentioning that anyone had referred him to the bank. At that time, he made out the application and spoke to [redacted] who indicated that he would need a co-signer. He then mentioned [redacted] name and [redacted] told him that if [redacted] would co-sign the note, he would give him the loan. RAIMONDI then approached [redacted] said if it was o.k. with [redacted] for him to co-sign, he would be willing to do so. Subsequently, [redacted] went to the bank where he co-signed the note and a couple of days later he, RAIMONDI, received the money.

RAIMONDI said obtaining the loan was like "taking candy from a baby" inasmuch as he could not borrow money from loan sharks, never mind a bank.

RAIMONDI said he obtained a loan under his wife's name in the approximate amount of $3,000 on which he paid back $800.00 before it was delinquent. He said he used the proceeds of this loan to pay off gambling debts and for his current gambling activities. He said he was not clear as to what names were on the loans but he believes he had a second loan under his own name and that of his wife when he borrowed approximately $500.00. He said he also had a short term loan for one month under his own name where he borrowed $200.00 but paid this loan off in full.

RAIMONDI stated that [] never asked him for a kickback on any of the loans and he actually believes that [] was doing nothing more than trying to build up business in a new branch.

It was pointed out to RAIMONDI that a number of loans made by [] were delinquent and had been referred to the bank's attorney for collection. He said he was aware of several individuals who had borrowed money and in his opinion, they were "dogs" and he would not lend them $1.00.

RAIMONDI stated he has known RAYMOND PATRIARCA and his brother, JOSEPH PATRIARCA, for approximately five or six years. He first became acquainted with them when he "hung around" RAYMOND PATRIARCA's place of business, Coin-O-Matic, Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island. He said that all discussions he has had with the PATRIARCAS was small talk and they never discussed their personal matters with him.

RAIMONDI said he is very fond of RAYMOND PATRIARCA and even if he knew anything concerning him, he would never furnish the information. He said he would rather go to jail and even cut off his right arm before he would give information concerning either PATRIARCA.

RAIMONDI stated that there was nothing wrong with his obtaining money from [] took a risk. He explained that he had all the intentions of paying off his loans but when things began getting tough, he stopped making payments. He said that according to his discussions with the bank's attorney, everything was alright as long as he continued making the $50.00 payments.

[redacted] said that he first became acquainted with [redacted] of the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, approximately one and one-half years ago. He said he did not recall the circumstances surrounding his original introduction to [redacted] but believes a friend of his may have introduced him to [redacted] in a restaurant. He said it was also possible that he may have met [redacted] at a bar in Providence, Rhode Island but he was unable to recall the circumstances.

[redacted] said that at the time he met [redacted] he recalls [redacted] telling him that he was [redacted] at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, and [redacted] was trying to "drum up" new business for his bank. [redacted] at that time asked him to transfer or open new accounts at his branch. [redacted] said that he took a liking to [redacted] and subsequently he did transfer his business accounts and personal business to [redacted] branch.

[redacted] said that he has had several short term unsecured loans under his own name at the bank. He said that all of his loans are current, and from the best of his recollection, were never delinquent. Also he has had unsecured loans under the name of [redacted] and he believes to date there is only one loan outstanding and current.

[] explained the Eastern Leasing Corporation was set up for the primary purpose of renting automobiles to various individuals and business concerns in the Providence, Rhode Island area. He said that Eastern Leasing Corporation buys automobiles from Rossi Motors, Inc., and at that time he obtained an automobile loan for each car purchased. He said that he would guess but believes he has at least fifteen of these loan accounts under the name of Eastern Leasing Corporation and all of these accounts are current.

In addition, [] said that [] Rossi Motors, Inc., has arranged for automobile loans for various customers who have purchased cars and these loans were put through [] bank. He explained that all automobile loans are secured with full recourse on behalf of Rossi Motors, Inc.,

[] reiterated that all of his loans are current but since [] is no longer [] of the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, he has given his business elsewhere. He said that he took a personal liking to [] and gave whatever business he had to []. He pointed out that just this morning [] had been to his place of business and he gave [] approximately $500.00 which was to cover the monthly payment on five automobile loans.

[] never requested money or anything of value for handling his loans. He explained that he actually was doing [] a favor because he could place his loans with any bank in Rhode Island.

[] was questioned as to whether he met [] through JOSEPH PATRIARCA and he replied no. He did explain that JOSEPH PATRIARCA is employed [] at Rossi Motors, Inc., as a salesman, also PATRIARCA usually accompanied him when he went to Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, to make payments on his loans. [] said that he has nothing but the highest regard for [] and hesitates to believe that he may have done anything wrong while [] at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank.

JOSEPH F. PATRIARCA, 169 Sandringham Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, was interviewed at his present place of employment, Rossi Motors, Inc., 10 Humbert Street, North Providence, Rhode Island. PATRIARCA was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law. He was also advised that he had the right to consult an attorney. PATRIARCA replied that he knew his rights and had no objection to discussing any matters with the Agents.

PATRIARCA said that he has been employed by Rossi Motors, Inc., for approximately one year as a salesman. He said that he was acquainted with [redacted] who was the [redacted] of the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He pointed out that in fact [redacted] was very friendly with both himself and [redacted] Rossi Motors, Inc., and only that morning [redacted] had been to their place of business where he had picked up money which was for five payments on automobiles which were financed at [redacted] bank.

PATRIARCA was asked as to when he first met [redacted] and he said he could not recall. Upon being asked if he knew [redacted] one, two or three years, PATRIARCA replied that he would only be lying if he guessed. PATRIARCA said that he was the individual who referred [redacted] and as a result of his introduction, [redacted] has given most of his business to [redacted]. PATRIARCA said that he has never had any loans with [redacted].

PATRIARCA was questioned as to whether [redacted] at any time had ever called him by telephone in connection with any loans to be made to individuals in the Providence, Rhode Island area. PATRIARCA replied that [redacted] had never called him but he does recall that PAGE did ask him if he knew a "few individuals" to whom he was planning to make loans. PATRIARCA said that the names that were mentioned to him he "threw cold water" on the recommendation and in fact he "knocked" the majority of the individuals who wanted to make loans from [redacted].

On 11/3/61 at Providence, Rhode Island File # 29-879
by SA [redacted] /cap Date dictated 11/17/61

PATRIARCA was questioned as to whether he knew [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, and he replied that he specifically told [redacted] was a "poor risk and he should not lend him money".

PATRIARCA said that his relationship with [redacted] has been very cordial and he took a personal liking to him. He said that [redacted] had never asked him for any money, or anything else. He said he never requested [redacted] to lend money to friends of his and [redacted] would bear him out on this statement.

PATRIARCA said that he was married to [redacted] [redacted] had three children. [redacted]
[redacted]

At this point of the interview, PATRIARCA said that he did not like anyone asking about his family or other personal background and that this information should already be in the Federal Bureau of Investigation files. At this point the interview was terminated.

Date November 22, 1961

[redacted] was reinterviewed at the [redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statements made by him could be used against him in a court of law. He was also advised that he had the right to consult an attorney.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that a number of individuals who had obtained loans from him, and the loans had gone delinquent and had been turned over to the bank's attorney for collection, were interviewed. [redacted] was told that a couple of the borrowers had said that they had not received the proceeds of the loans, but actually [redacted] who co-signed on the loans had received the money and [redacted] approached them for the purpose of using their names to obtain the funds for him. [redacted] asked if the records in the bank did not reflect that the borrower had signed both the application for the loan and the promissory note which would show that the borrower had obtained the proceeds of the loan.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that one borrower said that he had discussed a $360.00 loan with him [redacted] and when he received the monthly installment payment book, the loan was for $3,600.00. Also, this borrower went to him [redacted] and pointed out the discrepancy. According to the borrower, [redacted] told him to straighten the matter out with [redacted] the co-signer on the note. [redacted] said that he recalled this incident and the borrower lived on [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, but if the Agents checked the promissory note signed by the borrower, they would see that the borrower signed for the $3,600.00 and this is what he received.

It was also pointed out to [redacted] that another borrower said that he remembered discussing a loan with him [redacted] and the proceeds he received was for a $2,400.00 loan but the notification he received from the bank indicated he had received a $3,600.00 loan. [redacted] said that if the borrower signed a note for $3,600.00, he must have received the proceeds, because no one signs a note for more than they receive. It was again pointed out to [] that this borrower recalled that he had signed a promissory note but he [] said that he had made an error on the note and the borrower then signed a blank note. [] said that if borrowers have made such statements then it appears to him that he should consult his own attorney and not discuss this matter any further. [] said that as far as he is concerned, he had done nothing [] on any loans made by him.

On 11/28/61 USA [redacted] Providence, R. I., confidentially advised SA [redacted] that in his conference with Attorney General ROBERT KENNEDY at Boston,

Mass., on 11/27/61, Mr. KENNEDY discussed this case with him and both he and Mr. KENNEDY agreed that the investigation in this matter has been thorough and complete, and Mr. KENNEDY had no fields of investigation which needed to be pursued at this time.

On 11/27, 30/61 and 12/1, 5, 7/61, [] advised he has continued his efforts to penetrate the inner circle of subject at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, R. I.; that during the above periods he has been in contact with the subject at this establishment; that subject has appeared friendly to him and that they have had several general conversations but, to date, subject has not actually confided in him to the point where he has discussed his personal business with this informant.

Informant stated that he is fearful of asking any direct questions of subject for fear that his relationship would terminate, as subject does not allow too many people to hang around his establishment except people that subject trusts.

Informant said that all during the time that he has been with subject he has not seen anyone make any irregular contact with subject and that no telephone calls of any irregular nature have been received or sent by the subject.

Informant said he is of the impression that he is making inroads with subject and in the future may gain his confidence as subject has told him that he (subject) is fearful of the government investigation, but did not go any further in that remark.

Informant said that subject "is on edge"; that he is quite worried about the investigation being conducted.

On 12/4/61 GEORGE A. MC LAUGHLIN, Deputy Director, Public Utility Administration, Department of Business Regulations, State of Rhode Island, and Providence Plantations, 49 Westminister Street, Providence, R. I., advised his department conducted a hearing requested by the Hill Road Publishing and News Company, Cranston, R. I. (Bosfile 162-4) against the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., Providence, R. I. for the installation of three additional phones. This hearing was listed under Docket No. 732.

This petition was filed on 2/23/61 and was heard on 8/11, 15/61 and 11/8/61, at which time all of the testimony was heard. MC LAUGHLIN advised that during his hearing no information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA was received and no testimony was heard that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had any interest in this business.

It is to be noted that excerpts from this transcript are being reported to the Bureau under Bosfile 162-4, Bufile 162-65, entitled, [REDACTED] HILL ROAD PUBLISHING AND NEWS COMPANY, 164 Gansett Avenue, Cranston, Rhode Island, INTERSTATE GAMBLING ACTIVITIES - WIRE SERVICE."

On 12/6/61 investigation and tests were conducted in the Providence, R. I. area in an effort to develop a highly confidential source.

Results of these tests will be submitted to the Bureau under separate cover when completion of tests and investigation is completed.

2. MISCELLANEOUS

The following investigation was conducted by
SA [redacted]:

On October 20, 1961 the records of the Probate Court, Suffolk County, Boston, Massachusetts, were reviewed. They revealed a Petition for Guardianship of a minor by [redacted]. This petition was numbered 398217 and was filed July 3, 1958 for the guardianship of [redacted]. The petition indicates that [redacted] resides at [redacted] Dorchester, and that [redacted] was born [redacted] of JOHN BUCCELLI, Lake Street, Wilmington, Middlesex County; the parents were divorced. On August 5, 1958 [redacted] was designated guardian and bond of $200 was posted by [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, and [redacted] Waltham, Massachusetts.

On October 20, 1961 the records of the Middlesex County Probate Court revealed Petition for Administration number 351662 was filed August 21, 1958 in the estate of JOHN BUCCELLI. The petition was filed from the office of [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, and the petitioner was [redacted] Waltham, Massachusetts. The petition indicated that JOHN BUCCELLI, Lake Street, Wilmington, Massachusetts, died June 19, 1958 intestate. He left a widow and two sons, [redacted] [redacted] Dorchester, Massachusetts. The petition indicated that [redacted] was a business associate of BUCCELLI and he was appointed Administrator on September 25, 1958. Also filed was a petition for bond wherein [redacted] indicated that the estate did not exceed $2,000 in real estate and $2,000 in personal property. On November 30, 1959 [redacted] of Milford, Massachusetts filed an order with the court to order [redacted] to file an inventory and an account of the estate. On December 24, 1959 the court so ordered and, to date, this inventory or accounting has not been filed. On May 6, 1959 Attorney [redacted] filed a claim against the estate in the interest of [redacted] Caryville, Massachusetts, in which he alleged that BUCCELLI owed [redacted] $800. There is no further action in the estate.

On October 23, 1961 Attorney [] was contacted at his office in Norwood, Massachusetts. He stated that he has no information concerning BUCCELLI other than the fact that [] had indicated that BUCCELLI had property in Nevada. [] stated that there has been no further action in connection with the case against BUCCELLI.

Interview of []

On October 20 and 25, 1961 and November 2, 1961 [] of JOHN BUCCELLI, was contacted. She, in the course of these contacts, has advised that she has not heard from RAYMOND PATRIARCA since [] death. [] had told her that she would be "taken care of" and had nothing to worry about. Although [] when he was released from Deer Island they resumed going together and, just immediately prior to his slaying, made a trip to New York City. An individual named JACK GREENBERG was with them. In the course of their motor trip to New York City JACK GREENBERG thought they were being followed but nothing developed therefrom. The trip to New York City was for her [] to fix up his business papers in her interest. She did not know just what these papers consisted of. A few nights after this trip to New York BUCCELLI was slain in Boston.

[] advised that FRANK FERRARA attended the wake of BUCCELLI and in the course of his visit told her that BUCCELLI was "where he belonged - in the casket, as he was getting too big for his pants."

[] recalled one time getting a call from a woman who told her that [] "wanted to see JOHN. At this time the [] on St. Paul Street and that when she told [] of this call he said it was [] Later that same day BUCCELLI returned to the house with [] and JOSEPH MOFFIE carrying a duffel bag. They told the [] to leave the bedroom and these three men worked therein for some time repeatedly going into the bathroom and flushing the same. Subsequently she noticed a very moldy odor in the house and determined that the three men were engaged in destroying old money. At the outset she thought it was counterfeit money but later learned [] that it was the "Brink's robbery loot." She stated that for some time she had a cupful of torn corners of five and ten-dollar bills, that [] had told her that [] had given it to them to burn and that he should have done just that but because of [] who was anxious for money, he attempted to salvage some of the money. As is known, he was subsequently arrested for possession of the Brink's money. She thought [] prior to his death that he still had some of the money, but she has no idea where it is.

[redacted] insists that she is receiving no financial assistance or any other aid from RAYMOND PATRIARCA. She stated that she wrote PATRIARCA a letter after her [redacted] death relaying her destitute circumstances and never heard from him. She pointed out that her knowledge of RAYMOND PATRIARCA is very limited but [redacted] would probably have considerable information inasmuch as he would run errands for [redacted] to RAYMOND PATRIARCA. She stated that she would attempt to encourage [redacted] to get in touch with SA [redacted] for possible assistance. [redacted] is presently in [redacted] business in New York City, and she did not care to disclose its location at this time. She stated that she has not, as yet, had an opportunity to talk to him and as soon as she does, she will advise SA [redacted].

Interview of Attorney [redacted]

The following interview of Attorney [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, was conducted in order to obtain information of an evidentiary nature to determine if RAYMOND PATRIARCA was used as an intermediary for FRANK FERRARA in obtaining use of "CIMINI's barn" in 1955 at the Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, Rhode Island for race wire information, per testimony furnished by Mr. MCARDLE before SENATOR MCCLELLAN's Investigating Committee at Washington, D. C., which newspaper accounts have previously been reported.

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted] on October 24, 25, 27 and 30, 1961:

On October 30, 1961, Attorney [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, counsel for the now defunct Massachusetts Crime Commission, advised that he had no information regarding the [redacted] in Rhode Island; that any testimony he gave concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA before the MCCLELLAN Committee was as to PATRIARCA's reputation and not on any facts that he had of his own knowledge. His memory was that the information concerning this incident was furnished in testimony by [redacted] of Wakefield, Massachusetts, a Television Mechanic. He suggested that this testimony could be obtained from the Criminal Intelligence Bureau of the Massachusetts State Police.

Sergeant [redacted] Criminal Intelligence Bureau, Massachusetts State Police, 1010 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts, on October 31, 1961 made available the testimony of JAMES T. ROSS. JAMES T. ROSS, JR. testified before the Massachusetts Crime Commission on January 27, 1956. At that time he gave as his address 310 Lowell Street, Wakefield, Massachusetts; subsequent to that time he was living at 10 Wagner Road, Medford, Massachusetts. He said that prior to 1955 he had met FRANK FERRARA, a man named FEINTUCK, and a JOHN ROSCOE, whom he believed was from Chicago; that they discussed with him the making by him of a multiple installation to be used for the dissemination of race wire service. He said that in March, 1955, he and ANGELO ROSSETTI installed a telephone in the barn of CIMINI at Lincoln, Rhode Island. He said that this phone ran to CIMINI's home and that an observer in the barn would observe the results of the race at the Lincoln Downs Race Track and telephone these results to the house, and that, in turn, he believes the results were sent by phone to ROSSETTI at Boston. He said that, at no time, had he ever met RAYMOND PATRIARCA. He said that he knows that after he and FRANK FERRARA had visited the Lincoln Downs Race Track and were shown through it by the superintendent because FERRARA told the superintendent he was interested with a group in building a track in Maine, he said that they were actually looking the track over to see what arrangements could be made of getting out of the track race results.

He said that it was decided that CIMINI's barn was the proper location and he thought FERRARA contacted PATRIARCA. He said that there was a meeting had between himself, FRANK FERRARA and "MONGE" ROSSETTI with two fellows whom he surmised had been sent to the meeting by PATRIARCA because PATRIARCA, for some reason, could not be present. He said that these individuals apparently had made arrangements for the use of CIMINI's barn because when he and ROSSETTI went there to install the telephone, everything was "cut and dried."

He said he never met CIMINI until sometime after the installation. He said he made the installation the day before the track opened and thought it was during a snowstorm. He was assisted in the installation by ROSSETTI.

[redacted] also has a history of having worked for [redacted] and at one time was employed by [redacted] who runs horses at all of the New England tracks.

Re: ARTHUR L. GOODRIDGE

The following investigation was conducted as information had previously been received that ARTHUR L. GOODRIDGE of Lynn, Massachusetts is known to RAYMOND PATRIARCA and is in the coin machine business.

On November 14, 1961 the following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted] at Lynn, Massachusetts:

Inspector [redacted] Lynn Police Department, advised that ARTHUR L. GOODRIDGE, also known as "JACK," resides at 9 Morrill Place, Lynn. [redacted] stated that he is employed as a taxi driver and that he is well known to police officers in the city of Lynn. He stated that to the best of his knowledge GOODRIDGE is not connected with the rackets and has never been involved in coin machine operations.

The following description of GOODRIDGE was obtained from records of the Lynn Police Department:

Name	ARTHUR L. GOODRIDGE
Date of Birth	December 29, 1904, Lynn, Mass.

[redacted] when interviewed by SA [redacted] and SA [redacted] on 12/12/61, initially refused to furnish any information regarding subject, claiming he feared subject might find out, and this would endanger the lives of [redacted]. After being assured that his information would be held confidential, [redacted] said that he was willing to cooperate with the FBI on this basis, but that he could not afford to testify against the subject under any circumstances. For this reason, [redacted] identity should be concealed in the event his information is subsequently disseminated.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] JOHN BUCCELLI, now deceased, had apparently first met the subject when both were incarcerated in the Charles Street Jail at Boston, Mass. about 22 years ago, but that it was not until about 1950 that [redacted] moved from Glen Oaks, Long Island, N. Y. to the Boston area and became closely associated with the subject in the rackets. [redacted] recalls that prior to 1950 [redacted] was connected with [redacted] and [redacted] both now somewhere in Maryland, in the "racing business" on Long Island, but that even then JOHN BUCCELLI did occasionally have contact with the subject at Providence, R. I.

[redacted] says that he actually [redacted] and his information regarding the illegal operations of the subject and JOHN BUCCELLI in the Boston area is not [redacted] in any of his operations, but that he was able to piece together the following information as a result of limited association with [redacted].

JOHN BUCCELLI moved to the Boston area to handle subject's gambling and shylocking operations in that area, and was subject's chief lieutenant there until about 1955. He says that subject had the reputation of being the "biggest man in the rackets in New England" and allegedly controlled most of the barboot games, horse books, and shylocking in Boston through JOHN BUCCELLI. He says that [redacted] operated the Keimore Real Estate Office on Tremont Street in Boston as a front for his activities, and that subject came to Boston and met with JOHN BUCCELLI almost every Friday to collect his "cut" and confer regarding these illegal operations.

b6
b7D

At that time EDWARD "WHIMPY" BENNETT was associated with JOHN BUCCELLI in the activities carried on at this "real estate office," and somehow the two of them managed to buy $100,000 of the Brinks Robbery money at discount prices. They concealed this money in the wall of the real estate office where it was later recovered and lead to the conviction of JOHN BUCCELLI and EDWARD BENNETT in State Court. [redacted]

[redacted] was sent up for three years and EDWARD BENNETT for one year for this offense. BUCCELLI does not believe that subject had prior knowledge of the deal that JOHN BUCCELLI and "WHIMPY" BENNETT made for the Brinks money and after they were sent to the Deer Island Jail at Boston to serve their sentence, subject placed "WHIMPY's" brother, WALTER BENNETT, in charge of his Boston operations that had formerly been handled by JOHN BUCCELLI. The base of operations then moved to the Pickwick Club on Tremont Street in Boston.

Also sometime in that period TONY SANTONIELLO (correct name is ANTHONY SANTANIELLO), now deceased, who then owned the Paddock Bar, Tremont Street, Boston, was also connected with subject's Boston operations as was "JOHNNIE" WILLIAMS, who was rumored to have taken JOHN BUCCELLI's place as subject's chief lieutenant in Boston.

BUCCELLI states that while [redacted] was incarcerated at Deer Island he knows definitely that subject continued to [redacted] and that JOHN BUCCELLI believed that when he was released he would take over again as subject's chief lieutenant in Boston. While JOHN BUCCELLI was incarcerated [redacted] received $665 per month from subject. [redacted] says that this money was usually turned over to her in cash by FRANK FERRERA, an "errand boy" in the setup who apparently got the money from NICK GESA (correct name NICHOLAS GISO), one of subject's subordinates in the North End of Boston. [redacted] also advises that on more than one occasion that he visited [redacted] at Deer Island, he was given messages to take to subject at Providence, R. I. and that on one occasion JOHN BUCCELLI had him contact subject to pick up $1,000 in cash and deliver this money to [redacted] girl friend, [redacted] who is still around Boston and is now going with "[redacted]" (LNU) [redacted] the Paddock Bar from TONY SANTONIELLO. [redacted] pointed out that [redacted] knew of this girl friend and had separated from JOHN BUCCELLI because of her, but that they had planned to remarry after [redacted] got out of prison.

[redacted] recalls that [redacted] told him, while in prison, that he had put a lot of money in Millbridge Mining Stock in Maine and that the family would be taken care of by this stock. He also told [redacted] that before going to jail, he had turned over control of this stock to subject's attorney, SAUL FRIEDMAN, Providence, R. I., but that the family has never been able to find out anything more regarding this stock.

[redacted] informs [redacted] former partner, "WHIMPY" BENNETT, was released from jail first and apparently went back to work for subject, operating with his brother, WALTER BENNETT, out of the Pickwick Club in Boston. When JOHN BUCCELLI was released on 5/19/57 he was still under a $50,000 appeal bond on a Federal Narcotics charge for which he had been convicted and sentenced to five years in New York City. Apparently [redacted] was not unduly concerned about this conviction as he actually seemed to think that subject was going to put him back in control of subject's Boston operations. [redacted] says that the day JOHN BUCCELLI was released he obtained money from some source and purchased a $5,000 Chrysler Imperial which was put in [redacted] name. He also began contacting subject again and just a couple of days before he was shot to death in Boston, he told [redacted] that he was going to get back his old job with subject and that "JOHNNIE" WILLIAMS was finished.

[] says that after his [] death, the rumor in Boston was that JOHN BUCCELLI was killed because of the narcotics trouble in NYC, but [] personally feels that subject did not want to take [] back in his organization and that either subject or possibly "JOHNNIE" WILLIAMS were behind the slaying. He feels that subject did not sanction JOHN BUCCELLI's efforts to regain his former status as top man in subject's Boston operations or that subject would have prevented the murder on 6/19/57, just 30 days after his release from jail.

[] says that although [] was loyal to subject to the end, and they were supposed to have been such close associates in the past, the subject did not show up for JOHN BUCCELLI's funeral, and there was never any rumor that subject had taken any steps to avenge the death, although, according to [] subject did pay for [] funeral by sending her $1,000 by "FRANKIE" FERRERA. This was the last time that subject ever sent her any help whatsoever, and the $665 that she had received from subject monthly while JOHN BUCCELLI was in jail was never made available to her after he died. BUCCELLI says that she definitely is not now getting $50 per week from subject, as alleged.

Regarding possible Las Vegas interests of his [] said that the only information he had on this was that about two or three days before his death, JOHN BUCCELLI had told him that he had just talked to subject and was definitely going to resume control of subject's Boston interests, but before he took over the operation again he was going to remarry [] and take her on a honeymoon to Las Vegas. He said that this was also a business trip as he, JOHN BUCCELLI, had a "big deal" going there. He did not say what it was or how much money it involved, and [] says that the family has never been able to ascertain that JOHN BUCCELLI held any assets in Las Vegas at time of his death.

[] further states that in settlement of his [] estate, which was handled by [] of Waltham, Mass., he never heard of the $800 judgment being obtained against the estate by [] who he does not know, and that there was nothing much left in the estate from which this could be collected. He says that [] did manage to recover $3,000 from the sale of the house in which [] had been set up by [] but that she never was able to recover the Chrysler Imperial, the mining stock, or any insurance that JOHN BUCCELLI was supposed to have had at the time of his death.

[] says that he has thought several times that he would go to Providence, R. I. and demand an accounting from subject about the mining stock, but that he has refrained from doing this because he fears that subject might cause trouble for him and his family, should he press subject too much. He also claims that his personal hatred for subject might cause him to become involved in something he might or might not live to regret, and that he had to think of his wife and children. [] said that he was aware that the FBI had already contacted [] and [] at Boston about his [] past connections with subject, but he understands that neither of them furnished any definite information. He feels that [] actually had very little personal knowledge of this matter and that [] was too young at the time to know much about JOHN BUCCELLI's business, and is now afraid to tell what he might have since learned about the subject.

[] advised that he could suggest one possible source who could, if willing, furnish detailed information regarding the association that [] had with subject and subject's Boston operations. He said that JACKIE GREENBERG, who now lives in the Franklin Park area of Boston and "follows the ponies," had been [] and confidante when JOHN BUCCELLI was running the operation for subject in Boston. He knew the whole setup and might furnish invaluable information because he is no longer connected with subject's operation and is the only one in the setup that remained loyal to JOHN BUCCELLI after he went to jail. [redacted] was with [redacted] constantly after JOHN BUCCELLI got out of jail and was with him until hours before he was slain. He believes that GREENBERG undoubtedly was with JOHN BUCCELLI when [redacted] was negotiating with subject to regain his former place in the organization after his release from jail.

[redacted] said that if GREENBERG were contacted or [redacted] were recontacted, he desired that no mention be made of the fact that he had cooperated in this matter, and he again requested that his identity be protected in all circumstances. He said that if this was done he would be willing to continue to cooperate with the FBI in developing information regarding subject and other associates [redacted]. He indicated that while he could not readily recall names, he could possibly recognize photographs of Boston hoodlums that were known to [redacted] and involved with [redacted] in running the subject's operations there, and that seeing photos of such suspects might bring to mind information regarding their part in their illegal operations. He also said that since he had contacted the subject at Providence, R. I. on several occasions while JOHN BUCCELLI was in jail, he might be able to identify suspects connected with subject's activities in that city.

Since [redacted] requested his identity be maintained in a confidential manner, and since Newark is attempting to develop him as a PCI, this information is not being disseminated at this time and is being included in the Administrative section of this report due to the above.

On 12/20/61 PCI [] advised SA [] visited him and told him he had been interviewed by FBI agents in New Jersey. According to [] the agents gave [] the impression that there were stock certificates in the Milbridge Mining Corp. in [] name.

PCI [] wanted to be sure that the FBI understood that the shares belonging to JOHN BUCCELLI were in SOL FREIDMAN's name. PCI also advised he was talking to [] who lives with [] Roxbury, Mass. [] told informant that [] is drunk all the time and that every week she gets $50 which is sent to her by RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

He stated that it has been in existence at that same address for approximately the past 20 years and that they have professional wrestling matches every Friday evening, which matches are open to the public.

In addition, on Sunday afternoons the arena is used for public roller skating.

In front of this arena there is a small snack bar where beer and soft drinks, as well as various snacks, may be purchased.

BS 92-118

Lieutenant [] stated that ever since he can remember, there always has been a police officer on duty at this arena during the wrestling matches and during the roller skating sessions, and there never has been any indication whatsoever that gambling or bookmaking is taking place at this establishment.

On December 15, 1961, BS T-1 advised information had been received that [] of Providence, Rhode Island, who is a friend of RAYMOND PATRIARCA and who was formerly employed as [] Shrewsbury, Massachusetts, had travelled to Bangor, Maine over the week end of December 9, 1961; that this travel was done by [] at the request of PATRIARCA. United States Attorney [redacted]

Providence, Rhode Island, has advised that [redacted] an attorney representing "The Providence Journal Company," a daily newspaper in Rhode Island, contacted him in connection with a civil suit filed by Patriarca, one of the forty hoodlums selected for early prosecution. This action charges defamation of Patriarca's character by the newspaper.

[redacted] that he will make an appointment to see you for the purpose of having our files and any other files made available to him. He would then utilize the information obtained in such files to show that Patriarca is a hoodlum and racketeer as he was characterized in articles published by this newspaper.

I am confident that you share my views on the inadvisability of making any information available to [redacted] in the event any additional information comes to our attention regarding [redacted] efforts to secure confidential material from the files of the Department it will be promptly brought to your attention.

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted]:

On 12/21/61 Acting Captain [redacted] of the Detective Bureau, Massachusetts State Police, Boston, Mass., advised that [redacted]

[redacted] Department of Corporations and Taxation, State House, Boston, reported that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had applied for a vending machine license, had been turned down, and a hearing was held in which the applicant did not put up much of a fight. Capt. [redacted] suggested contact with [redacted] and stated he would forward a copy of a report his department had made upon PATRIARCA's application to the Department of Corporations and Taxation. This report was received and is set forth on Cover Pages H and I of instant report.

On 12/21/61 [redacted] [redacted] was contacted and he made available on a confidential basis a copy of his memo to the Commissioner dated 12/7/61; also a copy of the record of the hearing held on the application, both of which are set forth on Cover Pages J thru N of instant report.

[redacted] advised that the application was denied on 12/14/61; that the applicant has a 10-day period in which to appeal and if he does, it will then become a matter of public knowledge - up to such point, it was of an administrative nature and is confidential. [redacted] feels that an appeal will be filed because every step the applicant has been taking seems designed. By this he explained that when the application was originally filed it was brought in the office of LEO DIEHL, Chief of the Bureau of Excises, Room 614, 40 Court Street, Boston, by a girl whom [redacted] (who accepted the same) described as a beautiful blonde who was "devastating." Thus, the personnel immediately became interested in the application and RAYMOND PATRIARCA's name was noted. The blonde is apparently from the office of the applicant's attorney, [redacted] further explained that the applicant could have formed a "dummy firm," name, etc. and the application would have gone through without question. Further, the fact that not much of a fight was put up at the Hearing by the applicant strengthened his suspicion that the applicant had something in mind and would be seeking publicity.

He made available for review the application which was dated 11/3/61, signed by PHILIP CARROZZA, Partner, and reflected that the firm was the National Cigarette Service, 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, R. I., phone "Gaspee 1-5605." The owners were PHILIP CARROZZA and RAYMOND PATRIARCA (partners); The application set forth that they owned 10 vending machines and would purchase cigarettes from Manolis Distributing Co., 162-164 Merrimac Street, Boston, Mass.

"MEMORANDUM TO COMMISSIONER FRANK S. GILES:

"1. In reference to communication dated November 14, 1961 from Guy J. Rizzotto, Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation, State House, Boston, requesting information regarding the character of [redacted] Raymond Patriarca, d/b/a National Cigarette Service, 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, may I inform you that we have a very lengthy file against Raymond Patriarca in our department which extends from May 3, 1935 to the present date.

"2. There is a report carried in our Criminal Information Bureau files about the appearance of Raymond Patriarca before the United States Senate Rackets Commission held at Washington, D. C. in February, 1959 which reported a witness' statement, in part, as follows:

"The witness said he has little to do with his National Cigarette Service, the vending machine business he owns with Philip Carrozza. They have machines in two hundred Providence locations, but Patriarca said he leaves the sales job to Carrozza and couldn't name more than five of the locations."

"3. The same article explained that the Committee is embarked on an effort to expose what it says is a conspiracy by gambling characters, racketeers to con legitimate business men, and control the jukebox, pinball and vending machine business.

"4. There was also mention made that the witness said, 'he knew the following men who were identified by Counsel Kennedy - Butsy Morelli, John Nazarian (gangsters) and Frank Cucchiaro of Boston (one of the underworld group at Appalachian, N. Y. notorious convention in 1957).

"5. Report in the same files stated that in 1956 Patriarca was reported to have entered the cigarette vending machine business in Rhode Island with such success that established vendors complained to the authorities. In two months, vending machines owned by other firms had been displaced in about fifty-five locations by machines of Patriarca's National Cigarette Service.

"6. There was also mention made that at the time of the 'Little Appalachian' meeting at the Bancroft Hotel on December 8, 1959 there was another meeting of gamblers that same night in the Piccadilly Restaurant, Worcester.

"7. A few months ago investigators of the United States Senate Investigating Committee noted information from the files of the Criminal Information Bureau relating to Raymond Patriarca and his associates whom they intend to question in public hearings to be held sometime in the future here in New England.

"8. I would suggest that a representative of the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation make a personal visit to this headquarters so that he may obtain first hand the voluminous information on file against Patriarca.

"Hearing before the State Tax Commission on Tuesday, December 12, 1961, at 10:30 A.M., re National Cigarette Service, under the provisions of section 22 of chapter 64C of the General Laws, whereby the petitioners feel that they are aggrieved by the action of the Commissioner in denying a vending machine license.

"Present at hearing:

Guy J. Rizzotto
Stephen S. Higgins
Edward C. Wilson

Abraham I. Zimon
Neil P. Shea

"For Petitioners: Philip Carrozza (one of the partners of National Cigarette Service)

Robert T. Bevilacqua, Attorney

"Mr. Rizzotto: You can make a statement as to why you feel you have been aggrieved.

"Mr. Carrozza: We have been in business for six years and we do not see why we cannot have a license.

"Mr. Rizzotto: Is National Cigarette Service a partnership?

"Mr. Carrozza: Yes. It consists of Raymond Patriarca and myself, Philip Carrozza as partners.

"Mr. Higgins: Are you licensed in other states?

"Mr. Carrozza: No, only in Rhode Island, but we may expand.

"Mr. Wilson: Are the partners inhabitants of Massachusetts?

"Mr. Carrozza: No, residents of Rhode Island.

ADMINISTRATIVE (Continued)

"Mr. Rizzotto: How large a volume of business do you have?

"Mr. Bevilacqua: About $10,000 a week.

"Mr. Rizzotto: Exclusively in Rhode Island?

"Mr. Carrozza: Yes.

"Mr. Higgins : Do you intend to apply for a license in any other state?

"Mr. Carrozza: Yes.

"Mr. Rizzotto: Do you intend to operate cigarette vending machines in Massachusetts?

"Mr. Carrozza: Yes.

"Mr. Rizzotto: Are you going to install the machines yourself or do you intend to buy?

"Mr. Carrozza: We will install, but we will buy if we get a chance.

"Mr. Wilson: In your present operation, do you install in factories, clubs, public buildings?

"Mr. Carrozza: Yes, in those places and in restaurants.

"Mr. Wilson: Do many of the drug stores have these machines?

"Mr. Carrozza: Yes.

"Mr. Rizzotto: Will you buy cigarettes from Massachusetts distributors?

"Mr. Carrozza: Yes.

"Mr. Rizzotto: You do not intend to buy from Rhode Island distributors?

"Mr. Carrozza: No.

ADMINISTRATIVE (Continued)

"Mr. Bevilacqua: They have been in business for 6 years. According to your letter denying the license, it seems that you have certain information. If the opportunity arose, they would probably consider buying routes in Massachusetts, such as, Attleboro, Seekonk, and places along the border, not Boston or Lowell, strictly around Rhode Island.

"Mr. Rizzotto: Only cigarettes bought in Massachusetts would be put into the machines used in Massachusetts? You know what I mean. Rhode Island cigarettes would escape taxation.

"Mr. Bevilacqua: They do not intend to escape taxation. That is the purpose of getting cigarettes from Massachusetts distributors and not conflict with Rhode Island cigarettes. They have enjoyed a good reputation in Rhode Island, one of the best with the Tax Department, and also you can check with our competitors.

"Mr. Rizzotto: We reserve our decision. Will advise you later."

Nothing of importance was gathered from this conference and nothing already not known to the Bureau was gathered at the conference and, to date, IRS has not developed any substantive violation concerning subject.

IRS is presently conducting investigation into the income tax matters of the Sherwood Mfg. Co., 75 Eagle Street, Providence, R. I., D & H Building Wreckers, Inc., Johnston, R. On 1/6/62, around noontime, two individuals from Boston, namely [] (LNU) and [] (LNU) operators of cigarette vending machine businesses in and around Boston, were at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, R. I., that they were there at the request of PATRIARCA. Informant said [] who told him that PATRIARCA had applied for a cigarette vending machine license in Massachusetts (possibly Boston), that he received trouble from "an Irishman" who is head of the Licensing Board for the State of Massachusetts, and the reason that he received trouble and the reason that his license request was denied was due to the fact that this "Irishman" had 400 cigarette machines of his own out on location, that these machines were in a company, possibly under a "dummy" name, and he did not want any competition from PATRIARCA's group. The meeting was called at PATRIARCA's office to decide what action should be taken in regard to this individual, and it was decided by PATRIARCA, [] (LNU) and [] (LNU) that a couple of "young toughs" from Boston should be retained for the purpose of breaking this individual's machines and stealing money from them, thus causing all types of damage to the machines so that he could not continue in his (the Irishman's) business operations. Informant was told that this "Irishman" had two good locations wherein about 1500 packs of cigarettes were sold at each location, but was not told of the location of these machines.

DETAILS:

I. BACKGROUND

On January 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 12, 1962, BS T-1 advised that RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA continues to reside at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island with his wife and son and continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence where he can usually be found during the daylight hours, and during the evening hours he can usually be located at his residence with his wife, who is not in good health.

On January 5, 1962, BS T-2 furnished substantially the same information as set forth above by BS T-1.

II. FRIENDS AND ASSOCIATES

RE: COSMO "PINKY" PANARELLI

3A [] The following investigation was conducted by [] at Worcester, Massachusetts:

The following contacts were made in an effort to determine the connection of COSMO "PINKY" PANARELLI of Worcester, Massachusetts and also attempt to determine the reason for the contact of PANARELLI with RAYMOND PATRIARCA at the Frolics at Revere, Massachusetts, which information has previously been reported to the Bureau.

On December 14, 1961, BS T-3, on December 20, 1961, BS T-4, and on December 22, 1961, BS T-5, all advised they did not know of any association between RAYMOND PATRIARCA and COSMO "PINKY" PANARELLI, and would have no information concerning this matter.

On December 14, 1961, Lieutenant [] Headquarters Squad, Worcester, Massachusetts Police Department, advised that he did not have any information concerning any special relationship between RAYMOND PATRIARCA and COSMO "PINKY" PANARELLI. However, he said that PATRIARCA is well acquainted with persons in the Worcester area and is, undoubtedly, acquainted with PANARELLI.

On January 15, 16, 1962, BS T-9 advised that the Milbridge Mining and Development Co. of Maine was started around 1956 as a partnership; that [] was the original prospector who located a large deposit of diatomous earth in Maine while hunting in Maine with JOSEPH MOFFIE and a racketeer, now deceased. [] and others tried to interest the Great Lakes Carbon Company and the John Manville Company into buying up the right of this land, but, to date, this venture has not been successful.

[] an attorney from Boston, Massachusetts, was retained to do the legal work for this group and that this person later left to join the staff of then Attorney General FEINGOLD of the State of Massachusetts.

This group then needed another lawyer as they wanted to issue stock. He stated that SAUL FRIEDMAN, Attorney, Providence, Rhode Island, was retained and for his legal work he obtained 30% of the stock issued by the group. This group tried to make the stock public. Informant stated the G. H. Walker investment firm at Boston started to handle the stock transaction and are familiar with this organization and its members and that a person who now heads the Small Business Administration at Boston and who formerly was employed for G. H. Walker investment firm would have considerable knowledge of this organization.

[] Home Town Factors of Boston, Massachusetts, tried to raise a substantial amount of money for the organization of this company but did not have much success in this venture.

According to BS T-9, JOSEPH MOFFIE, [] a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) of Boston, [] Lawyer, [] were to be the original investors in this mining company.

It was also reported that a professor from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, name not known, Cambridge, Massachusetts, had investigated the claim of this group at Milbridge, Maine and had stated that an investment of one million dollars would be necessary to start work in digging this group and that a possible return of ten million dollars would be realized from the diatomous in the earth.

Mineral rights were filed in the State of Maine for this land but so far no work has been done to get this material from the ground.

BS T-9 also reported that in order for this group to protect its investment contact was made with the Great Lakes Carbon Company, address unknown, in order to have them buy the mineral rights, but they refused to do so, stating that this material is found in abundance in Nevada and would not be as expensive to bring out.

Informant stated he has no further information concerning this company, but if any additional information is developed it will immediately be reported to this office.

[redacted] said that [redacted] of Providence, R. I. is a close friend of RAYMOND PATRIARCA; that [redacted] has, in the past, been used as a runner for PATRIARCA; that [redacted] used to run the crap games for PATRIARCA at Revere, Mass. and would carry sums up to $10,000 back to Providence, R. I. for PATRIARCA, as PATRIARCA would be the man behind these games.

b2

b7D

[redacted] said he did not know where these crap games were held in Revere, but would endeavor to obtain more information concerning this matter and more information concerning [redacted]

DUE TO THE SENSITIVE POSITION OF THIS INFORMANT, AND SINCE EFFORTS ARE IN PROGRESS TO BRING HIM CLOSER TO SUBJECT AND THE INNER CIRCLE OF SUBJECT, THIS INFORMATION IS NOT BEING DISSEMINATED.

On 1/10/62 SA [redacted] had a conference with USA [redacted] Providence, R. I., at which time a general review was made of the investigation to date in this matter. Among the things brought out at this conference by SA [redacted] was the loan of $25,000 by RAYMOND PATRIARCA to [redacted] Trinity Auto Sales, Broad Street, Providence, R. I. around 1959. In regard to this loan, it has been reported to the Bureau in previous reports that [redacted] had been interviewed and tried to explain the loan away by saying that it was a personal loan to himself and not the business; that he had given PATRIARCA a demand note, but no one else knows of the demand note, and no interest, dividends or payments have been made on this loan.

b7C

BS 92-118

USA [] stated he was interested in this matter and would consult with the IRS to check into this matter further and would also discuss this problem with JOHN KEENEY, Departmental Attorney, when KEENEY next contacts him.

b6
b7c

USA [] felt that this avenue of approach would enable him to call [] before a Federal Grand Jury to answer questions concerning this loan and would possibly give him grounds to call RAYMOND PATRIARCA before the same grand jury to answer questions in this regard whereby PATRIARCA would either have to answer the questions or refuse to testify.

USA [] said he will not take any definite action in this regard at this time but will keep this matter under advisement and will advise this Bureau of any contemplated action he would take in this matter.

On 1/15-16/62 [] IRS, Elmwood Avenue, Providence, R. I., made available a mail cover which had been placed on subject at his residence, 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, R. I. and Coin-O-Matic and National Cigarette Service, 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, R. I. and also for subject at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, R. I.

Synopsis:

[redacted] Providence, R.I., advised that he had "a couple of loans" at subject bank and had given the proceeds of the loans to his friend, [redacted], and the money was deposited to [redacted]. [redacted] admitted that his two loans were made to [redacted]. [redacted] said that the necessary loan papers were signed by [redacted] on the street corner or the club where they both "hung out." USA [redacted] Providence, R.I., advised that he contemplates presenting this matter to the next F.G.J. in April or May, 1962.

- P -

DETAILS:

On January 19, 1962, [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, advised that she has not heard from her husband, [redacted] since last contacted.

On January 19, 1962, Commander [redacted] and Captain [redacted] Detective Division, Providence, Rhode Island Police Department, advised that through their sources they had been unable to obtain information as to the whereabouts of [redacted]. [redacted] said that he does not believe [redacted] is in the Providence area because he, [redacted] is known to some of his detectives.

Date January 24, 1962

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, was interviewed at the Providence, Rhode Island Resident Agency. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement, and any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law. He was also advised that he had the right to consult with an attorney. [redacted] said that he had already spoken to his attorney, [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, before coming to the FBI office.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that the interview was in connection with loans made to [redacted] at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. [redacted] said that he had "a couple of loans" at the bank and he had given the proceeds of the loans to his friend, [redacted]. He said that [redacted] at the bank had drawn a check for a total of around $2,800.00 for both loans, and deposited the funds to the account of [redacted].

It was pointed out to [redacted] that he had co-signed on the [redacted] loan and [redacted] had co-signed on the [redacted] loan. [redacted] said that [redacted] was his father and had signed this loan. [redacted] said that these were the loans that he referred to as his own.

[redacted] said that when he wanted to obtain the loan he told [redacted] to go see [redacted] at the bank. He said that he does not know whether they went to the bank or not, but a couple of days later he brought the necessary loan papers to both [redacted] which they signed on the street corner or in the club where they both "hung out."

[redacted] said he never promised or gave any money to either [redacted] for signing the loan application and note. It was pointed out to [redacted] that he paid $25.00 to one of the borrowers and did not give the $25.00 to the other one as promised. [redacted] said he could not recall this.

[redacted] was asked if he personally would loan any money to either [redacted] and he replied that "he wouldn't loan them 3 cents." [redacted] said that if the loan accounts were checked, you could see where some money was paid on the original loan.

[redacted] said that he had another appointment and the interview was terminated.

Date January 24, 1962

[redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island, was interviewed at his residence. He was advised that he did not have to make a statement, and any statements made by him could be used in a court of law. He was also advised that he had the right to consult an attorney.

[redacted] said that since last interviewed, [redacted] had either been fired or asked to resign from the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He said that [redacted] is now the [redacted] at the Colonial Motel, 2750 Hartford Avenue, Johnston, Rhode Island, and understands that for salary, [redacted] receives room and board and one dollar a week.

[redacted] said that the only other information that he could recall concerning [redacted] owed his wife ([redacted]) $1,600.00 that he had borrowed to buy his present automobile. [redacted] borrowed this money about one year ago and because of their close friendship, [redacted] did not sign a note. [redacted] said that if [redacted] wanted to deny this loan it would be word against that of his wife.

During the course of a conference which was had with Departmental Attorney JOHN C. KEENEY on 1/17/62, a request was made by [redacted] that [redacted] Attorney at Boston, Massachusetts, be thoroughly investigated at Boston, Massachusetts, for his connections in that area and if he is a front man for PATRIARCA as his information is to the effect that [redacted] is the front man for PATRIARCA and usually settles disputes for PATRIARCA in that area.

On 1/17/62, a conference was held in the Office of the United States Attorney [redacted] Providence, R. I., at which time a discussion was had with Departmental Attorney [redacted] Internal Revenue Service, Providence, R. I., and [redacted] This meeting was a general discussion of possible avenues of approach against subject with a view of attempting to determine what, if any, illegal activities subject may be engaged in.

On 1/18/62, [redacted] United States Attorney, Providence, R. I., advised [redacted] Attorney for EDWARDS and ANGELL, Providence, R. I. who is representing The Providence Journal Company, a daily newspaper in Rhode Island, in defense of a civil suit filed by subject, told [redacted] he is going to make an appointment with the Attorney General of the United States at Washington, D. C. for the purpose of having FBI files and any other files re subject made available to him in an effort to obtain substantiating proof that subject is a hoodlum and racketeer as characterized in articles presented by the "Providence Journal" newspaper.

In regards to the above matter, close contact will be maintained with USA [redacted] Providence, RI, regarding [redacted] efforts to obtain Bureau files and the Bureau will be apprised of all developments. b6 b7C

In this regard [redacted] was contacted on 1/25/62 and stated he has not been in touch with [redacted] since last contacted and further stated he will keep this office advised of all future contacts made by [redacted] with him.

On 1/19/62, the New York Office advised as follows:

[redacted] Babaco Alarm Inc., 723 Washington Street, NYC, advised SA [redacted] that BABACO files reflect no record of any correspondence of any form, be it written or telephonically to the Coin-O-Matic Distributors and National Cigarette Service in Providence, R. I.

On 12/25-26/61, [redacted] had maintained contact with RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA and is trying to get closer to subject in order to be of assistance to this Bureau and in this regard has furnished the following information: b2 b7D

On 1/24-25/62, he was with RAYMOND PATRIARCA at PATRIARCA's hangout at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, R. I.; that he spent considerable time with subject, and subject did not make any contacts nor did anyone contact subject, either in person or by telephone.

He said that the area is very quiet; that PATRIARCA does not allow anyone to hang around and the only other persons with PATRIARCA on 1/24/62, with the exception of [redacted] [redacted] previously mentioned by informant. b6 b7C Informant said [redacted] was there on a social visit and no business transpired between PATRIARCA and [redacted] left the premises.

The above information is of importance due to the fact that information has been developed, through other offices, that a meeting of Top Hoodlums was to take place in Chicago around January 25, 1962.

In this regard, [redacted] said PATRIARCA has no plans for leaving Rhode Island and has no plans of taking any type of a vacation in the future. b2 b7D

No leads are being set out for telephone toll calls obtained from the hangout or residence of subject as these numbers have been previously verified.

On 1/31/62, a conference was held with [redacted] IRS, Elmwood Avenue, Providence, R. I. at which time the following individuals were designated as persons to be surveilled in regards to the investigation of this matter:

RAYMOND E. S. PATRIARCA, to be handled by IRS.

JOSEPH PATRIARCA, to be handled by IRS.

LOUIS TAGLIANETTI, to be handled by IRS.

[redacted] to be handled by FBI.

[redacted] to be handled by FBI.

DETAILS:

I. BACKGROUND

On January 25-26, 1962, BS T-1 advised RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA continues to reside at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island, with his wife and son and continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, where he can usually be found during the daylight hours, and during the evening hours he can be located at his residence with his wife, who is not in good health.

On January 31, 1962, BS T-2 furnished substantially the same information as set forth above for BS T-1.

On January 18, 1962, BS T-3 advised he interviewed [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, in regard to the Wilbridge Mining and Development Company of Maine and that [redacted] had furnished the following data, to him, concerning this company:

[redacted] that a few years back one of his biggest creditors, in the finance business which he operated was JOSEPH MOFFIE, who then owned and operated the Silver Arrow Delivery Service. MOFFIE went bankrupt in this business and as a result of MOFFIE's financial troubles [redacted] lost his finance business.

About two years after this incident, [redacted] saw a newspaper article in the Boston paper, which had a picture of JOSEPH MOFFIE and a politician, name he could not recall, which article gave an account of a mineral strike by MOFFIE in Maine. This article gave a detailed account of this discovery; that some mineral deposits had been located and that a business venture would be formed.

About two days after this article appeared in the paper JOSEPH MOFFIE came to [redacted] office and told him about this discovery of minerals in the earth in Maine and since [redacted] had handled his affairs prior to this he wanted [redacted] to handle this matter for him and to set up the organization. [redacted] told MOFFIE he would do this, but instead of obtaining a fee for his services, he wanted about 5% to 8% interest in the business as his fee, which arrangement was agreeable with MOFFIE.

The question of who would finance this project came up and MOFFIE said that JOHN BUCCELLI would put up the money as he was interested in the project and BUCCELLI was a good friend of MOFFIE'S. About two days later JOHN BUCCELLI and JOSEPH MOFFIE appeared at [redacted] office and during the conversation BUCCELLI said he would finance all of the money for this deal.

[redacted] later met [redacted] through MOFFIE and was told that [redacted] was an old time prospector and that both he and MOFFIE had discovered the mineral while on a hunting trip in Maine. [redacted] was to have an interest in the place along with MOFFIE, but neither one had to put up any money as they had discovered this mineral deposit. [redacted] said that the only people who made cash investments, to his knowledge, were JOHN BUCCELLI, himself and a client of his who he refused to name, but stated he was a legitimate business man and a client of his.

JOHN BUCCELLI then brought [redacted] office and at that time it was agreed that [redacted] and MOFFIE would return to Maine to look for other mineral deposits and when they found them [redacted] would file the mineral rights to these places, which was done. At the same time [redacted] and MOFFIE were to receive expense money for their time spent in Maine.

Later [redacted] and stated that MOFFIE was padding the expenses at Maine and [redacted] to tell BUCCELLI about it as BUCCELLI was paying the bill. Nothing came out of this because at about that time MOFFIE was arrested and incarcerated at the Federal Penitentiary at Danbury, Connecticut.

BUCCELLI told [redacted] to continue his work in this mining company as he would pay for the expenses involved, but shortly thereafter BUCCELLI was arrested for possession of the Brinks money and was sent to jail. [redacted] visited BUCCELLI in jail and BUCCELLI told him to go ahead with his plans to organize this company as he would pay the bill. At the same time BUCCELLI told him that if he needed any cash he should go to Providence, Rhode Island, and get in touch with RAYMOND PATRIARCA or SAUL FRIEDMAN, an attorney there, and they would give him money.

[redacted] said he went to Providence, Rhode Island in order to obtain money, but he was vague and it appeared that he, [redacted] had contacted SAUL FRIEDMAN and did not obtain any money.

[] then said that [] made one or more trips to Providence and he thinks he saw either SAUL FRIEDMAN or PATRIARCA and [] was of the opinion that [] had obtained about one thousand dollars on one of his trips to Providence.

[] thought that [] name was mentioned because he was representing BUCCELLI in this venture, but [] entered this picture.

[] said that to his knowledge SAUL FRIEDMAN owns about 25-30% interest in this mining company; that he received this interest for legal work he did for the company and in his efforts to try to get this stock to come out public, which has not come out on the market. The dealings in this regard were being handled by G. H. WALKER, Investment Company.

[] said that the G. H. WALKER COMPANY would not handle the stock transaction when they found out that JOHN BUCCELLI and others were involved in the affairs of the company.

He also said that JOSEPH MOFFIE made the suggestion that he had a contact at Great Lakes Carbon Company whereby they could be contacted with the hopes of having them buy the rights to this mineral deposits and in turn pay this group a royalty for the material sold.

[] entered into a separate partnership with MOFFIE in regards to this transaction and arrangements were made with Great Lakes Carbon, who sent men out to check on these mineral rights in Maine. Great Lakes Carbon was interested in the deal, but in order to get it set up and roads built to get the material out it would take approximately five years and they said that they would take over the rights, but payments could not start for five years. At about that time MOFFIE was released from federal prison at Danbury, Connecticut, and he did not want to wait five years to get a return on his investment and an argument took place and Great Lakes Carbon withdrew its offer.

[] said that about two days after JOHN BUCCELLI's release from prison, BUCCELLI called for a meeting at [] office. Present at this meeting were the following:

JOHN BUCCELLI
JOSEPH MOFFIE
SAUL FRIEDMAN

A friend of [] who had invested money and whose name [] did not disclose.

BS 92-118

[redacted] stated that at this meeting BUCCELLI said that since he had been in jail he did not want to be known as an associate in this business venture and further said that SAUL FRIEDMAN of Providence, Rhode Island, would hold his shares of stock in the company and that anything [redacted] said would be all right with him. BUCCELLI also wanted to know how much money he owed and then said he would settle with [redacted] during the next day, but BUCCELLI never met him because he was killed before he could meet with [redacted].

[redacted] said that at the present time the stock is worthless.

ADMINISTRATIVE

Careful consideration has been given to the sources concealed and "T" symbols were utilized only in those instances where it was necessary to conceal the identity of the sources.

On 1/27/62, [redacted] Postal Inspector's Office, U. S. Post Office, Worcester, Mass., confidentially advised SA [redacted] that Post Office Box [redacted] Worcester, Mass. is rented to the Worcester County National Bank, 436 Main Street, Worcester, Mass. (It is to be noted that [redacted] and [redacted] in the National Cigarette Service, 168 Atwells Ave, Providence, R. I., has had previous business with this bank, which information has been previously reported to the Bureau.)

Personnel of the [redacted] Boston, Mass., as mentioned in the details of this report, is [redacted] of this company, [redacted] Boston, Mass., contacted by SA [redacted] and who requested his identity be protected.

On 2/2, 8, 12, 13-16/62 surveys were conducted in an effort to develop a highly confidential source. The results of these surveys have been forwarded to the Bureau under separate communication.

On 1/27, 29/62 and 2/1, 5, 9, 12, 14/62, [redacted] advised he has continued his efforts to penetrate the inner circle of subject in an effort to get close to the subject and, in this regard, he furnished the following data:

[redacted] advised that RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA still hangs out at 168 Atwells Ave, Providence, R. I. and was there on 1/24-26/62 and has no intentions of leaving this place for any length of time and has no intentions of taking any type of vacation in the near future. Informant stated that if PATRIARCA intends to take any type of vacation he, the informant, would be in a position to know or would miss PATRIARCA from this hangout.

(The above information is of value to this matter as communication has been received that a meeting has been scheduled in Chicago, Ill. for the top hoodlums of the United States around 1/24 or 25/62, which would indicate that subject was not in attendance at this meeting.)¹

Informant said that on Friday, [redacted] person known as [redacted] from Boston, Mass. came into the office to see PATRIARCA. [redacted] was carrying an open type manila envelope and informant noticed that typed on the top of this envelope was a name resembling the [redacted] or the like, which typing he could absolutely see, as [redacted] was carrying this envelope under his arm and immediately went into subject's office where [redacted] and subject had a conference. He said he could not obtain any of the conversation but could hear them shuffling papers, which would indicate to him that they were reviewing papers from this folder.

Informant said that [redacted] is well known in Boston; that he is a close friend of PHILIP BUCCOLO's and a close friend of FRANK FERRARA, presently confined at a Federal Penitentiary. Informant also said that [redacted] handles FERRARA's interests also while he is in prison.

Informant said that immediately after [redacted] departure, PATRIARCA summoned AMERICO BUCCI into his office; that they conferred for a short time and then informant noticed that PATRIARCA went towards the cellar stairs, put his hand around the door and came out with a gray type book which appeared to be a record-type of book; that PATRIARCA brought the book into his office, and closed the door. Shortly thereafter, PATRIARCA came out with this book and put it back where he had obtained it. Informant said this was unusual as PATRIARCA had never taken this book out before and it appeared to informant that PATRIARCA was trying to hide this book. Informant said he does not know what information is contained in this book but stated that if he has a chance to look at it he will do so and report same to SA [redacted].

Informant described [redacted] (LNU) as follows: age 50; white; male; nationality, Italian; drives a 1960 Oldsmobile bearing Massachusetts plates (registration unknown).

ADMINISTRATIVE (Continued)

Informant stated that AMERICO BUGGI, 121 Glover Street, Providence, R. I. is a close friend of PATRIARCA's, having been a friend since childhood; that BUGGI has told informant that he is frightened of the new federal legislation concerning gambling but did not elaborate on this.

Informant said that BUGGI has carried messages for PATRIARCA in the past and it has been reported in the past that BUGGI formerly took care of a crap game at Revere, Mass. and that BUGGI was there to protect PATRIARCA's interests. BUGGI never did tell informant the location of this game in Revere, Mass. Informant said that his information is to the effect that this crap game has been discontinued.

Informant also said that [redacted] Providence, R. I., previously mentioned by informant, is also a close friend of PATRIARCA's and may, on occasions, do errands for PATRIARCA. [redacted] drives a 1960 or 1961 Ford bearing Rhode Island registration FF-39.

Informant said that HENRY TAMELEO is another close friend of PATRIARCA's, having been so since their younger days. He said that TAMELEO may, on occasions, when travelling to Boston, carry messages for PATRIARCA to and from Boston, Mass.

In regard to the hangout of subject at 168 Atwells Ave, Providence, R. I., informant said that he has made a careful check of this hangout; that he has not seen any "bugs" or alarm systems at the place and is very definite in this. He also said that there are two telephones in the office and one telephone in the back room.

Informant said that PATRIARCA does not leave 168 Atwells Ave, Providence, R. I., is aware of the FBI and IRS investigation being conducted against him and, for that reason, he does not intend to get involved in any matters that will bring him under federal scrutiny.

On 2/9, 12/62, [redacted] advised that [redacted] RAYMOND PATRIARCA and [redacted] 168 Atwells Ave, Providence, R. I. and PATRIARCA made no mention of taking any vacation or leaving the Rhode Island area for any reason.

(The above information is of value to this matter as communications have been received at Boston that a meeting of top hoodlums was scheduled for the Miami, Fla. area.)

On 2/9/62 a conference was had with USA [redacted] Providence, R. I. and [redacted] IRS, Elmwood Ave, Providence, R. I., and no pertinent information was developed.

On 1/15/62 PCI [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that [redacted] was still getting $50 per week from RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

On 1/31/62 [redacted] again said that the Milbridge Mining Co. is to be sold for $230,000 and RAYMOND PATRIARCA, through SOL FRIEDMAN, wants [redacted] to represent the group in the sale.

It is to be noted that by cooperation functions set up by the Department of Justice and the IRS at Washington, D. C., the mail cover is being conducted by IRS at Providence, R. I. and the telephone toll checks are being covered by the FBI, and the information is being exchanged to eliminate duplication of work.

By letter dated 2/19/62 the Newark Office advised as follows:

PCI [redacted] N. J. was recontacted on 1/9, 31/62 and 2/13/62 in an effort to obtain additional pertinent information regarding subject and his associates. PCI [redacted] claimed that he could not recall any additional specific information that might be of value in developing a federal violation against subject.

On 2/20/62, [redacted] Boston, Mass., advised SA [redacted] that Coin-O-Matic, 168 Atwells Ave, Providence, R. I. is one of a number of firms which will, from time to time, receive pro-national material designed to have the customer increase the use of lighting equipment. This is the only explanation for correspondence to Coin-O-Matic, as such firm and PATRIARCA are not stockholders.

[redacted] telephonically contacted [redacted] Narragansett Electric Co., Providence, R. I. for any additional explanations. The latter advised that they have had no correspondence except the usual billing that Coin-O-Matic have been customers since 7/48; that there has been no trouble with the account except in 1956 when they had to be prompted because of slow payments, but since that time payments have been okay.

b7c

The above investigation was conducted due to the fact that a mail cover revealed that correspondence had been received at 168 Atwells Ave, Providence, R. I. from the N. E. Electric Co., 441 Stuart Street, Boston, Mass.

On 2/21/62, a meeting was held in the office of the USA, [redacted] Providence, R. I., at which time a general discussion was had with USA [redacted] concerning this matter, but no pertinent developments were obtained at this meeting.

On 2/27/62 a meeting was held with JOHN C. KEENEY, Departmental Attorney, and [redacted] IRS, Elmwood Ave, Providence, R. I., at which time a general discussion was had with Mr. KEENEY in regard to subject and no pertinent information was developed from this conference which is not already known by this Bureau.

DISSEMINATION RESTRICTED TO JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

BS 92-118

DETAILS:

1. BACKGROUND

On February 19, 23, 26, 27 and 28, 1962, BS T-1 advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA continues to reside at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island and continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, [redacted] in the operation of the National Cigarette Service, a cigarette vending machine business.

Informant states that RAYMOND PATRIARCA is not active; that he remains at this hangout all day long and returns to his home during the evening hours.

On February 20, 1962 and March 2, 1962, BS T-2 furnished substantially the same information as set forth above for BS T-1.

2. MISCELLANEOUS

On February 2, 1962, BS T-3 advised that the share breakdown of the Milbridge Mining Co. is as follows:

[redacted]
27 Shares

JOSEPH MOFFIE (MOFFIE gave BUCCELLI :
11 shares for money BUCCELLI gave MOFFIE)

34 Shares

JOHN BUCCELLI

BS 92-118

BS T-3 stated that [redacted] of Massachusetts at the time, handled the issuance of the stock and he was the attorney for [redacted] JOHN BUCCELLI's stock was sent to SOL FRIEDMAN in Providence, Rhode Island inasmuch as FRIEDMAN was the attorney for BUCCELLI. Informant believes [redacted] of Boston City Hall may have brought this stock down to FRIEDMAN. BUCCELLI's name is on this stock and the transfer of 11 shares from MOFFIE to BUCCELLI was made through Attorney [redacted]

It was pointed out to informant that the total shares were only 95, and informant pointed out that five additional shares went to [redacted] All persons receiving shares obtained the same because of their financial contribution.

BS T-3 stated that in the course of the organization Price Waterhouse & Co., a stock brokerage firm in Providence, Rhode Island, was contacted in the Spring of 1956 relative to marketing the stock of the Milbridge Co. Informant stated that [redacted] BUCCELLI and FRIEDMAN contacted this agency and were advised thereby that the firm should be active for at least one year and have some results to report before its stock could appear on the market.

Informant indicated that the Milbridge Co. is in the process of being sold to another firm, whose identity informant did not care to disclose at this time. The sale involves $2,700,000, which the purchasing firm has offered and it will be a few weeks before the situation materializes. As a result of this offer, SOL FRIEDMAN called [redacted] during the latter part of January, 1962 and requested that [redacted] arrange for the shares of stock FRIEDMAN is holding for BUCCELLI to be placed in his, FRIEDMAN's, name. FRIEDMAN indicated he wanted this done inasmuch as FRIEDMAN desired to obtain the money for his principal, whom the informant believes is RAYMOND PATRIARCA, but has no positive information about this. Informant said the money involved would be $1,000 for each share in BUCCELLI's name, which amounts to 45 shares.

On February 19, 1962 the St. Louis Office advised as follows:

On January 31, 1962, Detective Sergeant [redacted] Chief of Detectives Office, Intelligence Unit, St. Louis, Missouri Police Department, advised that members of that department had recently conducted a complete survey regarding vending machine companies in St. Louis, and that on October 14, 1961 they had interviewed [redacted] residence, [redacted] Normandy, Missouri, the [redacted] of National Vendors, Inc., located at 5055 Natural Bridge, St. Louis. Detective [redacted] advised that [redacted] was very cooperative with the Police Department and that to their knowledge the National Vendors, Inc. is a subsidiary of the Universal Match Company and they manufacture approximately 45% of all cigarette vending machines in the Midwest. Further, that National Vendors does not deal directly with vending machine operators but only through a distributor.

On February 16, 1962, [redacted] National Vendors, Inc., who was contacted on another matter, advised his company has been selling vending machines to the National Cigarette Service, 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, since December 30, 1955. He stated that their account reflects that this company presently owes a balance of $3,420.

A copy of a Dun & Bradstreet report at St. Louis, Missouri concerning the National Vendors, 5055 Natural Bridge, St. Louis, Missouri, failed to show any connection or association of this company with RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted]:

On February 8, 1962 the records of the Supreme Court, Clerk's Office, Pemberton Square, Boston, Massachusetts, revealed that [redacted] under number [redacted] filed a Petition for Admission to the Massachusetts Bar on December 1, 1952. [redacted] indicated that he was a resident of Providence, Rhode Island, was a citizen of the United States, was [redacted] years of age, and resided at [redacted] Providence.

BS 92-118

[redacted] Boston, Massachusetts; [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, and [redacted] Boston, recommended
[redacted] admission. The latter two individuals indicated that they became acquainted with [redacted] through their association with Suffolk University Law School the past three years, where [redacted] prepared for the Bar. Also recommending
[redacted]
Boston, Massachusetts, who indicated he knew [redacted] over 10 years.

[redacted] indicated in his statement to the Board of Bar Examiners that his name was [redacted] that he was born [redacted] and had lived in Providence from 1926 to 1952. His father is [redacted] [redacted] who is employed in maintenance work, and his mother is [redacted] employed as a housewife, both residing [redacted] [redacted] Providence. [redacted] indicated he graduated from
[redacted]

On October 29, 1953, after examination on July 8 and 9, 1953, [redacted] Petition for Admission was approved.

The records reflect that on July 2, 1958 [redacted] was issued a Certificate of Good Standing in the Massachusetts Bar for admission to the United States Tax Court.

[redacted] on February 2, 1962, [redacted] of the Commonwealth Fund, 350 Berkeley Street, Boston, Massachusetts, advised that RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, opened an account with the Commonwealth Fund on March 2, 1960. The account amounts to $9,600, and is numbered E693471. PATRIARCA pays $80 a month or a multiple thereof, and to date has paid in a total of $1,920. PATRIARCA obtained this account through [redacted] of the H. L.
Robbins Co., insurance agent in Worcester, Massachusetts, who are distributors for the Commonwealth Fund.

BS 92-118

Mrs. HELEN G. PATRIARCA, wife of subject, 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island, is beneficiary, and PATRIARCA indicated that his occupation was Vending Machine Sales, National Cigarette Service Company, 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island.

On February 19, 1962, BS T-4 advised that at about 11:45 a.m. on February 17, 1962, RAYMOND PATRIARCA was observed with his wife at a Sunoco Gas Station on Route 146 and Park Avenue, Woonsocket, Rhode Island; that he was purchasing gasoline for his Chevrolet car bearing Rhode Island registration P91. This car left that gas station and headed in the direction of Worcester, Massachusetts where no further action was taken in this matter.

On February 19, 1962, BS T-5 advised he had no information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA and would not be in a position to obtain any information concerning PATRIARCA.

Date 2/19/62

Spot check was made by SA [] at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, and at about 1:15 p.m. a 1953 Cadillac bearing Rhode Island registration 9G505 was parked outside of this address.

No other pertinent details were noted.

On 2/14/62, SAC Leo L. Laughlin, Boston, telephonically requested on-the-spot technical assistance for the installation of a MISUR in the office of captioned subject, who is a top hoodlum of the Boston Office operating a business in Providence, Rhode Island. Climatic conditions forced postponement of the installation until this past week end, March 3-5, 1962.

Supervisor [] of the Laboratory and SA [] of the Boston Office completed the previously authorized MISUR installation on 3/5/62. In making the necessary changes to the wiring of subject's telephone service, Supervisor [] worked on telephone poles in close proximity to subject's business establishment. Even though the temperature was in the lower 20's and a strong wind was blowing, this vital facet of the installation was successfully completed on 3/3/62. []

The installation was completed on the evening of 3/5/62 at which time operating procedures were given to SA's [] the Providence, Rhode Island, []

Those overshoes were picked up by SA [redacted] who took them to a nearby car.

Cars were strategically located in the area to prevent persons from entering the building while Agents were working inside. SAC Laughlin personally supervised the activities of these cars. Agents working inside the premises were in constant contact with the cars through the use of "Handie-Talkie" radio equipment. These Agents announced the completion of their work through a prearranged signal and, after all cars reported an "all clear," Agents made an unobserved exit remaining in close radio contact with the cars at all times during the exit.

The installation was working satisfactorily when tested at the monitoring plant on the evening of 3/5/62.

RE: RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, aka
AR~~CONF. ENCL.~~

On 3/7/62, BS 837-C* advised that subject was in touch with an unknown individual and a lengthy discussion ensued relative to race track operations in Mass. The discussion indicated that the subject has an interest in a race track in Berkshire County, Mass., which track has been the subject of recent newspaper publicity inasmuch as the father of former Governor FOSTER FURCOLO is being sued by former State Senator JOSEPH MURPHY. MURPHY alleges that FURCOLO's father forced MURPHY to release MURPHY's interest in the track, otherwise the track would not receive any licensed dates for operation in the state.

The discussion indicated that SALVATORE CUFARI might also have an interest in the track through the subject, inasmuch as CUFARI was endeavoring to contact Governor JOHN VOLPE relative to the track operation.

It was indicated that [] prominent race track operator, in Massachusetts, was being contacted by this person talking to the subject relative to the possibility of [] purchasing the subject's interest in the track.

In the course of such discussion, this person indicated to the subject that a [redacted] (PH) was close to Lt. This particular discussion is relative to racing dates and for the Bureau's information, it is noted that the [redacted] referred to may be identical with [redacted] subject of a Departmental Applicant - Antitrust Division investigation in March, 1961. The newspapers, in Dec., 1961, revealed that REED was sworn in to the Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Sources in the Springfield, Mass. area revealed that [redacted] prior to his governmental appointment, was associated with [redacted] an attorney in Springfield, Mass.; that [redacted] was a close personal friend of the President, having served in the PT service with him; and that Attorney [redacted] is presently in Europe. It is accordingly thought that the person talking to the subject was referring to [redacted]
[redacted]

On the same date, BS 837-C* advised that the subject discussed in detail the opening of a dice game in the Revere Mass. area. The person talking with the subject apparently is from Boston, Mass., and in the course thereof this person was to endeavor to develop a contact at the U.S. Marshal's Office so that information relative to any warrant for the raid of the game could be obtained. Contact was also to be effected between an individual named [redacted] and [redacted] and it is believed that such individuals are identical with personnel in the Mass. State Police and District Attorney GARRETT-BYRNE's Office.

The Bureau will be kept informed of significant information furnished by BS 837-C*.

Re Boston airtel dated March 7, 1962.

BS 837-0* on March 6, 1962 advised that subject PATRIARCA discussed the Federal gambling legislation with an unknown individual, particularly in connection with the game that was raided in Pennsylvania. The subject pointed out that it was a violation to move from one state to another in connection with gambling.

There was also a discussion relative to an individual named JONES who was killed in the airplane accident in New York. This individual was en route to vacation with ex-President EISENHOWER and the discussion concerned the fact that he had $60,000. in his briefcase. The subject pointed out that he believed this amount was to be a payoff as "no one legitimately carries that kind of money on him, but only carries a credit card and less than $100." The subject conjectured that JONES was taking the money to the former President for NIXON's campaign.

BS 837-C* further advised that the subject discussed with an individual named HENRY (believed to be HENRY TAMELLO), a scheme involving the use of gold for the purpose of swindling a dentist. It appears that the dentist had been in touch with HENRY and an individual referred to as [redacted] of New Bedford. The doctor apparently also has a double indemnity insurance policy in the amount of $137,000. and the conversation involved the killing of the doctor, therefor. The subject himself pointed out that they could bury the doctor, but HENRY pointed out that it would be necessary to wait seven years to collect. It was then discussed that a "hot truck" could be used to crash into the doctor's car as he had a record for having automobile accidents.

On 3/14/62, [] identified the photograph of THEODORE FUCILLO, Medford, Mass., as a person on whom he has previously furnished information and referred to as "TEDDY". This informant has developed no further pertinent information to date.

BS 837-C* advised on March 8, 1962, that the subject was in contact with an individual believed to be identical with SAMUEL GRANITO who was the only individual convicted in the $100,000 B.F. Sturtevant Co. payroll robbery, Hyde Park, Mass. in 1948. GRANITO is presently on parole in Mass. from such offense. The informant believes that GRANITO may serve in a carrier capacity for PATRIARCA, inasmuch as GRANITO brought a small amount of money to PATRIARCA and indicated the same came from [] (both names phonetic). identical with a well known numbers operator in the Greater Boston area.

GRANITO indicated that he had been in contact with an individual believed to be JERRY NOYES or JERRY ANGELO, local Boston characters, and JERRY spoke of having observed a New York car in the Boston area. There was conjecture as to the occupants of this car and whether or not an individual named [redacted] (phonetic) was in the car. There was indication that these individuals sometime ago had been trying to kill the New York hoodlum named [redacted]. These individuals were hanging around with a man named [redacted] (phonetic) who used to be a waiter.

GRANITO indicated that he had been recently in Puerto Rico and in the Virgin Islands. In the latter place he was talking to a jeweler who indicated that he paid LOUIS FOX $1,500 a month rent on the store and that FOX owns considerable property in that area.

GRANITO and PATRIARCA discussed the local prosecution of RUDY SCIAAIA, who is being charged with the murder of the well known Providence hoodlum, JOHN JACKIE NAZARTAN. In this discussion, there was mention made of the latent fingerprint on the gun and the possibility of the defendant admitting having had held the gun some several weeks prior to the actual crime.

PATRIARCA indicated to GRANITO that he sees 80 - 90 people a day at his place of business in Providence.

The informant further advised that PATRIARCA and his associates are very much interested in the details of the FBI raid in the Philadelphia area on the dice games and are effecting arrangements for someone to proceed to that area and make contact and determine the actual details. The contact is to be with some one of the subjects involved in the operation.

The informant advised that on March 9, 1962, PATRIARCA was in contact with various individuals and discussed in detail the endeavors to obtain dates for racing for the Hancock Race Track in Hingsdale, Massachusetts. These endeavors involved contacts with Senator JOHN E. POWERS of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the Lt. Governor of Massachusetts EDWARD MC LAUGHLIN and others. It would appear that the PATRIARCA group are being approached by the well known racing operator in Mass., [redacted] towards the purchase of the PATRIARCA group interest in the Hancock Track and this group is endeavoring, while [redacted] is on a European Tour, to obtain assigned dates for racing, thus increasing the value of their interest for sale purposes.

The informant further advised that PATRIARCA might be interested in a construction type of firm. It is believed that this interest may involve the D & H Building Wreckers, Inc., Johnston, R.I., and an individual named [redacted] also of Johnston, R.I. The latter was a subject of a substantial theft of government property case in the Providence, R.I. area, and was recently released from incarceration therefor. It is believed that this group is negotiating for the bidding on State contracts for the extension of Route 195 in Rhode Island.

On March 12, 1962, the informant advised that PATRIARCA was negotiating with a group of individuals, including a man believed to be ALFRED ROSSI, aka "Blind Pig", well known receiver and fence in the R.I. area for the purchase of several hundred cashmere coats. The informant indicated that PATRIARCA was to purchase these coats at $22 apiece, and arrangements were not sufficiently crystallized on the actual delivery. The informant indicated that there was further discussion relative to the Hingsdale Track by PATRIARCA and individuals whose identity the informant has not been in a position to determine.

The sensitive nature of the informant's position necessitates that every effort be exercised to maintain the security thereof.

SUBJECT SHOULD BE CONSIDERED ARMED AND DANGEROUS.

Patriarca who is one of our prime targets is also an intensified target of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

Last week IRS established a fixed surveillance plant in an apartment across the street from Patriarca's place of business, the Coin-O-Matic Vending Company in Providence, Rhode Island, and within 24 hours thereafter Patriarca sent a representative to the apartment under the pretext of looking for an individual named Russo.

On 3/15/62 our microphone source advised that Patriarca was very disturbed about the man who had moved into the questioned apartment. He commented the apartment was rented by a woman who did not even see it and now the windows are always covered by draperies. He said the man was supposed to be a truck driver.

Patriarca believed this man could be taking pictures of his business place and the persons who frequent it. In addition, he was worried because the man could very effectively use a rifle from behind the draperies. Patriarca said he intended to send one of his men to this apartment on 3/16/62 disguised as a mechanic and effectively resolve this situation.

Our Boston Office immediately advised the IRS that we had received information their undercover agent had been discovered and was in danger of serious harm.

This highly confidential source and the prompt action taken by our Boston Office undoubtedly averted physical harm to the IRS agent.

Re Bureau airtel 3/12/62 and Boston airtel 3/20/62.

BS 837-C* advised that on 3/16/62, subject, PATRIARCA, had a conversation with an individual, probably, JERRY VANGIULO. In this conversation, which concerned the opening of the dice game in the Greater Boston area, JERRY indicated that he had been talking to an individual named [redacted]. It is probable that the [redacted] referred to is [redacted] recently resigned IRS Agent in the Boston area. The talk with [redacted] concerned the U. S. Commissioner and [redacted] indicated that there were two and they are the individuals who issue the warrants in the event of any Federal raids. One of the Commissioners was described as being an old man and should not be contacted. (This refers to U. S. Commissioner NELLIGAN). The other Commissioner is named FARRELL who lives on the beach in Revere. (This refers to U. S. Commissioner FRANCIS H. FARRELL). [redacted] indicated that FARRELL was a very good friend of [redacted] and JERRY conjectures with PATRIARCA that in such case [redacted] could probably make a contact with FARRELL and develop the relationship so that a tip could be given in the event of any warrants being issued. [redacted] is probably [redacted] of the Revere, Mass. PD.

Rhode Island area and further that subject was interested in the possible purchase of a hotel in the Newport, Rhode Island area.

The subject had further discussion relative to the JACKIE NAZARIAN murder case and indicated that he had been talking to Attorney CURRAN who is representing the defendant. It appears that the defense do not now plan on using NAZARIAN's widow and mother as defense witnesses fearing they might "blow up". Plans were also discussed relative to the planting of another gun in someones home which would be used in the case.

On this date the subject indicated that he contemplated the moving of his office as the company was taking over the barber shop next door and probably the subject would use that area as his office.

On 3/20/62, the subject had a conversation relative to a "joint" in East Greenwich wherein it appears alcohol is being made and trucks from Ohio pick it up. There is some indication that the local police are in on it and an old man about 70 years of age owns the place. The discussion indicates that it would be a good job to pull as there would not be any "beef".

On the same date the informant indicated that the NAZARIAN murder case was again discussed and in the course thereof it was revealed that [redacted] who is the examining physician for the Rhode Island State Police and accordingly has frequent contact therewith, may be a source of information to the subject.

On this date there was further discussion relative to the premises across the street from the subject's place of business. (The Bureau will recall that IRS had a plant for photographic and observation purposes across the street from the subject's place of business and removed the same after a few days of operation because of the indications that subject was about to take aggressive action in determining who had moved into the premises). The subject pointed out that the drapes of the windows were always down; that the lock on the door to the premises had been changed; that there had been no action Saturday or Sunday at the place and issued instructions that it be checked to determine if the man was still there. An individual returned and advised

PATRIARCA that the man had not been in the apartment since the raids that had been conducted in the Providence area. PATRIARCA's runner indicated that he would grab this man in the event he was in the apartment and accuse him of robbing Coin-O-Matic (subject's place of business), and then rough up the individual. The landlord told this runner that the occupant of the premises was gone each day from about 9:00 AM to 4:30 PM and he understood the man to be a watchman or watch salesman. The runner instructed the landlord to find out where the individual worked and PATRIARCA conjectured that a check should be made at the YMCA to see if the individual has lived there and a phone call should be made to IRS asking for the individual. The conversation indicated that a contact was made with the YMCA and the individual making the contact "caught a cold from the desk clerk". He indicated that the clerk was hiding something.

On the same date the subject indicated an interest in a test case of the Federal Gambling Laws. He indicated that he had been in New York talking to people relative to the same.

On 3/21/62, BS 837-C* advised that PATRIARCA had further detailed conversation with an individual relative to the manipulation of the finances concerning the Hancock Race Track. On the same date the subject continued to express concern about the individual who had occupied the premises across the street. The man has not been there since Saturday and the subject and his associates know the man was up to something. They apparently broke into the premises to verify the individual's departure and they plan on watching the place for any bill such as a gas bill that might give them a lead to the individual's identity.

On this date there was a detailed conversation with an individual named JERRY who is probably identical with JERRY ANGEULO. This conversation involved a man named [redacted] of IRS who was working on a case involving [redacted] PATRIARCA and a place of business. This [redacted] is further identified in the conversation as an individual who has been under transfer to Seattle since March 5, 1962, and will be leaving therefore upon completion of his present assignment.

Also in the conversation reference is made to an individual named [redacted] in the latter's office and a [redacted] is also mentioned. (It is noted that a [redacted] had been assigned by the IRS office in Boston to handle at Providence, R. I., a case involving the Sherwood Manufacturing Company. The subject has an interest in this firm and [redacted] is employed as [redacted] there. It is known that members of this firm, including [redacted] were recently interviewed by the IRS in connection with this case. It is pointed out that serving as Regional Racketeer Coordinator for the IRS in Boston is [redacted] and he is [redacted] is not readily identifiable, but a [redacted] is known to work for [redacted] and was friendly with [redacted] is probably [redacted] a recently resigned IRS Agent in Boston.

The conversation indicates that [redacted] is in the process of preparing his report with recommendations. [redacted] has been in contact with [redacted] in connection with the case and it appears that [redacted] report will reveal that no responsibility can be attached to [redacted] in connection with the case as [redacted] as she was told.

[redacted] report will, to assure against the reopening of the case and its approval by his superior and its acceptance in Washington, recommend a tax assessment of about $1,200.00. It is not clear as to the basis for such recommendation, but the feeling is that the Government would spend considerably more than $1,200.00 in prosecuting the case.

JBG:jmh

With such recommendation it is believed that [redacted] superior will go along with it. In this respect there was some indication that [redacted] had contacted an individual named [redacted] office who seemed to indicate that [redacted] would approve [redacted] recommendation. The conversation indicates that [redacted] was planning on submitting his report in 3 or 4 days and [redacted] was to determine [redacted] recommendation, whether [redacted] signed it and the same was forwarded to Washington. When such was done, then [redacted] who may be identical with [redacted] will talk to [redacted]

It is difficult to determine in the conversation whether [redacted] has already been the recipient of gifts or that he is to be compensated for the action that he is taking on this case. It is noted, however, that PATRIARCA is very much concerned and is attempting to develop an assurance that [redacted] recommendation will be approved and the case will be closed. It is further pointed out that no dissemination of this information has been made locally and the Bureau should consider the dissemination on the Washington level as well as requesting an appropriate alert for this particular case in IRS and a study thereby for detection of possible fraud and misconduct on the part of [redacted] and others.

Further conversation was held by PATRIARCA and an individual thought to be JERRY ANGIULO relative to contact with U. S. Commissioner FARREL and as of 3/21/62, the efforts had been unsuccessful.

A conversation was held in which [redacted] who is probably identical with a Boston bondsman named [redacted] was mentioned. JERRY indicated [redacted] had a connection close to [redacted] (IRS [redacted] in the Boston area) and PATRIARCA and JERRY are interested in finding out just what this connection is. There was some discussion relative to a Federal operation now going on called "Tobacco Road" and the Federal agency is going to strike with 200 agents in one place. PATRIARCA pointed out that the Feds were coming in from out of town and he is getting information from the room clerk of the Hotel Biltmore in Providence. The discussion indicated that the "heat" was on and 6 men were assigned 8 hours a day with 2 shifts on PATRIARCA.

JEG:jmh

On 3/22/62, BS 837-C* advised that on that date the subject had a conversation with [redacted] relative to the purchase of a used car business and PATRIARCA agreed to furnish $1500 for one-half of the profit on the place. On this date PATRIARCA was still expressing concern about the man who had been in the premises across the street from the subject's place of business. PATRIARCA pointed out that he should have sent someone in the first night to "take care of the thing".

On 3/13/62, BS 837-C* advised that he believed a number of individuals were engaged in the counting of money at PATRIARCA's place of business and in the course thereof one of the individuals mentioned that the money was "dirty and damp as hell". The money appeared to amount to $12,000.00 and was made up of ten, twenty and fifty dollar denominations.

The informant further advised that subject, PATRIARCA, expected an individual named TOMMY BROWN in from New York on Thursday or Friday and the subject expected to go to see [redacted] with BROWN.

An individual believed to be named [] contacted subject PATRIARCA, and engaged in detailed conversation with him relative to union activities. [] apparently had recently been in Washington and had visited with the Congressional Representatives from the Rhode Island area. The conversation reflected the possibility that some firm was "paying under the hat" and as a result were only paying their employees a $1.50 an hour whereas the union requirements call for $2.75 and $.10 welfare. It appears that the firm involved may be the D & H Wreckers in which PATRIARCA allegedly has an interest.

The informant further advised that the subject was contacted by an individual who requested the subject's services in collecting a $3,400.00 bill owed by a Rhode Island businessman to a Massachusetts auctioneer. The subject indicated that he would have an individual named [] (PH) check up on it and then subject was told that he could keep half of the sum collected. It is known that there is a family named [] in the Providence, R. I. area which is made up of several brothers who have criminal records.

On 3/14/62, the informant advised that the subject indicated that his son had been interviewed at Boston College relative to admission thereto and that the subject has a friend who knows the President and this friend plans on interceding for the subject's son.

The subject was having a detailed conversation with an individual believed to be named [] who recently returned from the Florida area. The discussion involved activities in the Worcester, Mass. locale and mention was made of an individual named [] is believed to be [] a subject of an antiracketeering investigation of this office in Worcester, Mass. JERRY is believed to be JERRY ANGLINO, likewise a subject of investigation. The conversation indicated that [] was down a few months ago and purchased his wife a beautiful seal coat with a mink collar. The subject indicated that the coat sold for about $3,000.00 in the store and [] the coat and the stole for $1,200.00. The subject indicated that at the request of [] In further discussion with [] it was pointed out that an individual named PINKY was to be removed from his office and the business turned over to [] It was pointed out that the business was good, but people did not like PINKY and he chases them away. It is believed that the PINKY referred to was PINKY

PANARELLI, likewise of Worcester, Mass. and subject of AR investigation, and identity of [] is unknown.

A discussion was held wherein it was indicated that someone was over a barrel and this individual who may be tied into a publishing and editing business was the person responsible for the Ford Motor Company not sponsoring the TV show "Untouchables". The conversation indicated that the participants believed this production was an insult to the Italian race.

The informant advised that on 3/14/62, the subject was contacted by an individual who explained to the subject that he was not a "fink", but when he was down and out PATRIARCA apparently used him as a white man. This individual indicated that when PATRIARCA was in the hospital, sometime ago, an individual named JACKIE was going around saying that he would take over as soon as RAY "croaked".

It is believed that the JACKIE referred to is JACKIE NAZARIAN who was recently murdered in Providence, R. I. and RUDY SCIARRIA is presently in custody awaiting prosecution thereon.

On 3/15/62, BS 837-C* advised that the subject had a discussion concerning an individual named FRANK who was supposed to have been paroled to Miami. It is believed that the individual referred to is FRANK FERRARRA presently serving time in connection with his conviction for receiving part of the bonds in the million dollar bond burglary in Canada several years ago.

On the same date the subject had a conversation with an individual concerning the possibility of an arson job being committed. The place of business involved apparently deals in radio tubes and an individual named [] would be the person that would put the torch to the premises. The subject would receive $1,500.00 for the job.

On the same date there was a discussion relative to the NAZARIAN murder and reference was made to the FBI technicians from Washington testifying.

There was also a discussion about an individual living across the street from the subject's place of business. This individual kept the curtains down and there was conjecture as to maybe the FBI was watching the subject's place of business. It was pointed out that the premises across the street could be used for "Peeking" and the general conversation indicated that the subject and the persons he was talking to were aware of the recent rental of the premises, the fact that the woman renting the premises did not even look at the same; that the man occupying the premises showed up with a truck and miscellaneous furniture, and shortly after his arrival drapes and curtains were installed over the windows. Mention was also made of a rifle being used effectively. (As the Bureau knows IRS established a plant across the street from the subject's place of business and this conversation obviously was referring to such plant. IRS has advised that its undercover operative was approached on several occasions since he moved into the premises and because of this IRS has removed the individual from the plant.)

On 3/16/62, BS 837-C* advised that the subject had a discussion with an individual relative to the burglary of a place of business, probably a bowling alley. In this discussion it developed that the participants had already obtained a key to the premises and were anxious to proceed on the job. They were seeking the subject's permission to operate.

On the same date the subject had a conversation with an individual named JERRY believed to be JERRY ANGIULO. The latter indicated that SAM (believed to be SAM GRANITO) told him that he had been contacted by some people from New York who had a trailer load of Canadian whiskey. There is supposed to be 1300 cases amounting to $13,000.00 and JERRY discussed with PATRIARCA the interstate transportation phase. JERRY points out that his theory is that if he could score $100,000.00 and then something happen wherein it cost him $50,000.00 he would take a chance, but he would not gamble on a $13,000.00 job.

On the same date the subject had a discussion relative to the MAZARIAN murder case. In this discussion it was pointed out that the FBI Laboratory was going to testify that it raised a fingerprint from a gun. The discussion indicated that the subject contemplated having the defendant in the murder case admitting handling the gun sometime before the murder inasmuch as the FBI man had said the print could remain thereon indefinitely. The defense would be thus a legitimate reason for the fingerprint being on the gun and thereafter they would have an alibi for the defendant to the effect that he was nowhere in the locale of the murder when it occurred. A further discussion was had relative to the possibility of getting a ballistic man from Boston to testify for the defense.

A copy of this airtel is being designated for the New York Office in view of the Canadian whiskey mentioned herein and the reference to TOMMY BROWN.

Re Boston airtel dated March 27, 1962.

On March 27, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that subject PATRIARCA had a conversation with an individual wherein it was indicated that lights were being installed at a race track in contemplation of night racing. PATRIARCA appears to have some financial interest in the enterprise and apparently the latter's attorney, SOL FRIEDMAN, is co-signing a note with [redacted] a race track in Rhode Island.

JERRY ANGUILO is apparently in contact with PATRIARCA and advised PATRIARCA that [redacted] who is probably [redacted] of the Revere, Massachusetts, Police Department, was unable to do anything with FARRELL (U. S. Commissioner FRANCIS H. FARRELL). The Bureau will recall previous conversations wherein an attempt was to be made to reach FARRELL for the latter to tip off in the event of any Federal raids. ANGUILO indicated that they were operating a game on Sunday in Boston, believed to be at the Hotel Sherry Biltmore, and that they are also running a card game every Tuesday and Thursday night in the hotel. He indicated that he had been in contact with [redacted] Squad of the Boston Police Department and [redacted] members thereof, namely, [redacted] [redacted] wanted $300 a month for permission to operate the game. An agreement was reached where these four officers would receive $200 a month and if business increased, the amount would go up to $300 a month.

The informant further advised that JERRY ANGUILO discussed the going into a television business with an investment of $25,000. [redacted] of the Rockingham Race Track is related to some of the people in the business.

The informant advised that PATRIARCA still is concerned about the individual who had been occupying the premises across the street from Coin-O-Matic. PATRIARCA has determined that the individual was from Worcester or Springfield, Massachusetts, and the furniture that he had in the apartment was bought by an older man.

On March 28, 1962, PATRIARCA had further conversation relative to gambling in the greater Boston area and indicated that they planned on starting a barboot game and in this manner, they will determine what the "Feds" will do. If the latter do nothing, they will then start a dice game.

On this date PATRIARCA continued to discuss the race track operations and his financial interest therein. It would appear from this conversation that PATRIARCA has an interest in the race track in Rhode Island, which is publicly known to belong to DARIO. The conversation did not appear clear enough to spell out PATRIARCA's interest therein.

PATRIARCA indicated that he had been in contact with STONE (probably WALTER STONE, Chief of the Providence, Rhode Island, Police Department) and he told STONE that he was not putting any money into a dice game unless STONE indicated it could be operated. STONE apparently told PATRIARCA that it could not be.

PATRIARCA had a conversation with a man who had served eighteen months in Danbury sometime ago. This man once owned an Arthur Murray's Studio in Connecticut. He was planning on going to Haiti as this country wants to increase its tourist trade to eighty million a year. The man is setting up an organization called International Public Relations and while they have not actually done anything as yet, they do have a lot of plans. PATRIARCA indicated to the man to go ahead and he would get all the money he needed for the venture. Specific details of the venture and the identity of the individual are not available at this time.

The following investigation was conducted by
SA [REDACTED]:

On March 27 and 28, 1962, a contact with IRS representatives in Providence developed no pertinent information.

A spot check of the subject's place of business on March 27, 1962, reflected that the car of JERRY ANGUILO was in the locality.

RAYMOND PATRIARCA has been concerned with the investigation by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) of the Sherwood Manufacturing Company, Providence, Rhode Island, inasmuch as [redacted] is employed as [redacted] of the firm and prepared the various records. Handling the case for IRS is a [redacted] who in March, 1962, was transferred from the Boston Office to Seattle, Washington, and presently, prior to his departure, is drawing up his report of investigation.

A GERRY ANGIULO of Boston, Massachusetts, an associate of PATRIARCA and a prominent figure in gambling circles in Boston, has been exercising efforts on behalf of PATRIARCA to assure that the latter's sister will not be prosecuted. In this respect ANGIULO has been in touch with [redacted] of Boston, Massachusetts, who recently retired from the IRS. [redacted] thereafter was in conference with [redacted] and the latter is drawing up his report to reflect that no culpability can be attached to [redacted] and that the firm should pay an assessment slightly above $1,000.00. To assure the report will be approved by [redacted] got in touch with an individual in the latter's office, presented the facts to him, and was told that [redacted] would go along with [redacted] recommendations. [redacted] indicated to ANGIULO that the report would then be forwarded to Washington.

The informant pointed out that when [redacted] was assigned to the case he was told that the company belonged to PATRIARCA and he should endeavor to tie the latter in with it. However, [redacted] found nothing on PATRIARCA.

The informant further advised that he had no concrete information as to any compensation [redacted] and others may receive for the report that [redacted] was to submit, but conjectured that such compensation would occur after ANGIULO was assured that everything had gone through and the case had been closed. He felt, however, that the case

Details:

Date February 9, 1962

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, was interviewed at the Providence, Rhode Island, Resident Agency of the FBI. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make any statement and any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law. He was also advised that he had the right to retain an attorney.

[redacted] advised that sometime during the Spring of 1961, the exact date he could not recall, a personal friend of his, [redacted] whom he has known for the past eight to ten years, approached him in the vicinity of Balbo and dePasquale Streets, Providence, Rhode Island, and asked if he could use his, [redacted] name to borrow money. [redacted] told him that he would cosign on the note and make all necessary payments to the bank. He said that [redacted] promised him $100 which he received. [redacted] said that he was under the impression that the loan was to be between $300 and $400 and no more. He stated that he, himself, has never had a full time job and has a very poor credit rating. Also, he never believed that [redacted] would ever be able to obtain any money under his name.

[redacted] said that he recalls that [redacted] brought to him papers to sign. He said, from the best of his recollection, he only signed a loan application and not a note. He said that in his presence [redacted] told him what information he was putting on the application, such as he was employed by [redacted] Federal Street, Providence, Rhode Island, as [redacted] earning a salary of around $150 per week. [redacted] said that he could not recall what additional information [redacted] put on the application. Also, he stated that he did not know the name of the bank where the loan was obtained. He said that he did recall receiving a letter from this bank and also from an attorney telling him that he owed approximately $2,000 on a loan under his name. [redacted] said he was amazed [redacted] was able to get this kind of money using his name. [redacted] said that he is almost positive that he never did sign a note for the loan.

 SUBJECT: RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, aka
 AR

Re Boston Airtel dated March 26, 1962.

On March 23, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that in the forenoon the subject PATRIARCA was to meet some people at the Old Colony Motel in Cranston, Rhode Island and such people included a TOMMY BROWN from New York. The nature or purpose of the meeting was unknown to the informant who further advised that some comment was made relative to an individual named MC QUEENIE and a fix of $5,000 instead of the employment of a lawyer. The MC QUEENIE referred to may be the Chairman of the Democratic Party in Rhode Island. The informant was unable at this time to furnish any other further information concerning this matter.

The informant further advised that conversation continued relative to the NAZARIAN murder case in which an individual named SCIARA was awaiting State Prosecution. The subject had indicated that he is willing to pay any amount for a fix in the case and discussion was held relative to the offering of money to NUGENT for the presentation of a weak case. The NUGENT referred to may be the present Attorney General in Rhode Island.

On March 24, 1962, BS 837-C*, advised that subject PATRIARCA continues to discuss the hotel type premises he and JERRY, believed to be ANGIULO, plan on purchasing in Newport, Rhode Island. Further discussion was held relative to the contract that was previously mentioned that was up for bidding in Rhode Island. Dice games were likewise discussed and in the course thereof the subject indicated that he had 80 "guys" to assure that they make a living and apparently this explained the subject's exercise of control over dice games in the sense of permitting some games to operate and others be closed down on his direction.

The informant further advised that in the course of contact on March 21, 1962 with JERRY ANGIULO there was considerable discussion relative to individuals named [redacted]. It is probable that the [redacted] referred to is the individual who was arrested and thereafter released by the Boston Police Department for the gangland murder of BERNARD MC LAUGHLIN in Charlestown, Massachusetts. It is probable that the [redacted] referred to is a [redacted] in the Charlestown locality. It would appear in this discussion that ANGIULO is discussing endeavors exercised on his part to murder [redacted] or either one. ANGIULO indicates the various steps extended by him to observe the activities and daily habits of these two men and the police problems that are presented in the event of "hitting" these individuals in named barrooms and other points in the Charlestown, Massachusetts area. The conversation however is not sufficiently crystal clear to formulate a definite opinion but it is apparent that action on the part of ANGIULO has not been completely formulated.

On March 26, 1962, the informant advised that the subject continued to discuss and operation in Connecticut involving illicit liquor of 95 proof. The informant advised that the subject continues to discuss the NAZARIAN murder case and indicated that the attorney for SCIARA named CURRAN has expressed the opinion that he can defeat the Federal Bureau of Investigation testimony in the case. Attorney CURRAN has a man coming from Boston to testify and has expressed the feeling he has a good defense. At this point they are discussing the firearm involved in the case and the individual that the defense contemplates using is probably [redacted] a Ballistics Officer for the Massachusetts State Police who retired in 1951. Apparently there has already been testimony that the bullet entered the body of the deceased NAZARIAN in a downward fashion and now there is a contention that the bullet went upward. There is indication that CURRAN is also using in defense a laboratory man from the State Laboratory in Kingston, Rhode Island and that Attorney CURRAN indicates he is going to make a "bum" out of the State witnessess. In this same conversation there is an indication that the [redacted] mentioned above told [redacted] that he had been in touch with STONE who is probably the Chief of the Providence, Rhode Island Police Department. STONE allegedly told [redacted] he was not interested in the case and that one of [redacted] best friends put the finger on him. This individual although he indicated he did not want to be brought before the Grand Jury and will deny everything in such event is going to be brought before the Grand Jury insofar as STONE is concerned. STONE did not identify this individual to [redacted] but the latter was going to obtain the name through the District Attorney's office, as well as learning if the man was going to be summoned before the Grand Jury and whether he talks or not before this body. In this conversation there was a discussion relative to a $5,000 pay off which PATRIARCA was going to put in escrow to be paid upon [redacted] being found not guilty. The money was to be held by an individual who would be a mutual friend of [redacted] family and [redacted]

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted]

On March 20, 1962 [redacted] Agent of the Alcoholic Tax Unit advised that a high light of his physical surveillance of the subject's hangout from 3/12-15, 1962 was the arrival of Rhode Island Registration I-9 which is issued to [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island. MC KENZIE was formerly the 12th Ward Democratic Chairman in Providence and recently obtained a high salary position with the Rhode Island [redacted]. The position is in the capacity of being a [redacted] and because of his appointment [redacted] had to relinquish his [redacted] which was then given to his wife.

three years the firm expects to do eleven million dollars in business and that the subject can write his own ticket in the firm, if he finances the deal. The organization is big enough to take in anybody that the subject wants to put into the organization and the subject indicated that he would have his man back in a week or ten days and would answer the situation then. The individual indicated that they already have many accounts with Sears, Montgomery Ward, etc. and the subject indicated that they could sit down in the subject's lawyer's office and talk. It is not clear at this time as to just what this transaction is all about.

On April 4, 1962 the informant advised that on this particular occasion there was considerable remodeling activity going on in the subject's premises and it was difficult for the informant to note the subject's activities. However, the subject had a conversation with a man and woman and in the course thereof the subject indicated to these people that you can't go any place inasmuch as the FBI is always chasing you. The man indicated that his business was rapidly expanding and that he has a $75,000 inventory after starting with a little over $100 five years previously. The man indicated that he needed from $5,000 to $7,000 to pay his debts and the subject advised him that if he, the subject, gave him any money it could not be shown as it would get the individual in trouble. Accordingly, there will be no record of the transaction and the man will pay interest monthly on the loan.

Re your airtel 4/5/62.

Insure that you are aware at all times of Patriarca's remodeling activities at the Coin-O-Matic, 168 Atwell Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island. In the event Patriarca moves his personal office to another location in the immediate vicinity, you should make every effort to have the necessary telephone cable run to that office so that you will have no difficulty whatsoever in installing additional misur coverage at that location.

You are instructed to give this matter your immediate personal attention.

NOTE: BS 837-C* has furnished information to the Boston Office that Patriarca will move his personal office to an area in the immediate vicinity of the Coin-O-Matic Office. This area to which Patriarca intends to move his office was formerly occupied by a barbershop. Boston is being instructed to stay on top of this operation and make every effort through their contacts with the local telephone company to have the proper telephone cable installed so misur coverage in this new office can be effected without difficulty.

Re Boston airtel, dated April 3, 1962.

On April 3, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that on that date PATRIARCA was in touch with an unknown individual and they were engaged in counting money and the sum of $500. was mentioned.

On the same date the subject had a discussion with an individual relative to a jury trial and there was some indication that NUGENT, who may be the Attorney General for the State of Rhode Island, is pressing the case. NUGENT indicated to CURRAN, who may be the attorney for RUDY SCIARA in the NAZARIAN murder case, that there were going to be other witnesses heard.

The subject had a discussion with an individual relative to General Electric transformers and apparently the discussion was relative to the installation of lights at a race track for night racing. There was some indication that the Governor was happy about the situation and had not known that the deal had already been set up in connection with these lights.

On April 3, 1962 the subject was contacted by an individual who was interested in obtaining $5,000. The individual indicated he had a machine which Dupont wants to buy as the machine makes Teflon. The individual indicated that in Apparently there was $110,000.00 out in [redacted] Accounts Receivable and the subject commented "When we took it over there was over $80,000.00 there and I made him give Jerry his money back." JERRY is believed to be ANGIULO. It is apparent that [redacted] and his partner are in financial difficulty and are desirous of getting money. The identity of [redacted] is not readily known, but it is believed that they might be connected with the American Finance Corporation with which PATRIARCA was allegedly associated.

On the same date the informant advised that the subject had an interview with an individual named [redacted] and the discussion concerned a case involving a man named [redacted] is apparently being prosecuted by the State of Rhode Island and it is feared that it could result in his deportation. It also appears that NUGENT is handling the prosecution and endeavors are being made to fix the case with $1,000.00 being mentioned. The identity of [redacted] is not known, and it may be Attorney General NUGENT who is referred to in this conversation.

On 3/31/62 the informant advised that the subject had conversation with several individuals relative to gambling enterprises that were being operated. There was also a conversation wherein reference was made to an individual named [redacted] who "was going to make it." It appears that this conversation involves [redacted] who is scheduled for Parole Board hearing in Massachusetts, and who was the individual sentenced for extortion activities along with two other individuals. The conversation indicates the possibility that the other two individuals were not going to be released, and that $10,000.00 might be involved in affecting the parole.

On April 2, 1962, the informant advised that the subject is continuing his interest in the SCIARA prosecution and a discussion was held relative to the fingerprints on the gun and the gun disappearing. The informant was unable to furnish any further specific data at this time in connection with this conversation.

Informant identified a photograph of THEODORE FUCILLO, Medford, Massachusetts as being identical with a person named "TEDDY" that he has previously furnished information about and which information has been furnished the Bureau.

In regard to TEDDY, informant stated that he is carrying on the activities of FRANK FERRARA who is presently confined at a Federal Penitentiary, however, FERRARA is scheduled to be paroled in the very near future. According to informant, "TEDDY" is handling all of FERRARA's business interests.

Informant states that information has come to his attention that PATRIARCA may have an interest in a crap game in Revere, Massachusetts; that the game is operated over the weekend and that PATRIARCA's interests are being protected by the Boston group and that possibly two individuals named [redacted] of Boston are protecting PATRIARCA's interest in this game.

Informant states that HENRY TAMELEO has recently purchased a 1962 Cadillac, white and continues to have Rhode Island registration plate ST 45 on the car.

Informant also stated that alterations are presently being done at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, hangout of subject; that part of the wall of the vacant store has been removed so that entrance can be gained from 168 Atwells Avenue and it appears to informant that the vacant store will be occupied by National Cigarette Service of which PATRIARCA [redacted] Informant also said that it appears that an office will be built at the rear of the vacant store with show rooms in the front to exhibit the new cigarette machines that have arrived here.

Informant will keep this office advised of this matter.

Re: THEODORE FUCILLO, also known as
TEDDY FUCILLO

BS T-1 on February 23, 1962, advised that in all probability a person known as "TEDDY" from Boston who would be a close friend of FRANK FERRARA and who would be in contact with RAYMOND PATRIARCA is THEODORE FUCILLO, commonly referred to as TEDDY FUCILLO. He said that FUCILLO is an old time bookmaker in Boston who has always been associated with dice games and is presently employed at the dice game in Revere, Massachusetts, which game is, he understands, financed by JERRY ANGIULO, of the North End Section of Boston and of which JOSEPH LOMBARDO, RAYMOND PATRIARCA and a number of the Boston Italian element have a financial interest. He said he knows of no connection that FUCILLO has with any companies and the only Whiting Company he could think of was the Whiting Milk Company in Charlestown, Massachusetts and he knows that FUCILLO has no relationship with this company.

A review of the Boston files shows that THEODORE FUCILLO, 139 Fells Avenue, Medford, Massachusetts, was interviewed at the Boston Office on February 14, 1950 by SA [redacted] FUCILLO stated that as a boy he grew up in the North End Section of Boston, Massachusetts and that he attended school with many of the individuals such as ANTHONY CORTESE, also known as "BIG BOZO" (deceased) and [redacted] also known as [redacted]. He stated he had one brother, ARMANDO FUCILLO, who operates the Quaker Lane Smoke Shop, 27 State Street, Boston, Massachusetts who was living at that time at 97 Garfield Street, Chelsea, Massachusetts. He said that up until a few months prior to the interview he was associated with his brother at the Smoke Shop but that at the time of the interview, he was employed at the Frolics Restaurant, 155 Boulevard, Revere, Massachusetts.

ARMANDO FUCILLO was interviewed by SA [redacted] on April 13, 1950 and he advised that he was born March 22, 1913 at Revere, Massachusetts; that he presently resided at 97 Garfield Street, Chelsea, Massachusetts. He said that the Quaker Lane Smoke Shop was actually owned by his brother, THEODORE FUCILLO, although the cigaret license and soft drink license were in his name. He stated that the premises were primarily used for booking numbers and taking horse bets and that he and his brother had operated this store for that purpose since 1944.

ARMANDO FUCILLO said that his brother, THEODORE FUCILLO, had been identified with gambling activities for a much longer period of time than he and in addition to his brother's operations in the Smoke Shop, he was also employed on the dice tables in JOHNNY WILLIAMS' crap game.

A description obtained of THEODORE FUCILLO at that time was as follows:

Teddy Fucillo

Born	August 12, 1909
Place	Boston, Massachusetts
Height	5'6"
Weight	185 pounds
Hair	Brown
Eyes	Brown
Complexion	Ruddy
Build	Stout
Address	139 Fellis Avenue, Medford, Mass.
Marital Status	Married
Wife
Mother	MICHELENE FUCILLO, 97 Garfield Street, Chelsea, Massachusetts

Sisters

The records of the Massachusetts Board of Probation in 1950 showed that the subject was first arrested on November 14, 1921 as a juvenile and between that time and 1944 he had been arrested twice for gambling. On June 21, 1926 he was found not guilty on a gambling charge and on May 23, 1944 in Boston

BS 92-118
RJW/dld

Municipal Court he was fined $50 for receiving bets; on August 29, 1944 he was fined $300 for receiving bets; and on October 22, 1944, in Suffolk Superior Court he was fined $50 for receiving bets.

A picture of THEODORE FUCILLO taken by the Boston Police Department on May 22, 1944, Boston Police Department Number 64091 is available in the Boston file.

A review of the Boston file shows that on May 29, 1958 the Philadelphia Office advised that [redacted] alias [redacted] having been for many years a gambler principally in the Anthracite Section of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, in 1930 became the manufacturer of legitimate and crooked dice in the basement of his home at [redacted] Allentown, Pennsylvania under the trade name of [redacted]. He was said to be well acquainted with racketeers and hoodlums in the Eastern Section of that vicinity. He was described as an authority in the manufacture of dice and he has repaired, wired and sold roulette wheels and dice tables.

Investigation at Philadelphia showed that he had mailed packages believed to contain dice throughout the United States. These packages were mailed parcel post, CGD and insured. During the year preceding May 29, 1958 a total of 17 such packages were mailed to the Quaker Lane Smoke Shop, Boston, Massachusetts.

A review of the file also shows that on October 31, 1958 BS T-1 advised that there had been a re-organization made under the direction of RAYMOND PATRIARCA and JOSEPH LOMBARDO concerning the operation of the dice games in the vicinity of Boston.

It was agreed that the floating dice game which was then operated by [redacted] could operate on Sunday mornings with the agreement that a percentage of the proceeds of the games going to ANTHONY SANTANIELO (deceased) and [redacted]. They agreed that the dice and barboot game operating in Revere, Massachusetts was to continue to run and that [redacted] Mass, was to be allowed to operate a barboot game in the South End Section of Boston on Sunday mornings. ANTHONY SANTANIELO was said to have a financial interest in this game and that the dice game operating in the North End Section of Boston by [redacted] and TEDDY FUCILLO was to cease to operate in that it was in competition with the Revere game.

RJW/dld

It was agreed that THEODORE FUCILLO, who had been put out of operation in the North End Section of Boston, would be employed in the Revere, Massachusetts game and receive a small financial interest from same.

On April 13, 1959, BS T-2 advised that FRANK FERRARA, who was to go to trial in New Haven in the immediate future regarding possession of stolen bonds which had travelled from Canada to the United States and which had been stolen in bank burglaries in Canada, had requested that [redacted] a defendant be "felt out" as to how much information he had furnished to the FBI regarding FERRARA's involvement in the bond case. The informant advised that the individual travelling with FRANK FERRARA was TEDDY FUCILLO, whom he said was at that time employed in the large barboot game in Revere, Massachusetts. CONN.

BS T-1 on September 11, 1959 said that FRANK FERRARA and TEDDY FUCILLO had convinced themselves that [redacted] was not going to testify against FERRARA but they were concerned over the fact that [redacted] had assaulted [redacted]. They said that this matter would be taken up with RAYMOND PATRIARCA and [redacted] would be reprimanded.

FERRARA had told people that originally plans had been made with RAYMOND PATRIARCA to have [redacted] murdered but they were now convinced that he would not testify against FERRARA.

A review of the Boston file shows that THEODORE FUCILLO now resides at 14 Barbara Lane, Medford, Massachusetts.

The directories available to the Boston Office have been searched and the only Whiting Company is the Whiting Milk Company which has locations in Boston and Charlestown, Massachusetts. They are large wholesale and retail distributors of milk and dairy products.

Re: JOHN BUCCELLI, also known as
"FAT JOHN"

On February 23, 1960, BS T-1 advised that he first heard of JOHN BUCCELLI being around Boston in 1948 and 1950. He said that he was hanging around the South End Section of Boston and Charlestown, Massachusetts and appeared to be broke. He said later he claimed to have a part interest in a stable horse that was running at a cheap track in Canada and that he was so short of money at times that he did not have sufficient funds to pay the feed bills. He said while hanging around Boston he was engaged in several swindles such as diamond switches and past posting horses. He said around 1953 or 1954, BUCCELLI appeared to become closely associated with ANTHONY SANTANIELLO, now 6. 1-14-23 deceased, primarily in the money lending business. He said that during this time, he was engaged in some business at the 107 Prince St Hingham Ship Yard which he said was the selling of coal. The Boston, Mass informant said BUCCELLI gradually became more entrenched with ANTHONY SANTANIELLO and then became very close to RAYMOND Nicholas Diso PATRIARCA. He said that BUCCELLI was associated with NICK Mass GISO of the North End Section of Boston in a money lending business operated out of a store in Boston on North Washington Street. He said that the monies for this venture were supposedly furnished Mass by ABRAHAM SARKIS, a South End Bookmaker. It was believed that JOSEPH LOMBARDO, RAYMOND PATRIARCA and ANTHONY SANTANIELLO also had an interest in this money lending business. He said he understood that BUCCELLI had known PATRIARCA prior to 1948 but had drifted away from him. He said that he appeared to have more frequent contact with PATRIARCA and become more entrenched with him up until his arrest in 1956 on charges of possession of some of the Brink's money. He said that it was obvious that BUCCELLI was becoming an important figure in the Italian group in Boston's operations. He was said to have been given a piece of the barboot game operating in Revere, Massachusetts. He was also interested in a still and the selling of untaxed alcohol operated by FRANK CUCCHIARA also Mass had an interest in the alcohol business. He said that at one time, BUCCELLI was interested in selling narcotics and was associated in this business in Boston with Mass. He said that BUCCELLI was arrested and convicted in New York City on narcotics charges and at the time of his being arrested in the Brink's case was awaiting a review of his conviction by an appellate court. He said for a few years prior to 1956, BUCCELLI spent considerable time in the South End Section of Boston, where he associated with EDWARD BENNETT with whom he Mass was convicted with possession of some of the Brink's money. He said that BENNETT was known as a bookmaker and money lender during this period. He said that he never heard of a Kenmore Realty Office on Tremont Street, Boston, Massachusetts that was operated by BUCCELLI. He added that the companies at 617 Tremont Street were nothing more than fronts for the illegal operations of BUCCELLI and his group. One was the B & P Construction Company, and this company was the front for EDWARD BENNETT and [redacted] Mass He said that the companies which BUCCELLI had as a front were the Allied Investment, Inc., Aqua Transport Company and the Ward Construction Company. It will be noted that when JOHN BUCCELLI was interviewed by Agents on June 4, 1956 at 617 Tremont Street, he advised that he was an employee of the above companies. He said that the Allied Investment Company was attempting to finance a self-service laundry and that the Aqua Transport Company was a service which arranged for gypsy truck drivers to obtain loads going out of Boston, particularly in the fish pier area.

Informant advised that he was acquainted with WALTER BENNETT and that in his opinion it was ridiculous to feel that RAYMOND PATRIARCA or any of the Boston Italian group would place WALTER BENNETT in charge of their operations in this city. He also said that there was no such club on Tremont Street in Boston, Massachusetts known as the Pickwick Club. He said that from his observations of the operations of the Italian group in Boston as far back as he can recall, the two principal Mass racketeers in Boston for PATRIARCA were JOHN WILLIAMS and ANTHONY SANTANIELLO. He said that FRANK FERRARA has been used as a runner between PATRIARCA and SANTANIELLO. He said that SANTANIELLO had used [redacted] for much of his strong arm activities; that upon SANTANIELLO's death in the fall of 1960, it was considered that [redacted] might become PATRIARCA's representative in this district but he feels that the group felt [redacted] was too impetuous and lacked the characteristics needed.

The informant advised that he is of the opinion that while BUCCELLI was incarcerated at Deer Island following his arrest in 1956, monies were furnished to BUCCELLI's wife and to his girlfriend, [redacted] He said that he knew nothing about the handling of this money but it figures that if FRANK FERRARA were on the street at the time he would perhaps be the individual who would obtain the money possibly from PATRIARCA, which was given to BUCCELLI's wife and girlfriend. He said this latter is strictly conjecture on his part. He said that [redacted] while BUCCELLI was confined at Deer Island, was employed by ANTHONY SANTANIELLO as [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts; that at some time during the incarceration, SANTANIELLO sold this bar to an individual from New York named [redacted] He said that [redacted] kept company with [redacted] while BUCCELLI was in jail.

The informant said that he recalled talk about the Millbridge Mining Company in Maine, which was organized ostensibly for the sale of Fuller's Earth, but he always felt that this was a swindle and that the perpetrator of this deal was [redacted] a friend of BUCCELLI. He said that he did not know how much money BUCCELLI had actually invested in this company himself but that in his opinion it was an actual fraud and he recalls that at one time, RAYMOND PATRIARCA was very much peeved over the actions of [redacted] He said that at no time had [redacted] or EDWARD BENNETT worked for RAYMOND PATRIARCA or the North End Italian Group; that they had been for years engaged as bookmakers in the South End Section of Boston on a small scale and that for years they had turned their number plays into ABRAHAM SARKIS' Office.

He said that he recalled that at the time of BUCCELLI's murder he owned a Chrysler Imperial which was registered in the name of [redacted]

He said that BUCCELLI had very little money invested in this car and it was his memory that after his murder the car was repossessed by [redacted] a money lender and insurance broker on Milk Street in Boston, Massachusetts. He said that at the time of JOHN BUCCELLI's murder, the rumors around Boston were that his death was brought about by the Italian group who had become angry at him. He said the stories around at that time were that some of the money for his funeral was paid for by the Italian group and that the person handling the money may have been FRANK FERRARA. He said that he knew of no interests that JOHN BUCCELLI had in Las Vegas but he had heard that RAYMOND PATRIARCA did have some kind of a venture, the description of which he did not know. He said that from the years that he knew JOHN BUCCELLI, he would not consider him to be very close to his family and thought he would tell his son and stepson very little concerning his business. He said that he had known a [redacted] who lived in the Dorchester Section of Boston and said that he never knew [redacted] to be close with BUCCELLI until BUCCELLI went to jail in 1956 and that upon BUCCELLI's return from jail, [redacted] became sort of a "leech" in that he was always running to BUCCELLI attempting to borrow money. He said that BUCCELLI didn't trust [redacted] but had used him to carry messages from the jail to [redacted]. He doubted very much if [redacted] has much knowledge of BUCCELLI's activities while he lived or has any knowledge concerning the activities of RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

The records of the Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles, 100 Nashua Street, Boston, Massachusetts were checked on February 20, 1962 and they showed no indication that [redacted] has a Massachusetts license or has a motor vehicle registration in her name.

[redacted] of the Bradford Hotel, Boston, Massachusetts on February 12, 1962 advised that he had been very friendly with [redacted] and had also known [redacted] who had been the girlfriend of [redacted] during 1956 and possibly 1957. He said that [redacted] had purchased the [redacted] from ANTHONY SANTANIELLO and that at the time he purchased it, [redacted] was employed there [redacted]. He said that [redacted] kept company with [redacted] while her former boyfriend JOHN BUCCELLI was in jail, according to rumors that he heard. He said that he hadn't seen [redacted] for a long time and he felt that he may have returned to New York after having resold the [redacted] to ANTHONY SANTANIELLO. He said that the last he knew of [redacted] which was a long time ago was that she was, he believed, employed [redacted] at the [redacted] in Stuart Street, Boston, Massachusetts.

A review of the Boston file shows that in 1956 [redacted] was living in apartment [redacted] Cambridge, Massachusetts, and at that time she was employed by JOHN BUCCELLI as a [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts. She stated that her maiden name was [redacted] and that she originally came from Colombia, South Carolina. She had separated from her husband, [redacted] Cambridge, Massachusetts. She said she met BUCCELLI in March of 1956 and obtained a job from him at that time.

The file shows that after considerable investigation in an effort to interview [redacted] she came to the Boston Office on July 9, 1956 accompanied by her attorney JOSEPH SCOLPONETTI, now deceased, and refused to be interviewed.

A review of the Boston files shows that on April 14, 1956, BS T-3 advised that the North End Italian group through NICK GISO was operating a money lending business out of a store location at 153 Washington Street, North in Boston, Massachusetts. He advised that this was supposed to be an operation of the LOMBARDO group and that the interests of RAYMOND PATRIARCA of Rhode Island was being watched by JOHN BUCCELLI.

On October 23, 1956 he advised that JOHN WILLIAMS, ANTHONY SANTANIELLO, NICK GISO, [redacted] and MICHAEL ~~ROCCO~~ Mass were all active in the numbers and money lending business and that in addition to this NICK GISO was accompanied by JOHN WILLIAMS to various barrooms and restaurants in Boston in an effort to obtain locations for juke box machines owned by JOHN WILLIAMS.

On January 28, 1959 BS T-4 advised that NICHOLAS GISO was representing JOSEPH LOMBARDO in the operation of a money lending business at Marie's Lunch Room on Washington Street, North, Boston, Massachusetts. Informant heard that GISO had told people that much of the money used in this business was furnished by ABRAHAM SARKIS and that SARKIS also had an interest in this business.

Records of the Bureau of Criminal Identification of the Boston Police Department on February 10, 1958, show that NICHOLAS GISO, alias NICK, residence 107 Prince Street, Boston, Massachusetts, was born January 14, 1923, the son of LEO GISO and JENNIE DEL VECCHIA. GISO's occupation was listed as a peddler. He was first arrested in Boston in 1946 on a charge of larceny from a person and was given a three month suspended sentence. He was arrested on January 18, 1950 and January 22, 1950 for suspicion of robbery and on both occasions released. A photograph of NICHOLAS GISO is available in the Boston Office, showing Boston Police Department Number 80443. At the present time GISO resides at 107 Washington Street North. He spends considerable time in the vicinity of Giro's Restaurant located at the corner of Hanover and Commercial Streets at Boston, Massachusetts. This restaurant is owned by JOSEPH [redacted] LOMBARDO together with [redacted]. He is seen in the company of [redacted] almost daily on Hanover Street and it is said he is engaged in money lending with [redacted] on Commercial Street at the end of Hanover Street. GISO is also part owner of the Coliseum Restaurant on Hanover Street. GISO's partner in this business is [redacted] alias [redacted]. This restaurant is open only at night, closing at about four in the morning. For a number of years liquor has been sold there after hours and has received much attention from [redacted] since he was put in charge of the district including the Coliseum Restaurant.

On February 20, 1962 SA [redacted] attempted to arrange to interview NICK GISO and he met him at the corner of Hanover and Prince Streets, Boston, Massachusetts. GISO was not desirous of being interviewed and said he knew of RAYMOND PATRIARCA. He said he had been a friend of JOHN BUCCELLI and was also acquainted with [redacted] who had kept company with BUCCELLI prior to his going to jail in 1956; that he hadn't seen her for a long time but he had heard that she had become a common drunk and bum. He did not know whether or not she was now located in Boston. He said that he knew of no monies that had ever been furnished to JOHN BUCCELLI's wife and girlfriend either for their support or to assist [redacted] with the payment of funeral expenses. He said that he himself definitely had never given any monies to [redacted].

A review of the Boston files show that on May 9, 1958, BS T-5 advised that TONY SANTANIELLO was saying that JOHN BUCCELLI was to be released from Deer Island on May 19, 1958 and that when BUCCELLI did hit the street he was not going to return to Boston but was going to go South with his girlfriend.

RJW/dld

He said that his girlfriend, [redacted] came from either South or North Carolina and that SANTANIELLO believed BUCCELLI would go to the South with her awaiting his new trial on narcotics charges in New York City.

On May 23, 1958, BS T-5 advised that he had heard that PATRIARCA was telling his associates not to have anything to do with JOHN BUCCELLI; that BUCCELLI was "too hot" and that he would just get his associates into further difficulties. PATRIARCA indicated that it was his intention and that of his associates to "exile" BUCCELLI. PATRIARCA also advised everyone not to lend any money to BUCCELLI. PATRIARCA indicated that BUCCELLI had been too demanding of PATRIARCA and others while incarcerated in Deer Island. He indicated that the individuals to whom BUCCELLI looked to for assistance while incarcerated in addition to PATRIARCA were FRANK FERRARA and ANTHONY SANTANIELLO.

On July 29, 1958, BS T-5 advised that since the murder of JOHN BUCCELLI on June 19, 1958 his associates had done considerable talking and it was the informant's opinion from this talk that JOHN BUCCELLI had become a nuisance to PATRIARCA and his associates. The informant said that while BUCCELLI was at Deer Island he had sent for an associate of ANTHONY SANTANIELLO and borrowed $3,000 which he said was for his mother. When SANTANIELLO heard this he was very much upset at BUCCELLI; that BUCCELLI after leaving jail borrowed considerable money from various individuals; that while BUCCELLI was in jail, [redacted] the [redacted] had been running around with BUCCELLI's girlfriend, [redacted] and that when BUCCELLI came out of jail he also went to [redacted] looking for money. He said that BUCCELLI, from what he understands was having difficulty with [redacted] and that prior to his murder they had broke up and that BUCCELLI had made a couple of scenes with [redacted] at [redacted] where she was employed [redacted] He understands that [redacted] also felt that BUCCELLI was treacherous. The thing that also irked this group was the fact that as soon as he got out of jail he was trying to get back his interest in the money lending business and that he was also trying to get back his interest in the gambling operations that he formerly had prior to going to jail. He said that PATRIARCA and his group intended to have BUCCELLI leave town but that BUCCELLI opposed and they had him murdered.

Informant has learned that just prior to the murder, BUCCELLI was at [redacted] and that at closing time, BUCCELLI, [redacted] left the [redacted] to to to the [redacted]. He said that he believed that the actual trigger man was [redacted] and that BUCCELLI was shot near [redacted] and taken to where his body was found in the South End Section of Boston.

b6

He advised that he also heard that although BUCCELLI's friends did not attend the funeral after much urging from BUCCELLI's wife FRANK FERRARA obtained a sum of money which was paid toward the funeral expenses.

A spot check was made in the vicinity of 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, hangout of RAYMOND PATRIARCA, by SA [redacted] and at about 1:30 p.m. the following cars were noted in this general area:

Massachusetts registration L72-300 parked on Federal Street across from the side of St. Margaret's Home

Rhode Island registration FT-373 parked on Dean Street between Atwells Avenue and Solar Street

Rhode Island registration K-570 parked on Dean Street between Atwells Avenue and Solar Street

Rhode Island registration LV-25 parked in gas station next to 168 Atwells Avenue

Rhode Island Registration K-42 parked on Atwells Avenue, passing Dean Street and heading towards Harris Avenue

Rhode Island registration SG-505 parked on Atwells Avenue across the street from 168 Atwells Avenue

A check of the Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles, Boston, Massachusetts, on March 27, 1962, revealed that Massachusetts Registration L72-300 is listed to GENNARO J. ANGIULO, 95 Prince Street, Boston, Massachusetts for a 1961 Cadillac 4 door Sedan.

On March 28, 1962, [redacted] Registration Section, Rhode Island Registry of Motor Vehicles, State Office Building, Providence, Rhode Island, advised her records contained the following data for the following registration numbers: KG-42 issued to [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, for a 1961 Dodge 4 door white; K-570, issued to [redacted] Warwick, Rhode Island, for a 1961 Buick, white and blue; FT-373, issued to DENNIS RAIMONDI, 133 Ridge Street, Providence, Rhode Island, for a 1961 Mercury black, four door; LV-25, issued to [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island for a 1957 Pontiac, gray, Convertible; SG-505 issued to [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island for a 1953 Cadillac, green, 4 door.

It is to be noted that KG-42 is driven by [redacted] who is supposedly [redacted] for Sherwood Manufacturing Company, 75 Eagle Street, Providence, Rhode Island, of which PATRIARCA has admitted having a financial interest in.

It is noted that FT-373 is for DENNIS RAIMONDI, also known as DANNY LYTWYN who is a well known hoodlum in this area, and who is a friend of PATRIARCA's. RAIMONDI was previously interviewed in regard to PATRIARCA, refused to answer any questions, and stated he would give his right arm for PATRIARCA.

It is also noted that [redacted] is a local small time hoodlum that frequents the hangout of PATRIARCA.

On April 4, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that the Coin-O-Matic Company, Providence, R. I., had placed an order with [redacted] b7D [redacted] for an entirely new telephone system at the establishment. They requested a key type system which would mean that all the old telephones would be removed, some present lines would be discontinued and additional lines would be installed.

The informant advised that he would not be available on April 5th and 6th, 1962. On April 7, 1962, informant advised that an unidentified man complained to RAYMOND PATRIARCA to the effect that three young fellows were bothering him by throwing bricks and other objects through his windows, at various hours of the day and night. The unidentified man said he saw these three individuals attempting to loot cars in the vicinity of his home and that he had no intentions of squealing on them. PATRIARCA told this man he would "get ahold of these kids and straighten the matter out." Am

Re Boston airtel 4/12/62 reflecting conversation of PATRIARCA and JERRY ANGUILO relative to a spike mike and an FBI man.

BS 837-C* has been recontacted and the following information developed that serves to clarify ANGUILO's conversation with PATRIARCA on April 9, 1962.

It appears that about three days prior thereto [redacted] contacted JERRY ANGUILO [redacted] probably at [redacted] the ANGUILOS on Tremont Street in Boston. [redacted] indicated to ANGUILO that he desired to talk to him but requested that [redacted]

Thereafter, ANGUILO appears to be reporting to PATRIARCA relative to his, ANGUILO's, efforts to determine if there are any technical installations. He advises PATRIARCA that someone checked and reported back to him that "there ain't a joint that's been spike miked". ANGUILO apparently presented to this individual the situation of "being across the street, looking down, through glass, a partition, and glass" -- is it possible to pick up a conversation and the individual indicated he thought he knew all the latest equipment and "unless these guys have become space men" it is not possible. (ANGUILO apparently was referring to the IRS plant across the street from Subject's place of business when he presented this hypothesis to the individual allegedly knowledgeable in technical equipment.)

The conversation between PATRIARCA and ANGUILO then involves the conjecture that a telephone call by [] after he had been down to see PATRIARCA may have been "intercepted".

In personally reviewing this matter and discussing the same in detail with SA [] who developed and handled [] for the past [] years, I conclude that [] is endeavoring to ingratiate himself with the ANGUILLOS and passing along to the latter for relay to PATRIARCA his suspicions relative to technical equipment being used.

SA [] has advised me that his most recent contact with [] was on April 3, 1962, and the primary reason therefor was for information on the Essex County Trust Company, West Lynn, Massachusetts, bank robbery of March 30, 1962. It would appear that, inasmuch as ANGUILLO freely talked to PATRIARCA subsequent to [] contact with him and because of the fact that BS 837-C* is continuing to be productively effective, ANGUILLO and PATRIARCA have little or no confidence in [] suspicions.

 FROM: SAC, Boston (92-118)
 AR

Re: Boston airtel, April 10, 1962.

On April 9, 1962, BS 837 C* advised that on that date an individual was in contact with subject PATRIARCA and a discussion ensued relative to $5,000. that PATRIARCA had tied up in a transaction. PATRIARCA indicated that he thought the transaction was kind of shaky and that he did not like to put up his money for someone else to gamble on the making of a profit. He pointed out to this individual that it was all right as long as the individual understood this. The informant was unable to furnish any clarifying data.

On the same date, an individual, who is probably JERRY ANGUILO, had a lengthy conversation with PATRIARCA. In the course thereof, there was a discussion relative to a device that could be used for the overhearing of conversations and reference was made to the individual who had, in the past, occupied the premises across the street from PATRIARCA's place of business. The Bureau will recall that this was an undercover operative of IRS whose presence was detected by PATRIARCA within 24 hours of his moving into the apartment.

The discussion involved the possibility of such an individual having equipment that could go through glass and a building and pick up a conversation. Mention was made of a spike mike, and there was some indication that ANGUILO had been in contact with an individual who has known an FBI man for the past nine years. It is pointed out that this particular point is being explored by this office to develop the identity of ANGUILO's source and the possibility that such source is acquainted with FBI personnel.

ANGUILO indicated to PATRIARCA that one of the men having a name in the Boston, Mass. area was asking for more money.

PATRIARCA indicated that he should not be given more than 25 per cent, but he and ANGUILO then agreed that they could pay this individual 33 1/3 per cent. If the individual does not like it, then he can be sent down to see PATRIARCA. In this conversation, PATRIARCA pointed out that "you can control these guys by getting hold of their money."

ANGUILO discussed with PATRIARCA an individual, who is probably identical with [redacted] who was recently subpoenaed in connection with the race wire case at Wilmington, Delaware. PATRIARCA indicated that [redacted] was no longer with JOHN WILLIAMS and approved ANGUILO talking to [redacted] and determining from the latter what [redacted] had in mind. PATRIARCA gave ANGUILO the background of [redacted] and his connections in the past, and ANGUILO is to get hold of WILLIAMS and determine what should be done about [redacted]

There is discussion relative to the new Police Commissioner in Boston. As the Bureau knows, this is former SA EDMUND L. MC NAMARA, and PATRIARCA and ANGUILO indicate that they have not been able to "read the writing as yet." ANGUILO indicated that SA MC NAMARA used a barber who works for ANGUILO and the conversation indicated that they are mystified as to the politicians in Boston allowing an FBI Agent to become Police Commissioner.

On April 10, 1962, BS 837 C* advised that on that date PATRIARCA was believed to be engaged in the counting of money and probably aided therein [redacted] in the Coin-O-Matic operations. PATRIARCA had a conversation with an individual relative to 200 suits, 150 sport jackets, and 200 pairs of slacks. It would appear that this conversation involved the purchase of these items that are apparently stolen.

PATRIARCA had conversation with an individual in which PATRIARCA cautioned the individual about getting in trouble if he "is caught with the stuff." PATRIARCA pointed out to this individual that he would get into trouble if he showed where he obtained the money to buy the stock, and the conversation involved this individual probably mortgaging his home. The informant indicated he was unable to furnish any clarifying data relative to this conversation.

On the same date, further conversation was held relative to race track interests and an individual in contact with PATRIARCA reported that he had told [redacted] not to run against [redacted]. It is pointed out that [redacted] is a prominent race track operator in Rhode Island and [redacted] is a prominent Bostonian who is active in the liquor industry and other businesses.

On April 11, 1962, an individual was in contact with PATRIARCA and a conversation ensued wherein reference was made to a phony charge of conspiracy on an individual. PATRIARCA indicated that the lawyer handling the case was not doing anything for the money paid to him. It would appear that the discussion concerned a local arrest.

On the same date, an individual was in touch with PATRIARCA and indicated that he had obtained a job through Governor ~~NOTTE~~ - the latter is Governor of Rhode Island. This individual in talking to PATRIARCA was interested in the location of cigarette machines and purchasing a used one.

PATRIARCA was contacted by an individual who advised him that the FBI was desirous of seeing him at 1:00 P.M. The individual advised PATRIARCA that in the event he is asked about PATRIARCA, he would advise that while he has seen PATRIARCA and knows him, he knows nothing concerning him. The individual did not know why the FBI was desirous of seeing him. For the Bureau's information, on that particular day Agents were conducting interviews in connection with a Federal Reserve Act case involving phony loans from the Plantations National Bank, Providence, R. I. Some of the individuals involved in this case are known to be associated with PATRIARCA.

On April 11, 1962, PATRIARCA was contacted by an individual who told the subject that he had spent $500. to have the telephone company put in a special telephone cable to assure that his telephone cannot be tapped. The informant was unable at this time to furnish any clarifying data on this operation.

Reference is made to Boston airtel of March 30, 1962, transmitting letterhead memorandum in reference to the activities of [redacted] IRS Agent, in the investigation of the Sherwood Manufacturing Company in which PATRIARCA has an interest.

On April 9, 1962, [redacted] IRS, Providence, R. I., made available the IRS file on the Sherwood Manufacturing Company. Such file contained the investigative results of SA [redacted] and it is noted that [redacted] substantially pursued the action the informant previously reported he would follow. In this respect, [redacted] recommended that the case be closed on a civil basis and pointed out that [redacted] lacked knowledge of [redacted] and her excessive errors indicated incompetency.

It is noted that [] was the bookkeeper and accordingly, [] pointed out that her action would be a factor in her behalf against any charge of willfulness.

with the people, and [] was there. There was reference made to a [] However the informant was unable to hear all of the conversation. Apparently this individual, believed to be [] was well thought of by both PATRIARCA and the unidentified man. However, according to the unidentified man, BUTSY did not think too much of him. PATRIARCA explained that BUTSY borrowed $10,000 from this individual and did not pay it back and further, that this individual "went to the front" for him when he went to [] The unidentified man said that the guy would do nothing but good for you, and mentioned how much [] thinks "the world of him." The unidentified man said he has to meet with those people tonight, with the [] and the next guy he wanted to see was DOC, in relation to this deal.

Another unknown man named [] borrowed $2,000 from PATRIARCA, to be repaid at rate of $20.00 per week.

Another unknown man who bought some property in the name of Club 77, Inc., discussed his financial problems with PATRIARCA. It appeared that this individual, in paying off his debts, gave a $2,000 check which "bounced." He told PATRIARCA that he did not expect to pay the remaining $2,500, as the individuals to whom he owed it had promised to have the restaurant ready by June 15. However it was not ready until August 28 and he lost a considerable amount of money because of this delay. The restaurant has apparently folded and he is making an effort to sell it. It appears that the original owner is taking the club back.

On April 14, 1962, BS 837-C* advised an unknown man, probably one of the members of the firm of D & H Wrecking Co., in which PATRIARCA allegedly has an interest, advised that they were contacted by government officials, probably IRS. They were checking records on the "city job" and there was talk of $95,000 being tied up on a particular weekend, i.e., January 8, 1957. Just prior to that date they had $35,000 in the checkbook and an additional $60,000 was placed in the bank just prior to the time they put up the bond. When the bond was issued they removed $35,000 of this money and apparently gave PATRIARCA back $20,000 which he had loaned, and $15,000 which the unknown man had put in. According to this unknown man they told the officials they had a transaction with an individual named VARGA (ph.) who is now deceased, and that VARGA had told them he wanted some steel buildings put up. He had furnished the contractor $35,000 for the steel buildings and when the above bond came up, they approached him for another $35,000 which he, VARGA, gave them. When questioned as to why they took the $35,000 out in two different checks they said that they were of the opinion they might need the $15,000 so they only returned the $20,000 to VARGA at the outset and later gave him the additional $15,000. The unknown man complained about federal agents and said "KENNEDY bothers everybody, even the Chief of Police" (recently indicted for income tax evasion in Rhode Island).

On April 16, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that BUTSY MORELLI, former prominent hoodlum in Rhode Island, presently suffering from cancer of the throat, attempted to borrow $5,000 from PATRIARCA. PATRIARCA said he paid his income tax of $15,000 and could not loan him the $5,000. He gave BUTSY $300 and told him not to crowd him.

BS 837-C* a conversation took place about a game, probably a crap game but it was not further described. BS 837-C* was unable to furnish further information re this conversation except that PATRIARCA thought the fellow running it "is some kind of a nut."

BS 837-C* said PATRIARCA had a conversation with an unidentified man and referred to the New York papers of April 15, 1962. The conversation was believed to refer to ANTHONY STROLLO. Informant was unable to hear the conversation too clearly, however, mention was made of a man "who killed COSTELLO" and PATRIARCA mentioned "reading between the lines" as though there was more than appeared in the article. In a further discussion of the same matter the unidentified man mentioned someone going to be indicted "for junk." PATRIARCA'S response to this remark was not completely heard but part of it was "they're afraid if he's on the loose".

On April 12 and 13, 1962 a conference was held by United States Attorney [redacted] at Providence, Rhode Island. [redacted] IRS, and SA [redacted] attended. No additional information obtained relative to PATRIARCA. Copies furnished to New York because of the above information furnished on ANTHONY STROLLO.

Re: Boston airtel, April 12, 1962.

On April 12, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that on that date PATRIARCA told [] (lru) the transcript was given to HENRY (probably TAMELEO). This is believed to be the transcript of the Grand Jury proceedings of the NAZARIAN murder trial in Providence, R. I.

PATRIARCA stated that IRS (Internal Revenue Service) is checking on SAUL (probably FRIEDMAN) in an attempt to connect PATRIARCA with SAUL'S financial dealings. PATRIARCA also stated that the FBI sent for [] the day previous, relative to bank loans. As set out in referenced airtel, this is in connection with interviews being conducted by Agents in connection with the Federal Reserve Act case involving phony loans from the Plantations National Bank, Providence, Rhode Island.

On April 13, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that [] (lru) gave PATRIARCA "his payoff" which was apparently from a money lending operation in Boston. [] was accompanied by [] who apparently is the collector of some of these loans. [] told PATRIARCA that [] a close associate of PATRIARCA, and who is in a Massachusetts prison, is coming up for parole on May 2 next and arrangements have been made that positively he will make parole. [] was going to see [] (lru) in relation to this. [] also speaks of an individual who apparently owes a considerable amount of money and who has a cottage for sale. The cottage has a $10,000 mortgage on it, $5,000 of which is held by [] probably [] of Worcester, Mass. This unknown man owes so much that everyone is trying to get money from him before he goes away.

On April 13, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that an unidentified man said that Boston is in an uproar and that things are really hot there because of EDMUND L. McNAMARA who was recently appointed Police Commissioner. This individual also mentions that he had a meet

Re: Boston airtel, April 17, 1962.

On April 17, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that PATRIARCA did not appear at his place of business, Coin-O-Matic, Providence, R. I. on that date. However he did call and speak with [redacted] [redacted] advised PATRIARCA that he had given an unknown man $300.00 but he is looking for an additional $700.00 to pay an attorney's fee. He makes arrangements to see PATRIARCA the following day.

[redacted] also spoke with an unknown individual and referred to a newspaper article reflecting that PATRIARCA'S name was mentioned as a "go-between" in the purchase of narcotics, by an undercover government agent. [redacted] and unknown man spoke of the FBI having the biggest walkie-talkie, that they can "get a line on you twenty miles away and they can listen to what you are saying; they also can take pictures five miles away."

[redacted] and two other unknown men talked about NAZARIAN, who was recently murdered. They said he was a good kid at one time but got what he was looking for, because he used to "bust people's backs" demanding money, free food, etc., from merchants.

On April 18, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA was in conversation with several individuals, all unknown, at various times during the day. Each individual discussed the article in the paper with him, concerning his name being mentioned in the narcotics trial in Boston. PATRIARCA said he knew nothing about the agreement, as stated by the Federal agent, whom he always referred to as the FBI, nor did he know any of the individuals being prosecuted. PATRIARCA indicated that because the FBI doesn't come and see him directly, about this case, they apparently have nothing on him and he thinks they are trying to "railroad" him. It should be noted that in this trial presently in progress in federal court, Boston, Massachusetts, under cover Narcotics Agent [redacted] attempted to buy a considerable amount of heroin from a group of local individuals and when asked for money totaling $45,000 for the payment, he refused to bring the money with him. It was allegedly suggested that PATRIARCA act as an intermediary in the turning over of this money. However, this plan was never consummated. PATRIARCA was to be told that it concerned a payment for cigarettes, not dope. According to statements made by PATRIARCA, he has never been involved in narcotics; he expressed loathing for this type of activity and indicated any individual so engaged was a "very low type."

On the same date PATRIARCA and another unidentified individual talked about [redacted] receiving another subpoena for the federal court at Wilmington, Delaware, concerning the Delaware Sports Service. There was indication that [redacted] might talk, and they said that he took the 5th Amendment when he testified there previously and there was no reason why he shouldn't do the same again. The unknown individual apparently is going to make arrangements for someone to talk to [redacted] concerning this testimony. During this discussion the unknown man stated that they are going to have a Grand Jury in Boston, Massachusetts, probably a federal Grand Jury. They have a list of part of the names of the potential grand jurors and PATRIARCA asked whether there was anyone from Springfield on the list. The other individual told him he did not know, but could find out.

PATRIARCA discussed with [redacted] a piece of property she had in Johnston, R. I., and apparently had sold four years ago to a family, taking back a $20,000 mortgage. She contemplated foreclosing on this family but they persuaded her to wait until October during which time they would make a substantial payment on the amount owed.

PATRIARCA also discussed with an unknown man, an individual named [redacted] (ph.), a buyer for the State of Rhode Island. They are attempting to influence her so that when she opens up a particular contract she will add "less 2%" on their bid, as they want to get [redacted] (ph), another contractor, out, so there won't be any trouble. In reference to the Federal Grand Jury at Boston mentioned heretofor, it is noted that no such Grand Jury is contemplated nor is there a list of Grand Juries as such. The jurors are drawn in open court from three hundred names and this will probably occur in June for the Grand Jury that will replace the present one which commenced March 16.

It is noted that inquiry to date has not definitely identified BROWN as a registrant at the Colony Motel, and the fact that BROWN was scheduled to contact PATRIARCA in Providence has previously been brought to the attention of the New York Office.

On 3/27/62, BS 837-C* advised that GERRY ANGIULO had reported to RAYMOND PATRIARCA that he, ANGIULO, was apparently taking into a business that he had established an individual who previously had been connected with RCA in New York. In the course of this report, ANGIULO mentioned a [redacted] and indicated that [redacted] had arranged for the man going into business with ANGIULO to be in telephonic contact with TONY BENDER. This man may be named [redacted] and apparently his wife's name is [redacted] and is related to [redacted] [redacted] being the race track [redacted] at Rockingham, N.H.

ANGIULO in his report indicates the possibility that [redacted] may be in the money lending business and loaned a [redacted] $50,000. to go into business. Also, he mentioned in the conversation an individual named [redacted] (PH), and it is noted that ANGIULO indicates income from the Arthur Hammell & Co., New York City, with the income arising from the selling of radio and TV time.

The New York Office is investigating this particular fact in connection with the substantive Anti-Racketeering case on ANGIULO. It would appear in ANGIULO's report to PATRIARCA, that PATRIARCA is associated with ANGIULO in a business, probably in the radio - TV field, which is suffering from competition from an individual named [redacted] and an individual connected herewith named [redacted]

ANGIULO indicated that [redacted] in his telephonic contact with TONY BENDER, as arranged through [redacted], received BENDER's approval to become associated with ANGIULO.

The above information is being furnished for New York inquiry in the STROLLO matter.

Re BS airtel 4-19-62.

On 4-19-62, BS 837-C* advised that PATRIARCA informed an unknown man that he had money invested in the D & H, apparently referring to the D & H Wrecking Company, and in order for him to get it back, the company had to show a capital gain. The figure of $43,000 was mentioned in connection with this. However the informant was not able to ascertain the details.

On 4-20-62 the informant advised that PATRIARCA had a conversation with TEDDY, who advised that he is selling furniture to the Hotel Touraine, Boston, Mass., for the sum of $3,100. This individual has a franchise for a particular type of furniture, in Maine and Massachusetts.

On the same date, PATRIARCA discussed with an unknown man, the Grand Jury proceedings in the NAZARIAN murder, at Providence, R. I. They were of the opinion that the State did not have sufficient facts to warrant an indictment, however, they believed something changed in the Grand Jury which resulted in the indicting of SCIARA.

On 4-20-62 the informant advised that PATRIARCA had a discussion with an unknown man concerning the race track, probably the Hancock Race Track in western Massachusetts. The unknown man advised that Judge BARRY came down from Pittsfield to see him the day previous, and that they have [redacted] tied up to such an extent that Monday the Judge is going to take the restraining order off relative to the Hancock Race Track and thus they will be able to transfer the stock of the track. Apparently, the boy is interested in enrolling at Boston College, Boston University, both Boston, Massachusetts, or Dartmouth University, Hanover, New Hampshire.

From the discussion, it would appear that these three schools have already rejected the son. One of the unknown men told PATRIARCA that they would intercede for the boy with [redacted] Rockingham Park, a race track located at Rockingham, New Hampshire, and/or [redacted] a well-known reputable contractor and [redacted] the Milwaukee Braves Baseball Team. According to PATRIARCA's friends [redacted] have both made substantial contributions to the [redacted]. The unknown males indicated that either or both of these men would intercede with [redacted] and endeavor to have him set in touch with the [redacted] of Boston College, Boston. PATRIARCA's friends felt certain that this would insure the boy's getting into BC.

According to the same Informant, later on the same day, PATRIARCA, while discussing this matter with his wife, said, "We are going to get the boy into BC through [redacted] and that she should not worry about this matter any more."

It is a fact that [redacted] has done a great deal of charitable work and has raised large sums of money for [redacted] charitable ventures.

[redacted] is an extremely wealthy individual and a close personal friend of the [redacted] and has made large sums of money available to the [redacted] for his various charities.

I., awarded bid by Providence Redevelopment Agency, Providence, R. I., which information is set out. Spot checks of subject's hangout set out. Informants furnish information concerning subject's participation in legal and illegal activities and identify individuals associated with him therein. Newspaper articles at Providence, R. I., and Boston, Mass., state RAYMOND PATRIARCA linked to Hub Dope Case at Federal trial being held at Boston. Interview of Federal Narcotics Agent, who testified at this trial, set out. IN VIEW OF PATRIARCA'S PAST INVOLVEMENT IN CRIMES OF VIOLENCE, HE SHOULD BE CONSIDERED ARMED AND DANGEROUS.

DETAILS:BACKGROUND

On March 31 and April 11, 1962, BS T-1 advised that RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA continues to reside at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island, with his wife and son and that he continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, where he continues to have an interest in the National Cigarette Service [redacted] Informant stated PATRIARCA spends all of his time at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island.

BS T-1 stated that he has heard, through sources other than PATRIARCA, that plans are being formulated to operate a "crap game" and other gambling activities in the Revere, Massachusetts, area; however, informant did not have any additional details at this time as to where the operation will be located.

Informant also said that rumors are circulating, among the younger hoodlum element that they are getting somewhat tired of RAYMOND PATRIARCA and they are getting tired of PATRIARCA's interference in their illegal enterprises as the younger element have to kick in to PATRIARCA when they make a score or that they have their score "O.K.'d" by PATRIARCA before they go on it.

Informant stated that it would not surprise him, from the conversations heard, that someone will attempt to kill PATRIARCA, but there is no exact information on this nor has anyone developed any type of a plan or date for such an undertaking.

Informant stated that the younger hoodlum element dislike PATRIARCA because PATRIARCA will not let them do too much and the only persons he allows to make any money are AMERICO BUCCI, JOSEPH PATRIARCA, brother of RAYMOND PATRIARCA, LOUIS TAGLIANETTI, also known as LONIE the FOX and [redacted] all of whom are close to PATRIARCA.

Informant stated that PATRIARCA is becoming quite concerned over the "heat" being exerted on him and his group by the FBI and that he is quite nervous over this fact and for that reason is cutting a great many people out of his group because he does not know who he can trust.

Informant stated that at the present time he has heard that PATRIARCA has an interest in a "crap game" being operated somewhere in North Providence, Rhode Island, that the "crap game" has the approval of the Governor of the State of Rhode Island, JOHN NOTTE, along with Chief of Police JACK DE STAFNO of the North Providence Police. Lieutenant PETER O'CONNELL of the Rhode Island State Police is also aware of this game and none of the police mentioned will take any action against this game. Informant said that Colonel HARRIE GILL of the Rhode Island State Police is the appointment of Governor NOTTE, that GILL may be also aware of this crap game but is taking a passive action towards any gambling because of the approval by Governor NOTTE.

Informant stated that this crap game is being operated by AMERICO BUCCI of Providence, Rhode Island; that the game has not been in operation for any length of time.

Informant stated he does not have any idea where the game is being held, but heard that it was a floating game, being held at different places, the name of the place not being known until the day of the game.

Informant stated that previous to the opening of this game at North Providence, one WILLIE MARFEO, a local hoodlum, was operating a crap game in Providence, Rhode Island, on Vinton Street, Providence, Rhode Island, where JOHN "JACKIE" NAZARIAN had been murdered; that MARFEO was getting a good play from this game, but when PATRIARCA opened the North Providence game, WILLIE MARFEO was called in by PATRIARCA and told to discontinue his operation. An argument ensued, but PATRIARCA later allowed WILLIE MARFEO to have either Saturday or Sunday nights for a crap game. Informant stated that this incident has made WILLIE MARFEO very angry at PATRIARCA, but MARFEO would not ever furnish any information concerning PATRIARCA.

Informant stated he does not know where MARFEO's game is being held and further stated that he has no information that the game in North Providence, Rhode Island, has an interstate angle and he feels that it is only local in nature. Informant stated that if he obtains any information concerning an interstate angle, he will immediately notify this office.

On March 31, 1962, and April 9, 13 and 26, 1962, BS T-2 furnished substantially the same information as BS T-1.

On April 3, 1962, BS T-3 furnished substantially the same information as the above informants.

MISCELLANEOUS

On March 30, 1962, the New York Office advised that a 1960 Cadillac sedan bearing New York registration 6C4063

according to the New York State Registry of Motor Vehicles is registered to the VIP Leasing Systems, Inc., 127 East Merrick Road, Valley Stream, Long Island, New York.

On March 31, 1962, and April 11, 1962, BS T-4 advised that he was unable to obtain or develop any information that RAYMOND PATRIARCA is involved in any illegal activities either on a local, state or Federal level.

On March 30, 1962; April 3, 9, 12, and 17, 1962, BS T-5 advised that he has been carrying on an extensive investigation into the affairs of RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, but to date has not developed any information that PATRIARCA is or has violated any local, state or Federal laws.

On April 3, 16 and 25, 1962, BS T-6 advised that he has been conducting an intensive investigation into the affairs and activities of RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA but to date has not been able to obtain any information or evidence that PATRIARCA is engaged in any illegal activities either on a local, state or Federal level.

On April 9, 1962, BS T-7 advised he heard [redacted] a summer resident of Falmouth, Massachusetts, talk about RAYMOND PATRIARCA of Providence, Rhode Island, and from [redacted] conversation, [redacted] does not like PATRIARCA.

He said that he doubted very much if [redacted] had any connections, legitimate or otherwise, with PATRIARCA despite rumors that are spread about that no one can operate a large successful business in Rhode Island without cutting PATRIARCA in on the profits.

This informant stated that [redacted] operates a large bowling alley in Pawtucket, Rhode Island, and operated or had an interest in the Fireside Restaurant, Route 1, North Attleboro, Massachusetts, until the place was recently demolished by fire.

On April 17, 1962, [redacted] Registration Section, Rhode Island Registry of Motor Vehicles, State Office Building, Providence, Rhode Island, advised the following registrations are listed to the following individuals:

4703 is issued to [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, for a 1961 Ford sedan, aqua.

9441 is issued to [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, for a 1958 Cadillac convertible, yellow.

FG 333 is issued to [redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island, for a 1960 Ford sedan, black.

JA 630 is issued to a [redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island, for a 1959 Chevrolet, station wagon, blue.

TF 39 is issued to [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, for a 1961 Ford sedan, turquoise and white.

WV 25 is issued to [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, for a 1957 Pontiac convertible.

The Providence Journal, a daily newspaper in Providence, Rhode Island, dated April 7, 1962, carried an article captioned "PATRIARCA Is Mentioned in Hub Drug Case." This article stated that the name of RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA of Providence was injected into the Federal trial in Boston, Massachusetts, on April 16, 1962, of three men, LEONARD DELMAR, EDWARD FRANK, and ALFRED SARNO, who were charged with conspiracy to violate the narcotics law.

The principal witness, undercover agent ALBERTO GAROFALO of New York City, testified that he got in touch with LEONARD DELMAR of Revere, Massachusetts, at DELMAR's home last August to buy three kilograms of heroin. DELMAR wanted $45,000 for it and GAROFALO had a conversation with DELMAR about "bread and cake" which were code words for narcotics. When GAROFALO balked at paying DELMAR directly, DELMAR suggested that he use PATRIARCA as a "third man" in the negotiations. Mr. GAROFALO testified that DELMAR told him concerning PATRIARCA, "You trust him in New York, we in Boston trust him, too." Mr. GAROFALO also said DELMAR told him that PATRIARCA was a "member of the family" which, according to GAROFALO said according to the underworld was the name for the mafia.

The Boston Record American, a Boston daily, dated April 17, 1962, carried an article captioned "PATRIARCA Linked to Defendants in Dope Sale Trial." This article stated substantially the same as the article appearing in the Providence Journal, mentioned above.

On April 17, 1962, Agent [redacted] Narcotics Bureau, U. S. Treasury Department, was contacted by SAs [redacted]. He advised that in connection with his efforts to buy narcotics from [redacted] and [redacted] he was supposed to put up $45,000 for three kilograms. He said he was not parting with his money without "the stuff." [redacted] suggested "RAY" PATRIARCA was trusted "by your people in New York and us, and the $45,000 could be left with PATRIARCA until delivery." [redacted] said the "family" (mafia) would not want to handle the "junk" and they would have to tell "RAY" the money was for cigarettes or something else.

The Narcotics Bureau considered trying to make a conspiracy case on PATRIARCA and felt their agent would have to tell PATRIARCA the $45,000 was for "junk." They thought that after PATRIARCA saw the $45,000 cash, he might go for the deal.

The deal, however, did not come off.

Agent [redacted] had no further information on PATRIARCA, other than the foregoing.

He said he knows nothing about [redacted]

On April 26, 1962, Captain [redacted] Detective Division, Warwick, Rhode Island, Police Department, advised [redacted] is not known to his department.

On April 25, 1962, BS T-8 advised that he had learned that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had a substantial financial interest in the Hancock Race Track in Berkshire County, Massachusetts. The informant stated that while he could not furnish the details of such interest, he believed that [redacted] of Springfield, Massachusetts, and [redacted] of Boston were associated with PATRIARCA in such interest. The informant pointed out that there is a law in Massachusetts banning the construction of flat racing facilities within a fifty mile radius of an established track and accordingly, Hancock and Suffolk Downs are the only two such tracks in Massachusetts. He stated that Judge [redacted] of Suffolk Downs, is desirous of controlling flat racing in Massachusetts, and thus is interested in buying out Hancock. However, the PATRIARCA interests are apparently not interested in selling at this time and have been active in attempting to get dates assigned by the State Racing Commission. In this respect, they have contacted Senator JOHN E. POWERS, President of the Massachusetts State Senate and have furnished him material that he might use in presenting their case before the Committee to obtain an extended period of racing. The Senator has allegedly assured them that he will obtain such for them.

The informant stated that the PATRIARCA interests were endeavoring to solidify their position while [redacted] was out of the country on a trip to Greece. He explained that [redacted] was going to visit the head of the Greek Government and was going to present the latter's wife with a string of pearls which he had purchased from an individual with a check made out to cash. [redacted] allegedly instructed this individual not to endorse this check but rather to cash it at the track and thus [redacted] could include the expenditure in his income tax return as a track expense.

The informant pointed out that the PATRIARCA group had various problems in connection with assuring their interest in the Hancock Race Track. In addition to the work being done through Senator POWERS, they were extending their efforts through Massachusetts Lieutenant Governor EDWARD F. MC LAUGHLIN. The informant stated that he had no specific details in respect to the latter activity but knew that the PATRIARCA interests had access to [redacted] Attorneys in Springfield, Massachusetts, and through them could have MC LAUGHLIN reached. (It is noted that [redacted])

With further reference to the endeavors of the PATRIARCA group to solidify their interests, the informant pointed out that they had to meet the litigation of [redacted] against the track and would use the services of Judge [redacted] of the Springfield, Massachusetts, area to meet the [redacted] problem as [redacted] knew the judge hearing this case and could have the latter take care of it.

The informant stated that [redacted] has a small interest in the race track and arrangements have been made through him to effect the resignation of Attorney [redacted] of Hartford, Connecticut, from the track. He pointed out that he understood that [redacted] interest in the track has already been eliminated and CUFARI is to straighten out the interest of the Cardì and Campanello firm that apparently built the track stands and a debt owed to Sports Service.

BS T-8 insisted he could not furnish specific details in reference to the above information but pointed out that the PATRIARCA interests even made a substantial contribution to a religious group to persuade the latter from criticizing racing and were successful in this matter.

The informant conjectured that PATRIARCA's attorney, SAUL FRIEDMAN, would have the details of the PATRIARCA interests in the race track and pointed out that he feels that JOE KIRK may be being used by PATRIARCA to contact various people in behalf of the latter's interests. (It is noted that the Boston files reveal that JOSEPH KRIKORIAN, also known as JOE KIRK, date of birth December 13, 1910, Foster, Rhode Island, has been a long time associate of PATRIARCA and has been connected with dice and bookmaking activities.)

BS T-8 further advised that recently night racing was authorized in Rhode Island and PATRIARCA may finance the electrical contractor who expects to get the job of installing the lights at Lincoln Downs which [redacted]

The following information was developed by SA [redacted] from a review of the files of the Springfield Union, a newspaper published in western Massachusetts:

On August 28, 1961, there was an item which reflected that BERNARD E. FRANCIS, President of Hancock Raceways, Inc., operators of Berkshire Downs Track, had filed a $100,000 suit against JAMES W. BUSHEY, JR., and his wife THERESA M., of 82 Hancock Road, Pittsfield, Massachusetts, charging them with libel and slander. The suit was filed in the Berkshire Superior Court by Attorney SAMUEL E. BLOOMBERG of Pittsfield and arose out of remarks made about FRANCIS and other officers of the raceways in suits entered in the Superior Court. The item indicates that the BUSHEYS had brought a suit against FRANCIS and others seeking to have $20,000 worth of nonvoting stock in the raceway corporation converted to class A stock inasmuch as the sale was based on a misrepresentation by the track officials. The item identifies BUSHEY as President of the B & G Aluminum Products Company in Pittsfield.

There was an item dated September 21, 1961, which reflected that Berkshire Downs was placed in receivership on complaint of CHARLES R. CARSON of Springfield who alleged wrongful acts by officers and directors of the Hancock Raceways, Inc. Reporters apparently contacted CARSON and he admitted that he was the beneficial owner of thirty shares (out of one hundred issued) of class A voting stock but refused to state when he acquired it or what he paid for it. The items indicates that former Racing Commissioner EDMUND J. BURKE of Boston was named by Judge EDWARD J. DeSAULNIER, JR., as receiver and the latter thereupon assumed temporary management and financial control of the race track. The item indicated that the following individuals were named in the suit: BERNARD E. FRANCIS of West Hartford, Connecticut, who is Corporation President; DARIO BACCIOCCHI, also known as B. A. DARIO of Cumberland, Rhode Island, Treasurer and General Manager; and CAMPANALLA of Providence, Rhode Island, Director and contractor who constructed the race track grand stand.

The item furnished the following background in connection with this track: It pointed out that in December 1960 JEROME GOOD of West Hartford, an Agawam real estate broker, sued the Hancock Raceways trustees for a commission as a finder for a buyer of the track. State Senator JOSEPH L. MURPHY of Dorchester, Massachusetts, apparently initiated the track operations in the early 1950s when he was granted by the Selectmen in Lanesboro, Massachusetts, the right to erect a harness racing track in the town. Thereafter, MURPHY set up the Berkshire County Fair with a group that included Mrs. AUGUSTA DEE WHITMAN, a retired school teacher of Hancock, Massachusetts. Mrs. WHITMAN was President of the Berkshire County Fair.

In 1960 a group of Connecticut men took an option on land in Savoy, Massachusetts, and received a license for the construction of a track. This group was headed by Attorney BERNARD E. FRANCIS of West Hartford, Connecticut. This group then bought MURPHY's property which was known as the RABOUIN property and applied to the State Racing Commission for dates. They named the property Berkshire Downs and the corporation is known as Hancock Raceways, Inc. After a number of years the Hancock Raceways was granted twenty-four racing days in 1960. The group bought out MURPHY but Mrs. WHITMAN stayed with the new group and is Vice President and Director. Hancock Raceways was incorporated January 5, 1959, and the incorporators were JOSEPH L. MURPHY, 57 Samoset Street, Dorchester, Massachusetts; EMILY LARNER, 4 Myrtle Bank, Dorchester, Massachusetts, and AUGUSTA DEE WHITMAN of Hancock. WHITMAN was listed as President, WALTER PARRY was listed as Treasurer and EMILY LARNER as Clerk. These individuals were also listed as Directors as well as MURPHY and ERNEST J. SCARPE of Lee, Massachusetts.

On May 25, 1960, the corporation voted to issue five hundred shares of nonvoting class B stock and at that time the amended records of the corporation listed BERNARD E. FRANCIS, 471 South Main Street, West Hartford, Connecticut, as President; DARIO BACCIOCCHI, Mendon Road, Cumberland, Rhode Island, as Treasurer, and the following individuals as Directors: RAYMOND J. VOLPI, 30 Ingraham Road, Wellesley; Dr. ROBERT J. KIRBY, 6 Richard Drive, Pittsfield; JULES SEAMKON, Ansonia Road, Woodbridge, Connecticut; Dr. LEONARD M. RAPPAPORT, Hemlock Drive, Orange, Connecticut; AUGUST DEE WHITMAN, Hancock, Massachusetts; CHARLES R. CARSON, 120 Belmont Avenue, Springfield; and D. PAUL SWEENEY, JR., Deborah Avenue, Pittsfield. In the 1961 application for license WHITMAN is listed as Vice President, Dr. KIRBY as Secretary and LEWIS A. RINEGOLD, 35 Channing Avenue, Riverside, Rhode Island, as Assistant Treasurer.

The item indicates that CHARLES R. CARSON's connection with the race track was publicly announced by the track corporation on October 17, 1960, and indicated that CARSON had been elected Chairman of the Board of Directors and referred to him as being the comptroller as well as the Director.

The item indicated that B. A. DARIO, operator of Lincoln Downs Race Track and one of the largest automobile dealers in Rhode Island, entered the Hancock picture in 1960 when before the fall racing season, the Berkshire Downs lacked money to get the track into shape. FRANCIS and HARRY OSMAN of Orange, Connecticut, another stockholder, approached DARIO and he is alleged to have put in enough money to enable the track to hold its 1960 season. One report is that he now has as much as $800,000 in the track and is the owner of forty shares of the voting stock, ten of which he purchased from OSMAN at a reported price of $25,000.

On September 29, 1961, there was an item which reflected that Judge EDWARD DeSAULNIER, who had placed Berkshire Downs in temporary receivership, dissolved the same and ordered further hearings. In this item it is indicated that CARSON, the Chairman of the Hancock Raceways Board of Directors and holder of record of fifty per cent of the race track's voting stocks, alleged wrongful acts on the part of DARIO BACCIOCCHI, Treasurer and

General Manager of the track. He claimed that DARIO (BACCIOCCHI) had removed the books of the track to Rhode Island and also claimed that DARIO had entered a contract with SANTI CAMPANELLA, a Providence, Rhode Island, contractor, who had erected Hancock's grandstand and DARIO refused to develop the contents of such contract.

On February 14, 1962, there was an item reflecting that former State Senator JOSEPH L. MURPHY of Dorchester had brought suit against CHARLES S. CARSON, FRANCIS, and Dr. CHARLES FURCOLO and Mrs. EILEEN KANE, both of Springfield. MURPHY alleged that he was forced to sell out his interest in the track under duress brought to bear against him by Dr. FURCOLO and others. MURPHY claimed that FRANCIS had told him that the new group owning the track had "through its political influence sewed up the Massachusetts State Racing Commission." It was this group that CARSON was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors, and CARSON is described as a tax consultant who has acted for Dr. FURCOLO in such capacity in the past. While CARSON would not comment to the press, FRANCIS identified himself as a stockholder of record of ten shares and as President of the corporation. He denied that any pressure was put on MURPHY for the latter to sell his stock and alleged that MURPHY's allegations were an absolute fabrication.

This item identifies DARIO as previously indicated and also points out that he owns a thoroughbred breeding farm and is the owner of an asphalt and road paving firm in Florida. They described him as a fourteen year old immigrant boy who began his career as a dollar a day sweeper in a Pawtucket, Rhode Island, Railroad station and catapulted himself into a millionaire. The item indicates that Dr. FURCOLO is the father of the former Governor of Massachusetts, FOSTER FURCOLO. MURPHY in talking to the press indicated that he, MURPHY, brought DARIO into the Hancock Race Track inasmuch as DARIO had the money to complete the track and the FURCOLO crowd had run out of money. MURPHY identified the FURCOLO crowd as FRANCIS, CARSON and Mrs. KANE. The item describes Mrs. KANE as the secretary to Dr. FURCOLO and MURPHY alleged that Dr. FURCOLO boasted that his son controlled the State Racing Commission and the track would not get any race dates unless he, MURPHY, sold out and resigned.

An item dated February 17, 1962, indicated that JAMES W. and TERESA BUBHEY of Pittsfield, Massachusetts, had instituted another suit against Hancock Raceways, Inc. The defendants to the suit are twenty former and present office holders in Hancock Raceways, Inc. The suit is a stockholders derivation suit and there is indication that this suit may reveal how CHARLES B. CARSON came into possession of fifty shares of voting stock.

There is an item dated February 27, 1962, relative to the MURPHY suit in which the case was continued and in April 1962, there was an item that reflected that the $50,000 suit brought by MURPHY had been settled out of court. The terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

BS T-9 advised on April 9, 1962, that SAMUEL GRANITO has indicated to him that he, GRANITO, is a close associate of PATRIARCA. (GRANITO is identical with the individual convicted of participating in the armed robbery of B. F. Sturevant Company, Hyde Park, Massachusetts, in the late 1940s and is presently on parole in Massachusetts.) GRANITO has told him that he makes contact with various individuals in the Boston, Massachusetts, area and collects from them monies for PATRIARCA. He has also indicated to this informant that he keeps PATRIARCA informed on the activities of various individuals in the Boston area.

BS T-10 advised on April 6, 1962, that he believed that PATRIARCA was financially interested in a firm that deals in the sale of soaps, detergents and miscellaneous items such as mattresses, linens, et cetera, for hotel, motel and institution use. The informant stated he does not know the names of the individuals who are associated with PATRIARCA in this business but believes the firm's name may be the Eastern Hotel Supply Company, Inc. He pointed out that the firm has salesmen on the road, have done business in Maine and are contemplating expanding with the rental of warehouse space in Boston.

It is noted that on April 23, 1962, [redacted] of the Secretary of State's Office, Providence, Rhode Island, advised they had no record of a corporation known as the Eastern Hotel Supply Company, Inc., in the state.

BS T-10 further advised that he believed that PATRIARCA had an interest in the ABC Vending Company having obtained the same without actually investing any money and was in the process of negotiating a similar interest in the American Locker Company.

The informant further stated that PATRIARCA may have an interest in the D & H Wreckers, Inc., of Johnstown, Rhode Island. He pointed out that [] is in frequent contact with PATRIARCA and believed that these contacts may involve the matter of finances and the seeking of PATRIARCA's advice in connection with bids that the firm would submit on projects in the Rhode Island area.

This informant further advised that PATRIARCA was very close to union officials in the Rhode Island area but he stated that he was unable to furnish specific details thereon or elaborate on PATRIARCA's alleged interest in the D & H Building Wreckers, Inc., or the other firms the informant mentioned.

[] Providence Re-development Agency, City of Providence, Rhode Island, Howard Building, Providence, Rhode Island, advised that his department had circulated bid invitations for the demolition and site clearance for the project known as Project No. R-IR2, site clearance for the Central-Classical Project Center.

Of the ten firms that sought information concerning this contract work only three firms presented sealed bids on the opening bid date of March 20, 1962, which was held at this headquarters at 10 A. M.

The firms who made the bids and their amounts are as follows:

- (1) D & E Building Wrecking Company, 89 Celia Street, Johnston, Rhode Island, bid was made in the amount of $189,900.00 with deposit of $24,000.00. Bid signed by [], President.

BS 92-118

- (2) E. Notorantonio & Sons, 46 Glym Street, Providence, Rhode Island, who bid $191,090.00.
- (3) Industrial Wrecking Company, Inc., 452 - 15th Street, Hoboken, New Jersey, who was aligned with Seymour Berkowitz, Inc., of New York who bid $257,000.00.

[] stated that all of the above bids were accepted on the morning of March 20, 1962, and that the bids were all sealed and opened at the conference room at the time of the bid openings.

At that time it was noted that D & H Building Wrecking Company was the low bidder on this job and it was not until April 3, 1962, that the contract was awarded to D & H for this contract. His contract calls for the demolition of about 394 different types of property consisting of houses, commercial property and public property and that the estimated cost, made by the City of Providence, was in the amount of $300,000.00 which award saved a considerable amount of money from the estimated cost of the contract.

[] stated that the U. S. Government will furnish two-thirds of the money for the whole project and the City of Providence, Rhode Island, will furnish one-third of the money.

He stated that D & H has no other bids outstanding with his agency and that D & H has not made any other bids for future work.

He also stated he has no idea why the other seven firms did not submit a sealed bid, but stated that it often happens that more people request bid papers than the actual people who submit a bid for the contract.

On April 18, 1962, BS T-11 advised that FAVETARCA has been very concerned about the investigation by the Internal Revenue Service of the Sherwood Manufacturing Company, 75 Eagle Street, Providence, Rhode Island, inasmuch as he has a financial interest in this firm [] is the

[] The informant advised that a close associate of

BS T-12 advised on April 12, 1962, that Attorney CHARLES CURRAN of the law firm Curran and Friedman, 709 Industrial Bank Building, Providence, Rhode Island, is representing RUDY SCIARA. SCIARA was arrested by the Providence, Rhode Island, Police Department for the gangland style murder of JACKIE NAZARIAN in January 1962 in Providence, Rhode Island. (It is noted that FRIEDMAN is PATRIARCA's attorney and that NAZARIAN had in the past been known as a strong arm enforcer for PATRIARCA.) The informant stated that PATRIARCA is in constant contact with CURRAN relative to SCIARA's defense and is exploring every possibility to assure SCIARA's acquittal. He pointed out that PATRIARCA's endeavors have included the attempt to develop alibi witnesses for SCIARA and a defense for the presence of SCIARA's fingerprint being on the murder weapon. The informant feels that PATRIARCA may have witnesses if necessary testify to SCIARA having handled the gun sometime previous to the murder when NAZARIAN showed him the same. The informant pointed out that an FBI man has identified a fingerprint found on this gun as belonging to SCIARA and the witness furnished by PATRIARCA would thus combat the effectiveness of the FBI testimony.

The informant also advised that PATRIARCA contemplates arranging for a ballistics man named [redacted] retired ballistics man of the Massachusetts State Police, to be used by the defense, and PATRIARCA is exercising efforts to locate a gun similar to the one used in the case which could be introduced and confuse the jurors thereby.

The informant stated that while he was not aware of the specific reasons for PATRIARCA's concern in the SCIARA case, he knew that when PATRIARCA was hospitalized sometime ago NAZARIAN was around bragging that he was going to take over when PATRIARCA died.

The informant stated that when the grand jury was hearing the evidence on the SCIARA case, a [redacted] was in contact with [redacted] a politician in the Providence area. The informant understood that if [redacted] could have arranged a no bill by the grand jury, PATRIARCA would see to it that he was paid a substantial sum of money. The informant pointed out that the grand jury did indict SCIARA but that if the arrangement could be effected, the money that would necessarily have to be spent on legal expenses could have been used to fix the case.

On April 20, 1962, PS T-13 advised that it was his opinion that PATRIARCA was engaged in all types of criminal activities but remained in the background and operated through a group of individuals numbering close to one hundred. He stated that PATRIARCA has indicated to him that he, PATRIARCA, was a member of an organization and such organization is not like it used to be. PATRIARCA explained that in the past an individual had to prove himself to become a member whereas presently the membership has individuals who have become members through birth or other relations. The informant stated that PATRIARCA considers the individuals who carry out his illegal activities are dependant upon him for their livelihood and he identified SAMUEL GRANITO, JERRY ANGUILO and TEDDY FUCILLO as individuals in the Boston, Massachusetts, area who work for PATRIARCA.

PS T-13 furnished the following information relative to PATRIARCA's activities: For several months a dice and barboot game that had operated in Revere, Massachusetts, was discontinued because of fear of law enforcement activity. This fear was predicated upon local and Federal and in respect to the latter there was doubt as to the effect of the new Federal legislation and concern over the FBI raid on a game in Pennsylvania. The informant stated that PATRIARCA's group is anxious to resume this game and is endeavoring to assure that they can be tipped off on any contemplated law enforcement activity. He indicated that they feel that they have the state and county authorities covered through Colonel CARL LARSEN, Head of the Uniform Branch of the Massachusetts State Police, and the local police through Officer [redacted] who works out of the office of District Attorney GARRETT BRYNE of Suffolk County. However, they do not have Federal coverage and the informant pointed out that they apparently unsuccessfully endeavored to make contact in the U. S. Marshall's office, Boston, and with U. S. Commissioner FRANCIS H. FARRELL of Boston. In respect to the latter person, the informant stated that [redacted] of the Revere, Massachusetts, Police Department, allegedly knew FARRELL but refused to approach him even though [redacted] was receiving several thousand monthly while the game operated in his city.

The informant stated that JERRY ANGUILO operated a game in the Sherry Biltmore Hotel in Boston and was paying police officers [redacted] who are members of [redacted] squad, monthly for the privilege to operate.

The informant advised that also associated with PATRIARCA in greater Boston were JOSEPH LOMBARDO, MIKE ROCCO, FRANK FERRARA and JOHN WILLIAMS. The informant stated that in respect to this latter group, that JOSEPH LOMBARDO might serve as an arbiter in the event of problems. He pointed out that he recently had learned that [redacted] and HAROLD HANNON were endeavoring to murder an individual named [redacted]. The latter allegedly had killed [redacted] and HANNON and [redacted] sought the assistance of a [redacted] for the setting up of [redacted] consulted JOSEPH LOMBARDO and JERRY ANGUILO and as a result was instructed to assist [redacted] and HANNON in a very limited way and not physically set up [redacted]. The informant pointed out that [redacted] as of the date of this interview, April 20, 1962, had not been murdered.

The informant further advised that apparently [redacted] had some association with PATRIARCA. He indicated that these individuals were sentenced to the Massachusetts State Prison for extortion several years ago and efforts are now being extended toward effecting their release. The informant understands that these efforts are being directed through [redacted] a member of the Massachusetts Board of Parole, and SONNY MC DONOUGH, a member of the Governor's Council. PATRIARCA expects [redacted] to be released in the near future but the other two will have to wait awhile. The informant understands that a substantial sum of money is being expended for such a release.

The informant advised that in the Worcester, Massachusetts, area he would include in the PATRIARCA group the following individuals

[redacted] So described the activities of these individuals as being primarily in the gambling field.

The informant stated that in the Providence area, individuals that are close to PATRIARCA would be HENRY TAMELLO and [redacted]. He stated that these individuals travel for PATRIARCA in connection with the latter's various interests. He indicated that these interests would include dice games, the operation of stills, collection of loans, adjustment of debts, buying of stolen property and advising on the commission of crimes, and even the arranging of arson jobs. The informant, however, was unable to furnish specific details on the above enumerated matters other than to say that it was well known that various illegal enterprises must be cleared with PATRIARCA before they can operate. Otherwise, PATRIARCA will have them closed. The informant stated that the approval usually involved PATRIARCA receiving a part of the proceeds of the enterprise. The informant pointed out that PATRIARCA's closing procedure usually would involve strong arm methods. In this respect he stated that if an individual is beaten by means of iron bars and his legs are broken, the victim can readily be identified as being the recipient of PATRIARCA treatment. He also explained that if an individual disappeared and never was located, such a disappearance might be attributable to PATRIARCA handling. He pointed out that if an individual is killed in gang land style it could be a PATRIARCA activity and such action adopted to serve as a lesson for others.

The informant advised that he understood that PATRIARCA recently had a meeting with an individual named TOMMY BROWN from New York. The informant pointed out that he did not know the reason for this meeting but it was held at the Old Colony Motel in the Providence area about March 23, 1962. The informant stated that he understood that [redacted] was a subject of the meeting and in such event the contact probably involved a debt [redacted] owed to a New York individual. Informant explained that [redacted] had hired a person to perform various work for Lincoln Downs and [redacted] had not followed through on the contract in respect to monetary compensation. All this individual got out of the deal was a minimum number of shares of stock, and [] owed the individual in the area of $100,000. The informant pointed out that it is well known that PATRIARCA serves as a collection agency and conjectured that BROWN's contact with PATRIARCA might be along that line.

The other lawyer now wants a release from [redacted] so that he can act as UNMAN's attorney.

This same UNMAN was told by someone else, not identified, that he had better get out of the race or he would get a broken head. This man met [redacted] (PH) at the race track, and he was asked by him whether RAYMOND had anything to do with that. RAYMOND appeared angry and instructed UNMAN to tell [redacted] not to even talk about it. There was no indication as to what they were talking about.

UNMAN talked to RAYMOND about the cost of an auto body repair job which he maintained was correct but the customer indicated that it was too high. RAYMOND said that he would tell this man that he had to pay the bill.

On the same date, another UNMAN complained to RAYMOND about his brother-in-law who apparently at one time borrowed $18,000 which his sister paid back in the course of five years. The loan was recently paid and he asked RAYMOND to intercede for him in straightening this guy out. RAYMOND tells him that is one thing he will not intercede in as they are married and UNMAN has to take it.

Another UNMAN advised RAYMOND that he used his name in order to collect a bad debt and wanted to tell RAYMOND of same in the event somebody else asked him about it.

SAM GRANITO, local racketeer and former inmate of Massachusetts State Prison, having been sentenced there for a conviction in the Sturtevant holdup in Hyde Park, Mass., in 1947. GRANITO is now on parole, and it is known he is active as manager of various crap games on behalf of the criminal element, including PATRIARCA in the Boston area.

GRANITO advised that he, (not identified), got the message all fouled up. It appeared that GRANITO, on Saturday night, was with [] at a bar. After an hour or hour and one-half, SAM asked for [] who apparently was with them. He ascertained that [] were upstairs playing cards. Inasmuch as there was a previous beef there 7 or 8 months ago of them taking a guy playing cards, he sent the waitress up to get a hold of []. When [] did not come down, he, GRANITO, went upstairs and called [] outside. It appeared that they were taking somebody in this game, and sometime thereafter GRANITO left the premises. He later ascertained that [] apparently got drunk and took some individual for $500. During an argument that ensued, one of the men involved indicated that he would have RAYMOND intercede to straighten the situation out. The individual now believed to be [] said he was not afraid of PATRIARCA.

RAYMOND was going to come up to Boston to straighten the situation out and have the $500 returned to the individual from whom it was taken, and further to straighten [] out as far as the remark he made concerning PATRIARCA. However, JOE (LOMBARDO) straightened this matter out to RAYMOND's satisfaction. GRANITO, who is friendly with [] indicated to RAYMOND that [] was a good fellow and that he probably learned a lot from this lesson and will be alright in the future. [] apparently denied that he made the statement about PATRIARCA and LOMBARDO did not believe him.

GRANITO gave PATRIARCA $690 from [] a local bookmaker. SAM also told RAYMOND about an unknown individual making a hit whereby one bookmaker got hit for $1,250 and another for $1,250 but [] did not go for a quarter. There were indications that this bet was placed 3 or 4 minutes after the race was completed and may have been a possible past posting. But they could not be sure as the bets had been placed by a bettor who had been a bettor for a period of a year or two.

SAM told RAYMOND one of [] (LNU)'s Agents was heisted last week and they believed it was done by a fellow named [] (PH) who hangs out in Lynn, Mass. They intend to take the agent to Lynn and point out [] to them. If he identifies him they will take care of the situation.

On the same date, SAM told RAYMOND that [] (PH) is hanging around with [] (LNU). [] found out that [] was opening up one night in Revere, Mass., and that [] is giving him scores, having given him the Harmony Club score which involved the robbery of a barroom in which there was several thousand dollars in booking money. [] also gives him scores, but he did not mention which ones.

After GRANITO left the room, TEDDY FUCILLO visited RAYMOND. He furnishes RAYMOND a thousand dollars from [] and discusses a loan of $13,000 and the amount of money they had received from this loan. When TEDDY started to tell

RAYMOND about [] being denied his parole, RAYMOND called GRANITO back into the room at which time TEDDY told him that GARY BYRNE, District Attorney, Suffolk County, had written a vicious report concerning []

Because of this report it appeared that their parole would be denied. RAYMOND became incensed. GRANITO asked whether he thought GARY BYRNE was afraid of the FBI to which he, PATRIARCA, commenced talking very disparagingly about Attorney General ROBERT KENNEDY. He said in effect when KENNEDY takes a dislike to you the FBI will be all over you. RAYMOND said that GARY BYRNE was responsible for the $10,500 which is the amount of money lost by the victim in the case which the above three individuals were convicted on.

It should be noted that the victim paid $10,500 to these individuals and that during the surveillance of this group the $10,500 was never located. It is believed that one of the three passed the money to another individual at Suffolk Downs Race Track during the surveillance.

TEDDY said that he had contacted PATRICK SONNY MC DONOUGH, Governor's Council, who is acting in their behalf in an attempt to get [] out on parole. [] who is on the Parole Board, according to reports they receive through SONNY MC DONOUGH, has gone through for them and voted for the parole. However, a new fellow on the Parole Board by the name of [] did not vote for the parole. MC DONOUGH instructed [] to hold out on the parole for a week, and that he would see if he could do anything with [] RAYMOND asked whether or not SONNY needed the assistance of the Governor's Council [] from Worcester, Mass.) and that if he did he could probably arrange same. They all agreed that [] "had a lot of guts and would push anything through."

SAMMY asked whether any money was paid out for the parole and FUCILLO stated no but that they had offered money but SONNY MC DONOUGH told them that he did not want any but they could give him a donation on his next fight for election. They all agreed that a nice Christmas gift should be sent to both MC DONOUGH and [] in the event these individuals are paroled.

GRANITO advised that he met [] at the Beacon Club in Boston, probably referring to the Boston Club on Beacon Street, Boston, and that he wanted to obtain a release from his parole, it being noted that he still has 3 or 4 months to finish out on his parole. This incident occurred a couple of years ago and [] told him not to worry because as long as he, [] the Parole Board he would never be sent back for violation of parole. RAYMOND made the statement as long as SONNY is working heart and soul on this deal, "he'll be able to crack it sooner or later."

During this conversation GRANITO made the statement that DONAHUE, probably referring to Judge FRANK J. DONAHUE, Massachusetts Superior Court, is doing business with [] probably referring to []. It should be noted that DONAHUE was the judge who sentenced [] and his group to prison. [] is the notorious criminal lawyer.

On 5/9/62 the informant advised that UNMAN gave RAYMOND $950 and said $200 is for my end. RAYMOND advises that if there is any trouble to get a hold of [] and he will straighten it out. RAYMOND tells the individual not to take any parlays because that is where you can get hurt. This individual apparently comes from the Cape as he invites RAYMOND and his wife down to the Cape (Cape Cod).

An unknown individual told RAYMOND on the same date that he eventually figured that he would take 1/3 of the game, give [] 1/3 and the suckers 1/3. The only reason for taking the suckers in is because they have the connection for the customers. He thinks that each group should get up $1,000 and that they would take a piece out for RAYMOND. He advised that if anybody else comes in on the deal it would not be worth it because they can only make $100 - $200 on the game.

He complained to RAYMOND about the New York group coming into the town, probably referring to New Bedford, and also running a game, with the OK from RAYMOND. He states that there is not sufficient money in the town for two games and that the two suckers are the ones with the connections for the customers. The customers do not like to play with the New York group and he wanted RAYMOND to intercede for them and get the New York group to cease their game. RAYMOND told him to wait until next week, that they will probably back out because they won't make sufficient money with the game.

RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, made available the following information:

PATRIARCA was in recent receipt of a notice from the Internal Revenue Service which indicated that the Internal Revenue Service was desirous of maintaining its case against the Sherwood Manufacturing Company open for another three years. Apparently, the notice requires the consent of the company, and PATRIARCA's lawyer has advised him, PATRIARCA, not to sign the same. The lawyer's advice was accompanied with instructions that PATRIARCA should determine if it was all right to sign the same, and PATRIARCA is interested in having GERRY RANGIULO contact [redacted] thereon.

PATRIARCA is desirous of knowing what [redacted] has to say about the matter inasmuch as [redacted] was supposed to have straightened out the case with [redacted] Internal Revenue Service Agent, who handled the investigation of the Sherwood Manufacturing Company.

The informant pointed out that PATRIARCA had the impression that arrangements had been made for the Internal Revenue Service to assess the Sherwood Manufacturing Company slightly more than $1,000 and [redacted] and others connected with the case were to be paid several thousand dollars. The informant indicated that such payment was contingent upon the case being settled, and PATRIARCA apparently has not made such payment as yet.

Complete security should be given to this informant so that his identity will not be jeopardized.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

On 4/26/62 BS 837-C* advised that 2 unknown individuals, first names being [redacted] and who were [redacted] for a local building union, were complaining to PATRIARCA about the elections within the union. Apparently, a consultant had run for president and was elected. However, they ascertained many members as having been checked off as voting who did not, in fact, vote. They told PATRIARCA they did not want to do anything until they cleared with him.

PATRIARCA told them that he would have a meeting with both men and an individual named [redacted] on 5/2/62 in an effort to iron things out, and then have these men go to the opposition within the union and tell them that if they do not go along with them they will be on their own. Immediately thereafter [redacted] would call Washington direct and complain about the elections within the union.

On 4/27/62 UNMAN complained to PATRIARCA concerning his attempt to obtain money owed to him from another individual. PATRIARCA instructed this UNMAN to go to the individual and tell him that PATRIARCA wants the money paid up.

An individual named [redacted] (ph) asked PATRIARCA to call attorney [redacted] of Providence, R. I., in an attempt to have [redacted] a couple of hundred dollars in advance from a settlement from a case [redacted] is handling for him. PATRIARCA made this call and the loan by [redacted] to [redacted] was made with PATRIARCA's OK.

HENRY TAMELEO complained to PATRIARCA that the following individuals made $2,000 each on a swindle in Maine of individual named [redacted] from Pawtucket, R. I., believed to be [redacted] gambler and bookmaker from Pawtucket; [redacted] (LNU), [redacted] from Maine, [redacted] (ph), and the father of one of these individuals whom they put in after it was "cut and dry." It appeared that both HENRY and PATRIARCA had, several months ago, done some work on this swindle but did not receive any money therefrom and did not know that it was even consummated. They were particularly angry and issued instructions to [redacted] to get up some money, and further made it known to him that he was in trouble. PATRIARCA could not understand how he was "done by his own people." When asked how he found out about this, TAMELEO advised that he went to Boston on 4/26/62 relative to the sale of some bonds which were held by an unknown individual from Maine. This individual told him the story of the swindle.

On 4/30/62, the informant advised that [redacted] the Assistant Business Agent of the local building union, told PATRIARCA that he wrote the letter and was still complaining about the elections. PATRIARCA told him to go all the way, relative to this phase. [redacted] told him that he was going to run for president and will keep PATRIARCA advised of the developments.

Unknown man, apparently from New Bedford, Mass., area, told PATRIARCA that 2 men came in from New York on Saturday afternoon and told [redacted] to stop the crap game, that they had PATRIARCA's OK, and further that if they did not they would bring up some hoodlums from New York to take care of the situation. This UNMAN from New Bedford apparently had 25 per cent of the only crap game that was operating in New Bedford, and he told PATRIARCA that he had 2 individuals set up, one of whom won $12,000 on a number, and another who was a businessman who could get up $10,000 - $12,000. He expected that he could take these individuals for at least $10,000 a piece and had it set up for next week in the game.

He further told PATRIARCA that the fellows from New York, who he did not know, went to the Greek and actually he is not the one who runs the game. PATRIARCA instructed this individual to return to New Bedford and advised him to find out the identities of the individuals from New York and exactly what they said to the Greek. It appears that the story the New York individuals told PATRIARCA on 4/26/62, as set out in referenced Airtel, was not true and that he wants one of them to return to him so that he can straighten the matter out.

PATRIARCA was of the opinion that 3 Greeks owned the game and he did not realize that the individual he was talking to had a piece of it.

On the same date, another unknown man made reference to HAROLD and [] (HAROLD HANNON and [] having a gun with a scope on it and that the kid (probably referring to [] who they are attempting to kill) is sitting on the street everyday.

On the same date, an individual named [] (probably [] tells PATRIARCA that an unknown individual has failed to pay off on a hit of $600. The hit was to a telephone man who has been playing with this bookie for 5 years. PATRIARCA directs JERRY to contact the telephone man and ascertain whether he will accept anything less than the $600.

Re Boston Airtel to Bureau dated 5/1/62.

On 5/1/62 BS 837-C* advised that unknown man advised PATRIARCA that he did not know when to expect the guys back from New York but that they were going to call last night. He told PATRIARCA that his partners were suckers and these two local kids from New Bedford went to one of the fellows who had the restaurant which they use in the operation of the crap game as the meeting place from where the players are taken to the crap game. This unknown man advised the partners are scared guys and want to back away from trouble.

This unknown man told [redacted] and the other guy that when the guys come in from New York he, the unknown man, is taking the guy with the restaurant as he needs him and that he and the New York crowd are taking over the crap game. PATRIARCA asked whether or not they, referring to the Greeks in New Bedford, had the game before. Unknown man replied in the negative. PATRIARCA then said that that was where the misunderstanding took place as he thought they had been running the crap game.

UNMAN said that they had no connection with the mayor whatsoever and paid for no protection for this game. He said that they hope to get approximately $10,000 a piece from the other 2 partners, the Greeks, as they are suckers. When they make the hit they will apparently split it between PATRIARCA, himself, [redacted] PATRIARCA instructed this man to tell the man over there to call the fellow from New York and let him come in.

[redacted] (LNU) tells PATRIARCA that he sent him to "J.L." (JOSEPH LOMBARDI) as he did not want to stick his nose in it. [redacted] told PATRIARCA that [redacted] who works for him, apparently was drunk and gambling heavily at the track. He walked right over to another fellow and took money from him which apparently was betting money, probably of a race track bookie. [redacted] was told by the individual from whom he took the money that it had some connection with PATRIARCA. [redacted] replied something to the effect that he did not care who the guy ran to in Rhode Island. PATRIARCA was extremely angry and said, "That's twice he's made that crack that he doesn't care who you run to when you come down here (meaning Rhode Island)". He said this stuff has got to stop. He indicated that if "J.L." could not straighten the matter out he would take care of it himself. PATRIARCA said the guy has got to give the money back. He instructed [redacted] to get a hold of "J.L." and straighten the matter out.

PATRIARCA and unknown man counted money and the sum of $1,520 was mentioned. No other conversation took place.

On 5/2/62, the informant advised that PATRIARCA and [redacted] conversed about various horses and the odds of these horses in races at Lincoln Downs Race Track, Rhode Island.

[redacted] told PATRIARCA that he made a check for $2,000 to the guy and gave the tax man $500. [redacted] mentioned that he had chino pants, dacron and cotton, which are real good. He told PATRIARCA that he sold [redacted] a coat for $800 and that he owes some money on it.

PATRIARCA told unknown man that he wanted to spring a guy. A discussion followed in which they believed it was worth $600 for the 2 kids and probably $200 for the kid out on bail. It appeared that they were going to pay this money to probably an Assistant District Attorney handling the local case. PATRIARCA was told that this individual did not want to take any money but was doing it as a favor and PATRIARCA said, "Give it to him and you've got him. We might be able to use him later on on something bigger."

The informant advised that unknown man complained to another unknown man concerning an individual named [redacted] (ph) who apparently borrowed $1,450 in January from the loan sharks, [redacted] (ph), and [redacted] (ph), in Boston, Mass. After having paid a total of $1,350 back they want an additional $2,300. Unknown man said that he would be in Boston on the following day and attempt to straighten the matter out. He believed that there was too much juice (interest) charged.

Unknown man tells PATRIARCA that [redacted] gave him a hard time and that he told him not to come up there any more. This apparently refers to a dump in which PATRIARCA has an interest in and [redacted] as well as others, have failed to pay $2.50 a load for dumping there. Several contractors in the Providence, R. I. area apparently use this dump and some have not paid their total bills. PATRIARCA told this individual to give him a copy of the delinquents and he would straighten the matter out.

On the same date, [redacted] (LNU) and another individual discussed one of the building unions in Rhode Island. After discussing at great length the situation whereby the president, an [redacted] (LNU), was a consultant and thereby not eligible for the office of presidency although he was elected recently should be ruled ineligible by the international local. They stated that a Business Agent is responsible to the president and if he does not agree with the president can go to the consultant for another ruling. He being both the president and consultant would be unconstitutional, according to these individuals.

PATRIARCA, at one point in the conversation, said that if they are going to beat the guy running for office there was no point in having PATRIARCA talk to him as if and when he would talk to him he would only warn him it would be the last chance to play ball with this group. They pointed out that this individual might say he is going to play ball and after a short time would double cross them. They finally decided to nominate [redacted] for presidency when the International voids the previous election as [redacted] (LNU) as president. If they do not void it they will then accuse [redacted] (LNU) of rigging the election, which they have proof of. They discussed the office of financial secretary and state it is a most powerful one. It appears that a relative or close associate of [redacted] (LNU) is financial secretary and they also want to get rid of him. They finally decided that PATRIARCA would call in the individual, probably [redacted] and tell him that they will have him charged with rigging the election if he does not resign, and they feel sure that he will resign rather than face this embarrassment.

There was also a comment to the effect that the conversation that took place must be very secretive as they do not want the individuals to be known to be associated with gangsters.

Reurairtels May 1 and 3, 1962, entitled, "Raymond
L. S. Patriarca, aka., AR."

Reairtels set forth information to the effect that [redacted] respectively, for a local building union, were discussing their problems in the Local with Patriarca. Information was also developed that [redacted] (LNU) and another individual discussed, at great length, an election held by the Union and whether the election was Constitutional. These individuals stated that they wanted to clear with Patriarca before taking any action on their problems.

Inasmuch as their discussion indicates that Patriarca exercises some degree of influence over this Local, you should immediately institute an investigation pursuant to instructions in Bureau airtel to Albany, copies to all offices, January 21, 1962, entitled, "Criminal Influence in Labor Organizations, Criminal Intelligence Program." Investigation should be conducted to identify the individuals and locals involved. Reports should include all information in your files as it relates to these individuals and this Local. A thorough, penetrative investigation is to be conducted to develop a complete, detailed and up-to-date picture of Patriarca's influence in this Local.

In the event information as to possible violations of the Anti-Racketeering, Labor-Management Relations Act of 1947 or Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959 are developed, you should submit reports pursuant to current Bureau instructions in these categories. 92-2961

Re Boston Airtel to Director dated 5-3-62.

On 5-3-62 BS 837-C* advised PATRIARCA talked to an unknown man about bets being placed by a [redacted] who apparently had made a substantial hit. There was some discussion as to what percentage the layoff man would pay on the hit. PATRIARCA told this man to tell the other man (unidentified), the following: RAYMOND doesn't want to make anything but the deal is $8,000 because the other $1,000 is coming out of his pocket. He wants this understood that unknown man gets 40%, not 50, and if he didn't like it with the 40, tell him not to play and everything would be perfect.

[redacted] (lmu) received a loan of $2,500 from PATRIARCA, who said he wanted the money returned soon, as "that guy's got $20,000 of my money, he's got $10,000 for the bid he's supposed to give me in two weeks and I want to be able to get it when I want it," (referring to the loan of $2,500).

On the same date there was further conversation between an unknown man and PATRIARCA concerning a hit in the New Bedford, Mass. area, by a doctor, for a substantial sum. The bookie who took the bet did not have sufficient money to pay the bet. [redacted] a well known book maker from New Bedford, Mass., apparently made inquiry of PATRIARCA as to why this individual was not being paid off. PATRIARCA said he would get ahold of [redacted] right away and see if he will go along with a lesser sum for the doctor.

An unknown man borrowed $1,050 from PATRIARCA and when asked how much it totaled, he replied $5,450. PATRIARCA mentioned that the man wanted to renew the note.

On 5-5-62 the informant advised that an unknown man told PATRIARCA that an unknown man asked how does it look about this stuff moving. There was mention of "down south" and taking 6 or 7 pieces, also mention of $2,500, but the informant was unable to clarify this statement.

An unknown man told PATRIARCA that the election for the union is next Friday, May 11. PATRIARCA told this man that he wants to meet the unknown man, [redacted] and "the other fellow" before the election as he wants everyone to hear what he is going to say. PATRIARCA said after all, the unknown man is his friend and also he is a friend of the other individual. There was a complaint by unknown man and [redacted] did not like the way the unknown man ran the meeting, complaining about noise and the fact that nobody can reach the top men in the union. They talk concerning [redacted] (lnu) who was the "Cumpadre" of unknown man. [redacted] apparently receives a week's pay from the union for work which he never does.

HENRY (probably TAMELEO) told PATRIARCA about [redacted] (lnu) who had to go to Fall River and did not want to carry the action money in the bag over the road. PATRIARCA told HENRY to make sure he takes it back. Apparently the bag contained $800 and [redacted] put the bag in the room and then went to Fall River, leaving the bag unprotected, having got HENRY'S orders mixed up.

HENRY spoke again of a bookie being hit for over $5,000 and not being able to come up with the payoff.

HENRY also mentioned the recent arrests in Chelsea and said "when the pinch came off, it seemed like [redacted] picked who he wanted." After the pinch, it cost so much money they went to see JOE (LOMBARDO) and JOE sent for HENRY. JOE said he couldn't handle it any more so they began to scout around for somebody and when they first laid it off, they lost.

PATRIARCA told HENRY about a good customer who spends, and always has four or five men with him. It appeared that this individual played cards and won $500 and somebody "put the lights out", probably meaning that they took the $500 the man had won, away from him. PATRIARCA was very angry at the unknown individual who was allegedly [redacted], got the money from this individual and gave it to JOE LOMBARDO. JOE LOMBARDO apparently returned it through [redacted] PATRIARCA said that if JOE wanted him to, he would call him down and talk to "this guy" because this was the second time it happened and he did not like it. He later indicated he would go up and "set this guy down" but that now it is all settled, there was no need of it.

On 5-5-62 Informant advised that [redacted] (lnu), who was introduced to PATRIARCA by [redacted] (lnu) told PATRIARCA that [redacted] asked him to take some layoff money which he had formerly given to TOMMY REAN who since died. [redacted] took this action but there was no understanding between them how much would be paid off in case of a hit. The first day they brought the locked bag, [redacted] was not there but the second day he was there and he was hit on two "bird cages" for a total of over $5,200. This hit was made by a doctor. This individual apparently had not been in the booking business, as RAYMOND told him that he had personally checked this business out and it was a good business and that nothing was wrong. It should be noted that this individual might be one of the Greeks in the New Bedford, Mass. area, concerning whom there had been previous discussion between PATRIARCA and Unknown man whereby they were set up to make either $10,000 or $20,000 from two Greeks. PATRIARCA advised [redacted] that he would get in touch with [redacted] to give them his layoff money. He instructed [redacted] to pay only 75, probably meaning 75% of the hit, which was the usual procedure, according to PATRIARCA.

On 5-7-62 unknown man told PATRIARCA that [redacted] had a place lined up for a game, which place was located in a room off a large hall in a veterans' club, in Cambridge. The unknown man offered PATRIARCA 10 or 15%, with no expenses. PATRIARCA told him he could not give him the OK to run until he checked it out.

Unknown man told PATRIARCA about the bookmaking at Suffolk Downs race track and the fact that [redacted] had been put off the track for taking bets.

On the same date, informant advised there was considerable talk between [redacted] (lnu), an unknown man, and PATRIARCA, concerning the coming union election, and a part of this discussion referred to who they thought should run for offices of the union.

Re Boston Airtel dated 5-10-62.

On 5-10-62, BS 837-G* advised that PATRIARCA was complaining to an UNMAN about IRS and pointed out that everything was all right, apparently referring to the IRS investigation relative to the Sherwood Manufacturing Company in which he has an alleged interest and from which he derives a certain income. He said that the people sent it in to Washington but they won't accept it that way, so they "send these guys to find out what its all about." He said that everybody in Washington thinks everybody is crooked.

On 5-11-62 the informant advised that PATRIARCA discussed with UNMAN a still which had apparently been raided by ATU agents. The UNMAN told PATRIARCA that he had contacted the individual who sold the sugar and that he was going to admit he sold the sugar but did not know who he sold it to. PATRIARCA agreed that that was all right, as all he would have to do was pay the fine. PATRIARCA said the case was in court that day, that the government had finished and as far as he knows, they didn't implicate anybody else. The only persons they implicated were [redacted] (ph.). They appeared concerned about whether or not other individuals, not named, would be implicated, specifically referring to a plumber, and someone who could be the plumber's brother-in-law. The plumber apparently did some work on the still but is also going to say that he worked on it but didn't know for whom he worked.

On the same date an UNMAN discussed the bookmaking at Suffolk Downs Race Track. It appeared that [redacted] who is a large bookmaker at the track, had lost a lot of money the previous two or three days. Two other individuals, believed to be [redacted] and [redacted] (lru) won $32,000 on the four horse parlay. It appears that some individual at the track is placing a substantial amount of money on certain long shots just prior to the running of the race, causing the odds to go down. They feel that somebody has a "hot horse" and know that [redacted] has been hit hard financially by taking bets on these horses.

On 5-11-62 PATRIARCA talked with an UNMAN and they discussed an individual believed to be [redacted] who is being brought up on charges, probably of technical rape on a 15 year old girl. PATRIARCA states that [redacted] is in serious trouble and they've got proof. The girl had furnished a signed statement. If they put her on the stand, she is supposed to say that whatever she signed, the cops made her sign. PATRIARCA advises UNMAN not to do anything that day on trying to straighten the situation out but let it go and see what happens in court. The government had apparently rested their case the day previous and the lawyers are moving for dismissal. If they put the case over for trial Monday, they then intend to get ahold of "that guy."

On 5-12-62 an UNMAN and PATRIARCA discussed [redacted] of the Johnston, R.I. branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island (which is a case involving FRA, being investigated by this office). UNMAN has apparently been questioned about a loan of $5,405 from this bank, which he received on 5-13-60. He allegedly deposited $2,000 of this money and went into partnership in the [redacted], probably Johnston, R.I. He denied emphatically that he invested $2,000 in this enterprise and went to [redacted] and assaulted him, in an effort to ascertain who took the money out in his name. It was not clear whether he, himself, had actually borrowed any money from the bank, but he denied to PATRIARCA that he knew anything about the $2,000. [redacted] after being hit a few times, told UNMAN that the account was a secret savings account and when he asked whose account it was, [redacted] UNMAN, whose first name could be [redacted] admitted he could be in a lot of trouble concerning this and was asking PATRIARCA'S advice and said he had two choices, one, being a stool pigeon and admitting who got the loan, or the other choice, to take it "on his own." PATRIARCA suggested to "have him get you off the hook," probably referring to [redacted] PATRIARCA pointed out that unless UNMAN could explain the money, he would be in trouble. UNMAN is apparently not in a position where he could explain the money. [redacted] was a bookmaker in the Rhode Island area and originally borrowed money from [redacted] while he was employed at the Plantations bank. When [redacted] observed other individuals getting loans from this bank he complained to the officials of the bank about the individuals of low repute getting loans. It should be noted that [redacted] paid his loans on time, although he had no security when he borrowed same). PATRIARCA also suggested to UNMAN that he see SOL FRIEDMAN, an attorney that he, PATRIARCA, uses, and find out from him what he should do. PATRIARCA also suggested that he could shake him down, probably referring to [redacted] and make them pay. UNMAN states that he is going to shake this guy, probably referring to [redacted] down, for depositing the $2,000 in a savings account that made it look as though he, UNMAN, deposited the money.

On 5-14-62 informant advised that an UNMAN and PATRIARCA discussed a court trial, probably an ATU case, that is going on in Connecticut. It appeared that the still was "knocked off" on 10-13-61 on which date UNMAN was going to New Bedford with a truck and got four loads of sugar. The sugar they purchased was in 60 lb. bags and PATRIARCA could not understand how they were able to trace the 60 lb. bags to the individual who sold the sugar. It appears that possibly PATRIARCA had an interest in this still and was receiving a piece therefrom.

On the same date an UNMAN who resides in Cranston, R.I., talked about two men in a truck surveilling a house where an unknown woman lives. PATRIARCA told him to get the registration number, as then they would be able to have something to work on and find out what it is all about. [redacted] (lnu) told PATRIARCA he went to Buzzards Bay, Cape Cod, to see a man, but the man does not want to get mixed up in the deal again. PATRIARCA told [redacted] to forget about it.

UNMAN, who apparently is one of the individuals who went down after the sugar for the still in Connecticut, advised PATRIARCA that they must have got the other truck driver named [redacted] (lnu). According to this UNMAN, the sugar could have been bought from a market, location of which was not mentioned, but some of those involved apparently either hung around the market or worked there. No further information developed relative to this phase.

On 5-15-62 BS 837-C* advised that UNMAN told PATRIARCA that JERRY wanted to see him and [redacted] (lnu) at 6 PM at the Chalet Restaurant, Pawtucket, R.I. The arrangements were to be made through SAM GRANITO, but PATRIARCA wanted to meet at 10:00 AM that date and did not want to go to the Chalet Restaurant.

UNMAN advised PATRIARCA that [redacted] shook down a Saugus, Mass. bookmaker, not further identified, for $150.00 a week, apparently to book at Wonderland Dog Track, Revere, Mass. He had first asked for $400 but the book maker said all he could afford was $150, to which [redacted] agreed. The following day [redacted] Revere PD, threw [redacted] off the track but the bookmaker still pays him. This bookmaker has a TV store in Saugus, Mass., and according to UNMAN, very few people know he is a bookie but he has a very good business.

UNMAN told PATRIARCA that the International Clam House, which is owned by [redacted] and four or five other legitimate individuals, is running after hours in Revere, Mass and [redacted] gets $200 a week from this enterprise and [redacted] of [redacted] Providence, R.I., also derives an unspecified income from this same enterprise.

BS 837-G* further advised that UNMAN told PATRIARCA that his cafe in Boston, Mass., has lost a terrific amount of business, that he had formerly done a gross volume of $5,000 per week but now is down to $1,200 to $1,400 and losing approximately $800 per week. The UNMAN said that JERRY ANGUILO told him that the lack of business was due to the Peppermint Lounge, which is apparently located in the immediate vicinity of one of JERRY ANGUILO'S bars.

The informant also said that investigators shut down [redacted] (lnu) who, according to UNMAN, had ex-Police Commissioner SULLIVAN "lined up pretty good." [redacted] apparently had numerous connections in the city and was able to operate illegitimately, probably as an after hours joint. UNMAN said the card and crap games at the Sherry Biltmore and the Touraine hotels, both Boston, Mass., were not in operation the previous night.

UNMAN said that JERRY had "$2,000,000 on the street", probably meaning that he had $2,000,000 out on loan to various individuals in this vicinity.

According to informant, UNMAN stated that times are getting very tough in Boston, and pointed out that the captains of the various divisions, probably of the Boston PD, have refused to take money from bookmakers. He stated that one individual, [redacted] was told by the captain that he, the captain, would not accept any more money for protection, however, [redacted] was able to pay off the sergeants and continue operation. A complaint came in and the captain, believing a particular sergeant was still taking money from [redacted] assigned him the case and subsequently the sergeant to whom the money was being furnished, had to make the arrest of [redacted]. The UNMAN said that complaints on booking are investigated by the local division and if it appears to be a "white wash" another squad, probably from the headquarters division, will re-check the complaint. He indicated that because of this, complaints are being properly investigated by the local divisions. It should be noted that this apparently is a new system installed in the Boston PD by the present Commissioner EDMUND L. McNAMARA, a former Agent of this office. UNMAN said that Boston will soon be as tough as Providence to operate in.

UNMAN was instructed by PATRIARCA to contact [redacted] (lnu) that night, and if "he", probably a witness in a trial in Connecticut concerning illegal liquor, had not testified as yet, he was to be contacted. It appeared that the witness had previously identified a photograph of one of the Subjects. Purpose of the contact was to request the witness to admit identifying the Subject from the photograph, but to state when observing him in court, that he did not look like the man he had identified from the photograph.

On 5-16-62 the informant advised that an UNMAN told PATRIARCA that "they", probably IRS, had been checking the South County Sand & Gravel Company and had investigators there for a week. They were of the opinion that the investigation of this company is being conducted on the basis of someone observing D & H Wrecking Company trucks at the plant and they were attempting to ascertain whether any work was performed by South County Sand & Gravel Company for any of PATRIARCA'S enterprises and whether this work was paid and not shown on the company's books. There was mention of one job in which the South County Sand & Gravel Company performed for PATRIARCA but the identity of this job was not specified.

On the same date [] (lmu) advised PATRIARCA that he was called by an unidentified man, saying that he was in trouble with [] about the welfare payments, and requested [] assistance. [] advised him that he was no longer connected with the wrecking company but he would talk it over with a friend of his. This man then told [] that the federal men were down checking the D & H Wrecking Company books for a job they did at State Prison; they also were checking the County Sand & Gravel books for the same job. UNMAN asked PATRIARCA if he had anything to do with [redacted] as far as making some money with him at the track. PATRIARCA replied in the negative and UNMAN told him that a bookie employed by [redacted] at the track, by the name of [redacted] was past posting his boss, [redacted] using this method, for a couple thousand dollars.

SAM GRANITO advised PATRIARCA that "they" not further identified, sent for him. GRANITO, and "this has got to be said confidentially because [redacted] is ..." (rest of sentence not heard by informant). GRANITO continued, telling PATRIARCA "the next thing is about some fellow who owes you 5 G's, [redacted] (lhu). It appeared that this [redacted] went to jail two years ago and never did pay the $5,000. The significance of this conversation was not obtained by the informant. However there was talk between PATRIARCA and GRANITO about going to New York and PATRIARCA staying at the Astor Hotel where he is not known too well. PATRIARCA suggested they would be better off staying in separate hotels, to which GRANITO agreed, indicating that he usually stays at the Manhattan. There was no specific date mentioned. It should be noted that the New York Office was advised telephonically of this information, on 5-18-62.

PATRIARCA stated that in regard to [redacted] (ph.), [redacted] are in the same business and are cutting into his customers. It appeared that JERRY (ANGUILLO) talked to [redacted] at one time and [redacted] said to "let it go." PATRIARCA said he was going to meet JERRY ANGUILLO on the evening of 5-17-62 and GRANITO was supposed to make sure of the arrangements for this meet.

On the same date HENRY TAMBLEO and PATRIARCA talked to an UNMAN who claimed that a loan would be straightened out in two weeks.

On the same date PATRIARCA told TAMBLEO that he does not want to have anything to do with "those guys" (not identified) any more, because they used to go to him, borrow money and use PATRIARCA'S name, when he did not know anything about it. One of the individuals he referred to was [redacted] (lhu) from Maine. PATRIARCA indicated he was going to straighten out this deal, referring to the [redacted] apparently lost $12,000. He instructed HENRY that if he was asked, he was to say he gave the money to PATRIARCA and if they want to know where the money went to, they can see him, PATRIARCA.

HENRY states that he is going to give [redacted] (ph.) $500 and counts out money which he gave to PATRIARCA, exact amount of which was not learned by the informant. PATRIARCA indicated that he put [redacted] (lhu) in his place, but did not indicate the reason therefor.

On the same date an UNMAN requested PATRIARCA for a loan of $10,000 at 1% a week. He pointed out that he is friendly with a [redacted] (ph.) and a fellow named [redacted] (ph.), from Newark, N.J. [redacted] is the owner of a company which manufactures prefabricated motels. He, the UNMAN, has a location on the Cape with a 99 year lease and [redacted] is sending him up a 30 unit motel to be ready by July 1. The only thing necessary was a $10,000 guarantee, which UNMAN had been promised by a lawyer. However, the night previous, the lawyer called him and told him, because of the fact he is about to go away to jail, he will not put up the $10,000 guarantee. UNMAN indicated to PATRIARCA that he could have a piece of this motel if he would put up the guarantee. PATRIARCA instructed UNMAN to see JERRY that night at 11:00 or after, as he, PATRIARCA, was going to see him at 6:30 and discuss the guarantee with him.

On the same date an UNMAN told PATRIARCA that [redacted] Revere, Mass., stopped [redacted] and told him to cut it out, apparently referring to his gambling activities.

PATRIARCA told UNMAN that [redacted] received a 6 month sentence in Delaware and stated that KENNEDY, referring to The Attorney General, has got everybody working - "he's got more laws and pretty soon you won't be able to do nothing." He also stated they are antagonizing JERRY ANGUILLO.

On 5-21-62, BS 837-C* advised that PATRIARCA told UNMAN that his wife is now a patient at the New England Baptist Hospital in Boston.

On the same date, UNMAN and PATRIARCA discussed loans to [redacted] (lnu). It appears that another UNMAN opened up a joint and they discussed the possibility of "busting it up" and splitting $200 or $300.

On the same date an UNMAN, who apparently is a builder, discussed with PATRIARCA the fact that he is building $40,000 worth of houses and needs $7,000 or $7,200 in this connection. He requested a loan of this amount from PATRIARCA.

On the same date [redacted] (lnu) and PATRIARCA discussed the collection of some money from a [redacted] which debt is approximately four years old. [redacted] in order to collect it from him but was unsuccessful.

UNMAN accused [] of calling the elections "a game for the suckers." [] denied this and criticism was made of him by others present, about the way he ran the election. They then discussed the criminal record of [] (lmu) and some were of the opinion that because of his criminal record, he could not run for office. [] had been given advice by unknown individuals that the circumstances surrounding his arrest record did not bar him from holding an office in the union. However [] and others were of the opinion the record did bar him. [] of obtaining a lawyer who would interpret the constitution of the union relative to this phase, in such manner that it would coincide with [] plan to bar him from office. UNMAN mentioned that the FBI was checking it. [] replied that as far as he was concerned he had nothing to do with it. [] was of the opinion that [] tipped off the FBI and an argument ensued. PATRIARCA interjected "Let's not argue that point, let's get on with this meeting"

During the conversation an UNMAN said "I rigged the '57 election, I rigged the convention." The rest of the sentence was inaudible. [] indicated he wanted no trouble and that everything was going to be OK. PATRIARCA suggested that there were a couple of things he could have done, and mentioned a job for "him" (not further identified.) Informant was unable to obtain the significance of this statement.

[] said he filed a protest, as did another man, and that his was not even considered, whereas the other man's was. He accused [] (lmu) of throwing the protest away.

The form used in the election was made up by the Boston chapter of the union and not the international. There was a question about a criminal record, which [] was of the opinion, was illegal. He believes he could have answered the question on the International form, as having no criminal record, because it was over five years ago, whereas the form used in this election was more specific as to time and he would have had to show he had a criminal record.

After considerable argument as to the criminal record of [] and opinions of various lawyers as to this, [] asked PATRIARCA who he wanted to nominate and suggested the name [] (lmu). PATRIARCA replied "Well, we decided that before, let [] pick them." PATRIARCA criticized the group and said he thought it a disgrace and that they should get along and not cause all this trouble. UNMAN said if they all want to agree in front of PATRIARCA, he can control [] who is running for Vice President against [] (ph.) and he would ... (rest of this conversation inaudible). Several in the group replied "no, no, no."

UNMAN suggested they get ahold of "that guy" and not ask him if he wants to quit, but tell him he has to quit. PATRIARCA replied "There are kids who you can't talk to, they talk to their wives and I don't want to get in the jackpot." This individual had previously come in to PATRIARCA and asked him whether he should run for office and PATRIARCA told him if he wanted to, to go ahead. PATRIARCA then suggests to "let it go either way, let it take its normal course."

On 5-28-62 PATRIARCA told UNMAN that he had some bad news about his wife, who is in the New England Baptist Hospital, Boston, Mass. He did not specify what this news specifically was. Because of her condition, PATRIARCA has been visiting his wife at Boston, Mass., and spending little time at his place of business.

It is noted that Mrs. HELEN PATRIARCA has been confined at the New England Baptist Hospital, Boston, since 5/17/62 under the supervision of [redacted] well known chest physician and operator of the Thoracic Clinic in Boston. [redacted] has advised that the exact problem of Mrs. PATRIARCA has not been determined, that she is suffering severe asthmatic condition and has black outs. They plan on performing various tests to determine the exact illness.

With reference to the conversation relative to union matters, it is pointed out that this conversation ties in with previous information furnished by BS 837-C* and reported to the Bureau. As a result of such report, by Bureau letter of 5/8/62 the Boston Office was requested to conduct investigation.

The Bureau letter was captioned "Criminal Infiltration in Building Unions in Rhode Island, AR." As a result of such investigation, a report is in the process of being prepared for the Bureau and the investigation revealed that the union involved is the International Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers Union of America - AFL, Local 271. This union is commonly referred to as the laborers union and is located at 37 Clemence Street, Providence, R. I. The following personnel operate the union:

President
Business Agent
Assistant Business Agent
Financial Secretary

[redacted] frequently referred to in the conversations, is believed to be [redacted] who is opposing [redacted] for the presidency.

5-22-62 [redacted] (lnu) requested a loan of an undetermined amount from PATRIARCA, stating he has bills to pay at his cafe or bar. PATRIARCA refused him, stating all his cash is going out for doctors and lawyers. It should be noted that PATRIARCA'S wife is presently a patient at the New England Baptist Hospital, Boston, Mass.

[redacted] said that a legitimate guy told him about an individual (not identified) and said if there ever was a stool pigeon, this is the guy, that he gets away with murder and when he got arrested with a girl and another fellow, he apparently was the only one to be released.

PATRIARCA discussed an individual named [redacted] who was arrested in Providence, sticking up a 5 & 10¢ Store. PATRIARCA indicated that this guy, probably referring to the stool pigeon, had possibly tipped the "law" off relative to [redacted] as he was staying with [redacted] in Providence at the time. [] told PATRIARCA that he was going to find it difficult during the weekdays, on account of [] "who was booking down there wide open."

PATRIARCA told [] that eventually "he" (not identified) would go up there, that they called him last week and he invited the guy to come down here and have dinner with him. Some guy asked [] if it was all right and this individual told them "You know that PATRIARCA put me in this business, he put up the money, it's OK for me." PATRIARCA was disturbed with this individual for making the above statement.

UNMAN counted money and gave same to PATRIARCA at the same time mentioning the figure of 545. UNMAN said that a guy gave him a check for $700 and he gave it to [] the previous evening. UNMAN talked about an unidentified individual he was looking for and called him "a mystery man." UNMAN had three checks and he did not want "to push them in." UNMAN said that JERRY (possibly ANGUILLO) wants to buy the Hotel Berkely, Boston, Mass.

On 5-23-62, UNMAN told PATRIARCA that "they" not further identified, opened up last night. He had put $6,000 into his own game and only has $1,000 left. A bookie, not further identified, had borrowed $500 in advance and UNMAN had to shut him off.

HENRY TAMELEO told PATRIARCA that [] is talking too much up there and complained that you can not talk to this fellow, as you tell him something one day and the next day he does not do what he has been told.

TAMELEO told PATRIARCA that they are worried about the driver, not further identified; that the driver's wife keeps calling SAM and saying that her husband might go to jail. TAMELEO offers his assistance but adds that he is afraid to talk to this individual, as he does not want to get implicated.

On the same date, UNMAN told PATRIARCA that he wants to straighten this thing out, that he tried to do the right thing but had got implicated without knowing the facts. UNMAN heard from another source that PATRIARCA was angry at this deal. UNMAN claims to have only derived $400 with [] from the deal. [] got $8,000 and UNMAN said that [] must have robbed [] and UNMAN. PATRIARCA asked UNMAN, "Who is the one that suggested to come down and see me and tell me it was a legitimate bet and not to let me know they beat the guy? I put the money out, I OK'd it and had to wait three months before he paid me." UNMAN replied: "I thought you knew all about it."

PATRIARCA said "Nobody said anything to me, they come down here and use me as an out-and-out sucker, they never would have got the money from [redacted] if" (rest inaudible). There was mention by PATRIARCA, of putting money out and OKing it. UNMAN said that he only got $400 out of it. PATRIARCA asked who told UNMAN that "we got the money." UNMAN replied "I think it was [redacted] but I'm not sure. There was [redacted] had the money." PATRIARCA said they wouldn't have collected a dime if it wasn't for him and further, they would have got a beating on top of it. UNMAN professed his complete innocence and also said that [redacted] is innocent. Rest of conversation inaudible but UNMAN was heard to say that [redacted] got $1,200 and had to cut it in half with "the Greek."

Re Boston Airtel 5/29/62.

BS 837-C* advised on 5/29/62 that RAYMOND told UNMAN that his wife is scheduled to be operated on either Friday or Monday for the removal of one of her lungs believed to be cancerous.

UNMAN told RAYMOND that he would like to retain Sherwood, possibly referring to the Sherwood Mfg., Co. of which PATRIARCA allegedly has an interest, and that he desired to clear with RAYMOND first. They discussed selling some equipment in the plant and RAYMOND suggested to get a hold of SOL FRIEDMAN and obtain his advice as to what they were going to do. RAYMOND did not want to antagonize the Government and believed that he might if he closed the plant. He stated that, "If we have to pay them, we'll give them the whole joint."

[] (LNU) gave RAYMOND $1,875 consisting of $1,000 from [] $300 from [] (LNU), and the source of the remaining part was not heard by the informant. [] said, "The only thing that I should be bringing up to you is a couple of thousand from []" and added, "We pulled a boner; we could have taken over twenty-five grand," and the rest of the sentence was not heard by the informant.

[] asked RAYMOND if he could quit running the game. He had lost $24,000 and RAYMOND, after adding up figures, said "It's almost thirty thousand. If they said that anyone lost that kind of money you wouldn't believe it." [] complained about his bad luck not only at the game but also at the horses, and said that he had to get out of the game. RAYMOND told him it was alright to get out. [] also indicated that he was going to bring suit against some insurance people inasmuch as they had not settled a claim that he has had for some time.

[] asked RAYMOND to intercede with [] (ph) on behalf of a friend from Boston who was getting charged 5 per cent a week for a loan. RAYMOND told him to see JERRY (ANGIULO) to square it off.

[] asked RAYMOND, "Did you get to New York yet?" RAYMOND replied that he was supposed to go and may have to go this weekend, but as yet he did not get the word on it. He may not have to go this week.

Re Boston Airtel 5/31/62.

On 6/1/62 BS 837-C* advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA's wife had been operated on in the New England Baptist Hospital and the operation was termed a success. Because of this, RAYMOND is spending a substantial amount of his time in Boston.

On 5/31/62 informant advised that two UNMEN and RAYMOND discussed another man, whose identity is unknown, who "did not want to come up with it." This man had something to do with a game but his name, place or further information was not heard by the informant.

On the same date, UNMAN told RAYMOND, in referring to the Hancock Race Track, that [redacted] is pulling out, [redacted] is pulling out and that "We're going to sell some of the other stock and get our money out."

On the same date, an UNMAN visited RAYMOND and counted over one hundred bills, but the conversation concerning this matter was not heard by the informant.

On 6/4/62 the informant advised UNMAN told RAYMOND that they ran out of watches and that "the only bad thing so far is that we got the guy coming in tonight." Most of this conversation was not heard by the informant, but there was talk about bringing the watches in and putting them together and having them polished. An [redacted] from New York called UNMAN in relation to 20,000 watches at two dollars and (blank) cents per watch. UNMAN was offered 5,000 watches by another individual at $3.90 per watch.

On the same date, another UNMAN told RAYMOND that if he had any more trouble with this guy, not further identified, he will, "put a laundry bag over his head and deliver him." The informant was unable to obtain further detail concerning this information.

[redacted] (LNU) and [redacted] told RAYMOND that an individual by the name of [redacted] (LNU), who was a partner of [redacted] had placed a bet at the track with [redacted] on the Twin Double. After either the 2nd or 3rd race of this Twin Double, [redacted] claimed that he had told [redacted] that he bet on Number Eight horse. [redacted] had marked on his program that he had bet on the Number Nine horse and, consequently, the bet was lost. Prior to the start of the last race, [redacted] told [redacted] to settle the argument with [redacted] by offering him $1,000. [redacted] refused this offer. The remaining horse of the Twin Double came in and the total payoff was $4,680. There was considerable argument between [redacted] and [redacted]. [redacted] threatened to go to RAYMOND PATRIARCA and [redacted] told him to "go ahead and see him." Because of this they wanted to explain their position in the bet to RAYMOND.

They explained to RAYMOND that on three different occasions during the recent past this same [redacted] has claimed to have bet a larger amount of money on a particular horse than he had originally placed. Because these bets have been relatively small, they gave him the benefit of the doubt and paid him off. However, they do not want to pay off this particular debt because they believe [redacted] had not made a mistake in writing the names of the horses furnished to him by [redacted]. RAYMOND told him that the same individual had also cheated [redacted] (LNU) about 4 years ago in the same manner, and in the past has cheated [redacted] (LNU) and [redacted] (LNU). RAYMOND told [redacted] and [redacted] that they should not pay [redacted] anything.

The informant advised that UNMAN discussed various testimony in the trial concerning the illicit still in Connecticut. UNMAN told RAYMOND that the Judge said that the mere purchase of sugar and bottles is no violation of the law unless the Government can prove that the particular sugar and bottles were used in the manufacture of illicit alcohol. RAYMOND stated that this trial had cost them $6,000.

On the same date, RAYMOND told UNMAN that "We blew 30 big ones. [redacted] quit and then [redacted] and I (RAYMOND) took a little shot and won a 'G' note." He continued by saying that, "We lost thirty thousand, that's what happens."

A copy of this Airtel is being furnished to New York Office inasmuch as the name of [redacted] possibly a jewelry broker in New York, was mentioned as a source of 20,000 cheap watches.

Will reinterview [redacted] for specifics on the following points of interest in this investigation:

1. How does [redacted] know that subject is head of the "MAFIA" in the New England area as described by [redacted] in New Haven letter dated 4/3/62, captioned, "[redacted] IGA - Lottery Numbers".

[redacted] should be requested to document his statement re subject being the head of the "MAFIA" in New England along with other information about any other individuals in Rhode Island being members of the "MAFIA" along with subject.

2. [redacted] should be requested to furnish in detail the manner in which [redacted] is under the control of subject, how [redacted] became associated with subject, and exactly how he came to be under subject's control, and particularly how did subject gain control of 50 per cent of the proceeds of [redacted] lottery, and how does [redacted] make his payment to subject.

If [redacted] can prove that subject has 50 per cent control of [redacted] lottery, then [redacted] should be interviewed concerning lottery operation of [redacted] to positively determine if [redacted] is violating the Federal gambling statutes.

3. In addition, [redacted] should be exhaustively interviewed concerning any activities, legal or illegal, in which he knows that subject may be engaged, including his association with known racketeers and hoodlums, and his connection, if any, with these known racketeers and hoodlums.

It is to be noted that RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA is one of the prime targets of the U. S. Attorney General, and an active investigation is being conducted by the Boston Office.

ADMINISTRATIVE:

Careful consideration has been given to all sources concealed and T symbols were utilized only in those instances where it was necessary to conceal the identity of the source.

The identity of the employee of the [redacted] at New Bedford, Mass., as referred to in the details of this report is [redacted] who was contacted by SA [redacted] and [redacted] who requested her identity be protected. b6 b7C b7D

It is to be noted that [redacted] JOHN W. CAIN and Sons (Insurance), 462 Spring St., Fall River, Mass., has been previously interviewed, and the results of this interview have been furnished the Bureau in previous reports. b6 b7C

On 5/3/62, PCI [redacted] New Jersey, advised SA [redacted] that he could not identify the photo of [redacted] Providence, R.I., and had never seen this individual to his knowledge. b6 b7C b7D

[redacted] could not recall the names, but said that the photos of HENRY TAMELEO, 48 Betsey Williams Drive, Cranston, R.I., and [redacted], Providence, R.I., looked familiar to him.

[redacted] thinks that TAMELEO is the same individual that he recalls as a frequent visitor at the Tremont Street office of JOHN BUCCELLI in Boston, Mass., when BUCCELLI was subject PATRIARCA's chief lieutenant in that area prior to 1954. He does not know the exact purpose of TAMELEO's visits to BUCCELLI, but assumes that TAMELEO was acting as a contact man or messenger between PATRIARCA in Providence and BUCCELLI in Boston.

Regarding [redacted] this PCI said that this individual was never in the Boston area to his knowledge, but he recalls seeing [redacted] PATRIARCA's place of business at Providence on a couple of occasions when [redacted] contacted PATRIARCA at the request of JOHN BUCCELLI after his incarceration. He has no knowledge of the position that [redacted] held in subject PATRIARCA's organization, and never actually met this individual.

H.

The PCI advised that he had recently received information from [redacted] that JACKIE GREENBERG had died two or three months ago in New York City and since this possible source was no longer available, he had tried to think of some other source that might be willing to furnish information regarding the activities of JOHN BUCCELLI and subject PATRIARCA. He recalls that [redacted] Providence, R.I., had been a "messenger boy" between PATRIARCA and JOHN BUCCELLI at one time, and that [redacted] had apparently been extremely fond of BUCCELLI and had broken with PATRIARCA after BUCCELLI was murdered. The PCI feels that [redacted] might be willing to furnish information against PATRIARCA on a confidential basis if he can now be located.

The PCI advised that [redacted] might also be willing to tell the FBI what he knows regarding the past operations of [redacted] JOHN BUCCELLI, and RAYMOND PATRIARCA if contacted confidentially. [redacted] having remained in the Boston area, is in a better position to know details regarding [redacted] business dealings and he knows that "WHIMPY" BENNETT, former partner [redacted] was recently in contact with [redacted] trying to get [redacted] to come see him. "WHIMPY," for some reason unknown to the PCI, but that [redacted] refused to meet with "WHIMPY" indicating that he did not wish to get involved with [redacted] old associates.

The PCI also states that [redacted] still has occasional contact with [redacted] former girl friend, [redacted] and might be able to locate her for the FBI if an interview with [redacted] is contemplated.

The PCI advised that [redacted] is not living with [redacted] and apparently does not want any [redacted] to know his current address since he is living with some woman, but that [redacted] has told him that he can always be contacted by phone at his place of employment, the [redacted] Dorchester, Mass.

PCI [redacted] requested that if [redacted] or [redacted] were contacted by the FBI, it should not be revealed to either that he suggested them as possible sources regarding [redacted] and PATRIARCA.

On 5/24/62, [redacted] advised that at 11:30 a.m., this date, RAYMOND PATRIARCA had departed for Boston, Mass., driving a 1961 Cadillac, green, four door, bearing R.I. Reg. 900.

PATRIARCA was alone in this car and was traveling to Boston, Mass., to meet some friends, names not mentioned by PATRIARCA, but possibly JERRY ANGEULO and TEDDY FUCILLO; that he was going to stop in the Hanover and Commercial street areas of the North End of Boston and would then visit his wife who is confined in a hospital in Boston, Mass.

It is to be noted that R.I. Reg. 900 is issued to Trinity Auto Sales, Broad St., Providence, R.I., which used car agency [redacted] who is a good friend of PATRIARCA.

On 5/24/62, [redacted] advised PATRIARCA had discussed the recent newspaper publicity in R.I., concerning the gambling raids by IRS and the concern over this matter by the Chief of Police in R.I. in that they have not been consulted prior to the raids. PATRIARCA made reference to the "crap game" in North Providence, R.I., and indicated that the game would continue to operate regardless of newspaper publicity.

Informant advised he had no information that the "crap game" in North Providence, R.I., is interstate in nature and to date it appears to be only of a local nature.

On 5/8/62, a conference was held with [redacted] IRS, 544 Elmwood Ave., Providence, R.I., at which time general discussion was had with [redacted] concerning subject, but no pertinent developments were noted at this meeting and nothing was learned which is not already known by the Bureau.

On 5/10, 5/16, and 5/22/62, conferences were had with [redacted] U. S. Attorney, Providence, R.I., at his request in regard to RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA. During these conferences a general discussion was had with [redacted] concerning subject, but no pertinent developments were noted at these meetings, and nothing was learned which is not already known by the Bureau.

The interview of [redacted] West Hartford, Connecticut, as conducted by SA [redacted] was furnished the Boston Office under New Haven letter dated 4/30/62, entitled, "[redacted] - IGA - Numbers Lottery," Bosfile 162-145, New Haven file 162-76, Bufile 162-509.

This letter further advised [redacted] Sports Nook Tavern, 23 Park St., Hartford, Conn., and was a bookie and heavy bettor on horse races. In December, 1960, [] suffered a stroke and as a result has not been active in either business or gambling activities.

According to the New Haven Division, [] was most friendly and cooperative and invited further interviews.

The complete interview of []
[] West Hartford, Conn., is reported on page 45
of the report of SA [] dated 5/15/62, captioned,

It is to be noted by the Bureau that spot checks were made in the general area of subject's hangout and registration numbers obtained and persons identified from these registrations for the purpose of trying to help BS 837-C* identify some of the individuals who are in contact with subject at his hangout.

It is also to be noted that since the cars were parked in the general area, it does not necessarily mean that all of those persons were with subject at his hangout.

MISCELLANEOUS

BS 92-118

The following information was obtained from [redacted] Credit Bureau of Greater Fall River, 146 North Main Street, Fall River, Massachusetts, by SA [redacted] on April 18, 1962, concerning the Swan Finishing Company, 11 Ledge Road, Swansea, Massachusetts:

President RALPH GUERRIERO, S. FRED DONNER, Secretary and Treasurer, engaged in the dyeing and finishing of textile goods and manufacture throughout the United States. It is listed as a Rhode Island corporation chartered July 30, 1958, with an initial investment of $100,000 derived from bank loans, the savings of officers GUERRIERO and [redacted] and other outside investments from undetermined persons. In 1961 GUERRIERO bought out other principle interests for $35,000 at which time S. FRED DONNER was elected to the position of Secretary and Treasurer. RALPH GUERRIERO was born 1909 in Italy. He was employed as a truck driver from 1937 to 1947 by the Amity Dyeing and Finishing Company, Long Island, New York. In 1947 to 1949 he was also employed as a truck driver by the Pilgrim Piece Dye Works, Brooklyn, New York. From 1949 to 1958 he was employed in the Texlane Dye and Finishing Company, Brooklyn, New York, holding 50 per cent of the investment. From 1958 to date he has been employed at the Swan Finishing Company, Swansea, Massachusetts.

S. FRED DONNER, born 1900 employed by the Harrisville Company, Harrisville, Rhode Island, and the Kenyon Mills of Pascoag, Rhode Island, is listed as office manager, secretary, and treasurer of the Swan Finishing Company. Their financial sales are listed as $600,000 received to profit $30,000 income to the principles and a profit of $15,000 retained in the business. The original charter listed the preferred capital of 300 shares at $100 each, 500 common shares no par value. In 1959 the president and treasurer of the concern was listed as [redacted] Fall River, Massachusetts.

On April 20, 1962, BS T-5 provided information that [redacted] is now the "big man" in the race wire service business in southern New England.

According to informant, [] is regarded as only the front man for RAYMOND PATRIARCA who has moved in and taken over the race wire service business in southern New England. This informant states [] is supposedly servicing approximately 200 bookmakers and that they pay $50 per week every Friday for the race results and that the results are given from telephone number "WI 2-7990," which is the Hill Road Publishing and News Company, Gansett Avenue, Cranston, Rhode Island.

Informant provided additional information to the effect that individuals connected with this race wire business are trying to obtain a source in the Providence Police Department as well as the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. These individuals also feel that Colonel WALTER E. STONE of the Providence, Rhode Island, Police Department, is cooperating with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) investigators in Rhode Island and is furnishing the locations of bookmakers to the IRS. As a result of this, these individuals are trying to get some individual in the Providence Police Department who may try to furnish them with information as to the extent or knowledge of book making activities that Colonel STONE might possess. According to informant, Colonel STONE is aware of this attempt by certain individuals to penetrate his department in regard to booking activities.

Informant provided additional information to the effect that [] is presently servicing the Fall River and New Bedford, Massachusetts area, and the Westerly, Providence, North Providence, and Pawtucket, Rhode Island areas since RAYMOND PATRIARCA took over this business.

According to informant, it was also learned that if some of the small bookmakers were slow in making their weekly payments, that [] and [] would use force or threaten these individuals to make their payments and keep them current. They are alleged to have threatened some of these bookmakers by saying they would pull the telephones from their establishments themselves if they did not pay their $50 a week for service. Informant was unable to furnish any specific details nor could informant identify any individuals who had been threatened at this time.

On May 16, 1962, BS T-8 advised that THEODORE FUCILLO, 139 Fellis Avenue, Medford, Massachusetts, an associate of PATRIARCA and an individual active in gambling circles in Greater Boston, is apparently active for PATRIARCA in the hotel supply business which he believes is known as the Eastern Hotel Supply Company. BS T-8 stated that recently the company employed [redacted] on a drawing account basis of more than $200 a week. It is noted that [redacted] Milton, Massachusetts, is connected with [redacted] [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, which firm engages in the wholesale furniture business for hotels, motels, and so forth.

FUCILLO recently negotiated the purchase of more than 75 rooms of furniture from a manufacturer who was going out of business in Webster, Massachusetts. The cost was about $16,000 which was 25 per cent below cost. Ten rooms of this furniture are being sold to the Hotel Touraine in Boston for $4,200, and seven rooms are being sold at Cape Cod. FUCILLO is negotiating for a furniture franchise; and, inasmuch as the present operating expenses of the company are about $700 weekly, he is arranging for loans through [redacted] [redacted] Loan Department, State Street Bank and Trust Company.

It is noted that the records of the Department of Corporations, State House, Boston, Massachusetts, failed to reflect that the Eastern Hotel Supply Company is incorporated in Massachusetts.

On May 23, 1962, BS T-9 advised that PATRIARCA is very much interested in [redacted] and [redacted]. These three individuals are presently confined in the Massachusetts State Prison at Norfolk, Massachusetts, having plead guilty to extortion charges. SAMUEL GRANITO and THEODORE FUCILLO, associates of PATRIARCA, have been exercising efforts to effect the release of these individuals on parole. In such efforts, the services of PATRICK "SONNY" McDONOUGH of the Massachusetts Governor's Council are being used, and the latter has been in touch with [redacted] of the Massachusetts Board of Parole.

BS T-9 advised that it appeared that [redacted] would be paroled; however, District Attorney GARRETT BYRNE of Boston, Massachusetts, submitted a strong objection thereto.

JBG:rar

BS T-9 advised that SAMUEL GRANITO apparently paid several thousands of dollars to Attorney [redacted] when he, GRANITO, was paroled, and since that time has become personally-acquainted with [redacted] of the Parole Board. In such acquaintances [redacted] has assured GRANITO that GRANITO will never have to worry about being reported as a parole violator as long as he [redacted]. GRANITO has indicated that [redacted] is very close to Judge FRANK J. "DAISY" DONAHUE who sentenced [redacted] and the others. MASS

BS T-9 advised that FUCILLO learned that one member of the Parole Board was against the parole of [redacted] and Governor's Counsel McDONOUGH was arranging for the board's decision to be held up so that pressure could be brought to bear on this member. The pressure was probably going to be exercised by other members of the Governor's Council. MASS

It is pointed out that [redacted] of Parole, State House, Boston, Massachusetts, advised SA [redacted] that the granting of parole involves the interviewing of the inmates prior thereto; that the Board saw [redacted] on April 3, 1962, and denied his application; that it also saw [redacted] also known as [redacted] and denied their application on May 7, 1962. [redacted] pointed out that these individuals cannot be considered for parole again until one year has elapsed. He stated that there are no unusual sponsors for the parole of these individuals and that the sponsors consist of relatives and individuals of the religious vocation. He pointed out that in June, 1961, District Attorney BYRNE had requested the penal authorities to keep him informed of the identities of visitors to these individuals while they were confined and that this has been done. Further, that District Attorney BYRNE submitted a very strong protest against the release of these individuals on parole.

It is noted that District Attorney BYRNE advised SA [redacted] that he had been telephonically contacted by the Parole Board relative to the application of parole of these individuals and had responded to the effect that the decision was to be made by the Board. However, shortly thereafter he received an anonymous letter indicating that these individuals were being paroled, and a $10,000 payoff was involved, $5,000 of which was going to [redacted]. Because of such a letter, he, [redacted] immediately submitted a strong letter of protest to the parole authorities as to the parole of these individuals.

On May 10, 1962, BS T-10 advised that recently PATRIARCA was interested in a local criminal case involving three individuals, and efforts were being exercised to pay off the Assistant District Attorney who was handling the prosecution. About $1,000 was to be the amount involved, and the District Attorney was hesitant about taking it. BS T-10 pointed out that PATRIARCA was insistent on the payoff as he felt that then the Attorney would be compromised and could be used in the future.

BS T-10 further advised that PATRIARCA is very friendly with [redacted] a former State Representative in Rhode Island, and now attached to the Attorney General's Office in that State. [redacted] has told PATRIARCA that the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) was checking on the State Representatives.

On May 16, 1962, BS T-11 advised that recently the Sherwood Manufacturing Company received a notice from the IRS advising that the latter agency was keeping its case open against Sherwood for another three years. Apparently this notice requires the consent of the tax payer and PATRIARCA consulted his attorney thereon. As a result of such contact, PATRIARCA was attempting to get in touch with [redacted] former IRS employee who was supposed to have had this particular case taken care of. The contact with [redacted] was being made through JERRY ANGIULO, and BS T-11 said that PATRIARCA was very much concerned about the tax case.

BS T-12 advised that Agent [redacted] of the IRS was on a special assignment in the Rhode Island area to handle the tax investigation of the Sherwood Manufacturing Company, 75 Eagle Street, Providence, Rhode Island. Upon completion of the investigation, [redacted] proceeded to the Seattle, Washington Office of IRS on transfer. The report of Agent [redacted] recommended that the case against Sherwood be closed; however, the recommendation was not accepted, and investigation into the Sherwood Manufacturing Company will be continued. The re-investigation has been assigned to [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island. In the course of [redacted] investigation it is contemplated to probe PATRIARCA's relationship with the Sherwood firm, inasmuch as PATRIARCA is allegedly employed thereby as Sales Manager.

BS T-13 advised on May 15, 1962, that PATRIARCA was disturbed over the local Grand Jury's returning an indictment against RUDY SCIARA for the murder of JACKIE NAZARIAN as he, PATRIARCA, understood that very little evidence had been presented to the Grand Jury, and PATRIARCA is having SCIARA's attorney, CHARLES CURRAN, find out what went wrong with the Grand Jury.

BS T-13 further advised that [redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island, indicated to him that NAZARIAN was a "good kid" at one time but got what he was looking for, and it was his own fault. [redacted] indicated that NAZARIAN was going around threatening people with injury and damage to their property unless they paid him money; that one individual paid NAZARIAN several hundred dollars so his windows would not be smashed. [redacted] indicated that NAZARIAN may have become a "wind" as NAZARIAN would drink a gallon of wine at one time.

On May 15, 1962, BS T-14 advised that [redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island, and PATRIARCA are concerned over the FBI and IRS investigations. Recently IRS inquired of [redacted] the source of money that was posted as a bond on a job several years ago. [redacted] explained that the money was borrowed from an individual and later paid back to him. This individual is now deceased; and, accordingly, IRS will be unable to check the explanation. In reality the money involved actually came from PATRIARCA and [redacted] personally.

BS T-14 further advised that he understood that money given to the company by PATRIARCA would be returned to PATRIARCA by manipulating the capital gains in the company's books. BS T-14 was unable to furnish any details as to such manipulation.

BS T-15 advised on May 23, 1962, that PATRIARCA continues to occupy a key position in gambling activities in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. In this respect PATRIARCA approves of the operation of games and receives on various occasions a percentage of the proceeds of such activities.

JBG:rar

BS T-15 was unable to furnish any more specific details but pointed out that PATRIARCA's activities also embrace the handling of stolen goods and the loaning of money.

The following investigation was conducted by SA []

On May 24, 1962, a spot check of the vicinity of the New England Baptist Hospital, Parker Hill Avenue, Roxbury, Massachusetts, revealed a late model Cadillac sedan bearing Rhode Island registration "900" and subject PATRIARCA was observed leaving the hospital in company with a JERRY ANGIULO about 4:15 p.m. They drove to the vicinity of the Riverway Cafe on Huntington and South Huntington Avenue, Jamaica Plain, Massachusetts, where ANGIULO departed the car and PATRIARCA proceeded toward Providence, Rhode Island.

On May 25, 1962, [] of the New England Baptist Hospital, advised that Mrs. HELEN G. PATRIARCA, 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island, was admitted to the hospital at 12:30 p.m. on May 17, 1962. She occupies Room 543 in the Lahey Building of the hospital and her husband was listed as RAYMOND, phone number "PL 1-2752." His occupation was listed as Sales Manager of the Sherwood Manufacturing Company, 75 Eagle Street, Providence, Rhode Island, telephone "DEXter PL 1-2100." Mrs. PATRIARCA has Blue Cross and Blue Shield issued in Rhode Island under number DGL1D2561B. Her doctor is [] of [] Jamaica Plain, Massachusetts.

On May 25, 1962, through [] to [] the arrangements were made for the interview of the doctor. [] advised that he has not seen nor talked to RAYMOND PATRIARCA. He stated that arrangements were made for Mrs. PATRIARCA's admission through a [] of Rhode Island. The latter had been a patient of the doctor's sometime ago and the doctor explained that he had saved [] life by means of an operation on [] for lung cancer. [] recently called him and advised that Mrs. PATRIARCA was confined to a hospital in Rhode Island and inasmuch as she was not making much progress he, [] would appreciate [] taking over the case. The doctor made arrangements for Mrs. PATRIARCA to have a room in the Lahey Building of the New England Baptist Hospital, and [] of the hospital is actually handling the case.

JBG:po'b

The doctor pointed out that he has been in touch with Mrs. PATRIARCA who is occupying a very expensive room and she is a most talkative person. She has indicated that she is the owner of a manufacturing company in Rhode Island which makes expensive coats and jackets.

He stated that he has had consultations with [redacted] but they have not yet reached a conclusion as to Mrs. PATRIARCA's problem, although she does have severe asthma and is suffering blackouts. He plans, through consultation with [redacted] to arrange for various tests to be given to Mrs. PATRIARCA during the week of May 28, 1962.

The doctor pointed out that after he had completed his operation on [redacted] and the latter was practically over the treatment, [redacted] appeared in the doctor's office seeking to pay the latter's bill. [redacted] explained to [redacted] no thought had been given to the charges and [redacted] pulled out of his pocket a large roll of bills. He peeled off $1,500 and offered the same to the doctor in payment of the latter's fee. [redacted] indicated that he preferred to handle the payment in this manner rather than go through billing, etc. The doctor explained to [redacted] that he had not reached an opinion as to what his charges would be but inasmuch as [redacted] would be reluctant to pay the same through regular billing channels he, the doctor, would consider the bill paid if [redacted] would contribute the $1,500 to the Thorax Clinic and [redacted] then could deduct such contribution on his income tax. The doctor pointed out that arrangements were made for [redacted] to make such contribution and, thereafter, the Internal Revenue Service was in touch with the doctor, as apparently [redacted] in reporting his income tax, reflected a $3,000 contribution to the Clinic. The doctor stated that he was requested to testify in Rhode Island, but actually never did, as the case was apparently settled.

[redacted] stated that he would advise when a conclusion had been reached as to Mrs. PATRIARCA's condition and prognosis.

Re: HANCOCK RACEWAY

The following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted] in an endeavor to develop information as to PATRIARCA's financial or otherwise connection with the Hancock Raceway in view of informant's indication of PATRIARCA's interest therein:

On May 11, 1962, the records of the Department of Corporations, State House, Boston, Massachusetts, were reviewed. In October, 1961, the Hancock Raceway, Inc., filed a certificate of condition. The same reflected that the company was located at Dublin Road, Hancock, Massachusetts; that its business was that of race track operation; and that it had an outside office at 550 Pawtucket Avenue, Pawtucket, Rhode Island. The following personnel were listed:

President:

Treasurer:

Clerk:

Directors:

[Redacted area]

Directors, cont.:

The certificate reflected the company had assets of $930,927.90, and a surplus (deficit) of $61,502.15.

The articles of organizations reflected the following personnel:

The business address was 74 North Street, Pittsfield, Massachusetts, and the purpose of the organization was to conduct fairs, horse race meetings, etc. The organization was authorized to issue 100 shares of common stock. The incorporators were President [redacted], Hancock, Massachusetts, [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, [redacted] Boston, Massachusetts, [redacted] Adams, Massachusetts.

A certificate relative to the issuance of capital stock was filed in 1960, and the same reflected that a meeting of the directors was held on May 25, 1960, and it was voted to issue 95 shares of Class A, no par value common stock. The total amount of stock authorized 100 common Class A, and 500 common Class B. The certificate indicated that five shares of Common Class A were issued for cash, and 40 shares of common Class B were issued for services and expenses. The certificate indicated the personnel of the organization as above but designated [redacted] as treasurer and had [redacted] as a director.

In October, 1960, a certificate relative to the issuance of stock was filed, and it reflected that a meeting was held on September 7, 1960, at which time it was voted to issue 30 shares of Class B stock. As of this time, the total shares issued were 500 Class B and 100 Class A. The certificate indicated that 40 Class B shares had been issued for cash, and the personnel listed in the certificate were

bridge, Connecticut, [redacted]
Orange, Massachusetts, and [redacted] and [redacted] were listed.

In May, 1961, a certificate was filed reflecting a meeting of October 15, 1960, and at this meeting it was voted to issue ten shares of Class B stock. At this time the certificate reflected that 22½ shares of Class B stock had been issued for cash; 100 Class A and 117½ Class B shares were issued for services and 10 shares of Class B were issued for promotional, organizational, and managerial services.

In September, 1961, a certificate of amendment was filed correcting previous certificates filed. It indicated that a meeting was held on August 16, 1961, to correct such previous certificates, and the present and correct status of the stock was that 500 shares of Class B and 100 Shares of Class A stock had been authorized.

On May 10 and May 11, and May 14, 1962, the records of the Massachusetts State Racing Commission, 1010 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts, were reviewed in respect to the Hancock Raceway.

On January 4, 1962, this organization filed an application for a license to conduct racing in 1962. A $3,600 certified check was submitted therewith and the bond necessary for such operation in the amount of $35,000 was to be obtained from Amsterdam Casualty Company. The application indicated that the track was located at Richmond Road, Hancock, Massachusetts, and that 24 days were requested between July 2, 1962, and July 28, 1962. The application was made by [redacted] Treasurer, and the trade name of the business was Berkshire Downs. The application indicated that the Attorney was [redacted] Pittsfield, Massachusetts, and reflected the following incumbrance pending against the track:

The application reflected the race secretary to be [redacted] the mutual manager was to be [redacted] the general manager was to be [redacted] [redacted] was to be the assistant treasurer. [redacted] was to be the track superintendent, and [redacted] was to be security officer. The auditor for the organization was listed as SPARROW & JOHNSON, C.P.A., 371 Broad Street, Providence, Rhode Island.

The applicant listed the following individuals as stockholders:

The file revealed that the Massachusetts Sports Service has the concession contract in the race track; that [redacted] is a former Rhode Island police [redacted] and that [redacted] is traffic control officer.

The file indicated that on January 3, 1962, [redacted] advised [redacted] of the commission, that he was negotiating with a man in Massachusetts to manage the track. [redacted] confidentially advised that [redacted] will manage the track during 1962.

On January 29, 1962, CARSON sent a telegram to [redacted] of the commission, advising that on that date he was resigning as officer, director, and chairman of the board of directors of the Hancock Raceway, Inc. The file indicated that CARSON was born East Boston, Massachusetts, on March 2, 1898.

A hearing was held on the application for dates, and Chairman LEO MADDEN conducted the meeting. Also present were Commissioners THOMAS F. CUMMING and MORRIS LEFF, Secretary LAWRENCE LANE, LEO SONTAG, Esq., representing the Attorney General's Office, and Attorney JOHN A. BARRY, representing Hancock. In the course of the public hearing ERNEST J. SCARPA, Spring Street, Lee, Massachusetts, who identified himself as the contractor who built the track, pointed out that the track still owed him $32,900.

[redacted] advised that the track was granted on January 29, 1962, the dates of September 17 to October 13, 1962 inclusive.

The file concerning the application of this track for 1961 was reviewed. It revealed that the track was awarded 24 days, September 18, 1961, to October 14, 1961. A hearing was held on this application on January 23, 1961, and in this hearing ERNEST SCARPA, the contractor who built the track, complained about the fact that the track still owed him money.

The file indicated that JAMES BUSHEY and his wife purchased stock in the track, and Attorney SAMUEL LANDA, 73 North Street, mentioned at the hearing that BUSHEYS and he were having considerable difficulty in having the organization make available to the BUSHEYS the stock register record. It was finally agreed that Attorney BARRY would make this register available so that the BUSHEYS could determine the status of the stock of the corporation. It was pointed out by Attorney LANDA that the BUSHEYS had invested $20,000 and had obtained 10 shares of Class B stock; that they had invested more cash than any other person including CARSON, BACCHIOCCHI, or any other stockholder. It was pointed out that 22½ shares of stock had been sold for $40,000 and were divided among four people, namely, RAPPAPORT, KAPLAN, BUSHEY, and ENGLAND. The remainder of the 150 shares of stock was given to various persons for services rendered. At this time RAYMOND CLARK of Providence, Rhode Island, was reflected as the accountant for the organization.

The Eastern Racing Association, Inc., represented by the law firm ELY, BARTLETT, BROWN, PROCTOR, 294 Washington Street, Boston, opposed granting the application in 1961.

The file reflected that HENRY A. MORGAN, JR., 31 Elm Street, Springfield, Massachusetts, represented CARSON.

[] pointed out that the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, by law, provides for 90 days of flat racing in Massachusetts in one year; that this 90 day period is divided between Suffolk Downs and Hancock with Suffolk Downs getting 60 to 66 days. He stated that over the years even though there was a substantial revenue to the Commonwealth, no endeavor has ever been exercised to amend this law for the increasing of racing dates.

[] advised that [] had for a number of years attempted to obtain racing dates in Massachusetts but was unsuccessful in such endeavors as he never had sufficient financial backing to assure the bond. [] has filed two suits against the track and persons connected therewith; and [] has filed a suit also.

The records of the Suffolk Superior Court, Civil Clerk's Office, revealed the following information in respect to these suits filed by JOSEPH L. MURPHY. These records were reviewed on May 18, 1962.

In January, 1962, JOSEPH L. MURPHY, under Docket No. 79232 equity, filed a complaint against CHARLES F. FURCOLO, EILEEN KANE, CHARLES R. CARSON, and the Hancock Raceway, Inc. The complaint alleged that MURPHY prior to March 25, 1960, was the owner of 50 per cent of the Class A common stock of Hancock Raceway and was president of the corporation; that he organized the company, had invested in excess of $70,000, and had caused the company to purchase land upon which the buildings, etc., were constructed. From 1957 to 1960 inclusive, he caused the organization to apply to the Massachusetts State Racing Commission for a license to conduct pari-mutual betting, and with the exception of 1957 when a license was granted and then withdrawn, each application was refused by the commission. On or about February 15, 1960, he, MURPHY, was invited to a meeting at the office of Attorney JOHN BARRY in Pittsfield, Massachusetts. Also present at this meeting was one OSBORNE and Attorney BERNARD E. FRANCIS of Hartford, Connecticut. At this time the application filed for racing dates in 1960 had been refused by the commission. At this meeting FRANCIS said he was acting for a certain group that wanted to establish a race track in Western Massachusetts; that the commission had licensed other tracks to conduct racing for all the days except 24 which were open; that the FRANCIS group had through its political influence "sewed up" the commission to the extent that the 24 days open would be awarded to the group and not to others; that it was useless for MURPHY to continue to seek a license; that the FRANCIS group had land available in Savoy, Massachusetts, but had decided on acquiring Hancock; that the group had elected to purchase MURPHY's shares of Class A common stock in Hancock; and FRANCIS had been appointed to consummate the deal; that if MURPHY was stubborn and refused to sell, that Hancock would rot where they sit; that the FRANCIS group had the power to build a track in Savoy and had a guarantee of being allocated the opening dates. MURPHY contended that by such means the FRANCIS group was trying to force him out of business and offered to pay him $37,500 for his 50 per cent of Class A stock providing he resigned from all offices held by him in the corporation.

MURPHY declined the FRANCIS offer and expressed the belief that CHARLES F. FURCOLO was a member of this FRANCIS group. On March 1, 1960, FURCOLO invited MURPHY to meet him at the Hotel Kimbell, Springfield, Massachusetts. At this meeting FURCOLO told MURPHY that no dates would be given to MURPHY while he, MURPHY, continued to own 50 per cent of the voting stock of Hancock. FURCOLO said his son, FOSTER, as Governor of Massachusetts, exercised complete control of the Racing Commission and would procure the awarding of racing dates for Hancock immediately after MURPHY sold his interest to the FRANCIS group.

FURCOLO pointed out that there was need for immediate action as his son was soon going out of office and after such, he, CHARLES F. FURCOLO, had sufficient personal influence over the commission to prevent dates being given

MURPHY; but, he, CHARLES FURCOLO, would lose his power to get dates for the FRANCIS group when the Governor left office. CHARLES FURCOLO told MURPHY to sell on FRANCIS' terms or face financial ruin; further, that he, CHARLES FURCOLO, would get the stock and would hold 25 shares for MURPHY as sole owner, and would return them to MURPHY immediately after the 1960 meet was over.

MURPHY pointed out in his complaint that his company was insolvent and without racing dates would have gone out of business. He stated that by nature of FURCOLO's duress, he was compelled to execute a written contract to sell his 50 shares to FRANCIS for $37,500; that on March 25, 1960, he endorsed his shares in blank and delivered them to BARRY and got $37,500; that he also resigned from all offices he held in Hancock. MURPHY alleged that he believed BARRY transferred the stock to FRANCIS, and FRANCIS transferred the stock to CHARLES R. CARSON and EILEEN KANE with the understanding that they were holding the stock for FURCOLO.

MURPHY further alleged in his complaint that on May 20, 1960, the commission gave Hancock 24 days of racing from September 15, 1960, to October 15, 1960; that the meet was held and after the same MURPHY attempted to reach FURCOLO to get 25 shares of stock back but was unable to reach FURCOLO; that on February 9, 1961, CHARLES F. CHOATE, Attorney, wrote FURCOLO a demand for the stock; and on February 15, 1961, JOSEPH E. KERRIGAN, an attorney, replied that FURCOLO never had any dealings with MURPHY and owed him nothing. MURPHY's complaint sought an injunction temporarily relative to the transferring of any stock, a court order declaring that 25 shares of stock were being held in trust for him, MURPHY, and a court ruling that the original sale by MURPHY was under duress.

An agreement for the sale of stock was made a part of the complaint, and this agreement identifies MURPHY and MANUEL Z. SHERMAN as the sellers of the stock, and BERNARD E. FRANCIS, Trustee, as the buyer. $63,000 was to be held by Attorney BARRY in escrow in connection with the agreement and was to be disposed of under certain conditions. Included in the disposition was the amount to be paid to MURPHY upon the transfer of the stock.

On March 20, 1961, Superior Court Judge LURIE denied the request for a preliminary injunction.

JOSEPH B. ABRAMS, Esq., 20 Pemberton Square, Boston, Massachusetts, entered his appearance as attorney for Hancock Raceway, Inc.

WILLIAM BARTLEY CHEVOREY, 31 Milk Street, Boston, entered his appearance as attorney for KANE and FURCOLO. In his answer to the complaint, CHARLES FURCOLO admitted that he was a member of the group interested in acquiring Hancock; that the other members of the group were FRANCIS, HARRIS, OSMAN not OSBORNE; and that Attorney BARRY was retained to represent the group. FURCOLO contended that MURPHY sold 40 shares of stock, and SHERMAN 10 shares. FURCOLO also pointed out that he became the owner of 50 shares of Class A and 50 shares of Class B common stock, and used CHARLES R. CARSON as the straw therefor; that on or about September 1, 1960, CARSON endorsed in blank and delivered to DARIO BACCHIOCCHI all of FURCOLO's stock and received therefrom a trust certificate for the number of shares so transferred and is holding such certificate for his, FURCOLO's, benefit. Further, that CARSON is holding a $25,000 promissory note from Hancock as a straw for FURCOLO. FURCOLO requested an injunction against CARSON from the transfer of such items, and Judge CAHILL issued a temporary restraining order against CARSON. HENRY A. MORAN, JR., 31 Elm Street, Springfield, Massachusetts, entered an appearance for CARSON.

In December, 1960, JOSEPH L. MURPHY filed a suit under law docket No. 554259 against the Hancock Raceway, Inc. MURPHY was represented by FRANCIS J. DI MENIO, Esq., 73 State Street, Boston, Massachusetts, and the declaration in the suit alleged that in July, 1960, the Hancock Raceway, Inc., hired MURPHY to negotiate investments in the company and agreed to pay MURPHY a reasonable compensation plus a lifetime annuity of $15,000 a year. The declaration alleged that the Hancock Raceway, Inc., owed MURPHY $50,000. JOHN A. BARRY represented Hancock Raceway, Inc., and in specifications ordered by the court, MURPHY alleged that EDWARD MACK, Publicity Director, of Hancock Raceway, Inc., in 1960, told MURPHY that he, MACK, was authorized by DARIO BACCHIOCCHI to inform MURPHY that if DARIO BACCHIOCCHI made an investment in Hancock as a result of MURPHY's brokerage services, he, BACCHIOCCHI, would cause Hancock to pay MURPHY a fair compensation for his services, and as a bonus Hancock would employ MURPHY for his lifetime as a public relations agent at $15,000 a year. Hancock was to issue to MURPHY 5 per cent of all the stock Hancock issued to BACCHIOCCHI as a result of the latter's investment. MURPHY alleged that FRANCIS told MURPHY that he knew of MURPHY's deal with Hancock, and it was O.K. with Hancock.

On December 8, 1960, Attorneys GEORGE B. CRANE and JOHN A. BARRY filed appearances for Hancock. JAMES H. BURNS, Esq., also represented Hancock. On September 8, 1961, ABRAMS and ABRAMS entered an appearance for Hancock. On April 4, 1962, an agreement for neither party was filed. This would indicate that the case was settled.

Re: Hancock Raceway, Inc.

The following investigation was conducted by
SA [redacted]

Inasmuch as the application of Hancock Raceway, Inc. for racing dates, filed before the Massachusetts Racing Commission, reflected a mortgaged encumbrance to the Massachusetts Sports Service, Inc., and in view of the information previously furnished by a confidential source to the effect that the PATRIARCA group were attempting to adjust an obligation of the Hancock Raceway with the Massachusetts Sports Service, the records of the Massachusetts Department of Corporations, State House, Boston, Massachusetts, were reviewed on May 11, 1962.

The Massachusetts Sports Service, Inc., 10 Post Office Square, Boston, Massachusetts, and 703 Main Street, Buffalo 3, New York, filed a Certificate of Condition for 1961. This Certificate indicated that the firm was engaged in the concession business, and its personnel were as follows:

President and

It will be noted that the Accounts Receivable, as reflected above, fail to reflect any figure in close proximity to that which Hancock Raceway, Inc. in its application before the Massachusetts Racing Commission indicated it was indebted to the Massachusetts Sports Service, Inc.

It is further noted that the above records are found in the Foreign Out-of-State Corporations in the Massachusetts Department of Corporations.

On May 18, 1962, BS T-16 advised that PATRIARCA is interested in installation of lights at the Lincoln Downs Race Track and is arranging with [] for the awarding of the contract to a firm in which PATRIARCA is interested.

BS T-16 further advised that efforts were continuing to obtain dates for the Hancock Race Track and that Senator JOHN E. POWERS feels that he can obtain such dates for the track to operate in July. However, there are still some obstacles that must be overcome before POWERS can get the Governor and the legislature to go along, and these obstacles must be overcome while the legislature is still in session. These obstacles involve the obligation of the track to [] and endeavors are being exercised to obtain $10,000 from [] for the adjustment of this matter. Another obstacle is the [] suit against the track, and arrangements have been made for the restraining order obtained by [] to be lifted by the court. In this regard, the arrangements are being made with [] lawyer, and the judge handling the case. As soon as the restraining order is lifted, the transfer of the stock which has been held up because of the restraining order can be effected. The judge has apparently indicated such transfer could be done, and BS T-16 feels that the lifting of the restraining order of the judge may involve a reward to the judge of $10,000. BS T-16 further advised that a stockholder named [] is being pressured by the PATRIARCA interest, but further details thereon could not be furnished by him. He indicated that SALVATORE CUPARE has been working for the PATRIARCA interest in the removal of the obstacles and the assuring of the obtaining of dates in July.

Re: ABC Vending Corporation
American Locker Company, Inc.

Inasmuch as information was furnished to the effect that the PATRIARCA group were endeavoring to obtain an interest in the American Locker Company, Inc. and may have a substantial interest in the ABC Vending Corporation, the following investigation was conducted by SA [redacted]

The records of the Department of Corporations (Foreign Out-of-State Corporations) were reviewed on May 10, 1962 and the same reflect that the ABC Vending Corporation at 45 Commercial Avenue, Cambridge, Massachusetts, filed a Certificate of Condition in 1961. This Certificate indicated that the corporation commenced business January 1, 1949; that its common stock was valued at $1 and 1,500,000 shares were authorized, and 1,200,098 shares of same are outstanding. Its assets were reflected as $12,602,852, its surplus capital was listed at $5,903,357, and its surplus earned was $735,052. The business of this corporation was reflected as vending and concession, and the following personnel were listed:

The Certificate reflected that the Federal Trade Commission has instituted administrative proceedings against the company and that the company had acquired all of the outstanding capital stock of Greenfield Mills Restaurant Company, which operates six restaurants in Michigan and Ohio, for cash of $3,451,000. The Certificate indicated that Price Waterhouse & Co. were the company's auditors.

*A review of the 1960 Certificate of Condition
- failed to reflect these names.

In an endeavor to determine whether or not any apparent change had occurred in the ABC Vending Corporation over the years which would lead to a substantiation of the information furnished by the confidential source to the effect that the PATRIARCA group had taken over the ABC Vending Corporation, a review was made of MOODY's Industrial Manual for several years. This review was made at the Kirshtein Library, City Hall Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts, on May 21, 1962.

JBG:po'b

The 1960 Manual and prior publications indicated that the ABC Vending Corporation was incorporated in Delaware in January, 1947. It began its business in September, 1947 upon acquiring ownership and control of a group of related and similar vending businesses, the largest of which had been in existence for approximately 20 years. In September, 1957 it acquired the Confection Cabinet Corporation with over 30 subsidiaries, or affiliates, operating in 26 States. The business of the corporation with its subsidiaries and affiliates is engaged principally in the purchase, distribution and sale of confections, soft drinks, popcorn and other merchandise, and they are located principally in theaters, subway stations and other places of public assembly.

The 1960 Manual reflected the following personnel:

Chairman and Director
President and Director
Executive Vice President

The 1959 Manual reflected no change in the above personnel, but in 1958 [redacted] was designated as Chairman and Director; [redacted] was listed as Executive Vice President; [redacted] was listed as Treasurer and Comptroller; [redacted] was listed as Assistant Treasurer; [redacted] as Assistant Secretary; and [redacted] was listed as Director.

In 1957 [redacted] was listed as Treasurer and Comptroller and [redacted] as Assistant Treasurer.

In 1956 and 1955 no significant change was noted.

The Department of Corporations, State House, Boston, Massachusetts, reflected a Certificate of Condition filed in 1961 for the American Locker Company, Inc., 211 Congress Street, Boston, Massachusetts. This firm commenced its business on September 1, 1931 and it had Common Stock A, par value $1, with an authorization of 350,000 shares; Common Stock B at par value 20¢, with a 200,000 share authorization. There were 253,065 shares of Common Stock A outstanding and 107,595 shares of Common Stock B outstanding. The assets of the corporation total $2,589,965, and it had a surplus of $2,042,350.

[redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island Branch, Plantations
Bank of Rhode Island

Character: FEDERAL RESERVE ACT

Synopsis: Interviews of additional borrowers from the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island set forth. [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, advised that [redacted] Providence, took him to see subject [redacted] at subject bank and he obtained a $1,000.00 loan. Stated that he only wanted $500.00 and the other $500.00 went to [redacted]. The arrangement was for [redacted] to make the first payments until he paid off his $500.00 and then he would make the last payments. At the time he obtained the loan he was unemployed and had no funds. Also, admitted that he furnished false information on the loan application. [redacted] Providence, advised that [redacted] Providence, is [redacted]. Stated that he took her to the bank where she spoke to [redacted] and only furnished her name and drivers license for identification. She did not furnish any of the other information appearing on the application and does not know [redacted] who co-signed on her note. Interview of other borrowers disclosed they furnished false information on their loan applications.

April 11, 1962

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, was advised that he did not have to make a statement; that any statement he did make could be used against him in court and that he had the right to consult with an attorney before making a statement.

[redacted] advised that sometime during the early spring of 1961, he owed [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, approximately $400.00 and also owed [redacted] a total of approximately $250.00. He was standing on the corner of Pocasset Avenue and Simmons Street, Providence, near the County Loan Company and he inquired of his friends where he could obtain a loan. Someone, whose identity he could not recall, told him to go to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He went to that bank and was interviewed by a young fellow who was partially bald and approximately 5'7" tall. He could not give a further description of this individual. He told him he wanted to borrow money and the bank employee told him it was necessary for him to obtain a co-signer. [redacted] said he returned back to the corner and looked for [redacted] whom he had known for several years, to see if he would co-sign. [redacted] said he knew [redacted] and should have a good credit rating. He said [redacted] accompanied him back to the bank, this time in [redacted] 1954 black Cadillac. He spoke to the same bank employee and at that time, the employee asked him questions which he wrote the answers to on an application and subsequently, he signed the application and the note, and [redacted] signed as a co-signer on the note.

He said after he signed the necessary papers, the bank employee called [redacted] looked over the application and must have approved it because the bank employee then went over to the teller and obtained the necessary money.

Date dictated 4/9/62

[redacted] said he had no deal with [redacted] but while he was talking to the bank employees, [redacted] and [redacted] were talking and appeared to know each other very well.

[redacted] was shown a credit application dated April 12, 1961 and a promissory note dated April 13, 1961 and he identified these as containing his signature.

[redacted] was questioned as to whether he had ever been employed by [redacted] and he said that he had worked for them for only a few months as [redacted] and the top salary he received was $50.00 a week. It was pointed out to him that the loan application shows that he was employed by [redacted] for three years with an average salary of $60.00 per week. [redacted] said he could not understand this and was unable to explain the discrepancy.

[redacted] said he was born [redacted] at [redacted] is married with four children and his wife's name is [redacted]. He has resided at [redacted] Providence for approximately four to five years and previously resided at [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island. He said he is presently unemployed and since he has obtained the loan, has probably been gainfully employed for approximately a total of two to three months.

[redacted] said that at the time he made the application for the loan, he had two loans; one with the Belmont Finance Company, Madison Street, Providence, Rhode Island, the outstanding balance of which he could not recall but on which he made monthly payments of $26.00 and another loan with the Aetna Loan Company, Providence, Rhode Island, which he estimates he owed approximately $300.00 at the time he obtained the bank loan and on which he pays $15.00 a month. He said that he can only recall making one payment on his loan to the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He said he did not make any more payments because he did not have the money. [redacted] said he did not have the loan payment book in his possession and did not know its whereabouts.

[redacted] said that he had been arrested twice by the Providence, Rhode Island Police Department for booking. He said the first time he was picked up on Pocasset Avenue, Providence alone. The second time, he said, he was coming out of Spotty's Lounge and the Providence Police picked him up and he had wagering slips in his pocket. He also admitted that he was a small time bookie and didn't take too much "action". He described himself as a "small guy".

[redacted] said that after his second arrest, he has taken no more "action" because the next time he would have to go away.

Date April 15, 1962

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island was immediately advised of his right to counsel; the fact that he did not have to say anything and anything he did say could be used against him in a court of law.

He was questioned concerning a loan for $1,000 plus interest made by him on April 26, 1961 at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island which loan was co-signed by [redacted]

[redacted] furnished the following information:

He advised that his credit is bad because he had several loans outstanding. He recalled he had a loan with the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company which financed his 1955 Oldsmobile at a cost of $57.00 per month and the balance as of that time was approximately $444. He has another loan of $200 with the Goodyear Loan Company of Rhode Island and he was paying $20 per month. He had personal debts among his brothers and sisters totaling another $50 or more and his gambling debts amount to $50 to $100.

He recalled at that time he was working as a general clean up man in [redacted] business and he needed the loan to pay his bills, consisting of personal bills and gambling debts.

He advised that it was common knowledge around the Silver Lake section of Providence that all you had to do was go down to the bank at Johnston as they "ask you no questions."

He advised that [redacted] took him down to the bank and as long as [redacted] said he was okay the loan would go through. He advised that all he wanted was $500. He and [redacted] agreed to get a $1,000 loan of which $500 would go to [redacted] and the arrangement was for [redacted] to pay the first part of the loan at $90 per month until he got back to work and he would take over the payments for the last $500 at $90 a month.

He recalled that the entire loan application and transaction took approximately two minutes. [redacted] brought him over to a [redacted] in the bank. He told the bank employee that he wanted to buy a new car and he had the money in approximately two minutes.

He was shown a photostat copy of the application statement in connection with the loan where there is recorded that the applicant [redacted] indicated that he was employed for three years with [redacted] at an average salary of $100 per week. He stated he was not working for [redacted] at that period of time and was not making $100 per week as a "clean up man."

He was questioned concerning his sources of other income which was originally thought to be [redacted] but then was determined that it was [redacted] and his wife [redacted] worked there part-time.

He was questioned concerning the fact that he did not list any of his debts outstanding previously admitted and he advised that although he did not list these loans he intended to pay back the loan he was making with the Plantations Bank. He further explained if he had listed his loans outstanding at the time he figured he could not get any money.

He was shown a photostat copy of a Promissory Note dated April 24, 1961 and he admitted his signature appear on the Promissory Note having a loan of $1,080 with the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

He was shown a photostat copy of the loan application number 1319 reflecting the loan taken out on April 26, 1961 was for the following purchase, "purchase car" and he admitted that this was false information.

He was questioned as to whether or not he had made any payments on this loan and he advised that in March, 1962 [redacted] gave him $10 and he obtained a money order and [redacted] sent the money to the bank.

Providence, Rhode Island, was advised that he did not have to make a statement; that any statement he did make could be used against him in court and that he had the right to consult with an attorney before making a statement. He furnished the following information:

[redacted] is his brother-in-law. He was questioned concerning the loan he had at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. [redacted] stated that both he and his wife, [redacted] had signed on this note and his brother-in-law, [redacted] had co-signed. [redacted] was questioned as to why he went to this branch of the bank and he said he had tried both the Silver Lake Loan Company and the Knightsville Loan Corporation, both Providence, and was refused. He said he could not recall why he had gone to Johnston, Rhode Island's branch of that bank but believes someone may have steered him to it.

[redacted] said his wife, [redacted] was the one who went to the bank to obtain the money.

The loan application and the promissory note was shown to [redacted] and he pointed out that his wife, [redacted] had signed the application and both he and his wife signed the promissory note. He also pointed out that his brother-in-law's signature, [redacted] was on the note.

[redacted] said that he has been employed by [redacted] Attleboro, Massachusetts as [redacted] for the past twelve years, on and off. He also has worked as [redacted] for his brother-in-law, [redacted] and others and earns approximately $5,000 a year. He said his wife is employed by [redacted] Providence and at the time his wife made the application for the loan, he owned a 1955 Buick, two door sedan, but was unable to recall the registration.

He said he sold the car to a girl friend of his wife and did not care to disclose her name.

[redacted] stated he had never been arrested but had been picked up for suspicion by the Providence, Rhode Island Police Department. He said that while in Connecticut, he had been arrested for [redacted] without a license.

[redacted] upon being questioned as to other outstanding debts at the time he made the loan, replied that he had "loads of them" but could not recall them. When asked as to what he had done with the money, he said he had paid off most of his outstanding bills but could not recall them. He said he believed at the time the loan was made, he had been out of work for more than six months and he believes he had been in an automobile accident and in a hospital for twenty-one days. He said when he settled the accident case, he received $5,000 and went to Florida where he spent most of it with the exception of approximately $700.00 or $800.00 which he loaned out to his friends.

Upon being questioned as to why he had not paid off his $1,000.00 loan at the bank when he received the money from his automobile accident, he said that he agreed to make monthly payments and was doing so whenever he had the money.

He denied that [redacted] was the one who directed him to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

Date April 13, 1962

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, was immediately advised of his right to counsel, the fact that he did not have to say anything and anything he did say could be used against him in a court of law. He was questioned concerning his loan for $1,500.00 plus interest made at the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, Johnston, Rhode Island Branch on April 28, 1961 which was co-signed by [redacted] and he furnished the following information:

About eight months ago he went to his brother-in-law, [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island. He told [redacted] he needed money as [redacted] had gotten some for [redacted] sister-in-law before. [redacted] brought him to the bank on Hartford Avenue in Johnston and introduced him to a tall fellow [redacted] and told him that he needed money. This bank employee asked him certain questions and filled out several papers and [redacted] signed them. He does not recall what kind of information he gave the bank employee but he was "filled up" and had three or four loans outstanding and owed everybody.

He recalled that at the time he had one loan with the Park Finance Company for approximately $275.00 and was paying $12.00 per month for two years. He also had a loan at the Commercial Credit Plan at 2 Richmond Street, Providence, taken on April 18, 1960 in the amount of $1,214.88 and was paying $50.62 per month for two years. He also had a loan with H.A.G., Olneyville Square, Providence, Account Number 2112, making payments of $17.00 per month for twenty-four months. He had this loan renewed about four months ago. He also had another loan at the Mutual Loan System, 187 Westminster Street, Providence, and was paying $19.00 per month.

In addition to the above legitimate loans, he also had two loans under the names of two friends of his. [redacted] He believes the [redacted] loan was at the Commercial Credit Company, Douglas Avenue, Providence, and he could not recall where he had the loan under [redacted] name.

Providence, Rhode Island was immediately advised of her right to counsel; that she did not have to say anything and anything she did say could be used against her in a court of law.

She was questioned concerning her loan in the amount of $500 plus interest made on February 28, 1961 with the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, Johnston, Rhode Island Branch which was co-signed by [redacted]. She advised that at the time she was working as [redacted] on Atwell's Avenue in the vicinity of Bradford Street which is owned by [redacted]. She stated that she only worked at this place approximately two weeks and it was pointed out to her in the application statement at the time she made the loan she was working at [redacted] for two months. She stated she made the loan because at the time she had another loan outstanding with the Goodyear Loan Company at 68 Pocasset Avenue, in Rhode Island which was made April 7, 1960 in the amount of $442, payable in 24 payments of $24. After making several payments including late payments on the loan she realized that the Goodyear was too expensive because of the extreme penalty charges.

She advised that she was discussing this loan with [redacted] and [redacted] told her that her husband probably could get money for her to straighten out this loan. She further advised that she grew up with [redacted] in the Fox Point Section of Providence as both their parents came from Portugal and had been very friendly.

[redacted] told her that he could "take her down and borrow $500" to get [redacted] "off her back". She advised that [redacted] and she went down to the bank in Johnston, Rhode Island in her car and [redacted] took her to a fellow who arranged the loan. She could not describe this individual from whom she obtained the loan but this individual apparently knew [redacted].

[redacted] was questioned as to why she previously identified herself as [redacted] when interviewed previously by Special Agents [redacted] and she stated that she did this for the sake of the "kids". She stated [redacted] was home on March 14, 15, 16, 1962 and she told him two Agents, [redacted] of the FBI were attempting to contact him and she did not know what he did about it. She further explained that her husband is traveling in the New York and New Jersey circuit as a [redacted] selling [redacted]

She also admitted that she had been arrested in 1959 or 1960 in Woonsocket for [redacted] and last year in Warwick for stealing a [redacted] from an A&P Store but claimed that she was found not guilty.

She volunteered the information that when she took up with [redacted] she lived in an apartment house with several older women who were "boosters" and she used to drive the "boosters" to various cities in and around New England and even used as a "look-out" for them in various stores but "did not have the heart for actually stealing as she was too nervous."

Date April 16, 1962

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island was interviewed at the Providence, Rhode Island Resident Agency of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement; that any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law and he had the right to consult an attorney.

[redacted] was advised that the purpose of the investigation was concerning a loan under his name at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

He was asked if he recalled this loan and also the amount of the loan. [redacted] replied that he could not remember the loan to clearly but believed it was for around $1,000. He said he makes so many that he can not remember them all.

He was questioned as to how long he resided at [redacted] Providence and he replied that he has only lived there since he was married. He was told that the application shows that he lived at the address for 28 years.

He was asked where he was working in March, 1961 when he made the application for the loan and he replied that he could not recall where he was working as he had had many jobs. He was advised that the application shows that he was employed for [redacted] as a [redacted]. He said that the [redacted] is owned by his [redacted]. He was asked as to how much money he earned per week and he replied that he was not earning any money but was just helping [redacted]. It was pointed out to him that the application showed that by [redacted] he was receiving a salary of $75.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that the application showed his two credit references as the Outlet Company and the Peoples Savings Bank. He replied that at one time he had a savings account with the Peoples Savings Bank with a balance of $400 to $500 but it is presently [redacted] closed. He said he does not recall when he closed this account. In regards to Outlet Company he said he purchased furniture from them when he got married and still owes money.

[redacted] was questioned as to why he went to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He said "he just went there." He said that when he first went to the bank he spoke to a girl concerning a loan and she told him that he would have to see the manager but he wasn't there. He said he came back the next day and told the manager that he wanted a loan and could not recall the reason why he wanted the loan. He said he furnished the information to the manager who told him that he would have to check out his credit rating and on the following day he received the money.

He was asked if any individual had referred him to the bank and he replied no. He was asked if [redacted] went to the bank with him and he answered no. It was pointed out to him that [redacted] co-signed on the loan. He said that he did not know anything about this.

He was also questioned as to whether he had made any payments on the loan. He replied that he made one or two payments but could not recall. He was asked if he was the one who made the payments and he said, "maybe I sent someone up from the corner."

He was asked if he still had the payment book and he said that he had lost it.

[redacted] was immediately advised of his right to counsel; the fact that he did not have to say anything; and that anything he did say could be used against him in a court of law.

He was questioned concerning a loan for $600.00 plus interest at the Plantation Bank of Rhode Island, Johnston, Rhode Island, made by him on March 20, 1961, and he furnished the following information:

He was short of money last March and he had many debts, including loans at the GAC in Providence for $300.00; Franklin Loan Company, Pawtucket, Rhode Island, for $300.00; and Cooperative Credit Union, Pontiac Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, for $300.00.

He stated he went to a gambler friend of his, whom he identified as [redacted] and asked him to loan him some money. [redacted] said, "What's the matter, trouble?" [redacted] said, "I then told him again I needed money. [redacted] then asked me if I could pay it back and 'How in your credit?' I told [redacted] 'I'm stacked' and 'my credit is shaky'".

[redacted] told him that he would try to see if he could get him a loan. He advised that [redacted] then took me in his car to the Plantations Bank located on Hartford Avenue in Johnston, Rhode Island, and introduced me to a [redacted]. I filled out an application for a loan of $600.00 and he asked me several questions. On the day that I made application for the loan, I remember [redacted] introduced me to the bank employee and said, "The kid is in trouble and needs money. Get him a loan. He owes a lot of people."

[redacted] recalled that he obtained the cash the same day he made the loan application. He advised he paid some of his personal bills with the proceeds of the loan; paid his two brothers approximately $350.00; and paid his father back an amount of money, the exact figure he does not recall. He did not give any bank employee any of the proceeds of the $600.00, nor did he give any money to [redacted].

[redacted] was questioned concerning the purpose of the loan as appearing in his loan application as "medical for father", and he stated he could not recall giving this information to the bank.

He advised that he only made one payment of $54.00 and [redacted] made several additional payments. He advised that [redacted] "always kept telling me 'Get it up--I did you a favor.'"

He was questioned concerning the fact that on his statement furnished to the bank he indicated he was employed as [redacted] for two years, and he advised that at the time he was actually self-employed [redacted] but worked part time as [redacted] for [redacted] and averaged between $60.00 and $80.00 per week. He then explained that at the time of the loan he intended to repay it but is having "tough luck".

[redacted] was interviewed at the Medium Security Section of the Rhode Island Correctional Institute at Howard, Rhode Island. He was immediately advised of his right to counsel, the fact he did not have to say anything; anything he did say could be used against him in a court of law.

He was questioned concerning a loan for $500 which he made on April 18, 1961 at the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, Johnston, Rhode Island and furnished the following information:

He advised that on April 15, 1961 he was released from the same institute after serving a 60 day sentence for [redacted]

He advised that he went to the bank alone and applied for a $500 loan. He was questioned as to why he went to this particular bank. He said he had no reason at all, just picked this bank out. He advised he went to the bank in the morning, spoke to a young fellow about [redacted] years of age in the bank who was in back of the counter with a girl. This man asked how much he wanted and he [redacted] said $500 and the man asked him several questions and told him to fill out the remainder of the loan and come back that afternoon. He stated he filled out the application himself and did not have anyone co-sign the loan. He advised that one or two days afterwards he went to Daniels, Connecticut where he paid a lawyer named [redacted] (phonetic) $500 for defending him in court on a charge of "receiving stolen goods" and was found not guilty. He stated that he has a receipt reflecting this payment.

He was questioned as to what answer he gave to the bank officials when he was asked about the purpose of the loan and he stated he could not recall. It was pointed out to him that in the loan application he indicated that the purpose of the loan was for [redacted]. He then stated "I don't know may be I did, [redacted] I know I did". He denied giving any money from the proceeds of [redacted] the loan to any bank officials or to anyone else.

He then advised at the time he had no loans or debts outstanding but then admitted that he owed the State Finance Company on Eddie Street in Providence $300.

He was questioned as to where he was employed at the time he made the loan and he answered at the [redacted] in Providence, explaining that he was going to work for them when he got out of prison. It was pointed out to him at the time he made the loan he indicated he was employed by the [redacted] and his average salary was $125 per week. He then stated that he had worked as [redacted] for [redacted] off and on since he was 15 years of age and stated he believed at the time he made the loan he was also working for that company.

He was shown a photostat of the application statement made in connection with the loan application and he advised that with the exception of the signature the rest of the writing on the statement was "somebody else's". He was questioned as to what type of car he was driving at the time of the loan. He stated a 1954 blue Cadillac which was clear of all financing.

He was then shown a photostat copy of promissory note dated April 18, 1961 and admitted it was his signature appearing as the maker of the loan.

He was then questioned concerning the name of [redacted] appearing as co-signer on the loan and then he advised that he knew [redacted] but stated that at no time did [redacted] accompany him when he applied for the loan or obtained the money at the bank. He stated to his knowledge no one co-signed his particular loan.

He was then questioned concerning payments made to the bank and he advised that he had paid back approximately $150 of the loan and somebody took these [redacted] was immediately advised of his right to counsel; the fact that he did not have to say anything; and that anything he did say could be used against him in a court of law.

He was questioned concerning a loan which he obtained on April 21, 1961 in the amount of $1,000 plus interest at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, and he furnished the following information:

Sometime in April, 1961, he went to the Plantations Bank in Johnston, Rhode Island because someone mentioned that they had received a loan at this bank and he explained "I thought I'd try". He could not recall the name of the individual who mentioned this to him. He went into the bank, and filled out an application. He said that either "I did or the fellow I talked to" (whom he described as "an Italian kid, [redacted] years of age", who was a bank employee) filled out the loan application.

He advised that he asked for $1,000.00 and he could not recall the reason why he told the bank he wanted to borrow the money. He did not think he received the money on the same day he filled out the application and estimated he received the money within a three-day period after he filled the application. He was alone when he went to the bank to make the loan application and he was alone again when he picked up the money at the bank.

He was questioned as to when the co-signer, [redacted] signed his name to the promissory note, and he stated he did not know when or where this was done.

He was also questioned as to his employment when he applied for the loan and, after much recollection, he advised that at the time he was working as a painter and bodman with Reliable Auto Body, which was [redacted]. He was questioned specifically whether or not he worked for them for five years, and he [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law. Also he had the right to retain an attorney. [redacted] was advised that the purpose of the interview concerned a loan in the amount of $1,080.00 at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

He was shown a loan application filed on April 24, 1961 and identified his signature. He was also shown a promissory note dated April 24, 1961 in the amount of $1,080.00 signed by [redacted] and [redacted]

[redacted] stated that he was aware of this loan and had made it as a favor for a friend of his. He declined to identify this friend but stated "I borrowed the money for him." He stated that when he went to court he would answer at that time any questions concerning the loan.

He was asked if the person whom he made the loan for was [redacted] and he declined to answer. He said that the individual whom he made the loan for gave him the money on which to make the payments. He was asked if [redacted] was the one who gave him the money and he answered "No, I made my own payments." Upon being questioned further concerning the payment on the loan, he stated "I brought him there". He stated that he had lost the book and did not care to answer any more questions.

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, appeared at the Providence, Rhode Island Resident Agency and was initially advised that he did not have to make any statement, that any statement he did make could be used against him in a court of law and that he had the right to consult with an attorney prior to making any statement. He thereafter provided the following information:

About a year and a half ago he wanted to obtain a loan and went to the Hartford Avenue Office of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island and talked to a bank man whose name he forgets but whom he described [redacted]. The name [redacted] seemed to be the name of the bank man. The bank man told him that he could not obtain a loan without a co-signer since at that time the only job he had was a part-time one in [redacted] in Providence, Rhode Island.

He asked [redacted] who lives on [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, to act as co-signer for him but she said she could not do it. He then asked [redacted] who is also known to him as [redacted] who said he would co-sign for him and went to the bank with him either that day or a day or two thereafter. The bank man wrote down some credit information about him and after both he and [redacted] signed a note, he received $1,000.00. He used the $1,000.00 to "keep the house going", buy food, and pay other household expenses such as gas and electric bills. He had no personal debts at that time and kept the entire $1,000.00 himself and did not give any of the loan profits to [redacted] or anyone else.

At the time he obtained the above described loan, he does not think he had any other loans outstanding.

He thinks he made one payment on the loan at the Plantations Bank and has not been able to make any additional payments because he has been unemployed and had a lot of bills to pay. He last had a steady job with the Baltimore Jewelry Company which lasted for about seven months and ended about a year ago.

Exhibited to him were copies of the following:

1.) An applicant's statement bearing the signature of [redacted] dated May 15, 1961 which reflects that he was employed for two years as [redacted] receiving averaged salary of $93.00 weekly.

2.) A co-maker's statement in the name of [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island reflecting that [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, worked as a [redacted] and was a partner at [redacted]

3.) A promissory note for $1,080.00, dated May 15, 1961, payable to Plantations Bank of Rhode Island and signed by [redacted]

He said that the signatures appearing on the above of [redacted] were prepared by him. The additional writing in the applicant's statement referring to employment with [redacted] was not provided by him to the bank man and he has no idea as to how it appeared thereon. He did not know if, or where, [redacted] was employed. He himself had never worked for [redacted] [redacted] said that at the time he obtained the loan he knew a fellow who "hung around the corner" named [redacted] whom he had heard had a "few dollars". He said he asked [redacted] to lend him some money and [redacted] told him that he did not have it. He said that [redacted] told him that he could "fix him up with a loan in a bank but that he would have to pay the money back." [redacted] told him to see [redacted] of the Johnston Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. [redacted] said he went to see [redacted] and furnished him some background information and signed a couple of papers. He said that he believes the next day he received the money. He said he could not recall whether [redacted] accompanied him to the bank on the first or the second day.

A loan application dated May 24, 1961 signed by [redacted] and a promissory note dated May 24, 1961 in the amount of $648 signed by [redacted] Providence, was exhibited to him. He identified the signatures thereon as his. It was pointed out to him that the note had a co-signature [redacted]. He said that this was [redacted] signature. He said that the individual whom he has referred to as [redacted]

[redacted] was asked the following information as of May 24, 1961 when he signed the loan application and furnished the following information:

He has resided at [redacted] Providence for 27 years and was employed by the [redacted]

[redacted] for about two years earning $2.50 an hour or if he worked Saturday a total of $125 a week. He said in the last year or so he has owned a Cadillac, Pontiac and a Ford automobile but believes that at the time he made the application he had a 1953 Pontiac. He was asked if he had any loans outstanding at the time he made the application and he said that the told [redacted] no because the reason he was making the loan was because he needed money badly. He said he actually had three loans outstanding on which he owed a total between $600 and $700. He said the loans were with Addco Loan Company, Douglas Avenue, Providence, R.I., Weybosset Street, Providence and Smith Loan Company. He said that he does not have a savings account. He was asked the reason he needed the loan and he replied "I just needed the money." It was pointed out to him that the loan application indicated that the purpose of the loan was for medical expenses.

[redacted] said he had made no payments on the loan because shortly after he had obtained the loan he went in the "can". He said he went to jail on June 10, 1961 and was released on September 1, 1961. He said that when he was released from jail he saw [redacted] because he had heard that [redacted] of the bank was no longer employed there. He said that [redacted] told him "it's your loan and if you pay it okay, if not forget about it." He said he never gave any money to either [redacted] to obtain the loan. He said the only money he needed was $600 and then asked how he spent the money he replied he spent $300 for hospital bills for his wife but could not recall what hospital. He said that the balance of the money he had spent on the horses.

[redacted] was questioned as to how many times he had been arrested and he replied numerous times but only served three months. He said that [redacted] is presently at the Rhode Island Correctional Institute serving a sentence of two years for [redacted]

[redacted] advised that he was born [redacted] and was married to [redacted] and he has three children.

Date April 23, 1962

[redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island was interviewed in the Providence, Rhode Island Resident Agency of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He was advised that he did not have to make a statement and that any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law. He was also advised that he had the right to consult an attorney.

[redacted] was advised that the purpose of the interview concerned a loan under his name at the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, Johnston, Rhode Island Office.

He was shown a loan application dated November 21, 1960 and a promissory note in the amount of $1,080 dated November 21, 1960 and he identified his signature on these documents. [redacted] said that he could not recall the exact date that he had borrowed the money from the bank but believed he obtained this loan approximately six months ago. He was informed that the note was dated November 21, 1960 and he replied that he could not remember to well the date he obtained the money although he knows it was in the amount of $1,000.

Upon being questioned as to why he went to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, he said that he went there and "took a shot" and obtained a loan. He said he could not recall the name of the individual whom he spoke to but remembers that he was tall, thin and had a medium build. He said that he told this man that he wanted a loan and all he was asked was if he was working. He said he replied that he was and the man then asked him several questions writing the answers down and after he finished asking the questions he signed the paper. He said that he went the next day or a couple of days later and he received the $1,000.

[redacted] was asked if anyone had directed him to the bank and he replied no. He was also asked if anyone else had gone to the bank with him when he made out the application or the day he received the money and he replied no.

[redacted] was questioned as to his employment, military service, outstanding obligations and the type of automobile that he owned in November, 1960 the time he signed his name on the loan application and furnished the following information:

He said that he was in the United States Air Force between 1955 and 1957 and after his discharge he went to California where he worked for the [redacted] [redacted] Englewood, California for approximately 1 1/2 months and received a [redacted]. He said he returned to Rhode Island where he collected compensation for 1 1/2 years. He then went to work for the [redacted] [redacted] for approximately 6 to 8 months and then for the City of Cranston, Rhode Island for 6 or 7 months and was laid off in November, 1961. He said that in November, 1960 he did not own an automobile although several months before he did own a 1951 Buick Convertible. He said that he was not indebted at that time. [redacted] was questioned as to what reason he gave for wanting a loan and he said it was to pay personal debts. He said he did not wish to state what were his personal debts or to whom he owed the money.

[redacted] was questioned as to whether he knew a [redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island and he replied that this was his brother. He was specifically asked as to whether his brother had referred him to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank and whether his brother co-signed on his note and he answered no. He was also asked as to whether his brother accompanied him to the bank at the time he made the application and or at the time he received $1,000 from the bank and again he replied no. It was pointed out to [redacted]

[redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island was a co-signer on his note and the note was shown to him. He said he did not know how his brother's name was put on the note and that he may have done it at a later date.

[redacted] said that he was born on [redacted] at Cranston, Rhode Island, was single and has resided at [redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island with his parents all of his life. He was presently unemployed and that he had never been arrested or picked up by the police.

Date April 16, 1962

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, was advised that she did not have to make a statement and any statement made by her could be used against her in a court of law. Also she had the right to retain an attorney. [redacted] was advised that the purpose of the interview concerned a loan she had at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

[redacted] advised that she had an idea this is why the Federal Bureau of Investigation wanted to talk to her and accordingly she had called her brother, [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island. She said that the reason she had done this was because around April, 1961 her brother, [redacted] asked her if she would borrow $1,500.00 under her name. She said that he did not say why he wanted the money but he told her he had a bank that would give her the loan.

Her brother took her to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island where they saw a [redacted] When they arrived, there was also another man waiting at the bank for them. She said she could not recall his name. She said that her brother knew him and they spoke. She said that she sat down at [redacted] desk and the only information he asked her was her name and identification. She said she gave him her Drivers license and signed one or two papers. She said it all happened very fast and the whole transaction did not take more than fifteen minutes. She said that when she left [redacted] desk, she went to a teller's window who gave her cash of $1,500.00. In return she gave the money to her brother and he drove her back home. She said that later the payment book was mailed to her residence and she turned it over to her brother.

[redacted] said that she thought there was something wrong because the transaction took so little time and [redacted] only asked her her name and looked at her drivers license.

A loan application dated March 31, 1961, signed by [redacted] was exhibited to her and she identified her signature. Also shown to her was a promissory note dated April 3, 1961 in the amount of $1,692.00 bearing the name [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, and co-makers [redacted] and [redacted] (Middle Initial Illegible) [redacted] (Illegible), Cranston, Rhode Island. She identified her signature and that of her brother. She said that she believes that [redacted] was the man who was waiting at the bank when they arrived.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that the loan application shows her employed by [redacted] [redacted] earning $50.00 per week and had other income of $30.00 per week from [redacted]. She stated that she never furnished this information to [redacted] because at the time she made the application she was unemployed. She said she did work for [redacted] Atwell Avenue, Providence, part-time around September, 1961 and prior to that time she had worked there for about three months around Christmas of 1960. She said all she earned was $1.05 an hour and only averaged around $20.00 per week.

It was also pointed out that the application shows she had a 1961 Chevrolet Bel-Air, Rhode Island Registration ER258 and the car was financed with General Motors Acceptance Corporation and she was making monthly payments of $83.00. She said that her husband owned a 1960 Chevrolet, Rhode Island Registration ER258, and it was financed with General Motors Acceptance Corporation. She said they make payments of $81.58 per month and at the time she obtained the loan they owed a balance of approximately $1,000.00.

It was also pointed out to [redacted] that the application indicated she paid $7.00 per week rent. She advised that this was true. [redacted] advised that she never furnished any of this information to [redacted] and reiterated that she only gave her name and address and showed him her drivers license. She said that she could only guess but believes that her brother must have given the other information to [redacted]. She stated that her husband, [redacted] is employed for [redacted] and earns $75.00 per week with a take-home pay of $66.00.

[redacted] said that she and her husband have a loan at the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island at their Olneyville Office which they obtained a couple of years ago.

She said that it is a revolving loan account, that is they can borrow up to $400.00 and make payments of $35.00 a month and at any time they may borrow what payments they made up to the allowed amount of $400.00. She said that the balance is now approximately $200.00.

[redacted] said that at the time she obtained the loan for her brother, she did not believe she was doing anything wrong and only did so to help him. She said that after the loan was made, she had received letters from the bank advising that the payments were delinquent and it was then that she became suspicious that something was wrong.

She explained that she is not very close to her brother and in the last two years she had has a couple of major operations, the last being for the removal of her bowel. She said that on the previous evening when she had spoken to her brother it was the first time that she had done so in several months. She said that they are not very close. She said that she told her brother that she was going to tell the truth and he instructed her not to hide anything.

Date April 23, 1962

[redacted] was interviewed at the Providence Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He was immediately advised of his right to counsel, of the fact he did not have to say anything and anything he did say could be used against him in a court of law. He was questioned specifically concerning the details of a loan for $3,500.00 made by him on December 22, 1960 at the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

He advised the loan was originally for $3,000.00 and he made this approximately one and one-half years ago. About nine months ago he renewed the loan for $3,500.00. He stated that the purpose of this loan was for payment of gambling debts. He was questioned as to whether or not he owed money to anyone and then stated that he was betting on the horses and needed the money.

He was questioned as to what he told the bank officials when he applied for the loan and he stated he could not remember what he told the bank officials at the time of application. He was questioned as to whether or not he had any other loans outstanding at the time he made the loan and he advised that he could not recall. He was questioned as to why he picked out this particular branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island to obtain a loan and he furnished the following information:

He advised that he was at Lincoln Downes Race Track with [redacted] and he asked [redacted] where he could borrow some money. [redacted] told him that he could make arrangements for a loan.

About a week or so later he went with [redacted] to the bank in Johnston, Rhode Island and [redacted] introduced him to a bank official named [redacted]. He could not recall whether or not he got the cash on the same day he applied for the loan. He could not recall if he told the bank official whether or not he had other loans outstanding.

He was shown the applicant's statement and he admitted his signature appears on the bottom of the applicant's statement which is dated September 20, 1960. He advised that the other information concerning his residence at [redacted] in Milford, Massachusetts, as well as his employment as a [redacted] Everett, Massachusetts, is accurate and he advised he is still working for [redacted] as a [redacted] and has been so employed for the past four years. He could not recall whether or not [redacted] co-signed the loan.

He was questioned as to whether or not he had applied for a loan with the Mount Pleasant branch of the Citizens Trust Company, Providence, Rhode Island, and he advised that about six months after he obtained the loan at the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, he tried to obtain a loan of $1,000.00 with [redacted]. He explained that [redacted] took him down to the bank and introduced him to a bank official and he was refused because he was "out of state, I guess".

He was questioned as to what payments he had made on the outstanding loan. He advised that he paid the interest on the loan three or four times until one time [redacted] told him that he should start paying off on the principal and he did not accept any more interest payments. He advised that he did not want to make any payment on the principal and as a matter of fact was having tough luck and could not make any payments.

He was also questioned as to whether or not he gave any of the proceeds of his loan to any bank official or to any other individual including [redacted] and he denied emphatically doing so. He was confronted with the information appearing on his loan application that the purpose of the loan was to "purchase a second car for his wife" and he stated he could not recall this.

[redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, was advised that he did not have to make a statement; that any statement he did make could be used against him in court and that he had the right to consult an attorney before making a statement.

[redacted] was questioned concerning a loan under his name at the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island which was obtained January 24, 1961 in the amount of $336.00.

[redacted] was shown a loan application dated January 24, 1961 and a promissory note dated January 24, 1961 in the amount of $336.00, both containing the signature of [redacted]. He identified the signatures as his. It was also pointed out to [redacted] that the notes contained the signature of the co-maker, [redacted].

[redacted] He explained that [redacted] was with him when he obtained the loan and signed as co-maker. [redacted] explained that at the time he made the loan, he spoke to friends of his, [redacted] and explained to them that he needed $300.00. [redacted] told him that he could obtain a loan at the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island if he co-signed the note. He said [redacted] told him that inasmuch as he, [redacted] had a good job with the [redacted] he should have no problem in obtaining the loan.

[redacted] said he needed this money because he had a number of personal loans outstanding.

He stated [redacted] drove him to the bank in his car. He said he spoke to a fellow named [redacted] and explained that he wanted to borrow money and he was referred to [redacted] and they shook hands and he was introduced. He explained to [redacted] that he wanted to borrow $300.00 to pay "a couple of small bills" and also buy a small car. He said [redacted] told him that [redacted] would have to co-sign on the loan. He said he understood this and [redacted] then referred him to one of the girl bank employees who came over and asked him questions from the application, which he signed. He said he answered all questions honestly because as far as he was concerned, this was a legitimate loan which he intended to pay back.

He explained that he made four payments and when the fifth payment was due, he called the bank and explained to a girl employee that he did not have enough money to make a full payment and she told him to send in whatever he could. He said all he had was $7.00 and he mailed this to the bank. It was pointed out to [redacted] that the last payment of $7.00 made by him was on September 7, 1961 and no other payments had been received to date. He stated he is indebted over $1,500.00 and has not had the money to make the payments on this loan.

He said he has been employed at [redacted] in Providence, Rhode Island as [redacted] since January, 1961. When he was first employed, he was temporary and was making a salary of $100.00 weekly. Subsequently, he was appointed permanent and now has a take home pay of about $61.00 per week. He explained that while a temporary employee, he could work any number of hours but as a regular appointee, he could only work his regular 40 hours.

[redacted] stated that when he obtained the loan in January, 1961, he had been residing at [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island for approximately four and one-half years and previous to that time, he resided at [redacted] Providence for five and one-half years. [redacted] was employed by [redacted] and his take home pay was between $80.00 and $85.00 a week. He said his wife was employed by [redacted] on a part time basis making approximately $20.00 to $25.00 a week. He had previously been employed by [redacted] as a [redacted]. He said he had loans with the Park Finance Company in the amount of $200.00; Citizens Finance Company in the approximate amount of $200.00; County Loan Company in the approximate amount of $85.00; Grinnell Company Credit Union in the approximate amount of $400.00; Ward Baking Company Credit Union in the approximate amount of $400.00 and the Good Year Loan Company, Providence in the approximate amount of $380.00. He also had personal debts of about $100.00.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that on the loan application that he signed, he had listed only two loans; one at the County Loan Company with a balance outstanding of $75.00 and general debts of $250.00, with a total indebtedness of only $325.00. He said he knows he did not tell the girl about all of his loans but that was only because he needed the $300.00 badly. He said he plays the horses and most of his indebtedness was caused by his borrowing the money to spend on the horse races. He said he never gave [redacted] any money for obtaining this loan.

He said he has intentions of repaying the loan and he was well aware that [redacted] would not put up with any employee failing to do so.

He stated because of his indebtedness, he had spoken to the Superintendent of [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island and was instructed to either pay the loans off or if unable to do so, make arrangements with the companies whereby monthly payments would be smaller and he would be in a position to meet his obligations.

Cranston, Rhode Island, was advised that she did not have to make a statement; that any statement she did make could be used against her in court and that she had the right to consult with an attorney before making a statement.

She advised that she was not aware of a personal loan under the name of [redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island which was obtained September 20, 1960 in the amount of $5,000 from the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

[redacted] was shown a promissory note dated September 20, 1960 for $5,000 at the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. She said she recognized the signature of her husband, [redacted] but said that the name [redacted] was a forgery of her name.

She stated that two or three months ago, she received a letter from the Citizens Trust Company, Providence, Rhode Island advising that another note where her name appeared as a co-signer was delinquent and the bank was demanding payment. She stated she contacted her attorneys and they directed a letter to the bank advising that her signature was a forgery. She said she also went to the bank and pointed out to [redacted] that her name was a forgery.

[redacted] stated that her husband, [redacted] is employed by [redacted] Providence Rhode Island as an [redacted]. She stated he knows that she disapproves of loans and accordingly, any loans that he has he would not bring to her attention. She said she mentioned to him about the loan at the Citizens Trust Company and he admitted to her that this was his loan and he had put her name as co-signer. She stated her husband is very secretive and as a result of his numerous loans, her household money is very tight.

She stated she had no objection about discussing her husband's loans because it has been a source of trouble with them over the years. She explained that the reason she had her attorneys write the Citizens Trust Company to explain the forgery of her signature was because she was planning in the near future to go into the beauty parlor business and she did not want her credit rating destroyed.

The reason for this payment was unknown to the informant. RAYMOND replied that he did not know what he would give [redacted] as it would depend on what they would get out of it.

The same UNMAN told RAYMOND that he worked it out with him to the extent that the Governor gets 25 thousand, UNMAN will get 15 thousand which consists of 5 thousand from him, not identified, and 10 thousand from Narragansett. The total will be 75,000, 25 thousand of which will go to Governor NOTTE and "We'll wind up with 50 thousand which we'll get for a period of 5 years at the rate of 10 thousand a year." RAYMOND answers in the affirmative throughout this conversation, but had previously mentioned that 25 has got to go to that guy, possibly meaning NOTTE. UNMAN states that this year RAYMOND can keep the first 15 thousand and the other guy can wait. RAYMOND said that "He don't have to know that we get the first 15. ten out of that. This possibly pertains to the payoff for additional racing dates, including night racing in the State of Rhode Island.

On the same date, this UNMAN told RAYMOND that "we" have an appointment with JOHN POWERS (D) (Senate Majority Leader, Commonwealth of Massachusetts) on next Monday. The bill is all prepared and "we're going to work on it and push it through the end of next week." By means of this bill, they intend to bring the total racing dates of the Hancock Race Track up to 96.

UNMAN said that [] (LNU) was in Springfield under his direction. The name of [] was mentioned by UNMAN but the significance of which was not heard by the informant, but there was going to be a delay of a couple of more weeks as the lawyer "hasn't got a leg to stand on," and "it's just a matter of delaying."

The same UNMAN told RAYMOND that he is taking [] Lincoln Downs Race Track, Rhode Island) to the electrical works to see what they can do. This possibly refers to the installation of lights at the Lincoln Downs Race Track for night racing.

The same UNMAN said that he saw [] yesterday and wanted to know how much he gave out to [] (ph). He pointed out to [] that "those guys are not going to the can." [] said he did not give him two cents. UNMAN told [] that he saw the bill for $22,000 and that amount is not called for in even a murder trial. UNMAN said if worse comes to worse we can go to the Governor and see if those guys can get out. This possibly refers to the possession of illegal alcohol trial in the State of Connecticut.

UNMAN told RAYMOND that he talked with him, referring to UNMAN in a union, and the union representative wanted to know what he had done wrong as he would do anything in the world for RAYMOND, and as far as he knows he has done nothing wrong. RAYMOND replied that he started to take the [] brothers' jobs away from them and "He's trying to marry the union." UNMAN replied that he denied knowing this. The union representative said he would do anything RAYMOND wants him to do and said that he would go to work on the complaint of the [] brothers and see what he could do.

RAYMOND asked UNMAN if he told [] he was looking for money. UNMAN replied he did, and that [] will positively come up with something. RAYMOND replied it already cost $6,000 and we need 5 or 6 thousand more.

UNMAN refers to the Berkshire group as a corporation, possibly referring to the Hancock Race Track.

UNMAN said he grabbed ahold of [] and accused him of giving [] has a lot of drag with the boss and if he ever meets [] (ph) and goes against him he, [] would not be New England president. There was mention of $129,000 but the significance of which was not heard by the informant.

UNMAN said that Suffolk must owe 300,000, Rockingham the same way but Rockingham keeps taking care of [] they keep passing it on. This UNMAN claimed that he had the job for the electrical work at the track, possibly referring to Lincoln Downs Race Track, and that [] told him the prices on the other bids so that he will be able to under bid them.

UNMAN then tells RAYMOND that he contemplates securing a loan from [] refuses, UNMAN will obtain same from JERRY, possibly ANGIULO.

UNMAN, who at this point is referred to as JOE, had already told RAYMOND that he had written to [] and [] replied that he did not have time to look over the prospects of this venture. RAYMOND requested [] to make an appointment for him with [] This possibly refers to the maintaining of a food concessions at one of the Rhode Island tracks.

HENRY TAMELEO told RAYMOND that he was told by UNMAN that some unknown individual borrowed a thousand dollars and he, TAMELEO, was asked whether he wanted to buy the loan and TAMELEO refused.

BS 92-118

At this point, [] (LNU) entered and told RAYMOND and TAMELEO about being arrested for gambling in the Rhode Island area by the State Police.

On 6/6/62 [] told RAYMOND that he, not further identified, would pay Thursday. RAYMOND said that he had talked to the guy but that he could not pay it, and this individual sought RAYMOND's help in obtaining additional time for the loan. RAYMOND told him that he was not going to do anything on his behalf.

Another UNMAN asked RAYMOND if he would be interested in purchasing 35 acres in Johnston, Rhode Island for home development. RAYMOND told him that he could not enter this venture as he had no money to show.

UNMAN tells RAYMOND that they are going to try [] in New Haven for furnishing false testimony to Federal agents, and he asked RAYMOND to tell [] this fact.

UNMAN complained about all the heat on the rackets and criticized various politicians. He said that they had the nerve to send him a hundred dollar ticket for the KENNEDY affair but that he refused to purchase same because things are getting tough.

The informant advised on 6/7/62 that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had received a summons to appear before a [] of the Internal Revenue Service in Providence, R. I., on 6/18/62; that he intends to appear as directed; and that he will take the Fifth Amendment in answering questions.

BS 837-C*

This misur was installed 3/8/62 in the office of Raymond L. S. Patriarca in Providence, Rhode Island. Since activation this misur has furnished a wealth of worthwhile information concerning Patriarca's activities and associates. It has shown that Patriarca exerts real control over the racketeers and racketeering activities in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. It has also shown definite connections between Patriarca and the New York City hoodlum element and has strongly indicated that Patriarca is a member of the "commission." I recommend this misur be continued for a period of 90 days, which will expire 9/6/62.

19. Recommendation by the Assistant to the Director:

(9) On 3/7/62 and subsequent dates thereafter, informant indicated that Subject and individuals associated with him had a substantial financial interest in the Hancock Raceway, Inc., one of two tracks for flat racing in Massachusetts. Discreet investigation is being conducted to develop such information because of the potentiality of Federal violations.

On 3/8/62 and subsequent dates thereafter, informant indicated that Subject was endeavoring to "fix" the investigation being conducted by the Internal Revenue Service into the Sherwood Manufacturing Company, a firm in which Subject has a financial interest and which employs [redacted] [redacted] Subject's endeavors included the services of [redacted] former Internal Revenue Service employee who made contact with [redacted] the Internal Revenue Service agent handling the investigation. As a result of the information furnished by the source, Internal Revenue Service is reinvestigating the case and [redacted] recommendations have not been approved.

Since the installation of the source, the informant has practically on a daily basis been furnishing information that indicates that Subject occupies a leading position in the underworld in the Rhode Island - Massachusetts area. He is frequently consulted by individuals from such area as to gambling activities, arson matters, gangland murders, loan shark activities, etc. Frequently, individuals are turning money over to him derived from illicit activities and seek his approval prior to engaging in criminal enterprises.

(17) The confidential source has indicated that PATRIARCA is a member of the "organization" and, thus, has confirmed previous information that PATRIARCA is a member of the "Commission." The informant has given a very illuminating insight into all types of criminal activities in this area, and his continuance will serve to crystallize information that may lead to prosecutable violations.

 Boston airtel 6/7/62.

The information furnished by BS 837-0* on 6/5/62 relative to a conversation between an unknown individual and subject PATRIARCA concerning the division of $75,000.00 with $25,000.00 thereof for Governor NOTTE of Rhode Island was analyzed and the following observations are submitted:

The reports of SA [redacted] dated 5/7/62 and 6/6/62 at Boston on captioned subject reflect detailed information furnished by the confidential source concerning the Hancock Race Track and other interests that subject PATRIARCA may have in the racing field. It is noted that JOSEPH HARRIKONTIAN, aka Joe Kirk, born 12/13/10 at Foster, R.I., is believed to be the individual who may be frequently reporting to PATRIARCA concerning such matters. This fact, however, has not been crystalized but in view of the continued activity in the racing field it is believed that the identity of the individual conversing with PATRIARCA relative to racing interests will be established in the near future. The Bureau will be accordingly advised.

It is believed that KRIKORIAN, in speaking of HARRY on 6/5/62, may be referring to HARRY CURVIN who is the Speaker of the House of Representatives in Rhode Island is a very influential politician. He allegedly holds the position that no legislation can be adopted in Rhode Island without his approval.

It is pointed out that for many years horse racing in Rhode Island was only during the day. However, recently the Commission on Horse Racing and Athletics in Rhode Island approved night racing and the Narragansett Park was assigned 24 nights (7/2 - 28/62) and Lincoln Downs was assigned 24 nights (7/30/62 - 8/25/62). It is noted that Lincoln Downs is the track [REDACTED] [REDACTED] As a result of this assignment, protest was made thereon to the Commission on Horse Racing and Athletics Hearing Board which sustained the granting of dates and the assignment thereof. Thereafter, the group protesting appealed to the Rhode Island State Supreme Court and this court dismissed the petition.

[REDACTED] has reported that it is common gossip in Rhode Island that Governor NOTTE was supposed to get $50,000.00 for the allowance of night racing in the State. It would appear, therefore, that KRIKORIAN and PATRIARCA are discussing a fund that is being raised which will amount to $75,000.00 and $25,000.00 of which will be given to Governor NOTTE and the balance divided between PATRIARCA and his associates. The details of the source of this money and its actual distribution have not been crystalized but this matter will be followed for the possible development of the same.

For the Bureau's information it is understood that HARRY CURVIN is presently the subject of IRS investigation.

UNMAN said there is a job for (blank) for $25 a day for 3 days a week, and it is a job of prestige. The UNMAN they refer to is a general "or something" with the Army and that the person they refer to as getting the job for $25 a day was this individual's son named RAYMOND. RAYMOND PATRIARCA said an Italian has the job now but is going to give it up. They were not sure that this individual would take the job as he might not want to be involved.

RAYMOND told the other UNMAN that he has a headache now, that he was talking to this S.O.B. down at the track, who was subsequently identified as [redacted] who said he put up $72,000 and "they're not going to use him" and threatened to go to Washington. According to RAYMOND, "it figured on the track deal," but the informant had no further information concerning the significance of this.

They mentioned the name [redacted] (ph) who [redacted] (ph) hates like poison. UNMAN said that [redacted] (ph) also have no use for him but "This guy kept them around for that reason. If he could use them, that's what he'd do and he'll probably give them a little room. But as far as him sticking out his neck for this guy, I doubt it very much." UNMAN #2 replied that "He knew a lot of it before he got the position because they were very very close. During the race he used [redacted] (ph) to take up with these people." He continued by saying, "Now that the thing is doomed, [redacted] (ph) is gonna get his money back out of it. The other 25, a year or so, until tomorrow, now this bum is hollering." UNMAN #2 says he threatens to go to Washington and asks how much does he want. RAYMOND replies, "10 G's or something." The informant was unable to determine the significance of this conversation but [redacted] State of Rhode Island; and [redacted] could be [redacted] to Governor NOTTE, who resigned recently.

UNMAN #2 said that "This guy put in a report with [redacted] angle." He then continued by criticizing this individual

On the same date, RAYMOND tells UNMEN that he received a summons from KATZ of the Internal Revenue Service for 6/18/62.

UNMAN told RAYMOND that another UNMAN who owed $1,400 and won $3,100 and paid off some of his debts to other people. UNMAN indicated he is going to contact this other individual who won the $3,100 in order to collect his money.

On 6/8/62 RAYMOND tells [] (LNU) that he straightened the loan out with that guy, not further identified, and to forget the interest on it. [] (LNU) had told the individual that if he wanted the money back he could get it. [] after counting money, said "It's 5 weeks, that's thirteen eight. [] (LNU) asked RAYMOND to intercede for him in a "beef" in Springfield. [] (ph) had a cousin in Springfield who was a good kid. [] He instructed [] get in touch with him and he would attempt to straighten the matter out.

[] (LNU) tells RAYMOND his [] business is good but that everything is C.O.D. He is attempting to obtain credit from the [] manufacturers of [] by which he can purchase [] and not pay for them until he "takes them from the vault."

[] also complained about the investigation of the Internal Revenue Service relative to the $2,000 he allegedly invested in [] denies this and he has ascertained from [] that the account was, in fact, a savings account for [] [] said that the only way he will resolve this problem will be to drag [] into the Internal Revenue Service investigation and force them to admit the truth.

RE: DR. HARRY ISRAEL ZAFF

The Bureau is inclined to agree with the New York Office concerning this matter, at least at this time. It is suggested that prior to the NYO making inquiries regarding the insurance held by Dr. Zaff, Boston should endeavor to obtain this information through local sources.

It would appear that Dun and Bradstreet might possibly have comprehensive information on Zaff and/or the Great Eastern Investment Corporation. Further, inquiry could be made through the Inspection Unit or the Intelligence Unit of the IRS at Boston to determine whether Zaff has ever been investigated and, if so, what facts were developed regarding his monetary affairs. Further, it would appear that IRS may possibly have conducted an audit of the Great Eastern Investment Corporation and, if so, the $137,000 insurance policy would have been uncovered.

Most states and/or local governments exercise rather rigid control of investment corporations and in so doing maintain in a current status detailed reports and information concerning such companies. In this instance it would appear that if Zaff has a $137,000 policy payable to the corporation, the corporation would be paying the premiums on same and this expenditure of funds would be known to the controlling state or local agency.

Your office has developed information that Dr. Zaff is undoubtedly accident prone. You might consider checking on some of the more serious accidents in which he has been involved, that is with the insurance carriers involved in connection with these accidents since their reports may possibly reveal other insurance carried by Dr. Zaff.

The Bureau will recall that at the outset of the functioning of BS 837-C the latter advised that the subject and an individual believed to be HENRY TAMELEO discussed a Doctor who appeared to be a potential victim in a gold swindle and involved in the operation of a person referred to as [redacted]. This Doctor allegedly had a double indemnity policy for $137,000 payable to the office, and an additional $65,000 insurance policy. He was an accident-prone driver, and the discussion involved the possibility of arranging for his elimination by a collision of his car with a stolen truck.

Since the above information was received, discreet investigation has been conducted in an endeavor to identify the Doctor referred to and [redacted]. As a result of such investigation, information has developed that the Doctor may be Dr. HARRY ISRAEL ZAFF, President of the Great Eastern Investment Corporation, 30 Huntington Ave., Boston, Mass. ZAFF is a dentist in Boston, and the latter company is of the finance-loan type. Also, in this company is a [redacted]. Investigation has indicated that Dr. ZAFF has had a number of automobile accidents during the past several years.

A confidential source of the John Hancock Life Insurance Co. has advised that Dr. ZAFF, while he does not have a present policy with that company, may have insurance with the Equitable Life Insurance Co. of New York and the New York Life Insurance Co.

On 6/13/62 by airtel under the subcaption, "Great Eastern Investment Corporation," the NYO was requested to contact the Equitable Life Insurance Co. of New York and the New York Life Insurance Co. for determination of complete details of any insurance held by ZAFF in such companies or any other companies known thereby.

By airtel dated 6/18/62 the NYO requested the Boston Office to reconsider this request and pointed out that an inquiry of such nature could place the Bureau in a position of controversy at a later date. The NYO further points out that consideration should be given to furnishing this information to the local authorities for appropriate action and, if Boston still considers the lead necessary, Bureau authority should be requested.

It is pointed out that the information furnished by BS 837-C* on 3/6/62 was extremely vague and not of sufficient crystal character warranting dissemination. BS 837-C* has furnished no additional information on this matter, and only by discreet inquiry the above facts were developed.

It is still of a conjectural nature as to whether or not Dr. ZAFF is the intended victim and the Boston Office is desirous of verifying the two significant characteristics mentioned by the informant as to the identity of the Doctor involved, namely, his proneness to automobile accidents and the fact that he had a double indemnity policy for $137,000, payable to a firm rather than an individual, and a $65,000 policy in addition thereto.

While the accident-prone character of Dr. ZAFF has been more or less determined, it is felt that the insurance phase would crystallize the situation. Accordingly, the NYO was requested to conduct this inquiry. In the event the facts were determined to exist in respect to the Doctor's insurance, the Boston Office then contemplated discreetly developing this situation toward the best interest of the Bureau. This may involve the development of ZAFF as a confidential source, as the latter is believed to be close to the gambling element in this area.

In view of the above, the Bureau is requested to authorize the NYO to make the inquiries of the insurance companies.

On 6/13/62 UNMAN told RAYMOND that he, not further identified, has been in Jersey, that they had a game Sunday or Monday in Jersey and they lost the first game. UNMAN says that he thinks that he will take a ride down there. During the conversation, there was mention of [] (LNU) but the significance was not obtained by the informant.

RAYMOND talks to UNMAN and accuses him of setting fire to his dump and causing $4,000 worth of damage. UNMAN denied this vehemently and said that he was "with [] in Worcester." RAYMOND claimed that he was the only one with reason to burn the dump and threatened to "bury him in the dump." UNMAN again vehemently denied having anything to do with the fire but did suspect [] who [] and who frequents the dump. UNMAN caught [] stealing and told him to stay away from the dump. After considerable argument, RAYMOND tells UNMAN that he thinks he is right and indicates that he does not believe he set the fire. UNMAN then offers RAYMOND a very big truck which he has with a big body on it because RAYMOND's tractor was damaged by the fire. RAYMOND accepts this offer.

RAYMOND told another UNMAN to tell [] to tell [] that JERRY is trying to work out something. UNMAN states that the lawyer [] can get only nineteen and cannot get any more. The rest of the sentence was not heard by the informant.

UNMAN continued by saying that the two doctors got up 25 a piece and if [] did not get any more he, not further identified, could buy that piece which would represent 10% instead of 20%. RAYMOND agrees and says, "That's right, he put that 25 up, [] and then will raise another 25 to meet the doctors' part." UNMAN says, "Now to raise the 25 to meet the doctors, I can get a loan on my warehouse to take [] piece."

RAYMOND says that JERRY is trying to borrow $100,000 from some people at 6% and indicates that this loan will only be on paper in order to "make it look good on the books. As soon as JERRY arranges this, he is supposed to come down and see [] which should be today or tomorrow."

The above could possibly pertain to attorney [redacted] and [redacted] the Indian Meadow Country Club in the Worcester, Mass., area. This group has previously obtained a loan of $237,000 from the Small Business Administration.

The same UNMAN gave RAYMOND an envelope with $300 and another amount not known. RAYMOND states, "That's for last month." The answer was not heard by the informant, but the name of [redacted] (ph) was mentioned. This same UNMAN gives RAYMOND 1,444 for horses and 1,850, the reason for which is not heard by the informant. The city of Worcester is mentioned in this conversation but the informant was unable to determine any further information relative to this.

The same UNMAN then discussed needing another UNMAN to take action. The kid who was working with the horses quit and they had to get another kid. The kid that they did get is very good because he uses his own house, his own phone and has a legitimate job and works everyday. UNMAN stated that he tries to keep people who work for him as bookies away from him. He then complained about another individual in Worcester in the booking business who stays in the limelight. RAYMOND agreed to this and stated that these individuals should not be in the limelight and criticized one of them for playing golf in Springfield and Worcester and running around with a good looking dame at all good eating places. He said that he, himself, very seldom goes to public eating places and wants to stay out of the limelight as much as possible.

This UNMAN said that [redacted] (LNU) and he run the (blank). There was a complaint by this UNMAN about an individual named [redacted] who the other bookie wanted to hire and UNMAN told him to take him; however, he should clear through [redacted] and RAYMOND first.

Some unknown person won a bet totaling $14,500 and the bookie apparently left the city of Worcester or Springfield (not clear to the informant). The better threatened to complain to the District Attorney and also the FBI. UNMAN told [] to contact the individual and offer him $2,000 for the time being until they caught the guy and to pacify him. [] apparently did this as the man is not going to complain at the present time.

Another UNMAN told RAYMOND that the attorney's fees in the Federal court cost him $3,500 and he only received $500 from the other guy, not further identified. Because of this he had to borrow from the family and indicated that he was to be sentenced in the near future. He was told by UNMEN when he started on this venture that if anything happened to him RAYMOND would take care of it. RAYMOND denied vehemently that he had anything to do with what he was arrested on and as far as he knew he was given $1,000 instead of the $500. UNMAN replied that he was only given two payments, one of 200 and one of 300 by the other individual. The individual who apparently told him that RAYMOND was interested in this venture was []. The reason the individual was arrested was not known to the informant. RAYMOND told UNMAN that he will get in touch with [] and talk to him. He pointed out to him that if he were interested in this venture he would not have let it go this far.

Another UNMAN asked RAYMOND, "After they investigate the situation, what else can they investigate? That's for [] (ph) [] the Laborers' Union, Washington, D. C.)....," and rest of the sentence was not heard by the informant. UNMAN said he wrote a letter to the union but they don't come to him. They go to the other side so it must be a one-sided investigation.

RAYMOND told UNMAN, [] said you and [] told him that if anything happens I'll straighten it out." UNMAN said he got a grand altogether, after which there was an argument as to whether he got $1,000 or $500. UNMAN said actually he got $2,000 because he got a thousand dollars before the thing started. They both are of the opinion that UNMAN was trying to shake RAYMOND down.

The informant heard the mention of "a fire starting" and RAYMOND replied, "You should have broken his legs."

UNMAN said that JOE KIRK (ph) said he was going to see NUGENT and [redacted] at which point RAYMOND got excited and said, "Stop it, stop it." UNMAN then told RAYMOND that he told KIRK he had better see RAYMOND before he does anything like that. RAYMOND repeated, "Stop it, stop it right away," and says, "If you see [redacted] instead of getting five years you'll get ten years." UNMAN then clarified his statement and said that he did not mean [redacted] the Federal Probation Officer who wanted to get a picture of [redacted] (ph).

Another UNMAN then asks, "But who is [redacted] supposed to see, NUGENT or [redacted]?" RAYMOND then says, "Keep away from that stuff. Don't see anybody. Forget about it," and repeated, "you'll get ten years instead of five years if you see [redacted] or NUGENT." There was mention of a recommendation, but the informant did not obtain the significance of same.

One of the UNMEN present is to be sentenced in Federal Court and he said, "WIMPY said the lawyer called him last night." RAYMOND said [redacted] said he sent all the money, and the rest of the sentence was not heard by the informant. UNMAN says the lawyer said [redacted] (ph) that their bail was no good after they were sentenced but the judge is going to let it stay at $15,000. RAYMOND says, "Well, the lawyer must have seen the judge and agreed on this but if anything changes you can call [redacted] and bring him down for the bond."

UNMAN said that WIMPY went Monday and he saw [redacted] RAYMOND said, "He's the Federal Probation Officer in the Federal Building." UNMAN answered, "YES." RAYMOND said that WIMPY is a wiseguy and is getting smart. UNMAN said that he, [redacted] said that it is just a formality and asked him whether he filled out the papers. When he answered yes, he asked about the other guy to which UNMAN replied he did not know. UNMAN who took a pinch in Kansas City in 1940 said that he, [redacted] had him in Miami, Florida, and New York City also. UNMAN was apparently being questioned by [redacted] about his criminal record as shown by the FBI Identification Record as he asked [redacted] "What does cc New York City and Miami, Florida, mean," to which [redacted] replied that, "Your prints and picture are forwarded by the FBI to these cities from Washington." UNMAN explained that he was in the Army and might have been arrested for drinking or something like that while in Kansas City.

Another UNMAN tells RAYMOND relative to the electrical deal he got all the bids and mentioned the lowest bidder as being the New England chain (?) with a bid of $289,000. Their bid was for $318,000 which was the second lowest bid. The bids have not been passed on as yet and UNMAN did not know what was going to happen. This apparently refers to the installation of electrical equipment for night racing at Lincoln Downs Race Track, Rhode Island.

It is pointed out that the wife of RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA has been confined to the New England Baptist Hospital, Roxbury, Mass., and frequently PATRIARCA will visit her there. In the course of such visits, PATRIARCA will be contacted by various associates in the Boston area, and on 6/13/62 THEODORE FUCILLO was observed contacting PATRIARCA at the hospital. The two of them proceeded to the parking lot in the rear of the hospital and engaged in conversation approximately 25 minutes with PATRICK J. "SONNY" MC DONOUGH, a member of the Massachusetts Governor's Council and prominent Democrat in the Boston area.

MC DONOUGH was seated in FUCILLO's car and he had been observed being driven therein by FUCILLO to the parking lot, and after the conference departing with FUCILLO in the latter's car. PATRIARCA returned to the hospital. The significance of a member of the Governor's Council meeting PATRIARCA under these circumstances is not known, but the Bureau will recall that MC DONOUGH has been active in the PATRIARCA interests in respect to the parole application of [REDACTED] ET AL.

On 6/14/62 BS 837-C* advised UNMAN (possibly [redacted] LNU) accompanied by other UNMEN told RAYMOND that he got disqualified Wednesday (last) from the nomination of the Laborers Union in Providence. They discussed the possibility of appeal but decided that the appeal to the International Union would take over 30 days, and as the election is being held on Sunday, June 17, 1962, it would be to no avail. They tell RAYMOND that he (possibly [redacted]) "got us in a position that we are fighting the International."

RAYMOND and UNMEN suggest that they get some lawyer and obtain an injunction against the local union and stop the election until the disqualification is cleared up. RAYMOND suggests that they see [redacted] and explain their position in that [redacted] had his hand up to nominate another man and the person running the meeting did not recognize [redacted] and closed the nominations. UNMAN said that the International Union made an investigation of the charges and found in favor of [redacted]. They termed it a kangaroo court referring to the investigation in that it was a one-sided affair. They claimed that the true minutes of the meeting were thrown away after they were typed up. They also claimed that the International knows that the ballot box was stuffed.

UNMAN suggests that they call the International and threaten to obtain an injunction against the local unless they send a man down and straighten the situation out. RAYMOND tells them not to do it that way but to have someone else call and "tip them off" that [] is putting in an injunction and suggest to them that they send a man down and straighten it out. RAYMOND said that in this way you protect yourself and "You've got to be careful." UNMAN said that 200 to 210 people voted and over 290 ballots were in the box.

On the same date, informant advised UNMAN, who was found guilty for conspiracy in the illegal possession of alcohol in Jewett City, Connecticut, discussed his case with RAYMOND. This UNMAN thinks that he was persecuted in that he was judged by the jury through stories in the newspapers and not through testimony.

On 6/15/62 the informant advised UNMAN and RAYMOND discussed loaning of money by UNMAN to individuals not mentioned. RAYMOND told UNMAN that he's got to know who he is loaning money to and if the person is a gambler or a thief not to give it to him; otherwise, if they get in trouble you cannot get the money back.

UNMAN and RAYMOND discuss new customers and prices for the dump in which RAYMOND has an interest.

On 6/18/62 the informant advised UNMAN and RAYMOND discuss the union election which took place on June 17, 1962. UNMAN states that [] (LNU), who was nominated for a position in the union, had given his resignation of the nomination to [] after last Wednesday night's meeting but [] did not take [] name off the ballot.

UNMAN states that [] has gypped their faction all the time and also did it yesterday with other UNMAN's brother-in-law, not further identified. He continued by saying that [] is gypping them and [] is making us like it all the time." He complained that [] was supposed to be with (us) and [] has him now because of the fact that he did not turn in his resignation and [] has now won the job as [] RAYMOND said, "If you don't do the right thing, let him go pick and shovel. The agreement is off. He continued by pointing out that "It's probably better to let him stay and let it cool down." He told UNMAN that, "What we got to do now is no more talk about it. We lose, let's shake hands and let [redacted] stay there. If he doesn't do right, let him die as [redacted]" He also instructs that they make sure he, not further identified, always gets a good stewards job and thereby pay him back for the time he put in.

RAYMOND tells UNMAN that he took the Fifth on all questions asked of him by IRS Agents.

For clarification purposes of the above, there appeared in the "Providence Journal" under date of 6/18/62 a story to the effect that Local 271 of the General Construction Workers Union elected officers the day previous in its first contested balloting in 25 years. The results were not disclosed. Almost 500 members of the 2,000 members voted and the voting marked the first break in the COIA and DE FALCO families who have shared the leadership harmoniously in this Local for the last twelve years. The COIA slate consisted of ARTHUR E. COIA, president; RALPH M COIA, secretary treasurer; ARMANDO SABITONI, business representative; and no mention was made of the individual running for vice president on this slate. The DE FALCO faction slate consisted of FRED BROCCOLI, president; secretary treasurer not mentioned; JOSEPH DE FALCO, vice president; and PAUL DE FALCO, business representative. One member of the COIA faction said the split developed because "a few rotten apples are trying to force their way in, and the union's split up over it."

On 6/27/62 BS 837-C* advised that [] (LNU) told RAYMOND that they had a good game and had over 25 people there. The limit to this game is $150 and RAYMOND suggests that they raise the limit to $200. He claims that the game "stands $35,000." They discuss various ways of shooting dice and the odds on the different ways of shooting.

The informant advised that SAM GRANITO told RAYMOND that he sent the money down yesterday as he could not make it himself. RAYMOND asks if the place is getting rough to run. SAMMY replies, "We sneak in once or twice a week," and "I keep telling Canadian to take it easy as he has more to lose than I (GRANITO)."

They discuss a police officer on Deputy Superintendent [] squad of the Boston Police Department who is going to be transferred, and they believe he is going to be transferred to either Station 4 or Station 1. RAYMOND states in referring to Police Commissioner EDMUND L. MC NAMARA (Boston) that "FBI men don't understand. They got it in their blood." The rest of the conversation was not heard by the informant. Both RAYMOND and GRANITO criticized MC NAMARA and that a cop informed SAM that they are after three places; namely, the Coliseum, Tecci's (another after-hours drinking establishment) and the ANGIULO operations.

SAMMY then complained to RAYMOND that the Massachusetts State Police are "on my back." The Massachusetts State Police had picked up an associate of his relative to the Red Coach Grille holdup, Saugus, Massachusetts, and when they took him to Headquarters, they asked him whether he was friendly with GRANITO and also showed him a photograph of GRANITO. A Chelsea, Mass., police officer told GRANITO that the Massachusetts State Police suspected GRANITO of being involved in the Harmony Club stickup.

SAM had previously asked JERRY ANGIULO to contact RAYMOND to see if it was OK for him, JERRY, to approach [redacted] (possibly [redacted] the Uniform Branch, Massachusetts State Police) to find out what was wrong. RAYMOND told SAMMY that it was important and that he would tell JERRY to get [redacted] and "have him take the picture (of GRANITO) out of the active file and put it in the other."

RAYMOND and SAM discuss the transfers of IRS Agents in the Boston area. According to RAYMOND, who received his information from the Governor's Council PATRICK "SONNY" MC DONOUGH, the transfers were all political. MC DONOUGH's income tax returns have been checked and according to RAYMOND, "Everybody in [redacted] camp is being checked by IRS." RAYMOND then criticizes the KENNEDY family and states the Government is taking over everything.

SAM tells RAYMOND about the article by EDWARD BENNETT WILLIAMS in the "Saturday Evening Post" and the effect it had in the GOLDFINE and COSTELLO trials. They both then criticize the use of taps vehemently.

RAYMOND tells SAM that "it looks pretty good for JOE." This conversation possibly relates to JOSEPH LOMBARDO who, according to [redacted] is being reinstated as an owner of horses at the race tracks. [] pointed out that if he is successful in obtaining this license in the State of Rhode Island all the other New England tracks will honor the license. RAYMOND told SAM that somebody else was handling this for JOE LOMBARDO but apparently they did not contact the right people. JOE asked RAYMOND to intercede for him. RAYMOND went to the Governor of Rhode Island (NOTTE) and the Governor called in [] asked the Governor about the possible adverse publicity if LOMBARDO was reinstated. The Governor told [] that "I don't care about publicity because this is something that's got to be done. I owe a favor to somebody." The Governor through the Racing Commissioner, according to RAYMOND, has "smoothed the way with all those who might oppose," and he, RAYMOND, is 90% sure at this time that LOMBARDO will be reinstated.

SAM tells RAYMOND that there is something going on at Suffolk Downs Race Track (East Boston, Mass.) in regards to the New York horses that are running there. RAYMOND replied that they suspect the jockeys and that "they (not identified) are tapping the jockeys' wires to find out what it's all about."

[] (believed to be [] of State Senator [] from the Revere, Mass., area) told RAYMOND that he was in Walpole (Mass.) and explained to [] that the Feds were responsible for them not getting their parole. He also told them that [] the State Board of Parole, might be able to have the parole reconsidered.

[] then asks RAYMOND if he would get the people in Revere, Somerville, Everett and Chelsea (all Mass.) to back his brother in the coming election. It should be noted [] was a former State Representative who recently became a State Senator in a special election. He stated that the Mayor of Chelsea is the biggest opposition and that if he can win this election he will run for Lieutenant Governor in the State of Massachusetts 2 years hence. RAYMOND states that he will have [] from Chelsea contacted as well as the boys from Revere and JERRY (ANGIULO) and [] (LNU).

[] stated that he does not want any money from these people but wants their active support by telephoning voters and other necessary campaign work to enhance his brother's chances. He mentioned that [] is against him, at which time RAYMOND calls SAMMY GRANITO and TEDDY FUCILLO into the room and instructs them to get a hold of the above individuals and tell them that RAYMOND said to get behind and work for [] brother. GRANITO mentioned that he would personally get a hold of [] and bring him down to [] can straighten him out there. SAM was also going to contact [] of Chelsea. SAM mentioned that he would get the Syrian and Armenian vote and there was a debate among them as to who would line up the Jewish vote. There was a suggestion that LOUIE FOXX be contacted for this vote but [] stated that "LOUIE is always on the fence."

TEDDY FUCILLO gives RAYMOND an unknown amount of money. He told RAYMOND that he had talked to [] (a former State Senator from East Boston, Mass.) in relation to obtaining a position in the airport lounge for [] PATRIARCA's [] in September.

FUCILLO then discusses the hotel and supply business they are engaged in. He stated that the business in Maine is going good; however, the competition in the Boston area with the Jewish people is very poor. They have $31,000 invested in this business and FUCILLO wants $15,000 more for cash purposes. RAYMOND already has $4,000 invested and FUCILLO told him that [] is going to give them money which he is taking out of the box and loan it in the name of [] partner. RAYMOND told FUCILLO to see JERRY and he will give him $6,000 more. RAYMOND was reluctant to furnish any more money for this business and pointed out to FUCILLO that the business is not making any money and he warns FUCILLO to be careful that he does not wind up in bankruptcy.

On the same date, 3 or 4 UNMEN discuss the recent election with RAYMOND of Local 271, General Construction Workers Union, Providence. They all agree that if they had stuck together with a little effort they would have come out alright.

There was some discussion about them (not identified) going to Washington but RAYMOND would not let them do it. They wanted to go there and "open everything up about the votes and about the automobile."

On 6/29/62 the informant advised that [] (LNU) and [] (LNU) discussed the Hancock Race Track, Berkshire County, Massachusetts. During the conversation, RAYMOND stated that he had $70,000 invested and probably would have to put in $30,000 more. He was complaining to both [] that they were not getting even 3% interest from their investment. They were pessimistic about getting additional racing dates and indicated that they would sell the track if they did not get the additional dates. One group of individuals, identities unknown, have offered $1,000,000 for the track above their cost. RAYMOND asked [] where the $10,000 was to which [] replied, [] got it, the lawyer's got it." RAYMOND became angry and pointed out to them that they should not pay any money until the goods are delivered and in that way "you don't lose."

RAYMOND told UNMAN that LOUIS TAGLIANETTE was in trouble in that he had taken a loan from the Plantations Bank, Rhode Island, at which time they had him fill out several forms. A couple of these forms were blank applications and [] filled out these forms and took out additional loans. UNMAN suggested the possibility that TAGLIANETTE actually did get the money and, "He might be smarter than we think," to which RAYMOND agreed. UNMAN mentioned that [] (ph) got about $32,000 from different banks. WLT

(This involves Boston case entitled [] Johnston, Rhode Island, Branch, Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, FRA, " Boston File 29-879, Bufile 29-29913, whereby [] embezzled from the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island several thousand dollars.)

On 7/2/62 the informant advised that RAYMOND told UNMAN that he, not identified, got 275 - 280 votes and "he's the strongest guy around here." RAYMOND asked UNMAN to see what he can do for him and UNMAN said that he would. This could relate to a member of Local 271, General Construction Workers Union, Providence, R. I., for whom RAYMOND is trying to do a favor.

Another UNMAN told RAYMOND that he saw TEDDY (LNU) and talked to him about getting some money. UNMAN states that another individual, not identified, said that he is a friend of RAYMOND's and JOHNNY WILLIAMS and wanted RAYMOND's OK to borrow money. This individual might possibly be [redacted] and RAYMOND said that he would give him the OK for the money. U-1A

UNMAN, who operates a booking business, asked RAYMOND if it was alright to sell to JOHNNY (LNU). He has agents who pay him sums of $500, $150, $800 and $1,400 a week. He stated he gave [redacted] (ph) $25,000 in layoff money in the past 6 months. When UNMAN was with RAYMOND, he gave the office over $45,000 and this all came from the numbers business. He told RAYMOND that he has several agents and that he only pays 25% to the agents with a makeup, whereas the other bookies give their agents 50% with the makeup. UNMAN stated that JOHNNY should do an annual volume of $90,000 out of which he would pay $67,000 for hits and make a profit of $22,000 or $23,000. RAYMOND states that he will have to guarantee the volume which UNMAN does. He states that he is financially hard hit and has to get out. RAYMOND tells him to see JOHNNY and tell JOHNNY that he, RAYMOND, is for it 100%. U-1A

On the same date, UNMAN, who was convicted in the illegal alcohol trial in Connecticut, complained to RAYMOND about the high bail that was placed on him and his co-defendants. He stated that the judge said that they, the defendants, are only front men for the syndicate and the syndicate could pay the high bail. The judge pointed out that UNMAN lives in a $25,000 home and drives a Cadillac and receives $50 a month from the John Hancock Insurance Company, and the only work he ever did in his life was as a cooker in a still. UNMAN said that he was going to see a guy who knew the judge. RAYMOND stated that he had [redacted] all straightened out as far as parole is concerned, but an FBI guy in Boston found out about it, went to the DA and the DA stopped the whole thing. He also mentioned that there was some bribery going on.

Another UNMAN told RAYMOND the game broke up at 1 o'clock and was located in a cafe underneath the lounge "way down stairs." He stated that KANSAS took a loss of $10,000 and that he wants to pull out.

ARTHUR, who operates a dress manufacturing company, owes RAYMOND $1,000. He told RAYMOND he would give RAYMOND $400 next Thursday and will pay off the remaining $600 weekly.

Another UNMAN told RAYMOND he gave the squad car $100 and stated, "It looks like we can open up." UNMAN agreed with two partners in the club to put up $1,500 each for the game and "They should take something out for RAYMOND to show their respect." According to UNMAN, the Chief and the Mayor put the OK on the game and may open Wednesday. The location of this game was not known to the informant.

[redacted] (LNU) and two other UNMEN discuss with RAYMOND the election of officers of Local 271 of the General Construction Workers Union, Providence, R. I. UNMAN complained about the minutes of the meeting, pointing out that they were not factual. They described the opposing faction, namely the [redacted] faction, as being very "cute" in the nominations. They pointed out that after the nomination of [redacted] another one of the [redacted] faction immediately arose and motioned that the nominations for [redacted] be closed. It was immediately seconded and, therefore, their faction was not able to nominate anyone for [redacted]. After a lengthy discussion, RAYMOND stated, "If it's legal, let him (not further identified) stay in."

On 6/22/62 the informant advised UNMAN told RAYMOND that three individuals, none of whom were identified, were taken for 4,200, 3,000 and 5,000, respectively. The individual who took this money has it "stashed away in some unknown place." Further facts concerning this were not obtained by the informant.

UNMAN said that he was in partnership with [redacted] (LNU) and he told his partners that he was going to give RAYMOND some money off the top. One of the partners (not identified) objected to this. UNMAN told his partners that they should borrow the money from RAYMOND for 20%, which is the same rate they are paying another individual.

Another UNMAN told RAYMOND that [redacted] (Boston Police Department) is checking the activities of the ANGIULLO's. RAYMOND indicated that JERRY knew this. He told UNMAN to tell [redacted] (LNU) that the "C" Squad (Providence, R. I., Police Department) and T-Men were down at the Police Station and that they were trying to nail him, [redacted] RAYMOND instructed UNMAN to tell [redacted] (ph) to be careful.

Another UNMAN, upon entering RAYMOND's office, said to RAYMOND, "You're not RAYMOND, are you?" to which RAYMOND replied, "Yes." UNMAN indicated to RAYMOND that he, RAYMOND, has changed a lot and that UNMAN did not recognize him. UNMAN asked RAYMOND what interest he has in the game (possibly referring to the crap game which was taken over with RAYMOND's permission by New York interests in Fall River, Mass., several weeks ago). RAYMOND told UNMAN that through good friends of good friends of his in New York he gave them permission to come into the town "to make a living." RAYMOND stated that at the time it did not appear to him that it was a good setup and pointed out that if it were a good setup it would have been taken over a long time ago. UNMAN told RAYMOND that as soon as they, referring to the individuals from New York, who took over the game, everybody knew who they were, including the cops, and that the cops put a lot of heat on them.

On 6/23/62 the informant advised three UNMEN and RAYMOND discussed the union election of Local 271 of the General Construction Workers Union, Providence, R. I. One of the UNMEN said that he was going to appeal the case, particularly if the other faction did not "do the right thing." An unidentified individual had suggested that UNMAN that he appeal to the NLRB and also tell them about the automobiles that he (not further identified) had bought and "stuff like that." UNMAN said he told the unidentified individual that he was only going to put in an appeal. He did not want any part of "ratting." RAYMOND told him that he, RAYMOND, talked to [redacted] is going to have his brother-in-law resign. RAYMOND said, "Maybe three years from now we'll put him (not identified) on the ticket with us. But if he wants to go with the others, let him go but he's not going to get any work." They then discuss the nominations of the election and were critical of the way it was handled. Regarding the election, RAYMOND said that the other faction apparently got the older guys to vote and that their faction did not get the proper representation. He pointed out that, "Just like the KENNEDYS did, which ROOSEVELT started, they catered to the niggers." RAYMOND continued, [redacted] sent cabs to all the niggers to transport them to the hall to vote."

On 6/25/62 the informant advised UNMAN told RAYMOND that "the kid" (not further identified) had lost his license for speeding and that he had previously gone to [redacted] (LNU) in an effort to get the license back without success. UNMAN now asked RAYMOND to intercede for him for this favor. RAYMOND told him to see [redacted] (ph) of the Rhode Island Registry of Motor Vehicles, and he could probably help him out.

RAYMOND's partner advised that he had contacted [redacted] of IRS and asked him whether the case against the Sherwood Manufacturing Company had been settled as yet. [redacted] would not give him an answer. He asked [redacted] whether it would be alright to buy RAYMOND's share and [redacted] indicated that IRS had no jurisdiction in the matter. The partner told RAYMOND that he took an inventory which totaled $22,000 and RAYMOND agreed to sell his interest in the company to him. RAYMOND stated that from now until the sale is consummated whatever salary he obtains, which is at the rate of $100 per week, the partner can deduct from the sale price, which is $11,000 plus Accounts Receivable. RAYMOND indicated that he had put in $15,000 but they had already taken $15,000 from the business and indicated he would have to pay a tax on the sale price.

RAYMOND agreed that his sister continue her services as secretary until 7/4/62, at which time the partner will give her a paid vacation and thereafter discharge her from her duties.

On 6/20/62 RAYMOND, according to BS 837-C*, discussed the election with union members [redacted] and [redacted] (LNU). This relates to the election of officers which took place 6/17/62 of Local 271, General Construction Workers Union, Providence, R. I.

One of the men told RAYMOND that he beat the third man by 7 votes and that all the men in the union that were with their faction felt terrible and complained about the election being held on a Sunday. They stated that many of the members who were associated with their faction did not vote for one reason or another, but if they had all showed up, their faction would have won the election. RAYMOND asked whether there would be a recount and if so when, to which UNMAN replied that they had not decided yet whether they are going to have a recount, but if they did it would have to occur before Monday next.

[redacted] asked RAYMOND whether they would continue to fight the faction of the union that won the election. RAYMOND told them to try and sit down and make peace and try to get as much as possible from the other faction legitimately.

They discussed an assault between the two factions which took place in union headquarters. They were criticized by RAYMOND for not calling in a cop at that time and issue an assault and battery complaint against the opposing faction because now they are not in a position to prove the assault and battery case and, thus, are not able to create a different image of the other faction. They discuss the talk among union members of [] who was disqualified from the nomination because of his criminal record, and further the talk among the members about the syndicate being in back of [] RAYMOND stated, "The first thing you know they'll have BOB KENNEDY send somebody down and find out something."

One of these men then read a telegram from union headquarters which reflected that they had conducted an investigation of their complaint and under the conditions they would allow [] to remain in the race for president. They also make mention of the ballot box being stuffed, and they were of the opinion that one of the judges stuffed the ballot box sometime during the election. RAYMOND tells the three men that he will get a hold of [] (LNU) and tell him what to tell his brother-in-law and, "Give it to him cold like I told you, then we'll take it from there."

UNMAN stated that they have "got to know by Monday as on Monday there is another meeting and we've got to know whether we're going to fight or not." RAYMOND tells them that they have nothing to fight on but "we'll see what happens between now and Saturday and we'll meet them again on Saturday." RAYMOND states that he will contact [] (LNU) because he (not further identified) went to [] on the day before the election. Because of this, RAYMOND will be able to find out from [] what attitude the opposing faction will take.

On the same date, another UNMAN told RAYMOND about a conversation he had with another man (not identified, but believed to be the Harvard graduate described below) concerning a private club which later in the conversation was identified as the New York Athletic Club and where the unidentified individual gave them some bets and beat the bookmaker for $10,300. A [] allegedly had this money. There was mention of a [] an Italian guy, as having some connection with this incident, but it was not clear to the informant. One of these individuals was getting play out of the club for a long time. The Harvard graduate was a well known guy who drove a big Cadillac and who told them (not further identified) that he would pay them Monday. UNMAN said to RAYMOND, "This guy is a legitimate sucker." An Assistant District Attorney in HOGAN's office went to school at Harvard with him, and he wanted to know if he should call this Assistant District Attorney and have the Assistant District Attorney scare the hell out of him (not further identified). He was told that he should not do this. This man graduated from Harvard with the Assistant District Attorney and he, the Assistant DA, would do anything for him.

This Harvard graduate wanted to give [redacted] or [redacted] at which point he was interrupted by RAYMOND who repeated the name. UNMAN said that he was supposed to be a big guy out of Chicago and this Harvard graduate is looking to do him a favor because [redacted] is one of the boys.

UNMAN then says, "You know that story about sitting down with [redacted]. He's going to make another claim against [redacted]" and there was mention about "blowing the whistle on the guy." The claim is for two and one-half million dollars but all the individual wants is one million dollars, but he can't get him (probably [redacted] to sit down with him. He mentions that [redacted] is very close with him and most of the boys out of Chicago are close to him, and he's going to arrange to sit down. He then wants to know from UNMAN if he is wasting his time listening to [redacted] RAYMOND replied he does not know. UNMAN suggests to RAYMOND that they ought to stick their neck in because there is a million dollars involved. UNMAN #2 says, "No sir." They then revert back to the big problem at the moment, that of the $10,300.

UNMAN asks RAYMOND whether he should tell the Harvard graduate whether he should go through his friend [redacted] and see what he can do. RAYMOND tells him yes, and RAYMOND suggests that he, himself, would call [redacted] pointing out that he has known him for 30 years. RAYMOND says, "We'll find out who this [redacted] is with," and then there was discussion as to whether or not this Harvard graduate was broke. UNMAN did not believe that he was broke. RAYMOND mentioned something about "blow the club and everything!" to which UNMAN stated, "What a big club, hundreds and hundreds of members; an exclusive club where Jews can't get in." UNMAN #2 stated, "New York Athletic Club." RAYMOND tells UNMAN to get a hold of [redacted] and explain it to him, but that he, RAYMOND, would call [redacted] if they wanted him to. The answer to this was not heard by informant.

The suggestion is offered that because of the large amount of money referred to in the conversation concerning [redacted] that reference is being made to [redacted] the well known financial manipulator who has become notorious in connection with stock transactions involving [redacted] in Washington, D. C.; [redacted] and other big concerns. Note this is suggested merely as a possibility. It appears the individual being discussed is [redacted] cannot be ruled out.

Separate communications are being forwarded to the New York and Chicago Offices relative to the above information for clarification purposes.

Another individual talked to PATRIARCA about "I want somebody to bury [redacted]" and was advised by PATRIARCA that "you can't do that kind of stuff - we're going after a collection." The informant was unable to furnish any further details but it is thought that the [redacted] referred to may be identical with an individual who owns a number of shares in the Hancock Race Track in which PATRIARCA apparently is interested.

PATRIARCA is in contact with an individual wherein a conversation ensues which appears to be about the recent liquor trial in Connecticut. It appears that the discussion involves the fines assessed in the case and PATRIARCA points out that the individuals do not have any money. He elaborated by indicating that FRANK FERRARA, presently a Federal inmate who was convicted in the million dollar bond burglary in Canada, was given a $30,000 fine but the house he owns in Florida is in his wife's name.

On 7/6/62, [] told RAYMOND that he got the Pittsburgh job that amounted to $300,000.

HENRY TAMALEO told RAYMOND that some guy [] was caught in Boston with transistors in the trunk of his car and also a pistol. JERRY ANGIULO bailed him out and sent him back to The Syrian LNU to get a bill of sale. The Syrian claimed that all the stuff in there was stolen and he could not give him a bill of sale. JERRY told TAMALEO that somebody in District Attorney's Office of GARRETT BYRNE, Suffolk County, Boston, Massachusetts told JERRY that HENRY TAMALEO took $15,000.00 worth of the stuff which TAMALEO vehemently denied and said that he got only $200.00 worth. TAMALEO claimed that the Syrian left the window open and someone stole the stuff. M.E.

TAMALEO claimed that he had a truck ready for the stuff and was waiting for a call but never did get the call.

TAMALEO also told him that Dr. ZAFF (President of Eastern Investment Company, Boston) had taken $33,000.00 from the box and given it to [] to buy cabs. TAMALEO in referring to ZAFF stated "these are the guys I was telling you about who we have been working on for over a year." TAMALEO stated that [] is in jail for assault and is not expected out for another month. [] appeared to be associated with [] stated "the Doctor thinks he is down here with me on the farm." TAMALEO stated that the Doctor "had taken a lot of papers and everything and tore them up as the FBI was checking on him." M.E.

[] was buying [] amounting to $92,000.00 and he used the $33,000. that the Doctor had given him for this purpose.

On the same date JERRY ANGIULO and one or two other unknown men visited RAYMOND. ANGIULO told RAYMOND of the [] arrest in Boston and the charges of receiving stolen property and possession of a concealed weapon against []. He stated that he could fix the stolen goods charge but could not fix the concealed weapon charge.

JERRY sent [] to get a bill of sale but as yet [] has not returned to JERRY with the bill of sale for the merchandise.

JERRY told RAYMOND that he had been receiving information to the effect that two agents were assigned to go to Canada on account of JERRY and [] (possibly []). He (possibly []) told the ANGIULO's later that the two agents (IRS) went to Canada but not on account of you, meaning the []. The informant was not able to ascertain all the facts concerning this, but it appears that JERRY ANGIULO or one [] is receiving information from the IRS files through [] of the Intelligence Division of IRS who resigned from this position while under transfer.

JERRY also spoke to RAYMOND about attempting to get the money back from MIKE NEVILLE, former Mayor in Cambridge, Massachusetts who died recently. They discussed plan of approaching Mr. ROOMEY, Chairman of the House, Ways and Means Committee for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in an effort to get the money back. The sum of $21,000.00 was mentioned, however, the informant was not definite as to whether the total amount of the $21,000.00 was furnished by this group. The money was supposed to have been a campaign donation. JERRY then told RAYMOND that Red Assad, local small time racketeer in Boston was in the shyleak business with [] (ph) and another unidentified individual. They had loaned some unidentified individual in East Boston, Massachusetts $7000.00 and the book is now worth approximately $50,000.00. JERRY did not want the amount to go over $60,000.00 inasmuch as they would have difficulty collecting this sum.

He advised that [] took $5000.00 from [] now denies that he ever received any part of the $5000.00. JERRY indicated to RAYMOND what he intended to do about the situation but it was not heard by the informant.

JERRY also talked about the $80,000 that "he's got in with the Jew on the radio deal".

This concerns the production of "jingles" for radio and TV commercials. The individuals in New York, [redacted] heard that the financial backer for this company was a large bookmaker and racketeer in Boston and it appeared that he, [redacted] was getting afraid of the situation. He discussed the financial arrangements for this company with RAYMOND, pointing out that he, unidentified, had got $82,000.00 in notes and [redacted] has the other $28,000.00 in his hand.

JERRY complained about the activities of the Boston PD and pointed out that they have assigned 16 detectives from headquarters to the ANGIULO operation. They said that Mayor Collins is going to run for re-election and then hopes to obtain the governorship of Massachusetts. RAYMOND told JERRY that JOHN BOWERS, Senator of the State of Massachusetts brought [redacted] to lay the foundation in order to obtain the additional racing dates for the Hancock Race track, Berkshire County, Massachusetts.

JERRY told RAYMOND that they were having trouble with the numbers operation because of the local police action. He said that the numbers are not being collected fast enough and sometimes they have not the chance to lay off properly. Unknown man requested permission of RAYMOND and JERRY to open a crap game at Boston. They both refused pointing out that if there is a complete change of Captains in the divisions that they might be able to float a crap game for a considerable length of time.

JERRY told RAYMOND that he had spoken to [redacted] Massachusetts State Police, [redacted] the Uniform Branch) about SAMMY GRANITO and asked [redacted] who pulled the pictures on him. [redacted] told him that he did not know but that he would find out and call him later. [redacted] later told him that he ascertained that Captain [redacted] Massachusetts State Police had been visited by agents of the FBI who indicated that GRANITO might possibly be involved in local stickups, whereupon [redacted] told his detectives to show GRANITO'S picture around.

On July 9, 1962, unknown man told RAYMOND that he is going broke in the numbers and horse business because the "guys from Boston are always coming up and wanting a piece." RAYMOND told him to tell these individuals from Boston that he, RAYMOND has bank rolled him and that once a month he, the unknown man will report to RAYMOND the amount of his winnings and in time will contact the people in Boston so that they can be paid off.

GERRY ANGIULO, a prominent figure in gambling circles in Boston, Massachusetts and known close associate of PATRIARCA, is constantly alert to the development of any information reflecting the activities of law enforcement, Federal, State or City, insofar as it would affect his illicit activities.

Recently he was allegedly in touch with [redacted] of Boston, Massachusetts who resigned from the Internal Revenue Service after having handled the investigation of gamblers for a period of years. [redacted] allegedly told ANGIULO that he still maintained contact with his former associates in the Federal Service and while he was not in a position of knowing everything that was going on, he, [redacted] does learn of anything important. Illustrative of his continued contact with his former associates, [redacted] indicated that he was aware of two Internal Revenue Service Agents in Boston having been recently assigned an investigative mission in Canada relative to PATRIARCA and others. RE: DR. HARRY ISRAEL ZAFF

A review of the information which has been furnished by BS 837-C*, indicates no real necessity at this time to prove or disprove whether Dr. Zaff has a $137,000 insurance policy with either the Equitable Life Insurance Company and/or the New York Life Insurance Company. It is recognized that to prove that Dr. Zaff does have such policy and that the Great Eastern Investment Corporation in Boston is the beneficiary for same would lend additional credence to the information furnished by the informant.

Your airtel of 7/10/62 advises that Henry Tamaleo, in a discussion with Patriarca, said that Dr. Zaff had taken $33,000 "from the box" and given it to [redacted] to buy cabs. Tamaleo also said in referring to Zaff "This is the guy I was telling you about who we have been working on for over a year." Tamaleo also commented that [redacted] (ph) is in jail for assault and is not expected out for another month, and Tamaleo said "The Doctor thinks he is down here with me on the farm." Tamaleo also said the Doctor "had taken a lot of papers and everything and tore them up as the FBI was checking on him." hoodlum element. This interview should be planned in the same way that you would plan an interview with any major hoodlum under this program.

You should at this time consider disseminating information that you have developed regarding the possible assault on Zaff to the Boston Police Commissioner. It would appear that you could notify the Police Commissioner to the effect that an informant who has furnished reliable information in the past has advised that Dr. Zaff has been named for elimination and that such elimination will be caused by an automobile accident since Zaff is known to be accident prone. Further, an individual who has been identified only as [] will undoubtedly handle this situation for Henry Tamaleo. You might also consider pointing out that our informant states the purpose of such accident would be to collect on a double indemnity $137,000 life insurance policy which Zaff is reported to hold.

If additional information is forthcoming from your investigation of [] and your interview of Zaff, this should also be disseminated to the Police Commissioner, if of value to him.

NOTE: BS 837-C* had advised that Henry Tamaleo and Patriarca discussed a Dr. who appeared to be a potential victim in a gold swindle and involved in the operations was a person referred to as []. The Dr. allegedly had a double indemnity insurance policy for $137,000 payable to the office and an additional $65,000 insurance policy. He, according to the discussion, was an accident prone driver and the discussion involved the possibility of arranging for his elimination by collision of his car with a stolen truck. Boston then determined that the Dr. might be Dr. Harry Israel Zaff, President of the Great Eastern Investment Corporation in Boston, Massachusetts. Zaff is a dentist in Boston and the latter company is of the finance-loan type. Also in the company is a []. Further investigation indicates that Dr. Zaff has had a number of automobile accidents during the past several years. Boston then requested our New York Office to contact the Equitable Life Insurance Company to determine complete details of any insurance held by Zaff in such companies and/or any other companies. The New York Office then requested Boston to reconsider this request and pointed out that an inquiry of such nature could place the Bureau in a position of controversy at a later date. The Bureau agrees with New York's position on this matter and does not feel that any such open inquiry should be made. It is possible that such inquiry could be made under suitable pretext, but it is not believed the risk involved is worth the results which possibly would be achieved. Boston was instructed by Bureau airtel 6/22/62 to contact various specific state and local agencies and IRS at Boston in an effort to develop background on Zaff and information as to any insurance policies which he held. Boston advised by airtel 7/10/62 that all known avenues had been pursued and requested additional consideration be given to having the New York Office make appropriate inquiries at the aforementioned insurance companies of New York City. It would appear from the information we now know, including that set forth in the body of this communication, we have sufficient information to properly disseminate same to the Boston Police Department. It is believed we should endeavor to identify the individual known as [] and interview Dr. Zaff. If additional information is forthcoming from this investigation which would be of interest or value to the Boston Police Department, that information will also be disseminated.

* The Bureau believes the information which you have developed thus far concerning this matter should be immediately disseminated to the Boston Police Commissioner. Insure that this is done in a way that will not jeopardize our informant. Advise the Bureau immediately when such dissemination has been made.

Re: Boston airtel dated 7/9/62.

BS 837-C* advised the following on the dates indicated:

On 7/10/62, unman told RAYMOND that he had talked to [redacted] and asked [redacted] for financial aid for the individuals who were convicted in the illicit alcohol trial at Connecticut. [redacted] indicated that he would not furnish financial assistance, and unman threatened [redacted] telling him that he would go to the kids who were convicted and have them open up on [redacted] and have him tried on a count of conspiracy. The results of this threat were not known to the informant.

Another unman told RAYMOND that they owned all but 55 shares of the Hancock Raceway, Berkshire County, Massachusetts. The stock has been turned over to [redacted] can do nothing about it now. Unman said that he has got to get two more releases of stock, but that he did not expect any trouble in getting them.

[redacted] advised that he "blew his book" by his laying off process, and that he wanted to sell his book for $10,000. He stated that he was questioned by IRS and they claim that he has $150,000 worth of bonds, which he denies. [redacted] is of the opinion that he made a mistake in talking to IRS without a lawyer, and he may have to change some of his statements to them.

Unman requests financial assistance from RAYMOND in order to go into the business of selling bibles and missals. He has presently a business operating in Providence, R.I., but wants to go in the business on a national scale and finance most of the selling. RAYMOND's answer was not known to the informant, but he did indicate that he would contact him the following day.

[] (PH) (INU) was told by RAYMOND to get out of the race for an unknown office in the Providence area. It is believed that this possibly is relative to a City Councilor's position from Ward 5. [] indicated to RAYMOND that he had a chance and he did not think that he would withdraw from the race. RAYMOND told him that he had to resign from the race; otherwise, an individual named GERRY would win, and that he did not want that. He told [] that he would arrange a meet with [] (INU) and sit down and talk it over in his lawyer's office. He said that [] would give him what he wanted when the election was over. [] at this time, indicated that he would withdraw from the race.

On 7/11/62, there were several unmen talking to RAYMOND at different times of the day relative to the booking and numbers business. One man gave RAYMOND $1200.00.

TEDDY FUCILLO discussed with RAYMOND concerning the sale of furniture and other items to various individuals in Maine and N. H. He stated that he had heard one of his customers desires to put up an 80 unit motel and, with RAYMOND's permission, was going to contact GERRY ANGIULO in order to obtain a pre-fab motel from his contact in New Jersey.

FUCILLO told RAYMOND that the investigation relative to service has started in Virginia, Delaware and Chicago. He said that [] in Florida. FUCILLO added that "We held it up until after the election. We'll get a hold of SONNY (possibly MC DONOUGH, Governor's Council, State of Mass.) and have him get a hold of [] and have [] talk to...." The rest of the sentence was inaudible.

An individual by the name of [] (LNU) was beaten up by [] who was a friend of LOUIS TAGLIANETTI, complained to him. The beating was caused by slow payment of a loan. TAGLIANETTI, with RAYMOND's permission, told [] and his associates to lay off [] as he is a respectable guy, and if they did not lay off him, they would be in trouble with RAYMOND.

[] (LNU) discusses with LOUIS TAGLIANETTI the purchase of his booking business in the presence of RAYMOND. [] finally decides to buy the business with RAYMOND's permission on the basis of paying TAGLIANETTI $100.00 per week and one half of the profit over and above the $100.00 per week. During this conversation, [] said to RAYMOND "What's the story on the garbage collection in New York. Who's got that?" RAYMOND said, "I don't know. I guess all that were in on it are in jail". [] said, "We can have the garbage collection at the World's Fair". RAYMOND then said that they could probably get somebody and so some good with it, and the name of [] was mentioned. RAYMOND stated that he will talk to [] about it and arrange to have a meet so that they can "set it up". [] told him that a friend of his was being bankrolled by [] (PH) from Boston, and that this friend will spend $400,000 for all coin machines and slugs at the Fair. RAYMOND mentioned that [] (LNU) will sit down with them concerning this proposal.

A copy of this airtel is being forwarded to New York because of information concerning the New York World's Fair.

On 7/17/62 BS 837-C* advised that RAYMOND told UNMAN that he has sold Sherwood Manufacturing Company and is being paid $11,000.

SAM GRANITO gave RAYMOND an unknown amount of money from [redacted] (ph) and $1,000 from ABE SARKIS. He told RAYMOND that the kid, [redacted] (ph), is coming out 7/28/62. SAM said that they have a strong suspicion about this kid and it appears that JOHNNY WILLIAMS has not as yet made up his mind what he wants to do but that it all depends on what [redacted] thinks. The significance of this was not known to the informant.

SAMMY mentioned that he had a "beautiful spot" in Revere, Mass. SAMMY told [redacted] (ph) that he wanted to put a couple of guys on the payroll (probably [redacted] (LNU) and [redacted] (LNU)). RAYMOND said that [redacted] was with him but that it was alright to put the guys on the payroll.

SAMMY said that [] was in East Boston last Saturday night and talked to [] (LNU) had told SAMMY that [] wants to give [] a beef. [] told [] was a drunk to which RAYMOND concurred. The significance of this was not obtained by the informant.

There was mention of [] a guy from the West Side, as being a partner of UNMAN. (SAMMY was very close to him.) RAYMOND then stated that [] put around the story that they were trying to set them guys up. They got rid of him. The rest of the conversation was not heard by the informant.

SAMMY said that he is keeping his guys around [] cafe to ascertain whether [] is contacting [] for information. They discuss the activities of the Boston Police Department, and SAMMY indicates that the place is very hot. There is a discussion of a situation in New York whereby some individual was picked up and they (not further identified) put something on the front wheels. RAYMOND instructed SAMMY to make sure that if anyone was picked up to have their car completely inspected to make sure that nothing was put on it.

UNMAN, who accompanied GRANITO, said that [] (ph) made a little score. They sent [] to collect the $2,700 he owes and he tried to settle for $1,500. The result of this offer was not known to the informant. UNMAN gave RAYMOND $800 and told RAYMOND that he is going to spend a lot of time in Maine.

JERRY ANGIULO complained to RAYMOND about the police activity at various places in Boston and was complaining vehemently to RAYMOND about it. He stated that the police are checking everyone that goes into JAY's Lounge, the Coliseum Restaurant, Giro's Restaurant and the Florentine Cafe, but could not understand why they were doing this because it will not prove anything. He said that the pressure is on the North End and East Boston sections of Boston. Because of the heat, he sent an emissary (identity not known) to approach Mayor COLLINS of Boston to find out what the reason was for the heat. COLLINS sent word back, "What are you bothering me for, why don't you go to Washington; just like that." This indicated to JERRY that the appointment of MC NAMARA (Boston Police Commissioner) was not by COLLINS but by the officials in Washington. He told RAYMOND that he should tighten up his operation all around.

JERRY told RAYMOND that when [redacted] reaches $60,000 he is going to stop. He said that [redacted] (ph) owes $5,500 out of [redacted] money. JERRY said he had told RED four times not to give money to the guy. It is pointed out here that [redacted] is a money lender who is working for the ANGIULOS. JERRY told RAYMOND that he is trying to get a connection with a representative of Lloyds of London in New York because he cannot make any headway with their representative here in Boston concerning a loss.

JERRY discusses the raid at the Riverway Cafe in Boston where numerous betting slips and paraphernalia were found. This was [redacted] who is employed by ANGIULO as a bookmaker. JERRY told RAYMOND that [redacted] contends that "the root of all the heat by the FBI comes from the American Finance Company." JERRY said that he sent a kid to Charlestown and Nantasket Beach (both Massachusetts) looking for the guy but they could not locate him. The guy had sold his boat. This probably refers to [redacted] former bookmaker in Charlestown who is believed to be marked for assassination by the ANGIULOS.

RAYMOND and JERRY discuss a building, location unknown, which was built by [redacted] or JOHNNY WILLIAMS. They wanted to find out if there was any mortgage on the building and RAYMOND told JERRY to send SAMMY to find out from [redacted] or JOHNNY WILLIAMS what the situation is relative to this "joint."

JERRY told RAYMOND that he did not think he could help [redacted] with the $30,000. It appears that [redacted] is probably in difficulty with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and has to show where $30,000 originated. JERRY said that the difficulty in this is that it is "retractible to 1960 and it's hard to cover up such a deal." He said that he had a lot of trouble and he had to give a guy in a bank a lot of interest "that he was years behind in; it was 100,000 short. He retracted as a personal loan and held it for six months and then threw it in the bank. But that six months made the difference. It cost me $6,000 but it was worth it."

JERRY said that he had contacted some "Jews" to obtain the $30,000 for [redacted] but that the way they had it set up it would have cost him 10 or eleven percent of the original loan plus 35 percent of the payment, which would have been too much money.

JERRY made a statement concerning, "Knock MC LAUGHLIN out of the box." He continued by saying, "We're not in politics, but we've got to be; it's the only way we can survive." MC LAUGHLIN could be the Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts who was recently defeated as democratic nominee for Governor of Massachusetts.

JERRY and RAYMOND discuss the raid of the Riverway Cafe, Boston, and also the arrest by the Medford, Mass., Police Department and recovery of sweaters in great detail. When discussing the sweaters, JERRY said that he moved stuff for years but he always moved them in large lots and he made a lot of money on it. JERRY also said he sold brand new money out of banks 8 for 10.

LOUIE TAGLIANETTI told JERRY and RAYMOND the details concerning IRS investigation of his personal income. He said that if he could show that some guy in the last six years loaned him $20,000 to $30,000 which he, TAGLIANETTI, still owes he might be able to beat it in court.

On 7/18/62 the informant advised that LOUIE TAGLIANETTI discussed his tax troubles with RAYMOND and UNMAN. RAYMOND suggested he do as he did when he was in trouble in that he claimed that his mother who died in 1944 left him an envelope with thousands of dollars in it, and have his family testify that they were present when he opened the envelope and in that way he would only have to pay an inheritance tax.

On the same date, HENRY TAMELEO discussed with RAYMOND a card and crap game, location of which was not known to the informant. TAMELEO had the following conversation with PATRIARCA:

TAMELEO: The day you told me about [redacted] I went down there.

PATRIARCA: I haven't seen him myself since that time.

TAMELEO: Maybe he's trying to move on them.

RAYMOND: I don't think so. He's probably up in Boston.
(PATRIARCA)

No further conversation was heard relative to this matter. The above conversation could relate to the conversation set out in referenced Airtel concerning negotiable bonds and is being explored.

RE: DR. HARRY ISRAEL ZAFF

He was informed that the elimination of ZAFF would be handled by an individual who had been identified only as [redacted]. On 7/12/62 BS 837-C* advised that UNMAN discussed with RAYMOND the sale of missals and bibles. UNMAN desired financial assistance from RAYMOND to go into this business nationally. RAYMOND advised that he would let him know later.

There were discussions with several individuals concerning gambling in the Providence area.

An unknown individual from Worcester, Mass., contacted RAYMOND relative to his gambling business in that city. Apparently this UNMAN and the UNMAN accompanying him are in business with a party who previously contacted RAYMOND relative to the same matter. UNMEN told RAYMOND that he is running the business and not showing them anything. He keeps the slips and they do not know what is going on. RAYMOND told them if it is their business to take it, referring to the numbers portion of this business. RAYMOND told them that if they had any trouble with this individual in taking back the numbers to bring him down and he, RAYMOND, would straighten him out.

Another UNMAN told RAYMOND that Worcester was a wide open town until FRANK MC GRATH, the present City Manager, was appointed. MC GRATH is "afraid of the newspapers" and UNMAN said that because of the possibility of the changing of the city charter they should attempt to place a strong mayor in there so that the town would be wide open again. The result of this conversation was not known to the informant.

On 7/13/62 the informant advised that RAYMOND discussed the election race in Ward 5 in Rhode Island (city not stated). RAYMOND did not indicate whether the individual he wants out of the race has agreed to do so.

[] (LNU) told RAYMOND that he did not know he was on a makeup basis but agreed to pay the money back at the rate of $100 a week.

UNMAN showed RAYMOND and another UNMAN "percentage" dice, stating that they will last for three hours and will roll the way they are made to for that period. After being shown the dice, RAYMOND told this individual to order 200 of them as they will use approximately 10 pair a night. He stated that they need 5/8's dice. RAYMOND instructed him not to use the mail in getting the dice and UNMAN stated that he would go down to New York Saturday and pick them up.

UNMAN enters and asks RAYMOND if he knows the thief from Boston who has the Rembrandt worth a half a million dollars. He stated that he has a guy who is willing to pay fifty to seventy-five thousand dollars for it. RAYMOND told him no, but he will try to find out who he is.

Another UNMAN said that he had called [] and said it would be another year and a half. There was mention of a fix in the fact that he was supposed to go before another judge; and further that [] the lawyer, knows a certain judge. The informant was unable to ascertain further information concerning this and did not know the significance of same.

On 7/16/62 the informant advised that HENRY TAMALEO and RAYMOND were discussing the possibility of fixing a local case. This concerned [] but the informant was unable to elaborate on this discussion. The following discussion took place:

RAYMOND: Rather than put yourself in trouble today, just forget it. (Referring to the fix of the local case)

TAMALEO: Most likely if that guy is going to straighten something out it will cost one or two thousand dollars.

RAYMOND: They want more than that because I'm offering $10,000 to get these two guys a suspended sentence and give those other guys a couple of years. You fool with the Government you go for a lot of money. They (blank) the big money. They don't want to(sentence not finished).

There was no further reference to this matter according to the informant.

Further conversation between TAMALEO and RAYMOND PATRIARCA was not heard by the informant; however, the name of [] and bonds were mentioned. Immediately thereafter the following conversation took place:

TAMALEO: Are they the ones out of New York?

PATRIARCA: Yeah, that's it. The guys in New York have been getting hit so that's why.

TAMALEO: Yeah, they got arrested. There's a guy I know... (interrupted by PATRIARCA)

PATRIARCA: He must have quite a few, they're negotiable bonds.

TAMALEO: I'll look them over. There's a fellow who used to be with that bum lawyer, remember? He was (blank) here last week and asked me if I could help him. He's number one, and number two, I'll get a hold of another guy in Hartford. The last two I moved we got 20%. I always fight for 25%. That's a good figure. I'll see [] about them.

BS 92-118

RAYMOND had a conversation with HENRY TAMALEO and [redacted] in Rhode Island. It appeared that an after-hours joint was being operated there by two "kids." Shortly after the after-hours drinking commenced, the owner of the hotel, [redacted] allegedly wanted a third of the profit. There was an argument and RAYMOND told [redacted] to run the place himself and not allow the "kids" to operate.

UNMAN discussed with RAYMOND the contract for garbage disposal at the World's Fair in New York. The informant was unable to hear all of the conversation, but RAYMOND did tell UNMAN that before he goes to check into it to see [redacted] and have [redacted] explain the situation in more detail.

Separate communications are being furnished the Bureau, New Haven and New York relative to the negotiable bond portion of this communication, and also that concerning the $10,000 offer of PATRIARCA to unknown persons.

DETAILS:

BACKGROUND

On June 6, 7, 11, 15, 18, 19, 20, 1962, BS T-1 advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA continues to reside at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island with his wife and son, and that he continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island where he continues to have an interest in the National Cigarette Service with [REDACTED]

Informant further advised that PATRIARCA's wife, HELEN PATRIARCA, has been confined to a hospital in Boston, Massachusetts and has had an operation on her lung, the details of which informant did not know. Informant also stated that he had learned that PATRIARCA's wife would be released from the hospital around June 21 or June 22, 1962.

Informant further advised that no information had been developed indicating PATRIARCA is involved in any illegal enterprises.

On June 21, 1962, BS T-2 furnished substantially the same information as BS T-1.

MISCELLANEOUS

It is noted that Mrs. HELEN PATRIARCA entered the New England Baptist Hospital, Parker Hill Avenue, Roxbury, Massachusetts on May 17, 1962 and on June 6, 1962 [redacted] advised that he had operated on Mrs. PATRIARCA. He removed a calcified lump from her lung which had been pressing against a tube causing the constant coughing which she was suffering from. The operation was successful, and Mrs. PATRIARCA would be released from the hospital in two weeks. There was no indication of cancer.

A spot check was maintained of visitors to Mrs. PATRIARCA and the following noted:

On May 28, 1962 PATRIARCA appeared in a 1962 dark green Cadillac sedan, Rhode Island registration 900, and parked this car in the rear hospital lot. Later on in the afternoon JERRY ANGIULO, operating a 1962 black Cadillac sedan, Massachusetts registration 72-300, parked in the rear hospital lot. ANGIULO entered the hospital and subsequently came out of the same in company with PATRIARCA. They drove in ANGIULO's car to [redacted] office on [redacted] in Roxbury, Massachusetts. PATRIARCA was carrying a large envelope, apparently containing x-rays. After visiting [redacted] office they returned to the hospital and entered the same.

On June 5, 1962 Rhode Island registration P 91, registered to PATRIARCA and operated by his son who was accompanied by two other young men was observed at the hospital.

On June 7, 1962, Rhode Island registration NS 964, a dark green 1962 Cadillac sedan operated by PATRIARCA, was observed in the rear hospital lot.

On the same date SAM GRANITO operating a 1960 black Oldsmobile, with another man therein, parked in the rear hospital parking lot. PATRIARCA was observed to leave the hospital, talk to this individual in the GRANITO car, and GRANITO remained outside the automobile. Thereafter PATRIARCA returned to the hospital and GRANITO drove this individual to the vicinity of the Hotel Bostonian where the individual left the car. It was determined that this individual was [redacted] a Boston gambler.

On the same afternoon while PATRIARCA was in the hospital, JERRY ANGIULO, accompanied by [redacted] a Lieutenant of ANGIULO's, parked in the doctors' lot of the hospital and entered the hospital.

On June 11, 1962, PATRIARCA, driving the same 1962 dark green Cadillac, and bearing license on this occasion NS 594, Rhode Island, was observed at the hospital.

On the same date Massachusetts registration 275-244, owned and operated by [redacted] a Lieutenant of JERRY ANGIULO's, was observed in the public parking lot on Parker Hill Ave. opposite the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital. CASS was observed talking to an individual believed to be a police officer as the latter was wearing dark blue pants, and a gun protruded from his rear pocket. This individual was operating a beach wagon bearing Massachusetts license 791-055, registered to [redacted] Dorchester, Massachusetts. The individual was about [redacted] years of age, 5'10" tall and had sandy hair.

On June 13, 1962, PATRIARCA operating the same Cadillac with Rhode Island registration NS 594 was at the hospital with his son and another young man. About 4:20 p.m. Massachusetts license 267 380, a 1961 Oldsmobile sedan operated and owned by THEODORE FUCILLO, 14 Barbara Lane, Medford, Massachusetts, a Lieutenant of PATRIARCA's, parked in the rear hospital lot. Sitting in the right front seat was PATRICK J. "SONNY" McDONOUGH, a democratic member of the Massachusetts Governor's Council, who hurriedly entered the hospital alone and came out accompanied by PATRIARCA. They proceeded to FUCILLO's car in the parking lot, entered the same, and engaged in conversation with McDONOUGH. PATRIARCA sat in the rear of the car, McDONOUGH in the right front seat and FUCILLO in the driver's seat. After about a twenty-five minute conversation FUCILLO and PATRIARCA returned to the hospital and thereafter FUCILLO left the hospital accompanied by another individual who was carrying what appeared to be drapery samples. This individual was about 45 years of age, 6' tall, 180 pounds and sandy haired. They proceeded to FUCILLO's car and the latter then drove McDONOUGH to the Tiffany Club on Beacon St. where McDONOUGH left the car with FUCILLO. FUCILLO then returned and drove the other individual to the Eastern Hotel Supply Co., 60 Commercial Wharf, Boston, Massachusetts, where they both entered the premises. Shortly thereafter they left, FUCILLO drove his car away, and the other individual drove a blue Rambler bearing Massachusetts license P11-702 which is issued for a 1960 four door Rambler sedan to [redacted] Holbrook, Massachusetts.

On June 15, 1962, PATRIARCA was observed at the New England Baptist Hospital operating the dark green Cadillac bearing Rhode Island registration NS 594.

On the same date Rhode Island registration Y798 was also observed at the hospital. This plate is issued to [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island for a 1959 Cadillac Convertible. [redacted] is an attorney and known to PATRIARCA.

On the same date JERRY ANGIULO was observed visiting the hospital while PATRIARCA was therein.

On June 19, 1962, PATRIARCA operating NS 594 was observed at the hospital. Later on FUCILLO visited the hospital while PATRIARCA was therein. After his departure JERRY ANGIULO visited the hospital while PATRIARCA was still there.

On June 21, 1962, [redacted] advised that Mrs. PATRIARCA was discharged from the New England Baptist Hospital on that date. He has scheduled an appointment for her and her husband for July 2, 1962 at 3:00 p.m. It is noted that FUCILLO is believed to have driven Mrs. PATRIARCA to Rhode Island from the hospital.

On May 15, 1962, Chief of Police EDGAR GELINAS, Blackstone, Massachusetts Police Department, advised SA [redacted] owns a home in Blackstone, Massachusetts, however, he does not live at that address because he is separated from his wife. He stated that [redacted] is in some sort of chemical business and he is usually in New York City.

Chief GELINAS advised that [redacted] who is not employed, is usually at home and she has a boyfriend living with her named [redacted] who is employed at the [redacted] Hopedale, Massachusetts.

BS 92-118

Clerk GELINAS advised that no information has come to his attention to indicate that [redacted] have any association with gambling or the hoodlum element.

Efforts to locate [redacted] at Blackstone, Massachusetts on May 15, 31 and 6/7/62 were negative.

On May 15, 1962, BS T-3 advised he is familiar with some of the hoodlums in Worcester, Massachusetts. According to informant, a [redacted] of Worcester has made it known in this area that anyone operating as a bookie in Worcester, Massachusetts had to turn in part of his earnings to the men who control the rackets there.

According to this informant, [redacted] the late FRANK IACONE who formerly headed the rackets in Worcester, Massachusetts. COSMO "PINKY" PANARELLI, [redacted] [redacted] are the individuals who run and operate the rackets in Worcester, and they in turn are controlled by RAYMOND PATRIARCA of Providence, Rhode Island who is in charge of New England.

Informant stated that the Worcester leaders have their own bookies or agents who actually take the bets and turn in the money to the individuals mentioned above. Informant said that none of them ever take any bets or conduct any type of gambling activity; therefore, it would be very difficult to prosecute them as gamblers. Informant said all of them handle the money and they know that it is not illegal to be caught with money.

Informant further advised that all of their agents have very strict orders to keep their mouth shut in the event they are arrested as bookies, and they may even pay fines for their bookies who are arrested.

[redacted]

127 East Merrick Road, Valley Stream, Long Island, New York, is a used car lot. On May 22, 1962, [redacted] was located. He advised that about six or eight months ago, a man named [redacted] if he could use his address as a location for a car rental business. [redacted] advised that as long as it was a mailing address only, he had no objections. He advised that thereafter he received credit inquiries and police inquiries (department unknown). He then told [redacted] to evacuate the premises. He concluded by stating that as far as he knows, the VIP Car Rental [redacted] is located at 75 Beaver Street, New York City.

PS 92-118

On May 25, 1962, [redacted] New York, New York, home address [redacted] Valley Stream, New York, advised that [redacted] Car Rental Business. He stated that the 1960 Cadillac sedan bearing New York registration 6C4063 is listed to Dukraft Manufacturing Company, Inc., 18-20 West 20th Street, New York City, and is [redacted]

[redacted] Dukraft Manufacturing Company, 18-20 West 20th Street, New York City, advised that he has several customers in the Providence, Rhode Island area, but that he was not in that area as of March 15, 1962. However, he believes that the car was in for repairs at a gas station located at Atlantic Avenue and Nostrand Avenue, Brooklyn, and that if the car was in Providence somebody took it without permission and drove it to that area.

Efforts will be made by the New York Office to determine further as to who might have had this car in their possession on March 15, 1962.

New York registration 3398Z is registered to [redacted] Bronx, New York. She listed her employment as [redacted] New York City. This is a 1961 Chevrolet, white in color. Records at the Bureau of Criminal Identification, New York City Police Department, according to SA [redacted] are negative. [redacted] New York City, advised that he knew [redacted]. He stated that she is a [redacted] operating under the name of [redacted] and that she spends much of her time in the Providence, Rhode Island area. In fact, she allegedly works as [redacted] (LNU) who drives an automobile bearing Rhode Island registration TC 301, and [redacted] is connected with one [redacted] (LNU) who is also a racketeer from the Providence, Rhode Island area. [redacted] continued that [redacted] was in trouble in the Baltimore area where she was operating [redacted] for one [redacted] (FH), and [redacted] allegedly did time for this violation. He continued that [redacted] is a very vicious and careless type of individual. He stated that in the recent past she came to New York City and in an effort to obtain a dress from him [redacted] she brought in this individual, [redacted] (LNU) to threaten him when he did not give the dress to her for nothing.

It should be noted at this time regarding Boston airtel to the Director, dated May 22, 1962, page 2, paragraph 3 wherein PATRIARCA refers to [redacted] true name is [redacted] both [redacted] considered the largest shylocks in the mid Manhattan area of

On June 8, 15 and 21, 1962, BS T-4 advised he has not obtained any information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

This informant stated that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had been subpoenaed before the Internal Revenue Service for 10:00 a.m. June 18, 1962 along with a [redacted] of the Sherwood Manufacturing Co., 75 Eagle Street, Providence, Rhode Island.

Informant said that he thought that both PATRIARCA and MELE would be interviewed concerning the financial transactions of the Sherwood Manufacturing Company.

Informant later stated that PATRIARCA and [redacted] appeared at the Internal Revenue Service, Providence, Rhode Island at 10:00 a.m. June 18, 1962 and furnished their names but then refused to answer any questions by taking the 5th Amendment.

1Date 6/15/62

Attleboro Printing & Embossing Company, 54 Union Street,
Attleboro, Massachusetts, furnished the following information:

The Attleboro Printing & Embossing Company, which employs many people, has on the premises cigarette machines and candy and gum vending machines which are serviced by the Coin-O-Matic Company of Providence, Rhode Island.

The Attleboro Printing & Embossing Company makes a very small amount of profit from these machines, which profit is turned into the employee's welfare fund.

This company does no other business with the National Cigarette Service, Coin-O-Matic, or with RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

BS 92-118

On June 25, 1962, BS T-6 advised information had come to his attention that the hoodlum element, names not known by informant, had contacted the owner of the Old Acres Restaurant in North Kingstown, Rhode Island concerning the purchase of this restaurant. Informant said the owner of the restaurant was not interested in selling and so advised these individuals.

Informant stated that it appeared that this possible contact to purchase this restaurant was made on behalf of RAYMOND PATRIARCA but informant had no information to substantiate this.

On July 1, 1962, BS T-7 advised that PATRIARCA continues to exercise active interest in various gambling activities in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. In such interests he keeps himself constantly aware of the activities of individuals engaged in gambling enterprises. The informant indicated for example that such persons would include [redacted] Boston Bookies, [redacted] and [redacted] bankers for Boston gamblers. [redacted] also [redacted] the DeSoto Car Agency on Brockline Ave. near the Deaconess Hospital. The informant also indicated included in this group would be [redacted] of New Bedford, Massachusetts.

The informant stated recently PATRIARCA gave permission to some New York individuals to operate a dice game in New Bedford, Massachusetts, but specifically instructed these individuals they were not to handle numbers play.

The informant stated that PATRIARCA's position in the gambling field, as well as in crime generally, is such that no one who is anybody, unless they are "punks" operate without clearing through PATRIARCA.

In his operation and interest in gambling activities PATRIARCA feels that it is poor policy for gamblers to be seen in public places and playing the limelight. He has indicated to his associates that his example should be followed and pointed out that he seldom goes out, and rarely eats in any public eating places. He further indicated he is not seen on public golf, or country club golf links as this is placing yourself in the limelight.

BS T-8 on June 27, 1962 advised that SAMUEL GRANITO, a Lieutenant of PATRIARCA's, is well regarded by the latter and recently when GRANITO felt he was being harassed by the Massachusetts State Police and suspected of various robberies in the Boston area, PATRIARCA instructed JERRY ANGIULO to contact [redacted] of the Massachusetts State Police. PATRIARCA requested ANGIULO to arrange for [] to remove GRANITO's photograph from the active files of the State Police.

This informant further advised that Governor's Counsellor SONNY McDONOUGH is very close to PATRIARCA and recently told PATRIARCA that the transfer of IRS personnel in Boston were all political. Further, McDONOUGH indicated that everybody active in the interest of EDWARD McCORMACK, the Attorney General in Massachusetts, are being checked by IRS on income tax matters.

This informant advised that PATRIARCA was disturbed because his associates, HARRY BAIONA, et al, failed to make parole in Massachusetts. PATRIARCA has heard that the parole application had been taken care of but then the FBI stepped in and told the District Attorney. The latter thereafter killed the parole bid. In this respect the informant indicated that [] of Revere, Massachusetts, recently indicated that the FBI was responsible for the parole being denied, but in view of Chairman TWOMEY being reappointed, the chance still exists for reconsideration of the applications. [] has a brother serving in the Massachusetts State Senate and PATRIARCA is interested in the latter's campaign for re-election. This interest has been demonstrated by PATRIARCA requesting his various associates in the Chelsea-Revere area to get behind Senator [] and give him all the help possible. These associates include TEDDY FUCELLO, SAMUEL GRANITO and others. [] feels his brother will be a candidate for Lt. Governor in Massachusetts in the event he is re-elected.

On June 15, 1962, BS T-9 advised that PATRIARCA had an active interest in the operation of any illegal stills in the area. He explained that this interest was demonstrated by PATRIARCA's concern over a recent case in Connecticut where several individuals from the Rhode Island area were convicted of alcohol tax violations. PATRIARCA has demonstrated his interest in this respect by contributing approximately $6,000.00 towards the defense of the individuals, and he expects that [] who had been a defendant in the case and had the charges dismissed, will assist financially in meeting the expenses involved. It is noted that [] the Providence Electric Co., a wholesale electrical supply house, and was [] in which the still was located. He contended [] to individuals unknown to him and the purpose of its use was likewise unknown to him.

The following discreet investigation was conducted by SA [redacted]

At Hartford, Connecticut

[redacted] United States Attorney's Office, Hartford, Connecticut, advised on May 23, 1962 that there is a pending trial in the U. S. District Court at Hartford, Connecticut regarding subjects arrested in connection with the operation of an illicit still at Jewett City, Connecticut.

Principals as subjects are:

It was disclosed on May 23 and 29, 1962 by [redacted] [redacted] Alcohol Tax Unit Investigation, who was discreetly inquired of, that the [redacted] are related and were involved as operators of the still.

The still premises at Jewett City, Connecticut, were leased from a corporation headed or owned by three men, one of whom was [redacted] [redacted] in Providence, Rhode Island, and reputedly a wealthy man.

[redacted] owned a truck that was seized in connection with this matter.

[redacted] pleaded guilty early in the trial which is still still in progress, in connection with his supplying sugar used in the operation.

BS 92-118

None of the subjects were referred to as best he knew, other than by natural name derivation, e. g. [redacted] as [redacted]

It was considered that such an operation as this still required the investment of between $50,000 and $60,000 to get it going, and that [redacted] may have put up the major portion.

[redacted] in New Bedford, Massachusetts, and reputedly had a man named [redacted] working for him.

Records of the U. S. Probation Officer, Hartford, on May 31, 1962 disclosed that [redacted] of [redacted] New Bedford, Massachusetts, on May 10, 1962 pleaded guilty at U. S. District Court, Hartford, Connecticut, to a one-count information which charged that from September 1, 1960 to October 13, 1960 he possessed property (i.e. sugar) intended for use in violation of Title 26, U. S. Code, Section 5601(a) (8) in violation title 26, Section 5686, U. S. Code. He was born [redacted] and his wife is [redacted]

[redacted] at Providence, Rhode Island, and has eight people employed for him. He reportedly has recently gone through bankruptcy. Several past arrests, including adultery were fully pardoned on August 17, 1961 by Massachusetts Governor JOHN A. VOLPE.

It was discreetly learned from [redacted] U. S. Probation Office, Hartford, Connecticut on May 31, 1962 that [redacted] had sold about 800 pounds of sugar in this operation, and had made delivery of it on a vacant lot in Providence. Three men whom he described, but whom he otherwise did not identify in court, were instrumental in this. He allegedly was paid for the sugar in New Bedford, Massachusetts.

On June 14, 1962, BS T-10 advised that from his knowledge of RAYMOND PATRIARCA he would state that PATRIARCA is very active in the money lending business in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. He stated he knew that PATRIARCA had made a loan to [redacted] of Pawtucket, Rhode Island in connection with the latter's liquor business. This business was thereafter closed and [redacted] now owes PATRIARCA $2500. in interest alone. Because of the closing of the place PATRIARCA now is attempting to sell the establishment for $15,000.00.

The informant pointed out that PATRIARCA has advised that when you are engaged in the money lending business you should avoid making loans to gamblers or thieves. He cautioned that such loans only bring trouble as there is difficulty in getting the money back.

The informant indicated that he understood that PATRIARCA loaned [] the D & H Building Wreckers, Inc., $10,000.00 and [] has only paid back $4000.00. PATRIARCA is concerned about this and will "bury" [] because of it as well as the fact he suspects [] as having played a part in the fire that occurred on a dump operated by PATRIARCA.

On July 3, 1962, BS T-11 advised that Massachusetts State Senator JOHN E. POWERS is still endeavoring to obtain additional racing dates for the Hancock Race Track and in addition to POWERS, PATRIARCA believes that Massachusetts State Senators [] as well as others, will help in this regard.

The informant stated that Attorney [] from Pittsfield, Massachusetts is continuing to work in PATRIARCA's interest and recently allegedly paid $500.00 to [] who is known as [] is a well known Rhode Island hoodlum and had his horse owner's license revoked in 1952 for failing to have disclosed his criminal record. In 1961 his license was restored as a result of alleged pressure from the Governor's Office in Rhode Island. [] is [] the Board of Directors of the New England Horsemen's Protective and Benevolent Association. [] of this association.

The informant further advised that Attorney [] also has $10,000.00 which he is to use in paying a Superior Court judge for lifting the restraining order against the transfer of stock of the Hancock Raceway. PATRIARCA is concerned about this payoff and wants [] to be sure that the job is done before the money is paid up. PATRIARCA's concern is prompted by the fact he already has tied up $70,000.00 in the track and he feels he might have to contribute another $30,000. The informant believes that PATRIARCA's interest is worth $200,000.00 and if the additional racing dates are not obtained there is a possibility of selling the track to a group who are willing to pay over one million dollars over and above costs.

The informant advised that recently the State of Rhode Island through its racing commission authorized night racing in the State. The matter was appealed to the Supreme Court and the legality of such action was upheld.

The informant indicated that PATRIARCA is getting a fund together as a payoff to Governor JOHN NOTTE of Rhode Island for the approval of night racing. The fund is expected to total $75,000.00 with $10,000.00 coming from the Narragansett Track. The informant thinks HARRY CURVIN, Speaker of the House of Representatives in Rhode Island, will be included in the payoff as such night racing would never have been permitted without his approval. The informant believes that $25,000.00 of the $75,000.00 will go to Governor NOTTE and that PATRIARCA will retain a substantial amount of the fund for himself.

It is noted that BS T-2 has advised that it is common knowledge that a payoff was being made to Governor NOTTE for the allowance of night racing in Rhode Island.

BS T-11 further advised that PATRIARCA is very close to Governor NOTTE and supported this observation by advising that JOSEPH LOMBARDO, a Boston hoodlum and PATRIARCA associate, had his horse owner's license taken away from him sometime ago. LOMBARDO tried various ways to have it reinstated but was unsuccessful. PATRIARCA contacted NOTTE and the latter issued instructions to the Chairman of the State Racing Commission in Rhode Island to reinstate LOMBARDO. The Chairman is D. THOMAS TESTA and he remonstrated with NOTTE pointing out the possibility of adverse publicity. NOTTE told TESTA he was not concerned as he, NOTTE, owed a favor to a friend. It is noted that if LOMBARDO's license is reinstated in Rhode Island it will be automatically recognized by the other tracks in Massachusetts and New England.

Lincoln, Rhode Island

On June 20, 1962, BS T-5 advised he had received information to the effect that the New England Machine and Electric Company, 77 Bayley St., Pawtucket, Rhode Island, had been awarded the contract for the installation of lights at the Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, Rhode Island for the night racing which is scheduled to start in the latter part of July, 1962. Informant said New England Machine and Electric Company was the lowest bidder and on that basis was awarded the contract for this work.

Informant said that [redacted] has done considerable work for the Blackstone Valley Gas and Electric Company and had previously run electric cables for this company to a point in the general area of the race track.

Informant further advised that [redacted]

A spot check was made at the Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, Rhode Island, by SA [redacted] at which time it was noted that a red truck of the New England Machine and Electric Company, Pawtucket, Rhode Island was at the track. Also noted was a large truck of the Collyer Insulated Wire Company, Pawtucket, Rhode Island. Being removed from this large truck were large round coils of electrical cable which were being stored for use in the installation of the electrical equipment for this track.

Also noted at this time were workmen or laborers who were digging holes in this same general area.

[redacted] Philip Renzi and Sons, Inc., 208 Laurel Hill Ave., Providence, Rhode Island, who is a large electrical contractor in the State of Rhode Island, advised he did not submit a bid for the installation of lighting equipment for the Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, Rhode Island, however, he has been designated by the New England Machine and Electric Company, Pawtucket, Rhode Island as a sub-contractor. He obtained this sub-contractor work through [redacted] the New England Machine and Electric Company and he will dig the holes and install the electric poles at this track.

[redacted] advised he is very satisfied with being a sub-contractor on this job as he is certain of obtaining his money for services rendered through the New England Machine and Electric Company.

He said there may be other sub-contractors on this job, but at the present time he did not know their identity.

The Providence Journal, a daily newspaper in Providence, Rhode Island, dated June 21, 1962, carried an article on page 1 captioned "Track Lacking Lights Permit." This article in substance stated that Building Inspector LLOYD B. CRAWLEY of Lincoln, Rhode Island said he has refused to issue a building permit to Lincoln Downs Race Track for erection of the floodlights required for the night racing program scheduled to begin July 30. His statement was based on the fact that he lacks the authority to issue such a permit without the approval of the zoning board of review.

Mr. ARTHUR T. PATENAUE, the track superintendent, was notified on June 5, 1962 that he, (CRAWLEY) could not give the track the required permit until he gets a statement in writing from the zoning board of review that it has granted an appeal or a special exception.

WALTER V. WYNNE, zoning board chairman, said that no appeal has been filed by the race track and the charter and ordinances are clear that anybody aggrieved by the action or non-action of the building inspector may appeal to the board of review.

The attorney for Lincoln Downs Race Track, RAYMOND E. JORDAN, has not appealed because he did not think it was necessary, but he would file an appeal with the zoning board.

Mr. PATENAUE, track superintendent, said he did not think the time required for an appeal would delay the opening of night racing. The lights have not yet been delivered to the track and he added that there is a lot of preparatory work to be done which does not require a permit.

BS 92-118

BS 7-12 advised on June 20, 1962 that PATRIARCA,, [redacted] of Worcester, Massachusetts, and a doctor in that locality, and other individuals were negotiating with JERRY ANGIULO of Boston, Massachusetts for the purchase of the Indian Meadow Country Club in the Worcester, Massachusetts area.

The informant had no further details in this matter but the following information was developed in the course of another investigation:

[redacted] Small Business Administration [redacted] 470 Atlantic Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts, advised that their agency loaned the Indian Meadow Country Club, Inc. $150,000 on January 10, 1962. The loan is an early maturity participation loan and on December 20, 1961 the Mechanics National Bank of Worcester, Massachusetts, 303 Main St., Worcester, had a loan outstanding in the amount of $200,000 to the country club. As a result of the Small Business Administration action the latter agency purchased $150,000 of this loan. The Country Club is made up of the following personnel:

President & Treasurer: [redacted]
Clerk: [redacted]
Vice President: [redacted]

The files of the Small Business Administration describe [redacted] as a resident of [redacted] West Boylston, Massachusetts, who is engaged in the general [redacted] Worcester, Massachusetts.

[redacted] is described as engaged in the general practice of medicine and resides at [redacted] Shrewsbury, Massachusetts.

[redacted] is described as a doctor specializing in eyes, ears, nose and throat, and resides at [redacted] Worcester, Massachusetts.

The above three individuals each have [redacted]

The file further reflected that the net book value of the property as of August 31, 1961 was $461,529.00.

On January 10, 1962, [redacted] Mechanics National Bank, Worcester, Massachusetts, advised the Small Business Administration that the $200,000.00 loan had been disbursed.

[redacted] Dewey and O'Brien, counsel for the Mechanics National Bank, gave the Small Business Administration by letter dated December 19, 1961, a preliminary opinion. It was indicated the Ace Sheet Metal Co. had a contract recorded against the property, that [redacted] had a $28,500. first mortgage, that the [redacted] had a $60,000 second mortgage all of which would be discharged at time of recording the $200,000.00 mortgage. The Ace Sheet Metal Co. [redacted]

The file revealed that on April 13, 1961 the Indian Meadow Country Club gave a note to [redacted] and [redacted] [redacted] in the amount of $50,000 and it was a demand note.

The file revealed that on September 5, 1961 [redacted] Attorney, and [redacted] appeared in the office of the Small Business Administration initiating the loan which was subsequently made.

The file revealed that the golf course of the club was built under the supervision of [redacted] [redacted] has a net worth of $289,000.00 with $237,000.00 in real estate. [redacted] has a net worth of $177,000.00 with $77,000.00 in real estate. [redacted] has a $107,000.00 net worth.

The file revealed that on March 15, 1961 Dewey and O'Brien had a report in which it was indicated that the principals of the club were [redacted] [redacted] was described as having been formerly associated with the Central Wholesale Grocers, Inc.; active in the East Side Package Store, Inc., and Sales Manager for Eastern Machine and Tile Manufacturing Co.

It will be recalled that information was furnished indicating that RAYMOND PATRIARCA may be active in arson activities and along that line information has been developed that active with him may be an individual known as DANNY RAIMONDI, aka Danny Litwin, Dennis Raimondi, formerly of Fall River, Massachusetts. In view thereof the following check was made:

On May 25, 1962 at the Identification Division of the Providence, Rhode Island Police Department, the following information was obtained:

DENNIS RAIMONDI, aka DENNIS LITWIN, DANNY, former residence 494 South Main St., Fall River, Massachusetts has the following arrest record as of 1962 under FBI #77 096B:

11/10/42 - U. S. Disciplinary Barracks, Stoneville, New York - desertion - 5 years.

5/6/52 - Possession of pistol in vehicle - 2/9/53 sentenced five years, sentence suspended and probation five years.

6/21/55 - Arson, new Bedford, Mass. - no disposition shown.

11/25/58 - Suspicious person, Pawtucket, Rhode Island - released.

The following is his description as obtained from these same records:

DOB:	7/19/23, New York City
Height:	5'9"
Weight:	175-190
Eyes:	Brown
Hair:	Black
Complexion:	Medium Dark.

On July 3, 1962 BS T-13 advised that PATRIARCA continues to maintain an interest in the operations of the Eastern Hotel Supply Co., and that this interest has grown out of the fact that PATRIARCA has put $4,000.00 therein. THEODORE FUCILLO has indicated that $31,000.00 has been invested but that business is not too good inasmuch as the competition from Jewish interests is very severe in the Massachusetts area. FUCILLO would like PATRIARCA to invest additional money but PATRIARCA is hesitant and feels that if the business is not too good it should be concluded before bankruptcy is encountered.

BS 92-118

The informant stated that [redacted] Somerville, Massachusetts is investing money in the business and has arranged the investment through the withdrawal of cash from a safe deposit box to avoid tax inquiries thereon. The money will allegedly come from [redacted] partner and be recorded on the books of the latter's firm.

The informant stated that because of the close association of FUCILLO and PATRIARCA, the latter has arranged for FUCILLO to obtain money, probably $6,000.00, from JERRY ANGIULO.

It is noted that frequent spot checks of 60 Commercial Wharf have been made as to cars parked in front thereof. FUCILLO's car has been frequently observed. On June 18, 1962 Massachusetts registration RP 311B was noted. This plate was issued to the Superior GMC Truck and Sales Service, 30 Middlesex Ave., Somerville, Massachusetts, [redacted], Lexington, Massachusetts.

Adjacent to 60 Commercial Wharf is #58, the Commercial Drapery Service Co. and on the door also appears Royal Metal Furniture - Hospital Division. The movement of personnel from Eastern into these premises would indicate they are one and the same establishment.

The premises at 58-60 Commercial Wharf are owned by Tillotson and Greenup, 67 Commercial Wharf, Boston, rental agents for the wharf.

Confidential information was previously developed that HENRY TAMALIO and RAYMOND PATRIARCA were interested in a gold swindle that was being developed by a [redacted] who was associated in business with a doctor. The doctor was to be victimized, but the informant in pointing out that he had no further details, did state that the doctor had a $137,000.00 double indemnity insurance policy payable to his business in the event of death, as well as substantial other life insurance. The informant indicated that this doctor was the type who had had a lot of automobile accidents and conjectured arrangements might be made to kill the doctor in an automobile accident with the resultant benefits to the company from the double indemnity policy. The informant stated such an accident would involve the use of a stolen truck.

Because of the above information investigation has been conducted to identify the above referred to doctor and [redacted] and the following information has been developed:

The records of the Department of Corporations, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, State House, Boston, Massachusetts on June 8, 1962 revealed that the Great Eastern Investment Corp. was organized on October 5, 1960 by HARRY I. ZAFF, 475 Parker St., Newton, Massachusetts, [REDACTED], Raynham, Massachusetts and [REDACTED] Melrose, Massachusetts. The address of the firm was given as [REDACTED], Room 216, Boston, Massachusetts. The purpose of the firm was general conduct of a finance business. The first meeting of the incorporators was September 27, 1960 at 27 State St., Boston, Massachusetts and ZAFF was designated President-Treasurer and Director. [REDACTED] was designated as Assistant Treasurer and Clerk. Five hundred shares of no par value common stock was authorized and 100 shares thereof issued to ZAFF.

The New England Telephone Co. Directory lists HARRY I. ZAFF as a dentist at 80 Boylston St., Boston, Massachusetts.

The records of the Director of Registration, Dental Examiners, Room 33, State House, Boston, Massachusetts, revealed on June 11, 1962 that HARRY ISRAEL ZAFF, born 1906 in East Boston, Massachusetts, and a graduate of Tufts University with a degree of D.M.D. in 1928, was admitted to practice that year. He was sponsored by [REDACTED] Dorchester, Massachusetts and [REDACTED] Boston, Massachusetts. Since his admission he has had addresses of 159 Bellingham St., Chelsea; 70 Chiswick Rd., Brighton; 48 Waumbek St., Roxbury; 5 Hatherly Rd., Brighton and 475 Parker St., Newton, all Massachusetts.

On June 11, 1962 the records of the Index Bureau, Inc., 260 Tremont St., Boston, Massachusetts, a central record maintained by automobile insurance companies for the recording of automobile accidents, reflected that Dr. HARRY ZAFF had eight automobile accidents between 1954 and 1960. The seriousness of the accidents was not recorded.

On June 12, 1962, BS T-14 advised that HARRY ISRAEL ZAFF, born August 9, 1906, had a $5,000.00 preferred risk whole life plan policy with the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. ZAFF surrendered this policy in 1961. In 1958 [REDACTED] Trustee, was beneficiary and thereafter [REDACTED] described as ZAFF's [REDACTED] was the beneficiary.

The records of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. reveal ZAFF has no other insurance therewith but did have insurance with the Equitable Life Insurance Co. of New York, and the New York Life Insurance Co.

The informant suggested that to insure confidential handling, that inquiries re ZAFF's insurance be made directly to the New York Office of such insurance companies.

On June 27, 1962, [redacted] R. M. Bradley Co., 250 Boylston St., Boston, rental agents for 30 Huntington Ave., Boston, advised that the building at that address is being taken over by the Toll Authority and the tenants will have to vacate therefrom in the immediate future. He stated he has been endeavoring to sell the Great Eastern Investment new space at another location but has not been able to contact any official there. He stated this firm will have to vacate immediately upon the Toll Authority taking over.

On June 26, 1962, [redacted] Supervisor and Rate Analyst, State Banking Commission, 150 Causeway St., Boston, Massachusetts, advised that the Great Eastern Investment Corp. did not come within the jurisdiction of the State Banking Regulations inasmuch as the loans of such firm are over $1500.00. He pointed out, however, that recently they had an inquiry from the company which afforded them an opportunity of making contact therewith and learning something about the firm.

[redacted] of his office interviewed an individual named [redacted] at the Great Eastern Investment Corp. and ran a spot check of the loans of the firm. [redacted] formed the opinion that the company had about $100,000 out in loans and 70% thereof were uncollectible. He predicated this opinion on running a spot check of the account with the Central Agency maintained by finance companies and learned as a result of this spot check that these loans involved persons who were ruled as uncollectible by other finance companies.

[redacted] indicated that [redacted] was a "great big man" who apparently was a [redacted] and most of the loans were to [redacted]

[redacted] pointed out he believes [redacted] Boston, was attorney for the Great Eastern Investment Corp.

BS 92-118

On June 19, 1962, IC [] reviewed the records of Dun & Bradstreet, Boston, Massachusetts and obtained the following information concerning the Great Eastern Investment Corp., 30 Huntington Ave., Boston, Massachusetts, from Dun & Bradstreet report dated April 6, 1961:

Principal: HARRY ZAFF

Principal: []

Summary New operation with full details lacking. Volume reported active during first few months.

Trade As yet this company has not sought credit on the open market.

Finance On April 5, 1961 HARRY ZAFF stated that since operations have begun in October, volume of approximately $25,000.00 has been transacted by the firm.

Detailed financial information was deferred at this time and none could currently be obtained from public record.

Bank balances average moderate four figures, no loans.

Operation Reportedly operates as a loaning agency giving secured personal loans to both business and industry, some long term large loans and also deals in second mortgages.

History Reportedly a Massachusetts corporation chartered in October, 1961. Although official charter details have not yet been made public the above persons are reported the principals at interest.

HARRY I. ZAFF is a dentist with offices in Boston. He has reportedly been active in this line for over 33 years and has built up a good following.

[] was not fully identified but reportedly operates [] with headquarters in the Roxham, Massachusetts area.

Dun and Bradstreet report dated November 2, 1961 reveals the following:

The account is not considered a general seeker of credit.

Articles of organization are still not available, but Massachusetts books list above as a Massachusetts corporation.

BS 92-118

Calls made as of November 2, 1961 were unsuccessful as no one on premises. The Massachusetts Commissioner of Corporations failed to produce a balance sheet. No estimate of investment here can be made at this time. On record is attachment of Real Estate in court filed by HENNETT BRYSON, recorded July 31, 1961 at Registry of Deeds, Middlesex County Book 9859, page 223.

The files of the Credit Bureau of Greater Boston, Inc., 11 Beacon St., Boston, Massachusetts, as reviewed by IC [redacted] on June 19, 1962 revealed that in 1957 [redacted] Cambridge, Massachusetts, wife [redacted] at that time was [redacted]

BS 837-C*, whose identity is known to the Bureau, advised that UNMAN told RAYMOND PATRIARCA that he thought he was in trouble. UNMAN said that on May 13, 1960, he borrowed $5,405 from the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island and was questioned by a [redacted] concerning the proceeds of the loan. $4,992 of which $2,000 went into an account entitled [redacted]. UNMAN told PATRIARCA that he had nothing to do with the [redacted] so. UNMAN said that after being questioned by [redacted] he went to see [redacted] at the motel where he is employed and assaulted him and demanded [redacted] tell him who borrowed the money. [redacted] told him that [redacted] apparently borrowed the money and put it in a secret savings account. The UNMAN did not know whether to be a stool pigeon and tell [redacted] and [redacted] or take the punishment himself. PATRIARCA told the UNMAN to tell [redacted] to get him off the hook as he can't explain the money.

Investigation disclosed that UNMAN is LOUIS TAGLIANETTI, Aka LOUIE THE FOX. [redacted] is an Agent of the Intelligence Division, Internal Revenue Service (IRS), Providence, Rhode Island, who is investigating TAGLIANETTI for income tax evasion and it appears that IRS has a good case against him and hopes to bring the matter before the Federal Grand Jury at Providence in the near future. [redacted] subject of this case and [redacted] was the original complainant in this case and a friend of [redacted]

Investigation disclosed that TAGLIANETTI did obtain a personal loan from the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, which he obtained from [redacted] co-signed on the note as shown in the Details of this report.

Although there does not appear to be a violation of the Federal Reserve Act Statute in connection with TAGLIANETTI's loan, he was interviewed concerning the loan money for intelligence purposes because he is the subject of another Bureau case entitled, "LOUIS TAGLIANETTI, Aka ITWI", Bureau file 165-106 and he is also a close associate of RAYMOND L. Details:

Date June 25, 1962

Johnston, Rhode Island, appeared at the Providence, Rhode Island Resident Agency and was advised that he did not have to make a statement, that any statement he did make could be used against him in a court of law, that he had the right to consult with an attorney prior to making any statement.

[redacted] was questioned concerning a current loan under his name in the amount of $1709.10 obtained from the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island under date of August 21, 1961.

[redacted] advised that he previously had a prior loan of $1,500, plus interest, which he had obtained at this bank and after he made a couple of payments he could not continue to make the large monthly payments because he was unemployed and he went to the Main Office of the bank where he spoke to a Vice President or the President, whose name he could not recall. [redacted] said that the Vice President or President sent him to see [redacted] a loan officer, with the bank and he explained his problem to [redacted] said that [redacted] rewrote his loan whereby he thought he could meet the new monthly payments, but because he got hurt in an automobile accident he has not been able to work and keep the loan current. He said that his attorney, [redacted] has already made arrangements with the bank's attorney, [redacted] whereby his indebtedness will be paid off in full when he settles his automobile accident case. It was pointed out to [redacted] that the purpose of this interview had nothing to do with the collection of money he owed the bank but concerned an investigation being conducted concerning a possible violation of the Federal Reserve Act at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

[redacted] was questioned concerning the original loan he had made from the bank and why he had gone to this particular branch. [redacted] said that DENNIS RAIMONDI, Providence, Rhode Island brought him to the bank where he met [redacted] [redacted] asked him questions and filled out a loan application which he signed along with a promissory note. [redacted] said that he furnished all truthful answers to the questions asked of him by [redacted] as he did when he talked to [redacted]. Also, DENNIS RAIMONDI co-signed on the original loan. [redacted] said that he never gave any money to [redacted] but from the proceeds of his loan he "lent some money to RAIMONDI".

[redacted] said that he did not desire to discuss this first loan any further. He said that he has always worked since he was eighteen years old but some of his associates do not have too good a reputation.

[redacted] was questioned as to why he went to see [redacted] with RAIMONDI and he replied that it was common knowledge around Providence that anyone could borrow money from [redacted]. Also it was common knowledge that people who weren't working obtained loans. He said that when he borrowed the money he needed it because he was broke and if [redacted] was making loans to anyone he might as well obtain his. He said that he had every intention of repaying the loan when due but because of the automobile accident he was unable to do so. He said that he could not recall the names of other individuals who obtained loans from [redacted] but he had heard that the FBI had talked to most of them.

[redacted] said that he also had an automobile loan at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island which he obtained after his first loan. He said that he could not keep up the payments and he sold the car to another fellow who obtained a loan at the same branch. He said that at the time he went to the Main Office of the bank, he explained his problem and the unpaid balance on his first loan and his automobile loans were paid off and the unpaid balances were incorporated into a new loan, which is his current loan.

[redacted] said that he co-signed a note for a friend of his, [redacted] in the approximate amount of $700.00 at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He said that [redacted] was a personal friend of his who works for [redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island and there was nothing wrong with this loan. He pointed out that [redacted] was approximately $200 behind in his payments but would make all payments.

[redacted] said that he had to go to Scarborough Beach, Rhode Island where he expected to obtain a job, and requested that the interview be terminated.

Date 7/3/62

[redacted] Esmond, Rhode Island, was interviewed in the Providence, Rhode Island Resident Agency. He was advised that he did not have to make a statement, that any statement made by him could be used in a court of law and that he had the right to consult an attorney before making a statement.

[redacted] was advised that the purpose of the interview concerned a loan under his name at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. [redacted] said that he had obtained a $1,500 loan from this bank approximately one to one and a half years ago. He said that he couldn't give the exact date or amount of the loan, but he had the loan book at home. He said that he [redacted]

[redacted] East Killingley, Connecticut and at the time he made the loan he was in dire need of money. He said that when he started his business he borrowed money from his mother-in-law and later she became sick and needed her money. He said that he knew [redacted] also known as [redacted] for a number of years so he approached [redacted] to see if he could lend him some money.

[redacted] told him that he didn't have the money but he could bring him to a bank that might loan him the money. He said that he told [redacted] that his credit rating wasn't too good and [redacted] said that if he co-signed the note, he could probably obtain the money.

[redacted] took him to the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, where he was introduced to the [redacted]. He said that [redacted] asked him questions, but not too many questions, which surprised him. [redacted] said that he answered all questions asked by [redacted] truthfully.

[redacted] was shown a copy of a loan application dated February 23, 1961 and he identified his signature. [redacted] said that he signed a note and also [redacted] signed as a co-maker. It was pointed out to [redacted] that the note also contained the signature of one [redacted] as another co-maker. He said that [redacted] was his wife. [redacted] said that his wife was not with him when he applied for the loan but [redacted] wanted her to co-sign on the note. He said that he had to go to either Fall River or Boston, Massachusetts that day so [redacted] sent a friend of his to [redacted] home and obtained his wife's signature. In the afternoon of the same day that he applied for the loan and had returned from either Fall River or Boston, he went back to the bank. He said that [redacted] gave him the loan money. He said that he received the exact proceeds of the loan and never gave any money to either [redacted]. [redacted] was questioned as to whether his wife actually signed the note or had someone else signed her name. He said that he believes his wife signed the note and he had already asked her whether she remembered signing the note. He said that she told him that she could not remember specifically signing this note because she had co-signed on numerous documents for him. [redacted] said that he has had his wife sign numerous documents both when he has been present and also he has sent people to their home to obtain her signature on documents.

[redacted] said that shortly after he obtained the loan he got hurt in work and was out of work. At the same time the bank that held the mortgage on his home was planning to foreclose because he was six months delinquent. He said that since he obtained the loan, both [redacted] at different times came to him and requested he make his loan current. He said that he promised them that he would, but he never had the money. Also, he has had to sell a large interest in his business.

[redacted] said that when he obtained instant loan he owned about $7,000 to individuals but [redacted] never asked him. He said that [redacted] did ask him about the mortgage on his home.

Date 4/18/621.

[redacted] Greenville, Rhode Island was interviewed at his place of employment, [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law and that he had the right to consult an attorney.

[redacted] was advised that the purpose of the interview concerned a loan under his name at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

[redacted] said that he couldn't recall the date he obtained the loan or the amount of the loan. He advised that [redacted] was on his way [redacted] and wanted him present when he answered any additional questions. A loan application dated April 27, 1961 and a $3,000 promissory note dated April 27, 1961 were shown to [redacted] and he identified his signature on each document. He said that when he went to the bank to obtain the loan, he was accompanied by a friend of his, [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, who introduced him to [redacted]. He said that [redacted] asked him many questions and wrote the answers on the application. It was pointed out to [redacted] was a co-signer on the loan. He said that this was only because [redacted] wanted him to co-sign on the loan.

[redacted] was asked to furnish background information as of April, 1961 when he made out the loan application and furnished the following information:

Date of Birth	[redacted]
Marital Status	Married, wife [redacted]
Residence	[redacted] Johnston, R.I.
Employment	[redacted]
Salary	[redacted]
Automobile	1960 Ford Starline, registration IM-8
Purpose of Loan	"To pay bills."

Toward the end of the interview, [redacted] father, [redacted] came into [redacted] and said that the loan under his son's name was his, [redacted]

[redacted] said that this is the only loan she has and does not know what loans her husband has. She said that "he tells me nothing". She said that she did not know the purpose for which her husband wanted the loan. At the time the loan was obtained, she said that she did not own an automobile but her husband had a 1961 Ford Thunderbird which was stolen from him and found burned in Johnston, Rhode Island. She said that her husband no longer owns an automobile because he lost his right to drive. She said that she now owns a 1954 or 1955 Buick automobile.

[redacted] said that she never gave [redacted] any background information concerning herself except her employment at [redacted]. She said that she never told him she was employed there for three years and was earning an average of $75 a week. She said that if the application had additional information then her husband must have given it to [redacted] after she left the bank with the loan money.

Date 6/28/62

[redacted] Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, Weybosset Street, Providence, Rhode Island, advised on June 25, 1962 that his records reflect that LOUIS TAGLIANETTI, 48 Montgomery Street, Warwick, Rhode Island, had two personal loans at the Johnston Rhode Island Branch of the bank. Both of these loans were made by [redacted]

The first loan P-445 was made on May 13, 1960 in the amount of $5,405 payable in 51 weekly payments of $100 and one payment of $305. As collateral on this loan, TAGLIANETTI gave the bank a chattel mortgage on a forty foot boat owned by him. On December 8, 1960, the unpaid balance on this loan was $1,505. This balance was paid off by a new loan, P-721, on December 8, 1960 in the amount of $5,405.

The loan ledger card for loan P-445 reflects that the net proceeds of the loan after deduction for interest, insurance and recording fees was $4,992. The acknowledgement for receipt of this money contains the signature of LOUIS J. TAGLIANETTI and shows that he received cash of $2,992 and $2,000 was deposited to savings account S-521. Also the card shows [redacted] as a co-maker on this loan.

The loan ledger card for loan P-721 reflects that the loan of $5,405 was payable in 51 weekly payments of $100 and one payment of $305. As collateral on this loan, the same chattel mortgage which was given on loan P-445 was continued to secure this loan. On October 18, 1961, the unpaid balance in this account was $1,605. On October 24, 1961 the unpaid balance was paid in full. The loan ledger card for loan P-721 reflects that the net proceeds of this loan on December 8, 1960 was $2,057.49 which includes $70.49 for interest rebate on loan P-445, after deduction of $3,418. The deductions are shown on the loan ledger card as follows:

Discount	$371.00
Insurance	$40.00
Balance on
Loan P-445	$1,505.00
Rec. Chattel
Mortgage	$2.00

Cash	$1,500.00
Total	$3,418.00

[redacted] explained that $1,505 above was the money that was applied to pay off loan P-445. He said that he did not know what the deduction of $1,500, shown as cash above, was for. He said that he would attempt to determine what this deduction was for.

[redacted] said that the loan ledger card does not contain TAGLIANETTI's signature for receipt of the $2,057.49 in cash. He pointed out that on October 24, 1961 when TAGLIANETTI paid off the balance on this loan of $1,605 he handled the transaction and wrote on the ledger card that the note, chattel mortgage, insurance policy and bill of sale was returned to TAGLIANETTI and accordingly, he had TAGLIANETTI sign for receipt of these documents. He said that if TAGLIANETTI had not received the proceeds of the loan he would not have made 38 weekly payments of $100 and a final payment of $1,605 if he had not received the money. [redacted] said that he recalls that the reason TAGLIANETTI paid off the balance of this loan was because his boat caught fire and sank and the insurance company paid off TAGLIANETTI.

[redacted] advised that Savings Account 521 referred to on the loan ledger card for loan P-445 is in the name of The Johnston Art Club, 171 Grove Street, Providence, Rhode Island, which was opened on July 20, 1959 with a deposit of $1,707.50 and closed on August 21, 1961 with approximately 274 transactions for deposits and withdrawals. He advised that on May 13, 1960, $2,000 was deposited to this account as indicated on the loan ledger card for loan P-445. [redacted] advised that signature card for savings account 521 reflects that [redacted] and [redacted] and are the only ones authorized to withdraw money from this account.

On June 26, 1962, [] advised that he attempted to determine from the records at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank what happened to the $1,500 shown as cash on the loan ledger card for loan P-721 and it was not possible to find this item in the records. He said that he checked the following records:

Loan Register, payments made on all loans, deposits to savings accounts and checking accounts. He said that the records are a complete "mess" and since [] left the bank they had to set up new procedures because it was almost impossible finding anything from the records.

Date 6/29/62

[redacted] was interviewed at his residence, [redacted] Johnston, Rhode Island. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law. Also, he had the right to retain an attorney.

[redacted] was advised that the purpose of the interview was concerning a savings account, [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, which was maintained at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. [redacted] said that this account was nothing more than his savings account and that [redacted] at the Branch told him not to open a savings account under his own name but open it up under a fictitious name. Accordingly, he opened it under the name of the [redacted] and gave the address of [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island, which was a former address of his and that of his mother. He said that the signature card for this account contains both his and his wife, [redacted] signatures and they were the only ones who could withdraw money from the account. He said that the account was closed several months ago.

[redacted] advised that a couple of weeks ago, LOUIS TAGLIANETTI, also known as "LOUIE the Fox" called him at home and said he wanted to see him at his (TAGLIANETTI) place of business, a "Junk" jewelry store on Pocasset Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island. He said he went to see LOUIE and the first thing he knew was that LOUIE kicked him in the groin and accused him and [redacted] of "setting him up." He said that LOUIE told him that Internal Revenue Service was checking his Federal Income Tax returns and during the investigation they found a loan under TAGLIANETTI's name at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island and the Internal Revenue Agents told him that $2,000 of the proceeds from the loan went into a savings account, the [redacted] which the Agents said was TAGLIANETTI's savings account. He said that he told TAGLIANETTI that the [redacted] was his own savings account and he would tell this to the Internal Revenue Agents. TUTALO said TAGLIANETTI was "furious" and accused him and [redacted] of involving him (TAGLIANETTI) in their dealings. He said that TAGLIANETTI never knew about this account.

[] said that the savings account was used by him to keep the money he received from gambling and to pay off when he was hit. That was why there was so many transactions.

[] was questioned as to why the bank records would show $2,000 of the proceeds of a loan made by TAGLIANETTI going into his savings account. [] said that he believes he brought TAGLIANETTI, who he thought was a friend of his, to see [] at the bank for the loan. Also, he believes that he co-signed on the note for TAGLIANETTI at that time. He said that he could not explain why the bank records show $2,000 of TAGLIANETTI's loan going into his savings account unless TAGLIANETTI owed him money at that time and paid him off, but he could not recall this as being the case. [] said that TAGLIANETTI used to place bets with him on sporting events and from the best of his recollection, TAGLIANETTI never owed him more than a few hundred dollars at any one time. Also, it was possible that he may have lent money to TAGLIANETTI and he was repaying the loan. He could not recall if this was so in connection with the $2,000.

[] said that he has not seen [] for several months and he "hates his guts". He said that as a result of [] lending money to all types of "bums and characters", he [] has been unable to borrow money from banks. He said that [] used to come to his home for meals and he bought [] suits and other clothing, but his friendship is over. Also, [] still owes his wife, [] $1,500 that he borrowed from her to buy a car a year or so ago and he has never made a move to repay the loan.

[] said that now that he looks back, [] must have been receiving kickbacks from some of the "bums" he loaned money. He said that he heard that [] had borrowed a few thousand dollars from the bank through [] and must have given him a kickback of at least $300. [] said that after he heard through the grapevine that [] made loans to a number of gamblers and "bums" and in his opinion, [] must have received at least $100 for every $1,000 loan he made to these "bums".

LOUIS J. TAGLIANETTI was interviewed at his residence, 48 Montgomery Street, Warwick, Rhode Island. He was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statements made by him could be used against him in a court of law. Also, he had the right to consult an attorney.

TAGLIANETTI was advised that the purpose of the interview concerned two loans under his name at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. TAGLIANETTI said that he had already discussed this matter with Internal Revenue Service Agents, one named O'BRIEN, and saw no objection to discussing this matter without an attorney because he had been used by [redacted] at the Johnston Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island and a friend of [redacted]

TAGLIANETTI said that he only had one loan with the bank that was for around $5,500 and he received net proceeds of four thousand nine hundred and some odd dollars in cash. He said that the purpose of the loan was to pay for two new motors he had installed in his boat by the Wickford Shipyard, Wickford, Rhode Island. He said that either on the day he received the proceeds of the loan or two or three days later, he paid the shipyard for the motors.

TAGLIANETTI said that [redacted] brought him to the bank and introduced him to [redacted]. He said that [redacted] asked him questions and wrote the answers on a piece of paper. TAGLIANETTI was shown two loan applications, loans P-445 and P-721 and he identified his signature on each application. TAGLIANETTI was questioned as to whether [redacted] was a co-signer on his first loan and he answered no. He stated that he only had one loan and not two. He said that he put up his yacht for collateral, which was worth several times the amount of the loan and there was no need for [redacted] to sign. TAGLIANETTI said that his loan was legitimate and he paid $100 each week as agreed until the loan was paid off. He said that the last payment was for around $1,500 and that was made after he received his insurance money when his boat burned.

TAGLIANETTI said that when he was interviewed by the Internal Revenue Service Agents they questioned him concerning $2,000 which he was supposed to have put in a savings account in the name of the Johnston Art Club from the proceeds of his loan. TAGLIANETTI said this was not true and he told the Agents so. He said that the Agents told him that when he obtained the loan from the bank, he only received two thousand some odd dollars and two thousand was put in the Johnston Art Club Account. He said that the Agents showed him something to this effect on the bank records. TAGLIANETTI said that he went down to see [redacted] at the Colonial Motel, Hartford Avenue, Johnston, Rhode Island where [redacted] is employed [redacted]. He said that he took [redacted] into an empty room and hit him and knocked him down. TAGLIANETTI said that he was furious and [redacted] realized it and told him that the [redacted] was a personal savings account of [redacted]. He said that he left [redacted] and either that day or the next he left word for [redacted] that he wanted to see him. [redacted] came to his place of business, New England Import Company, 271 Pocasset Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, where he assaulted [redacted]. He said that as a result of the beating, [redacted] had to be carried out of his place of business. He said that [redacted] told him that [redacted]. He said that he asked [redacted] why they got him involved with these dealings. He said that after he got the story from [redacted] he went to see RAYMOND PATRIARCA at National Cigarette Company and told him of the problem with Internal Revenue Service and what [redacted] told him and that he had given them a beating. He said that PATRIARCA told him to have [redacted] go see Internal Revenue Service and explain what they had done and clear his name. TAGLIANETTI said that after he talked to [redacted] he also told Agent [redacted] Internal Revenue Service what he had done to [redacted] and what they had told him. He said that when he finished talking to Agent [redacted] he still would not believe his story.

TAGLIANETTI was questioned as to when he obtained this loan he referred to and he said that he could not recall the date but it was around the winter months. TAGLIANETTI placed a telephone call to the Wickford Shipyard where he said that he spoke to a [redacted] who told him that the shipyard had been sold and the [redacted] had the old records. TAGLIANETTI said that [redacted] said she would find out when he paid for the new motors put in his boat and this way he could tell within one or two days when he obtained the only loan he had at the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the bank.

TAGLIANETTI was questioned as to what documents he had in connection with his loan. He said that his brother usually made his payments and when the last payment was made either he or his brother threw away the book. Also, he said that he most likely destroyed all of the papers he had in connection with his loan.

TAGLIANETTI brought out some personal papers and produced a life insurance policy with the Credit Life Insurance Company, Policy number 901820. The date of the policy is May 13, 1960, account number P-445, in the amount of $5,405. TAGLIANETTI said that May 13, 1960 was the date on which he obtained his loan from the bank and he received all of the proceeds. He said that he never gave [redacted] one cent of the money. He stated that there was no reason for him to pay anyone for a loan because his boat was sufficient collateral. TAGLIANETTI said that he is good and mad at both [redacted] for involving him in their schemes. He said that when he went into the bank he saw [redacted] making loans to a "lot of bums" in particular, one [redacted] "who wouldn't pay the Pope a quarter if he owed it to him." Also, he said that it was common knowledge around Providence, Rhode Island that [redacted] was lending money to everyone regardless of their ability to repay.

TAGLIANETTI was questioned as to whether or not he owed $2,000 or any money to [redacted] at the time he borrowed the money from the bank and he replied negatively. He said that he never borrowed or owed [redacted] money for gambling debts.

[redacted] was interviewed in a motel room at the Colonial Hotel, Hartford Avenue, Johnston, Rhode Island, where he is employed as [redacted]. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law. Also, he was advised that he had the right to consult an attorney.

[redacted] was questioned concerning a loan made to LOUIS TAGLIANETTI, 48 Montgomery Street, Warwick, Rhode Island in May, 1960 in the amount of $5,405. [redacted] said that he recalled making this loan and it had been secured by a chattel mortgage on a boat owned by TAGLIANETTI. It was pointed out to [redacted] that TAGLIANETTI had been interviewed and said that he had only one loan with the bank and it had never been rewritten. [redacted] said that if the bank records show that TAGLIANETTI's loan had been rewritten, then it was rewritten. Also, he was questioned as to what proof there was that TAGLIANETTI received the proceeds of the loan if he was not paid by a bank cashier check. He stated that the loan account card on the back side shows the amount of the loan, deductions for interest, insurance, etc., and the net proceeds. If TAGLIANETTI received cash, then he would have signed the loan card acknowledging receipt of the cash. It was pointed out that on the first loan account card under the section for acknowledgement of the proceeds, it indicates that $2,000 went to "S-521" and the balance of the money, $2,992 is before TAGLIANETTI's signature. [redacted] said that TAGLIANETTI must have received cash of $2,992 and $2,000 went into savings account 521. [redacted] was advised that savings account 521 is a closed savings account in the name of [redacted]. [redacted] said that this savings account is [redacted] savings account. He said that [redacted] opened this account himself and he never suggested to [redacted] to open the account under this name rather than his own name. He said that if TAGLIANETTI's loan account card indicates that $2,000 of his loan went into this savings account then it must have. He said that he could not recall this transaction. [redacted] said that TAGLIANETTI a few weeks ago came to the motel and told him that the Internal Revenue Service was investigating him and had come up with the above-mentioned information. He said that he told TAGLIANETTI that if the information was on the record, that is what happened. He said that TAGLIANETTI only talked to him about the matter and never did assault him.

[redacted] was advised that since last interviewed additional investigation disclosed that [redacted] and [redacted] had made several loans through him at the bank and each one of them were co-makers on several loans made to other individuals. [redacted] said that he was aware of this but again he had made all of these loans in good faith and he never received "one cent" from these people. It was also pointed out that [redacted] and [redacted] name had come up in connection with an investigation at the Citizens Trust Company, Providence, Rhode Island. [redacted] said that he had nothing to do with the loans at that bank and didn't want to be tied in with that "mess".

[redacted] was interviewed at his residence, [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island. He was advised that he did not have to make a statement and any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law. Also, he was advised that he had the right to retain an attorney.

[redacted] said that approximately one year ago, or thereabouts, he had heard from various sources, that he would not disclose but said was knowledge around Providence, Rhode Island that [redacted] the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, would lend you money on your signature alone. He said that he went to the bank alone and met [redacted]. He said that he borrowed $1,000 and subsequently paid the loan off. He said that he received two additional loans under his own name and one under his wife's name on which he is a co-maker. [redacted] was shown copies of the following loan applications and notes and identified his signature thereon as follows:

Loan Number	Date	Amount
[redacted]	March 8, 1961	$1,620
[redacted]	March 24, 1961	1,500
[redacted]	May 22, 1961	1,620

He said that he had one or two payments on each of the above notes, which were made shortly after he had made the loans.

[redacted] said that the information contained on all of the above applications was written by [redacted] as a result of [redacted] asking him questions and he furnished the answers. [redacted] was questioned as to whether he had told [redacted] when he made out the applications, that he was employed by [redacted] Providence, Rhode Island for the past five years. He stated that he told [redacted] that he only worked for [redacted] for a couple of years as a [redacted] and was presently unemployed but expected to go back to work at anytime. [redacted] stated that when he first approached [redacted] only asked him how much money he wanted to borrow and did not ask why. [redacted] asked him his date of birth, if he was married and a couple of other questions. He said that he told [redacted] that when he was working for [redacted] he earned around $110 to $120 a week. It was pointed out to [redacted] that on one of his loan applications it stated that his wife, [redacted] worked part time at [redacted] as a partner, earning $50 a week and the other applications did not show her as a partner but shows she was earning $100 a week. [redacted] said he might have told [redacted] that his wife was employed at [redacted] but not as a partner, and he never said she was earning $50 or $100 a week. He said that he did own a 1961 Ford Thunderbird automobile which was stolen and found burned. [redacted] said that he never gave [redacted] or anyone else any of the proceeds of his loans. He said that he used all of the money for gambling. [redacted] was questioned concerning a loan under the name of [redacted] and he said [redacted] was [redacted] and he asked her to borrow the money under her name and he signed as a co-maker. He said that he also gambled this money away, but he was making payments to the bank. [redacted] said that he was also a co-maker on several other loans and this was because he had brought these individuals to [redacted] wanted him to co-sign on the notes. [redacted] said that the following individuals are friends of his and obtained loans from [redacted] which he signed as co-maker:

[redacted] also was a co-maker on the [redacted] loan. Also he said that [redacted] was in State Prison in Rhode Island and is presently in jail in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania for breaking and entering. RUDOLPH SCIAHRA was in Rhode Island State Prison awaiting trial for murder of JACKY NAZARIAN in Providence, Rhode Island.

[redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island was interviewed at the Providence, Rhode Island Resident Agency. [redacted] was advised that he did not have to make a statement, that any statement made by him could be used against him in a court of law and that he had the right to consult with an attorney prior to making a statement.

[redacted] said that a couple of years ago he needed money and the closest bank to his home was the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. He said that no one had sent him there and he did not know anyone employed there. He asked for [redacted] and he met [redacted] that he wanted to borrow $1,000 and he received a short term, unsecured loan for that amount and when it was due he paid it off. Subsequently he saw [redacted] again and obtained a $3,000 short term unsecured loan. He said that when this loan was due he had [redacted] rewrite the loan for $2,000 additional, and signed a note for $5,000. He said that this loan was a personal loan which was unsecured.

In connection with the $5,000 loan, [redacted] was shown a loan application dated September 19, 1960 and a promissory note dated September 20, 1960 for $5,000. [redacted] identified his signature on both of these documents. It was pointed out to [redacted] that the note also contained the co-maker signature of [redacted] Cranston, Rhode Island. He identified [redacted] as being his wife. It was pointed out to [redacted] that his wife had been previously interviewed and advised that this wasn't her signature and furthermore she would not sign a note for him. Also, another loan that he had under his name at the Citizens Trust Company, Providence, Rhode Island reflects that his wife was supposedly a co-maker and she said that her signature on that note was a forgery. [redacted] said that he did not know how his wife's signature was put on the notes and she had not been to the banks to sign as a co-maker. [redacted] upon being questioned as to how his wife's name did appear on the notes as a co-maker said that the only thing he could think of was that someone in the bank must have signed her name because he didn't.

[redacted] said that he also co-signed notes for his brother, [redacted] and for his friends, [redacted]

[redacted] said that his brother needed money and he brought him to [redacted] where he obtained the loan. He said that [redacted] is from Milford, Massachusetts and was a friend of his who needed money. He said that he brought [redacted] and he also obtained a loan and [redacted] wanted him to co-sign the note. He said that he and [redacted] liked to gamble on the horses and have been barred from all tracks where the Thoroughbred Racing Association (TRA) is responsible for security. He said that they appealed the case through the courts and lost. He said that the TRA said he was a bookie and undesirable.

In regards to the [redacted] said that he happened to be in the bank when [redacted] came in with his sister, [redacted] said that if he would co-sign the note he would give the loan to [redacted]. He said that he signed as a favor to [redacted]

[redacted] said that he saw no reason as to why he should be interviewed concerning his loan or those that he co-signed. He said that his credit is good but he has a weakness for gambling. He said that all of the money he borrowed under his own name he expended on gambling. He said that he never gave [redacted] any money for making loans to him or to his friends. He said that [redacted] made the loans knowing his credit was good.

It was pointed out to [redacted] that he obtained the $5,000 loan on September 20, 1960 and it was payable at fifty weekly payments of $100 and to date the loan still had a very large balance due. In fact as of January 5, 1962 the balance due was $3,250.

[redacted] said that he has a lot of money problems, home problems and things just haven't been going well for him.

[redacted] was questioned concerning the information appearing on his loan application dated September 19, 1960. He said that he is not employed full time by [redacted] when he brings someone there who buys a car. He said that he averaged $100 to $120 a week. He said that his home is not in his and his wife's name alone, but they own one half the house and his sister owns the other half. It was pointed out that the loan application showed him owning a 1959 Thunderbird automobile. He said he does not know how this information got on the application because he owned a 1949 Cadillac at that time.

On June 14, 1962, [redacted] Credit Bureau of Providence, Fountain Street, Providence, Rhode Island, advised that the information contained in his files is obtained from the members of the Bureau, newspaper articles and various other sources. He said that the credit bureau does not prepare a detailed credit report on all of the names in their files unless they receive a specific request from a member. He advised that the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island is a member of the Bureau and places all of their requests for credit information with his organization. He said that when they receive a request from a member, they first check their files and if they have a record on the individual, they usually make calls to the companies listed thereon who have either previously made inquiry or who have had credit experience with the individual.

Providence, Rhode Island

[redacted] has been known to the Credit Bureau of Providence since 1956. In 1957, an inquiry was received from the Industrial National Bank, Providence, Rhode Island. The Cranston Loan Company, Centerville, Rhode Island, indicated that [redacted] loan on which he owed [redacted] as of February 9, 1962 and he paid the loan off as agreed. On September 21, 1960 an inquiry was received from the Johnston, Rhode Island, Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

[redacted] said that there are also numerous newspaper clippings pertaining to [redacted] being arrested by the Providence, Rhode Island Police Department. One of the newspaper clippings dated June, 1957 indicates that [redacted] who was a witness in a case in Providence Superior Court in connection with an auto theft vanished and the trial was held up for a half of a day. Also a newspaper clipping of April 15, 1953 indicating that [redacted] had been arrested by the FBI in connection with stolen cars. Another clipping dated June 18, 1960 indicates that [redacted] was found guilty on an eight count indictment for transporting three stolen cars interstate. [redacted] said that some of the newspaper clippings indicated that in 1953, he received a five year sentence for auto theft in Providence, Rhode Island and also spent ninety days at the Federal Youth Correctional Institution in Kentucky. As far as [redacted] credit is concerned he has only one good account at the Cranston Loan Company and records reflect that it is a profit and loss account at the Industrial National Bank for a loss of $25 on a note for $1,170.

DENNIS RAIMONDI
3117 Pawtucket Avenue
Riverside, Rhode Island

On May 14, 1962, an inquiry was received from the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. At that time, [redacted] said the member was informed that RAIMONDI's paying habits were slow. He said that RAIMONDI has been known to the Credit Bureau since 1953. [redacted] said that as of April 3, 1961, the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island made an inquiry on June 22, 1956 and another branch of the bank, made an inquiry on September 30, 1959. The bank made a loan of $119.56 to [redacted]. The New Method Loan Company as of April 3, 1961 indicated that RAIMONDI had a $100 loan; owed a balance of $78 and they were making an inquiry for "a better address". Another loan company, the Iac Plan, indicated they had a high credit of $774 with RAIMONDI and as of April 3, 1961 he still owed $230 and was four payments slow. The G.E. Credit Corporation as of April 3, 1961 indicated that RAIMONDI had a high credit of $1,220 and owed a balance of $282 and was four payments slow. The Richards Clothing Company on August 4, 1961 made an inquiry and at that time he owed them $100 and this was treated as a profit and loss account.

[redacted] advised that he has a record for DENNIS LYTWYN, 490 South Main Street, Fall River, Massachusetts, which contains a newspaper clipping dated February 9, 1953 which indicates that LYTWYN received a suspended five year sentence for carrying a concealed weapon and he was in the company of [redacted] who was arrested by the Providence and Massachusetts Police.

Providence, Rhode Island

No inquiry was received from the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. On November 10, 1961, the Citizens Trust Company, Mt. Pleasant Street Branch, made an inquiry. The only information in the file was that in 1952, he was fined $25 on the charge of lottery.

[redacted]
Providence, Rhode Island

No inquiry was received from the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. In 1959, the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company repossessed an item which [redacted] had financed with that bank. The Ripley Mens Clothing Store as of April 22, 1962 indicated the highest credit was $76 and he owed $12.55 and was four payments slow. The State Loan Company as of April 22, 1962 indicates he has a $200 loan which he paid off but was four payments slow. The Bond Clothing Company as of April 22, 1962 indicates he owed $57.40, which they gave to an attorney for collection. [redacted] said that the above information on April 22, 1962 had been furnished to [redacted] Tire and Television Sales, who declined to give him credit because of the above information.

[redacted]
Providence, Rhode Island

On May 14, 1962, the Hartford Avenue Office of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island made an inquiry and again on May 21, 1962, the Main Office of that bank made an inquiry.

[redacted] said that round 1957-58, [redacted] had a very poor credit record. As of February 5, 1962, he had an automobile loan with the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company in the amount of $2,538 and he owed a balance of $2,382 and was already one payment slow.

BS 29-879

Providence, Rhode Island

On August 23, 1960 and July 21, 1961, the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island made an inquiry. [REDACTED] said that his records in connection with this account are unorganized and quite lengthy. He said that the records do show that [REDACTED] in May, 1957, filed for bankruptcy in the United States District Court, Providence listing assets of $4,650 and liabilities of $4,773.10 and on November 1, 1957, the bankruptcy was denied. In 1961, [REDACTED] had a couple prompt paying accounts.

[REDACTED] said that based alone on the bankruptcy he would call [REDACTED] credit unsatisfactory, furthermore, if he had made a loan from a bank, they should have required some kind of collateral.

[REDACTED]
Providence, Rhode Island

No inquiry was received from the Johnston, Rhode Island Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

Records show that the Industrial National Bank of Providence, Providence, Rhode Island on August 3, 1961 had a repossession.

No inquiry was received from the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. An inquiry was received from the Mt. Pleasant branch of the Citizens Trust Company, exact date unknown. [redacted] stated the file did not contain any additional pertinent information but there was a newspaper clipping in 1961 reflecting that [redacted] was arrested for possession of lottery slips, drug charges and a gambling case.

Cranston, Rhode Island

On June 13, 1960, the Hartford Avenue Branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island made an inquiry. [redacted] stated that [redacted] record showed all new accounts with no credit experience. He said there were newspaper articles back in 1942 and 1946, showing [redacted] had been arrested for booking. Also, an article dated August 22, 1959, reflected that [redacted] and [redacted] were convicted of trespassing at Rockingham Park, Salem, New Hampshire. Further, that they were barred from Narragansett and Suffolk Downs Race Parks based on the fact that they had been convicted previously for gaming.

BS 29-879

Providence, Rhode Island

No inquiry was received from the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. [redacted] stated that [redacted] record contained no credit information. He said there were numerous newspaper articles contained in the file, the last being dated April 10, 1962, when SCIANNA was arrested for the murder of JACKIE NAZARIAN, Providence, Rhode Island.

Providence, Rhode Island

No inquiry was received from the Johnston, Rhode Island branch of the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island. [redacted] stated the record for [redacted] contained a notation that he was in jail at Providence, Rhode Island. He said that on November 17, 1959, the State Loan Company, Providence, indicated that [redacted] had a loan with a balance of $239, and was four payments slow. He said there were numerous newspaper articles pertaining to [redacted] which reflected he had been arrested for breaking and entering and numerous automobile violations.

Wilmington, Massachusetts

[redacted] stated that [redacted] does not have a record with the Credit Bureau but the files do contain a newspaper clipping reflecting that he and [redacted] were convicted of trespassing at the Rockingham Park Race Track, Salem, New Hampshire. Also, he was barred from Narragansett Park Race Track and Suffolk Downs Race Track because of previous arrests for gaming.

Cranston, Rhode Island

The only information in the file was an inquiry from the Citizens Trust Company, Providence, Rhode Island, on October 6, 1961.

Re Bureau letter to Boston dated July 20, 1962 entitled,
"INTERSTATE TRANSMISSION OF WAGERING INFORMATION;
INTERSTATE TRANSPORTATION OF WAGERING PARAPHERNALIA; INTERSTATE TRANSPORTATION IN AID OF RACKETEERING."

In accordance with Bureau instructions set forth in relet, a complete review has been made of the entire program of inquiry concerning gambling matters in the Boston Division.

This review points out that the primary target of this office has been to develop admissible evidence which would result in the prosecution of RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA (Boston File 92-118, Bureau File 92-2961). In furtherance of this phase, Boston Informant 837-C* has been developed and this informant has indicated clearly that PATRIARCA is conducting activities which appear to be in violation of the ITAR Statute. Intensive efforts are continuing to develop proof of his involvement.

This investigation, which is being conducted, consists of surveillances to determine contacts outside his regular place of business and to identify his lieutenants and close confidants.

BS 92-118

Informants are being utilized and where information is developed which can be disseminated, it is being furnished to other law enforcement agencies for the purpose of harrassing PATRIARCA and his associates with the hope that a provable violation may develop. PATRIARCA's activities seem to concern gambling, attempts to corrupt officials and he furnishes general aid and counsel to assorted members of the underworld.

In investigating those who are identified as lieutenants or close associates of PATRIARCA, it is felt that some violation of which they are guilty might be proved and if they are proven guilty, such might serve as a leverage to break through the barriers with which PATRIARCA has surrounded himself.

Some of the persons close to PATRIARCA and identified to date, have been GENNARO ANGIULO and [redacted] (Boston File 92-446, Bureau File 92-5586), HENRY TAMALEO, SAMUEL GRANITO and TED PUCCILLO (Boston Files 92-446 and 92-118, Bureau File 92-2961).

As the Bureau is aware, the data being made available regularly through BS 837-C* highlights the activities of these individuals. Probing of individual situations has been and will be intensified. Wherever possible, efforts are made to so utilize this information so as to develop separate independent cases.

For example, Boston airtel to the Bureau dated July 17, 1962 (Boston File 87-7304) captioned "HENRY TAMALEO; [redacted] (LNU), ITSP" indicated TAMALEO and the unknown [redacted] might be involved in the theft of a million and a quarter dollars worth of stock from Bache and Company at New York.

Also, Boston airtel to Bureau dated July 18, 1962 captioned "RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, aka, AR" (Boston File 92-118, Bureau File 92-2961) enclosed a letterhead memorandum setting forth facts indicating the possibility of a violation of the Bribery Statute.

Two further examples are the following cases:

BS 92-118

[redacted]
[redacted] Johnston, R.I.
Branch, Plantations Bank of R.I.
FRA
(Boston File 29-879)
(Bureau File 29-29913)

[redacted] etc., ET AL
FRA; CONSPIRACY
(Boston File 29-917)
(Bureau File 29-30764)

In the above two cases, with the assistance of BS 837-C*, interviews have been conducted with individuals who are close to PATRIARCA and the facts in these two cases will probably go to the Grand Jury sometime in August, 1962. Convictions in these cases might result in gaining information which will lead into other crimes involving some of the individuals interviewed in this case.

It is noted that JOSEPH PATRIARCA, brother of RAYMOND PATRIARCA, is a possible subject in the [redacted] case. It should also be noted that at the time of the Grand Jury, many individuals will be subpoenaed.

A survey is presently being conducted to develop another source which will be able to give more specific information on the ANGIULO which is felt will provide an opportunity to prove involvement in a specific statute of their associates. It is believed also that this additional source will furnish leads for conducting additional investigation on those individuals mentioned above.

It should be noted also that on a continuing basis, information has been furnished through the Internal Revenue Service and to both state and local police agencies which has resulted in arrests and has hampered the day to day operations of those who are active in the gambling field and related hoodlum activities.

In this connection, on July 27, 1962, the Federal Grand Jury at Boston returned indictments against seven individuals on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government and evading gambling excise taxes. The Grand Jury action followed the raid conducted in Chelsea, Massachusetts in April, 1962. This office furnished information to Internal Revenue Service in connection with the location of gambling places in the City of Chelsea prior to such raid.

A constant review of the information being developed is made to make certain that all possible evidence, no matter how circumstantial, is channeled to the proper file so that the necessary legal evidence can be developed for eventual prosecution.

The following cases would appear to have possibilities for future presentation for prosecutions:

[REDACTED]

TTWI

(Boston File 165-19)

(Bureau File 165-329)

Investigation in this case points to a possible violation but what appears necessary to make the case is testimony from either [REDACTED] or someone regularly in his presence who can testify to the contents of the phone calls. Similar testimony from the recipient of these calls would be sufficient. Investigative efforts are directed toward getting this type of testimony.

[REDACTED]

TTWI

(Boston File 165-222)

(Bureau File 165-547)

[REDACTED] has engaged in wagering activity at Scranton, Pennsylvania and Indian Orchard, Massachusetts. Testimony is available which would involve [REDACTED] in interstate gambling activity. Investigation is continuing in an effort to further develop the violation at the conclusion of which Bureau authority will be requested for a discussion with the United States Attorney.

BS 92-118

Departmental Attorney KEENEY and United States Attorney [redacted] Boston, have expressed interest in the possibility of prosecution in this case.

[redacted]
ITWI

(Boston File 165-258)

ITWI

(Boston File 165-259)

In both of these cases, the New Haven Office is Office of Origin. Both of these individuals were arrested by the Connecticut State Police and have admitted accepting bets in Connecticut and also telephoning bets to an individual at Dudley or Webster, Massachusetts. [redacted] has stated that this individual who received the calls is known as [redacted] (LNU) who drives a 1958 or 1959 yellow Mercury and regularly came to Putnam, Connecticut where [redacted] would turn over money collected on bets and this person would make payoffs on the winning bets. [redacted] has indicated he may be willing to cooperate with the Federal Government. Investigation is going forward to identify the person in Webster, Massachusetts. It is felt if his identity can be established and the Connecticut witnesses will testify, a successful prosecution might be obtained against this individual in Webster, Massachusetts.

[redacted]
ITWI

(Boston File 165-15)

(Bureau File 165-46)

This individual was arrested by local authorities at Holyoke Massachusetts in September, 1961 on charges of using a phone for betting purposes. Arresting officers originally furnished testimony that long distance calls had been placed.

Subsequent contact with the Telephone Company developed that while such calls were placed, none, in fact, had been completed. This case has been referred to the United States Attorney at Boston for an opinion relative to prosecution and the United States Attorney, in turn, has referred this matter to the Department of Justice.

SPORTSDAY WEEKLY

ITWI

(Boston File 165-1)

(Bureau File 165-2)

Investigation in this case, to date, has resulted in [redacted] and [redacted]

[redacted] SPORTSDAY WEEKLY in the race wire dissemination business in Boston, being subpoenaed before the Federal Grand Jury in Wilmington, Delaware in March, 1962. Both of these individuals pleaded the Fifth Amendment when called to testify.

[redacted] has confidentially advised that he has sufficient information developed to indict both [redacted] in an overall conspiracy with other individuals involved in the race wire dissemination business throughout the country. The Federal Grand Jury is still sitting in Wilmington, Delaware.

b6
b7D

In addition to this, investigation by the Boston Division has developed the identities of three individuals in New Orleans, Louisiana, who admitted obtaining the results from the Fairgrounds Race Track, New Orleans, from January through March, 1962 and telephonically furnishing these results to [redacted] in Boston so that he could furnish it to bookmakers.

b6
b7C

In a recent conference, [redacted] stated that he was pleased with this development and felt that this information could very well lead to the prosecution of [redacted] under the ITWI Statute in Boston.

b6
b7D

Continuing investigation by the Boston Office has established that [redacted] are now obtaining results at the Rockingham Race Track, Salem, New Hampshire, and are subsequently transmitting same to Boston for dissemination to their subscribers. The investigation being conducted is attempting to pinpoint how this is being done in order to establish all elements of the violation of this statute.

b6
b7C

BS 92-118

Our action to bring these cases to prosecution may be outlined specifically as follows:

- 1) Regular conferences of swapping of information among Agents working these cases to make certain all the scrambled pieces can be dove-tailed into a good case for prosecution.
- 2) The constant use of informants and the development of new ones to obtain investigative leads to facilitate the procuring of essential evidence.

As noted above, a survey is presently being conducted to develop a new source on the ANGIULO brothers. Also, a new informant has been developed, EE 845-C (Boston File 137-1912) submitted to the Bureau in letter dated July 25, 1962. This informant appears to have good insight and close contacts with the ANGIULO operations.

- 3) The continuing close contact with Internal Revenue Service and reliable police agencies for leads and information which can be fitted into the proper cases.
- 4) The channeling of information into cases previously opened and now in a closed status with a periodic review of these cases to see if information has developed which would warrant further investigation.

In addition, from this review, it appears advisable that consideration should be given on a selective basis to some of the smaller local hoodlums who might be proved guilty of violating one of the related statutes with a thought that such action might lead back to some of the so-called higher-ups.

Increased emphasis is being placed on the interview program, particularly of the lieutenants, associates and subordinates of some of the leaders in the gambling activities.

This entire matter continues to receive my personal attention.

Same UNMAN was told by RAYMOND that an unidentified individual was attempting to "cover" $30,000 as of two years ago. This apparently refers to the individual who is being investigated by the Internal Revenue Service, and he is attempting to prove to IRS the source of the $30,000 they uncovered.

On the same date, UNMAN and RAYMOND discuss the Hancock Race Track, Berkshire County, Massachusetts. UNMAN desired to hold a meeting between RAYMOND, SOL FREIDMAN (attorney), [] (LNU) and [] where they can sit down and "cut the stock up." They now have control of 90 voting shares and 90 nonvoting shares of the track.

UNMAN mentioned that [redacted] (construction firm, Rhode Island) was given $55,000. UNMAN gave them $21,000 under the table and they, [redacted] showed it as a loss on their income tax. UNMAN stated that, [redacted] sent a check up to [redacted] for $5,000, so it actually is ours. [redacted] has already sent three checks up there. It's all show money." UNMAN stated that they have got to give [redacted] $2,000.

UNMAN and RAYMOND discuss the night racing dates in Rhode Island, and UNMAN stated that he was up in Pittsfield (Mass.) the other day and brought $15,000 with him which he gave to [redacted]. In addition to the $15,000, he put up $23,000 for stocks which made a total of $38,000 ~~from~~ [redacted] for the stock.

HENRY told RAYMOND that [redacted] (of Lowell, Massachusetts) is owed $3,000 by [redacted] (LNU). This appeared to be money owed from some score, not identified. During the course of the conversation, HENRY stated that [redacted] has $40,000 in bonds and described the bonds as having coupons and that HENRY can get rid of them. HENRY stated that "SAM will handle this from the New York end." It was not clear to the informant whether HENRY was referring to the bonds at this time.

There was also mention of SAM collecting $16,000 and that they (not further identified) were entitled to $4,000. RAYMOND expressed his dissatisfaction in the manner in which the situation was handled and there was reference to SAM from Springfield (probably GUFARI, Springfield, Mass.) as collecting the money. In reference to this conversation, there was also a remark by HENRY to the effect that he (not further identified) does over a million dollars worth of business a year in Montreal. The significance of this was not obtained by the informant.

HENRY also told RAYMOND in referring to [redacted] that the longer he is sitting on them the better. Immediately after, he stated that [redacted] showed him one at Scarborough, probably referring to the bonds, and it was "all coupons, a thousand dollars a piece."

JERRY ANGIULO told RAYMOND that [redacted] (of the Massachusetts State Police) told him that somebody made a political move and took (FNU) [redacted] (Massachusetts State Police) and put him in charge of "gaming management." [redacted] said that the first town [redacted] went into was Revere, Massachusetts, and he, [redacted] reported to [redacted] that "he can get slips over there and the joints are running." [redacted] told JERRY that he has the town lined up for a raid on Saturday 7/28/62 or Monday 7/30/62. [redacted] instructed JERRY to get a hold of [redacted] (Police, Revere, Mass.) and inform him of the intended raid. JERRY saw [redacted] the previous evening, 7/26/62, and told him what [redacted] had said. RAYMOND made the statement, "He [redacted] is earning more money in Massachusetts than anybody has made in the state." JERRY was also instructed by [redacted] not to spread the word around for fear it might get back and thus make it known that there was a tipoff.

Later on during the conversation, JERRY told RAYMOND that just before the last time he saw [redacted] he was asked by [redacted] whether he knew [redacted] of Fall River, Massachusetts. JERRY told him that he did not but that he was going down to see RAYMOND the following day and if RAYMOND knew of him he would call [redacted] back. [redacted] told him that he received a report from Fall River to the effect that the chauffeur (a Massachusetts State Trooper) of Lieutenant Governor EDWARD MC LAUGHLIN was being paid off by [redacted] allegedly made the statement that he had the State Police in the bag. JERRY told RAYMOND that he forgot to ask him when he went down as to whether he knew [redacted] and, therefore, did not call [redacted] back. [redacted] then conducted a raid on 9 joints of [redacted] at which time [redacted] "screamed" and made known his connections, including PATRIARCA. RAYMOND told JERRY that he knew [redacted] and was friendly with him, but he did not indicate whether [redacted] was furnishing him any funds from his proceeds. 101672

JERRY told RAYMOND that [redacted] (a shylock probably from New York) came up and JERRY told him that word had gotten around that he, JERRY, had hung up on [redacted] on the telephone. JERRY told him to make sure that he, [redacted] contacted [redacted] Friday and explain to him that it was a misunderstanding. It appeared that JERRY was upset at the story that he had hung up on [redacted] and wanted to make sure that [redacted] was aware of what the circumstances were.

[redacted] who had loaned $10,000 to [redacted] (ph) to start a business, probably concerning TV jingles in opposition to the company that JERRY was interested in with [redacted] was criticized by JERRY for doing this. [redacted] have been stuck for $60,000 in this business "to the factors." There was a discussion about discounting paper and about someone not fulfilling their contracts. It appeared that JERRY in the next 90 to 100 days intends to discount some of the paper he has.

JERRY then asked permission of RAYMOND to purchase a profitable liquor establishment now in operation in the Revere, Massachusetts, area. He explained that they have looked over all the surrounding cities and towns in Boston and it appears that Revere is the only city that stands up when the heat is on. His long-range plan is to operate this business and becoming friendly with various city officials in the hope that LOUIE FOX, who now runs the City of Revere, Massachusetts, would either die from old age or that they will cultivate a friendship with him whereby he will permit them to take over the City of Revere. He stated that [] does not move without LOUIE FOX and that "LOUIE FOX runs to someone else higher." He inquired of RAYMOND who this might be and RAYMOND said that it was [] New York Top Hoodlum). 101678

RAYMOND said that LOUIE FOX had been with [] for years and years since bootlegging days and mentioned that he was with [] father who was in the "combination" years ago. RAYMOND said that he has done [] a few favors and he, [] has interceded for FOX with PATRIARCA. It appears that LOUIE FOX has complete control of the City of Revere and that PATRIARCA has only a small amount of influence within the city.

RAYMOND told him that if LOUIE FOX dies, then the city is wide open because then they have lost their contact in [] (ph).

JERRY then asked and received permission from RAYMOND to send [] (LNU) up to Lawrence, Massachusetts, to move in on two good crap games operated by [] or [] (ph).

RAYMOND asked JERRY to ascertain from [] former IRS agent, whether or not he has to attend a hearing relative to his IRS case in Boston in the near future.

JERRY and RAYMOND discuss the proposed Crime Commission for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and Federal Grand Juries. RAYMOND said that he has got it from a good source that there will be no Federal Grand Juries until after election because of the fact that the President's brother, EDWARD KENNEDY, is running for Senator.

JERRY told RAYMOND that they are still surveilling [redacted] former Charlestown, Massachusetts, bookmaker, and that they have tailed him to 48 Warren St., Cambridge, Massachusetts, on a few occasions. RAYMOND made the remark, "We've got to get even with him for what he did to us. There's no hurry." It should be noted that there has been previous information that [redacted] is marked for assassination by the ANGIULO group.

JERRY told RAYMOND that Clerk of Court [redacted] (Massachusetts), told him that he would contact [redacted] former U. S. Marshal and have him contact Judge [redacted] to fix the [redacted] case, who is charged with receiving stolen property. [redacted] received a $400 fine after being found guilty but the informant was not able to ascertain whether the fix was actually consummated relative to this case.

Two copies of this communication are being furnished to the New York Office for its information.

Attached herewith is the original and five copies of a letterhead memorandum for dissemination to the U. S. Attorney General at Washington, D.C. This memorandum contains information furnished by BS 837-C* relative to a conversation between RAYMOND PATRIARCA and HENRY TAMALEO, both of Providence, Rhode Island. TAMALEO was discussing with PATRIARCA the possibility of "fixing" a local case. PATRIARCA told him to forget it. TAMALEO mentioned that "If that guy is going to straighten something out, it will cost $1,000 or $2,000." PATRIARCA replied "They want more than that because I'm offering $10,000 to get these two guys a suspended sentence and give those other two guys a couple of years. You fool with the government, you go for a lot of money. They - the big money - they don't want to (rest of sentence not completed)".

There was no further reference to this matter on that date.

It should be noted that BS 837-C* has advised on several occasions that PATRIARCA was interested in the result of the trial regarding possession of illegal alcohol in or near Jewett City, Connecticut.

The New Haven Office advised on July 17, 1962 that the following individuals were convicted for violation of alcohol tax laws in Hartford, Connecticut:

EDWARD ROMANO - 3 years - $10,000 fine

FRANK ROMANO - 3 years - $10,000 fine

ANTONIO BELUCCI - 1 year - $1,000 fine

JOHN ATTIANO - 2 years - $5,000 fine

[redacted] Providence business man, who was indicted with the Griswold Corporation also of Providence, Rhode Island, was acquitted by a directed verdict.

ISRAEL YARCHIN received a total of thirty days and $1,000 fine.

These convictions took place sometime in June, 1962.

On July 2, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that an unknown individual who was convicted in this illegal alcohol trial was complaining about the high bail which was placed on him and the co-defendants. He also complained about [redacted] one of the original defendants in the case and was suspicious because his (unknown man) lawyer accepted a gift from [redacted] received a directed verdict in the trial. He stated "His connection was supposed to be ours and he was the only one that got out".

Inasmuch as the above appears to relate to the illegal alcohol trial in Connecticut concerning [redacted]

[redacted] the New Haven Office will forward to the Bureau a letterhead memorandum for dissemination to the U. S. Attorney General, Washington, D.C. concerning complete background of the above mentioned case.

Enclosed for New Haven are two copies of the letterhead memorandum.

RAYMOND E. S. PATRIARCA

A confidential source who has furnished reliable information in the past, made available the following:

HENRY TAMALEO, a prominent figure in gambling circles in Providence, Rhode Island, is a known close associate of RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

Recently, PATRIARCA was in touch with TAMALEO and told him that he offered several thousand dollars to obtain suspended sentences for some unknown individuals and also to obtain a sentence of a couple of years for others. PATRIARCA indicated that when you deal with the government, it costs a lot of money.

The informant advised that PATRIARCA is interested in [redacted] of Providence, Rhode Island, who apparently were convicted recently in the Federal District Court at Hartford, Connecticut for possession of illegal alcohol. [redacted] were also convicted. [redacted] a Providence businessman and the Griswold Corporation, also of Providence, were acquitted by a directed verdict in this case.

The informant also advised that one of the men convicted in this trial was complaining because [redacted] received a directed verdict during the trial and that his connection to obtain this directed verdict was supposed to be shared with the other defendants. However, [redacted] was the only one who received a directed verdict.

Complete security should be given to the informant to insure that his identity will not be jeopardized.

TEDDY told RAYMOND that the Federal Grand Jury had been cancelled out until after the election but did not indicate what Grand Jury he was referring to. TEDDY told RAYMOND that Senator MARIO UMANO, State of Massachusetts, who had lost the nomination for Attorney General, was running for re-election as State Senator. He is being opposed by MICHAEL LOPRESTI. [redacted] is with UMANO and [redacted] has put two guys in the fight who will both take votes away from LOPRESTI. RAYMOND instructed him to tell [redacted] to have the two individuals withdraw from the race and have a clean fight between LOPRESTI and UMANO. RAYMOND said that he would talk to [redacted] about this. RAYMOND indicated that both UMANO and LOPRESTI are "good fellows" and wants a clean fight between the two of them. When asked about financial assistance, RAYMOND told them to give some money to UMANO and have JERRY give to [redacted]

TEDDY told RAYMOND that he saw CHARLIE IANELLO, former State Representative recently convicted for Grand Larceny in relation to contracts involving the State of Massachusetts. TEDDY said that IANELLO had resigned as representative but is going to run for re-election. [redacted] sent word to RAYMOND that he was sorry about the kid but was not able to do anything else. The name of [redacted] was mentioned but the significance was not obtained by the informant.

UNMEN and RAYMOND discuss the "percentage" dice and the fact that since they had started with this type dice they had won $1,600. RAYMOND stated that he wanted [redacted] as a stick man. UNMEN discussed the crap game they intend to operate when the Lincoln Downs Race Track opens nights. They stated that they will open the game at approximately 11 o'clock and run until 3 a.m. They figure that after 1 o'clock they will get the "cream of the crop" as participants.

The girls get $35 to $50 per trick and it is split up. They have the local law enforcement officials all "straightened out" but [] was of the opinion that they did not have the Feds as he heard that the Feds made a gambling raid a short time ago.

[] then asked permission of RAYMOND to open up a football pool in Pittsburgh while he is working this construction job. He feels as though he could sell twenty to thirty thousand tickets for the three months he is there. According to the union guy, there are no football pools in Pittsburgh.

RAYMOND told [] that ^{HE THOUGHT} there were football pools in Pittsburgh, but if he found out that there were not any in operation there he could start one. If any trouble arose with [] RAYMOND could straighten it out because he knows [] and he could tell him that [] is a "very dear friend of his and didn't know any better." It should be noted that [] according to the informant, has operated football pools in the Rhode Island area during the past. [] said to RAYMOND that probably he would start with a baseball pool around World Series time and if everything goes well to go into the football pool business. He would pay his agents 35 per cent of the gross sales.

It should be noted that RAYMOND allegedly has a financial interest in the D & H Wrecking Company.

On 8/3/62 the informant advised that two UNMEN from Worcester, Mass., told RAYMOND that the crap game in East Park was robbed Sunday morning (7/29/62) at 4 a.m. They believe it is two Polacks, one of whom they believe to be [] (ph) and the other [] (ph), both from Cambridge, Mass. There were shots fired during the holdup and the robbery only netted them $400 as they did not get all the money. RAYMOND told them that he would send [] (INU) to Worcester to ascertain what the situation is and correct same.

Another UNMAN from Worcester, Mass., complained to RAYMOND about being overcharged on layoff bets by JERRY ANGIULO's office. RAYMOND told him that he would speak to JERRY about this and pointed out that the fellows who take the layoff bets are under constant pressure and could make mistakes.

On the same date, [] (LNU), who has a bible selling business, attempted to arrange financial assistance from RAYMOND. At this time, JERRY ANGIULO enters and questions [] about his business. There was no indication, according to the informant, that either JERRY or RAYMOND are interested in furnishing financial assistance to this individual. 101687

JERRY ANGIULO told RAYMOND that he heard from a source that "went back to Station 10 of the Boston Police Department" that the Feds have a recording of [] (Massachusetts State Police) calling JERRY and telling him that there was going to be a gambling raid in Revere, Mass., on Saturday, 7/28/62. JERRY told RAYMOND that [] called him on his private phone at Jay's Cafe, Boston, and made arrangements to meet him that night and no names were mentioned on the phone. This is the first time [] called him directly.

JERRY pointed out to RAYMOND that arrangements were made whereby [] would call a friend of JERRY's and say, "Hello baby, the appointment is tomorrow." This individual would then call JERRY and inform him of the previous call. JERRY would then meet [] at a prearranged spot on Route 9, Framingham, Mass., at 5 p.m. on the following day. When he talked to [] on this particular day on his private phone, he went immediately to the prearranged spot, using two different cars and two different drivers to get there. He was positive he was not surveilled. After discussing the situation, JERRY and RAYMOND agreed that somebody had the private phone of JERRY's tapped and they recognized [] voice.

After the raid, there was a lot of talk that there was a tip off and RAYMOND conjectured to the effect that they, the Feds, probably got to the guy that was sent to JERRY in order to ascertain what his reaction would be to this information. JERRY pointed out that they have to keep [] as he is the only contact they have. He said,

BS 92-118

"The Feds are out. MC NAMARA (Boston Police Commissioner) is out," and they have nobody but [redacted] They stated that [redacted] receives $400 a month only for protection of crap games. RAYMOND said that [redacted] did the right thing morally in informing JERRY of the impending raids of the horse and numbers rooms in Revere, but he is not a good businessman as he is only paid for protection of crap games.

RAYMOND then makes arrangements with JERRY to send [redacted] (LNU) to Worcester to see [redacted] brother concerning the holdup of the crap game.

On the same date, UNMEN told RAYMOND they are still watching the house and as yet have not been able to score. This apparently refers to a proposed house burglary, location not known, but in which they expect to get what they described only as "it." The informant did not know whether they were referring to money or something else.

One copy of this communication is being designated for the Pittsburgh Office for its information.

On 8/3/62 BS 837-C* advised that JERRY ANGIULO told RAYMOND that he received information through [redacted] (former IRS agent) who received same information from [redacted] (believed to be an agent of IRS at Boston, Mass.). This information indicated that "The guys in Worcester (Mass.) have a Fed amongst them." [redacted] is replacing another agent in Worcester, Mass., within another week and the agent that he is replacing has an informant in Worcester on the "inner circle and consequently they know every move we make." [redacted] also stated, "There's a man in Boston that's being paid; he is not a Fed, but he is the guy they are giving money to."

JERRY, during the course of the conversation, described [redacted] as "The guy that gave [redacted] (possibly [redacted] all the trouble, and we finally straightened him out through [redacted]." JERRY said that, [redacted] took 3,000 to straighten out [redacted] case."

JERRY said, "The guy that knows [redacted] (ph) went to him and talked to him about you (meaning RAYMOND). It wound up as a big circle so I can talk to him, this and that; so he gave him the answer. He said look, you're telling us there's no direct contact, right or wrong; right, forget about it. He started to talk. He said the information is starting to reach him that pertains to you (RAYMOND), him and [redacted] This is the whole solution. He (probably [redacted]) is alright. We know we promised him something. We're men of our word. The guy is alright. It was you, the two guys and [redacted] is that right? What happened at Sherwood (Manufacturing Company)? Where's the bill? He said they got no criminal prosecution. I'll tell you the man is going to get a bill."

On 8/7/62 the informant advised that RAYMOND told UNMAN that he believed the telephones at his house are tapped and the Feds are all around. He also told another UNMAN to plead the Fifth Amendment when appearing before the Federal Grand Jury in Providence, R. I., relative to the embezzlement of funds from the Plantations Bank of Rhode Island.

On 8/8/62 the informant advised that [redacted] (LNU) was "on the carpet with RAYMOND." [redacted] is a partner with [redacted] (LNU) in a crap game and apparently [redacted] made some remarks against JERRY ANGIULO. [redacted] agreed with RAYMOND that he would not protect [redacted] but would tell him to quiet down or else he would be in trouble.

RAYMOND requested UNMAN to go to New York City and contact [redacted] who owes him $7,000.

SAM GRANITO told RAYMOND that [redacted] (ph) was up to Boston the other day "on the lamb," and he got in touch with TOMMY CALLAHAN through [redacted] for funds.

GRANITO told RAYMOND that the Coliseum is still being bothered by the Boston Police Department and that they are not able to run after hours because of the pressure by Commissioner MC NAMARA.

GRANITO said that the Brink's subjects are dead completely as far as appeals go; however, in the next 4 or 5 years [] will be out as he has a ton of money, and if he is willing to spend it he can get an Italian on the other side to take him back and then get the Governor of Massachusetts to bring him back to the States. RAYMOND said that in 2 or 3 years they, referring to the Brink's subjects, will probably get out if we have a good governor in Massachusetts and a few good governor's councilors. This would indicate a pardon being furnished by the then governor.

GRANITO also stated that [] Brink's subject, gave [] $21,000 and that he, GRANITO, is going to attempt to collect it for []

RAYMOND asked GRANITO to get in touch with former State Senator [] (Mass.) in order to obtain the girl, believed to be his girlfriend, a job starting next September.

JERRY ANGIULO told RAYMOND that he was informed by [] Detective, Boston Police Department, assigned to District Attorney GARRETT BYRNES' office) that [] also a detective of the Boston Police Department assigned to BYRNES' office) installed taps on the ANGIULOS' phones. These taps also included a gadget whereby every outgoing call was recorded by number. In that way they knew each and every call placed from the ANGIULOS' phones.

JERRY ANGIULO said that he "bawled" [] out for not telling him beforehand about this gadget, and because of it they changed all their phones over the past week end because they had learned that IRS was considering a big raid in Chelsea and Revere (both Massachusetts).

[] told them that the FBI does not tap phones but they always get someone else to do it for them. JERRY is of the opinion that the phone call received from [] (Massachusetts State Police) was picked up in the above fashion.

JERRY requested and obtained RAYMOND's permission to hire two attorneys to look up the wire tap law. If there is a violation by the District Attorney's Office, he will obtain the services of two "kids" and attempt to obtain a photograph of [] at the plant and also a set of wires that would necessarily run to the plant. If they obtain this evidence, they will then sue the telephone company.

[] told them that they have a confidential source within the telephone company and he is the individual who takes their lines and directs them to the plant and then returns the circuit to the exchange office. [] had told them six months previous that he was informed by Detective [] (also assigned to the District Attorney's Office) to tell [] (ph), who apparently issues small loans licenses, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, not to call the North End any more. [] before he instructed [] not to call the North End, asked JERRY if he knew [] JERRY told him he did not; however, he admitted to RAYMOND that they used [] in getting their licenses. [] at that time checked and ascertained that the ANGIULOS' phones were not tapped.

RAYMOND did not appear too concerned with this and pointed out to JERRY that all he has to do is walk up the street a couple of blocks when he desires to use the phone for an outgoing call.

JERRY also told him that [] had told him that he had received information to the effect that IRS has warrants all drawn up ready for the Commissioner's signature for raids in some area.

[] who accompanied JERRY ANGIULO, told RAYMOND that he had gone to Worcester (Mass.) relative to the stickup of the crap game operated by [] [] claims that two individuals named [] and [] both phonetic, were the participants. However, he, [] did not believe that an identification could be effected because they wore stocking masks. However, he is attempting to locate both participants and ascertain whether they were responsible for the holdup.

JERRY ANGIULO advised that on September 1st the Boston Police Department will have 364 detectives who will be assigned at different precincts at different times. He pointed out to RAYMOND that he could have 300 of them on his payroll but it would be far too expensive.

RAYMOND PATRIARCA and JERRY ANGIULO, according to the informant, on that date had a discussion about the mail truck robbery of 8/14/62. RAYMOND asked JERRY if he had heard anything in regard to the robbery. JERRY said that he understood from talk around gin mills that it was all good money, such as 5's, 10's and other small bills, and he would certainly like to get a hold of the money and he could trade it giving the people who perpetrated the robbery six dollars of legitimate money for every ten dollars of the money obtained in the robbery. He indicated that he was trying to find out more about the robbery.

PATRIARCA said that the newspapers had some talk about the 2 guys from New York being on the lam in this area, and he recalled that the newspapers carried the story some months back wherein these 2 guys on the lam from New York were suspected of shooting at a police officer in North Abington, Massachusetts. (It is highly probable from the conversation that PATRIARCA is referring to Wanted River fugitives [redacted])

From information received from the informant, it appears that PATRIARCA and his associates, and including ANGIULO, are still speculating relative to the robbery and have developed no positive information or facts concerning the identities of the perpetrators of the robbery.

This discussion ended with ANGIULO telling [redacted] and he, ANGIULO, will come up with the $57,500. 101701

On the same date, the informant advised that JERRY ANGIULO told RAYMOND that JOE LOMBARDO was contacted by [redacted] (Boston attorney for the Brink's subjects) who sent word that someone was using PATRIARCA's name.

On 8/18/62 the informant advised that on that day RAYMOND PATRIARCA was going to attend [redacted] in Rhode Island. (Judge PAOLINO is on the Rhode Island State Supreme Court.)

On the same date, the informant advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had a discussion with an individual believed to be CARMINE RUGGIERO (ph). RUGGIERO told PATRIARCA that he cashed a mutuel ticket at the race track on 8/16/62 and got $19,000 for another individual. He used the name of [redacted]. When he received the money, somebody told [redacted] that RUGGIERO was the one who cashed the ticket and he was in trouble. RAYMOND PATRIARCA brought a person who may be JOE PATRIARCA into the discussion. RUGGIERO said that the Internal Revenue Service were not in on this yet and it was strictly a matter being handled within the Mutuel Department at the track. RAYMOND PATRIARCA instructed JOE to call up [redacted] (believed to be [redacted] of the track at Lincoln Downs, Rhode Island) and have him tell [redacted] to keep this matter hushed up.

The person who is believed to be JOE PATRIARCA later advised RAYMOND PATRIARCA that he contacted [redacted] and [redacted] told [redacted] to keep quiet about the situation and not to get the track any bad publicity. RUGGIERO told RAYMOND PATRIARCA that if it were not for this intercession he and one [redacted] (LNU), the cashier who cashed the ticket, would have been fired from the track.

On 8/20/62 the informant advised that an UNMAN had a discussion with RAYMOND PATRIARCA about being sentenced to 3 years and getting a new trial.

The informant advised on the same date that RAYMOND PATRIARCA and 2 unknown men had a discussion about the mail truck robbery in Plymouth, Massachusetts. One unknown man made the statement that the guys in the Hyannis Post Office could be suspects. PATRIARCA then said that the guys in the barracks could be suspects because there was something about a call being made 25 minutes late.

It is to be noted that some newspaper accounts of the robbery carried a story about a call being made to the State Police Barracks that the truck was leaving a certain Post Office and that 25 minutes elapsed before the State Police Barracks passed the word on to the next barracks so that they could pick up their spotcheck of the truck; hence, because of the 25-minute delay, they were unable to catch up with the truck and afford the necessary spotchecks.

One unknown man in the conversation tells RAYMOND PATRIARCA in regard to the above mail truck robbery that to him it seems that the thing was set up fast as the truck was only supposed to be running in this fashion for three weeks or so. In actuality, the truck had not been afforded State Police escort or protection for five weeks prior to the robbery. The unknown man told RAYMOND PATRIARCA that the individuals who did the robbery apparently were heavy enough to even take the truck if they had a trooper with them as they had in the past. PATRIARCA agreed with the UNMAN that the individuals who perpetrated the robbery were heavy enough to perpetrate the robbery even if the truck did have an escort.

The informant further advised that PATRIARCA made some type of a comment that they used to go by train to South Station. As a matter of fact, funds were formerly transported by the Post Office Department from the Cape area by train to the South Station, Boston.

The unknown man told PATRIARCA that the guys who did the robbery knew what they were doing because if they did not that truck could have had nothing in it when they hit it. The unknown man said that one of the guys must have had a wig, and another unknown man in the conversation said it was a pretty good idea to have a girl along and in that way if you run into a nosey cop you are all set.

It appeared that all of the conversation about the mail truck robbery was speculation by RAYMOND PATRIARCA and other individuals based upon newspaper accounts of the robbery.

Investigation and review of Pittsburgh files discloses that FRANK, referred to in referenced airtel as possibly being FRANK AMATO, is undoubtedly FRANK VALENTI, Pittsburgh file 92-230, a Pittsburgh Anti-Racketeering subject who is presently under investigation.

Investigation has disclosed that there is no organized prostitution as such in Pittsburgh, and although prostitutes frequent Club 30 and Frankies in downtown Pittsburgh where they pick-up dates, there is not known to be any control or organization in connection with these activities. VALENTI is alleged to be a partner in Club 30, located at 545 Penn Avenue in downtown Pittsburgh, although he has denied any interest in this club on interview. VALENTI has advised that he frequents Club 30, which is described as a downtown after hours club frequented by prostitutes.

Extensive investigation has failed to disclose any construction in the vicinity of properties owned, formerly owned, or alleged to be owned by VALENTI wherein D&H Wrecking Company is engaged.

Inquiry of [redacted] Duquesne Light Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., disclosed on 8/21/62 that he obtained information from [redacted], an [redacted], to the effect that the D&H Building and Wrecking Company of 89 Celia Street, Johnston, R.I., has been awarded the contract for the demolition of a vacant building, [redacted] occupied by Rosenbaums Department Store, at Penn and Sixth Avenue in downtown Pittsburgh. SUMMARY:

Our microphone surveillance covering Rhode Island hoodlum, Raymond Patriarca, has revealed that Patriarca has unidentified connections in the Rhode Island State Police; that he is considering putting Frank Sinatra and Joe DiMaggio on the Board of Directors of Hancock Race Track, Berkshire County, Massachusetts, to lend "class" to the race track. Patriarca revealed that he had private conversation with Governor of Rhode Island subject of which was not specified. Patriarca also involved with Joseph Straci, Anthony Salerno, New York hoodlums, in a land deal at Cape Canaveral, Florida. Patriarca also interested in gambling in Bermuda. Bureau knows that Joe Nesline of Washington, D. C., and Charlie "The Blade" Tourine of New York are also interested in Bermuda gambling. According to Patriarca, Frank Costello is now retired. Investigation being conducted on all phases to determine full details.

The informant further advised that PATRIARCA and another unidentified man had a discussion about gambling activities and the State Police in Rhode Island. PATRIARCA made the comment that (FNU) [] was his man and [] (or []) was not good.

The informant advised on the same date that an individual had a discussion with RAYMOND PATRIARCA about the Hancock Race Track, Berkshire County, Massachusetts, and told PATRIARCA that one of the other individuals connected with the track was talking about putting FRANK SINATRA and JOE DI MAGGIO on the Board of Directors as they would add some class to the track.

A person believed to be [], who is connected with [], had a discussion with PATRIARCA about the business, and there was indication that PATRIARCA is part owner in the business.

The informant advised that PATRIARCA mentioned being at [] PATRIARCA told the unknown man that the Governor was there (believed to be Governor NOTTE of Rhode Island). PATRIARCA said that the Governor gave him the eye, went into the men's room and he, PATRIARCA, met him in there. The informant was not able to furnish any information as to the subject of discussion between the Governor and RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

A person believed to be [] had a discussion with PATRIARCA about some land in Cape Canaveral in Florida. He, [] had loaned some money in connection with the Cape Canaveral venture and had a chance to make additional money. He spoke as though PATRIARCA was his partner in the venture.

Another one of the individuals who owned the land is connected with JOE STRETCH, who is believed to be JOSEPH STRACI, top hoodlum in New York. [] mentioned to PATRIARCA that a discussion with JOE STRETCH might be very helpful in connection with their making some money on the Cape Canaveral land. PATRIARCA said that FAT TONY (believed to be ANTHONY SALERNO, top hoodlum in New York) and JOE STRETCH belong to the same group and that STRETCH would probably tell FAT TONY about any conversation with PATRIARCA, and if there was a chance to make some money JOE STRETCH and FAT TONY would do it themselves.

PATRIARCA told [] that he was going to meet [] at 1 o'clock Saturday (8/25/62) and maybe [] could get a hold of JOE STRETCH and give them the necessary assistance they needed in straightening out the Cape Canaveral land before selling it. The UNMAN asked PATRIARCA if [] and JOE STRETCH were close. PATRIARCA replied that they are all friends of []. PATRIARCA said that [] is all straightened out with everyone and he is just like retired.

In further discussion, RAYMOND PATRIARCA told [] that maybe HENRY (believed to be HENRY TAMELLEO) or SANDY could go down and talk to JOE STRETCH. PATRIARCA told [] that JOE STRETCH, HENRY TAMELLEO and [] were all around here (believed to mean Providence, Rhode Island) when the war was on. He said that HENRY has as much respect as ever. PATRIARCA made the statement that to talk to JOE STRETCH you would probably have to go to his factory as he probably would not talk to you in a hotel. 101706

A meeting between RAYMOND PATRIARCA, JERRY ANGIULO and a third individual who could be [] was observed on August 25, 1962, at Brook Manor (an eating establishment in Attleboro, Massachusetts) and movie films were obtained. In view of the results of previous investigation, it is felt that [] may be identical with []. FBI Number [].

The informant advised on August 27, 1962, that PATRIARCA discussed with TEDDY FUCILLO the gambling situation in Bermuda. FUCILLO told PATRIARCA that they will allow gambling for 3 months of the year in 3 hotels in Bermuda; the Everrude, the Carlton and the Castle Harbor. He told PATRIARCA that [] the Everrude Hotel. PATRIARCA told FUCILLO that he should look into it and maybe they could get a piece of it.

Re Boston airtel to Bureau dated 8/30/62.

On 8/31/62, BS 837-C* advised that UnMan read two letters to RAYMOND recommending to the Massachusetts Parole Board that [redacted] not be returned to prison for violation of parole. Same UnMan told RAYMOND that he intends to sell his restaurant.

Another Unman discussed with RAYMOND contracts for unknown cities in Rhode Island for the removal of garbage and rubbish. RAYMOND told him to see [redacted] of the DFW, State of Rhode Island a week from Tuesday and that he, RAYMOND, would call [redacted] and arrange for the meeting. RAYMOND told Unman that if he could get the contract that he, RAYMOND, would furnish the trucks and operating facilities.

UnMan told RAYMOND that he is attempting to sell his part-interest in the restaurant but that he wanted to keep the building as there is a possibility that the land will be taken for a new road. In that event, the value of the land will be greatly increased. This Unman wanted to borrow money from RAYMOND but RAYMOND told him to see JERRY ANGIULO and borrow from him.

Re Boston airtel to the Bureau dated 8-28 and 8-30-62.

There are enclosed for the Tampa and Jacksonville Offices one copy each of referenced airtels. These communications set forth information developed through BS 837-C*, a highly confidential source covering the activities of Raymond Patriarca, influential hoodlum leader in the New England area. Information developed through this source indicates that a number of well-known hoodlum figures in the New York and Providence, Rhode Island, area are contemplating an operation in the Cape Canaveral, Florida, area in connection with the purchase of land. References are made to one Frank who could possibly be the well-known hoodlum figure Frank Costello and to one [redacted] who recently met with Patriarca and Jerry Angiulo at Attleboro, Massachusetts, and who is possibly identical with Miami hoodlum [redacted].

b6

Offices receiving copies of this communication should be alert to the development of any additional corroborating information regarding this situation. Especially significant is the possibility that a Federal violation within the Bureau's jurisdiction is involved in this contemplated land venture.

Tampa should submit its observations concerning this situation and recommendations as to any investigation it feels should be conducted at this time. All Offices should note that information developed through BS 837-C* should be in no way compromised.

Re: Boston airtel to Bureau, September 6, 1962.

On September 10, 1962, BS 837 C* advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA discussed with several different individuals collections of money owed to them. During a discussion with one unman RAYMOND told unman that JERRY ANGUILLO got [redacted] D & H Wrecking Co., a legitimate loan of $30,000. from a bank "up there" (possibly referring to a bank in Boston, Mass.).

HENRY TAMALEO discussed with RAYMOND the purchase of the Yellow Cab Co., city unknown, by a friend of his from Hartford, Ct. His friend is willing to outbid two other parties interested in this cab company but [redacted] Boston racketeer, told TAMALEO that JOE BURNS had left him in charge and that he did not want to do anything until BURNS returned. PATRIARCA told TAMALEO to instruct [redacted] that if his friend desired to buy the cab company and the price was in excess of the other two bidders, that he, [redacted], should do everything to effect the sale of this cab company to the friend.

Another unman told RAYMOND that the "joint," referring to the Indian Meadow Country Club, stands them $400,000. RAYMOND asked unman if he could use $500. bills. The answer was inaudible, immediately after which RAYMOND counted up to the figure of fifty. Unman told him that this amount would take care of all the debts, such as contractors, etc. and the only thing that would be outstanding was the debt owed to the government and to the bank. Unman was going to take the money and bring it to some lawyer "up there" and have him show the money as being received from him "openly".

[redacted] (LNU) asked another individual in the presence of RAYMOND whether he had seen [redacted] lately. When the answer was in the negative, he replied, "I thought he was going to give you something." RAYMOND said, "He always sends it in through the other guy."

BS 92-118

Details:

On July 9, 1962, BS T-1 advised RAYMOND PATRIARCA continues to reside at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island and continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island.

On July 11, 1962, BS T-2 furnished substantially the same information as BS T-1.

On June 6, 1962, BS T-3 learned that the Great Lakes Carbon Co., address not known, was contemplating buying the Millbridge Mining Company of Maine. According to this informant, RAYMOND PATRIARCA has waived all claims to his interest in this company or the interests of JOHN BUCCELLI, deceased, who was killed in gangland fashion.

This informant said that SAUL FRIEDMAN, a Providence Attorney, is handling these matters for PATRIARCA or the late JOHN BUCCELLI.

It is to be noted that previous investigation concerning the Millbridge Mining Company has indicated that RAYMOND PATRIARCA allegedly has some interest in that company.

On June 7, 1962, BS T-4 advised that information had come to informant's attention that JERRY ANGIULO and RAYMOND PATRIARCA jointly control the Great Eastern Finance Company, second floor of 30 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts, and that it is rumored that this is used as a turn-in spot for shylocking operations and that the fellow named "PEE WEE" makes a pickup every Saturday, sometime between 12:30 and 1:30 PM of the weekly proceeds and allegedly brings this money back to Providence, Rhode Island for RAYMOND PATRIARCA. Informant described "PEE WEE" as follows:

Age	About 50 years of age
Race	White
Sex	Male
Height	5'7"
Dress	Well dressed and always wearing felt hat and carries a light brown Boston bag.

According to informant, it is rumored that "PEE WEE" travels to and from Providence, Rhode Island by Greyhound bus.

BS 92-118

Informant had also heard that a person referred to as [redacted] works in this same office, and he supposedly drives a [redacted] Mercury [redacted] bearing Massachusetts license [redacted] which registration is listed to [redacted], Raynham, Massachusetts, mailing address [redacted], Boston, Massachusetts for a [redacted] Mercury, [redacted]

Informant also stated that there are two other individuals that work at this finance company, but their identities were unknown to this informant.

According to informant, "PEE WEE" is known to [redacted] and [redacted], but informant had no information if [redacted] or [redacted] had any connection with this finance company.

On July 9, 1962, BS T-1 advised he does not know anyone named "PEE WEE" that would be acquainted with RAYMOND PATRIARCA, and does not know anyone by this name who would be residing in the Rhode Island area.

On July 11, 1962, BS T-2 advised he does not know anyone named "PEE WEE" that would be acquainted with RAYMOND PATRIARCA, and does not know anyone by that name who would be residing in the Rhode Island area.

The following investigation was conducted by SA DONALD V. SHANNON:

BS T-10 advised on August 1, 1962 that [redacted] (PH) is [redacted] who has also been called [redacted] and that he [redacted] [redacted], but is now serving time in Middlesex County.

On August 1, 1962, the records at the East Cambridge Jail, Middlesex County were checked and the following was developed:

[redacted] born [redacted] was received at the East Cambridge Jail on [redacted] after receiving a sentence of three months to the House of Correction and a $50.00 fine. His release date is [redacted] if he pays the fine, and if he does not his release date is [redacted]. He was committed on charge of registering bets.

On June 13, 1962, he was transferred to the Middlesex County House of Correction, Billerica, Massachusetts. The description

Residence	[] Boston, Massachusetts

On the same date, a review of the files in the District of Probation Office disclosed the following:

[] was arrested in Arlington, Massachusetts on [] on a charge of registering bets; the case was continued first until [] and then to []. On the latter date, he was found guilty and this was a second offense requiring a jail sentence. The probation file contained a letter from [] on the letterhead of [] Room 216, 30 Huntington Avenue, Boston, appealing for leniency for [] on the grounds of poor health and pointing out that he was a valued []. There was also a letter from [], [] Boston, appealing for leniency claiming [] suffers from [] and also stating he supports his mother and sister who are also ill. This letter pointed out [] had military service April 15 - March, 1951 and he was discharged because of medical problems.

The file then reflects that [] withdrew his appeal and sentence was imposed []. A photograph of [] was obtained from the Massachusetts Bureau of Identification and has been made a part of this file.

On August 2, 1962, Dr. ZAFF was interviewed to determine his connections with Great Eastern Investment Company.

Date August 9, 1962

Doctor HARRY I. ZAFF was informed that his cooperation was being solicited to furnish information concerning the Great Eastern Investment Company. He stated that he would be willing to tell how he became connected with this company and said he believed he had made a mistake in doing so.

He related that [] had been referred to him for dental treatment and became a regular patient of his at his office at 80 Boylston Street, Boston. The doctor said [] became friendly with him and began telling the doctor he had a proposition, whereby the doctor could make some real money. The idea was to form a finance company which would deal primarily in second mortgages. He said [] kept pressing him to put up some money and they could get the corporation going.

Finally in September or October, 1960 [] told him if he would raise $55,000., he, [], would raise the same amount and they could go into business. The doctor said he was able to scrape up $53,000. and added $2,000. in cash to make up his total of $55,000. and [] produced $60,000., making a grand total of $115,000. put into the corporation. He said Attorney [], 10 State Street, Boston, acted as the attorney.

Doctor ZAFF said that he did not take an active part in the business but did periodically check the books and became alarmed because he felt the loans made were unsecured and he felt that many of the loans were so poorly protected, that the money could not be collected. Accordingly, he said he began to protest and finally [] agreed to let the doctor get out of the company and it was arranged in the following manner:

On April 20, 1962 [], gave Doctor ZAFF his personal note for $45,000. to be paid in two years, with no interest being charged. Also the shares of stock in the corporation are in []'s name but have been assigned to Doctor ZAFF. The doctor said he would thereby take a $10,000. loss but he would be happy to get out with $45,000.

On 8/2/62 at Newton, Massachusetts File # Boston 92-118
by SA [] cap 8/6/62
Date dictated 8/6/62

BS 92-118

The doctor kept insisting that [] was a bright young man with an excellent future and if his potential could be harnessed, he would be a real success. He also kept insisting that although there were many things he did not like about [], he honestly felt [] would never cheat him. He said he expected to get part of the $45,000. back before the end of the two year period and mentioned that [] now has ten or fifteen taxi-cabs operating and must be making some money.

The doctor was asked where [] got the money for the cabs. He said [] obtained $60,000. to put the cabs on the road which he operates under the names of different corporations such as the [], [] etc. He said in this way [] felt if a suit were filed, he would not have all his cabs tied up. He then said he knew [] got $60,000. because he, the doctor, had cosigned a note for this amount and the money had been put up by [].

He was asked whether [] had to pay a large sum for taxi medallions and he said no because [] obtained his medallions through the chairman of the Board of Selectman of the town of Raynham and had to pay only a nominal sum. He said [] operated many of his cabs at the Logan International Airport in East Boston.

The doctor was then asked if [] defaulted on the note for $60,000. would the doctor be able to make it good. He said he would not and said even if he did, his estate would not be sufficient to pay off this debt. He explained his first wife had died and he remarried. He said originally he had more than $60,000. in insurance because he felt if anything happened to him, he wanted his first wife to be secure. He said he did not feel the same way toward his second wife and as a result, had cancelled out most all of his insurance and had only a nominal amount now.

At this point, he said under no circumstances was his second wife to be informed of this interview since she was highly displeased with some of his investments and the fact he had cancelled out most of his insurance.

BS 92-118

Doctor ZAFF said that Attorney [redacted] State Street, Boston, had handled the negotiation when [redacted] gave the note for $45,000. and that although [redacted] had suggested Attorney [redacted], the doctor had known [redacted] for many years and felt he could be trusted.

b6

The doctor was asked whether or not he felt [redacted] might have been engaged in "shy-locking" and he said if he had, the doctor did not know it. He then explained that the loans that were negotiated by the Great Eastern Finance Company were approved by [redacted] and the manager [redacted]. He said he never passed on any of the loans. He also said neither he nor [redacted] ever drew any salary and [redacted] was paid about $100. a week as salary. He said there was one female clerk in the office but he did not know her name and believed that no one girl had held the job but there had been different girls hired at different times.

Doctor ZAFF said he resides at 475 Parker Street, Newton, and has an office at that location. In addition, he maintains an office at 80 Boylston Street, Boston. He said [redacted] but he does not get along with him and he does not see him.

BS 92-118

On July 6, 1962, BS T-11 advised [] planned to buy some additional cabs and he hoped that Dr. ZAFF would assist him in financing these. He planned to get about $33,000 from Dr. ZAFF to help him in purchasing the cabs. Informant also indicated that Dr. ZAFF is apprehensive about a government investigation, and supposedly tore up some papers so they would not be found.

On June 25, 1962, [] was interviewed by SA's WILLIAM WELBY and ROBERT SHEEHAN (A's), in connection with an investigation entitled, [] Former [] Johnston, Rhode Island Branch, Plantations Bank of Rhode Island, FIA", Boston file 29-879. The above investigation disclosed that LOUIS TAGLIANETTI had a loan at the Plantations Bank, and he was interviewed concerning this loan.

In addition to matters concerning his loan from the Plantations Bank, Mr. TAGLIANETTI furnished information which is as follows:

He is now operating the New England Imports Company, Inc., 273 Pocasset Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, with some business associates not revealed. The company handles cheap jewelry, consisting mainly of one jewel watch which is obtained from Switzerland. The watch movements, exclusive of the case, cost $1.81 each; the case costs $.20 and a tie pin and cuff links cost $.20 each. The watch, cuff links and tie pin are put in a fancy box, the total cost of handling amounting to about $2.30 per box. He thereafter sells about 1,000 sets each week to salesman, who travel around the country selling same.

This type of cheap merchandise was formerly handled by one [] of Olneyville Square, Providence, Rhode Island. After TAGLIANETTI opened in business in competition, [] reduced the price of his watches, and TAGLIANETTI had to follow suit.

TAGLIANETTI has hired most of the salesmen who formerly handled []'s merchandise, and as a result, he stated that [] has no use for him, since he has cut into his business. The salesmen sell the watches for from $5.00 each to whatever the traffic will bear.

Mr. TAGLIANETTI stated that he also works for RAYMOND PATRIARCA of the National Cigarette Company, Atwells Avenue, Providence, as Manager, and he originally had obtained approximately 75 cigarette vending machine customers from people he knew on a personal basis, for the vending machine company.

He stated that he had been about ready to sever his connections with this company, but that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had prevailed him to stay on for about six months more. His duties at the cigarette vending machine company consist of mainly handling complaints from some of the customers he had obtained for the company.

He stated that his reason for wanting to leave the cigarette company is because he is being investigated by the Internal Revenue Service, and he feels that he is being investigated due to his business connection with Mr. PATRIARCA.

Mr. TAGLIANETTI stated that he earns about $5,000 per year; owns his home valued at $23,000; has a $13,000 mortgage at the Old Stone Bank, and pays $100.00 per month to finance the house.

He stated that many years ago, he loaned $15,000 to a friend, name not revealed, and after this person died, sometime ago, he received about $7,000 from his widow, and the Internal Revenue Service subsequently brought some sort of action against him concerning his receiving this sum of money.

On June 27, 1962, BS T-5 advised RAYMOND PATRIARCA continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, and that numerous individuals, from the Federal Hill area of Providence, Rhode Island, talk to PATRIARCA at this hangout; however, this informant has been unable to obtain any information concerning PATRIARCA's background or legal or illegal enterprise.

On July 6, 1962, BS T-6 furnished substantially the same information as BS T-5.

On July 2, 1962, BS T-6 learned that RAYMOND PATRIARCA is the top man in the organized criminal element in New England and that PATRIARCA works out of Providence, Rhode Island. However, informant was unable to furnish any specific information or reason as to why PATRIARCA is the top man in the organized criminal element in New England.

Informant also said he learned that PATRIARCA had recently had a heart attack, but he is again active and again informant was unable to furnish any activities that PATRIARCA may be actively engaged in.

LINCOLN DOWNS RACE TRACK
Lincoln, Rhode Island

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED

BS 92-118

The Providence Evening Bulletin, dated June 30, 1962, a daily newspaper in Providence, Rhode Island, carried an article entitled "Lincoln Downs Night Racing Prospects Now Appear Clouded".

This article in substance advised that the horses might not be running under the lights at Lincoln Downs as the track's trouble comes from lack of a building permit to install a lighting system - and from the prospect that the granting of any such permit might be appealed to the courts.

Any legal delay could ruin the track's plan to open 24-night racing schedule on July 30, 1962.

Two Lincoln Downs lawyers, [redacted] and WILLIAM CURRAN, appealed to the Lincoln, Rhode Island Zoning Board for the building permit that has been denied them by [redacted] the [redacted].

According to [redacted] time is of the essence; however, [redacted] said that any decision the Zoning Board hands down can be appealed to the Rhode Island Supreme Court.

The Board hearing was attended by about 50 persons, many of whom indicated their opposition to night racing.

The controversy over the building permit is based on [redacted]'s insistence that nothing in the Lincoln Zoning ordinance gives him power to issue a permit for track lighting systems, and he maintains the zoning code gives him authority to issue permits only for things that are specifically mentioned in the code. He further said he would not issue any permit until the Zoning Board grants the track an exception from the ordinance, or until it formally overturns his decision to sit tight.

[redacted] disclosed the Board has told the inspector he can go ahead and issue the permit, but he acknowledged the opinion was an informal one, without legal effect.

The Board's reasoning, [redacted] said, was that since night racing already has been approved by the Supreme Court of Rhode Island, and hence is legal, the track should be allowed to install its lights without any special exception to the zoning code.

BS 92-118

Narragansett Race Track, Pawtucket, Rhode Island decided not to have night racing this year as the installation of the lighting system could not be completed to meet their night racing schedule.

On July 11, 1962, BS T-2 advised that he has heard that the Town Council of Lincoln, Rhode Island had granted the permit to the Lincoln Downs Race Track for the installation of lights for the coming night racing schedule, which starts at Lincoln Downs Race Track on July 30, 1962.

Informant said construction is now going on at this track for the installation of these lights, and it is anticipated that the lights will be installed prior to July 30, 1962.

The Providence Journal, a daily newspaper in Providence, Rhode Island, dated July 16, 1962 carried an article on page 11, entitled "40 Standards For Lights Go Up At Lincoln". This article in substance said that forty poles, all but four of the total called for in the electrical engineer's specifications for lighting the racing strip were installed at Lincoln Downs Race Track over the weekend.

Night racing, the first at a major track in New England, is scheduled to start at Lincoln Downs on July 30, 1962.

ARTHUR T. PATENAUDE, Track Superintendent, was quoted as saying that it appears that night racing will be ready by July 30, 1962 and that the stables are to be opened for horses today, July 16, 1962, and that the track will be ready for the horsemen on Friday, July 20, 1962.

JFM Patriarca is a member of the underworld "commission" and is the principal racket figure in the New England area. This misur has been very worthwhile in regard to keeping the Bureau up to date in connection with numerous political and hoodlum figures in that area. In addition, information furnished by this source in August, 1962, was the basis for instituting a Bribery investigation involving an Internal Revenue Service agent assigned to the Boston office. This matter is pending. In view of the valuable data being received on a day-to-day basis, it is recommended that this misur be continued for an additional 90 days.

Re: Boston airtel, September 11, 1962.

BS 837 C* advised on September 11, 1962, that RAYMOND PATRIARCA told [] (LNU) that he has only $10,000. show money left, pointing out that he put $50,000. into the golf course (Indian Meadow Golf Course) the day previous.

JERRY ANGIULO told RAYMOND that they picked up [] the other night and took him into his backroom. They asked him about [] (ph) who apparently had given a statement to the authorities to the effect that HENRY TAMELEO had given him a bundle sometime prior to Mailrob and instructed [] to deliver it to []. When [] delivered the package to []'s place, he allegedly overheard a conversation indicating that [] and other unknown men present there were contemplating Mailrob. HENRY TAMELEO, [] denied he even knew [] and called the above story a complete lie. From [] of Providence, R. I. they ascertained that [] was a [] and used to hang around []. At the present time he is not hanging around there. They also ascertained that [] is an informant of [] of the R. I. State Police.

From the conversation it appeared that neither PATRIARCA, TAMELEO or ANGIULO knew anything about Mailrob as they conjectured that it must have been a [] with [].

JERRY also advised that [] unman $10,000., is going to jail for five years and that unman contacted TEDDY FUCCILLO to arrange to get some of the money. It appeared that they put a lien on [] place at the Cape.

RAYMOND told JERRY of the attempted holdup of [redacted] (ph) who [redacted] on one occasion and [redacted] claimed they got [redacted] They recently have again attempted to [redacted] and [redacted] thought he was going to be killed outside his house. However, the robbery was not successful. RAYMOND was attempting to find out from JERRY who might be responsible for [redacted] JERRY said that he would attempt to find out from the fellows in Worcester.

JERRY told RAYMOND that the game now is ahead $20,000., which they are going to cut up - $5,000. for PETE, $5,000. for RAYMOND, $5,000. for JERRY and $5,000. for [redacted] (Ph). JERRY is going to hold [redacted] of this for the money that LARRY (BATONE) and [redacted] owe him.

JERRY also told RAYMOND that he contacted [redacted] Senator JOSEPH LANGONE, [redacted] He asked them to check with [redacted] to determine whether or not there was a green light on gambling in Boston. [redacted] told him there was no green light and JERRY further made a contact within the Boston Police Department and ascertained the same information.

According to JERRY, there was a rumble that some gambling was going to open up in Boston.

JERRY spoke of two groups of IRS fellows coming into Boston and that they could expect a big raid; however, he did not know when the raid was to be pulled. He spoke of a [redacted] (LNU) who [redacted]

[redacted] was unable to be assigned there; however, during the recent past, he has been [redacted] [redacted] is a friend of SAM CUFARI. SAM CUFARI called JERRY and asked him whether he could use [redacted] JERRY was of the opinion that [redacted] might be a [redacted] and instructed him to (1) ascertain the file number of JERRY's file and (2) other files, one of which was believed to be PATRIARCA's. [redacted] told him that he would have it after Labor Day but has not as yet contacted JERRY. Because of this, JERRY believes [redacted] was some sort of a setup but he could not figure out what the reason behind it was.

JERRY pointed out that he gave the kid a gun with a silencer to hit [redacted] of Charlestown, Mass. They were about to shoot him down in a public square, believed to be in Charlestown, when they observed policemen following [redacted]. Through a contact in the Charlestown Division, JERRY later found out that the police are on [redacted] because they believe that [redacted] would contact [redacted] and they have a warrant for [redacted].

JERRY asked RAYMOND whether [redacted] has a piece of the numbers pool game, believed to be [redacted]. RAYMOND informed JERRY that when PHIL (BUCCOLA) went to Italy, he left [redacted] operation with [redacted], [redacted] and one other (name inaudible). He did not know for sure whether [redacted] had a piece of this operation. JERRY told him that [redacted] owes him a substantial amount of money and that if he did have a piece of this game, he would contact [redacted] and arrange to have [redacted] piece given directly to JERRY for payment of the debt. During this conversation, remarks were passed by JERRY and RAYMOND to the effect that JERRY has been appointed a member of the family and that RAYMOND became a member of the family shortly after BUCCOLA left for Italy.

In very low tones PATRIARCA discussed the various leaders of the national syndicate throughout the country. The names of RICCI, FRANK COSTELLO, VITO, MAURO, TOMMY RYAN and LICOVOLI were mentioned. Although the informant could not definitely report the conversation which took place, it appeared that there was some trouble in the national setup because RAYMOND stated, "Send for the representatives and have a vote for the boss and we'll leave it up to the vote."

JERRY told RAYMOND that BUCCI's mother is a secretary to Governor VOLPE and that BUCCI went to the mother to check on a judgeship that they want for some person, not identified. They wanted a superior court judgeship but VOLPE turned them down, stating he was going to appoint a Boston municipal judge to the superior court but their choice could be appointed to the municipal bench.

On September 12, 1962, [redacted] advised RAYMOND that [redacted] contacted [redacted] who went to the State Parole Board and demanded a hearing for the parole of [redacted] and [redacted]. At this time [redacted] (ph) told [redacted] not to do anything until he, [redacted], contacted [redacted] and [redacted], however, [redacted] went ahead without waiting and asked for the hearing. JERRY was angry because of this, pointing out that he and RAYMOND had done a lot of work with [redacted], Governor's [redacted], in attempting to effect the parole of these two individuals. [redacted] told [redacted] that he has been working on [redacted] another Parole Board member, in order to soften him up so that he would vote for these paroles. [redacted] has overcome [redacted] and Judge [redacted] who was the judge who [redacted] [redacted] pointed out that only one guy could swing the parole now and that would be [redacted] and [redacted] is doing everything he can to affect the parole.

Additional information has been received from the highly confidential informant covering Patriarca as to his group having control of the Berkshire Downs Horse Racing Track near Pittsfield, Massachusetts. Previously the source had advised that Patriarca and associates owned ninety per cent of the track, exercising control by naming five of the nine members of the board of directors. [redacted] is [redacted] of Berkshire Downs and [redacted] with Lincoln Downs, a Rhode Island race track which also appears to be dominated by Patriarca, New England's most powerful hoodlum.

According to the source, there has been some indication that the Berkshire Downs track has not been prospering and because of this Patriarca had expressed a desire to appoint Frank Sinatra and Joe DiMaggio to the board of directors to "add some class to the track." According to current press reports, Sinatra and Dean Martin characterized as "Hollywood stars" have been named to the board of directors at Berkshire Downs. Sinatra is also to serve as first vice president.

Our source has not yet furnished any information concerning the naming of Martin and Sinatra rather than Sinatra and DiMaggio to the track setup. Of course, both Martin and Sinatra, particularly the latter, have long been known to be associated with the hoodlum element throughout the United States. Conversely we have received no information to indicate that Joe DiMaggio has been connected with this undesirable element. It is possible, therefore, that DiMaggio had been approached to serve on the board of directors of Berkshire Downs, but declined. Information concerning this may be forthcoming from our confidential source covering Patriarca's activities.

ACTION:

We will continue to follow this matter closely with the confidential source in order to develop additional information concerning the criminal activities of Patriarca.

replace ROBERT KENNEDY as U. S. Attorney General, but he did not indicate what position ROBERT KENNEDY would take or accept. [] indicated that everything would be OK if [] was appointed U. S. Attorney General. JERRY told [] that he, JERRY, did not understand politics but [] must be crazy when he makes the above statement as there will always be heat on while the KENNEDYS are in office.

JERRY ANGIULO then told RAYMOND PATRIARCA a story whereby [] attempted to collect a shylock loan of [] last Saturday night from [] (ph) at the Peppermint Lounge, Boston, Massachusetts. At the time, [] was in the company of [], alias []. [] after consulting with [], asked [] for the repayment of the loan. [] did not say anything but immediately thereafter got in a car driven by [] and started off. Immediately thereafter, [] stopped the car and backed it up to a point where [] was standing and said, "This kid did not borrow $2,000 from you." An argument followed after which [] ran to JERRY ANGIULO at Jay's Lounge, Boston, and attempted to borrow a gun. JERRY said that he had a gun there wrapped in cellophane that they had just cleaned "Because we thought we might have a crack at something," but JERRY would not give the gun to [].

[] then went to JOE LOMBARDO and PAUL INTISO at Giro's Restaurant, Boston, who inturn sent him to JOE ANSELMO, alias JOE BURNS. JOE BURNS instructed [] to cool down, get in his car and go home. After the argument, JERRY ANGIULO called [] to [] below Jay's Lounge. [] told him the above story and indicated that he would apologize to [] in that he learned that [] had been appointed a member of the family.

JERRY, at this point, became very angered at his knowledge of this and pointed out to RAYMOND that [] is a good kid who knows a lot and keeps his mouth shut. He said that [] had been schooled by JOE PATERNO and [] from New Jersey. In fact, [] who operates as a shylock, uses the shylock money of both [redacted] and PATERNO, as well as their money, meaning ANGIULO and PATRIARCA. JERRY stated that in this operation [redacted] goes to New Jersey approximately [redacted] according to JERRY, has [redacted] that [redacted] was [redacted] when in [redacted], but he, JERRY, thought that [redacted] was just saying this to discredit [redacted]. JERRY made the statement that [redacted] "knows too much about this intricate organization."

PETER LIMONE, who was present, told RAYMOND that when [redacted] was up here one night he had to pick up his daughter so PETER brought [redacted] down to Stella's Restaurant in Boston with SAM (probably SAM GRANITO). At Stella's they met [redacted] and [redacted] stated that he had been looking for [redacted] as he wanted to "put a kid down there working for him [redacted]. The kid he referred to was [redacted]. [redacted] asked him if he was OK to put in an office. [redacted] answered that he was and turned to LIMONE and said, "Isn't that right?" LIMONE at this point said, "I don't even know the kid," which according to LIMONE was the truth. [redacted] became very angry with LIMONE because he did not OK the kid. Later in the evening, [redacted] told LIMONE that as soon as he said that he, LIMONE, did not know the kid it indicated to [redacted] that LIMONE would not OK the kid and, therefore, he would not put him to work in his operation. done

During the discussion, it was apparent that JERRY ANGIULO blames [redacted] for the argument, but RAYMOND pointed out that [redacted] showed respect to [redacted] when he first approached him by consulting with him first; therefore, he could not understand why, in the next minute, he would show disrespect for him by calling him an S.O.B. without any provocation and, therefore, believed that [redacted] was wrong. However, because of his position in the family, he thought it best to obtain an apology from [redacted] so that everyone would know that they have to show respect for the members.

During the conversation, RAYMOND PATRIARCA indicated that everyone knows that in order to kill someone you have to get the OK from RAYMOND. In the case of an emergency, however, JERRY ANGIULO would be allowed to give the OK.

Also During the conversation, HENRY TAMELEO was called in. He said that [redacted] had practically told him that [redacted] was made a member of the family. RAYMOND said that the only place he could have received this information was from CHI CHI (FRANK CUCCHIARA). CHI CHI was down two weeks ago and RAYMOND accused him of telling [redacted] about [redacted].

JERRY ANGIULO also told RAYMOND PATRIARCA that unbeknown to him the [redacted] known bank robber in this area) had borrowed $12,000 from AMATO SANTANIELLO and [redacted]. As yet he has paid nothing back. [redacted] who is [redacted] of JERRY ANGIULO, told [redacted] not to let JERRY know of the loan. However, they did after he failed to pay same.

JERRY told [redacted] that they are only going to get the original $12,000 back with no interest from [redacted] as he is a friend of his. [redacted] according to JERRY, has spent at least $8,000 of this on ex-cons who were recently released from prison. This is borne out by information received from a confidential informant of this office.

At the end of the meeting, RAYMOND PATRIARCA told those present that, "We (meaning members of the family) are supposed to have more polish than anyone else and know what we are doing. We are not supposed to make a mistake."

BS 92-118

On 9/19/62 BS 837-C* advised that TEDDY FUCILLO gave RAYMOND PATRIARCA $760 as his cut of the $1520 net. He said that CHI CHI (probably FRANK CUCCHIARA) got his cut.

FUCILLO told RAYMOND that he is going to call [redacted] Massachusetts [redacted] [redacted] on the parole of [redacted]. It appears that [redacted] is assisting [redacted] on his parole.

Copies of this communication are being forwarded to the Newark and Miami Offices for information.

airtel to Boston dated 8-20-62 and report of SA [redacted] dated 10-9-62 captioned, "[redacted], Special Agent, IRS - Boston, Massachusetts - Eribery."

Information received from BS 837-C* on 8-3-62 indicated that Nickie, an associate of Jerry Angiulo, Boston hoodlum, had been the subject of an Internal Revenue Service investigation that was reportedly settled through a $3,000 payoff to an IRS agent, [redacted]. This phase was supposedly done through the intercession of [redacted] who is in all probability [redacted] former IRS employee at Boston.
Investigation conducted by your office concerning [redacted]
IRS agent, failed to indicate he handled any tax matter relative to Nicolo Angiulo who initially was believed to be the Nickie in question.

Boston should attempt to determine any associates of the Angiulo brothers called Nickie who has been the subject of an IRS investigation in the recent past in order to determine if any IRS agent did receive a bribe in connection with a tax investigation. In connection with the information furnished by informant on 8-3-62, determine if any agent of IRS was transferred to Worcester, Massachusetts, as the information received further identified that the person who was the recipient of this payoff was being transferred to that city.

It is felt the source of this information has been most reliable in the past and every effort must be made to positively identify all of the parties involved in this matter in furtherance of our assault on organized crime.

On 10/16/62 BS 837-C* advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA and UNMEN discussed the fact that UNMEN were being surveilled, and they were trying to determine whether it was Internal Revenue Service or FBI. RAYMOND said that IRS does not usually conduct surveillances so that it must be the FBI. It should be noted that the Boston Office has been surveilling PATRIARCA's associates during the period 10/1/62 until 10/16/62.

UNMAN and RAYMOND discussed giving donations for the campaign of Governor NOTTE of Rhode Island. UNMAN said that on his list for collection was RAYMOND, [redacted] (ph), [redacted] (ph) and [redacted].

Another UNMAN told PATRIARCA that he has already given him, (meaning PATRIARCA), $99,500 and still owes him $500 more, which he gave to PATRIARCA. According to UNMAN this did not include the $40,200 to [redacted] (ph.). On 10-22-62 the Informant advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had been examined by a physician and indicated a growth had been found in the rectal area which might necessitate an operation.

Another UNMAN indicated to PATRIARCA that the Colony Motor Motel was for sale and that UNMAN had apparently contacted SOL FRIEDMAN, Attorney, relative to this. FRIEDMAN told him he would discuss this with PATRIARCA. UNMAN explained that there was a $600,000 first mortgage, a $150,000 second mortgage, plus debentures, and that they could own the whole thing for a $2,000,000.00 mortgage which they could probably get for 6% for 30 years. PATRIARCA said it sounded good and that he would try to get somebody else to take the first mortgage over. He told UNMAN that he would also see SOL about the financing of same. On 10/30/62 BS 837-C* advised that one UNMAN and [] (LNU) discussed with RAYMOND PATRIARCA the fact that [] owes $1,168 which he failed to pay for numbers laid off. [] said that there were three weeks that he came up with no money and was hit bad. The name of [] (ph) was mentioned. [] explained that he was being clipped about $35 a day and there was mention of the fact that he owes an additional $4,700, $2,000 of which he borrowed from the bank. The informant advised that RAYMOND mentioned that he should give the business back and have the debt paid off by weekly payments. RAYMOND later instructed this individual that when he gets even with the book to contact RAYMOND, who will get a hold of the guy he is turning in to and give him 50% of the business. [] agreed.

UNMAN told RAYMOND that the kid is trying to take Brockton away from him. He pointed out that he goes to Brockton (Mass.) and Augusta, Bangor and Presque Isle (all Maine). There was mention of [] (LNU) and the fact that everything was on sealed bids. The informant was unable to ascertain what this pertained to, but UNMAN suggested to RAYMOND that he get together with the kid and [] and they would split the profits. There was mention of a union and the fact that UNMAN gets $250 a week out of the thing.

Another individual told RAYMOND that he had some information and apparently, pointing to a piece of paper, said, "This is the place. He lives at [redacted] (ph)." He mentioned that there was a floodlight in the backyard but the rest of the conversation regarding this matter was not heard by the informant. The person who lives at [redacted] does not come around too often. The significance of this discussion was not obtained by the informant.

Two UNMEN entered and after discussing the purchase of suits and men's clothing were asked by RAYMOND if everything was OK. UNMAN #1 replied everything is progressing the way it should in order to get the connection to (blank). RAYMOND said, "Well, everyone should be satisfied; they know that they're railroading him" There was mention of the State of Connecticut as looking lousy at one time but now they expect to win by 50 votes. This possibly refers to some union activity. However, the informant was unable to further clarify this discussion.

On 10-31-62 TED FUCILLO told RAYMOND that [redacted] Mass.), is having trouble with the other two members of the Parole Board and that it does not look as if they are going to obtain the parole of [redacted] and LARRY BAIONE. RAYMOND asked where [redacted], another Parole Board member was from, and told FUCILLO to find out and see if he could locate somebody who knew him well, pointing out that "we can go over his head." He also instructed FUCILLO to ask [redacted] whether he thinks that [redacted], in the DA'S office, can soften GARRY BYRNE (District Attorney, Suffolk County, Boston). He pointed out that he gave [redacted] $1,800 "for nothing" in that case. He went on to state that FUCILLO should explain to [redacted] that they spent some money before the trial and that he doesn't think they should be opposing the parole now.

FUCILLO stated that FRANK (FERRARA) is coming out December 3rd, being paroled to Florida. FERRARA wrote a letter to [redacted] in which he told [redacted] to pay some bills for him and also to "pay for that storage that I got in Florida" because when he comes out, he will take care of [redacted]. FUCILLO at this point made the remark "it makes you think he's got something planted there."

FUCILLO advised that [] came back yesterday. He went to Italy where "he was with the old man, and then went on to Israel."

FUCILLO stated that []'S sister requested a donation for the campaign fund of FRANCIS E. KELLEY, who is running for Attorney General of Massachusetts, however, PATRIARCA stated that JERRY had already taken care of this matter.

By communication dated August 15, 1962, the New Haven Office advised as follows:

BS 92-118

NH 92-61

NH T-1 on August 3, 1962 advised that although he never personally met RAYMOND PATRIARCA, he did, in 1952, observe PATRIARCA at TONY HIGGINS' Restaurant in New York City. At that time the informant was in the company of [redacted] AKA, "[redacted]" a well known New York hoodlum who pointed PATRIARCA out to the informant.

The informant also recalled that in approximately 1952 he was quite friendly with [redacted] in Providence, Rhode Island, [redacted] and engaged in gambling operations. The informant in 1952 placed wagers on so-called "hot horses" with [redacted] until the latter refused to accept said bets as [redacted] was playing the same "hot horses." Shortly after the informant met [redacted] the latter showed the informant around his restaurant located in Providence, R.I., and pointed out bullet holes in various locations within the restaurant. [redacted] explained that in 1940 a bunch of hoodlums had come into the restaurant and after pulling the telephone wires from the connections, shot up the place. These same hoodlums were supposed to have stuck up one of [redacted]'s "runners" who was engaged in furtherance of [redacted]'s gambling operations.

Although [redacted] did not advise as to who or what gang had shot up his restaurant, the informant later learned from [redacted] that RAYMOND PATRIARCA and his boys had done the damage to [redacted] as the latter had refused to accept PATRIARCA as a partner in [redacted]'s gambling operations.

The informant learned that [redacted], in order to keep the peace, was obliged to accept PATRIARCA and since that time PATRIARCA has been receiving 50 per cent of [redacted]'s net profits.

Although PATRIARCA is not active in the operation of [redacted]'s numbers lottery it is worth 50% of [redacted] to keep PATRIARCA's protection and noninterference. In addition since PATRIARCA has been accepted as a silent partner, [redacted]'s operations have increased as PATRIARCA has steered many customers to [redacted].

NE 82-51

The informant pointed out that although his knowledge of [redacted]'s operations go back to [redacted] years ago, he is aware that [redacted] as late as April, [redacted], was active in placing bets at the Lincoln Downs, R.I., Track and that [redacted] was [redacted] to the fellow that controls the [redacted] of the clubhouse at the Lincoln Downs Track. Informant, who was at said track on three different occasions in April, 1962, and spoke to [redacted] on one visit, concluded that [redacted] would in all likelihood be in a position to place bets for himself and chosen individuals, known to [redacted], whose telephone calls could be received via the Turf Club telephone.

According to the informant, [redacted] was [redacted] and person who formerly [redacted] 3 numbers lottery in the Providence area some [redacted] years ago. [redacted] has been associated with [redacted] for the past [redacted] years.

[redacted] of New Bedford, Mass., was [redacted] the numbers racket in the New Bedford area. [redacted] was arrested at New Bedford in 1950 or 1951 for operating a numbers lottery.

Informant maintains that RAYMOND PATRIARCA is the head of the "syndicate" or "Mafia" in the New England area. His conclusion is based on conversations had with [redacted] AKA [redacted] "New York City, who, according to the informant is, "big" in the "syndicate."

Informant has been present in recent years when [redacted] of Waterbury, Conn., and described as a "moustache" or members of the "Mafia," who controls all of Connecticut, has said that he had seen or had to see "RAYMOND" regarding a particular situation regarding "syndicate" operations.

The informant, who is personally acquainted with local and nationwide hoodlums, has had PATRIARCA described by these hoodlums as "big", - meaning he had a terrific influence within the "syndicate."

According to NE T-1 the "syndicate" has withdrawn from horse race operations in general. The members are more concerned with the "Numbers racket" and crooked dice games. The "syndicate" will play the horses only on "a sure shot basis," meaning if suitable services are available to beat a local "bookie" who is not a member.

02-223

Informant identified HENRY TUNNELLO of Providence as one of PATRIARCA'S "lieutenants." He described TUNNELLO as a person who will handle anything that is "hot." In past years, TUNNELLO was known to be a receiver of stolen goods, including jewelry and diamonds taken in burglaries as far south as Miami, Florida. He recalled that a few years ago [redacted], AKA [redacted] of Bristol, Conn., described as a "moustache" and very close to the informant at the present time, was peddling [redacted] taken from a burglary in Florida; further, [redacted] within the past three years invited the informant to contact TUNNELLO as the latter was in possession of stolen fur coats for women. The informant was not interested and did not contact TUNNELLO.

Within recent weeks [redacted] [redacted] was arrested at Hartford, Conn., for burglary and possession of stolen goods.

According to NH T-1, he learned from [redacted] that following [redacted]'S arrest, [redacted] received a telephone call from TUNNELLO instructing [redacted] to hire an attorney for [redacted]. Thereafter [redacted] contacted Attorney [redacted] of [redacted], Conn. [redacted] told the informant that when [redacted] inquired as to who was to pay his legal fee, [redacted] told [redacted] not to worry about it as the money was coming from "Providence." Informant interpreted [redacted] remarks to mean that TUNNELLO and/or PATRIARCA would pay Attorney [redacted] in [redacted], Conn.

Informant pointed out that the members of the "Mafia" or "syndicate" are all of the Italian element and [redacted] [redacted] acquaintanceship extends to many within the "syndicate" because of his own past gambling operations. He therefore has to rely on his acquaintanceship with the members for information regarding their activities.

On August 6, 1962, BS T-6 advised that on August 8, 1962 he observed JERRY ANGIULO of Boston, Massachusetts, talking to RAYMOND PATRIARCA on the corner of Dean Street and Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island. Informant was unable to hear the conversation; however, the informant gathered the impression, from their actions, that it was a serious conversation.

BS T-6 then observed ANGIULO and PATRIARCA going into the Coin-O-Matic Distributors, 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, which is the hangout for PATRIARCA, and the informant did not see them again that day.

BS T-6 also said that LOUIS TAGLIANETTI and HENRY TAMELEO continue to be almost daily visitors to subject at 168 Atwells Avenue. According to the informant, [redacted] another friend of PATRIARCA's, is there frequently and that [redacted] still acts as a [redacted] for PATRIARCA.

On August 7, 1962, BS T-7 advised he had no information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

On August 20, 1962, BS T-8 advised he did not have any further information concerning RAYMOND PATRIARCA.

On September 21 and October 4, 1962, BS T-9 advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA continues to reside at 165 Lancaster Street, Providence, Rhode Island, and continues to hang out at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, where he operates a cigarette vending machine business with [redacted].

Informant further advised that PATRIARCA can always be found at 168 Atwells Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, and that the people who want to contact him do so at this address.

Informant advised he has been unable to develop any information concerning PATRIARCA.

HANCOCK RACEWAYS, INC.

The "Providence Evening Bulletin," a daily newspaper in Providence, Rhode Island, dated September 8, 1962, page 3, carried an article captioned, "SINATRA, MARTIN NAMED TRACK DIRECTORS."

The article mentioned that Hollywood stars FRANK SINATRA and DEAN MARTIN were elected as directors of the Berkshire Downs horse racing track near Pittsfield, Massachusetts. The announcement was made by B. A. DARIO, President and Managing Director of the Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, Rhode Island, and Managing Director of Berkshire.

SAUL FRIEDMAN, Providence Attorney and former Probate Judge in Cranston, Rhode Island, is a third new Director of the half-mile track. SINATRA will serve as First Vice President.

The three new Directors, all of whom have invested in the track, were brought in by S. A. RIZZO of Scarsdale, New York, whose recent purchases of track stock resulted in his election as President and Managing Director.

SINATRA and MARTIN are reportedly personal friends of Mr. RIZZO, who is described as a breeder and owner of race horses. Remaining as Directors of the track as SANTI CAMPANELLA of Providence, Rhode Island, and AMERIGO S. CARDI of Cranston, Rhode Island, whose construction firm built the track grandstand.

The "Springfield Daily News," a daily newspaper in Springfield, Massachusetts, carried an article on page 25, dated October 9, 1962, captioned, "NEW FIGURE IN CASE IS MYSTERY MAN - NEW DEVELOPMENT IN CASE INVOLVING OWNERSHIP OF RACEWAYS STOCK."

The article was a "Special to The Daily News" dateline Boston which states as follows:

"BOSTON - The latest step in the continuing controversy concerning the ownership of 50 voting shares in Hancock Raceways, Inc., was taken today as Atty. F. Lee Bailey of this city, representing former State Sen. Joseph L. Murphy of Dorchester, sought in Suffolk Superior Court a restraining order against a 'mystery man' living in a Lenox motel.

"Murphy began the litigation last February with a bill of equity brought against Dr. Charles F. Furcolo, father of former Gov. Foster Furcolo, and Eileen Kane, a secretary, and Charles R. Carson, both of Springfield.

"ALLEGES PRESSURE

"He claimed that he had been forced to sell his 50 shares of stock to Dr. Furcolo through political pressure. He sought to have the court void the sale and to have the stocks returned to him.

"Carson was said to have been a tax consultant and a friend to the doctor.

"Murphy claimed he had been told he faced financial ruin unless he sold his stock as the track would never get paid.

"He pointed out that the track obtained its first racing dates after the sale of his stock was made.

"claim by the doctor against Carson and denials by Carson that he was holding stock for Dr. Furcolo.

"The case has never been heard on its merits.

"Miss Kane filed a denial saying she never held any stock. At one phase of the proceedings, it was claimed the stock was turned over to Narragansett Race Track owner B. A. Dario, which was part of Dr. Furcolo's answer and counterclaim.

"The doctor denied Murphy's claim that he was forced into selling the stock.

"In today's action, Judge Charles S. Bolster issued a temporary restraining order against one Samuel A. Rizzo, who was described as living at the Edgebrook Motel in Lenox.

"PLAINTIFF'S CONTENTION

"Murphy, the plaintiff, declared he didn't know Rizzo's true domicile, but that he believes he comes from New York or Florida. He claims that he had information that around Dec. 1, 1961, Carson transferred or sold the 50 shares to this Samuel A. Rizzo. Murphy claims that Rizzo knew at the time that Carson was not the true owner of the shares and was not empowered or entitled to sell them to Rizzo. He said he fears that Rizzo is going to leave the state Saturday. He obtained the temporary restraining order stopping Rizzo from signing of or transferring or otherwise dealing with the 50 shares of stock.

"The order issued in the case is returnable on the 15th."

Information has previously been reported concerning the interest of RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA in the Indian Meadow Country Club, Westboro, Massachusetts. On September 10 and 11, 1961, BS T-12 advised that [redacted], better known as [redacted] of Worcester, Massachusetts, [redacted] of the Indian Meadow Country Club, and that in or about the middle of September, 1962 PATRIARCA furnished a substantial amount of money, believed to be in the vicinity of $50,000 to $75,000, to a lawyer in the Westboro, Massachusetts area to be entered on the books of the Indian Meadow Country Club in order to pay small debts owed by that corporation and to be represented as fresh capital from the lawyer.

It should be noted that in referenced report there is mention that Attorney [redacted] appeared before the Small Business Administration in order to obtain a loan for the Indian Meadow Country Club. [redacted] is from the Worcester, Massachusetts area.

Newspaper articles in the Boston press have featured the suit in equity involving the Berkshire Downs Race Track in Hancock, Massachusetts. This concerns action being brought by former Senator JOSEPH L. MURPHY of Dorchester, Massachusetts against Doctor CHARLES F. FURCOLO, father of the former Governor of the State of Massachusetts, FOSTER FURCOLO, and others. MURPHY contends he was forced to dispose of his stock under pressure to FURCOLO.

BS T-13 advised that this actually is a situation where RAYMOND PATRIARCA and three others have taken control of this race track and own a substantial amount of the stock. BS T-13 learned of this because of the fact that PATRIARCA has sent emissaries to Democratic Senate Leader JOHN E. POWERS, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, who agreed to obtain additional racing dates for Berkshire Downs, thus, increasing the value of the corporation.

As stated earlier in the report, PATRIARCA and his attorney, SAUL FRIEDMAN of Providence, Rhode Island, were observed on October 5, 1962 by Bureau agents at the Edgebrook Motel, Lenox, Massachusetts, which is in the vicinity of the Berkshire Downs Race Track. The "Boston Daily Record," dated October 10, 1962, carried an item that SAMUEL A. RIZZO, residence The Edgebrook Motel, Lenox, Massachusetts, had been named in a bill of equity filed in behalf of former Senator JOSEPH F. MURPHY. It also stated that RIZZO had checked out of this motel on October 5, 1962.

On October 8, 1962, [redacted] Massachusetts Racing Commission, advised SA [redacted] that the race track commonly known as Berkshire Downs is actually the Hancock Raceway, Inc., Hancock, Massachusetts. Its present officers who obtained control recently, date unknown to [redacted] are as follows:

President and Managing Director	S. A. RIZZO	Scarsdale, N. Y.
First Vice President	FRANK SINATRA	Beverly Hills, Calif.

BS T-14 advised on September 18, 1962 that some trouble had arisen between [redacted], also known as [redacted], and [redacted], both of Boston, Massachusetts. Informant was not aware of the trouble but did state when it appeared there would be repercussions on the part of either of the two principals involved the facts of the situation were brought to the attention of RAYMOND PATRIARCA of Providence, Rhode Island. PATRIARCA interceded and forced [redacted] to apologize to [redacted].

BS T-14 advised further that on the same date [redacted], member of the [redacted] State of Massachusetts, is assisting PATRIARCA and his constituents to arrange the parole of [redacted] of Rhode Island in the near future.

BS T-15 advised on October 9, 1962 that PATRIARCA has made a financial donation to the campaign of FRANCIS E. KELLEY, Democratic nominee for Attorney General for the State of Massachusetts.

BS T-16 advised on August 23, 1962 that an individual from Providence, Rhode Island, CARMINO RUGGERIO, had cashed a mutuel ticket, the value of which was $19,000, at Lincoln Downs a week or two before. The ticket was actually owned by a friend of RUGGERIO's. The informant advised that an employee of the race track ascertained that RUGGERIO had cashed the ticket and had given a false name to avoid income tax. PATRIARCA interceded for RUGGERIO and, through [redacted], [redacted] of Lincoln Downs, "hushed the matter up."

BS T-10 advised on September 24, 1962 that since about June of 1962 the situation with regard to RAYMOND PATRIARCA and JOHN BUCELLI's interest in the Milbridge Mining Company has changed and that SAUL FRIEDMAN, PATRIARCA's attorney at Providence, Rhode Island, claims that $27,000 interest of JOHN BUCELLI in the Milbridge Mining Company belongs to RAYMOND PATRIARCA and that PATRIARCA is no longer interested in waiving his interest in behalf of BUCELLI's estate. According to BS T-10, this situation has come about by the fact that the Great Lakes Carbon Company is interested in buying the Milbridge Mining Company and a price of approximately $14 million has been mentioned. According to BS T-10 if the negotiations are completed the value of the 27,000 shares of stock would amount to close to $2 million.

BS T-10 said that he undoubtedly would hear if the sale of the Milbridge Mining Company goes through and he would advise if and when this property is sold to the Great Lakes Carbon Company.

BS T-11 advised on October 15, 1962 that [redacted] of the North End of Boston, who has [redacted] on Route 3-A, Manomet, in the town of Plymouth, Massachusetts, has been in a bad financial way. He said that he was due to go to jail in [redacted], which seriously affected his chances of getting financial help from money lenders. He said that apparently [redacted] had attempted to receive some financial aid from PATRIARCA and GENNARO ANGIULO, but had not been successful.

BS T-11 said that apparently [redacted] was going to try to set up some [redacted] and he would transfer his liquor license from the nightclub to the motel. If he could get the financial assistance desired, he would then be in a position to give PATRIARCA a percentage of the profits.

On September 18, 1962, [redacted] advised SA [redacted] that [redacted] had been considered as one of the suspects in the mail robbery because of the location of the nightclub which was only a couple of miles away from the scene of the robbery of the mail truck. Information was received that RAYMOND PATRIARCA may be interested in opening crap games during the night racing season being held at Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, Rhode Island. This night racing was held from July 30, 1962 to August 25, 1962 (24 nights).

Contact was maintained with representatives at the track and police sources during this period of time and no information was developed that crap games were opened for the night racing fans or that PATRIARCA had done anything towards having such a game opened.

Information was received that [redacted] of the D&H Building Wreckers, Inc., 89 Celia Street, Johnston, Rhode Island, was engaged in the demolition of some buildings in the Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania area. It has previously been reported that PATRIARCA has a financial interest in the D&H Building Wreckers Company.

The Pittsburgh Office advised by letter dated August 30, 1962 that a person likely to be contacted by [redacted] was FRANK VALENTEI, a subject under investigation by the Pittsburgh Office.

Investigation at Pittsburgh disclosed that there is no organized prostitution as such in Pittsburgh, and although prostitutes frequent the Club 30 and Frankies in downtown Pittsburgh where they pick up dates, there is not known to be any control or organization in connection with these activities. VALENTEI is alleged to be a partner in Club 30, located at 545 Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh, although he has denied any interest in this club on interview. VALENTEI has advised that he frequents Club 30, which is described as a downtown after hours club frequented by prostitutes.

Extensive investigation has failed to disclose any construction in the vicinity of properties owned, formerly owned, or alleged to be owned by VALENTEI, wherein the D & H Building Wreckers is engaged.

Inquiry of [redacted], [redacted], Duquesne Light Company, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, disclosed on August 21, 1962 that he obtained information from [redacted], [redacted], to the effect that the D&H Building and Wreckers, Inc. of 89 Celia Street, Johnston, Rhode Island, has been awarded the contract for the demolition of a vacant building, formerly occupied by Rosenbaums Department Store at Penn and 6th Avenue in downtown Pittsburgh. One side of this building is located directly across the street from Club 30.

As of August 21, 1962, demolition had not been started on the above-described building and there has been no indication of anyone on the premises. The Duquesne Light Company records indicate that the real estate firm handling the building has requested a final reading of steam and electric meters on August 24, 1962.

On August 31, 1962, the Pittsburgh Office advised as follows:

On August 23, 1962 SA(A) [redacted] observed a green stake Ford truck parked in an alley off of 5th Avenue between Liberty Avenue and Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. This truck bore Rhode Island Commercial license 44223, and on the doors to the cab of the truck was printed, "D and H Building Wreckers Inc."

On August 27, 1962, there was also observed in the above-described alley a [redacted] or [redacted] black two-door sedan, Rhode Island license [redacted], and a late model black, two-door Chevrolet sedan bearing Rhode Island registration [redacted]. The described alley is a dead end alley approximately one half block long and ends at the wall of a former department store known as Rosenbaums. On 10/26/62 BS 837-C* advised that JERRY ANGIULO and PETER LIMONE contacted RAYMOND PATRIARCA. JERRY told RAYMOND that he was informed by another individual (identity unknown) that [] (LNU) went to New York and learned that another unknown individual "took down $46,000 from the game." JERRY appeared critical of this individual as he not only took down $46,000 but he went to his (unidentified) partner "to take off the money." JERRY apparently interceded for this individual and told him that when he goes to New York, don't ask for a quarter, not even a cent, and also to send the guy the money. The significance of this was not known to the informant.

JERRY ANGIULO also obtained permission from RAYMOND PATRIARCA to put [] (LNU) in and throw out []'s man. This could possibly refer to the operation of a crap game in the Boston area.

JERRY ANGIULO and RAYMOND PATRIARCA discuss their cut in the numbers business but it was not clear to the informant. There was mention of $46,000 and also the sum of $5,000. JERRY said that he told the guy they have got to pay $5,400 for LARRY (BIONE) and []. It appeared to the informant that they were having trouble concerning this $5,400.

On 10/27/62 BS 837-C* advised that HENRY TAMELEO mentioned the name of [] and the fact that the doctor did not want to use all Italians and wanted to get some Irish in. The informant was not able to ascertain the significance of this but did hear mention of Brooklyn in the conversation.

On 10/29/62 BS 837-C* advised that 2 UNMEN discussed with RAYMOND PATRIARCA the fact that an unknown agent of one of the 2 UNMEN had failed to pay some hits. UNMAN #1 said that the kid reneged on the bet and owed him some money but that he let him go. The agent then apparently went to work for UNMAN #2 and also owed him some money because of his failure to pay off debts. The agent owes $2,643 and one of the UNMEN apparently wanted to purchase his business which was $700 or $800 per week. RAYMOND gave him permission to take over his business and pay off the $2,643; and further, that there was to be no interest charged on the $2,643.

On 11/1/62 BS 837-C* advised that UNMAN and RAYMOND PATRIARCA discussed the stock at the Hancock Race Track, Hancock, Mass. UNMAN stated that he talked to [redacted] of Lincoln Downs Race Track, Rhode Island) and he is going to obtain the stock from Sports Service. It appeared that [redacted] had a piece of their stock but UNMEN did not recognize him as having the stock.

JERRY ANGIULO told RAYMOND PATRIARCA that the crap game stands at $28,145 but suggested they leave it stand that way "to see what happens." JERRY went to Worcester, Mass., and talked to [redacted]. JERRY complained about the lack of business there, probably referring to the Indian Meadow Country Club. JERRY further discussed the possibility of buying a business in Palmer, Mass., but both RAYMOND and he decided they were not interested in the deal as there was too much manual labor involved.

JERRY ANGIULO was critical of Boston Police Commissioner EDMUND L. MC NAMARA for the amount of pressure he is putting on gambling, particularly in the North End section of Boston, Mass.

On 11/5/62 the informant advised that UNMAN advised RAYMOND PATRIARCA that he is going to New York in an attempt to get (race wire) service out of New York. He explained to PATRIARCA that [redacted], who is furnishing service to [redacted], claims that [redacted] is not sending the money to [redacted] and that [redacted] does not want his business. [redacted] (LNU) told UNMAN last night that if he (not identified) is sure [redacted] does not want [redacted] business that he (UNMAN not identified) could obtain the service from [redacted] and in turn service [redacted]. RAYMOND PATRIARCA at this point became angry and said that FRANKIE (FERRARA) is coming out of jail next month, and because of his hard work and money invested, the service belongs to FRANKIE. UNMAN stated he blames [redacted]'s nephew for the above action because he is the backbone of it. UNMAN pointed out that they have active service, too. RAYMOND told UNMAN present not to give it to the unidentified man (referred to above) but to just leave him alone. UNMAN again stated that he is going to New York to obtain the charter and that he (not identified) will give [redacted]'s nephew 10%, the lawyer 10% and UNMAN present 10% if he can get the service out of New York. If [redacted] gets the service out of Miami, he (not identified) will also give [redacted] 10%. However, at the present time, he (the unidentified man) will cut up 30% and he told [redacted] last night that he is splitting the remaining 70% with RAYMOND. RAYMOND became extremely angry at this point and ordered UNMAN to bring this individual in to see him. UNMAN said he would.

FROM : SAC, BOSTON (92-118) (P)

SUBJECT: RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, aka.
AR

Re Bureau letter to Boston dated 10/31/62.

Concerning paragraph three of Boston airtel to Bureau dated 10/23/62 which sets forth a discussion with an unknown individual and RAYMOND PATRIARCA concerning the distribution of large sums of money to individuals identified as JERRY, TEDDY, DANA (ph), JOE KIRK and JOHNNY "D" (ph), it is believed that the following are the identities of these individuals:

JERRY is probably GENNARO J. ANGIULO, aka "JERRY," of Boston, Mass., and top lieutenant of RAYMOND PATRIARCA in this area.

TEDDY is probably TEDDY FUCILLO of Boston, Mass., who is a close associate of RAYMOND PATRIARCA and one who operates the Eastern Hotel Supply Corporation, Boston, Mass., in which PATRIARCA has a financial interest.

DANA is probably DANA RICCI of Providence, R. I., who drives RAYMOND PATRIARCA to work everyday. He spends most of his time at the local race tracks and is considered a gambler.

JOE KIRK is probably JOSEPH KRIKORIAN, Providence, R. I., who acts as a front man for RAYMOND PATRIARCA in his investments in various legitimate enterprises, such as the Hancock Race Track, Hancock, Mass.

JOHNNY "D" is probably JOHN DeANGELIS mentioned by BS-837-C* on 10/31/62. At that time, TEDDY FUCILLO told RAYMOND that [redacted] returned the day previous as he had been told by JOHNNY DeANGELIS. JOHNNY DeANGELIS also at that time told him that [] was not going to build a 60-unit motel as he originally planned but was now considering a 20-unit motel. At this time FUCILLO stated that [] went to Italy and, "He was with the Old Man" (probably referring to PHILIP BUCCOLA, believed to be PATRIARCA's predecessor in the New England area and now residing in Italy). He also said that [] went on to Israel from Italy.

On 10/31/62 [] advised that he learned [] Mass., [] Boston, Mass., had just returned from his third trip to see PHILIP BUCCOLA, and that he is allied with PHILIP BUCCOLA. At the present time, [] is [] in Boston, Mass., with a [] of PHILIP BUCCOLA, last name []. The informant also advised that he is of the opinion that it is rather difficult for them to make a reasonable profit in the [].

On 11/2/62 Agents of the Boston Office observed an individual believed to be JOHN DeANGELIS, [] Mass., at []'s [] in Boston. Boston indices reflect that DeANGELIS had worked for PHILIP BRUNO, SR. (deceased) during prohibition in bootlegging activities. It is, therefore, possible that the above JOHN DeANGELIS is identical with the JOHNNY "D" mentioned by BS 837-C* referred to in Boston Airtel to the Bureau dated 10/23/62.

It is possible that this amount of money loaned by PATRIARCA was used either to purchase stock in the Hancock Race Track in which PATRIARCA has made the statement, according to BS 837-C*, that they own 90% of the track, or it is also possible that this concerns the purchase by RAYMOND PATRIARCA and his associates of the Indian Meadow Country Club, Westboro, Mass., in which it was reported by BS 837-C* that PATRIARCA furnished $50,000 in cash on one occasion to pay off small debts that the Country Club had incurred.

Efforts are being made to determine the reason for the distribution of this money. Investigation is also being conducted to ascertain background, associates and activities of both [REDACTED] and JOHN DeANGELIS?

On 11/7/62 BS 837-C* advised that TEDDY FUCILLO told RAYMOND PATRIARCA that the company, believed to be the Hub Electric Company, Charlestown, Mass., had lost its contract with Sylvania Electric Company because they were underselling the parts manufactured for Sylvania Electric Company to other companies. He pointed out that the women employees of the company would not work November 11th, the holiday, and that [] (LNU) was going over to talk to the employees in an effort to have them work that day. Upon questioning by RAYMOND PATRIARCA, FUCILLO advised that in order to make a profit it is necessary to get out 100,000 starters during this period, believed to be a week, and if they did not work on the holiday they would be unable to produce that amount of starters. The other individual, [] (LNU), told PATRIARCA that they would have to have a survey completed of the plant and attempt to get additional customers to replace the contract they lost for Sylvania.

PATRIARCA made the remark, "They have been using that money for five years now and they have not come back with twenty-five cents; where's all the money its been earning?" From this remark it appears that PATRIARCA might have a financial interest in this company, and efforts will be made to ascertain same.

Re Boston Airtel to Bureau dated 11/8/62.

On 11/9/62 BS 837-C* advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA told UNMAN that he sold out his interest in Sherwood Manufacturing Company and needed a new arrangement for tax purposes. He thereafter told UNMAN that he would like to become a partner with him in a business believed to be a retailer of some sort in the clothing business. This UNMAN agreed to take PATRIARCA in as a partner.

[redacted] told RAYMOND PATRIARCA that [redacted] of Portland, Maine, apparently informed on him, [redacted] concerning his participation in the illegal still in Maine. [redacted] said that [redacted] told him that he was going to see PATRIARCA relative to the trial in Portland, Maine, and if they went to the "can" they were going to make [redacted] (ph) pay for it." He inferred that PATRIARCA agreed with this statement. PATRIARCA said that he did not make such a statement.

According to [redacted] if all plead guilty and got a year, it would leave [redacted] as the only defendant and, thus, in effect obtain a separate trial for him. [redacted] told [redacted] that he would not have the ReBstel, November 13, 1962.

On November 13, 1962 a representative of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, advised that CARMINE RUGGIERO, Providence, Rhode Island, has been employed as a mutual cashier at the Rhode Island race tracks since 1941, and in the preceding five or six days had accepted approximately $18,000.00 in deteriorated money. This money was examined by Bureau Agents and found to be faded, torn and some with holes therein. All bills were of $50 or $100 denominations and most were of the 1934 series originating from different Federal Reserve Districts.

Enclosed herewith is a list of serial numbers of the $50 and $100 bills, which numbers were obtained from the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co., Providence, Rhode Island, and which were part of the deposits made by the Narragansett Race Track.

It was ascertained that this money was accepted by CARMINE RUGGIERO at the $50 mutual window at the Narragansett Race Track. It should be noted that RUGGIERO has been in personal contact with RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA in Providence.

It is requested that the serial numbers of these bills be compared with those in the National Stolen Property File.

Re Boston Airtel to Bureau dated 11/13/62.

On 11/14/62 BS 837-C* advised that HENRY TAMELEO advised RAYMOND PATRIARCA that they wound up with $550 a piece. This money was furnished to himself; [redacted], the bust-out guy; and [redacted]. The informant did not know the significance of this conversation.

During the conversation, RAYMOND PATRIARCA advised HENRY TAMELEO that [redacted] made about $40,000 during the meet up here, probably referring to Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, R. I.

TAMELEO told PATRIARCA that [redacted] (ph) wanted to see him tomorrow on the land deal. He pointed out that [redacted] of Taunton, Mass., contacted [redacted] and the guy from Hartford wants to put up money for the Argentina deal, probably referring to the land deal. The informant had no further information relative to this matter.

JERRY ANGIULO told RAYMOND PATRIARCA about a kid, identity unknown, who apparently had told them a story which [redacted] (LNU) did not believe but JERRY did.

They got the kid drunk and he apparently told the same story. This conversation was partially not heard by the informant; however, the name of [] was mentioned.

JERRY ANGIULO said that [] of Worcester, Mass., called him and told him that he had an offer of $750,000 for the Indian Meadow Country Club. JERRY told him to ascertain what investment they have in it and if the offer is over that figure to call him back and he would possibly consider the proposition.

JERRY ANGIULO also stated to PATRIARCA that a kid, identity unknown, was furnished $30,000 by [] to put out on the street as loan shark money. JERRY was wondering how come [] had so much money that he could do this.

JERRY ANGIULO told PATRIARCA that Worcester has blown money and "both batches are behind." At the present time, they owe $5,300 on layoff bets and they questioned $1,200 of this.

Re Boston Airtel to Bureau dated 11/15/62.

On 11/14/62 BS 837-C* advised that JERRY ANGIULO asked RAYMOND PATRIARCA what [redacted] (probably [redacted] one of the leading sports bookmakers in the Boston area) gives up to SAM (GRANITO). RAYMOND PATRIARCA replied, "He gives five hundred dollars." PATRIARCA added that he thinks [redacted] is doing something with them, too, possibly referring to [redacted] and [redacted] for whom [redacted] takes sports bets.

ANGIULO said that he gives his sports bets to [redacted] and [redacted]. Further, ANGIULO stated that [redacted] is going to Florida in two weeks for several months as he has made reservations for he and his personal family. ANGIULO spoke of a conversation he had with an unknown person who said that [redacted], "had a million dollar season last year." It was not clear to the informant whether [redacted] were in any way connected with [redacted]; however, the names of [redacted] were mentioned during the same conversation.

According to the informant, JERRY ANGIULO told RAYMOND PATRIARCA that ABE SARKIS put out $25,000 through [redacted] Boston hoodlum, for the shylock business.

ANGIULO apparently became angry and told [] that his money comes first. ANGIULO then spoke of a conversation whereby JOHNNY (possibly WILLIAMS) grabbed [] and said, "When do you go around taking money from my partner, my business, without letting me know about it?"

On 11/15/62 the informant advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA's wife complained to him about the article in the newspapers which reflected that a Rhode Island vending machine operator might be involved in the murder of NATHAN COLSIA, Boston hoodlum who was killed in the Boston area gangland style. PATRIARCA told his wife that there are a lot of vending machine operators in the Rhode Island area, and that the article could have referred to any one of them.

On 11/16/62 the informant advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA spoke to UNMAN about the expert from New Jersey he has retained in the JOHN F. NAZARIAN murder case in Rhode Island. PATRIARCA said that the expert from New Jersey is going to show that RUDOLPH SCIARRA, who is being tried for the murder of NAZARIAN, had handled the gun several months prior to the killing.

On 11/19/62 RAYMOND PATRIARCA left Providence, R. I., shortly after 9:20 a.m. and drove to New York City. The New York Office was alerted. According to information received from BS 837-C* on 11/15/62, PATRIARCA was going to meet [] (LNU) at Dominic's Restaurant, formerly known as the Progressive Restaurant, on 56th or 57th Street, New York City. []'s report reflected that the audit files for IRS revealed that CAMEROTA had been the subject of examination by SA [] in 1952 and this investigation covered the years 1948, 1949 and 1950.

[] said that he did not believe that the Intelligence Division file containing []'s investigation of 1952 was now in existence but he would attempt to locate this file. CAMEROTA's file contained a report dated March 19, 1959 relative to an investigation conducted by [] in Springfield, Mass. This investigation was predicated upon newspaper items to the effect that racketmen were ruling Springfield, Mass. Nowhere in this report was CAMEROTA mentioned and the investigation mainly dealt with allegations made by the Police Commission against the Common Council relative to the Council taking political action to block the Police Commission in its drive against gambling.

CAMEROTA's file also contained a report dated 12/9/58 relative to an investigation of CAMEROTA. This investigation was based upon information received from the Boston Office of the FBI that CAMEROTA had purchased a summer residence on Blue Berry Hill, Blanford, Mass., for $30,000. During the course of the investigation [] ascertained that the property in this was purchased by one [] on 11/1/57 from a [] and sold to CAMEROTA's [] on 1/2/58. CAMEROTA, when interviewed by [], stated that [] had bought the property as a favor for CAMEROTA in order to make it possible for CAMEROTA to get a mortgage. At the conclusion of this investigation relative to the purchase of property by CAMEROTA, [] wrote "It is submitted that the income being reported by the tax payer (Camerota) is sufficient to warrant, or account for bank deposits and mortgage payments made by Camerota in 1957 and 1958. It is recommended that the case be closed and the information disclosed by this investigation be made a part of the office file". []'s papers in connection with his investigative report of 12/9/58 showed that he had conferences with [] on 9/24, 10/1 and 10/15/58 but the file did not contain any information relative to the subject matter of these conferences.

[redacted] is attempting to ascertain if the results of [redacted]'s investigation of CAMEROTA in 1952 is still in existence. He said the Internal Security Division, if requested, could analyze [redacted]'s handling of the investigations of CAMEROTA to determine if they were procedurally.

Contact is being maintained with the Internal Security Division of IRS and the Bureau will be promptly advised of all developments in this case.

On 11/23/62 BS 837-C* advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA had received a registered letter from Internal Revenue Service (IRS) concerning his 1959 income tax return. IRS instructed him to be at the IRS office within 10 days with all the necessary papers. PATRIARCA did not seem too concerned about this notice.

On 11/21/62 the informant advised that PATRIARCA told UNMAN that GENNARO "JERRY" ANGIULO is leaving for Florida on Wednesday (11/28/62).

On 11/26/62 the informant advised that PATRIARCA told UNMAN that he was questioned by IRS concerning his background and financial status. The informant did not ascertain the entire conversation.

The Miami Office is being advised by separate communication regarding ANGIULO's contemplated trip to Florida, and Boston Office is attempting to verify ANGIULO's departure from Boston and exact destination.

DETAILS:At Providence, Rhode Island:

On September 4, 1962, Assistant United States Attorney [REDACTED] District of Rhode Island, advised that the Grand Jury has made no return in this matter to date.

[REDACTED] to United States Attorney RAYMOND J. PETTINE, District of Rhode Island, provided the following information to IC [REDACTED] on November 5, 1962.

BS 29-879

On October 22, 1962, a Federal Grand Jury at Providence, Rhode Island, returned a true bill in this matter. On November 2, 1962, the following subjects were arraigned on the indictment in the United States District Court at Providence, Rhode Island, before Judge FRANCIS W. DAY, at which time each subject entered a plea of not guilty and were released on bond of $2,000.00 for an appearance in that court, when directed:

HERBERT ASHTON PAGE, JR.
JOSEPH DICARLO
GEORGE GIRAGOSIAN

The subjects were granted thirty days by Judge DAY to file special appeals.

A review of the indictment, a copy of which was made available by [REDACTED], reflects the following:

Indictment number 6359, filed in the United States District Court at Providence, Rhode Island, on October 22, 1962, consists of forty counts. PAGE was charged individually in thirty counts (numbers 6, 7, 10 through 15, 18, 20 through 40) with violation of Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 656, in that he misapplied certain moneys of subject bank in connection with thirty separate loans. The remaining ten counts charged PAGE and the other subjects with violation of Title 18, U. S. Code, Sections 656 and 2, as follows:

Counts 1 through 5, 16, 17, 19 - JOSEPH DICARLO
Counts 8 and 9 - GEORGE GIRAGOSIAN

Re Boston Airtel to Bureau dated 11/27/62.

By letter dated 11/26/62 [redacted] U. S. Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas, advised that FRANCISCO FERRERA, FBI Number 6-388, who was sentenced to a term of 4 years, USDC, New Haven, Conn., on 2/26/60 to be followed by 5 years probation and a fine of $20,000 for conspiracy to transport stolen securities, was released from that prison on 11/26/62. FERRERA indicated that he was returning to reside at 2120 Sunset Drive, Sunset Isle Number 4, Miami Beach, Florida, with his wife.

On 11/27/62 BS 837-C* advised that [redacted] (LNU) who is employed as a [redacted] told PATRIARCA that the night previous he had been tipped by [redacted] that a load of mink furs consisting of 120 pieces ranging in value from $1,500 to $4,500 each were stored at the Cady Terminal, Providence, R. I. [redacted] according to [redacted], is employed by the "customs."

of the truck and they were going to hijack the truck on either Route 101 or Route 95 (Rhode Island). However, they were never able to locate the truck.

Efforts are being made to identify [] and other participants.

On 11/28/62 the informant advised that TEDDY FUCILLO told PATRIARCA that FRANK FERRERA was out but the only one he has contacted is CASS (ph), the accountant. PATRIARCA instructed FUCILLO to get in touch with FERRERA and have FERRERA contact him, PATRIARCA, immediately. It should be noted that PATRIARCA appeared somewhat angry in that FERRERA did not first contact him.

FUCILLO advised that the Eastern Hotel Supply Corporation, Boston, needs additional financial assistance and that if they are not able to obtain same they will cease the operation after the first of the year.

JOSEPH KRIKORIAN, alias JOE KIRK, told PATRIARCA that [], who apparently performed some work at the Berkshire Downs Race Track, Hancock, Mass., in the amount of $19,000, was suing Campanelli & Cardi Construction Company for that sum. Campanelli & Cardi are annoyed and indicated they would not give up any stock in the track. KIRK went to [] of the Lincoln Downs Race Track, Rhode Island, who also has stock in his name at Berkshire Downs and was told by [] that his stock belongs to RAYMOND PATRIARCA but that he did not want any trouble with Campanelli & Cardi. PATRIARCA became angered at [] for making such a statement and said that Campanelli & Cardi should get more money up for the continuation of this track. He said that if Governor PEABODY (Mass.) gets in, "we'll never get anywhere for he's a KENNEDY man."

PATRIARCA indicated that he might sell his share in the Berkshire Downs Race Track and when JOE KIRK said that either [] of Suffolk Downs Race Track, East Boston, Mass., or [] Rockingham Race Track, Rockingham, New Hampshire, would buy all the stock, PATRIARCA again became angry and told KIRK to stop misconstruing the facts, and that they did not have all the stock to sell. PATRIARCA said that he would talk to [] that night and call KIRK at home the following day.

JERRY ANGIULO discusses various loan sharks in the Boston area with PATRIARCA. They are looking for an individual known as [redacted] (ph) who has the [redacted] money. They had contacted [redacted] who said that he knew [redacted] but ANGIULO did not want to press [redacted] for fear that he would tip [redacted] off that ANGIULO was looking for him. RAYMOND then suggested that ANGIULO see JOHNNY "B" as he concluded that if [redacted] knew [redacted], JOHNNY "B" would also know him. b6
b7c

JERRY ANGIULO, PETER LIMONE and PATRIARCA then discuss a warehouse on Bedford and Pleasant Streets, city unknown but believed to be possibly Fall River, Mass. LIMONE has cased this establishment for the last 6 nights but was not able to find the car of the owner of the warehouse. RAYMOND stated that they, probably referring to the owner of the warehouse, shipped dresses out on hangers and has stores in New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Mass. PETER LIMONE described the premises and pointed out that the owner might live upstairs on occasions but does not stay there every night as he had not been there for the last 5 or 6 nights. MA-55

There was then some conversation which the informant could not definitely hear, but there was mention of, by a third party present, hooking the box to the house and it going off at a specific time. It would appear, thus, that this might relate to a bombing of the owner of this warehouse.

Efforts are being made to locate the warehouse and ascertain circumstances surrounding same.

On 11/29/62 BS 837-C* advised that LOUIS TAGLIANETTI, Providence, R. I., asked permission of RAYMOND PATRIARCA to use his name in obtaining a loan from JOE MOLLICONE of the County Savings and Loan Company, Providence, R. I.

On 11/30/62, the informant advised that JOSEPH KRIKORIAN, alias JOE KIRK, was told by PATRIARCA that he, PATRIARCA, and his attorney, SAUL FRIEDMAN, had a conference with [redacted] Lincoln Downs Race Track, Lincoln, R. I.) at FRIEDMAN's office the day previous from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., concerning the stock of the Berkshire Downs Race Track, Hancock, Massachusetts. PATRIARCA was perturbed at [redacted] because [redacted] would not return PATRIARCA's Berkshire Downs stock to him until all bills had been paid by the corporation. These bills in outstanding debts amounted to $204,000.

PATRIARCA stated that because of the agreement that was made with [redacted] he would lose everything in the event [redacted] dropped dead. returns the stock to PATRIARCA. During the conversation, KIRK mentioned that [redacted] and a person believed to be [redacted] (probably [redacted], East Boston, Mass.) as putting in $50,000 some time ago for financial assistance of the corporation.

PATRIARCA is of the opinion that these individuals have pocketed between $50,000 - $75,000, but KIRK attempted to explain to him that this money was used for paying additional bills; however, he could not convince PATRIARCA of this fact. There was mention of the sum of $75,000 that PATRIARCA furnished at one particular time; however, the informant was unable to ascertain all of the conversation concerning same.

JOE KIRK stated that he would see [redacted] and attempt to persuade him to transfer the stock to PATRIARCA.

Another UNMAN mentioned that a jockey, whose name was not heard by the informant, was brought up on charges which could result in his being barred from race tracks throughout the country for life. This unknown individual made a payoff of $1,200 to the complainants who were described as two Armenian brothers. The brothers then failed to identify the jockey as the person being involved in the particular scheme.

On 12/11/62 BS 837-C* advised that an unidentified man and PATRIARCA discussed bookmaking generally, and both stated that things are becoming more difficult with the various police activity. They believe that when Governor-elect CHAFFEE becomes governor of the State of Rhode Island in January 1963 things will become more difficult than they are at the present.

Another unidentified individual told RAYMOND PATRIARCA that he is to meet a member of Governor-elect CHAFFEE's staff through [] (LNU) concerning the selling of paint to the State of Rhode Island.

PATRIARCA inquired of this unidentified individual as to who is operating the Canopy Club, location unknown. UNMAN replied two waiters from Block Island were leasing the place for $80 a week and they are not doing as well as people think they are. PATRIARCA stated that he heard that stag girl customers are walking into the kitchen of this club and apparently getting some type of drug such as goofballs or regular narcotics. On December 18, 1962, BS 837-C* advised that a [redacted] (ph) appeared before RAYMOND PATRIARCA and his close associate, HENRY TAMELEO. [redacted] and [redacted] (ph) purchased 16 fur pieces in New York and resold them to an unknown doctor in Brockton, Mass. Subsequently, the doctor returned 8 of the 16 fur pieces to [redacted]. However, the informant did not know the reason for this.

These 8 fur pieces were stolen from [redacted]'s car and PATRIARCA was attempting to determine who the thief was. Both [redacted] and [redacted] denied being implicated in theft.

One of stolen fur pieces belonged to ROCKY MARCIANO, former world heavyweight champion. JOE KRIKORIAN, also known as JOE KIRK, another Providence, R. I., associate of PATRIARCA, said that MARCIANO wanted to see his friend, RAYMOND, who would assist in the location and return of the fur piece. KIRK said he told MARCIANO that he should not go down to PATRIARCA's place of business for this purpose, but that he, KIRK, would take care of it.

PATRIARCA was unsuccessful at this time in obtaining information relative to the identities of the thieves.

UNMAN stated that he was going to get rid of [redacted] (LNU).

LOUIE TAGLIANETTI discussed with RAYMOND PATRIARCA a card game, the location of which was unknown to the informant. He stated that the cops are coming in on the card game and causing the card game to cease. TAGLIANETTI stated that [redacted] (LNU), a police officer, told him that HENRY TAMELEO is being surveilled constantly and that he informed TAMELEO of this fact.

HENRY TAMELEO, LOUIE TAGLIANETTI and RAYMOND PATRIARCA discussed the lie detector test given by the Post Office inspectors relative to MAILROB. The informant stated that TAMELEO and PATRIARCA had taken the test but he did not know whether TAGLIANETTI consented to same.

JERRY ANGIULO contacted RAYMOND PATRIARCA accompanied by PETER LIMONE. They also discussed the lie detector test given by the Post Office. JERRY said that he has not, as yet, been contacted by the Post Office authorities, but he knows that they are looking for him to give him the test. JERRY said he intends to tell them that he would contact his lawyer relative to this test and indicated he would not take same.

JERRY ANGIULO mentioned that somebody gave the kid a gun, but the informant did not ascertain the identity of this individual. RAYMOND L. S. PATRIARCA, aka
AR

RemyAirtel dated 12/20/62.

On 12/20/62, BS 837-C* advised that [redacted] told RAYMOND to treat TEDDY PUCCILLO "cool" when he comes in. The significance of this was not known to the Informant.

SAM GRANITO relates to RAYMOND the facts relating to the Post Office Inspector's inquiry of several individuals in the Boston area. They wanted SAM GRANITO, RUSSO and other individuals to take the lie detector test. GRANITO refused to take such a test but was interviewed concerning MATIROB.

GRANITO told RAYMOND that he received information from JERRY ANGIULO to the fact that one [redacted] (PH) was to heist an agent of ABE SARKIS at Revere named [redacted] (PH), wa., [redacted]. ANGIULO had learned this through [redacted] of Boston. When he received the information GRANITO made arrangements with JOE RUSSO to meet [redacted]. Both RUSSO and GRANITO had a pistol when [redacted] approached. GRANITO ordered [redacted] in the front seat and ordered RUSSO out of the car. [redacted] also had a pistol in his pocket. GRANITO told him that he had heard that he was about to heist [redacted] and told him to lay off the heist or otherwise he would be in trouble. [redacted] told him that he pays 10 per cent of all their scores to [redacted] who fingers most of them for him. [redacted] also told him that [redacted] gave him, the [redacted] or [redacted], a score. GRANITO pointed out that the kid appeared "nutty" to him and would do anything [redacted] told him to do. He said the kid appeared to him as one who would kill anyone for [redacted] and not only he, [redacted] also [redacted] are dangerous. He said that the kid belongs in a mental institution. He also mentioned the fact that [redacted] has the reputation of a "stool pigeon". PATRIARCA made no comment to this.

GRANITO also told him that [] was up to the Colisseum, the after-hours drinking establishment in Boston which is run by GRANITO. [] had a couple of individuals with him and they apparently were looking for [] to "hit" him. It appeared that GRANITO had told [] that he would inform him when and if [] showed up at his establishment. He told RAYMOND that [] has not been at the Colisseum since his assault on [] with the exception of one occasion shortly thereafter. He made the remark that [] apparently does not trust them by supplying him, [] with the information.

He also mentioned that [] and [] were up to the Colisseum approximately two weeks ago and that he, GRANITO, was of the opinion that they were there, for the express purpose of ascertaining whether [] was there. He mentioned that [] has a piece of an individual who opened up a joint in the Southend recently. RAYMOND told GRANITO to tell [] to stay out of the Colisseum.

GRANITO also told him that [] a Boston hoodlum blew up his boat and that the Post Office Inspectors raised the boat in an effort to determine whether there was any association between that and MAILROB. GRANITO did not make any remark as to whether [] was involved in MAILROB. He also stated that [], Lynn, Massachusetts, was captured by IRS and was held in $10,000 bond. Another individual present there was asked by RAYMOND how things were in New York to which he replied "tough".

An unknown individual told RAYMOND that [] of Brockton, Mass., wanted to come down and see him relative to the fur theft in Brockton as reflected in reAirtel. RAY told this individual to tell [] that he, RAYMOND, wants half of the proceeds of the score which would be $4,000.

Re Boston Airtel to Bureau dated 12/13/62.

On 12/13/62 BS 837-C* advised that RAYMOND PATRIARCA, DANNA RICCI and [REDACTED], PATRIARCA's partner, discussed methods of having [REDACTED]'s boat released by the Rhode Island State Police. It is noted that this boat caught fire at Galilee, Rhode Island, in late summer of 1962 and the Fire Marshal impounded same. RICCI said that a trooper named [REDACTED] is in charge of the case and he would attempt to contact [REDACTED] in order to effect the release of the boat.

On 12/17/62 BS 837-C* advised that [] (LNU) gave RAYMOND PATRIARCA $900 as his cut from the crap game, location unknown to informant. The individual who runs the game is [] (LNU), and according to his figures, the profit was $3,000. This was split up five ways of which RAYMOND PATRIARCA received $600 plus $300 which [] stole from the game to make the total of $900. [] said that there was $5,500 cash in the game to be split up at a later date.

On the same date, JOE KRIKORIAN, also known as JOE KIRK, told RAYMOND PATRIARCA he (not identified) desires to sell 350 shares of "B" stock that had been ~~_____~~ retired in order to raise funds for the Berkshire Downs Race Track, Hancock, Mass. PATRIARCA became extremely angry and said that 10% of those shares belonged to him, and he could not legally sell the shares without PATRIARCA's permission.

During the conversation, KIRK explained that there were 100 shares of voting "A" stock and 500 shares of nonvoting "B" stock. PATRIARCA said that he wanted to get his $50,000 out of the track that he put in through SAUL FRIEDMAN, and at this point wanted to disassociate himself in the ownership of the track. There was mention of SAM RIZZO, president and general manager of the track, at which point RAYMOND PATRIARCA said, "I'll predict what's gonna happen to SAM, they'll find him in the Brooklyn River." PATRIARCA described RIZZO as an alcoholic and apparently told him at one time that he, RAYMOND, would not furnish additional funds for the track.

In addition to the 10% voting stock that RAYMOND PATRIARCA has, he mentioned that he has $20,000 out of the $214,000; however, this was not clear to the informant.

JOE KIRK mentioned that when he (not identified) got the money from FRANK SINATRA, the sum of which was believed to be $100,000, he put $50,000 in the bank and put $50,000 into stock of the track. This individual apparently bought his stock from [redacted] of Campanella and Gardi Construction Company. It should be noted that RAYMOND PATRIARCA, at the outset of the conversation, indicated that he wanted to dispose of his holdings in the track, but changed his mind during the latter part of the conversation, and he pointed out that if he held on to his holdings in the track they would be of much greater value in one or two years.
